The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS { 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " "

ON the first Sunday of this month occurs the festival of "The Presentation of Christ in the Temple, commonly called The Purification of Saint Mary the Virgin." This festival is placed forty days' distance from Christmas, as that was the interval directed by the law between the day of birth and the day when the mother presented herself for re-admission to the congregation, and her infant son for an offering to the Lord, (Lev. xii: 4. Exod. xxii: 29. Num. viii: 17). It was on this occasion that S. Simeon gave to the Church the Nunc dimittis, one of the canticles in the Prayer Book appointed to be sung at the Evening Service. In this beautiful hymn of peace S. Simeon proclaimed the glorious and universal Epiphany of the Holy Child, when he prophesied of Him as "A Light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of God's people, Israel." It was then, also, that the Virgin Mother first learned that sorrow as well as joy was to be her portion in the wonderful mission assigned to her: "Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also." Yes, joy and sorrow must be the common lot of all. And sweetest joy can be gotten from the deepest sorrow, if we would only see in it all God's face and God's love.

EPIPHANY is now ended. The light which shown about the birthday of our Lord, now in the Septuagesima season, gradually begins to fade away into the shadows of the approaching Lent. Septuagesima occurs on the third Sunday in this month. The name implies that it is Seventy days to (the last day of) the feast of the Resurrection; the next Sunday it will be, in round numbers, Sixty days; then Fifty days, (Quinquagesima Sunday) then Quadregesima or the Sunday next before Lent, or about Forty days to the Grand Feast of Easter. "Thus, we have turned our back," says Bishop Coxe, "upon dear old Christmas, and the group of holidays that hand in hand seemed fairly to dance around it; and setting our faces towards the more sober, but still more glorious, light of Easter, we begin to number the days of preparation, which, if duly observed will fit us to keep the Paschal as the Apostle commands, "not with the old leaven * * * but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

BEFORE the next issue of The Chimes appears the Confirmation Classes will have been formed, and the Instruction on Confirmation will be well under way. It is most important that every person in the congregation who has not yet been Confirmed should give his or her name to the Rector at once. Do not wait for the clergy to seek you out. The invitation is extended to all, "whosoever will, let him come." There will be no urging on the part of the clergy for anyone to be Confirmed. The invitation is presented cordially, sincerely, prayerfully; the occasion is here to be improved; the clergy are willing and most anxious to do all they can to counsel, help and lead. More they cannot do. The step must be taken by each individual, "of his own free will and accord," not because he is "good enough," or "knows enough," but because he wants to become better and know more about Christ and His Church. It is most important that each individual soul should weigh the matter of Confirmation considerably, conscientiously, prayerfully. What hinders? Another opportunity may never come. Why not do it now? Any who are wavering in their decision, who are troubled with fears or doubts, who have heavy burdens that they are bearing in their hearts, who are tormented with some sin from which they cannot become free, the Prayer Book in the Communion Office admonishes such to "come to your rector or to some other minister of God's Word, and open your grief, that you may receive such godly counsel and advice as may tend to the quieting of your conscience and the removing of all scruples and doubtfulness." The clergy may be seen in the Church after any service or by appointment.

Confirmation

CONFIRMATION is the laying on of the Bishop's hands upon those who have been baptized, in order that they may be strengthened by the Gift of the Holy Spirit. Thus, it is sometimes named, as in the Prayer Book, "the Laying on of Hands." Confirmation is the perfection and strength of Baptism and Baptismal grace. It is the belief of the Church that in Confirmation the Seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit, named in Isa. xi : 2, 3, are in their fullness bestowed upon the soul which rightly approaches it.

The Seven Gifts of the holy Ghost are :

1. Wisdom, to aid us in our search after God.
2. Understanding, to lead us to a knowledge of the truth.
3. Counsel, to help us to discern the right path.
4. Ghostly Strength, to confirm us in doing right.
5. Knowledge, to teach us the will of God.
6. True Godliness, to help us lead good lives.
7. Holy Fear, to aid us in loving and obeying God as our Father.

The Gifts of Wisdom, Understanding, Counsel and Knowledge, enlighten the reason and enable us to apprehend and confess the Faith; the Gifts of Ghostly Strength, True Godliness, and Holy Fear, strengthen the will, and enable us to overcome the temptations of the world, the flesh, and the devil. Thus, by the Gift of God, bestowed through the Laying on of Hands, our whole moral nature is rendered capable of advance towards perfection, and we are enabled to bring forth the Fruits of the Spirit.

In the New Testament Confirmation is closely associated with that of Holy Baptism.

In Acts viii : 12, etc., we read a description of the first occasion on which the Church of Christ was extended beyond the gates of Jerusalem, and thus have an excellent example of how beginners in the Christian religion were then dealt with. S. Philip, a deacon, taught and baptized the Samaritans, but the Apostles must confirm. Two of these chief ministers, at a most busy time in the Church's history, came a journey of forty or fifty miles to lay their hands upon the baptized, that they might receive the Holy Ghost. "Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost."

In naming the six rudiments of the doctrine of Christ, the writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews speaks of "the doctrine of Baptisms, and of laying on of hands;" (Acts vi: 1, 2) where the Sacrament of Baptism and Confirmation are again coupled together. We have probably a reference to a like association in Acts ii: 38, and in S. Tit. iii: 5. Thus, Confirmation is believed to be the completion of Baptism.—Selected.

month. Ash Wednesday occurs on the fourth of March.

The Rt. Rev. O. W. Whitaker, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese, will visit this Parish (D. V.) on the Fourth Sunday morning in Lent to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. Confirmation Classes are now forming, and all persons who have not been Confirmed are urged to give their names to either of the clergy at once. Instructions on Confirmation are being given in the Parish House every Friday evening at eight o'clock. All are invited to attend these Classes whether they intend to be Confirmed or not. An invitation is also extended to Confirmed members of the Church to attend these Instructions. Persons who wish to confer with the clergy on the subject of Confirmation can do so after any service or by making an appointment with them.

Lenten Mite Boxes will be distributed to the members of the Sunday School on the first Sunday of next month. In these boxes the scholars are expected to deposit their daily Lenten offerings for Missions. The contents of these boxes will be received at the Sunday School Church Service on Easter Day.

It has been suggested that Mite Boxes, to receive daily Lenten offerings, should also be distributed to all members of the congregation.

This might be a good plan to adopt to encourage conscientious daily Lenten sacrifices on the part of all in the congregation.

During the past month the walls of the chancel have been repainted and beautifully decorated. They are surrounded with a deep frieze, the cross, the olive branch and the crown forming the design. The surface of the walls is gold and all harmonizes most beautifully with the rich coloring in the chancel windows. The painting was done by J. L. Shollin. The designs were drawn and the work executed under the personal supervision of Mr. George T. Pearson, architect.

The chancel will soon be lighted by electric lights. The lights are being installed by Mr. O. N. Middleton in memory of his mother.

Each Sunday the flowers on the altar are memorials given by members of the congregation on the anniversaries of the death of their friends. Persons who wish to reserve a Sunday to remember their dear departed, by placing flowers on the altar, are invited to give their names to the rector. No memorial may exceed two dollars for each Sunday. This rule is made that all may have it within their means to observe a Sunday as a memorial to their friends.

The plan inaugurated by the Vestry to increase the weekly envelope contributions has met with most encouraging success. It only awaits the co-operation of others in the congregation, who have not as yet subscribed through the envelopes, to make the plan a complete success. Several envelope subscribers have increased their subscriptions and others, who have not hitherto subscribed through the envelopes, have adopted this plan. It is hoped that every member in the congregation, children in the family as well as adults, will subscribe a weekly offering to be given through the envelope system.

A Song and Dramatic Recital by Mrs. Cora Robertson, the English Entertainer, Vocalist, Pianist, and Elocutionist of London, England, will be given in the Parish House, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of Christ Church, Wednesday, February 19th. The programme will be an entirely new one and promises to be of even greater interest than the previous one of last June. All who heard Mrs. Robertson last June expressed themselves as being thoroughly delighted with the entertainment. The committee in charge feel assured that all will be glad of the opportunity of hearing her again and those who have not heard her will find the evening truly enjoyable and well spent. After the entertainment, a short social will be held when light refreshments will be served. The proceeds are for the Carpet Fund. Tickets, including refreshments, will be fifty cents. The committee in charge ask the hearty co-operation of all.

The following ladies will act as patronesses:

Mrs. Charles H. Arndt	Mrs. Henry M. Jacoby
Miss Kate Allen	Miss Anna Kelly
Mrs. Wm. H. Avery	Mrs. E. F. Kamerly
Mrs. T. H. Carmichael	Mrs. R. H. Morris

Committee in charge consists of Mrs. Warren H. Galbraith, (chair-woman) Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, Mrs. Frank L. Donlevy, Miss Helen D. Wells, Miss Amy S. Roberts, Miss Katharine Vandervort, Miss Bessie Chase, Miss Frances Pugh.

Women's Missionary Society

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held at eight o'clock on Tuesday evening, February 4th, in the Parish House. Deaconess Drant, of San Francisco, will tell of her work among the Chinese of that city. Miss Drant is widely known for the wonderful work which she has done in San Francisco, especially since the earthquake, and it will be a great privilege to hear her. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance on the part of all the women of the Parish. All women are cordially invited to be present, Tuesday evening, February 4th.

Honor List

The Honor List of the Sunday School for the year 1907 is as follows:—

Present every Sunday—Mabel Laughlin, Janette Laughlin, Walter Roberts, Mary Abrams, William Young, Nathan Abrams, Helen Robinson, Emma Mogridge, Elma D. Strein, Mabel Robinson, Clarissa Feist, Arthur Bevers, Catherine Bohr, Violet Anderson, C. L. Hayhurst and Truman H. Hayhurst.

Absent only one Sunday—Mary Bohr, Elizabeth Stewart, Edna Murray, Charlotte Westling and Catherine Westling.

Absent only two Sundays—Helen Roberts, Walter Brown, Walter Abrams, and O. N. Middleton.

Girls' Friendly Service

A Special Service under the auspices of the Girls' Friendly Society of Christ Church will be held on Sunday evening, February 16th, at quarter to eight o'clock. After the service several girls will be admitted into the order and receive their badges.

Parish Guild

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

This Chapter meets the second and fourth Tuesday evenings of each month, at 8 o'clock, in the Parish House. Corporate Communion the second Sunday morning at 7.30 o'clock. Visitors are welcome to all Chapter meetings.

On Thursday evening, February 6th, the Sectional Conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held in St. Michael's Church at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "The Advantages of a House to House Canvass and How it is Conducted." Mr. Henry D'Olier, Jr., of St. Matthew's Church, Philadelphia, will make the address and lead the Conference.

This is a subject which should be of particular interest to the Germantown Parishes, owing to the large number of strangers who have moved into this section of the city during the past two or three years, many of whom have not made any church connection whatever. While these conferences are primarily for Brotherhood men, any other men of the Parish who desire to attend will be most cordially welcomed, and we feel sure they will be repaid for any effort they may have made in so doing. Let us have a good representation from Christ Church. —C. H. J.

Knights of King Arthur

The Boys' Club, spoken of in the last issue of The Chimes, has been organized and now numbers some ten members. The Club is known as the Knights of King Arthur. It has been in existence in various Churches, Schools and Boy's Clubs for some ten or more years, and has branches in nearly all the States of the Union and in Canada and England. Based on the Arthurian legends it takes its spirits, aims and ways from the legends of King Arthur's Court, and endeavors to inculcate in its members the principles of the age of chivalry, courtesy, reverence, deference to womanhood, recognition of the noblesse oblige and Christian manliness. It has been highly commended by leading educators and workers with boys and it is hoped may prove a success in Christ Church Parish. Further information may be obtained from the Rev. Mr. Lutz.

An event of special interest to Club members, and one that is looked forward to from year to year, is the annual banquet. Since the Club's organization, eight years ago last October, the return of February has marked another gathering of Club and Auxiliary members around the "festive board." The banquet this season will be held at Trower's on Washington's Birthday, February 22nd, at 7.30 o'clock. That a good time is assured need not be mentioned, but a gentle reminder that every one can assist in many ways to make it better is not amiss. We ask each member, therefore, to bear the occasion well in mind and let the "Ninth Annual" go down in Club History as the "best ever," and may those attending derive such enthusiasm from it as will show forth in the work for the balance of the year, that the evening was not spent in vain.—C. H. J.

A Sight Singing Class to be Organized

On Wednesday evening, February 12th, at eight o'clock, in the Parish House, will be given a free demonstration of sight singing by both children and adults under the direction of Miss Anne McDonough, the well-known director of the Peoples' Sight Singing Class of Philadelphia. Not only is the singing of this class enjoyable, but the showing of what can be done in sight reading, after a comparatively small number of lessons, is unusual and remarkable. In the city proper, the success has been such that a number of the residents of Germantown have requested that Miss McDonough form classes here, classes for both children and adults, the former in the afternoons, the latter in the evenings, and this will be done if the necessary number are ready to join at once. The price of tuition is nominal, but ten cents per lesson; two dollars for the first course of twenty lessons, and that every one may understand the full scope of the work this demonstration will be given free of charge. It is hoped that as many as possible of the congregation will come to this demonstration on Wednesday evening, February 12th, bringing their friends and, if interested, will join the class. This will be an unusual opportunity both for children and adults to learn to read music at sight. No previous knowledge of music is necessary. Miss McDonough is highly recommended by Damrosch and other eminent musicians, and has as patrons many of the most prominent citizens of Philadelphia. The days of class meetings will be announced at the demonstration on Wednesday evening. Both the children's and adults' class will be limited in number and persons who wish to join these classes are advised to apply at once. For further information enquiries may be made of Mr. John H. Shinn, 29 West Johnson St.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS { 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " "

THE Lenten shadows deepen and beneath the light of the Paschal moon, shining full upon us, we enter into the mystery of the Passion of our Blessed Lord. With bowed heads we contemplate the Cross, rising out of the sacred hill of Calvary, and on the Cross we behold, crowned with thorns, the Immaculate Lamb of God, "who taketh away the sins of the world." "Indeed," says a devout writer, "one scarcely ventures to speak or write upon so sacred a subject. Christ's members should strive silently to realize it to themselves, following our Blessed Lord in thought through the scenes of His suffering and death." Let us then, during this Holy Week which now draws near, the Stille Woche, as the Germans appropriately call it, leave behind us all thoughts of the world, with its trifling vanities, its petty schemes, and false ambitions, and contemplate in awe and reverence the closing scenes of our Lord's earthly life, from the triumphal entrance on Palm Sunday into the city that He loved, until, wearied and exhausted, He slowly wended His way along the Via Sacra, passing through the gates of the city which had rejected Him, up to the Mount of Calvary.

On each afternoon during Holy Week there will be a half hour of Meditative Readings on the Sacred Event of the Day. Will not every one in the Parish dedicate a part of each day this Holy Week, either in Christ Church, or in some other Church in the city or elsewhere, in meditation on the most awful, solemn events which will be commemorated all over the Christian world this Holy Week?

"Is it nothing to you, all ye who pass by?"

THE Meditations in Holy Week will end with the Three Hour Service on Good Friday. It is believed that no one who has ever taken part in a devotional commemoration of the Crucifixion would willingly pass Good Friday without it. Where else would one spend those three sacred hours save in the House of God, and how else save in meditation and prayer? Devout minds have found in this service a deeper and a fuller realization of the wonderful love of God to us, and the awful sinfulness of man.

"From pain to pain, from woe to woe,
With loving heart and footsteps slow,
To Calvary with Christ we go.
See how His precious blood
At every station pours;
Was ever grief like His?
Was ever sin like ours?"

AS LENT draws to its close every good Churchman will begin to prepare for the Easter Communion. Easter is the "Queen of Christian Festivals," and throughout the ages has been the "Day of Days," when the faithful have come to solemnize the Resurrection of our Lord by coming to the Holy Communion. Our "Holy Communion" then becomes an "Holy Eucharist," that is, as the term implies, a "holy thanksgiving." In the words of the prayer of consecration in the Communion service, "having in remembrance His blessed Passion and precious Death, His mighty Resurrection and glorious Ascension," we render unto God our most hearty thanks for the innumerable benefits procured unto us by the same. If, then, we have spent this Lent in a faithful following of our Lord—in His suffering, in His passion, in His death—we may truly share, at the Holy Eucharist, on Easter Day, in the glories of the Resurrection. On this Resurrection morn, we may "lift up our hearts" and ascend into the very presence of our Risen Lord and unite together with all God's saints in one holy communion and fellowship in the mystical body of His Son Christ our Lord," join "with angels and arch-angels and with all the company of Heaven" singing the beatific hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty."

This is the Communion of the Saints. This is the beatific vision which St. John saw "when in the spirit on the Lord's Day, Heaven was opened to him;" and this is the beatific vision vouchsafed to all God's Saints who will draw near unto Him in the spirit on this Day of the Lord—the Day of His Resurrection from the Dead.

The Easter Joy

The strife is o'er, the battle done,
The victory of life is won;
The song of triumph has begun.

Alleluia!

With what triumphant joy the Christian heart sings these words! Out from darkness into light; from the sadness of Gethsemane and Calvary into the joys of Easter; away from thoughts of suffering to hymns of victory; from the dark tragedy of Good Friday to the empty tomb—such is the great transition today in Christian thought, voiced in anthems and flowers, in carols and hymns, and emphasized in the message of joy proclaimed from Christian pulpits. The news that encircles the globe today and visits each hamlet and village and city, and makes hearts beat the quicker for joy, is the announcement made to the disciples of old, and repeated through all the Christian centuries: "The Lord is risen, indeed!"

How strong a hold the fact of the Resurrection has gained upon the hearts of men! As the centuries multiply, the thoughts grow stronger and stronger. The whole world keeps Easter Day. Men and women are studying the fact from every point of view. Sentiment has laid hold of it. Reason has accepted it. The man of science finds the law of the Resurrection capable of demonstration. The spiritual truth beneath the fact itself far outweighs the seeming physical difficulties. And who can find words to tell of the comfort which this thought gives to those who grieve over the loss of loved ones, gone before us? Who can express in language the hope with which it cheers and inspires the heart of one called to suffering and pain!

There is power in this central fact of Christian history. There is an uplifting in this keystone of the arch of Christian truth.

Let us rejoice, then, as we look this day into the sepulchre. Let us weave the truth and the fact into our lives. Let it give courage to the strugglers, hope to the discouraged ones, comfort to the mourners—joy in every heart because Christ has brought life and immortality to light in His Gospel.

In the foregoing schedule of services it will be noted that an innovation has been introduced this year. In place of the usual Evening Prayer, a course of MEDITATIVE READINGS will be given every afternoon in the Church at five o'clock. These Readings will consist of the Biblical account of the Sacred Events of each day of Holy Week. The Readings will be interspersed with appropriate hymns. No address or comments will be made by the Reader. Our Lord's life will thus be followed throughout the week, beginning at Bethany on Monday and ending with the eating of the Passover with His Disciples on Thursday. The course will be concluded by the Three-Hour Meditation on the Seven Words from the Cross on Good Friday, from twelve o'clock noon until three.

These daily afternoon Readings will last a little over half an hour. Every person in the Parish, who possibly can attend these afternoon Meditations, should be present and follow our Lord each day of this Holy Week on His way from Olivet to Calvary.

The Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, D. D., Bishop Co-Adjutor of the Diocese, will visit this Parish to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation and will preach on Saturday afternoon, April 3rd, at 4 o'clock. This service will take the place of the daily five o'clock service.

A few weeks ago new lights were placed on the center chandelier in the Church as an experiment to see what are the possibilities of properly lighting the Church. All will agree that a new system of lighting must be adopted very soon, as the present lighting is exceedingly poor. The experiment demonstrated beyond a doubt that, notwithstanding the very high ceiling in the Church, by a proper distribution of the lights the entire interior can be satisfactorily lighted. The experimental lights have been removed, but the matter of properly lighting the Church should be taken up immediately after Easter, and something should be done as soon as possible to install a new system.

The thanks of the congregation are due to the Volunteer Auxiliary Choir for their faithful and efficient services during Lent. The music at the daily services has never been more beautifully and devotionally rendered, and the Rector wishes to express his appreciation to all who have contributed to the success of the Lenten music.

The average daily attendance at the Lenten services has been larger than last year. The Sunday services, also, have been very largely attended, and on Sunday evenings the full congregations have been inspiring to the visiting clergy. It is especially gratifying to note the increased number who have come to the Holy Communion. It is to be hoped that this is an indication of a deepening of the spiritual life of the Parish.

The Vestry makes an urgent appeal to every member of this congregation for a generous offering on Easter Day. This past year has been one of great financial strain to many in the Parish and yet, with the great generosity which has always characterized the people of this Parish, the actual deficit this year is much less than in former years. Had this been a prosperous year, instead of one of widespread financial depression, there can be little doubt but that the increased income would have equaled all necessary demands. As it is there is needed at this Easter $1600.00 to clear up all outstanding indebtedness of the Parish and to enable the Vestry to begin the new fiscal year with a clean sheet. It is hoped that every one in the Parish will make an extraordinary effort to give a liberal offering on Easter, that this Parish, which has so large a field of usefulness before it, may do its work for God and humanity, unimpeded by any inherited indebtedness. Let all give liberally as God has blessed each one. If any should be absent on Easter they are asked to send their offering to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 W. Upsal Street, Germantown.

The ladies have about finished making the new vestments for the Choir. The style of the vestments for the women has been changed. The new vestments are very much more suitable for women than those which have been discarded. They are similar to those worn in many of the English Parochial Schools. The men's vestments will, of course, remain unchanged.

Easter Memorial Flowers

Following the custom of past years the flowers in the Chancel on Easter Day will be memorials to the Blessed Dead. The Altar Guild requests that all who desire to remember their departed friends by memorial flowers will please send their contribution either to the Rector or to Mrs. William H. Avery, 54 W. Tulpehocken Street, as soon as possible. The ladies of the Guild will personally attend to the selection of the flowers and will see that each contribution is represented by an appropriate memorial. By sending contributions in money the Guild will be enabled to make a more choice and harmonious selection.

Those who prefer to contribute blooming plants or flowers are requested to send them to the Parish House early on Saturday morning so that these may be arranged in the Chancel before the Saturday afternoon service.

All are invited to send contributions to the Easter memorial, either in money or flowers, and any contribution, however small, will be cordially welcomed.

All persons having Mite boxes for United Offering of Woman's Auxiliary, Christ Church, will kindly return contents of same to the Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Thacher, 74 W. Johnson Street, on or before April 28th.

The United Offering Annual Presentation Service will be held Friday morning, April 30th, at 10.30 o'clock, at St. Stephen's Church, Tenth Street, above Chestnut, Philadelphia. All are cordially invited to attend.

Good Friday Cantata

On Good Friday evening, April 9th, an augmented choir of forty-five voices will render Maunder's Sacred Cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," which, to quote the author's preface, "recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections thereon." The action includes our Lord's entry into Jerusalem to the tragedy and triumph of Calvary. The program will close with Gounod's Motett, "Gallia," a Biblical elegy.

In order that these two works may be given a worthy rendition the Choir-master has enlisted the aid of several members of Christ Church, and some eminent talent from the city choirs. In addition to the organ the music will be accompanied by the harp and tympani drum. The Cantata will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

Services on Easter Day

On Easter Day there will be two early celebrations of the Holy Communion, at 6.30 and 7.30, and Morning Prayer, Sermon and Holy Communion at 11.00 o'clock.

In the evening the Sunday School Easter Carol Service will be held in the Church. The School will march into the Church from the Parish House and there will be, as usual, a special Easter "feature" during the service, illustrating the Easter thought. The scholars who are to be promoted from the Primary and the Intermediate Departments will be presented with diplomas. The address at the evening service will be given by Colonel Sheldon Potter, Superintendent of the School.

The music on Easter Day has been selected with a view of making it, musically speaking, an evenly balanced and equally proportioned service. The Choir has bestowed much care on the preparation of all the parts. The program will be as follows:

Processional, Hymn 112—"Jesus Christ is Risen Today."

"Christ Our Passover" . . . B. Tours

"Te Deum and Jubilate" in B Flat Stanford

Introit, Hymn 121—"The Strife is O'er"

Office, Hymn 116—"Angels Roll the Rock Away"

Anthem—"Awake Thou That Sleepest" Stainer

Kyrie, Sanctus and Gloria in Excelsis from Garrett's Service in E.

Retrocessional, Hymn 122—"Jesus Lives."

Miss Helen P. Donlevy will assist on the harp at the Easter service, also giving a prelude with the organ, before morning and evening services.

Notice to Envelope Contributors

The new fiscal year of the Parish begins at Easter. It is very important that every one, who has hitherto contributed through the envelope system should continue this subscription and, if possible, to increase the amount as much as they are able. Every person in the congregation who has not as yet subscribed through the envelope system is urgently requested to do so. The Vestry are very anxious to extend the subscriptions through the envelope system to every one in the Parish, so that the assured revenue of the Church will equal the expenses. If the envelope subscriptions are increased by the amount of $15.00 per week, which would amount to $780 a year, this, together with the revenue derived from pew rent, would be sufficient to meet all the current expenses and the charitable assessments of the Parish. This can be done, if every one who worships in Christ Church will agree to give a small amount weekly, by signing the pledge card, to be found in the vestibules of the Church, and placing it on the plate or sending it to the Rector or Warden. A package of envelopes will then be sent to each subscriber. As the offering is placed in these envelopes absolute secrecy is obtained and conscientious, systematic giving is thus encouraged. By this method the Vestry can estimate the probable yearly income and will be enabled to regulate the expenses of the Parish accordingly.

It is earnestly hoped that the new comers into the Parish will not fail to help bear the responsibilities of the Parish and will avail themselves of this systematic way of giving. The support of the work of this Parish and its philanthropies is dependent, not upon a few, but upon every worshipper in Christ Church, who should consider it not only a duty, but a privilege, to share in the furtherance of the Master's work.

Girls' Friendly Society

On the First Tuesday evening of each month the Girls' Friendly Society holds a combined meeting with the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary. The meeting for February proved a very interesting one, as Deaconess Sabine was present and gave us a talk upon Alaska and her work in that territory.

Miss Sally Johnson attended our meeting Tuesday evening, February 16th, and spoke to us of Brittany. She had with her many photos, post cards and curios from that country, which made her talk all the more interesting.

Despite the bad weather our social on February 23rd, was quite a success, and a large number of the girls were present.

Our Lenten sewing for the Mission

Box consists of children's garments, and the work is progressing rapidly.

Easter Greetings

A Happy Easter, full of peace and joy! Out of the shadows of Good Friday the Easter light shines clear. May it indeed so shine in all our souls, bringing the best blessings of this holy season.

The shadows are interpreted by the light. Looking back from Easter morning into that darkness we perceive that it was the precursor of the dawn. What a difference it would make if we could always see as clearly the meaning of the failures and tragedies of life! God grant us, this Easter, some measure of that transforming vision.

Let us thank God for the Easter revelation of the Risen Lord, whereby we know that all darkness, whether of pain or of disappointment, or even of death itself, is but the herald of new light and joy. Let us say to Him in our lives and with our lips that we give Him the deep and abiding affection of our hearts.

The Church will be open; the sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving will be offered. Let us all unite with one accord in that expression of our Easter joy.

To make any Christian act real it must be done under the impression that it may be the last time. Each heart knows how real would be a last prayer, a last communion, a last Sunday, a last hymn, a last hearing of the Scriptures, a last sermon, the message of Christ's ambassador, a last day of Christian work. It is its frequent return alone that destroys the deep significance of each such opportunity.

Yet we know not what a day may bring forth. Tomorrow's sun may rise upon our open grave. This fact gives to each opportunity the character of a last chance. So, in regard to this season of Lent, and its many blessings for our souls, neglected now, they may be gone forever. Not twice or thrice, but once, more the solemn season calls, and may its every opportunity be as precious to us as though it were the last—as real as though no more would follow.

O Lord, who through ages past hast trained thy Church, as at this season, in finding out and striving against the secret or the open sins which may be displeasing in Thy sight; by the help of the Holy Spirit lay open to me my heart and life, that I may in humble penitence lay them at the foot of the Cross of Christ for cleansing through His most precious blood. Amen.

"Cannot I live as good a life outside the Church as in it?" No. The influences that surround a person are great. We need to breathe the atmosphere of the Church—to associate with others in prayer and work—to seek with them one common result.

"A good many Christians are no better than I am. This may be true. There are also those who are better than you. Their religious life makes them better. They invite you to use with them 'the means of grace' which Christ appointed to make you better than you are. This is your great concern.

A man's creed must be positive. Would any sensible man die for a negative religion? Would he live for it? Could it teach him the duties of prayer or self-sacrifice? Would it nerve him to action, effort, venture—the practical side of religion?

It was the positive character of the Gospel that carried it round the world. The fact that its truths were for everybody, everywhere, through all time, carried conviction to every human heart that heard the Message, and the obedience of the life that learned its facts.

Property is a divine trust. Life is not for self-indulgence, but self-devotion. When, instead of saying, "The world owes me a living," men shall say, "I owe the world a life," then the kingdom shall come in power. We owe everything to God.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. }

THE RECTOR calls the attention of all the attendants at Christ Church to the list of services to be held during Holy Week. He cannot believe that any member of Christ Church, unless providentially hindered, will allow these holy days, so full of the suffering and sacrifice and love of the Son of God for man, to pass by unheeded or unimproved.

"Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"

Each day during this Holy Week every man, woman and child—all for whom Christ came to die and to save—should come apart to be alone a little while with God before the Cross of Christ. The sufferings, the prayers, the sacrifice, the death of the Son of God are appealing to the hearts of men.
It is the appeal of God to the creatures
He has made, the appeal of the Son of Man to His brethren, the appeal of Divine love to our love. And it is an appeal to our whole nature as well as to all mankind. "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Myself."

It comes to us first, that appeal of the Cross, as the appeal of love. "Saw we ever sorrow like unto my sorrow."
"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." It is an appeal to our feelings, our emotions, our affections—to all that in Bible language is called the heart. Excited feelings, roused sympathy, admiration of a noble or heroic act, may be transient as a morning cloud, if there be no appeal to the conscience and the will; if they do not make us go forth stronger to live our life in the spirit of the Crucified, to battle for the right; to kill what is evil and corrupt around us and within. And then—since man is not only a creature that feels and acts, but is, just because he is a man, a reasoning being, and cannot but ask why?—the appeal must go further. It must justify itself to the reason no less than to the heart and will. It is a "reasonable service," that God would have from those whom

He has made reasoning beings.

But the appeal of Christ is more than an appeal; it is a claim. It is this which constitutes the uniqueness of the appeal. "Ye are not your own; ye are bought with a price." And as the appeal is an appeal to the whole man, so the claim is a claim to the surrender of the whole man—his affection, his will, his reason—to One who is Perfect Man, as well as very God. As Love, as Goodness and as Truth He claims our hearts, our will, our reason, that our whole nature, self-surrendered to Him, may be offered up, as once in promise and in type He offered it upon the Cross, a sacrifice well-pleasing unto God, the offering of love to Perfect Love.

Easter Communion

THE Greatest Festival of the Church Year is Easter Day. Ever since the first Easter Day, when "very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, at the rising of the sun," the faithful, in all countries throughout the world, have gathered in their Churches and partaken of the Holy Communion. The Rector urges every one in this parish to begin now to make preparation for the Easter Communion. The Lenten season is the time for severe discipline; it is the time to look thoroughly into the heart and root out every evil thought and every evil desire; that we, "being dead unto sin, and living unto righteousness, and being buried with Christ in His death, may crucify the old man and utterly abolish the whole body of sin; and that, as we are made partakers of the death of Christ, we may, also, be partakers of His resurrection; so that, finally, with the residue of His Holy Church, we may be inheritors of His Everlasting Kingdom; through Christ, our Lord."

They who thus make Lent a season of preparation, and come, on Easter morning, "earnestly repenting of their sins, and in love and charity with their neighbors, and intending to live a new life, following the Commandments of God, and walking henceforth in His holy ways," experience a comfort, and thought, and peace of mind, which passeth all understanding. They who spend a Lent close to Jesus, and follow Him in His sufferings and in His sacrifices, and on Easter morn, in the Holy Eucharist, rise with Him into a higher and a holier life—they, indeed, are with Jesus in spirit and in truth, and in this life experience something of the perfect joy and bliss which awaits God's Saints in everlasting glory. Let each member of this Parish begin now to prepare for that blessed privilege, and on Easter Day come to God's House and kneel before His Altar and receive the blessed Sacrament of the body and blood of Christ.

Celebrations of the Holy Communion, on Easter Day, will be at 6.30 and 7.30 A. M., and at 11.00 o'clock.

Important Letter from the Vestry.

THE following important letter has been issued by the vestry. The Rector gives it place in the Rector's Notes, and asks that it be read by every parishioner. We are sure that it will meet with a cordial and generous response on the part of the people in Christ Church, and all will fully agree with the Vestry that our parish must provide for the changed conditions in this neighborhood, by an enlargement and adaptation of our Parish House to meet the present urgent need.

Germantown, Feb. 10, 1910.

To the Parishioners of Christ

Church, Germantown:

In accordance with annual custom we now address you on the finances of our parish and this year we do so with much more pleasure than formerly and know this pleasure will be shared by yourselves when we venture our explanation.

For many years we have been obliged to come before you in Lent with an earnest appeal that you would make up an existing deficit from the previous year. Last Lent the shortage was over $1700.00, and your Easter offertory, which represented much self-denial and sacrifice, amounted to $1300.

Although the deficit of the preceding year was not entirely met by the collection of Easter, 1909, your generosity during the past year now enables us to say that the deficit this year will probably be less than half of what it was the year before.

It is, therefore, clear that if your Easter offering is equal to that of 1909, there will be quite a balance to be applied to other objects, but we feel quite confident that your gifts will be even larger when you know what we now wish to tell you, and that is this:

Every active member of our Parish realizes the pressing need that exists of a Parish House adapted to modern requirements. It is now most difficult to retain our hold on the young people of the Parish, both boys and girls, because we lack modern facilities.

We are now badly in need of a large room for boys, where they can indulge in active games such as boys love. We also need a church parlor, a kitchen, committee rooms and modern conveniences. It is not yet settled whether this can be done by an adaptation of the present building, or if an additional building will be needed, although the latter seems more probable. Plans are now being considered by the Vestry which involve an outlay of $10,000, and as this is absolutely essential for the life and growth of our Parish, we feel sure your response will be immediate and generous.

We know you will take especial delight in the thought that your gifts will now be largely used in the betterment of our Parish rather than in paying old debts, and the thought of the vestry is that all the money raised this Lent in excess of our current need shall be applied to our new Parish House.

And so, relying upon your usual liberality, we now come to you, asking that a special effort will be made this Lent so we may attain this much desired end. It may be that some can give more if their payments were scattered over the year and if so, the Vestry would welcome pledges of certain amounts to be given at future dates. Some will be able to give more than others, but we feel sure that if every one will do his or her share, Christ Church will be able to provide the necessary facilities for carrying on of a larger work among the rapidly increasing population in this vicinity.

A magnificent opportunity now awaits us to do a great work for Christ and His Church. It is God's work, not ours, but ours to do our part, as co-workers with Him in the spread of the Kingdom of our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ. We trust that God will put it into the hearts of the people of Christ Church to respond liberally for this work which He has given us to do. We remain,

Faithfully yours.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

Sunday-school Festival Service ... 7.30 P. M.

It will be noted from the above schedule of services for Holy Week that the plan that was adopted last year and was so helpful to all, will be repeated this year, viz., the substitution for Daily Evening Prayer a course of Meditative Readings on the sacred events of each day of Holy Week, as they are recorded in the Bible. The Readings will be interspersed with appropriate hymns. No address or comment will be made by the reader. Our Lord's life will thus be followed each day throughout the week, beginning at Bethany on Monday, and ending with the eating of the Passover with the disciples on Thursday. The course will be concluded with the Three-Hour Meditation on the Seven Words from the Cross on Good Friday, from twelve o'clock until three. Persons who attended these Meditative Readings last Lent will desire to attend again this year; and all who wish to get into the full meaning and spirit of Holy Week will attend these daily Readings, and be deeply impressed by the simplicity and sublimity of these divine narratives.

These Meditative Readings will be more helpful if all who attend will be provided with the little book which the Reader will follow, and are advised to purchase a copy. A limited supply of these books has been ordered from the publishers, and may be purchased while they last from the sexton, at fifteen cents a copy.

The Three-Hour Meditation on the "Seven Words from the Cross" will be conducted on Good Friday by the Rev. H. Page Dyer, of the Church of the Ascension, Philadelphia. The attendance at this most impressive service has steadily increased each year. No doubt, this year there will be a larger attendance than before as the spiritual helpfulness of this service is more generally known. It is requested that all who can do so will remain during the entire three hours. The large majority of those who attend do remain. Persons who must leave the church before the service is over are kindly requested to do so during the singing of a hymn. The order of service will be found on tables at the entrance of the Church.

Miss Thacher and Miss Dahl desire to express their appreciation of the hearty response to the appeal for contributions to, and patrons of, the cake and candy sale recently given by their classes in the parish house. In spite of the inclement weather the proceeds netted $16.00, which amount was placed to the credit of the Parish House Improvement Fund.

Easter Memorial Flowers

Following the custom of past years the flowers in the Chancel on Easter Day will be memorials to the blessed dead. The Altar Guild requests that all who desire to remember their departed friends by memorial flowers will please send their contribution either to the Rector or to Mrs. William H. Avery, 54 West Tulpehocken street, as soon as possible. The women of the Guild will personally attend to the selection of the flowers and will see that each contribution is represented by an appropriate memorial. By sending contributions in money the Guild will be enabled to make a more choice and harmonious selection.

Those who prefer to contribute blooming plants or flowers are requested to send them to the Parish House early on Saturday morning, so that these may be arranged in the chancel before the Saturday afternoon service.

All are invited to send contributions to the Easter memorial, either in money or flowers, and any contribution, however small, will be cordially welcomed.

EDITORIAL

THE LETTER printed below and signed by the Rector's Warden is printed on this page in the hope that every member of the parish will read it carefully and thoughtfully. It may be taken as being representative of the opinion of the vestry of our church. The members of the vestry are individually and collectively in favor of materially adding to our parish house.

The New Parrish House

Day by day the prospects for a new parish house are brightening. Not long ago the question was frequently asked—"Why do we need a new house?" That is no longer asked. Everyone now recognizes and admits the need of such a building. To-day the only question is—"How soon can we have it?"

This in itself is a decided change for the better and is a long stride toward obtaining what we WANT. Not what we "wish," but what we "WANT"—in other words, what we NEED. With our people awakened to a realization of the need, it is clear that they will respond with their usual generosity.

Perhaps once or twice in a lifetime the call comes to each to make some unusual sacrifice for the sake of the work of our Master and Lord. Some special offering of love is asked, one which will in some slight way manifest what we are willing to do for Him.

Such a call came to the older generation of our parish in 1878, when the October winds of that year completely destroyed our church building. Nobly our people responded to the call and, with one heart, gave and worked until they raised the large sum of $40,000.00 or more.

Now, a similar, but much smaller call, comes to us. Ten thousand dollars is a large amount of money, but much less than was raised 37 years ago. Are we not the children of our fathers and if so, shall we not take up our task in turn?

Already several members of our congregation have expressed a willingness to give on a large and liberal scale, provided all will do the same, according to their REAL, not their fancied power. If all will rise to the occasion and give in the same spirit with like liberality there will be but little difficulty in securing the new parish house.

Shall we let this opportunity escape or shall we give largely and liberally in the same spirit that was shown by our fathers in the past, and like them see our sacrifice made into an enduring monument in a parish house, which will enable us to do effective work for Christ and His Church?

(Signed) JAMES H. RITTER.

SINCE our last issue a subscription has been received from Mr. L. E. Pfeiffer and a contribution from Mr. Frank L. Donlevy, both of which are thankfully acknowledged.

Parish Guild

Christ Church Club

The Christ Church Club wishes to thank its many friends who stood by it in the recent endeavor to raise money for the Parish House Improvement Fund. While all tickets have not yet been accounted for, the Committee has about $40 net at the present time which, considering the time in which the entertainment was gotten up, is very good.

From the many favorable comments upon the presentation of the comedy, the Club also takes the liberty to credit the entertainment as a success in this way as well as financially.

In order to improve the Parish House along modern lines, it will be necessary for active co-operation on the part of all. The club is willing to do its share, and if the people of the parish will continue to support it as they have in the past the success of the project is assured, as far as our part is concerned.

The Guild Choir

This choir, which is now in its second Lenten season, is composed of members of the church, the majority not being members of the regular choir. There are twenty-seven enrolled members of the guild choir at the present time.

Last Lent was the first time the choir was vested and occupied the chancel, and since then the choir has sung at the Friday afternoon services every week. On Ash Wednesday the guild choir sang at the morning service and has continued to sing at every afternoon service during Lent.

The rehearsals of the guild choir are held on the second Wednesday evening of each month at the homes of the different members and are conducted by Mr. Rile. The rehearsals have been discontinued during Lent. The last rehearsal was held at the home of Miss Woodroffe.

B. L. M.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

This Chapter meets the second and fourth Tuesday evenings of each month, at eight o'clock, in the Parish

House. Corporate Communion the second Sunday morning at 7.30 o'clock. Visitors are welcome to all Chapter meetings.

On Tuesday evening, March 8th, the Chapter members began a systematic study of the Prayer Book under the leadership of the Rector. This is a matter in which many of our Churchmen are very negligent, and, that this lack of knowledge may be corrected, a cordial invitation is extended to all men in the parish to attend these studies. They will be held in the Parish House on the regular meeting nights, as noted above.

This class can be made both instructive and entertaining and it is hoped that many men, especially the younger men, will avail themselves of this opportunity, which is both a duty and a privilege.

Choir Notes

Attention is called to the date upon which the regular Passion music is sung during Holy Week. In the last issue of "The Chimes," it was announced the choir would sing Stainer's "Crucifixion," and Gounod's "Out of Darkness," on Wednesday evening of Holy Week, March 23rd. Owing to the transit conditions in Philadelphia, which caused various members of the choir to be absent frequently from the rehearsals necessary for the rendering of these works, it will be impossible to sing both cantatas announced. "Out of Darkness" will therefore be postponed until a later date, and the "Crucifixion" will be sung on Good Friday evening, March 25th. The music for Easter will include Te Deum in E-flat, Buck; Jubilate in B-flat, Buck (arr. from Shubert), Anthems, Christ our Passover, Tours; Hallelujah Chorus, Handel; Now is Christ Risen, West; Sanctus, Benedictus and Gloria in Excelsis, Gounod (St. Cecelia). Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis, Martin, in A.

Miss Helen Donlevy was to have assisted as harpist on Good Friday evening and Easter, but owing to illness, it is doubtful whether she will be present.

Boys' Club

There is a jolly good time every Friday evening, in the parish house, at which time the Boys' Club of Christ Church holds its meetings. All boys, between the ages of fourteen and eighteen, are cordially invited to become members of the club.

Subscribe through the Envelope

Pledge cards and envelopes for the new fiscal year will be found on the tables at the entrance to the church. All former subscribers through the envelope system will find their envelopes with their names on them arranged alphabetically on the tables at the doors. Each person is requested to take his or her package of envelopes before Easter Day.

Every attendant at the services of Christ Church is urged to sign a pledge card with the amount to be given weekly and to place this card on the plate. A package of envelopes will then be sent to all who pledge.

"Hamlet on Free Pews"

The pledge card with the blanks filled out, with the following written on the back, was recently received:

"To pledge or not to pledge—that is the question;

Whether 'tis nobler in a man to take
The Gospel free and let another foot the bill,
Or sign a pledge and pay toward the Church
expenses!

To give, to pay—ay, there's the rub—to pay,
When on the free few plan a man may have
A sitting free, and take the Gospel too,
As though he paid, and none be aught the wiser,

Save the Accounting Warden, who—
Most honorable man—can keep a secret!
'To err is human,' and human, too, to buy
At cheapest rate. I'll take the Gospel so!
For others do the same—a common trick!
I'm wise. I'll wait, not work; I'll pray, not pay,

And let the other fellows foot the bills—
And so with me the Gospel's free!—you see?"

The Power of Prayer

"Prayer is the work of the whole nature. It is not words. 'Being in an agony, He prayed, and His sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. It is this sort of prayer that saves a world. It is omnipotent. Every so-called 'natural law' is always suspended by any personal will strong enough to do it. I am only stating my calm, philosophical, and I believe equally the orthodox Catholic, convictions, when I say a perfect personal will can suspend the law of mortality. We have glimpses of it. Elisha Kane refused to die of scurvy on the polar expedition, got out of bed and took the quarter-deck and lived. The only perfect Man, our Lord, died because He chose to, rose because He chose to. Death and Life were His servants. Now prayer is simply the coincidence of a human will with God's will. Perfectly in accord with that Will the human will shares its omnipotence. 'I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me.' We call submission to misfortune 'accepting God's will.' It is childish, sometimes impious. God's will is active. I am speaking of God's will as it makes and guides the Universe—a will to be done not suffered merely. 'Thy will be done.' For so-called 'natural law' I have small reverence. It is merely bricks and mortar for me and other men to work with. As far as we know it we use it. We are knowing and using more of it every day. We finally will manage it as we please—in the Regeneration.'" —From private letter of the late Bishop Thompson.

A Generous Offer

AS THE "Chimes" goes to press the Rector has received the following generous offer from one of the most faithful attendants at Christ Church, and one who realizes the great need of larger parish house facilities to meet the demands of our increasing work. The letter reads as follows:
"My Dear Mr. Arndt:—

"During your appeal last Sunday for $10,000.00 for the new parish building, a thought occurred to me, which I have since decided to present to you. It will give me much pleasure to give one thousand dollars ($1000.00) one-tenth of the sum you ask for, provided the remaining $9000.00 is raised by Easter Monday. If the full amount is not 'in hand' on that day, March 28th, my offer is withdrawn. I trust that my suggestion may be the means of giving an impetus to the raising of the total amount and that, for your sake more than any other reason, your desire for a new parish building may be realized."

This generous offer will be received with gratitude by all the members of Christ Church. It is an encouraging and substantial beginning of the realization of our hopes and now it remains for every one in this parish to do his or her part. This generous offer must be met and the Rector feels sure that the people of Christ Church, who are always most liberal and self-sacrificing in their Easter offering, will this year make an unusual effort to realize the full $10,000.00 needed at this time. In the closing words of the vestry's letter, "A magnificent opportunity now awaits us to do a great work for Christ and His Church. It is God's work, not ours, but ours to do our part, as co-workers together with Him in the spread of the Kingdom of our Lord and Master Jesus Christ. We trust that God will put into the hearts of the people of Christ Church to respond liberally for His work which He has given us to do."

At the last Men's Club dinner, held in the parish house, it was suggested that a stereopticon be purchased for the parish for the purpose of giving illustrated lectures on Missions and other interesting subjects. Almost enough money has been subscribed to purchase the lantern and it is hoped that other subscriptions will be forthcoming at once that the lantern may be purchased as soon as possible. Subscriptions have been received from the following persons: C. H. Loutrell, Dr. T. H. Carmichael, Charles Heyer, J. I. Morrison, John Henderson, James Henderson, Samuel Pastorius, John

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS: 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

THE Rector wishes to congratulate the Editors of "Christ Church Chimes" on the successful conclusion of the eighth volume of this publication. There are few Parish papers that have been published continuously and uninterruptedly for eight consecutive years. This would not have been possible had it not been for the support given by the advertisers and the subscribers, and by a generous friend. The Rector attributes a large share of credit to "The Chimes" for the unanimity of spirit and the hearty co-operation in the work of the Church, which prevails throughout the Parish. As an advertising medium "The Chimes" offers to the tradespeople in this vicinity a valuable agency. This month's edition of "The Chimes" is twelve hundred copies, which will find their way into almost that many homes in this vicinity. With so large a circulation the "Christ Church Chimes" must be of value both to our advertisers and to the cause of Christ and His Church, which it seeks to extend in this community. The Rector trusts that the members of this Parish will continue their generous support which they have hitherto given to "The Chimes" and hopes that every member will co-operate with the editors to the extent of sending to the business manager a year's subscription.

OCTOBER is the time for all the Societies in the Parish to begin to lay out their winter's work. The summer is ended and the inactivity, enforced by the warm weather, ought now to be laid aside and the duties of Parish life should be resumed with renewed vigor and greater earnestness. Good and faithful work was done last year by most of the societies. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon certain societies in the Parish for their zeal and earnestness. The liberality, faithfulness and consecration of many workers in the Parish have been marked during the past year. Some, however, have not done as well as they might, and in all there is room for improvement. It is hoped that this winter's work will be begun and continued with renewed zeal and consecration. The various societies in the Parish afford opportunity for every one in this community to engage in some Christian work. Newcomers into the Parish, and others not enlisted in active work, are cordially invited to unite with some society of the Parish or to identify themselves with some form of Church work. The Rector cordially invites all who desire to co-operate in the work of the Master, to send or give their names to him and he will be pleased to assign them something to do "in His name and for His sake."

THE Rector's office hours are published at the head of page one. Whilst he is ready and anxious to see any person, within or without the Parish, who may be in need of his services at any time, yet he is confident that the parishioners will realize the reasonableness and necessity for him to systematize his work as far as possible. To that end the Rector asks that all who desire to see him will please make it convenient, as far as possible, to call within the appointed hours. If these hours are not convenient he will be pleased to make a special appointment with any one who may desire to see him. In cases of sickness, death or other urgent need the Rector is always ready to respond promptly at any time.

Relationship Between Pastor and People

The following is written by a layman and has in it some excellent suggestions:

"The relationship between pastor and people is a reciprocal one. If the minister has a duty to his congregation, not less does the latter owe one in return.

"If the pulpit has its responsibilities, there is, on the part of the pew, an obligation not less distinct, though often not clearly recognized. Doubtless a major portion of every congregation is just, appreciative, and loyal to the Church and to the pastor, both in his official capacity and personally, but there are none of us who may not occasionally ask our own hearts: 'Do we do our whole duty?' Certainly there are in every hundred a larger or smaller percentage of those who, for no other cause than thoughtlessness, and with no other worse motive than carelessness, evince a very lively appreciation of the clerical 'mote,' coupled with an extremely minute perception of the lay 'beam.'

"Laying aside all questions of charity in judgment, let us bear in mind considerations of simple justice in the verdict that is so often hastily rendered concerning the 'doings' or 'not-doings' of these men who are, so to speak, 'set upon a hill,' and frequently judged by a critic whose point of view is from one very restricted side of the hill's base. One must sometimes wonder, with inward smiles, how the self-constituted critic would look were the positions reversed and the clergy to evince as minute and censorious interest in his conduct of professional and personal affairs.

"Might it not be as well to suppose that our 'minister,' of whatever rank, knows quite as well as we how to conduct his charge? That he is quite as anxious for the success of his 'business' (which is, too, the Lord's business) as we could be, and that he can see it from more sides than we? There is probably no one thing that wounds in so tender a spot as injustice from those who ought to know better, or, at any rate, should be chary in speaking adversely; yet I doubt if there be, from highest to lowest, a member of our clergy (of our world in general, for that matter) who have not, at some time suffered.

"There be shallow minds that consider fault-finding ('criticism,' they term it) an evidence of superiority on their part; it more often betokens sour temper and mental laziness, or lack of ability to weigh.

"As to those instances where corrupt life, inattention to duty, or absolute inability to preach or to attend to pastoral duties, should debar, there is nothing to be said here. Such cases are few. The average ability among the clergy is, to say the least, quite as high as the average in the pew, and there are many who tower. For the very reason that his office brings him so prominently forward, it is true that the minister is oft a subject of criticism. Because people, almost unconsciously, associate perfection with that office, is every imperfection so glaringly apparent to the onlooker who does not stop to think.

"There be those in this world who deem every possible virtue included (on the minister's side) as an equivalent for salary to be paid to him. Pray, pardon here a short story. Long years ago I heard a dear old gentleman say to a young lady, just beginning house-keeping (and somewhat appalled by the 'servant troubles' predicted by her seniors): 'My child, don't expect absolute perfection in your servant; you can't buy the cardinal virtues for dollars and cents.' Said the young housekeeper: 'I'll try to remember. I am not "absolute perfection" myself.'

"If we have any respect or reverence for those in official position, any love for the pastor personally, and loyalty—what then? Rest assured that a great deal, a very great deal, depends upon us; and upon the use we make of our opportunities, no less than the character of what is offered us, here and hereafter. In years of such attendance my experience as a listener has ranged from some of the great preachers of the earth to some who would be termed very poor ones. No one more heartily enjoys and values fine oratory, eloquence, deep learning; yet it may be truthfully said that no sermon ever spoken in my hearing has failed to carry some measure worth having; some thought, if but by suggestion, to remember or dilate upon.

Your very attitude of receptivity is a value to you. If the preacher cannot tell you something you never knew, he may recall, either by analogy or contrast, something you did know. If he gives you no new thought of value, he can revive an old one; and just bear in mind that if one office of the Holy Ghost is to 'teach,' another 'is to bring all things to your remembrance.'

"Do we stand ready to receive from our clergy, or do we wait to be hammered upon like an obdurate metal?

"Do we realize (the Holy Apostle did) what it is to have 'the care of the Church' pressing on heart and shoulders?

"Do we give them the opportunity to help us find 'the straight and narrow way' through our personal difficulties, by going direct to them for help?

"Do we complain 'we scarcely know them personally because they visit us so seldom,' when we might occasionally visit them?

"Do we remember how many griefs their sympathetic hearts help to bear for their flocks, when we see them look depressed or worn?

"Do we remember the mere writing of a sermon is a small matter compared with the preparation for it? That in a few pages may be condensed days of study of various authors or authorities, and oft amid manifold interruptions?

"Oh, believe me, nothing worth having can be had one-sided; no service, no loyalty, no love! Think of it; try it. Even to the benediction, which may be reciprocal; for, when the minister, be he of high or low degree, pronounces, 'And may the blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be amongst you, and remain with you always,' your own heart may well, in gratitude and reverence and tenderness, interpolate, 'And with you. Amen.'

Calendar for October

October 2—Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity.
October 9—Twentieth Sunday after Trinity.
October 16—Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity.
October 18—S. Luke.
October 23—Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity.
October 28—S. Simon and S. Jude.
October 31—Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity.

The Friday afternoon services have been resumed at the usual hour, five o'clock. The attendance during the past year has been fair and the music furnished by the "Guild Choir," composed of volunteers, has added much to these services. If more persons in the Parish realized the peaceful, restful character of this service of Evensong we are sure that they would avail themselves of this privilege. The service is a half-hour in length and all are cordially invited to come apart from the world for a little while, and, as "the day is gently sinking to a close," draw near to God in meditation and prayer.

"When the soft dews of kindly sleep
My weary eyelids gently steep,

Be my last thought, how sweet to rest
Forever on my Saviour's breast."

The New Parish House

The plans for the enlargement and improvement of the Parish House have been submitted to the Vestry by the architect and have been posted in the vestibule of the church for the inspection of the parishioners. The present plans are the result of a great deal of thought and time given by the Vestry and the architect in their endeavor to embody, as far as possible, the needs of the various societies of the Parish. The plans are now submitted to the members of the congregation with the view of inviting their criticisms and suggestions. It will not be possible, of course, to adopt every suggestion or to please every one. The Vestry, however, are anxious to meet, so far as they are able with the means at their disposal, the reasonable needs of all departments of the Parish organizations. The plans for the new addition to the present Parish building provide for a large and commodious room in the basement for games for boys and girls, lockers, shower baths and toilet. On the first, or ground floor, are assembly rooms for societies, reading and club rooms for boys and young men, a kitchen and Rector's study. The second floor is devoted to additional space for the Sunday School and library. No alteration to the old building is contemplated at present, but it is hoped that some rearrangement in the present building may be made later.

A number of societies in the Parish will work during the coming winter to add generous contributions to the Parish House Fund. One member of the Sunday School has realized over $30.00 during the past summer making and selling to her friends fancy articles. Let the good work go on by all the societies and by every member of the Parish. The sooner the full amount needed for the improvement is realized the sooner the Parish House will be built. Therefore, the oft-repeated question: "How soon are we to have our new Parish House?" may be answered: "It is up to you"—that is, to each member, man and woman, boy and girl, of the Parish. All contributions and subscriptions should be sent to the chairman of the Parish House Committee, Mr. James H. Ritter, care "The Chelton Trust Co," Germantown.

Envelope Subscribers

Will all persons who are in arrears in their weekly envelope subscriptions please send in the full amount of their arrears as soon as possible? Many who have been absent during the summer have not, as yet, made up their back amounts and there are others who are several months in arrears. It will greatly aid the Warden to meet the financial demands of the Parish if all who are in arrears will pay up as soon as possible.

Subscribe Through the Envelope System

The Vestry is very anxious that the subscribers through the "Envelope System" shall be extended until it includes every one who attends the services at Christ Church. This method of giving should include, not only all the adult members of the Parish, but also children of the family should be

THIS issue is the first number of volume nine and with it "The Chimes" enters upon another year of its existence. The editors firmly believe that the paper is an active factor in the work of our Parish and have received many favorable comments from members of the congregation regarding its usefulness. Therefore, we earnestly desire to continue publishing "The Chimes" at the regular periods.

For the last two or three years we have had a struggle with financial problems and it is with this in mind that we make an appeal for the support which the paper should receive. In order to pay the necessary expenses we must have not less than one hundred and twenty-five subscribers at fifty cents each. Last year we had but eighty-four subscribers and it was necessary for a good friend to come to the rescue with funds. We hope that this will not be necessary this year and ask that all who possibly can will subscribe.

THE return of cooler weather will cause the resumption of work in the various societies of the Parish and the editor wishes to repeat his request of former years, that each society will appoint some person to act as their correspondent to "The Chimes." In this way only can all of the Guild be properly represented on our pages. Please take this request seriously and thus relieve the editors of the task of looking for news items every month and at the same time aid your society in furthering its work.

THE Committee of the Vestry appointed to consider plans for the improvement of the Parish House has worked earnestly on the task given them and has considered the question from many viewpoints. The editor is informed that all is ready but some small details, and that the plans will soon be posted for the consideration of the members of the congregation. The task has not been a light one and the Parish is to be congratulated on having come so much nearer to a realization of our ambitions in this direction.

encouraged by their parents to give in this way, thus inculcating in them the spirit of systematic and conscientious giving to the cause of Religion at home and in the mission field. The needs demand that every Christian should do his or her duty. The extended usefulness of this Parish depends upon every one doing what they can. If the pledges through the envelope system should be doubled during this year—which might be the case if every one in the Parish would subscribe—all the needs of the Parish would be easily met and its sphere of usefulness would be greatly enlarged. A majority of the members of the Parish already subscribe through the Envelope System, but it is greatly desired that every one who has hitherto neglected to subscribe, should sign a card this fall so that the burden of the expenses shall be borne, not by a few, but as it ought to be, by all. Pledge cards, with amounts ranging from five cents to one dollar per week, may be found in the vestibules of the Church. All who attend the services of this Church are invited to take these pledge cards, sign them for any amount which you may feel able to give as a weekly offering to the Church and its work. The signed card may be placed on the plate at any service or sent to the Accounting Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal street. A package of envelopes will then be sent to each subscriber. As the offerings are placed in these envelopes, absolute secrecy is obtained and conscientious, systematic giving is thus encouraged. By this method the Church finances do not suffer from the enforced absence of its members on account of illness or inclement weather. In signing these pledge cards members are asked to do so conscientiously and with the assurance that they are discharging a very plain and obvious duty, which will also appeal to them in the light of a privilege.

I once met a thoughtful scholar who told me that for years he had read every book he could which assailed the religion of Jesus Christ, and would have become an infidel but for three things: First, I am a man; I am going somewhere; to-night I am a day nearer the grave than I was last night. I have read all such books can tell me; they shed not one solitary ray upon the darkness; they take away the only guide, and leave one stoneblind. Secondly, I had a mother; I saw her go down into the dark valley where I am going, and she leaned upon an unseen arm as a child goes to sleep on the breast of its mother. I know that was not a dream. Thirdly, I have three motherless children. They have no protector but myself. I would rather kill them than to leave them in this sinful world if you blot out from it all the teachings of the Gospel.—Bishop Whipple.

THE editors have appointed Miss Mary Dahl as special agent for the soliciting of subscriptions to "The Chimes." Any courtesy shown her will be appreciated by the editors. "The Chimes" is placed in the Church for free distribution to strangers and those who may feel unable to subscribe. It is hoped that all who are able to do so will contribute to the support of the paper.

Parish Notes

During the Rector's vacation the services of the Church were efficiently conducted by the Rev. H. Cresson McHenry. Mr. McHenry's Sunday evening addresses on the work the Church is doing through the City Mission were most interesting and instructive to all who were privileged to listen to them. The following letter from Mr. McHenry is complimentary to the people of this Parish:

Philadelphia, Pa., September 7, 1910.

Dear Mr. Arndt:

Now that you are settled again I shall take the time to write and tell you how much I enjoyed and appreciated my work at Christ Church during the months of July and August. Never before have I received such kindly and cordial treatment extended to me by the communicants of your parish, which, to me, is a great commentary upon the sterling qualities of the rector of the parish, who, of course, is their teacher and their guide. It was with regret that I usually said "farewell" to the congregation and the Sunday School. Particularly do I wish to express my appreciation for the splendid co-operation of the choir. Not only did they render the services of the Church most beautifully, but also they showed their sympathy and interest in the work of the City Mission, with which I am officially connected, by going one Sunday afternoon in a body to the Eastern State Penitentiary and holding a service of song for the convicts. All the members of the Vestry who were present at the church services were most cordial to me. The sexton was most faithful and attentive. He is an ideal man for the position. And the members of the congregation, both individually and collectively, were exceptionally kind. Several of them gave me donations towards our City Mission. Indeed my visit to your parish was very profitable to me in every way. I humbly pray that I was able to give something in return for all that I received.

Again thanking you for the opportunity to serve your parish this summer, I am and always shall be,

Most cordially yours,
H. CRESSON McHENRY.

Special Offering, Sunday, October 16th

On the third Sunday in October will be taken the annual offering for the Germantown Convocation and Sustentation Fund. This is one of the most worthy objects to which our people are asked to give.

The missionary work of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is under the "Diocesan Board of Missions." This Board, which is a creature of the Diocesan Convention, has the grave responsibility of attending to all missions in this diocese, including the support and extension of church work in the newer portions of Philadelphia, as well as in the poorer sections of our city and the outlying country districts. To facilitate the Board in this work the diocese is divided into six districts on "Convocation," and to each Convocation is apportioned certain missionary jurisdiction. The total money required to carry on this missionary work here at our doors is apportioned among the six Convocations. The "Germantown Convocation," of which Christ Church is a part, has under its care the missionary work in this part of the city, parts of the "Kensington District," and the rural work in Bucks County.

The share of Christ Church Parish is (including the Sustentation Fund) $225.00. This amount our Parish is asked to give to assist in carrying on the missionary work in this diocese. There is a great work being done under the direction of the Germantown Convocation, and if the readers of "The Chimes" will carefully look over the report of the Diocesan Missions—copies of which will be found in the vestibules of the Church—they will be impressed with the importance of this missionary work and the progress the Church is making in extending the Kingdom of Christ among the people of this diocese. This Parish has never failed to meet its full apportionment, and it is hoped that every attendant at the services of Christ Church will give liberally to this most worthy object on the third Sunday of the month, October 16th. A fuller account of this important missionary work will be given from the chancel on the above date.

Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Esq. The Sunday School is now in full session and extends a cordial welcome to all young people in this vicinity. Come and join us on Sunday mornings at half-past nine o'clock. Sheldon Potter, Esq., is the Superintendent, and Mr. O. N. Middleton Associate Superintendent.

The following are the special offerings taken in this Church during the year:

Third Sunday in October—"Germantown Convocation and Sustentation Fund."

Thanksgiving Day—"Episcopal Hospital."

Sunday before Christmas—"Support of the Sunday School."

Christmas Day—"Aged and Infirm Clergy."

Third Sunday in January—"Foreign Missions."

Third Sunday in February—"Episcopal and Convention Fund."

Good Friday—"Church Work Among the Jews."

Easter Day—"Special Parish Purposes."

Third Sunday in May—"Domestic Missions."

The above list is announced in advance so that the conscientious givers in Christ Church may know the Sundays on which special offerings are to be taken and in case of absence from Divine Service may send their offering to the Accounting Warden.

On the third Sunday of September our Sunday School held a big "Rally Service." Interesting addresses were delivered by Mr. John Hodge and

Choir Notes

On Thursday, August 25th, a number of the choir left Philadelphia for New York by train, and thence up the Hudson to West Point by boat, returning home about 10.30 P. M. after a most enjoyable day.

A large hymnal was offered by the choir-master for the best attendance in the choir during the summer. A tie resulted between Miss Collisson and Miss Laura Hayhurst, neither missing a service or rehearsal. Therefore, each received a hymnal for their commendable faithfulness. Other members were close behind the leaders—in fact, all were most faithful during the warm weather just past.

Under the auspices of the choir a number of musicales and entertainments will be given during the winter, the proceeds to be used toward the Choir Summer Outing next year. It is hoped that they will be well patronized, not only for the personal pleasure derived, but that, through your assistance, the members of the choir may enjoy a week's vacation next summer.

Vocal instruction will be given to any applicant whose voice is used in the choir. These private lessons will prove not only beneficial to the choir, but to the individual.

The Principle of Missions

"I remember attending a meeting of the Twentieth Century Club in Boston some time ago. I had the pleasure of listening to the presentation of the mission cause by the secretary of a foreign mission board. When he had concluded his address, there was a series of questions which evidently showed the entire disbelief of some in the principle of missions. After several of these questions had been asked, a man known as a labor agitator arose and said: 'If a man knows something that he is sure will benefit his fellow-men, it is his business to tell them.' The statement of that labor agitator about covers the case, it seems to me. It was his simple endorsement of missions. If a man knows something that he is sure will benefit his fellow-men, it is his business to tell them. If you have anything worth sharing with your fellow-men you should share it. Sharing may be in money, intelligence or purposes. The best you have is not any too good for the poorest. The rich think that the poor are their debtors. They are in a certain sense; but the rich are debtors to the poor in a much truer sense. The wise are debtors to the ignorant. The good are debtors to the degraded. That is the principle of the social settlements where those of good impulse and motive live in debased quarters that they may uplift man.

That is the principle of missions—to let others share with us the blessed privileges which have been given to us. That is the principle of Jesus Christ—"to seek and to save that which was lost."

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

THE ECCLESIASTICAL year
commences on Advent Sunday, which is always the nearest Sunday to St. Andrew's Day (November 30th).
Hence, the latter is sometimes at the beginning, sometimes at the end of the ecclesiastical year. Trinity Sunday divides the year about equally. The first part—from Advent to Trinity—is devoted to a commemoration of the various events in the early life of our Saviour, which formed part of His great work, viz.: His Incarnation Manifestation to the Gentiles, Fasting and Temptation, Crucifixion, Resurrection and Ascension; the Descent of the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost and the Revelation of the great mystery of Trinity.

The second part of the year—from Trinity onward—is appropriated to a consideration of our practical duties as members of Christ, founded on those doctrines in which we have previously been instructed. Hence, we have a complete cycle of Christian teaching for the year, independent of the instruction received from the pulpit. The advantages thus secured are obvious.
The congregation is not left entirely dependent on the teaching of the preacher and yet the latter has suggested to him subjects of discourse to which he may return year after year without fear of exhausting them.

ADVENT is a season of self-examination and earnest prayer, whilst we commemorate the first coming of our Blessed Lord and meditate on His second; and thus we are prepared for the right enjoyment of the approaching festival of the Nativity. The Collects, Epistles and Gospels are appointed with a view to this. The Collects may be said to form a series. In them Christ is alluded to as coming (1) in Person, (2) in His Word, (3) by His ministers and (4) by His Spirit. The Epistles are explanatory of the Collects. The Gospels are (1) a parable, so to speak, of Christ's coming to judge, (2) a description of that coming,

(3) our Lord's testimony to John Baptist as the herald of his first coming,
(4) John's testimony concerning himself.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.—This is one of the most ancient of the festivals commemorative of the Apostles. It may fall either at the beginning or the end of the Ecclesiastical
Year, but generally it is the former.

There is a certain propriety in St.
Andrew being commemorated first of all the Apostles, he having been one of the first to follow Christ. See John i, 40. Hence his ancient name of Protokletos (First Called). He is remarkable, too, as having been the first of the Apostles who did Missionary work; he brought his own brother Simon to Christ. This fact also may have had something to do with the place given to him in the Calendar; certainly it seems to have governed the choice of the Epistle, which contains St. Paul's great Missionary argument, ver. 11-16. The Gospel is the account of his formal call. He was crucified by order of Ægeas, Pro-Consul of Achaia, after having been terribly scourged. The Cross on which he was bound (not nailed) is generally affirmed to have been in the shape of the letter X.

THE FESTIVAL OF ST. THOMAS, which occurs on the 21st of this month, is of very ancient date. The Collect has the leading idea drawn from a Homily of St. Gregory when he says: "that by this doubting of St. Thomas, we are more confirmed in our belief than by the faith of the other Apostles." It is recorded by Eusebius that after the day of Pentecost and the gift of tongues, the Apostles were scattered abroad, and that St. Thomas was sent to the Parthians, Medes, Persians and Chaldeans, founding churches among them till he penetrated into India. The Christians of St. Thomas, a remarkable religious community, still bear witness to his labors in that distant land; they are settled along the Malabar coast of the Indian peninsula. To the North also there seem to be relics of the Christian faith preached by St. Thomas, mixed with the strange religion of Thibet. St. Thomas was martyred at a place called Taprobane. Having been at first assailed with stones, he was at last killed by the thrust of a spear, thus offering a comparison to the words of our Lord to him: "Reach hither thy hand and thrust it into my side." It was not granted to St. Thomas to have his courageous aspirations fulfilled to die with Christ, but to die for His cause. It is related that the Portuguese found an ancient inscription in Meliapore, purporting that St. Thomas had been pierced with a lance at the foot of a cross, which he had erected in that city, and that in 1523 A. D. his body was found there and transported to Goa. It would appear that St. Thomas traveled farther than any of the Apostles, and preached to various nations of different languages, showing that as his incredulity was great, so was his faith great in proportion. When painted alone or with the other Apostles, his attribute is always a builder's rule or square, and for this reason he is called the patron of architects and builders.

Behold! Thy King Cometh

It seems very natural to us to ask why the account of Christ's entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday should be read as the Gospel for Advent Sunday. At first sight it looks very like a displacement of the Gospel history, for on Advent Sunday we are thinking of the two extreme points, if we may so term them, of the relationship which the Lord Jesus bears to us, the one of His coming to take our nature upon Him nineteen centuries ago, and the other when He shall come to judge us hereafter; when we suddenly find ourselves in the very midst of His earthly life, at nothing less than its crisis, when He has just wrought His greatest recorded miracle, and is consciously on His way to die. What, then, we feel inclined to ask, is the connection between this entry into Jerusalem, and Christ's advent, whether on the occasion of His taking our nature upon Himself, or His still future advent, in the clouds of Heaven, as Judge of the quick and dead? Might it not have been better, we may ask, as is the case in some of the Churches of Christendom, to have chosen the Gospel for to-day from some passage in which our Lord describes His second coming, such, for instance, as the Gospel for Sunday next? This is what some of us may think, but these old liturgical arrangements were made by people who knew very well what they were about. They have been continued to our day, because they have been found, by the experience of some thirteen or fourteen centuries, to have a deep lesson for the human soul.

This Gospel is chosen because it brings before us two great truths; not only that of the first coming of our Divine Saviour into the world, but of His coming to the judgment. Passages of Scripture describing, either of these momentous events would be obviously appropriate, but to do justice to the solemn time upon which we now enter we require to keep these two truths clearly before the eye of the soul.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

Thanksgiving Day

The President of the United States has set aside Thursday, November 24th as "A Day for Prayer and Thanksgiving to Almighty God." The services on that day will be as follows: Holy Communion, 7.30; Morning Service and Sermon, 11.00. The special form of Prayer and Thanksgiving used at this service will be found in the Prayer Book on page 319, immediately preceding Forms of Prayer to be used in Families." The offering on Thanksgiving Day will be for the Episcopal Hospital.

Envelope Subscribers

A number of the subscribers through the envelopes are in arrears. The treasurer of the Envelope System reports that some are in arrears for several months. It is hoped that all who have not paid their subscriptions in full will do so as soon as possible that the treasurer may balance the accounts at the end of this quarter, December 1st.

An Exemplary Family

A certain family recently moved into this vicinity from a City Parish. As soon as they were located they wrote to the Rector of Christ Church, stating that they had moved to Germantown and desired to connect themselves with this Parish. They enclosed in the letter to the Rector their letters of transfer from their former Parish to Christ Church Parish. They also stated that they desired to contribute regularly to the support of the work of this church and asked that pledge cards be sent to all the members of the family. Within a week these pledge cards were returned, filled out with the amount each member of the family felt they could afford to give. The Rector has called on them, welcomed them to their new Church Home, and there has thus been established that personal, pastoral relationship which should exist between Rector and people. This is an exemplary family. What a decided contrast to the large number of people who move into a community, float about from Church to Church or go to no Church at all! "I'll wait a little while."

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Advent Season, which begins on Advent Sunday, November 27th, and continues until Christmas Day, ought to be used by all good Churchmen to prepare for the receiving of our Lord on Christmas Day. There can be no Christian Christmas without Christ. Hence the Church sets apart the four weeks preceding Christmas as a season to prepare our hearts and minds to receive the Blessed Saviour into our lives.

Special Advent Sermons

On Sunday evenings during Advent the Rector will preach a special course of Advent Sermons on the general subject, "The State of the Dead." The special subjects and dates of these sermons will be as follows:

First Sunday evening in Advent, November 27th, "Where does the Soul go after Death?"

Second Sunday evening in Advent, December 4th, "Is there another chance after Death?"

Third Sunday evening in Advent, December 11th, "Does the Bible teach Eternal Punishment?"

Fourth Sunday evening in Advent, December 18th, "Where is Heaven?"

These subjects are of vital interest to every Christian man and woman. These questions have been asked, at one time or another, by every living soul. They will be endeavored to be answered according to the teachings of the Bible. A cordial invitation is extended to strangers to attend these services.

A full program of the Christmas services of the Church and the Sunday School will be published in the next issue of "The Chimes," which will appear the Sunday before Christmas. It can be stated that the Church services on Christmas Day will be as follows:

Holy Communion, 6.30, 7.30 and 11.00 A. M. These hours—arranged to suit all classes—will enable every one to come to the Holy Communion on this great festival of the Birth of our Lord.

On December 1st the semi-annual pew rents are due. The Warden congratulates the pew renters of Christ Church on their prompt remittance of their pew rents. He will be pleased to meet after any service or by appointment newcomers in the congregation who may desire to rent pews or settings. In this connection attention is called to the standing notice which appears on page three of "The Chimes."

A New England Supper and Sale will be held in Christ Church Parish House on Tuesday afternoon and evening, November 22, under the auspices of the Sunday-school. The proceeds will be given to the Parish House Fund.

There will be fancy articles, suitable for Christmas gifts, cake, candy, and pies for sale. Tickets for the supper will be 35 cents.

It is hoped that not only all members of the Sunday-school and their friends will take supper at the Parish House on November 22d, but that every member of the parish will co-operate with the school and patronize this supper and sale.

Some time about the middle of December Mr. Gallagher's class will give a play and entertainment, the proceeds of which will go to the Parish House Improvement Fund.

A very amusing comedy, "A Rival by Request," has been selected, and, as most of the members of the cast have had considerable experience, a very enjoyable evening is assured.

By patronizing efforts of this kind a double purpose is accomplished. You enjoy an evening of good entertainment and your money goes to an object in which we are all interested.

Choir Notes

On Tuesday evening, October 25th, the choir was entertained by Mrs. Kulp, formerly Miss Leola Britton, at her home in Tioga. The members of the choir presented Mrs. Kulp, who was lately a member of the choir, with a handsome framed picture of "The Last Supper," a well-known engraving.

Wednesday evening, November 2nd, a Hallowe'en party was held by the choir in the Parish building. All the members were present, as well as several invited friends and ex-choristers.

After games and dancing, the party, numbering thirty-five in all, sat down to a well-laden table provided by the choir members. The table was daintily decorated and a most pleasant evening was spent.

The first of the series of piano duet and song recitals was given in the Parish building, Wednesday evening, November 9th. An interesting program was given by the pianists, Miss Collison and Mr. Rile, who were assisted by Mr. Frederick Anné, tenor, whose principal number was von Fielitz's beautiful song cycle, "Eliland." The audience was most generous in showing its approval, applauding the numbers heartily.

The next recital of the series will be given on Wednesday evening, December 14th. Miss Mabelle C. Coleman, contralto soloist in a prominent Philadelphia Church, will sing. The piano program will include several of the well-known classics. Tickets may be obtained from members of the choir or the sexton, at twenty-five cents, and can be used either at this recital or the one in January.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions

It has been thought best to have our meetings on the first Wednesday afternoon in the month this winter, instead of in the evening, as heretofore. This change has been made to accommodate many women in the Parish who could not attend the evening meetings, and we trust it will result in a large attendance. Mrs. Walter J. Crowder, 205 W. Upsal street, has very kindly extended the hospitality of her house for our next meeting on Wednesday, December 7th, at three o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the women of our Parish to be present. Mrs. Hughson, from Morganton, North Carolina, is to address the meeting, and will tell us of her hospital work among the destitute white people of the South.

Will you not make a note of the date of this meeting, so that you will not make some other engagement and say, "I pray thee have ME excused?"

EDITORIAL

Don't Deceive Yourself.

Plenty of people imagine they have nothing for which to give thanks, but imagination is deceptive.

Charity's Visiting Day.

Charity begins at home, but at Thanksgiving time it ought to go visiting and help to make happy the lives of those to whom turkey is only a memory or a mockery.

The above clippings, which are taken from a local newspaper, certainly will provide ample opportunity for thought at this particular season. Truly, if one will but give a few moments to reflection on the year which has passed since last Thanksgiving Day, he or she will find many things for which to be thankful. Even the poorest and most unfortunate of us can find some evidence of the Father's kindness and mercy in our lives or the lives of those dear to us.

Granted, then, that we have reason to show our appreciation for His goodness to us, in what way more fitting can we express our thanks than in trying to pass along some of our blessings to those who are less fortunate? If we can do much for others let us do it; but if this may not be, then let us do our little gladly and cheerfully, remembering that even a helping word is sometimes more needed than material things.

Up to the time of going to press the Business Editor had received one subscription from a friend, who failed to place his or her name upon the envelope, and also from the following persons:

Miss A. Armstrong
Mr. H. R. Baremore
Mr. T. W. Brown
Mr. J. M. Canfield
Mrs. C. A. Carryl
Mr. F. B. Falkner

Miss L. W. Fell
Mrs. Hance
Mr. E. H. Morris
Mrs. Robinson
Mrs. E. V. Smyth
Mrs. A. Wenzell

This leaves thirty-eight subscriptions still lacking in the number needed to assure the editors of sufficient funds to carry the publication through the year. May we not be able, in the next issue, to announce that this doubt is removed and the success of "The Chimes" for another year is assured?

Sunday School.

The first of the course of illustrated lectures, which are to be given in the Sunday School on the first Sunday morning of each month, was very pleasing. The topic was the work among the American Indians. The slides used were finely colored and the reading was both entertaining and instructive.

Owing to the recent strike of the express drivers about New York it may be necessary to deviate from the schedule as announced in the last issue of "The Chimes." These slides are loaned by the Board of Missions and are constantly traveling from place to place. The strike interfered with their transportation and may make substitution necessary.

These lectures start promptly at quarter past nine o'clock on the first Sunday morning of each month. They are held in the Sunday School room on the second floor of the Parish building and every one is welcome to attend.

Men's Club.

The supper of the Men's Club, which was held on the fourth of November, was a very pleasant and profitable affair. The speaker was Roland S. Morris, Esquire, of Philadelphia, and his address on the work of the recent convention of the Church was both interesting and helpful. The supper was well planned and served, and the thanks of the Club are extended to those ladies who so kindly assumed the work of preparing and serving the viands.

The next meeting of the Club will be held on Friday evening, the twenty-seventh of January, at which time the annual election of officers will occur.

The Sunday-school is to have a series of entertainments during the winter.
The object of the entertainments is to have the teachers and scholars come together in a social way. The first one is to be given on December 7th. We are going to give an old-fashioned Mrs.
Jarley's Wax Works. Some of the younger scholars probably have never seen these, but we think it will be lots of fun. No admission will be charged, but those coming are asked to bring some groceries or fruit as an offering.
Mr. Arndt has many demands for food during the winter, and this will be a good opportunity for the Sunday-school to help him.

The General Convention.

The General Convention of the Church, recently held in Cincinnati, Ohio, was in many respects one of the greatest conventions that has ever been held by the American Church. A deputy to the convention writes:

"One would indeed be bold who dared deny that the convention could well be described in the one word, splendid. It was a splendid convention, and the feature that made it splendid was the spirit of harmony and good fellowship that pervaded the whole convention."

We are indebted to the "Living Church" for the following resume of the convention:

Accomplished Legislation.

Four new Missionary Districts created—Eastern Oklahoma, North Texas, San Joaquin (Cal.), Wuhu (China).

One additional Missionary Bishopric created by separation of Arizona from New Mexico.

Six new Missionary Bishops elected as follows: For Eastern Oklahoma, the Rev.
T. P. Thurston, of Minneapolis; for North-Texas, the Rev. E. A. Temple, of Waco,
Texas; for San Joaquin, the Rev. Louis C.
Sanford, Eighth Department Missionary
Secretary; for Wuhu, the Rev. Francis L.
H. Pott, D. D., president of St. John's College, Shanghai; for Arizona, the Rev. Julius W. Atwood, of the same district; for Kearney, to succeed the Rt. Rev. A. R. Graves,
D. D., resigned, the Very Rev. George A.
Beecher, Dean of the Cathedral at Omaha.

Suffragan Bishops made lawful, to be provided with seats but without votes in the House of Bishops.

The Board of Missions completely reorganized on a representative basis, each Missionary Department to choose one Bishop, one presbyter, and one layman as members, and with an equal number chosen at large by the General Convention. The Presiding Bishop continues to be at the head of the whole D. & F. Missionary Society, but an elective president by General Convention, to be at the head of the Board of Missions, with headquarters at the Church Missions House. Bishop Lloyd was chosen as President, which will necessitate his resignation as Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia.

Creation of a Board of Christian Education and of a Social Service Commission.

Creation of a Joint Commission to call a world conference of all Christian bodies who accept Jesus Christ as God and Saviour to confer concerning the Faith and Order of the Church. The Bishop of Chicago, chairman.

King James Version of the Bible named as standard, but permission given to use either of the Revised Versions for the lessons.

Canon 19 adequately and satisfactorily defined by the House of Bishops.

Army and navy chaplains to be transferred to the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Washington.

Consent given to the division of the diocese of Pittsburgh.

Joint commission to reconsider the whole subject of Theological Education.

Recommended that in every diocese a missionary committee be formed which shall organize similar committees in all parishes for the stimulation of missionary interest and offerings.

Joint Commission to revise the third collect for Good Friday.

Members of Courts of Review for the Trials of Presbyters and Deacons to be chosen by the several Departments.

Congregationalists ask to meet committee of this Church on unity under the overtures of the Lambeth Conference of 1908. Referred to Joint Committee on World Conference, etc.

Pending measure for elective Presiding Bishop failed, but a new measure making similar provision, leaving the tenure of office to be fixed by canon, sent down to the dioceses prior to final action in 1913.

New Lectionary made permissive as alternative to that in the Prayer Book, until the next General Convention. Permission granted to use lessons appointed for Morning or for Evening Prayer interchangeably.

A special book of popular Hymns with Music was set forth for missionary use.

Measures That Were Not Enacted.

To drop the word Protestant and otherwise revise the Title Page of the Prayer-Book. Adopted by a large majority of dioceses in the clerical order but failed for one diocesan vote in the lay.

To appoint a Joint Commission to prepare a form for Unction. Adopted by a large majority of the House of Bishops and of dioceses in the clerical order, negatived by a small majority of the lay.

To regulate religious orders. Adopted by the House of Bishops, laid over until next convention by House of Deputies.

To prohibit all remarriage of divorced persons during the lifetime of other party. Adopted by the House of Bishops, laid over until next Convention by House of Deputies.

Racial Missionary Districts for colored people, failed in both houses by considerable majorities.

Proposal to permit Prayer Books with certain alterations in Title Page, etc., in foreign field, laid on the table in the House of Deputies.

Measure to provide for final courts of appeals referred to next Convention.

Measure tentatively enacted in 1907, to amend procedure in ecclesiastical trials, not ratified.

Proposed Preamble, tentatively enacted in 1907, failed by large majority. A new one, introduced by Rev. Dr. Niver, not adopted.

Reorganization of the General Theological Seminary, passed by the House of Deputies, failed in House of Bishops.

Two Ideas of the Church.

By request we republish the following article, which appeared in "The Chimes" several months ago. It should be thoughtfully read by every Christian man and woman.

There is a great deal of difference between the Episcopal Church and the other Christian bodies. The mode of worship, the methods of work, the ways of thinking and doing—all are different. The difference is not only great, but it is radical. It goes to the very root of matters. It is to be traced to what the idea of the Church of Christ actually is. Out of this real root difference grows all the rest.

What is the Church? Let us define it, and call one definition "The Church Idea," and the other "The Sectarian Idea."

We place them in opposite columns for convenience in reference.

The Church Idea. The Sectarian

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1. It is a Divine institution with a | Idea. |
| 2. It is an or- ganism for dis- pensing Christian- ity. | 1. It is a hu- man institution |
| 3. It is the King- dom of Heaven Christianity. | 2. It is an or- ganization for the |
| seeking men on earth. | 3. It is a society on earth seeking the kingdom of Heaven. |

These are two entirely distinct and totally opposite conceptions of the nature and the purpose of the Church. Very naturally, the idea held influences every doctrine and practice of the church and determines its government. Hence the difference.

Let us emphasize the three points in each definition. "The Church Idea" recognizes that the Church is a Divine Institution, founded by Christ Himself, organized, officered and sent forth by Him, under the influence and guidance of the Divine Spirit, to do His work. It is the visible manifestation to the world of Christ; the Church is "His Body." It claims that no man has the right to make any other Church, and rend the Body of Christ, because he wants to emphasize certain doctrines or practices. The Episcopal Church claims that it is far better to let men hold their views—to look at the great truths from which ever side they please—but be loyal to the great Body that Christ sent forth into the world. "The Church Idea" believes in Christian unity.

tion, but it is an organism—a life-possessing and life-giving organism—founded, not by man, but by Christ Himself, who, through this organism, imparts life eternal—even His life—to all who come unto Him. The Church is from above, not from below; it is ordained of God, not organized by men. The apostles were chosen by Christ and sent out by Him to preach the Gospel.

These men wrote the Bible, and in the course of time gathered its several books together and established the "Canon of Scripture," that future generations might know what the Apostles did. It is the written story of the Gospel and its conquests in the first Christian century, as human lips told it and enforced it. The Episcopal Church, which holds "The Church Idea," honors the Bible as much as any Christian body. Its utterances settles her questions of belief and practice, but she does not say "The Bible and the Bible only," for the Church of Christ is an organism, dependent upon an order of living men; and before they had any Bible in the form of the "New Testament," before a line of the New Testament was written, the Church existed, and the Apostles went forth and accomplished the noblest conquests over the heathen world. And every Bible might be burned and yet the Church of Christ would live, and men would tell brother men "the faith once delivered to the saints."

The Episcopal Church also claims the Church is a Kingdom—the Kingdom of God on earth, and partaking of a Kingdom with its King, and its governors appointed by the King, and by their successors, every officer holding his authority by virtue of a delegated authority, and every act of the duly appointed officers reaching down through all time to every citizen of that Kingdom. The hands of Jesus were lifted up over the apostles, and they received their commission: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature and baptize them." The apostles laid their hands on their successors, and so until they rest on Christians to-day—practically the hands of Jesus stretching down through the ages, and pouring the water upon the head of the last baptized child, and giving the bread and the wine to the person who to-day kneels before the altar. This is Apostolic Succession. And that Kingdom should be one—united—not "divided against itself," as has been the case since men have undertaken "to make churches," to perpetuate opinions, and to teach doctrines.

This is the idea of the Church we find recorded in the Bible, as it tells us what Jesus and the apostles did. "The very first act of Christ's ministry," as an able writer puts it, "was to gather a few persons around him and form a society. We know the names and number of that society—the twelve disciples. At first they were only disciples—learners. He kept them near Him; He taught them by word and example. His parables He explained privately to them only. He trained them for their work by sending them out two and two, to preach and heal. There were evidently three ranks among these; Himself, the Head; the twelve next, and the third the seventy. Just before His Ascension Christ raised the twelve to the first rank, saying, "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you."

The first act of the apostles after this was to choose one to take the place of Judas, showing thereby that the society, or organization was to be kept up. At that time the disciples in Jerusalem had increased to one hundred and twenty. Acts I, 25. The organization was complete, but it had not received the breath of life. On the Day of Pentecost the Holy Spirit was breathed into this organism, and it became active and aggressive. This was the baptism, the new birth, of the Church.

Soon after this we find the Church choosing deacons, and the apostles ordaining them by laying on of hands. Next we read of elders, or presbyters, or priests, evidently differing in office from apostles and deacons. The apostles go forth to the cities of the world, preaching and ordaining elders in every city. Thus the living society is enlarged and has in it all the germs for continuance. It shows that Christ's first and great method for saving souls was not to write a book or propound a philosophy which might have been done by some prophet, but was to found a Church, in living connection with Himself, its Head.

Which "Idea" is the better one depends on the fact whether Christ organized a church or not. According to the laws of nature, there must be more real vitality, a fuller, richer life in a Divine Body, than in a human society—in the Kingdom of God seeking men, than in a lot of men seeking the Kingdom of God.

Such a conception of the Church of God is grand, inspiring, helpful. It is calculated to secure the devotion and allegiance of men as something worthy of their love. It makes Churchmen who act from principle as well as from choice. It rises far above that belittling, selfish, self-pleasing idea that we go to Church where and when we like the minister, and work and worship when things suit us, and feel no sense of duty or obligation when other conditions exist. Reader, which Idea is your Idea—or which will it be from this hour?

A Joyful Christmas.

May this Christmas-tide bring happiness and joy into every Christian heart! And surely every one who receives Christ into his heart this Christmas-tide will have that happiness and joy and peace which Christ alone can give. Without Christ there can be no real Christmas. If the day is devoted to mere feasting, if it is robbed of its religious significance, it degenerates into the Roman Saturnalia, which Christmas-tide was intended to supersede. The salutations, "Merry Christmas," "Joyful Christmas," with which we greet our friends mean, "may the lightness of heart, the joy which Christ brings into the world, be yours on this birthday of Jesus, the Saviour of mankind." But how empty and meaningless these words are, aye, even more—how hypocritical they become if we use them without sincerity, without truth! Christmas without Christ! a mere secular holiday! Are there not many who observe Christmas in this way? But the sincere, the thoughtful, the true in heart will remember the Day with religious joy. They will seek that joy that comes to hearts that are at peace with God. Like the wise men of old, they will seek Christ with gifts of love and fall down before Him and worship Him. They will draw near unto Christ on that Day and commune with Him.

A Christmas WITH Christ will be, indeed, "a Joyful Christmas Day."
With Christ in our hearts, our Christmas greeting will then be to our friends a Christmas benediction, the spirit of Christ reflected in a life of forgiveness, of self-sacrificing service and love to every one.

A Happy New Year.

"IN NOMINE JESUS, AMEN."
These are the words with which public messages were begun in the early Christian ages. "In the Name of Jesus, yea, verily." And each new year to-day begins with the words "ANNO DOMINI." This new year is the year of our Lord, 1911. "The Year of our Lord; in the Name of Jesus!" How happy indeed will be the year if it be begun, continued and ended "In the Name of Jesus." If all that we do during the coming year, if all that we say and think, be "In His Name," "in His Spirit," "for His sake," how our own character, how society around us will be transformed into a heavenly state, "into the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of Christ." A Happy New Year? Yes, a new year full of heavenly happiness it will be to all who take that Name to live by. May this New Year be to every Christian heart in this Parish A HAPPY NEW YEAR. "IN NOMINE JESUS,
AMEN!"

The Festival of the Circumcision.

On January 1 occurs the Festival of the Circumcision, the day on which our Lord was received by the ancient Jewish rite of circumcision into the Jewish Church and was given His Name, JESUS, which means Saviour, the name declared by the angels which announced His birth. Under the new law of the Gospel, Baptism became the mode of admission to the Christian Church, and all who are baptized with water in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost are members of the Church.

Thus the Church, by appointing this festival on the first day of January, begins the new year with the sacred Name of JESUS, the Saviour of the world.

"How we should love that sweet Name, Jesus. Every time we see it or hear it we should remember that out of love for us God's Son took upon Him our nature, and in it suffered and died that we might have life eternal. Then it is the Name which we are to use in our prayers. Whatever good thing we need God will give us in the Name of His Son, if we plead that Name before Him."

The first of January, besides being the Festival of the Circumcision, is also the beginning of the new civil year. To-day we begin a new year, 1911. We rejoice as another year begins, and we have bright hopes that it will bring happiness to us. It is well to rejoice, and it is well also to look forward hopefully to the future, but there are some things we must keep in mind even in our New Year's gladness.

The first is that each year ended is another milestone passed in our journey and another page of our life's history which is registered on high. How have we used that past? Have we made the best of it so that we are entering in a new year with higher aims than we have ever had? Our Christian privileges—have we improved them all? Have we been faithful in any Christian ministry during the year that is past? Have we been as loyal, as we might have been, to the services of the Church? Have we regularly and always with hearts prepared to receive Him drawn near to our Lord in Holy Communion? Have we grown more and more like unto Him in spirit and in truth during the year that has past? At the end of another year we are nearer to God in time—are we nearer to Him in character? Shall not each one of us resolve, at the beginning of this New Year, that we will endeavor, God helping us, to IMPROVE EVERY OPPORTUNITY that He has given us, to become better, purer, holier, and by His grace grow more and more like unto our Saviour, Jesus Christ?

Then let us also keep in mind that we can do very much towards making the new year upon which we enter a happy one for others. We need not live selfishly. We can remember that, just as our Lord Jesus lived for others, even to the giving up His life for men, so we, in our sphere, may follow Him and make the days better for all who are about us, bring into others' lives A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The Festival of the Epiphany

The great event which this festival brings to notice is the making known of our Lord to the wise men—the magi—who came from the Far East seeking Him. At the time of our Saviour's birth there was a wide expectation in the world that a great personage was to be born. When our Saviour came as a little child these men from the Far East, who had been studying the heavens, observed a new star, which they regarded as an indication of the birth of the new King. So they followed on and were led by it finally to Bethlehem, where they saw the Holy Child. Great was their gladness. They worshipped Him; they gave Him gifts, and then went back home to tell others that the long-expected One had come.

The visit of the magi has always been regarded as a promise and a prophecy of the coming of the nations of the earth to our Lord. They were the first fruits of the great harvest which is being gathered in all parts of the world. As we think of the magi, let us think of the great multitude of people who have not yet heard of our Lord and of His salvation, and may we be faithful in prayers and gifts and efforts to spread the Gospel so that He may be acknowledged as the Lord of all.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

An old legend tells of one of the saints who, dreaming in his chair, beheld a vision which stood before him and beckoned him to follow her to fortune. He waited sluggishly, heeded not her call nor her beckoning, until at last she grew dim and disappeared. Just as the vision faded, he sprang to his feet and cried out: "Tell me who thou art?" and received the answer: "I am Opportunity; once neglected I never return." Advent and the New Year remind us that "NOW is the time."

Support of the Sunday School.

On the Sunday before Christmas the annual offering for the support of Christ Church Sunday School will be taken. It requires a large sum of money to properly conduct a Sunday school. Our Sunday School largely pays its own current expenses, besides giving liberally to missions, to charities and other worthy causes. The school has pledged $300.00 this year for the Parish Home Improvement Fund, and by the untiring efforts of the teachers and scholars the prospects are that the school will raise considerably more than that amount by Easter time. The members of the Parish are asked to give on the Sunday morning before Christmas $200.00 toward paying the current expenses of the school. This includes purchase of Sunday school lesson papers, magazines, books, expenses for the Christmas service and entertainment, the Easter service expenses and other incidental items.

Services on Christmas Day.

On Christmas Day there will be Celebrations of the Holy Communion at 6.30, 7.30 and 11 A. M. At 11 o'clock the Morning Prayer will be omitted and the service will consist of Gounod's St. Cecilia Communion Service, one of the most devotional musical compositions of modern times. The sermon will be preached by the Rector.

In the evening, at 7.30, will be held the Sunday School Christmas Carol Service. The address will be delivered by the Rev. H. Cresson McHenry, of the City Mission.

By request the choir will, on Christmas Day, at the 11 o'clock service, sing Gounod's St. Cecilia Communion Service, including Kyrie, Gloria Tibi, Sanctus Benedictus and Gloria Excelsis. Miss Helen P. Donlevy, harpist, will assist. The anthem will be Tour's "Sing, O Heavens." In January Cecil Klein's Te Deum and Jubilate in E flat, and Bruce Stean's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in C will be sung.

Christmas Communion.

The services on Christmas Day have been arranged at hours to meet the convenience of all people, so that every communicant can commune on that day. A Christmas without Christ is, to say the least, an anomaly. From the earliest ages of Christianity the "Festival of the Nativity of our Lord, or the Birthday of Christ, commonly called Christmas Day," was celebrated by the faithful in "coming together for the Breaking of Bread." And as our Church adheres to the teachings and practices of the primitive Apostolic Church it enjoins all its members, in the words of St. Peter, "to stand fast and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word or our epistle," and so to "follow the blessed Saints in all virtuous and Godly living, that we may come to those unspeakable joys which are prepared for those who unfeignedly love" our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. On this great Day, joined together with myriads of God's saints in all the lands and in all the ages—the living with the dead—we are all one in Jesus in the Blessed Communion of His Body and Blood.

O Holy Jesu, Prince of Peace!
Thy peace be with us gathering round Thy board,
Here, where the presence of an unseen Lord
Waits to be gracious, charged with full release
To every heavy-laden soul
Which here remembers Thee.

Once more, as in that upper room,
Thou Who didst love Thine own unto the end,
Thou Whose dear voice to every sorrowing friend
Spoke the great promise through the deepening gloom,
Thou bidd'st us, Master of the feast,
To-day remember Thee!

And e'en as in our hands we take
This broken bread, this precious cup of love,
Thy dying testament, which from above
Thou deignest ever new and fresh to make,
A fount of grace and life to all;
We do remember Thee!

Ours is the bond of love divine,
Which knits us each to all and all to each;
That love whose ever-lengthening cords can reach
From the white choir around Thy heavenly shrine
To those who come in faith to-day
Here to remember Thee.

Thy banquet over, as we go,
Strong in the strength of this celestial meat,
To tread the path of life with firmer feet,
To work the works which Thou hast bid us do.

Midnight Service New Year's Eve.

The usual midnight service will be held in Christ Church on New Year's Eve, beginning at 11 o'clock. The church will be open all evening for private prayer and meditation. The ending of the old year and the beginning of a new one should be an occasion for serious thought and reflection. It is an opportunity to begin life on a higher and a holier plane, and no place can be more fitting to spend the last hours of the old and the beginning of the new year than in the house of God.

In the Quiet of God's House.

Says one: "It was only a short time ago that I walked along the roadside with mind and body both unstrung. I was not happy. I was anxious and troubled. Presently I came to a church whose door stood open, and I went in. If I had been glad at heart it would have seemed a sweet place, full of peace and beautiful mysteries, but I was overshadowed by a sad anxiety. Suddenly as I stood there there came into my mind a sudden gracious thought to commit myself to the heart of God, not to disguise my weakness and anxiety, not to ask that the load should be made easier, but that I might endure His will to the uttermost. In a moment came the strength I sought. There was no lightening of the load, but a deeper serenity, a desire to bear it faithfully. The very fragrance of the flowers in the church seemed to mingle like a sweet incense with my vow. The old walls whispered of patience and hope."

An experience like this, recounted by Benson, in his book, "From a College Window," is not an unusual one. Said one who watched the people who came for private prayers into a large city church: "Was it my fancy, or was it really so? Every one seemed to go away looking happier than when he came in. Some seemed transfigured, for, whereas they had entered the quiet church bowed as if burdened, they went out as those who had put their burdens down."

Aged and Infirm Clergy.

The offering on Christmas Day will be for the Aged and Infirm Clergy Relief Fund. It is a cause which will appeal to every Christian. Hundreds of clergymen, after serving the Church faithfully on small salaries, are neglected in their old age, many of them suffering for the necessities of life, many of them humiliated by the fact that the Church does not seem to want them, as if old age were a crime; while there are hundreds of widows and orphans of clergymen left unsufficiently supported.

When we consider the great wealth in the Episcopal Church, when we think of the large incomes of many of its members, when we view their magnificent mansions and know of their enormous expenditures, and then see the many pathetic cases of distress and heroic struggle against poverty among faithful clergy of our Church who have grown old in the service of Christ, and hear their cry for help, it is enough to make the very stones cry out in protest: "Shame! Shame! Shame!" Surely this sad condition will not be allowed to continue, unless, indeed, our hearts are harder than adamant and our love for Christ and the Church, which He died to save, has grown cold.

What can be done? It is being undertaken to raise a sufficient fund by which aged and infirm clergy of the Church may receive a pension, as the Government pensions its soldiers who are disabled or become infirm through age.

With this united plan the Church must be induced to contribute more liberally, more definitely, on a definite day each year, and to send a portion of the Communion Alms. Individuals must be brought to see the need and the loving opportunity of helping by gift and legacy, those who in a large majority of cases are bearing poverty and old age and sickness in splendid and heroic silence.

It is earnestly hoped that every person in Christ Church Parish will remember most generously the aged and infirm clergy of our Church on Christmas Day, and if any are kept away from service on that day, that they will send their offering to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal street.

The expense of trimming the church at Christmas is met by contributions from the members of the congregation. Persons who desire to contribute to this purpose are invited to give their amounts to Dr. William N. Johnson. The work of decorating the church is done by members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and other young men of the Parish.

Once again the beautiful festival of Christmas is approaching, with all its holy associations and inspiring thoughts. Every household is now busily engaged in the preparations incident to this season; all are now making or selecting the gifts which will make both others and themselves happy, for are we not happier in doing for our dear ones than in receiving the gifts sent us? Beautiful indeed is the sentiment which inspires gifts to our friends and relations, but far more beautiful is the spirit which prompts the many acts of charity that mark the Christmastide. There are many persons in our own Parish who have neither friends nor relatives to help them enjoy Christmas, and it is among these unfortunates that we may find many opportunities for giving joy on Christmas Day. While we are planning our gifts and pleasures, many a mother is striving to conceive some way in which she may give her children a sufficient Christmas dinner to keep them from hunger.

For those who cannot give their time or who can give but little money to this work, the Rector stands ever ready to distribute their gifts among deserving people, and any donations sent him will be properly dispersed.

Let each, therefore, do his or her share in this work and then, in the quiet, happy moments which follow, hear the voice of Jesus say: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my children, ye have done it unto Me."

Comment has been made on the fact that some of our church societies are never represented by articles on these pages, while others are regularly in print. This is no fault of "The Chimes." The editor has repeatedly asked that the various organizations send in their notes and has more than once requested that a certain person in each society be named as "Correspondent to 'The Chimes.'" If this is done we can know to whom to apply for news. The only requirements are those stated at the head of this page, and the attention of all is especially called to the last two paragraphs of that heading.

Send in your copy! We shall be glad to print it as the space will permit.

A beautiful memorial altar screen will be erected in the side chapel before the Lenten season begins. It is intended to make the south transept of the church a memorial chapel, and persons who desire to give some simple memorial to be placed in this chapel in memory of their loved ones are invited to confer with the Rector.

"Do This in Remembrance of Me!"

The Significance of the Holy Communion.

When man had fallen God came to him, called him out from the place where he had hidden himself in shame and fear, led him to confession of his sin, gave him the promise of a Saviour, and taught him to show his faith in the promised Saviour and to plead His merits and death in the rite of sacrifice. That rite of sacrifice at once became the great act of worship through which man obtained access to God, seeking pardon and blessing; through which God gave by anticipation the gifts which Christ should in the fullness of time purchase for mankind with His precious blood-shedding. The sacrifices of the Mosaic dispensation were offered every morning and every evening, were multiplied on the Sabbaths and new moons and great festivals; once a year all Israel joined in the great Passover sacrifice in token of the great deliverance which gave them a national existence; once a year the High Priest entered into the very presence of God, in the Most Holy Place, to make a solemn atonement for the people.

All the long series of sacrifices, with their various shades of meaning, were memorials, looking forward to the great Sacrifice of the Incarnate Son of God on Calvary. They were all fulfilled in that. And now, on the eve of the great Sacrifice, the Lord solemnly appoints a new symbolical memorial, and commands it to be adopted henceforth as THE GREAT ACT OF HIS CHURCH'S WORSHIP, by which they shall show their faith in Christ crucified, and plead His merits and precious death before the throne of grace.

"The breaking of bread" alone exists as the Memorial, till the end of time, of the great Sacrifice of Calvary.

It is only a spiritual union with Christ, and through the grace which flows to us from Christ, that we are able to live to God. Christ is our life. And this great truth is symbolized in this new memorial. Not only the bread is broken, and the blood-red wine poured out, but Christ gives them to His disciples and bids them eat; they are not mere empty figures of Christ feeding us with Himself, but in them Christ does actually feed us with the heavenly bread which is Himself; and the bread which He gives is not only figuratively but actually (though spiritually), His body and blood, by which He gives us eternal life and promise of a glorious resurrection by which He dwells in us and we in Him, so that as He lives by the Father so we live by Him.—Selected.

Choir Notes.

It is with deep regret that we announce the death of Mrs. Cecelia R. Stimson, contralto soloist of the choir. The sudden death of Mrs. Stimson was a great shock to the members of the choir, among whom she was so well liked and respected. Quite a number of the choir members attended the funeral service, on December 1, at her late residence. Resolutions were adopted by the choir, and sent to her husband, extending their deepest sympathy for his loss.

Miss Edith F. Macphie is filling the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Stimson until the first of the year.

The third and last Piano Duet and Song Recital of the series will be held in the Parish Building January 11, 1911. The assisting soloists will be Miss Elizabeth Fedigan, soprano, and Mr. George H. Elliott, basso cantate. The piano program will consist of some of the best orchestral works, including Tchaikowsky's Overture, "1812," and Liszt's symphonic poem, "Les Preludes." Tickets on sale from any member of the choir, or the Sexton, at twenty-five cents. R.

On Sunday evening, December 18, the choir will sing P. A. Schaecker's Cantata on "The Coming of the Lord." This short but melodious work is for chorus and solos by the four voices.

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter J. Crowder, 205 West Upsal street.

We had the pleasure of having with us as speaker Mrs. Hewson, who is so deeply interested in hospital work among the poor white people of the mountainous districts of North Carolina.

There was an unusual number of the members of the Auxiliary present, and this, with the hospitality of the hostess and the interesting speaker, will certainly make this one of the red-letter meetings of the year.

The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Baremore, 6439 Jefferson street, on January 4. The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Anne Hubbard. It is earnestly hoped that all the women of the Parish will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Miss Hubbard and also enjoy the afternoon with the members.

L. J. J., Sec'y.

Rev. Dr. Perry at Christ Church

On Sunday morning, January 15, a missionary service will be held in the church, when the sermon will be preached by the Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D. D., Rector Emeritus of Calvary Church, Germantown, and a member of the General Board of Missions of the Church. Dr. Perry has been a member of the Board of Missions for many years, and no one is better qualified to give an account of the general missionary work of the Church than he. It is hoped that this opportunity of learning of the great work that is being done for missions throughout the world will be improved by all our people. The annual offering for foreign missions will be taken on that Sunday.

Confirmation.

The Bishop of the Diocese has notified the Rector that he has appointed the fifth Sunday evening in Lent for Confirmation in Christ Church. A course of instructions in confirmation and the teachings of the Church will be begun in January. The date of the first instruction will be announced later from the chancel. All who are contemplating Confirmation or desire information in regard to the subject are urged to give their names to the Rector at once. He will be pleased to furnish any person with literature on the subject.

Sunday School Christmas Entertainment.

On Holy Innocents' Day, December 28, the Sunday School will hold its Christmas entertainment in the Parish House. The Primary Department entertainment will be held in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the Christmas presents will be given out by a live Santa Claus.

The upper schools will hold their entertainment in the evening, at 8 o'clock.

Parents and friends of the school are invited to join with the children in these entertainments and also at the Christmas carol service, to be held in the church on Christmas night, at half-past seven.

The Editors take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge the receipt of a most generous gift from Mr. J. N. Canfield. Coming at this time the contribution will go far toward relieving us of anxiety as to finances. Subscriptions have also been received since our last issue from Miss Raynor and from a friend, whose name we are requested to withhold.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

The Epiphany season, through which we now are passing, is intended to emphasize the world-wide mission of Christianity. The word "Epiphany" is from the Greek word which means "manifestation," and was first used for Christmas Day, when our Lord was manifested in the flesh, and also when He was manifested by a star to the Gentiles.

The principal design of the Church in observing this season is that her members may show their gratitude to God in manifesting the Gospel to the heathen world and vouchsafing to it equal privileges with the Jews, who had hitherto been the chosen people. Hence this Epiphany season is the season for extraordinary missionary endeavor. Love to God and love to man is the essential work of the Gospel. We often speak of a "missionary spirit," as if it were the peculiarity of a few in the church; if so, these few are the only real Christians, for the spirit of Jesus Christ was a missionary spirit first and last. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, to the end that all that believe in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." And Christ's last command to His disciples was, "Go, teach ALL NATIONS, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

The Rector desires to make a request of the congregation, and it is this: That, whilst the prayer is being said by the clergy in the Sacristy, before the beginning of the processional hymn, every one in the congregation should kneel in prayer. The object of this prayer is to invoke the blessing of God on all who take part in the solemn service that is to follow. Let every one, therefore, reverently kneel whilst this prayer is being said and offer up a prayer to God for those who minister and those who worship here.

And as we should enter into the service of God in the spirit of prayer, so should we enter into every good work, whether it be business or social or religious, in the spirit of prayer. Realize what God has given you to do TO-DAY and ask His blessing on that work, and do not look beyond it. Strength is promised according to your day, but not according to your to-morrow. Every-day work requires every-day grace and every-day grace requires every-day asking. The neglect to do this is the secret of many a discouragement, many a failure. Whatever your work is, take it first to God. Before you begin, kneel and implore His blessing. Ask Him for a hopeful, diligent spirit. Ask Him for a spirit of patience and charity in contending with all the little wearisome difficulties and annoyances connected with it. Ask Him not only to bear the daily cross, but to take it up willingly, denying yourself and following the footsteps of Jesus. Then put your whole might to it—the might that you have received from a Mightier than yourself—for that is the secret of real work, real success and real happiness. Do your work, whatever it may be, as if your Master were at your side, and you saw His face and felt His presence.

As noted in another column, the Bishop has appointed the fifth Sunday in Lent for Confirmation in Christ Church. We believe it to be the duty of every professing Christian, as soon as he is old enough to know the difference between right and wrong, to be confirmed. Confirmation is not to be looked upon as a matter of opinion, or as a convenience, or an act of supererogation.

The Episcopal Church lays stress on the fact that the Bible sets forth Confirmation as among the fundamentals of the Christian religion.

"As every science has its principles—so has Christianity. Among these principles St. Paul reckons Confirmation (Heb. 6: 1 and 2). As every superstructure has its foundation, so has that of the Christian character and the Godly life. Among the foundations of religious things St. Paul classes confirmation (same chapter). In these verses six things are enumerated; and as we value the other five, even so do we the sixth.

"And thus it was in the early Church—St. Paul, St. Peter and St. John all administered the rite of Confirmation—the laying-on-of-hands, with prayer—even so, to-day, do their successors, the Apostles (now called Bishops) of the later Church. St. Philip preached and baptized, and Sts. Peter and John confirmed his converts. The Apostles were all at that time in Jerusalem (Acts 8: 14), and "they sent Peter and John" to Samaria to confirm Philip's baptized; and so, it is plain, the custom of confirming has the very fullest Apostolic authority and approval.

"After the death of the Apostles the custom was continual. Tertullian (A. D. 175), Cyprian (A. D. 250), Jerome (A. D. 375) all speak of it. And for 1500 years, down to the Reformation, there was no other mode of perfecting membership in the Church. To-day the many millions of 'Episcopalians' that are scattered over the face of the globe adhere to the Apostolic custom.

"As the Lord's Prayer is an epitome of synagogue prayers; as the Lord's Supper is a Jewish custom dedicated to Christian use; as the number of Apostles corresponds to the number of tribes; as Baptism takes the place of Circumcision—so Confirmation rose out of a rite already existing. It was the flower of which that was the bud. Our Lord, we know, publicly presented Himself, at twelve, in the temple. Let us not forget, either, that between the Lord's Resurrection and His Ascension were 'forty days'; and that these six weeks He spent with His Apostles, teaching them things 'pertaining to the kingdom' of His Church. What the Apostles did, then, we believe they did under His instruction.

"As most of our own flocks are baptized in infancy, Confirmation is required to complete, in the mind of the recipient, his infant Baptism. The party now ratifies and 'confirms' his baptismal promises. For those, also, who come to us from other Christian bodies some form of public reception is needed. Hence the custom of the 'laying-on-of-hands' (both in the ancient form of blessing), commends itself, for beauty and suitability, to both these classes of persons. And so the Church requires it of all. Let us not fear that God will fail of His part of the Covenant. He will 'defend you with His heavenly grace.' We might fear, if we had only ourselves to rely on. But the Holy Ghost is promised us. We shall be daily renewed by Him, as we have need. God's fatherly hand is, and will ever be, over us."

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

For further information, please apply to the Accounting Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, after any service, or he may be addressed at 117 West Upsal Street, Germantown.

About two-thirds of all the communicants of the Parish received the Holy Communion on Christmas Day. But where was the other third!

An interesting Missionary Service was held in Christ Church on Sunday morning, January 15, at which time a forceful and inspiring sermon was preached by the Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D. D. The offering was for foreign missions. The Rector had distributed among the congregation a number of copies of the "Spirit of Missions," the official missionary organ of the Church, and asked the members to subscribe to it in order that all may have an intelligent knowledge of the great missionary work that is being done throughout the world. The subscription price of this very interesting and instructive magazine is only one dollar, and it is hoped that every member of the Parish will subscribe for it. No intelligent churchman can afford to be without it.

Payment or Gift? Which?

It is hard to change old ideas. It is far from easy to follow the wise counsel:

"Be not the first by whom the new are tried,

Nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

Too many of us find it easier to obey the first line rather than the second.

Now the point is that within the last two or three years an entirely new view has been developed of church support, and it is decidedly uncomfortable for us to find that the new view is undoubtedly in line with the teachings of the Master and, therefore, right.

Now what are these conflicting views?

The old idea of church support was that if our church expenses were all paid during the year, so that we came to the end of our fiscal term free of debt and without "passing the hat around," that we were doing well. This was an easy view; we assumed that in supporting the church, paying salaries, maintaining a choir, defraying the cost of heating, light, repairs and the sexton's wages that we could call ourselves "good and profitable servants."

Unfortunately, this complacency is scattered to the four winds by the new idea, which is that paying the expenses of a comfortable place of worship for ourselves is largely selfishness, and that a true idea of duty and privilege will cause us to contribute to outside objects, such as missions and other benevolences, at least as much as we selfishly spend upon ourselves.

This idea is rapidly winning its way into favor, and to-day the progressive church aims to give at least as much away as it spends upon itself. The honor roll of such churches is rapidly growing, and the names of many could be given, but for the present we shall only speak of one of our sister churches here in Germantown, which, in 1910, raised $28,000 in all, of which $10,000 was spent for their own expenses and $18,000 given away. What a magnificent record and how much nearer the spirit of our Lord's teaching.

What would this mean for Christ Church? Our annual expenses are about $7000, nearly all of which is spent for our own spiritual and religious comfort. How fine it would be if we could put ourselves in the position of giving away an equal amount. Does this seem impossible? Other churches are doing it, more and more of them every year. Let us make this our goal, as it already is our privilege.

J. H. R.

The annual amount apportioned to Christ Church by the Board of Missions for the support of the General Mission work of the Church is $1200. This sum is a pro rata apportionment based on the current expenses of each parish. The $1200 which our Parish is asked to give annually toward the support of the Missions includes all offerings received for Missions from the Sunday School, the Woman's Auxiliary, from the services in the church and from individuals, except the amounts contributed for special missionary purposes and so designated. In other words, all offerings for General Missions (domestic and foreign) received from this Parish are credited to the apportionment of Christ Church. All offerings designated for special fields of missionary work are not credited to the apportionment of this Parish. The duty of the members of this Parish is therefore very clear. Every parishioner should contribute generously, first, to meet the amount apportioned to this Parish ($1200), and after this annual apportionment is met their special fields of missionary work may be supported.

A large number of strangers have been attending the services at Christ Church during the past three months. Strangers are always most welcome to the services, and the ushers will be pleased to show them to seats. Persons who desire to rent pews or sittings in Christ Church are invited to confer with the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, after any service, or he may be addressed by letter at 117 West Upsal street, Germantown.

When Do We Begin the Erection of Our New Parish House?

This is now a frequent question, and your committee wish to answer it frankly, as we are most desirous that every member of the congregation and Sunday School should be interested in the work and acquainted with the progress made.

Two things are necessary before we can commence building:

First. We must have a definite plan. Bear in mind that the plans now displayed are only tentative and suggestive. There are wide differences of views about the interior plans of the new building, and before any work can begin we must agree on a plan. Suggestions have been requested, but, so far, the committee has not received a single criticism or suggestion from any one. Of course it will not be possible to agree on any plan which will please all. We can only hope to harmonize suggestions so as to suit the largest number, so send us your ideas in writing and we shall do the best we can.

Let us, however, give one word of caution: Don't expect our Parish House to be a thoroughly equipped rival of large public institutions. No single parish can successfully compete with public means. All we can hope is to evolve a building modern in every way and suitable for parish work as it is done to-day.

Second. As stated, we expect the building to cost $10,000, and we hope to begin to build when we have $5000 cash. We know you will be pleased to learn we now have $2700 cash on hand, with a little more promised. We are very hopeful the remaining $2300 can be obtained in the near future—largely, perhaps, at Easter—and, if so, work may begin this year. If possible, we should like to have the new building in time for next winter's work.

We are now nearing our goal. Much hard work has been done by those interested to raise money, and your committee know personally of most noble self-sacrifice made by several of our members who, while poor in this world's goods, are rich in generosity and self-sacrifice. With more evidences of such a spirit we shall soon be enjoying the comforts and conveniences of our new Parish House.

Confirmation.

The Bishop has appointed the fifth Sunday in Lent for Confirmation. Confirmation classes are now forming, and all who desire to be confirmed are requested to give their names to the Rector. Confirmation lectures will begin on Friday evening, January 27, and Sunday afternoon, February 5, and continue every Friday evening at eight o'clock and every Sunday afternoon at four o'clock until the Bishop's Visitation. All persons who desire to be informed on the subject of Confirmation and the services of the Episcopal Church are invited to attend either of these lectures.

Attendance at these lectures will not commit any one to be confirmed.

The Rector has appointed Mr. C. H. Loutrel and Mr. H. L. Benerman in charge of the Boys' Club. This club meets every Saturday night, in the Parish House, and at present is in a flourishing condition. All boys over fourteen years of age are eligible for membership and are invited to join the club. Come around and be one of us, boys, and enjoy yourselves. The boys are looking forward to the enlarged Parish House, when they may have a room to enjoy their games, etc.

Reports continue to come in telling of the spread of the spiritual awakening in the Chinese Empire. A native pastor in the interior of the province of Shantung tells of remarkable awakenings at several mission stations and the ingathering of converts. He states that at a large assemblage at one church the Holy Spirit came in a manner resembling the Day of Pentecost. In another place fifty-four new members have been added to the church. In the college at Weihsien all but four of the two hundred students are now enrolled on the Lord's side.

EDITORIAL

In addition to the lists already published, the Business Editor reports that subscriptions have been received from
Miss M. J. Bryan, Miss E. Raynor,
Mrs. B. E. Chase, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. E.
J. Weeks and Mrs. G. M. Crowder.

The response to our appeals has been very gratifying, and it is hoped that the few subscriptions still needed
will be shortly received.

The platform in the south transept of the church and the side altar have been lowered preparatory to the erection of a memorial altar screen, which it is expected will be completed by the fore part of Lent.

The Parish suffers a distinct loss in the resignation of Mr. Broadhead as bass soloist in our choir. During the several years of his association with us
he has not only pleased our ears with the quality of his singing, but has gained many personal friends. The Editors, in the name of our people, wish him God-speed in his new home
in Virginia.

The attendance at the sessions of our Sunday School is giving those in charge of the work very serious concern. The Secretary has reported that the number present averages but fifty-one per cent. of the enrollment. If this were peculiar to our Parish we would be forced to the conclusion that we were not doing our part in the work;
but as this same condition exists in other Sunday schools in Germantown,
the fault must partly be with the
scholars and the parents.

The Sunday School is where a child is supposed to receive its education in churchly matters, just as the day school is where he or she receives instruction in secular affairs; and it is as much a parent's duty, yes, even more so, to see that the child attends school
as regularly on Sunday as on the other days of the week. The teachers are anxious and willing to do their part.
Will not the parents of our children think over this matter and act as their hearts say they should?

Josh Billings has said, in one of his writings: "Konsider the postage
stamp, my son; its usefulness konsists
in its ability to stick to one thing until it gets there." Some time ago this Parish was much agitated over the question of the improvements to our workshop, and ideas and opinions were freely expressed. Now the committee states that it has not received even one suggestion in reply to its appeal of some months since. Let us get back to the original question and "stick to it until we get there." The time will not be nearly so long as some are inclined to think.

The offering for the Aged and Infirm Clergy on Christmas amounted to $207.55. This amount will be divided between the Diocesan Fund for Infirm Clergy and the General Fund.

Car Barn and Lenten Services.

A very interesting work is being carried on by the local Chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at the Pelham Car Barn. Each Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock a simple service, consisting of hymns, prayers and a short address, is held for the benefit of the trolleyemen.

That these services are appreciated
by the men is evident from the great change in their attitude since the meetings started, several months ago. At that time little or no attention was paid, the men continued talking and smoking and moved about with no attempt at quietness. Now little or no unnecessary interruptions occur, although the men are coming and going continually; and it is the exception for a man to wear his cap, even when passing through the room in which the services are held.

Speakers can be used and, in fact,
are needed, to avoid calling upon the same ones so often. A cordial invitation is extended to any who are interested in this sort of work, to attend
some of these services. It will encourage those in charge and will let the trolleyemen know that some one has an interest in them.

Another work which will be inaugurated this year will be "DAILY
NOON-DAY LENTEN SERVICES"
similar to those held every year at the Garrick Theatre. Full details have not been completed, but the services will probably be held in the new Germantown Theatre. The list of speakers is almost complete and contains the names of some very prominent men.

The Brotherhood, however, will be compelled to call upon the men and women of the various parishes for support. The majority of the Brotherhood men are engaged in business in the city and so will be unable to be present. If the services are to be successful it will depend largely on the church people of Germantown. It is not too early to spread the news abroad. Try to influence your friends to attend, and be on hand yourself at every opportunity!

More complete details will be announced later, but every one is asked to bear these services in mind and begin talking and working now.

Sunday School.

The January meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sunday School was held in the Parish House on Monday evening, the 9th. It was what might be called a "criticism meeting," that is, each one was supposed to criticize himself or herself and also his or her associates in the work, and those present entered into the spirit of the game with a vim.
First, a seeming fault in the school work was recognized, and then the reason for it was sought and an effort was made to suggest a remedy. In this way many points were discussed and much valuable and friendly criticism was had.

The question of instruction, which is, of course, the first in importance, came in for much discussion, and the system now in use was talked over both pro and con, with the result that a committee was appointed to investigate the various systems in use in other schools and report at the February meeting.

After the business of the meeting
had been transacted light refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.
It was a very pleasant and profitable evening and it is hoped that practical good will result from the evening's discussion.

Choir Notes.

Mr. Broadhead has resigned from the choir. The members of that body and no doubt his many friends in the church will miss his presence in the chancel, where he has done such commendable work.

A surprise was tendered the choir
on Friday evening, December 30,
when, after a short rehearsal, refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee, were served. A most enjoyable time was spent and all appreciated Mr. Broadhead's kindness in giving us such a pleasant evening.

Sunday evening, January 8, was Mr. Broadhead's last service as a chorister of Christ Church, as he is leaving the city to reside in Virginia. After the service Mr. Rile, on behalf of the choir, presented Mr. Broadhead with a brass-mounted mission bookrack and gold-mounted briar pipe as a mark of esteem. He carries with him the best wishes of all for happiness and success.

The last of the series of piano duet and song recitals was held Wednesday evening, January 11. Besides the regular soloists engaged to sing, Mr. Broadhead closed the recital, singing the song, "The Light of Other Days," dedicated to Mr. Broadhead by the composer, the choirmaster.

Mr. Fred. Guthrie is filling Mr. Broadhead's place as bass soloist.

Miss Kathryn Meisle has been engaged as contralto soloist, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Stinson.

The choirmaster wishes to express through "The Chimes" his sincere thanks and praise to the members of the choir for the splendid support given him in the work during the past year. The regular attendance and the earnest desire of all to do the best possible has been most gratifying. The choir has fully merited the words of approval bestowed on it at numerous times by different ones in the church, both personally and by letter to the choirmaster.

Men's Club.

The meeting of the Men's Club of Christ Church which will be held on Friday evening, the 27th of January, will be the Annual Meeting, and a large attendance of the men of the Parish is especially desired. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place and other important business will be transacted.

The plans for the social part of the evening are not yet matured, but a good time is promised all who are present. Some prominent man or men from the city will speak, and other pleasant entertainment will be provided. Definite announcement will be made later.

The Men's Club is intended to embrace every man residing in our Parish, and every adult male member of this church should be connected with this organization.

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church held its regular monthly meeting on January 4, at the home of Mrs. Topliffe Johnson, on Locust avenue.

Miss Hubbard addressed the meeting on the "Apportionment Plan" and made clear the obligation of meeting our "apportionment" before giving to "special" calls from the mission field. The "apportionment" is to meet expenses that the Board of Missions is already obligated for, and every parish should feel a responsibility for meeting their "apportionment."

After the address the members had a very pleasant social time and appreciated very much Mrs. Topliffe Johnson's kind hospitality.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, February 1, announcement of which will be made later as to the speaker and place of meeting.

Junior Auxiliary

The Christ Church branch of the Junior Auxiliary meets every Friday afternoon, at 3.45, in the Parish House. The leaders in charge are Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Miss Ruth Henderson, Miss Emily Payne and Miss Ruth Norbom.

The officers are:

President, Miss Eleanor Lawrence.

Secretary, Miss Dorothy Roland.

Treasurer, Miss Frances O'Brien.

We have an average attendance of nineteen.

The older girls are making an outfit for a little Indian girl of the Rosebud Reservation, and hope to have it ready when their school building is rebuilt (it having been destroyed by fire) and ready for occupancy, next September.

The little girls are busy making picture books and will soon take up other work to go in some of the boxes we purpose sending away during the year.

The children contribute what little they can each week, and this, with what we can get together from our own efforts and the generosity of our friends, goes toward our fund for supplies, so here let me say that any contribution, however small, would be most thankfully received.

We would also welcome new members and would be so glad to have our organization and work made known to every girl in the Sunday School.

Guardians for Minors

It is often difficult to secure the services of a suitable person to act as guardian of a minor's estate. The service extends over such a long

CLERGY:

Rector, REV. CHARLES HENRY ARNDT, M. A.

Rector Emeritus, REV. JOHN B. FALKNER, D. D.

Lay Reader, JAMES H. RITTER

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

The Epiphany season, through which we now are passing, is intended to emphasize the world-wide mission of Christianity. The word "Epiphany" is from the Greek word which means "manifestation," and was first used for Christmas Day, when our Lord was manifested in the flesh, and also when He was manifested by a star to the Gentiles.

The principal design of the Church in observing this season is that her members may show their gratitude to God in manifesting the Gospel to the heathen world and vouchsafing to it equal privileges with the Jews, who had hitherto been the chosen people. Hence this Epiphany season is the season for extraordinary missionary endeavor. Love to God and love to man is the essential work of the Gospel. We often speak of a "missionary spirit," as if it were the peculiarity of a few in the church; if so, these few are the only real Christians, for the spirit of Jesus Christ was a missionary spirit first and last. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, to the end that all that believe in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." And Christ's last command to His disciples was, "Go, teach ALL NATIONS, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

The Rector desires to make a request of the congregation, and it is this: That, whilst the prayer is being said by the clergy in the Sacristy, before the beginning of the processional hymn, every one in the congregation should kneel in prayer. The object of this prayer is to invoke the blessing of God on all who take part in the solemn service that is to follow. Let every one, therefore, reverently kneel whilst this prayer is being said and offer up a prayer to God for those who minister and those who worship here.

And as we should enter into the service of God in the spirit of prayer, so should we enter into every good work, whether it be business or social or religious, in the spirit of prayer. Realize what God has given you to do TO-DAY and ask His blessing on that work, and do not look beyond it. Strength is promised according to your day, but not according to your to-morrow. Every-day work requires every-day grace and every-day grace requires every-day asking. The neglect to do this is the secret of many a discouragement, many a failure. Whatever your work is, take it first to God. Before you begin, kneel and implore His blessing. Ask Him for a hopeful, diligent spirit. Ask Him for a spirit of patience and charity in contending with all the little wearisome difficulties and annoyances connected with it. Ask Him not only to bear the daily cross, but to take it up willingly, denying yourself and following the footsteps of Jesus. Then put your whole might to it—the might that you have received from a Mightier than yourself—for that is the secret of real work, real success and real happiness. Do your work, whatever it may be, as if your Master were at your side, and you saw His face and felt His presence.

As noted in another column, the Bishop has appointed the fifth Sunday in Lent for Confirmation in Christ Church. We believe it to be the duty of every professing Christian, as soon as he is old enough to know the difference between right and wrong, to be confirmed. Confirmation is not to be looked upon as a matter of opinion, or as a convenience, or an act of supererogation.

The Episcopal Church lays stress on the fact that the Bible sets forth Confirmation as among the fundamentals of the Christian religion.

"As every science has its principles—so has Christianity. Among these principles St. Paul reckons Confirmation (Heb. 6: 1 and 2). As every superstructure has its foundation, so has that of the Christian character and the Godly life. Among the foundations of religious things St. Paul classes confirmation (same chapter). In these verses six things are enumerated; and as we value the other five, even so do we the sixth.

"And thus it was in the early Church—St. Paul, St. Peter and St. John all administered the rite of Confirmation—the laying-on-of-hands, with prayer—even so, to-day, do their successors, the Apostles (now called Bishops) of the later Church. St. Philip preached and baptized, and Sts. Peter and John confirmed his converts. The Apostles were all at that time in Jerusalem (Acts 8: 14), and "they sent Peter and John" to Samaria to confirm Philip's baptized; and so, it is plain, the custom of confirming has the very fullest Apostolic authority and approval.

"After the death of the Apostles the custom was continual. Tertullian (A. D. 175), Cyprian (A. D. 250), Jerome (A. D. 375) all speak of it. And for 1500 years, down to the Reformation, there was no other mode of perfecting membership in the Church. To-day the many millions of 'Episcopalians' that are scattered over the face of the globe adhere to the Apostolic custom.

"As the Lord's Prayer is an epitome of synagogue prayers; as the Lord's Supper is a Jewish custom dedicated to Christian use; as the number of Apostles corresponds to the number of tribes; as Baptism takes the place of Circumcision—so Confirmation rose out of a rite already existing. It was the flower of which that was the bud. Our Lord, we know, publicly presented Himself, at twelve, in the temple. Let us not forget, either, that between the Lord's Resurrection and His Ascension were 'forty days'; and that these six weeks He spent with His Apostles, teaching them things 'pertaining to the kingdom' of His Church. What the Apostles did, then, we believe they did under His instruction.

"As most of our own flocks are baptized in infancy, Confirmation is required to complete, in the mind of the recipient, his infant Baptism. The party now ratifies and 'confirms' his baptismal promises. For those, also, who come to us from other Christian bodies some form of public reception is needed. Hence the custom of the 'laying-on-of-hands' (both in the ancient form of blessing), commends itself, for beauty and suitability, to both these classes of persons. And so the Church requires it of all. Let us not fear that God will fail of His part of the Covenant. He will 'defend you with His heavenly grace.' We might fear, if we had only ourselves to rely on. But the Holy Ghost is promised us. We shall be daily renewed by Him, as we have need. God's fatherly hand is, and will ever be, over us."

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

For further information, please apply to the Accounting Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, after any service, or he may be addressed at 117 West Upsal Street, Germantown.

About two-thirds of all the communicants of the Parish received the Holy Communion on Christmas Day. But where was the other third!

An interesting Missionary Service was held in Christ Church on Sunday morning, January 15, at which time a forceful and inspiring sermon was preached by the Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D. D. The offering was for foreign missions. The Rector had distributed among the congregation a number of copies of the "Spirit of Missions," the official missionary organ of the Church, and asked the members to subscribe to it in order that all may have an intelligent knowledge of the great missionary work that is being done throughout the world. The subscription price of this very interesting and instructive magazine is only one dollar, and it is hoped that every member of the Parish will subscribe for it. No intelligent churchman can afford to be without it.

Payment or Gift? Which?

It is hard to change old ideas. It is far from easy to follow the wise counsel:

"Be not the first by whom the new are tried,
Nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

Too many of us find it easier to obey the first line rather than the second.

Now the point is that within the last two or three years an entirely new view has been developed of church support, and it is decidedly uncomfortable for us to find that the new view is undoubtedly in line with the teachings of the Master and, therefore, right.

Now what are these conflicting views?

The old idea of church support was that if our church expenses were all paid during the year, so that we came to the end of our fiscal term free of debt and without "passing the hat around," that we were doing well. This was an easy view; we assumed that in supporting the church, paying salaries, maintaining a choir, defraying the cost of heating, light, repairs and the sexton's wages that we could call ourselves "good and profitable servants."

Unfortunately, this complacency is scattered to the four winds by the new idea, which is that paying the expenses of a comfortable place of worship for ourselves is largely selfishness, and that a true idea of duty and privilege will cause us to contribute to outside objects, such as missions and other benevolences, at least as much as we selfishly spend upon ourselves.

This idea is rapidly winning its way into favor, and to-day the progressive church aims to give at least as much away as it spends upon itself. The honor roll of such churches is rapidly growing, and the names of many could be given, but for the present we shall only speak of one of our sister churches here in Germantown, which, in 1910, raised $28,000 in all, of which $10,000 was spent for their own expenses and $18,000 given away. What a magnificent record and how much nearer the spirit of our Lord's teaching.

What would this mean for Christ Church? Our annual expenses are about $7000, nearly all of which is spent for our own spiritual and religious comfort. How fine it would be if we could put ourselves in the position of giving away an equal amount. Does this seem impossible? Other churches are doing it, more and more of them every year. Let us make this our goal, as it already is our privilege.

J. H. R.

The annual amount apportioned to Christ Church by the Board of Missions for the support of the General Mission work of the Church is $1200. This sum is a pro rata apportionment based on the current expenses of each parish. The $1200 which our Parish is asked to give annually toward the support of the Missions includes all offerings received for Missions from the Sunday School, the Woman's Auxiliary, from the services in the church and from individuals, except the amounts contributed for special missionary purposes and so designated. In other words, all offerings for General Missions (domestic and foreign) received from this Parish are credited to the apportionment of Christ Church. All offerings designated for special fields of missionary work are not credited to the apportionment of this Parish. The duty of the members of this Parish is therefore very clear. Every parishioner should contribute generously, first, to meet the amount apportioned to this Parish ($1200), and after this annual apportionment is met their special fields of missionary work may be supported.

A large number of strangers have been attending the services at Christ Church during the past three months. Strangers are always most welcome to the services, and the ushers will be pleased to show them to seats. Persons who desire to rent pews or sittings in Christ Church are invited to confer with the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, after any service, or he may be addressed by letter at 117 West Upsal street, Germantown.

When Do We Begin the Erection of Our New Parish House?

This is now a frequent question, and your committee wish to answer it frankly, as we are most desirous that every member of the congregation and Sunday School should be interested in the work and acquainted with the progress made.

Two things are necessary before we can commence building:

First. We must have a definite plan. Bear in mind that the plans now displayed are only tentative and suggestive. There are wide differences of views about the interior plans of the new building, and before any work can begin we must agree on a plan. Suggestions have been requested, but, so far, the committee has not received a single criticism or suggestion from any one. Of course it will not be possible to agree on any plan which will please all. We can only hope to harmonize suggestions so as to suit the largest number, so send us your ideas in writing and we shall do the best we can.

Let us, however, give one word of caution: Don't expect our Parish House to be a thoroughly equipped rival of large public institutions. No single parish can successfully compete with public means. All we can hope is to evolve a building modern in every way and suitable for parish work as it is done to-day.

Second. As stated, we expect the building to cost $10,000, and we hope to begin to build when we have $5000 cash. We know you will be pleased to learn we now have $2700 cash on hand, with a little more promised. We are very hopeful the remaining $2300 can be obtained in the near future—largely, perhaps, at Easter—and, if so, work may begin this year. If possible, we should like to have the new building in time for next winter's work.

We are now nearing our goal. Much hard work has been done by those interested to raise money, and your committee know personally of most noble self-sacrifice made by several of our members who, while poor in this world's goods, are rich in generosity and self-sacrifice. With more evidences of such a spirit we shall soon be enjoying the comforts and conveniences of our new Parish House.

Confirmation.

The Bishop has appointed the fifth Sunday in Lent for Confirmation. Confirmation classes are now forming, and all who desire to be confirmed are requested to give their names to the Rector. Confirmation lectures will begin on Friday evening, January 27, and Sunday afternoon, February 5, and continue every Friday evening at eight o'clock and every Sunday afternoon at four o'clock until the Bishop's Visitation. All persons who desire to be informed on the subject of Confirmation and the services of the Episcopal Church are invited to attend either of these lectures.

Attendance at these lectures will not commit any one to be confirmed.

The Rector has appointed Mr. C. H. Loutrel and Mr. H. L. Benerman in charge of the Boys' Club. This club meets every Saturday night, in the Parish House, and at present is in a flourishing condition. All boys over fourteen years of age are eligible for membership and are invited to join the club. Come around and be one of us, boys, and enjoy yourselves. The boys are looking forward to the enlarged Parish House, when they may have a room to enjoy their games, etc.

Reports continue to come in telling of the spread of the spiritual awakening in the Chinese Empire. A native pastor in the interior of the province of Shantung tells of remarkable awakenings at several mission stations and the ingathering of converts. He states that at a large assemblage at one church the Holy Spirit came in a manner resembling the Day of Pentecost. In another place fifty-four new members have been added to the church. In the college at Weihsien all but four of the two hundred students are now enrolled on the Lord's side.

EDITORIAL

In addition to the lists already published, the Business Editor reports that subscriptions have been received from
Miss M. J. Bryan, Miss E. Raynor,
Mrs. B. E. Chase, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. E.
J. Weeks and Mrs. G. M. Crowder.

The response to our appeals has been very gratifying, and it is hoped that the few subscriptions still needed
will be shortly received.

The platform in the south transept
of the church and the side altar have been lowered preparatory to the erection of a memorial altar screen, which it is expected will be completed by the fore part of Lent.

The Parish suffers a distinct loss in the resignation of Mr. Broadhead as bass soloist in our choir. During the several years of his association with us
he has not only pleased our ears with
the quality of his singing, but has gained many personal friends. The Editors, in the name of our people,
wish him God-speed in his new home
in Virginia.

The attendance at the sessions of our Sunday School is giving those in charge of the work very serious concern. The Secretary has reported that the number present averages but fifty-
one per cent. of the enrollment. If this were peculiar to our Parish we would be forced to the conclusion that we were not doing our part in the work;
but as this same condition exists in
other Sunday schools in Germantown,
the fault must partly be with the
scholars and the parents.

The Sunday School is where a child is supposed to receive its education in churchly matters, just as the day school is where he or she receives instruction in secular affairs; and it is as much a parent's duty, yes, even more so, to see that the child attends school
as regularly on Sunday as on the other days of the week. The teachers are anxious and willing to do their part.
Will not the parents of our children
think over this matter and act as their hearts say they should?

Josh Billings has said, in one of his writings: "Konsider the postage
stamp, my son; its usefulness konsists
in its ability to stick to one thing until
it gets there." Some time ago this Parish was much agitated over the question of the improvements to our workshop, and ideas and opinions were freely expressed. Now the committee states that it has not received even one suggestion in reply to its appeal of some months since. Let us get back to the original question and "stick to it until we get there." The time will not be nearly so long as some are inclined to think.

The offering for the Aged and Infirm Clergy on Christmas amounted to $207.55. This amount will be divided between the Diocesan Fund for Infirm Clergy and the General Fund.

Car Barn and Lenten Services.

A very interesting work is being carried on by the local Chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at the Pelham Car Barn. Each Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock a simple service, consisting of hymns, prayers and a short address, is held for the benefit of the trolleyemen.

That these services are appreciated
by the men is evident from the great change in their attitude since the meetings started, several months ago. At that time little or no attention was paid, the men continued talking and smoking and moved about with no attempt at quietness. Now little or no unnecessary interruptions occur, although the men are coming and going continually; and it is the exception for a man to wear his cap, even when passing through the room in which the
services are held.

Speakers can be used and, in fact,
are needed, to avoid calling upon the same ones so often. A cordial invitation is extended to any who are interested in this sort of work, to attend
some of these services. It will encourage those in charge and will let the trolleyemen know that some one has an interest in them.

Another work which will be inaugurated this year will be "DAILY
NOON-DAY LENTEN SERVICES"
similar to those held every year at the Garrick Theatre. Full details have not been completed, but the services will probably be held in the new Germantown Theatre. The list of speakers is almost complete and contains the names of some very prominent men.

The Brotherhood, however, will be compelled to call upon the men and women of the various parishes for support. The majority of the Brotherhood men are engaged in business in
present. If the services are to be successful it will depend largely on the church people of Germantown. It is not too early to spread the news
abroad. Try to influence your friends
to attend, and be on hand yourself at every opportunity!

More complete details will be announced later, but every one is asked to bear these services in mind and begin talking and working now.

Sunday School.

The January meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sunday School
was held in the Parish House on Monday evening, the 9th. It was what might be called a "criticism
meeting," that is, each one was supposed to criticize himself or herself
and also his or her associates in the work, and those present entered into
the spirit of the game with a vim.
First, a seeming fault in the school
work was recognized, and then the reason for it was sought and an effort was made to suggest a remedy. In this way many points were discussed
and much valuable and friendly criticism was had.

The question of instruction, which
is, of course, the first in importance,
came in for much discussion, and the system now in use was talked over both pro and con, with the result that
a committee was appointed to investigate the various systems in use in other schools and report at the February meeting.

After the business of the meeting
had been transacted light refreshments
were served and the meeting adjourned.
It was a very pleasant and profitable evening and it is hoped that practical good will result from the evening's discussion.

Choir Notes.

Mr. Broadhead has resigned from the choir. The members of that body
and no doubt his many friends in the church will miss his presence in the chancel, where he has done such commendable work.

A surprise was tendered the choir
on Friday evening, December 30,
when, after a short rehearsal, refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake
and coffee, were served. A most enjoyable time was spent and all appreciated Mr. Broadhead's kindness in giving us such a pleasant evening.

Sunday evening, January 8, was Mr. Broadhead's last service as a chorister of Christ Church, as he is leaving the city to reside in Virginia. After the service Mr. Rile, on behalf of the choir, presented Mr. Broadhead with a brass-mounted mission bookrack and gold-mounted briar pipe as a mark of esteem. He carries with him the best wishes of all for happiness and success.

The last of the series of piano duet and song recitals was held Wednesday evening, January 11. Besides the regular soloists engaged to sing, Mr. Broadhead closed the recital, singing the song, "The Light of Other Days," dedicated to Mr. Broadhead by the composer, the choirmaster.

Mr. Fred. Guthrie is filling Mr. Broadhead's place as bass soloist.

Miss Kathryn Meisle has been engaged as contralto soloist, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Stinson.

The choirmaster wishes to express through "The Chimes" his sincere thanks and praise to the members of the choir for the splendid support given him in the work during the past year. The regular attendance and the earnest desire of all to do the best possible has been most gratifying. The choir has fully merited the words of approval bestowed on it at numerous times by different ones in the church, both personally and by letter to the choirmaster.

Men's Club.

The meeting of the Men's Club of Christ Church which will be held on Friday evening, the 27th of January, will be the Annual Meeting, and a large attendance of the men of the Parish is especially desired. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place and other important business will be transacted.

The plans for the social part of the evening are not yet matured, but a good time is promised all who are present. Some prominent man or men from the city will speak, and other pleasant entertainment will be provided. Definite announcement will be made later.

The Men's Club is intended to embrace every man residing in our Parish, and every adult male member of this church should be connected with this organization.

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church held its regular monthly meeting on January 4, at the home of Mrs. Topliffe Johnson, on Locust avenue.

Miss Hubbard addressed the meeting on the "Apportionment Plan" and made clear the obligation of meeting our "apportionment" before giving to "special" calls from the mission field. The "apportionment" is to meet expenses that the Board of Missions is already obligated for, and every parish should feel a responsibility for meeting their "apportionment."

After the address the members had a very pleasant social time and appreciated very much Mrs. Topliffe Johnson's kind hospitality.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, February 1, announcement of which will be made later as to the speaker and place of meeting.

Junior Auxiliary

The Christ Church branch of the Junior Auxiliary meets every Friday afternoon, at 3.45, in the Parish House. The leaders in charge are Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Miss Ruth Henderson, Miss Emily Payne and Miss Ruth Norbom.

The officers are:

President, Miss Eleanor Lawrence.

Secretary, Miss Dorothy Roland.

Treasurer, Miss Frances O'Brien.

We have an average attendance of nineteen.

The older girls are making an outfit for a little Indian girl of the Rosebud Reservation, and hope to have it ready when their school building is rebuilt (it having been destroyed by fire) and ready for occupancy, next September.

The little girls are busy making picture books and will soon take up other work to go in some of the boxes we purpose sending away during the year.

The children contribute what little they can each week, and this, with what we can get together from our own efforts and the generosity of our friends, goes toward our fund for supplies, so here let me say that any contribution, however small, would be most thankfully received.

We would also welcome new members and would be so glad to have our organization and work made known to every girl in the Sunday School.

A Personal Letter From the Rector.
Christ Church Rectory,
Septuagesima, 1911.

My Dear Friends:—

As the Holy Season of Lent approaches the call of the Church sounds out loudly and plainly, urging upon the faithful to give more special heed to the soul's welfare by the use of such spiritual graces as fasting, prayer and giving of alms. That this sacred time of spiritual improvement, upon which we are about to enter, may be rich in its blessings and usefulness, the privilege and possibilities of Lent must be employed with a view to the permanent deepening and quickening of the spiritual life, the producing of a greater growth in grace, the insuring of a large self-conquest and the moulding of a heart more after the pattern of Christ.

In commemorating the great Fast of the Son of Man we must turn to it in the sacred conviction of duty and with the heartfelt desire to so imitate the example of Christ that we may walk with Him in the resistance of temptation, making an effort in His strength to put aside the sin which doth so easily beset us.

To make Lent a true wellspring of life to the soul we must, as loyal soldiers of the army of Christ, submit to the drilling of ourselves in spiritual graces the better fitted to continue our warfare against "the world, the flesh and the devil." To avail ourselves of the opportunities of the coming Lenten days and to derive from them the advantages they were designed to accomplish we must form some plan for the honest and faithful use of our Lenten obligations, trying to be true to the purposes of Lent, which is a deeper consecration to God. We must have a definite Lenten rule, from which nothing but necessity shall turn us. An aimless Lent will prove a failure and be fruitless. As far as possible, the claims and duties of Lent must be put before everything else. We must have a self-discipline that is systematic, giving ourselves some special work to do in the way of self-denying deeds as shall enable us to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." To those who feel the need for deeper earnestness and a greater reality in their spiritual life, there is no better time in which to make the effort than this penitential season spread out before us, with its fruitful opportunities for discipline, usefulness and growth, where, by a closer communion with God and in coming in closer touch with the Holy Spirit, we shall strive to rise higher in spiritual things. Let us make an effort to be truly in earnest in getting all the spiritual benefits of Lent, as it passes by, so that the power for good which resides in this coming period of renewed and more faithful self-consecration shall not be in vain. Let us all strive to form such habits of active service for the Master as shall cling to us in the coming years. Let us make some willing sacrifice of time, heart and life and consecrate them to God in the contemplation of high and holy things. Let no small inconvenience or obstacle interfere with the church services. Let self-denial begin there and so spread over the whole compass of life. Do some real act of helpfulness, of true sympathy and Christian kindness, by increased activity in deeds of mercy and love in the spirit of Him Who went about doing good. Honor Christ by your frequent presence at the Holy Communion—"in memory of Him"—which is the greatest service of the soul's strengthening and refreshment. By an honest self-examination make preparation of the heart to receive the gracious influence of a well-spent Lent that will leave its mark of a deeper repentance, a wider charity, the lengthening of the chords of love, the gathering of strength to go on to better things.

Your friend and Rector,
CHARLES HENRY ARNDT.

A Practical Lent.

One of the blessed privileges of Lent is its quiet. Each person can surely recall many a time in this strenuous age of ours when he was so rushed and so turmoiled in thought that he could scarcely rely upon his own judgment; it was almost impossible to decide calmly when everything was so hurried. Men and women in the whirl of social engagements, boys and girls in the excitement of their young lives are to-day under a tremendous pressure and nervous strain which is depressing both to their physical and their spiritual vitality. Now during these forty days of Lent the soul can be self-possessed and find its own. Social engagements and amusements and kindred interests will be laid aside. It is the part of good judgment to do this. There is not a physician who would not recommend this for nearly every one.

We all know how the water for our city water system is first brought into reservoirs, kept in comparative quiet for a time, so that all sediment may sink to the bottom, and only the clear, transparent water shall go to the people's homes. Such is Lent designed to be for the Christian—a calming-down time in the countless distractions about us, a purifying of our hearts and minds from the dross of the world life, a chance for the soul to be its own true self. How sadly we all need this opportunity!

Gardeners tell us that when troublesome weeds choke out the wholesome, nutritious growths, they are laboring to cultivate, the best and wisest way is to take some one weed, dig down to its very roots, to find that root twined up in a knot with the roots of other weeds. It seems to be characteristic of nature for roots of weeds thus to get together in a mass, just as the slimy, poisonous snakes of a marshy pool usually crawl into one repulsive coil. Get at one weed root and we usually get at the life-source of many impeding growths. Get at one great fault, also, in human character (our petulance, our temper, our selfishness or other failing), and we shall be able at one time to root out a great part of the evil of our nature.

When Lent is used in ways like these, as the Church has so long urged her children to do, Eastertide finds us risen to higher ideals and holier aims, nearer in heart and mind and life to Jesus, Who is our Pattern and our Guide.

A Working Lent.

"A working Lent?" This may seem a misnomer. We emphasize the importance of fasting in Lent, of meditation and prayer, of more faithful attendance at church, of more frequent Communion. And too great stress cannot be put on the importance of all these things.

But, surely, to no faithful soul can this be all of Lent. Our Blessed Master Himself in His forty days of retirement gave not all to meditation. The devil assailed Him in His time of hunger, argued with Him and quoted Scripture; caught Him up to a pinnacle of the temple, tempted Him to fall down and worship him. There were working and fighting. Reason and reasoning were appealed to. The world was considered. The end was worked for and won. To Him life did not mean inactivity. And this was the proclamation of the victory: "Get thee behind Me, Satan!"

Pray in Lent. Let us pray more, by all means. Fast, repent, confess, meditate, commune. Let all these be done. But let not this other thing be left undone—work.

Lent should be emphatically a fit time for such active going out and doing good and lending help. Therefore, our fastings, our prayers and our Communion should not—will not, if we are really sincere—stop with self. They cannot, any more than the spring can, help flowing forth into the streamlet and the brook, to go forth to water the meadows and to make happy and bright the earth. Therefore, every well-kept Lent will bring with it work—work for the Master and for mankind.

That this Lenten season may be a "Working Lent," every society in the Parish will be engaged in working for some charitable object, either for Missions for the poor or for some home. Beside these charitable objects outside the Parish, all the societies in the Parish will work and sacrifice to give to the offering on Easter Day which will go toward realizing the $7000.00 needed for the enlargement of the Parish House. The Vestry feel that if they have in hand $5000.00 by Easter time they will be justified in beginning work on the Parish House this spring. This much-desired end can be accomplished if every society in the Parish will work hard during the coming Lent and every member in the Parish will make this season one of real self-sacrifice, so that the offering presented on the altar on Easter Day will represent a service and a sacrifice of devotion and love.

Confirmation.

There are some persons in the Parish who, from year to year, have been delaying taking the important step of Confirmation. They have been holding back with excuses which their consciences must tell them are cowardly and mean. Confirmation is not a confession of perfection or worthiness, but is an acknowledgment to God of sinfulness, and that the soul needs His help, the help He offers to all who come to Him confessing their weakness and their need. Confirmation is not an end, but a beginning—the opening up of a door to higher privileges and greater opportunities and blessings. All are welcome to come who realize their need and who want to live a life nearer to Jesus Christ.

With prayerful solicitude for all who in the past have been careless or indifferent to their higher life, the Rector hopes that at this Holy Season of Lent they will come to him and declare their willingness to receive the Blessed Privileges which await all, whosoever will.

Good Rules for Lent.

EDITORIAL

The Diocese of Pennsylvania is bowed in sorrow. Its Bishop and Chief Pastor has been taken away. On Thursday, February 9, God called him to his Heavenly Home, and the hearts of many thousands within and without the Church who have been drawn to this Godly man are deeply grieved and feel that in his death they have lost a loving, personal friend. The touching tributes of respect and love and affection which have come from all sources, from people of all churches and denominations, from Roman Catholics, Jews and persons of no church affiliations whatsoever, testify to the wonderful power which Bishop Whitaker held over the hearts of men of all creeds alike, and give evidence of the purity and sincerity and unselfishness of his life and the Christlikeness of his character. In no parish was he more beloved than among the people of Christ Church, and the Rector and people join in united prayer to God and say:

Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; We give Thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those Thy servants who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labors. And we beseech Thee, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of Thy Holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in Thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Another loss has come to us in the recent death of a man whom the people of Christ Church always welcomed most cordially and who was listened to with rapt attention as he spoke to us, as he often did by invitation from the Rector, words of wisdom and truth. The Rev. J. Sanders Reed, D. D., passed into life eternal January 30. Only four Sundays previous he preached a sermon in Christ Church that will never be forgotten by those who were privileged to hear it. "Where Are the Nine?" This was his text; and as he dwelt on the awful indifference of the many to the great responsibilities of life and forced home to his hearers' hearts the need of each one doing his share in the Master's work, impressions were made that will never be forgotten and his work will bring forth fruit in years to come. Surely Dr. Reed was a prophet of God, and it may truthfully be said of him, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors, but their works do follow them."

Special attention is called to the members of the congregation to the list of preachers who are to speak in Christ Church on Sunday evenings in Lent. These clergymen have been good enough to accept the Rector's invitation to come to Christ Church to speak to us, and it is certainly fitting for every member of the Parish to show their appreciation of the kindness of these men by regularly attending the Sunday evening service. These men have a special message to deliver, and these services will be helpful to all who attend. All seats are free at the evening services, and a cordial invitation is extended to strangers.

Parish House Improvement.

The treasurer of the Parish House Fund now reports cash on hand amounting to $2641.26, while additional funds already collected and now in a separate account swell the figures to $2800, while a pledge still to be collected will probably run them up to $3000. Of course this is a long way from the $10,000 needed for our new building, but it is a most encouraging showing, and one which manifests great generosity on the part of the congregation.

If any one had prophesied last Easter that it was possible to pay off our annual deficit and in addition to raise $3000 cash for a new Parish House his prophecy would have been regarded as visionary and most impossible. But the impossible has happened, and it simply shows what can be done by our congregation when generously inclined. There has been a real outpouring of generosity and self-sacrifice, and the proof is in the $3000 now practically in hand.

At Easter, this year, we must again make an earnest effort to increase this fund to an amount which will warrant us in beginning to build. As you know, it is intended to raise part of the $10,000 needed by a mortgage, but we wish to make this mortgage as small as possible, and, therefore, trust your generosity will be reached on Easter as in previous years. If the same spirit of generosity is displayed this year our building can be begun this spring, so as to be ready for our fall work.

JAMES H. RITTER,
Treasurer, Parish House
Improvement Fund.

Mothers' Meeting.

Our Mothers' Meeting held its annual dinner the second week in January. Before partaking of our bountiful repast we enjoyed a rare mental treat, "Teddy's Button," a sweet little story with a good moral, portrayed by lantern pictures, Mr. Hayhurst presiding at the stereopticon.

Twenty-six mothers did justice to all the good things.

We meet every Tuesday, at 3 o'clock, and busy hands fashion many useful garments to be sent away in a box to North Carolina. Tea and cakes are served at 4 o'clock.

Our good Rector visits us at about that time, for is he not always interested in good things, both temporal and spiritual? And we are glad to have him with us, for as we finish our seams he provides us with spiritual food for the coming week, the application of which makes our daily tasks seem easier, because done for the Master.

Two weeks ago we Mothers had a secret all our own, and when it came out it was a beautiful gold cross, which Mr. "Are Not" (quoted from little Robert) presented to Mrs. Humphrey, in behalf of the "Mothers," on her birthday, just to let her know how much we love her and appreciate her untiring helpfulness.

Little Earl Biddel recited very nicely the poem, "Maud Muller," and after a vote of thanks to all the ladies who kindly assisted, and the singing of the Doxology, the meeting adjourned.

Announcement.

During the Lenten season the Mothers' Meeting will make many useful and seasonable articles and later have a sale with refreshments, the proceeds to go as an Easter offering towards our new Parish House.

We shall be glad to receive donations of material, such as toweling, cheesecloth, muslin and outing flannel, also orders for fancy and working aprons.

Envelope Subscribers in Arrears.

A number of persons are still in arrears in their envelope subscriptions. Some are several months in arrears. This may be caused by prolonged absence from home or from sickness. While it is not desired to urge any person to pay who finds it impossible to do so, the treasurer of the fund would respectfully remind all who can pay their arrearages to enclose or send their amounts as soon as possible, that their accounts may be credited in full.

Noonday Lenten Services in Germantown.

WANTED—Twenty-five or more men and boys to be available as a singing force.

WANTED—Several to act as substitute pianists.

WANTED—A number to assist in the distribution of advertising matter.

WANTED—Men to act as ushers.

Lent is only a few days off; speakers of prominence have been engaged, some from a distance. There is no turning back. Most of the difficulty lies in the fact that the Brotherhood lacks a sufficient number of its own men to back it up by personal attention. The majority are employed in the city. The few who are able to assist at the Germantown services must have the help of the church people.

Perhaps you can strengthen the arms of those in charge by volunteering to fill some of the positions named above. If so, do not withhold your help. The honor of the Episcopal Church in Germantown depends upon the success obtained by these services during Lent. Give your name to Mr. J. H. Shinn, 29 West Johnson street, or to Mr. C. H. Jackson, 6358 Jefferson street, at once.

There are two ways, however, in which every man, woman and child in this Parish can help wonderfully. You can pray daily for the services, the speaker and the Brotherhood. You can, every day you are in Germantown, attend the services. There is no such word as "can't." Lent is a season of sacrifice, but—is it sacrifice to give up one thing for something better? Think it over. Help Christ Church to do her portion.

The services commence at 12.30 P. M. sharp and close at 12.55 P. M. They will be held in the Vernon Palace Theatre, Germantown avenue, above Cheltenham avenue, and a number of prominent men have consented to come to Germantown and address the meetings. Will you be there to hear them?

The list of speakers follows:

March 1-4—Father Hughson.
March 6-10—Rev. H. McKay Moore.
March 11—Rev. A. H. Hord.

March 13-18—Rev. C. S. Hutchinson.
March 20-24—Rev. H. St. Clair Hathaway.
March 25—Rev. Jacob Le Roy.
March 27-31—Rev. J. B. Halsey.
April 1—Rev. J. Clayton Mitchell.
April 3-7—Rev. Thos. J. Garland.
April 8—Rev. Simeon C. Hill.
April 10—Bishop Mackay-Smith.
April 11—Bishop Thomas.
April 12-13—Dean Groton.
April 14—Rev. H. C. McHenry.

The Girls' Friendly Society.

On Tuesday evening, February 7, the G. F. S. gave a supper instead of the usual social. After the supper the girls responded to toasts, Miss Kirkland being the toastmistress. Besides the associates and members, we had with us for part of the evening Mrs. Arndt, Miss B. Morgan and Mrs. Carmichael, our former Branch Secretary.

We are endeavoring to increase the number of members. Any girl in the Parish who desires to join will kindly give her name to the Rector or any of the members of the G. F. S.

E. M. M.

The Pre-Lenten Play.

On Tuesday evening, February 28, the "S. S. C." will present a lively comedy drama, by Charles Townsend, entitled "Higbee, of Harvard."

The proceeds of this play will be given to the Parish House Improvement Fund.

While this club has been in existence for some time, this is its first venture as an active organization in the Parish, and the members are hard at work endeavoring to make the play "the best ever."

Tickets can be secured from Club members and members of the Sunday School, and we trust that the people of the Parish and their friends will come out and aid us in making this play a rattling success. W. A. A.

Pew Rents Due.

A few persons have not as yet paid their pew rents, which were due on the first of last December. Will all who are in arrears with their pew rents please remit to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal street, at their earliest convenience?

A Word From the Parish Visitor.

In looking through our card system of Christ Church membership we find many who are regular attendants upon the Sunday services and the Holy Communion. This is the pulse test of the life of our body corporate.

The part that saddens us, however, is the more than few who have strayed away, have forgotten that as members of one family in Christ they, if obliged to move away, should let the Rector know their new address and, if unable to attend Christ Church, should ask for a letter of transfer to some church near their new home. In making a great number of calls this absolute indifference to former vows and church relations, as well as to their own spiritual advancement is most deplorable. While our Rector is anxious to retain in the fold those who have once been of it, he also feels that for their own good, both morally and spiritually, they should take a letter of transfer and identify themselves as God's children, workers for Him in the parish in which they have located.

Over seven hundred calls have been made within the past three months. Many of these calls have been upon members who retain only a nominal connection with the Parish. A revision of the Parish Register is being made in an endeavor to retain on the list of membership only those persons who have a real connection with the Parish.

L. H. D.

Men's Club.

The meeting of the Men's Club of Christ Church which was held on the evening of February 3 was a decided success. Between thirty-five and forty men were in attendance and a pleasant evening was spent. Mr. Edward James Cattel was the speaker, and his talk on the opportunities offered in our country and city was both entertaining and instructive. Light refreshments and cigars were furnished by the Club. The thanks of the Club are tendered to Miss Alexander, Miss Insinger, Mrs. Jackson and Miss Robinson for their assistance in preparing and serving the lunch.

The Club is desirous of entering the names of many more of the men of the Parish and neighborhood on its roll of members. Every man is entitled to join, whether he be a member of this church or not, and as the Club intends to do some special work in the near future, it is greatly to be hoped that all of those eligible will come into our ranks. All that is necessary is to hand your name and address to the Rector or to an officer of the Club. The officers as elected for the year 1911 are:

President—Oscar N. Middleton.
1st Vice-President—C. H. Loutrel.
2d Vice-President—C. W. Sutcliffe, Jr.
Treasurer—C. L. Hayhurst.
Secretary—John Gallagher, Jr.
Executive Committee—James H. Ritter, Wm. N. Johnson, M. D., John H. Shinn, Jonas Westling, William S. Owens.

This being the beginning of a new year, the dues, which are One Dollar per year, are now payable, and early remittances should be made to the Treasurer, who may be addressed at 165 Mayland street, Germantown.

The next meeting of the Club will be held on Friday evening, the tenth of March, at 8 o'clock. Some of the details are yet to be definitely arranged, but we can assure every one who attends of a pleasant and profitable evening. An interesting speaker will be secured, who will address us on some topic of current interest.

Art Thou weary, O my Master?

Art Thou standing, hoping still
That the heart so cold and silent
Soon will answer to Thy will?

Long Thou suffered, O my Master, Death and Shame and Crown of Thorn,

That this heart so unresponsive
Thro' Thy love might be reborn.

Enter, enter, O my Master,

All my sins Thy love atone;
Take me, take me, O my Master,
Make me Thine, and Thine alone.

Holy Week in Christ Church

The Forty Days are drawing to a close. The Lenten shadows deepen and beneath the light of the Paschal moon, we now enter into the mystery of the awful Passion of our Blessed Lord. With bowed heads we contemplate the Cross, rising out of the sacred hill of Calvary, and on the Cross we behold, crowned with thorns, the Immaculate Lamb of God, "who taketh away the sins of the world." "Indeed," says a devout writer, "one scarcely ventures to write upon so sacred a subject. Christ's members should strive silently to realize it to themselves, following our Blessed Lord in thought through the scenes of His suffering and death." Let each one of us, during this Holy Week which now draws near, the "Stille Woche," as the Germans appropriately call it, leave behind us all thought of the world, with its trifling vanities, its petty schemes and fake ambitions, and contemplate in awe and reverence the closing scenes of our Lord's earthly life, from the triumphal entrance on Palm Sunday into the city that He dearly loved, until, wearied and exhausted, He slowly wended His way along the "Via Sacra," passing through the gates of the city which had rejected Him, up to the Mount of Calvary.

On each day during this Holy Week the Prayer Book provides that each of the four Evangelists should be heard in his narrative of the Passion. The Holy Communion will, therefore, be celebrated in Christ Church every morning at half-past seven o'clock from Palm Sunday to Maundy Thursday. Let every one who would seek to draw nearer unto our Saviour during the closing hour of His Passion—every business man before going to his business, every woman before entering upon her daily duties, every boy and girl before going to school, come apart from the world for one short half hour at the beginning of each day of this Holy Week and before God's altar meditate upon the Passion of our Lord and draw near in communion with Him.

On each afternoon at a quarter to five o'clock will be held in this church a half hour "Meditative Reading" on the sacred events of the day. A booklet, entitled, "The Last Week, the Story of the Passion," in which are consecutively related the Gospel story of our Lord's last days, may be had on application to the Verger. Every person is requested to procure one of these little books and to follow the accounts of our Lord's last days as they are read daily at these evening meditations.

Good Friday

The daily Meditations in Holy Week will culminate on Good Friday in the Three-Hour Meditation on the Seven Words from the Cross. The service will begin at 12 o'clock noon. This three-hour vigil will be preceded by a service at half-past ten o'clock, consisting of the Penitential office, Pro-Anaphora and address.

"Before the Cross, whose cruel wood,
Uphears the dying Son of God,
Today my only thought shall be:
He died thereon for love of me!"

Where else would one, who realizes the meaning of this great and awful day that commemorates the Redeemer's sufferings, want to spend these sacred hours save in the House of God, and how else, save in Meditation and in Prayer? Devout minds have found in these precious hours beside the Cross a deeper and a fuller realization of the wonderful love of God to us and the awful sinfulness of our nature. Let every seriously minded person in the Parish keep the day in solemn fasting, in humiliation and in prayer!

Easter Communion

As these solemn days of Lent draw slowly to their close, every soul that has followed our Lord during these forty days, in His fastings, in His temptations, in His sufferings and at the Cross, will be preparing and will be yearning to be with Him on the happy Resurrection morn in the joy of the Easter Communion.

Easter is the "Queen of Festivals," and throughout the Christian ages has been the "Day of Days," when the faithful have solemnized the Resurrection of our Lord by coming to the Holy Communion. Our "Holy Communion" then becomes our "Holy Eucharist," that is, as the term implies our "holy thanksgiving." In the words of the prayer of Consecration, in the Communion office, "having in remembrance His blessed Passion and precious Death, His Mighty Resurrection and glorious Ascension," we render unto God our most hearty thanks for the innumerable benefits procured unto us by the same. If, then, we have spent this Lent in a faithful following of our Lord we may truly share, at the Holy Eucharist, on Easter Day, in the joys of His Resurrection. On this Resurrection morn, we may "lift up our hearts" and be in the very presence of our risen Lord and unite together with all God's saints in "one holy communion and fellowship in the mystical body of His Son, Christ our Lord" and "with angels and archangels and with all the company of Heaven" join in the beatific praise "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty." This is the communion of the saints. This is the beatific vision St. John saw "when in the spirit on the Lord's Day, Heaven was opened to him;" and this is the beatific vision vouchsafed to all God's Saints who draw near unto Him in spirit on this great Day of the Lord—The Day of His Resurrection from the Dead.

This sum of $1.00 will be asked from each, but in case any one should desire to give a larger sum, or to have their own particular subscription given for some other special purpose, subscriptions so designated will not be refused.

It has been suggested that the Woman's Auxiliary Society in every Parish should accept the gathering of this sum as their especial duty, and that the Rectors should urge them to accept it, making the president of such an auxiliary the local treasurer of the fund.

Easter Memorial Flowers

Following the custom of past years the flowers in the chancel on Easter Day will be memorials to the Blessed Dead. The Altar Guild requests that all persons who desire to remember their departed friends by memorial flowers will please send their contributions as soon as possible, either to the Rector or to Mrs. William H. Avery, 54 West Tulpehocken street. The ladies of the Guild will personally select the flowers and will see that each contribution is represented by an appropriate memorial. Persons who desire to make their own selections of blooming plants or flowers are requested to have them at the Parish House early on Saturday morning, so that they may be arranged in the chancel before the Saturday afternoon service.

All are invited to send contributions to the Easter Memorial, either in money or flowers, and any contribution, however small, will be gratefully received.

It is hoped that every worshipper in Christ Church will take one of these pledge cards and indicate the amount he or she is willing to give each week to the support of the work of this parish. By this method the Vestry can estimate the probable yearly income, and will be enabled to regulate, accordingly, the expenses of the Parish.

It is earnestly hoped that the new-comers into the Parish will not fail to help bear the responsibilities of the Parish by availing themselves of this systematic method of giving. The support of this Parish and its philanthrop-

The Sunday School Easter Carol service will be held in the Church at 7.30 P. M.

There will be a "special feature" at this service illustrating the Easter theme.

could always see clearly in the light of Easter Day the meaning of the dark days, the failures, the tragedies of life! God grant, that at this Easter-tide we may have some measure of that transforming vision! Let us thank God for the Easter revelation of the Risen Lord, whereby we know that all darkness whether of pain, or disappointment, or sorrow, or even death itself, is, to those who live in Christ, but the herald of new light and joy. Let us rejoice, then, this day as we look into the sepulchre, "He is not here, He has risen!" Let us weave the truth and the fact into our lives! Let it give courage to the strugglers, hope to the discouraged ones, comfort to the mourners—joy into every heart, for Christ has brought life and immortality to light! "I am the Resurrection, and the Life, whoso believeth in me, though He were dead, yet shall he live, and whoso so liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

In the words of the prayer of Consecration, in the Communion office, "having in remembrance His blessed Passion and precious Death, His Mighty Resurrection and ^{ascension} ~~manifestation~~ or its immediate vicinity. Such a demand cannot but meet with the loving sympathy of every parishioner in the confines of the Diocese. It is, indeed, not the first time that a similar feeling has been manifested. Some years ago it was suggested that it should take shape in the form of a permanent edifice for St. Barnabas' Mission in the western part of Philadelphia. Bishop Whitaker, however, forbade the movement on the ground that it was not fitting that a memorial should be erected to a living man. This objection, as we now know to our grief, no longer obtains, and as the Bishop was particularly interested in St. Barnabas' Mission—which he regarded as one of the most promising in the Diocese—our hearts naturally revert to it, and impel us to believe that it lay very close to his desires. Indeed, on his being asked not long ago what memorial building he would recommend to any well-to-do Church member who wished to erect one in connection with some beloved name, he innocently answered that any sum of money given to erect a church for St. Barnabas' Mission, West Philadelphia, would be well invested. This remark has not been forgotten either by me or by others who heard it. We now, therefore, commend it to the Diocese, and suggest that the raising of money for this purpose should, in order to express the affection of the Church at large, take shape in a general subscription by all the members of the Diocese of $1.00 a piece from every man, woman and child who belongs to any Parish within our borders. This sum of $1.00 will be asked from each, but in case any one should desire to give a larger sum, or to have their own particular subscription given for some other special purpose, subscriptions so designated will not be refused.

I remain, your servant, for Christ's sake,

ALEX. MACKAY-SMITH,

Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

The Rector has appointed Mr. James H. Ritter, care Cheltenham Trust Co., and Mrs. Charles Heyer, 75 West Johnson Street, to receive contributions for this fund. Money may be sent either to them or to the Rector.

Let Every One Subscribe Through the Envelopes.

The fiscal year of the Parish begins at Easter. The opportunity is now given to every attendant at the services of Christ Church to indicate on a pledge card, which may be found in the vestibules, the amount he or she is willing to give each week to the support of the work of the Parish. These cards may then be placed on the alms basin at any service or sent to the Rector, and the subscriber will be furnished with a package of envelopes for the weekly offering. Every attendant at Christ Church is urged to adopt this method of giving. It is the most systematic method and inculcates the principle, in old and young alike, of regular, conscientious giving. It is the Bible method. "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store as God hath prospered him." (1. Cor. 16:2). It is hoped that every worshipper in Christ Church will take one of these pledge cards and indicate the amount he or she is willing to give each week to the support of the work of this parish. By this method the Vestry can estimate the probable yearly income, and will be enabled to regulate, accordingly, the expenses of the Parish

It is earnestly hoped that the new-comer into the Parish will not fail to help bear the responsibilities of the Parish by availing themselves of this systematic method of giving. The support of this Parish and its philanthropies is dependent, not upon a few, but upon every worshipper in Christ Church, who should consider it not only a duty, but a privilege, to share in the furtherance of the Master's work

Men's Club.

It is very much regretted that the meeting announced in the March "Chimes" had to be postponed. Circumstances apparently unavoidable caused the cancellation of the meeting. It is hoped to have a gathering of the men in the near future and ample notice will be given.

EDITORIAL

The Editors are extremely anxious to secure some copies of back numbers of "The Chimes" to complete files which have been requested by the Site and Relic Society of Germantown and others. Anyone having copies of the following issues, which they are willing to spare, will confer a great favor by sending them to the Editor or the Rector.

Vol. 2. Nos. 4 and 5.

Vol. 6. No. 12.

Vol. 7. Nos. 5, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Vol. 8. No. 10.

It was a matter of considerable surprise that so few accepted the invitation of the Committee on Parish House Improvements to meet them on Ash Wednesday after the evening service, for a discussion of the posted plans. The Editor frequently hears comments, both favorable and unfavorable, regarding these plans and certainly the committee is entitled to our views.

This is a matter of very serious moment to our Parish, and the time for discussing various ideas of construction is steadily growing shorter. It is earnestly desired that building be commenced soon after Easter, and the definite plan of operation must, of course, be entirely arranged before the builder can even get in his bid. Therefore if any of us have suggestions or criticisms to make let us offer them at once, so that the work may not be delayed when once the finances are in proper shape.

In order to stimulate the attendance at our Sunday School it is proposed to inaugurate, or rather, revive, the Little Cross and Crown System of pin awards. This award system consists of the use of several grades of a very neat pin and is arranged as follows:

No. 1—A Copper Bronze Pin.

No. 2—A Gun-metal Pin, enameled in three colors.

No. 3—A Sterling Silver Pin, enameled in three colors.

No. 4—A Solid Gold Pin, enameled in three colors.

Each member of the school has, or should have, one of the No. 1 pins, and these, which are badges of membership in the school, are the start of the system.

Beginning with April 2d, the awards will be made as follows: Each member who is present every Sunday for three months will surrender No. 1 and receive No. 2; then when he or she has completed another three months' perfect attendance No. 2 will be exchanged for No. 3; then when still another three months' record has been attained No. 3 will be surrendered and No. 4 will be presented outright to the member who has earned it. After earning No. 4 the holder must have a perfect record for six months when a small gold cross or star will be attached to the No. 4 pin. When the holder of No. 4 has secured a record of an additional year, making two years in all, he or she will be given a very handsome gold wreath to go around No. 4 pin and having "Second Year" engraved on the bottom of it. To this wreath will be attached bars of gold marked "Third Year," "Fourth Year" and "Fifth Year" as they are earned. This is a very comprehensive system, and is quite good because a scholar may start at any time, and when the required record has been made he or she has only to apply to the Superintendent and the award earned will be given. These pins are not cheap, showy trash, but are really very neat and well worth striving for. Mr. Middleton has a set and will be pleased to show it to any who are interested.

Choir Notes.

The members of the choir held an evening social in the Parish Building on the night following Washington's Birthday. After games and singing, there followed a supper. The table was tastefully arranged with the national colors. A most enjoyable evening was spent and all enjoy and look forward to these evening socials, which each member is personally interested in. The guests were Mrs. Isabel Scaife, Mrs. Alfred Coxe and Mr. Barry.

On Sunday evening, March 26th, the choir will sing Maunder's melodious Lenten cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace."

Notice is called to the date when the usual Passion Cantata is to be sung in Holy Week. Instead of on Good Friday evening, as heretofore, Wednesday evening of Holy Week, April 12th, has been decided upon. The works to be given on that evening are Maunder's "Olivet to Calvary" and Gounod's "Out of Darkness" (De Profundis). There will be a choir of forty voices to interpret these two beautiful compositions, accompanied by the organ, harp and tympani drums.

The Easter musical program will include the following: "Christ Our Passover"; Te Deum in F. Lemare; Jubilate in E, Barnby; Anthem, "I Heard a Great Voice," Cobb; Communion Service, Eyre, in E flat; Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in A, Foster; Anthem, "They Have Taken Away My Lord," Stainer.

The Choirmaster in February issue of the "Chimes," made mention of the splendid attendance of all the members of the choir. He desires to make special mention of three choristers, Misses E. Collisson, L. Hayhurst and M. Abrams.

The former two young ladies have not missed a service nor a rehearsal since May 20, 1910, the total attendance of each to date (March 19th) amounting to one hundred and twenty-six consecutive times. Miss Abrams has a splendid record of attendance also, having until January 22, 1911, not missed a service nor rehearsal since July 31, 1910, a total of seventy-three times. Her continuous attendance was broken in January owing to unavoidable circumstances.

There are other members of the choir who have a very good attendance record, some missing but two or three times in several months.

It is most gratifying to the choirmaster to have such interest shown in the musical work.

Shall We Begin Building the Parish House This Spring?

The answer to this very important question depends wholly upon the response of the people of this Parish in their Easter offering. It is most urgent that the addition to our Parish Building should be made at once. Every month that the enlargement is deferred means a serious loss of time and opportunity for good among all classes of people in this growing community. The needs of the Parish demand modern facilities for the greater work that is to be done, especially among the young people, and if these facilities are not immediately forthcoming the Parish cannot do the work that it is called upon to do, and it will have failed to fulfill its God-given mission among the people at its very doors.

When the people of this congregation fully realize the imperative need and the grave responsibility resting upon every member of this Parish we cannot doubt but that there will be a spontaneous and generous response on the part of every one at this Easter time, and that the amount realized will warrant the Vestry undertaking this improvement at once. A little over three thousand dollars are now in hand. The enlargement will cost about ten thousand dollars, leaving seven thousand dollars yet to be realized.

This entire amount can be raised on Easter Day if every one in this Parish will determine to make a heroic effort at self-sacrifice and give as generously as they are able at this time. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibules of the Church, on which persons who cannot give as much as they desire now, are invited to signify the amounts they are willing to pledge themselves for this urgent Parish need. The payment of pledges may be met at any time during the year. Let every one in the Parish rise to this occasion and privilege and give as generously as they are able. Some will be able to give more than others, but all are invited to give what they can, however small may be the amount.

Noonday Lenten Services in Germantown.

Thus far the Noonday services have progressed very well, considering they are an innovation. The average attendance up to this time has been 108, but this number may be far exceeded if every one who is able to assist in any way will do so.

As was mentioned in the March issue of the "Chimes," help is greatly needed to make these services the success they should be. Volunteers are wanted to assist in the singing, ushering and distribution of cards. As only a few Brotherhood men are able to be in Germantown during the noon hour, this assistance must come from the laymen who do not belong to the Brotherhood as an organization. They are all brotherhood men in the great work of the Master, however, and the appeal is made to them as such. Do not be satisfied with keeping the services from being a failure. Man always strives for something better in material matters, should he set a lower plane for the work of Christ?

Any who can devote an hour or two a week to this work are asked to send or give their names to Mr. John H. Shinn, 29 West Johnson street.

Addresses during Lent may be expected as follows:

March 27-31—Rev. J. B. Halsey.
April 1—Rev. J. Clayton Mitchell.
April 3-7—Rev. Thos. J. Garland.

April 8—Rev. Simeon C. Hill.
April 10—Bishop Mackay-Smith
April 11—Bishop Thomas.
April 12-13—Dean Groton.
April 14—Rev. H. C. McHenry.

Encouraging.

Our own Parish is now awakening to its share in the new "Forward Movement," which like a grander crusade, is stirring the Church at large for the glorious conquest in our generation of the world for Christ.

Among the weekly envelopes given the congregation last Easter were twelve of a blue color, which were intended as a monthly reminder of Missions, at the same time giving a monthly opportunity of contributing to this noble duty and work of our church.

While the use of these special envelopes is not yet as general as we hope to see it soon, the results have been most encouraging, as so far this year our mission contributions amount to about one-third more than the previous year, while there is still over a month in which to expect additional gifts.

The amount asked by the Board of Missions from our Parish for this year is $1200.00. Unless all parishes respond in full, there will not be sufficient money to support our faithful missionaries now on the field. Suppose you had given your own son or daughter to the cause of Missions, would you not feel justified in asking that they should be supported by the Church?

It is important that not only should the invincible conquest of Christianity as a world force be shown by Church history, but the modern forward movement of Christianity should be by systematic Mission study. The following eight books are suggested for definiteness and not alone because of importance: "The Why and How of Foreign Missions;" "Sunrise in the Sunrise Kingdom;" "Christus Redemptor;" "The Uplift of China;" "Aliens or Americans;" "The Life of Carey;" "The Life of Livingston;" "The Life of Paterson."

Boys' Club to Hold Big Hare and Hounds Run.

New Envelopes.

New pages of envelopes for 1911 and 1912, with the names of former subscribers through the envelope system, written on each page, will be found at the Church doors a week before Easter.

All the former envelope subscribers are requested to seek out their own packages, marked with their names. Their packages will be found alphabetically arranged on the tables.

Pledge cards will also be found on the tables and in the racks in the vestibules. If any person does not find his or her envelope on one of these tables, will they please apply to the Sexton, and he will notify the Rector. New

The Rector's NotesTHE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS { 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } { 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGSAll the services on Easter Day were very largely attended. The total number of persons who communed was four hundred and three. This is an increase over any previous Easter.Whilst the increase in numbers is very encouraging, we realize that the success of Christian work cannot be expressed by figures. If this parish is doing God's work, which we trust it is, its progress must be evidenced in a more substantial way than by mere numbers. It must be evidenced by each member being drawn more closely to Jesus Christ; it must mean that there is a deepening of the spiritual life among those who profess
His name, that there is a "dying unto sin and a living unto righteousness," which must manifest itself day by day, openly before the world, in a higher and a holier manhood and womanhood.If the amount of the offering on Easter Day may be taken as an indication of a devotion of our people to the work of the Master, we certainly have every reason to be encouraged. The offering amounted to over three thousand, three hundred dollars. This generous response was preceded by last year's Easter offering of four thousand dollars, making a total of over seven thousand dollars, given by our people in about thirteen months' time over and above the several thousand dollars contributed towards thecurrent expenses and the philanthropies of the Parish.This record is one for which we may be profoundly grateful to God that He has inspired the people of this parish to such a generous and self-sacrificing effort.There is abundant evidence that the Lenten season that has just passed has brought with it a deepening of the Spiritual life of our Parish. The lessons of the sufferings and sacrifices and death of our Lord have impressed themselves very deeply on many souls, and brought them nearer to the Cross of Christ. In the Resurrection Story new hopes have been aroused and many hearts have been quickened into a higher and holier life.
But this should not be the end. We are all weak, very weak, and the danger is that we shall fall back again into our old and former selfish and sinful ways. Let us now continue to pray more fervently than ever before that the Holy Spirit may come into our lives and purify and teach and keep us and direct us in all our ways. The Church, therefore, now turns our minds toward Whitsuntide, the coming of the Holy Spirit. In every temptation, in every trial, in every sorrow, He will be with us and will support and strengthen us, if we will only watch and continually pray. "I will not leave you comfortless; I will come to you.

The Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My name. He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you." This should be our Post-Lenten lesson, which we should keep before us each day of our life, "a dying unto sin and a rising again unto righteousness," until at last we come to live and reign with our Risen Lord forever.

Now that the special weekday Lenten services are discontinued, it is hoped that our people will not think that Christianity and Church duties between Sundays cease to exist. Services are held in the Church every Friday afternoon at five o'clock. Should not all, who are able to do so, endeavor to set apart one half-hour a week on Friday, the day on which our Lord was crucified for us, to come to His house for prayer? And then, too, on the Saints' Days, as they occur throughout the year, would it not be to the spiritual edification of our character to follow the direction of the Church and come apart awhile from the world and meditate upon the wonderful lessons which those lives, spent in the service of their Saviour, can teach us? This is one of the reasons why the Church observes the "Saints' Days," to bring us more closely into touch with the lives of the Saints and Martyrs of the past that, recalling their lives and sufferings and deaths for their Master, we may be inspired to follow them "in all virtuous and godly living." And yet how few there are in this Parish who avail themselves of this blessed privilege. Will not more persons begin now to make it their conscientious duty to attend, as often as possible, the services on the Saints' Days and Friday afternoons? Surely, if some cannot attend all these services, as they occur throughout the year, there are few persons in the Parish who cannot attend some.

It is with profound sorrow that we are called upon to record Bishop Mackay-Smith's decision to resign the Bishopric of the diocese. The Bishop's health has become so serious he feels that, in justice to the diocese, he should withdraw. His physicians advised him over a year ago to resign, but he declined to do so, and, with the hope of recovering his health, he asked for a year's leave of absence. On his return from abroad his health was somewhat improved, but of late it has failed considerably, and he now feels that it is his duty to retire in order that another more strong and robust in health may take up the duties of his office. As greatly as the necessity for this step is to be regretted, we believe that the Bishop's decision is a wise and a brave one.

Few persons who are not acquainted with the demands that are imposed upon the office of a Bishop of a great diocese like that of Pennsylvania realize the enormous pressure to which he is subjected.

Bishop Greer, of New York, a man of strong physique, was threatened with a break-down before the end of the first year of his incumbency, and the strong and powerful Phillips Brooks died within a few months after his induction into office. We sincerely hope that Bishop Mackay-Smith may be relieved, at least in a measure, of his painful malady, and that his life may be spared for many years to come.

At the coming Diocesan Convention, which will be held in St. Luke's and the Epiphany Church, Philadelphia, beginning May 9th, a Bishop Co-Adjutor and possibly a Suffragan Bishop will be elected. Within a year after the election Bishop Mackay-Smith will resign his office and be succeeded by the newly-elected Bishop Co-Adjutor. The members of the convention will therefore be called to perform a far-reaching and momentous responsibility.

Every deputy—laity and clergy alike—should enter that convention in a spirit of prayer and continue to pray that the Holy Spirit may "save them from all error, ignorance, pride and prejudice," and "direct, sanctify and govern them in their work."

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

It is with great regret that we are obliged to record the resignation of Mrs. Arthur A. Thacher as treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary, and of the United Offering. Mrs. Thacher has moved from Germantown, and will not be able to continue the work she has done so long and so efficiently. Her going is a distinct loss, not only to the Auxiliary, but to the parish. Her successor as treasurer of the United Offering has not yet been appointed, and it is asked that all members of the parish who have the United Offering boxes, will send the contents thereof to Mrs. Arndt as soon as possible.

Ascension Day, or Holy Thursday.

(Forty days after Easter.)

"The history of our Lord's Ascension is placed on record for the confirmation of our faith. The circumstances recorded are not only full of interest, but pregnant with instruction; while the doctrines which arise from it and are inseparably dependent upon it, are of the highest lustre. The Ascension into heaven is the last glorious proof which Jesus gave in Person that He is the Son of God; and the doctrines connected with it are, like itself, radiant with light and beaming with glory from above, for upon the Ascension depends the truth of the Lord's exaltation to God's right hand; that of His Eternal Priesthood; and of the doctrine that He shall return at length to be the judge of the quick and dead—a chain of golden links, the first of which is still the Ascension of Jesus into heaven! Ascension Day is more a day for heaven than earth. It is the glorification of Manhood."

"Of the Ascension of the Lord, all the Apostles, and probably many others, were eye witnesses. For this was an event which, from its nature, did not admit of the same kind of confirmation afterwards. It removed the Lord from the presence of His Church on earth. But since their happiness still depended on His exaltation, He left them the fullest testimony that He had gone up into the heaven of heavens. During forty days He remained amongst them after His Resurrection; appearing to them from time to time; opening their minds to a spiritual perception of His offices and grace; and speaking of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God. At length He assembled the disciples in Jerusalem, and walked with them to Bethany. He gave them a promise of great moment: "Ye shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost coming upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto Me, both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." With these last words He mingled His benedictions. He lifted up His hands, and blessed them; and it came to pass, while He blessed them, He was parted from them, and carried up into heaven. He ascended from Mount Olivet, the scene, a few weeks before, of His deepest anguish—as though it were to teach us that "if we suffer with Him we shall also reign with Him," or that fierce temptation, met and wrestled with in prayer, is the harbinger of a joy unspeakable and full of glory; or that the field of conflict will prove at length the scene of triumph—the Garden of Gethsemane will become the Mount Olivet of our ascending praises. "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Whitsunday.

(Ten days after Ascension.)

"It is natural to believe that the Jewish festival of Pentecost passed automatically into the Christian Whitsunday, and, as might be expected, there is evidence of its observance from the first.

The former feast was in all probability to commemorate the giving of law, and was the birthday of the Church of Israel, and was also the great harvest festival. Hence the day was chosen by God Himself as the birthday of the Holy Catholic Church, and the commencement in the three thousand baptized, of the harvest of the Gospel. It is therefore a feast of Divine institution. The word White-Sunday seems to come from the fact that the vigil, like that of Easter, was a great occasion of Baptism, and there would be during the week a large number of newly baptized adults, gathered in from the heathen, wearing the white chrysoms."

Trinity Sunday.

"This day differs from all in the Christian year, for it does not celebrate an event, but a doctrine. It is to the Christian year, what the Gloria Patri is to the canticles, or what the Apostles' Creed is to matins and evensong, an ascription of praise of One God in three Holy Persons for all that we have learned about Him and received from Him. The word Trinity does not occur in the Bible; it is first found in the writings of Theophilus, Bishop of Antioch, in the year 181 A. D., who speaks of the three first days of creation as "types of the Trinity of God, and of His Word and of His wisdom." But though the word is not mentioned in the Bible, the doctrine is very clearly revealed; indeed, sufficient proof is found in the fact of our Lord sending His Apostles to baptize in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; also it is proved by the separate manifestation of the Three Persons at our Lord's Baptism and by such passages as Eph. 2: 18, "Through Him (Christ) we both (Jews and Gentiles) have access by one Spirit unto the Father; "The grace of our Lord," etc. The reason for the adoption of the word "Trinity" was the growth of heresy, against which it was a convenient summary of the Catholic doctrine."

Missionary Offering.

In the packages of envelopes that are distributed to subscribers will be found inserted each month a blue envelope, in which it is hoped a contribution will be placed for missions. The contents of the white envelopes go toward the current expenses of the parish. The contents of the blue and the other colored envelopes are devoted to missions and other extra-parochial objects, such as the Episcopal and Convention Fund (to meet the expenses of the diocese), the Sustentation Fund (to supplement salaries of poorly paid clergymen in struggling parishes in the diocese), the Germantown Convocation (for the missionary work in the diocese) and other designated objects for which each parish is assessed. Christ Church parish is assessed for the general missions of the Church $1200 per year. This amount is asked by the Board of Missions and goes toward the support of the missionaries in the domestic and foreign fields.

In our Christian giving we should not confine ourselves to our local needs, but our sympathies and our charities should reach out beyond our parish lines to the work of the Church in other fields. "Go ye into ALL the world and preach the Gospel to every creature," was the parting command of our Lord, and every baptized member of the Church of Jesus Christ is pledged to obey that command and to co-operate to the best of his ability in the spread of the Kingdom of God on earth.

Objections to Foreign Missions.

"There are so many unconverted at home." So there were in Antioch when the Holy Spirit sent forth St. Paul and Barnabas. Others say, "All the men and means are needed at home;" the Christians at Antioch might have said the same; yet the Divine Spirit sent the best men to go to new fields of labor. While others even presume, in their ignorance or selfishness, to say, "The heathen are well enough off without the Gospel;" why, then, did our Lord command His disciples to go and preach to them, and why did the Holy Ghost send St. Paul to them?

Much credit is due to the Guild Choir of the parish for their faithfulness in attendance at the daily Lenten services. The music was excellently rendered and added greatly to the devotional spirit of the services. The members of the choir loyally supported the indefatigable efforts of the president, Mrs. Topliff Johnson, and the appreciation of the congregation is extended to all the members of the Choir.

Immediately, as soon as thou givest thyself to God from thy whole heart, and seeketh neither this nor that, according to thine own pleasure or will, but settlest thyself wholly in Him, thou shalt find thyself united and at peace; for nothing can afford so sweet a relish, nothing be so delightful, as the good pleasure of the Divine will.—Thomas a Kempis.

Vestrymen Elected.

The following is a report of the judges appointed to be present at the annual election of Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown:

Germantown, Phila., April 17, 1911.

We, the undersigned, duly appointed to act as judges of an election held this day for twelve Vestrymen of the Corporation known as Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, hereby certify that such an election was held this day between the hours of five and six o'clock P. M., according to notice duly given; that we attended thereat; that we received and counted all the votes at said election duly offered, and that the following-named persons were duly elected:

Chas. W. Schwartz
Jas. H. Ritter
Sheldon Potter
Wm. R. Pugh
Wm. N. Johnson, M. D.
Francis B. Falkner
J. M. Woodroffe
F. L. Donlevy
O. N. Middleton
Henry R. Baremore
Richard H. Morris
Chas. Heyer

GEORGE T. MORGAN,
A. R. CHESTON,
J. I. MORRISON,

Judges of Election.

At the first meeting of the Vestry Mr. William R. Pugh was elected Accounting Warden and Mr. Francis B. Falkner, secretary.

The Rector appointed Mr. James H. Ritter, Rector's Warden.

The Envelope System of Giving.

Increased interest is manifested throughout the parish in "the envelope system" of giving toward the current expenses of the parish. Last year there was an increase over the previous year in the amount realized from this source. The Vestry are desirous of extending this system throughout the congregation, and they invite every one who worships in Christ Church to adopt it as the most sane, systematic and business-like method of meeting the required expense of the parish. At present less than two hundred persons have availed themselves of this system. It should include every one who attends the services of Christ Church. If the number of subscribers were increased to four hundred persons, the full amount of the current expenses of the parish would be met and there would be no deficit to make up each year.

It is believed that with the present increased interest and self-sacrificing devotion that is manifested by a large number of the people in the parish many who are not now contributors through the envelope system, will be glad at this time to avail themselves of this method of giving. Mrs. Dayton, at the request of the Vestry, has consented to visit members of the parish who are not regular contributors, and invite them to agree to subscribe a definite amount each Sunday, ranging from five cents upward, according to each person's ability. The pledge card, with the amount indicated, is put in a sealed envelope, and sent to the Rector, or may be placed on the alms plate at any service. Every conscientious Christian will want to give what he or she can afford toward the support of the work of the church, and this method provides an opportunity for every one to give according to his or her ability. On receipt of the pledge card, duly signed, a package of envelopes, one for each Sunday of the year, will be sent to each subscriber. The children of each household, as well as adults, should be encouraged to give conscientiously through the envelope system, thus inculcating at an early age a spirit of unselfishness and fostering a devotion to the cause of Christ and His Church, which in later years will be a source of untold blessing to them, both in this world and in the world to come.

Pledge cards to be signed may be found in the vestibules of the church.

We commend the "Prayer to be Used at the Meetings of Conventions" (page 37 in the Prayer Book) to all our parishioners, to be used by them daily from now on and until after the close of the Diocesan Convention.

EDITORIAL

It is indeed gratifying to be able to announce that, owing to the very generous contributions of our people, the Vestry is now in a position to realize our hopes of improving the Parish House. The Committee has been authorized to procure the detailed plans and specifications from the architect and to secure bids for the erection of the building. As soon as the bids are scheduled and compared the contract will be awarded and work begun. This means that we should have the use of the improvements when the fall work is started.

The editor is informed that the plans now posted in the vestibules will be the working basis for the proposed addition. However, it is expected that there will be some minor changes, and if any one of our readers has any ideas to place before the Committee regarding interior arrangement, he or she should do so at once. The Committee will welcome any intelligent and constructive criticism, and it is certainly our duty to place our opinions and desires before them for consideration. Every one must bear in mind that we are limited in expenditure to the sum of $10,000, and that every personal wish cannot be complied with at this time; but the committee is anxious to do the most that can be done for every department of our parish activity, and desire the earnest help of every member of the congregation in arriving at the most desirable conclusion.

The dream of several years is at last about to be realized, and it is to be hoped that all will be pleased with and comfortably accommodated in the improved Parish House.

The present year, or volume, of the "Chimes" promised to be the most successful from a financial standpoint. At the outset we had a larger number of subscribers than at the beginning of any previous year, and this standard has been maintained throughout the volume, until at present we have a larger number of subscriptions than at any time since our first issue. We had expected to get through without asking for any financial assistance, but are compelled now to solicit aid.

In October last year, we, at the request of the Rector, printed and distributed six hundred extra copies as a missionary number. These copies were distributed from house to house throughout the parish in an effort to interest non-churchgoers in our church work and to invite them to identify themselves with Christ Church. Then at other times it was necessary, in order to provide the needed space for important news items, to have more pages of reading matter than our usual contract allowed. These two added expenses have entirely depleted our treasury, and unless some good friend comes to the rescue, we will be obliged to discontinue publication. This would be very unpleasant for the editors, and we believe a distinct loss to our parish work.

About eighteen dollars is needed to assure our expenses for the balance of the volume. May we not confidently expect this small amount to be forthcoming?

Men's Missionary Mass Meeting.

A missionary mass meeting for men will be held at the Academy of Music on Friday evening, May 5th, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Men's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions in the

The features of the meeting will be addresses by prominent men of the clergy and laity and a massed choir of the boys and men from the various churches in the Diocese.

This will be an opportunity for the men of our Diocese to demonstrate to the Church at large that the missionary spirit in Pennsylvania is not only alive, but active and militant; that the clergy and laity are jointly and aggressively at work for the Church's mission. Let all attend who can and bring with them that enthusiasm that will mark the success of the undertakings of the Men's Auxiliary.

Will you please apply through your rector for the exact number of tickets that the men of the parish will want? Inasmuch as the capacity of the Academy will be taxed to the utmost to accommodate all who want to attend, it is urged that you lodge your application for seats with the secretary at the earliest practicable date.

Men's Club.

The above heading will no longer appear in these columns, as at the meeting held on Friday evening, April 21st, the name of the Club was changed to "The Neighborhood Club of Christ Church," with an emphasis on the second word. As the name implies, the Club will devote its energies to promoting the spirit of fellowship and friendliness among the men of this parish and neighborhood. Every man is entitled to membership, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to assist in the good work.

At this meeting the speaker was Mr. Frederick S. Hall, secretary of the Pennsylvania Child Labor Committee, and he gave us a very interesting and enlightening talk on the work the committee is doing in an effort to protect the children of our State. His lecture was illustrated with lantern slides, which were projected by means of the new lantern which the parish now owns.

It is regretted that more men did not get out to this meeting, only about 20 being present. These speakers come out to us at considerable trouble to themselves, and our men should certainly take advantage of these opportunities to hear good talks on current and vital topics.

It has been decided to have the meetings of the Club monthly in the future, and from now on a meeting will be held on the third Friday evening of each month at 8 o'clock. The men are requested to make a note of these dates in the engagement books, and to come to the Parish House on each of these evenings to gain some pleasure for themselves and to help make the efforts of our Club a success.

The annual dues of one dollar were due in January, and those men who have not yet paid their dues are urged to send the same to the treasurer, Mr. C. L. Hayhurst, 165 Mayland street, as soon as may be possible. The Club has some modest expenses which must be met, and hence this request for payment.

The New Club.

For some months past a certain group of young men of the parish have been discussing the advisability of forming a new club. About six or eight weeks ago these young men met together and decided to "start things." The result is the new club known as the "C. S. K."

The meetings are held every Thursday evening in the Parish House, from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock, during which time a very lively game of basket ball is played or some other equally interesting source of amusement is found.

Any young man between fourteen and seventeen years of age who desires to know the meaning of "C. S. K." may learn it by becoming a member of the Club, first interviewing any of the following members: Mr. John Davidson, honorary president; Thomas Ridsdale, treasurer; Clarence Gregory, Herbert Feist, William Feist, Merrill Barstow or Arthur Bevers.

Sunday School.

The Easter Carol Service of the school this year was most pleasant and enjoyable. The school turned out in goodly numbers and entered heartily into the program prepared for the occasion. The singing was particularly good, and Mr. Miles deserves great credit for the way in which he trained the school in their carols.

At this service the regular promotions were made and diplomas were presented to the following:

From Primary Department to Intermediate Department—

- Frederick H. Belfield
- John Cookstock
- Jennie Dalsey
- Frank Ellis
- Margaret J. Hannan
- Lilian E. McCarty
- Barbara Miller
- Florence W. Nightingale
- Katherine A. W. Plucker
- Edith B. Thompson
- Maud M. Thompson
- Dorothy E. Warrick
- Clarence Whitley

From Intermediate Department to Main School—

- John Arndt
- Walter Abrams
- Philip Cannon
- Donaldson Cooper
- John Gravenstine
- Eleanor Hilyard
- Frances Laughlin
- Leonore Robinson
- Marie Warrick

The school at this service paid its first installment of $300 on account of the pledge of $1500 which it made last

Easter toward the Parish House Improvement, and at the same time the Mite Box offering will amount to over $100, making a most creditable showing for a school with less than 300 members.

The Sunday-school has pledged itself to give each year for five years $300 for the Parish House improvement fund. On Easter Day the school redeemed its annual pledge by turning over to the treasurer of the Fund $324.12. This amount was made up of contributions and earnings, ranging from $1.50 to $138.25 from the following classes of the school:

Primary Department (Mrs. Charles Heyer, superintendent.)

Intermediate Department (Miss Ida Pastorius' Class, Miss Grace Middleton's Class).

Women's Bible Class (Miss Helen D. Wells, teacher).

Main School Classes:

- Miss Olive Kirkland
- Miss Phyllis Morgan
- Miss Walker
- Miss Mary Dahl
- Miss Maud Wismer
- Miss Gomersall
- Miss Grace Roop
- Mrs. Adkin
- Mr. John Gallagher
- Mr. John Davidson
- Mr. Richard H. Morris.

In addition to the above classes the Girls' Friendly Society and the Young Men's Class ("The S. S. C.") gave liberal contributions.

A deputation of business men, representing the Chambers of Commerce on the Pacific coast, has lately been visiting China to investigate commercial prospects there. During their visit they met a number of missionaries, and while at Hankow, the deputation in a body attended our St. John's Church, at an English service. At Wuchang, they attended Boone University, and they state that after what they had seen and heard in China every member of the deputation would be a friend of mission work.

sand men were employed in construction. Eight hundred white people are already residing in Seward. Much has been done by Bishop Rowe, Rev. C. F. Taylor and others towards the Christianizing of the people. A fine church has been built, the handsomest in all Alaska. There is a promising Sunday-school and a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary. A hospital is to be built by the town's people without cost to the Church. The Rev. Thomas Jenkins, who recently visited the town and celebrated the Holy Communion, says:

"I can freely say that so far as my observation has gone there is not another town along the whole Alaskan coast that offers so good an opportunity for telling work as this." But, sad to say, the place is as yet without a resident clergyman, and it is hoped that a suitable man will soon volunteer for the post.

"What a friend we have in Jesus,"

And a weary woman listened
To the darling's happy lay.
Jesus was the only refuge,
He could take her sin and care,
And He blessed the weary woman

The New Bishop Co-Adjutor and Bishop Suffragan of Pennsylvania

At the last Diocesan Convention, held May 9 and 10, the Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, Professor at Cambridge (Mass.) Divinity School, and the Rev. Thomas J. Garland, Secretary of the Diocese for the past seven years, were elected Bishop Co-Adjutor and Bishop Suffragan, respectively. An unusually high Christian feeling prevailed throughout the convention, both before and after the election. The election of neither of these men can be said to be a triumph for any "party."

The entire convention knelt in solemn prayer before proceeding to the election, and invoked the Holy Spirit to direct and guide them in their choice. And, as in the days of the Apostle, the Lord heard their prayer and "the lot fell upon Matthias and he was numbered with this Apostles," so now it was, we believe, in answer to prayer the Holy Spirit moved in the hearts of men gathered in the convention of the Apostolic Succession and "the lot fell upon Rhinelander and Garland and they were numbered with the Apostles."

Surely we, who believe in the efficacy of prayer and that "when two or three are gathered together in His name He will grant their request," must believe that God's promises are not in vain, and that His Holy Spirit still directs the minds and hearts of those who call upon Him for light and guidance.

Both Professor Rhinelander and the Rev. Mr. Garland have accepted their election, and will be consecrated as Bishop Co-Adjutor and Bishop Suffragan, respectively, as soon as the consent of the Standing Committees of the Dioceses throughout the country can be obtained. This will probably be in the autumn. It is understood that Bishop Mackay-Smith will resign his office the early part of the new year, at which time the Bishop Co-Adjutor will succeed him.

The following account of the Bishop Co-Adjutor and Bishop Suffragan, elect, is taken from the "Churchman" of New York:

"The Rev. Philip Mercer Rhinelander, Bishop-Co-Adjutor-elect of Pennsylvania, has been since 1907 Professor of Religion and Missions at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, and is distinguished as a philosophical theologian and forceful writer. He has had, however, administrative experience also, for he was for seven years Canon Missioner and Examining Chaplain to Bishop Satterlee, having had at the same time charge of the Church of the Good Shepherd at Washington. Of a family distinguished in the annals of New York, Mr. Rhinelander was born in Newport, R. I., in 1860, and educated at St. Paul's, Concord, and at Harvard University, from which he was graduated with honors in the Class of '92. Proceeding then to Oxford he studied under the late Dr. Bright and Dean Strong, and gained much from close contact with Canon Moberly. He was graduated at Oxford with a first class in the Honor School of Theology in 1896, was ordained deacon in that year in Washington and advanced in 1897 to the priesthood. In 1903 he was made professor of Church History at the Berkeley Divinity School, where he took the place of the present Bishop of Delaware, and remained there till his call to Cambridge in 1907. In 1909 he was elected Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South, an honor which he declined. In 1910 he was appointed vicar of Trinity chapel, New York, but declined that post also. Professor Rhinelanders is a keen thinker along philosophical lines, and though presented to the convention under High Church auspices, proved immediately acceptable to every school of ecclesiastical opinion. All recognized in him a wise interpreter of Christian theology in the relation to the problems of modern life.

The Rev. Thomas J. Garland, Bishop Suffragan-elect, came to the ministry from business, and is now in his forty-fifth year. He had been assistant manager of the largest steel manufacturing plant in Pittsburg. After passing his examination for Holy Orders he spent several years in study at Oxford and Cambridge, was ordained by Bishop Whithead in 1891, and made assistant minister at St. Peter's, Pittsburg. After two years in Ohio he came to the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and served as rector of Trinity Church, Coatesville, and afterward had charge of the mission of St. Paul's Church, Bristol. He was for a time assistant editor of "The Church Standard." For seven years he was secretary to Bishop Whitaker, and for six years he has been secretary of the diocese of Pennsylvania. Many of the burdens of ecclesiastical administration have fallen on him owing to the illness of Bishop Whitaker and the absence of Bishop Mackay-Smith. Since 1908 he has been secretary of the Third Missionary Department and has held many diocesan offices of honor and trust. His large and varied experience has prepared him exceptionally for the duties of a suffragan."

Rector's Notes.

It will be seen by an article in another column that it has been thought best, in the interest of the safety of the children of our Sunday School, that the sessions of the School shall not be held in the Parish House during the summer months while the alterations of the building are in progress. It is with great regret to all that this conclusion has been arrived at, as our School, hitherto, has had the enviable record of an uninterrupted session throughout the year. It is possible, however, that some provision may yet be made whereby the School may have a short session each Sunday morning in the Church. This desire has been expressed by a number of the teachers and scholars of the School, and if such an arrangement can be made it will be carried out. It is surely a good indication of the love and the loyalty of the teachers and scholars of the School who remain in Germantown during the summer that they so reluctantly acquiesce in closing the School at any time or under any circumstances. The subject will come up for discussion at the next Teachers' Meeting to be held on the first Monday in June. Announcement of the decision will be made in the Church and Sunday School on the following Sunday.

Whatever may be the final decision this one thing is certain: a GREAT RALLY DAY—a rally day that WILL be a RALLY DAY—may be looked forward to in the fall, when we resume our regular sessions of the School in our new and improved quarters.

It will be a HOME COMING, and all the old reliables—officers, teachers, scholars and, we hope, a large number of new ones also—will be there.

In the meantime, let EVERY OFFICER, TEACHER AND SCHOLAR constitute himself or herself an EARNEST MISSIONARY to reach every boy or girl in the community who is not connected with another

On application of the Vestry of this parish, permission was given, at the last meeting of the Diocesan Convention, to amend the charter of Christ Church. The principal and most important change that was sought was in the method of election of vestrymen.

The old charter provided that twelve men shall be elected to serve for a term of one year. The amended charter will provide that the vestrymen shall be divided into four classes of three persons each. The term of office of the first class shall expire on Easter Monday of 1912. The term of office of the second class shall expire one year from that date. The term of office of the third class shall expire two years from that date. The term of office of the fourth class shall expire in three years from that date; so that three vestrymen shall be elected on Easter Monday of each and every year.

The amended charter has not yet been submitted to the State Legislature, but it is expected that by next Easter the new charter will go into effect.

The Parish House.

It is a pleasure to report there are prospects of an early commencement of work on the proposed addition to our Parish House. Your committee have had several meetings and have agreed upon plans which are now in the hands of the architect who has already invited bids from various builders. These plans will probably require some changes, but they are now in such shape that we hope building may begin this summer.

It may be said, speaking broadly, that the plans provide that the basement of the new building shall be fitted up as a game room, provision being made for showers baths, coat room, etc. The first floor is intended primarily for the use of the women of the congregation, for whom will be provided a parlor, class room, kitchen and other conveniences.

The second floor will contain a Rector's Study in the northwest corner; the remainder of this floor will be for such purposes as may commend themselves to the congregation and Sunday school in the future.

As there would naturally be considerable difficulty in matching the stone for the McCallum street front, it was decided to remove the present north wall of the Parish House, using the stone so gained for the McCallum street face. This will also remove the necessity of underpinning the north wall, which will now be rebuilt from the foundation. It seems this is not only the better but the cheaper method.

It is hoped these practical evidences of improvement will stimulate us to continued efforts in behalf of this important work, so we may not only enjoy our enlarged and modernized Parish House, but that our enjoyment will be increased by the knowledge that it has not been necessary to run greatly into debt.

For the Committee,

James H. Ritter.

Sunday School.

The plans for the extension and alteration to our Parish House are now in the hands of builders for estimate, and it is reasonable to expect an early realization of this long hoped for improvement.

The work proposed is of such a nature that attempts to use the building during this summer will necessarily hamper the operation, and also prove most unsatisfactory for all concerned. After consultation with Mr. Arndt and Mr. Potter I am requested to announce that after June 25th the sessions of the Sunday School will not be resumed until the condition of the building warrants, and due notice will be given of this date.

It is hoped the members of the school will now plan and redouble their efforts to redeem their pledge toward the cost of this work, and will return in the fall in increased numbers and with renewed interest to demonstrate that they are loyal to Christ Church, and that they appreciate the efforts being made for their comfort and pleasure.

O. N. Middleton.

Poor Children's Country Week.

The approach of warm weather reminds us of our usual custom of receiving an offering in Christ Church for the benefit of the Poor Children's Country Week. The object of this worthy charity is to send poor children and sometimes with them their overworked and frail mothers from the hot streets and alleys of our city into the country for a week or ten days, where the little children may romp and play in the fresh fields and have a change of pure air and wholesome food. No charity will appeal more thoroughly to the hearts of all than this Children's Country Week. The Rector was gratified last year to receive contributions from a number of benevolent persons, including some little folks in the Parish for this worthy object. It has been his custom to receive from the Country Week Association, the Bedford Mission and other charitable societies, names of very poor and worthy families who "live" in the squalid and congested portions of Philadelphia. Each June the Rector devotes several days in personally visiting these families living in back alleys and cellars in the slums of our city and selects what he considers the most needy and distressing cases to be sent into the country for a week or ten days. The Rector thoroughly believes in personal charity. No material assistance can take the place of personal and individual interest. In these personal visits among these extremely needy people the Rector endeavors to minister to their spiritual needs as well as to bring them material help. The following is a letter received from Comly B. Shoemaker, Esq., president of the Bedford Mission, in response to money given by friends in Christ Church for the poor children's outing:

Germantown, Pa.

My dear Mr. Arndt.

I am duly in receipt of your favor of the 27th inst., and carefully noted contents.

I was at our Mission a few days since, and received of Miss Boyd a report of your visits and generous contribution in aid of the suffering children, whom, I understand, you saw in their "homes." * * * Miss Boyd is acting promptly in sending relief and getting the children to the country, and every care will be exercised to use the money so kindly given us judiciously and in a way to do the most good.

Thanking you most kindly for both your visits and your substantial aid, I am,

Very sincerely,

COMLY B. SHOEMAKER,
President.

An offering will be received in Christ Church on the first Sunday morning in June for the Poor Children's Country Week. A generous contribution is asked for this most worthy charity. Checks may be sent to the Warden. Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal street, Germantown.

Summer Service.

The services during the summer months will be at the usual hours on Sundays, but will be shortened in form. The early celebration of the Holy Communion at 7.30 will remain the same. The service at 11 o'clock on the first Sunday of the month will be the Holy Communion, with sermon, and on other Sundays simple Morning Prayer with sermon. The evening service will consist of shortened form of Evening Prayer with an address. The services during the summer will not be, in the least, fatiguing and as our church building is well ventilated and cool during the summer no one need remain away from the public worship of God in Christ Church on the plea of discomfort. The Friday afternoon service will be discontinued during the summer.

During the Rector's vacation the services of Christ Church will be in charge of the Rev. H. Cresson McHenry. Mr. McHenry is no stranger to the worshippers in Christ Church, as he very acceptably took charge of the services during the Rector's absence last summer and has also been assisting the Rector during the past winter.

Mr. McHenry is an unusually strong, practical preacher, and all who attend the services during the summer will be instructed and highly edified by his sermons. Mr. McHenry will be ready to respond to any call for his services at any time, day or night, if word is left at the rectory, or at his home, 238 West Apsley street, Germantown. His telephone number is "Germantown 3601."

It is very gratifying to note the increase in the number of persons who have availed themselves this spring of the envelope system of giving. The Vestry are desirous of extending this system until it includes every member in the parish. This systematic method of giving is found in all parishes to be the most satisfactory of any that has been devised toward carrying on the work of the church. It not only provides a definite income but also affords an opportunity for all, however limited their means may be, to share in the responsibility and privilege of giving to the furtherance of the work of the church. It is the gospel method, for we are told: "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by in store, as God hath prospered him." 1 Corinthians XVI: 2.

EDITORIAL

It is very likely that the near future will see operations begun on the addition to our Parish House. At the time of this writing, the bids are almost all in the hands of the architect and the contract will, in all probability be shortly awarded. Therefore now is none too soon to face and carefully consider the financial problem with which we are confronted. The contemplated addition and improvement will cost at least $10,000 for the actual building alone, of course with heating apparatus included. This will not pay for any of the necessary furniture for either the new or the old building, and for this a considerable sum of money will be needed. The present plans provide for the ultimate use of the second floor, both for Sunday school and general auditorium purposes, and this will necessitate the entire refurnishing of the present Sunday School room. The semi-circular benches now in use are admirably adapted to their purpose, but would be absolutely useless in an auditorium, and some other method of seating must be evolved and provided.

Now, the purpose of all this explanation is to impress on all of our minds the urgent necessity for united action on the part of all of our people toward the raising of the money needed. We have two objects to work for—first, the raising of as large a fund as possible now, and, second, the canceling of the mortgage debt as rapidly as our earnest efforts will permit. We must all work together for a common cause, and not allow our personal opinions or desires draw our efforts or attention away from the Parish House Improvement Fund until all the needed conveniences are provided and the debt canceled. Let us remember that this obligation will be assumed by the Vestry for us all as a congregation and that we must do our share in meeting our just debts as rapidly as is possible.

In the May number of the "Chimes," the Business Editor announced that eighteen dollars were needed to defray the expenses of the "Chimes" until the end of the present year, which will be September, 1911.

Thus far only two have volunteered to assist the Editors in this matter, and the money for printing the last and the present issues had to be advanced in order to pay the publisher. It must be apparent to all that unless the amount asked is forthcoming at once the publication of the "Chimes" must stop with the current issue, as the Editors will not be responsible for publishing the paper under the present conditions.

We are sure it is not the wish of the people of Christ Church that the "Chimes" be discontinued, and it is hoped that it may be announced by another issue, that the amount necessary to pay our back debt and provide for carrying on the work until the subscriptions are renewed in the fall has been secured.

Since our last issue subscriptions have been received from Mrs. Anne R. Warner and Miss R. Geib.

Mothers' Meeting. "The Busy Bees."

Not long ago—the month of March—"The Mothers," decided to have a "Sale" of articles, useful and ornamental, proceeds to help swell the Parish House Fund. So with light hearts and busy hands at the weekly meetings the fruits of interested effort began to assume shape, size and height, i. e., various piles of toweling—glass, dish and roller—also rows of cheese-cloth dusters, white and cream, some plain, others daintily feather-stitched color-de-rose, by deft and willing fingers. Not only were they busy bees at the circle, but unfinished work was taken home to be completed, and as if the fairy of love and ambition had waved her wand over these busy bees (not a drone in the hive) they merged into "Order clerks" and traveling salesmen, and presto change, our piles of work diminished, and in their place Uncle Sam's greenbacks and "Siller." So our advertised sale, has, instead been a continuous private sale because our kind patrons wanted the goods.

Time sped on and our closing meeting came on Wednesday, May 24th, with fitting "obsequies." Our regular service conducted by our good friend, the Rector, followed by recitations and music, according to the following program: Recitations by Misses Margaret Ifill, Eleanore Lawrence, Earle Biddle and a young lady friend of Mrs. Buckley; reading of a poem by Mrs. Cook. Music was gratuitously and beautifully rendered by Miss Steinmetz, after which, the grand march was led by the Rector and Mrs. Wenzell, to the inspiring hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers." Finally reaching the table of good things, ice cream, strawberries and dainty cakes, and two especially good things, not cakes, our Rector's "gude wife" and little Robert. Our ever-ready Rector presiding at table, gratuitously furnished mental tidbits, "feast of reason and flow of soul." Finally God's blessing invoked, a flutter of wings like a great buzz and the Bees had flown en-masse to their summer home, leaving only with us sweet thoughts and pleasant memories.

Good-by.

"Thanks."

The S. S. C. presented their play, "Higbee of Harvard," for the second time on Wednesday, May 24th, and the club wishes to heartily thank the members of the Parish for the kind and generous support accorded them. The spirit in which the play was received at each performance and the generous contributions, which made the play a financial success, are to say the least most gratifying to the club members, and a full and splendid return for our efforts in making it a success otherwise.

At the present time we cannot state the exact amount netted, but the $35 necessary to meet our first Parish House Improvement Fund pledge, was easily cleared.

We wish to especially thank Miss Mabel Robinson, Miss Olive Kirkland, Miss Glenolene Brownlow, Miss Violet Anderson and Miss Marjorie Yost for their efforts in our behalf, and to congratulate them on the manner in which they played their parts. We are also indebted to Miss Kite and Miss Ifill for the pleasing special features with which they aided us; and as for the Highland Quartette, we are at loss for words to adequately describe our appreciation of their work.

We wish to again express our thanks to the members of the Parish for their kind support. We intend to give another play in the fall, and we can ask for nothing more than the support which this one received.

Altar Guild.

On Thursday, April 27th, the Altar Guild spent a most enjoyable evening at the home of Mrs. William Avery, at which time the annual dinner was held. The Guild had the pleasure of having with them as their guests the Rector and his father, Mr. David M. Arndt, to whom they are indebted for a great deal of pleasure. The sincere thanks of the Guild are extended to Mrs. Avery for her hospitality.

It would be greatly appreciated if persons having flowers would kindly notify the sexton, in order that they may be placed upon the Altar during the summer months.

The Girls' Friendly Society.

The G. F. S. held their annual service at the Church of the Holy Trinity, May 4th. Our branch was well represented. The G. F. S. has been working hard during Lent on children's garments for the missionary box, which were on exhibition with the work of many other branches at this service.

We have finished with the study of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." Six of the girls took the examination, and Miss Olive Moore won the prize, which was "Old Chester Tabs," by Margaret Deland. We are now beginning "Julius Caesar."

The girls are making and selling towels for the benefit of the improvement fund.

We contemplate giving a Japanese tea on June 14th.

All are invited to join us in our festivities.

Come and be sociable.

E. M. M.

The Accounting Warden requests us to ask of all subscribers through the envelope system, who contemplate being absent during the summer a special favor to the church. It is his custom to meet promptly and in full all bills for current expenses of the parish as soon as they are due. When a considerable number of contributors are absent for any length of time the income of the parish suffers thereby, and for the good name of the parish he has sometimes been compelled to borrow money during the summer in order to meet the financial needs. There are many persons who do not leave Germantown during the summer and the need of the services and the ministrations of the church continue in summer as well as in winter. If contributors through the envelopes who intend to be absent, will kindly enclose in their envelopes, before they leave, the amounts of their subscription for the Sundays they expect to be away, it will greatly relieve the Warden of an embarrassing situation and will contribute to the credit of the parish, of which all are justly proud.

Choir Notes.

On the Friday evening preceding Easter Sunday the choir presented the choirmaster with a silk folding umbrella after the rehearsal. Mr. Rile greatly appreciated the gift, expressing, as it did, the good-will existing between the choristers and himself.

On Wednesday evening, May 10th, the choir, in a body, went to hear Massenet's beautiful opera, "Thais," which was given in the city.

The following new members have joined the choir during the last two months—Mrs. A. Cox, Misses V. Anderson, Whitehead and Hesser.

A most pleasant evening was spent by the choir on Wednesday, May 24th, the members being entertained by one of the ladies of the Parish at her home.

A pedestrian club has been formed among the choristers to take trips to nearby points. The first was made Saturday afternoon, May 27th, to Chestnut Hill, via Wissahickon, returning by trolley.

The prize of ten dollars given by the choirmaster to the chorister having the best attendance from September last to the end of May, 1911, was won by Misses Collisson and L. Hayhurst, neither having missed a service nor rehearsal in that time. A second prize (a large Church hymnal) was won by Miss Lindsay, she having been absent but nine times since entering the choir, October 1st, 1910.

Guild Choir.

The Guild Choir of Christ Church, Germantown, has discontinued for the summer months their regular participation in the services of the Church.

The secretary reports a marked interest in the work of the choir by the members of the Church, there being an average of 6 members present in the choir during the 42 Lenten services.

The minutes of the Guild Choir show that the membership, which is limited to 30, consists at present of 22 members. It is proposed that the full number be made up during the coming fall and winter by members of the Church volunteering their services to help along this most worthy work, and it is hoped that there will be a number of applicants for the 8 vacancies.

All applicants will hand in their names to the Rector and their voices will be tried by the committee.

The membership is limited to members of the Church over the age of 18 years, and the annual dues are 50c.

The treasurer reports the purchase last year of 7 new hymnals for the exclusive use of the Guild Choir.

A House Warming.

It is proposed to have a glorious HOUSE WARMING at the opening of our new Parish House in the fall. It is expected to have the Parish House finished in October and at the opening there will be a general Parish Reception and Social entertainment for ALL THE MEMBERS AND ATTENDANTS of Christ Church. The date and program of this entertainment cannot be definitely fixed at present, but in the fall announcement will be made in "The Chimes." Suffice it to say, the event will be a most enjoyable one for all and everybody is asked to begin to prepare for it NOW, and it is hoped everyone will be present.

In addition to other features there will be a sale of useful and fancy articles and all are invited to contribute such articles to be placed on sale on that occasion.

The summer is a good time for the ladies to devote to the making of all kinds of fancy and useful articles which will be cordially welcomed by the committee in charge. It is hoped that there will be a generous response to this invitation and that the PARISH HOUSE WARMING will be looked forward to and enjoyed by every member, old and young, in the Parish.

Watch "The Chimes" for definite date and program!

Whitsun-Tide.

The Whitsun Festival comes ten days after the Ascension, and the rejoicing is prolonged over the two days that follow the Sunday.

We should associate "Whitsun" with "Pentecost," from which word it is derived. This is not Whit Sunday, as some say. It is not Whit for White, or Whit for Wit, meaning wisdom, but Whitsun is a form of Pfingsten which is the equivalent for Pentecost. The old Jewish feast of Pentecost became a Christian festival because of the marvelous outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

He is the great Life Giver, the pulse and heart of Nature, the spring and fountain of all existence. He it is who dwells in believers as in a sacred temple. He gives many graces and virtues to men, and purifies them for God's service here and hereafter.

Trinity-Tide.

The Trinity season includes about one-half of the Christian year. It begins with the Sunday that follows Pentecost and continues until Advent. There are twenty-six Sundays, more or less. It is not only on Trinity Sunday that we express our belief in the doctrine of the Trinity which has been revealed to us and that we rejoice in the great truths made known as to the nature of Deity, but the fact that God is the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, with all the blessed consequences, is acknowledged always and always devoutly received by all who believe in the revelation He has made of His own being. It is only through His own pouring forth of light that we know Him. Our fullest and highest knowledge comes through the incarnation of the Son. Into every soul that accepts the incarnation there Vacation Sundays.

People living near some of the summer resorts have a saying that many of the visitors seem to leave their religion at home. Judging by the neglect of public worship and the disregard of the sacredness of the Lord's Day, the saying seems to be true.

A lady who was staying at a large hotel said that at the hour of morning service she and a few others were all, out of the crowd of hotel guests, who obeyed the summons of the nearby church bell to come and worship the Lord.

Wherever you may be this summer on your vacation, when the Lord's Day comes, find your way to the Lord's House. If there is no place of worship, get a few people to come together with you and read the service from the prayer book.

In addition to keeping up public worship on the Lord's Day, set a good example in avoiding whatever is not in harmony with the sacredness of the day.

Sunday should not be the time for noisy recreations or trifling entertainments. Nor should it be devoted to receptions, parties and feasts.

It need not be a dull day, but there are ways of making it bright and cheerful without destroying its sacred character.

Our Own.

If I had known in the morning
How wearily all the day
The words unkind
Would trouble my mind
I said when you went away,
I had been more careful, darling,
Nor given you needless pain;
But we vex "our own"
With love and tone
We may never take back again.

For though in the quiet evening
You may give us the kiss of peace,
Yet it might be
That never for me
The pain of the heart should cease.
How many go forth in the morning
That never come home at night!
And hearts have broken
To harsh words spoken
That sorrow ne'er can set right.

We have careful thoughts for the strangers,
And smiles for the sometime guest;
But oft for "our own"
The bitter tone,
Though we love "our own" the best.
Ah! lips with the curve impatient!
Ah! brow with that look of scorn!
"Twere a cruel fate
Were the night too late
To undo the work of morn.

} 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

Rector's Notes.

The Rector returned from his vacation the last week in August greatly refreshed by his rest. During his absence the angel of death has entered five homes in the parish and called away loved ones to their Heavenly Rest. The sympathy of many friends go out to these bereaved ones, and we pray that our Heavenly Father, who has called unto His own our blessed dead, will vouchsafe them light and rest, peace and joy in the companionship of the saints, in the presence of Christ, in the ample folds of His eternal love.

"The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them."—Rev. vii. 17. "It is not in definite human phrases, but by symbols and shadow only, that the realities of the unseen life are pictured to us. Yet this we may safely say, that there is a real Eucharistic fellowship between our departed ones and ourselves.

"If our merciful Lord 'prepares a table for us in the wilderness,' He prepares one also within the veil. Both here and there the Divine Food is the same; the Great Eucharist is the same; save only that they have passed within the inner courts of the Temple, while we tarry for a while without. . . . Let us then dwell on the blessed fellowship, for this surely is the great thought that possesses us—our unbroken union in this Holy Mystery with those who have passed beyond the veil. This is the great bond that binds us in one. St. Paul says 'the bread which we break, is it not the Communion of the Body of Christ?' i. e., the medium of intercommunion between all the members of the Mystical Body, the fellowship of all with Christ and with one another, bringing into mysterious contact the visible and the invisible. Yes, surely that they all may be one in the unity of Divine Life; I in them and Thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one.—Charles Kingsley, "All Saints' Day."

"Before one altar kneeling,
We worship side by side,
Thy sacred Presence feeling,
O Jesus, Crucified.
With angels and archangels,
We offered praise and prayer;
But some who knelt beside us,
No more may worship there.

Yet in the high thanksgiving;
We deem they bear their part;
The blessed dead, the living,
Alike are one in heart;
Although their holy voices
Have soared to loftier strains,
The one great Church rejoices,
That fellowship remains.

And so in full Communion
We offer praise and prayers,
They in our hearts remembered
As we are borne in theirs.
At one High Altar kneeling,
We worship side by side;
The same dear Presence feeling
O Jesus, Crucified."

The Rector calls the attention of all women in the parish to the announcement in another column of the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary (the Women's Missionary Society), which will be held the first meeting on Wednesday afternoon, November 1st, at four o'clock. It is the duty, nay more, it is the privilege of every Christian woman to enlist in the missionary cause of the church. No one, man or woman, can be consistently called a Christian who willfully ignores Christ's great command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." It is "to spread the kingdom of God" on the earth that Christ came and suffered and died. Therefore, every member of His church, every loyal follower of Jesus Christ, will seek in every way possible to help further this work to help to bring to pass the answer to Christ's last prayer "that they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in Me and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us."

The Rector prayerfully hopes that there will be a call of the Holy Spirit to the Christian womanhood in this parish during the coming winter such as will arouse in every heart a deeper sense of the personal responsibility that rests on every Christian to become actively interested in Christian missions. The Rector urges every woman in this parish who has hitherto failed to respond to her Christian duty and privilege in regard to missions to come forward and crown her Christian womanhood with a solemn resolve to pray, to work, to give to Christian missions.

"Give of thy sons to bear the message glorious;

Give of thy wealth to speed them on their way;

Pour out thy soul for them in prayer victorious,

And all thou spendest Jesus will repay."

The Men and Religion Forward Movement.

Too long has the great business of the church, namely, the extension of the kingdom of God over all the world, been left to the women of the church. In the past the greatest interest in the missionary work throughout the world has been taken by unselfish and untiring, consecrated Christian women. The times have changed. The men of our land are beginning to realize their Christian obligation in the extension of Christ's kingdom. God is calling to the Christian manhood of America to enthrone His Son. Thousands of men throughout the land are responding to the call. Their ranks will be increased to millions. The greatest war in history is now on, but the weapons are to be the weapons of peace. We shall win by the Cross. The next few years are to witness the sublimest heroism of the centuries, and the present Laymen's Missionary Movement will far outrank the Renaissance or the Reformation in its effect upon the world. No one can foresee the end. Thrones have fallen through far less important beginnings. Who can tell how far-reaching the effect when determined Christian men, standing upon God's Word, and filled by His Spirit, enthrone Christ in their lives and seriously enter upon the conquest of the world. Nothing in earth or hell can stand against the Church of Christ when Christian men in the spirit of their Lord yield to His leadership. Every man in whose heart burns the flame of Christian manhood will want to have a share in this glorious warfare. "It is a man's job," said a prominent layman to the Rector not long since, "and it calls forth all the virility and heroism of the best manhood of the land." Yes, it is a "man's job," as this layman bluntly put it, this glorious work of Christian service, and we hope and pray that the Christian men of this parish will realize this call to their Christian duty and fall in line with the aroused Christian manhood of the land and share in the glorious privilege of praying and working and giving for the spread of Christ's kingdom on earth.

A missionary service in the interest of the Laymen's Missionary Movement will be held in Christ Church on Sunday, November 12th. Addresses will be made by prominent laymen. All men in the parish are especially urged to be present.

There are societies for boys and girls and for men and women, of all ages and classes, and a cordial invitation is extended to every one in this community to become identified with one or more of these parish activities. There is need of earnest workers in every department of the parish. Never before has there been a grander opportunity in this parish to do a great work for Christ and His kingdom. During the past year we have lost by death and removal many faithful workers. We miss them greatly, but the work must go on, and others must take up and carry on the work laid down by them. An earnest appeal is made to every one in this community who wishes to rise above a mere selfish existence into a life of consecrated service to come forward now at the beginning of this winter's work and enlist among those who are trying, feebly it may be, but conscientiously, to be of some help to others in the hard struggle of life and to bring a little nearer to earth the kingdom of love. Our religion becomes the religion of Jesus Christ only when our lives, filled full of devotion and love to Him, find expression in unselfish service to others.

Church Periodical Club

As the autumn days have come and we are all turning our faces homeward and our thoughts to our winter's work, may we call your attention once more to the work of the Church Periodical Club! Do you realize what the term stands for? Many there are who do not! But look into it and learn its purport, and the great work that stands waiting for it to do, and the help that you can be, with so little trouble and so little expense: i. e., to give away that which you do not want. The cry for reading matter is as plaintive and pathetic and far-reaching as the cry for food and clothing. We can all imagine what starvation of the mind might mean, although none of us have really experienced such a state; our complaint is more often, "When will I ever be able to read all I have about me?"

So, out of your abundance will you not take the time and trouble to help the thousands of people in isolated places and conditions hungering for reading matter by sending as much as you can of your periodicals, each month or week, as you finish with them? Do not stack them up in your lockers for months and years and then turn them over to your librarian, thus causing an extra amount of work and a large outlay of money for freight and boxing. At the same time remember what your periodicals mean to you each month, so cannot you pass this happy anticipation to your less fortunate fellowmen, women and children? If you must keep your magazines until you have an accumulation, please do not send the bulk to the Parish House, but write to your librarian for an address and look after the boxing and shipping yourself.

The C. P. C. would be so happy to provide addresses for periodicals of all kinds whatsoever: religious, secular, scientific, mechanical or juvenile, as well as contributions of money, for you know the organization must be supported, so we are grateful for anything, either large or small.

All information or addresses will be gladly furnished by the librarian of your parish. Address

A Parish Gathering—A Home Coming

On the completion of the new parish house addition the members of the parish and their friends will be given an opportunity to meet in the parish house to inspect the improvements that have been made. A parish gathering, a Home Coming, will be held the latter part of October, when every member of the parish is invited to attend. An interesting program will be arranged, and the definite date will be announced later. A cordial invitation is extended in advance to every attendant at the services of Christ Church and their friends to be present at the Home Coming to be held the latter part of October.

The members of Christ Church will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Dayton, who so acceptably acted as Parish Visitor last year, will resume her duties on the first of October.

The Sunday school assembled for the winter session on Sunday morning, September 17. While the enlargement to the Sunday school room is not yet completed it was thought best that the school should assemble on this date and prepare for the "Rally Day Service," which will take place on Sunday, October 8.

In the meantime let every teacher hunt up all absent scholars and let every scholar be present on that opening day of the school. We welcome every boy and girl in this vicinity to Christ Church Sunday School. We have now enlarged quarters for our school, and one of the most attractive Sunday school rooms in the city. We hope that every scholar in the school will do active missionary work this fall by bringing their friends to the school. We also want more earnest, consecrated workers in our Sunday school, and any who may volunteer their services will be cordially welcomed. Remember the date of Rally Day, Sunday, October 8, at 9.30 o'clock. Let every one be present, be on time, be filled with earnestness and enthusiasm to make this coming winter's session of our Sunday school a success in the highest sense of the word.

Before entering on the regular winter's session of the Sunday school the officers, teachers and scholars who have been confirmed will desire to draw near to God in the Holy Communion and, in the words of the consecration prayer, "offer and present unto Thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice unto Thee." On the Sunday morning of October 8, at half-past 7 o'clock, there will be a Corporate Communion of the members of the school and the friends and parents of the scholars. Between now and that time let every friend of the school offer up prayers on behalf of our Sunday school, its teachers, its officers and its scholars. "O God, Holy Ghost, sanctifier of the faithful, visit, we pray Thee, the teachers, officers and scholars of our Sunday school with Thy love and favor, enlighten their minds more and more with the light of the everlasting Gospel; graft in their hearts a love of the truth; increase in them true religion; nourish them with all goodness; and of Thy great mercy keep them in the same, O blessed Spirit, whom, with the Father and the Son together, we worship and glorify as one God, world without end. Amen."

On Sunday morning, October 15, the annual offering for the Germantown Convocation will be taken. A booklet, giving a brief account of the missionary work done by the Germantown Convocation will be found in the vestibules of the church. Members of the congregation are invited to take copies of the booklet and read the contents carefully. We are sure that an intelligent understanding of the importance of this missionary work right at our doors will enlist the generous support of more of our people.

The amount that our parish is asked to give in support of the work of the convocation, together with the Sustentation Fund, is $202.00. This amount is asked for on Sunday morning, October 15.

The Mothers' Meeting will begin on the second Tuesday in October (October 10) in the Parish House, at half-past 2 o'clock. It is hoped that all the former members of the meeting will be present on that day and new members will be cordially welcomed. The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. J. I. Morrison, assisted by Mrs. Rubens Humphrey.

The Friday afternoon service has been continued, and it is hoped that more of our people will endeavor to attend this week-day service. Evening Prayer every Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

EDITORIAL

With this issue will end Volume IX of Christ Church Chimes. Nine years may well be considered a long run for a church paper to have without interruption, and the Rector and editors are proud of this fact. Nevertheless it was not accomplished without effort and expense.

This number is published on faith—our funds are exhausted and the editors owe the publisher $18.00 to date. Who will volunteer to make up the deficit? We have not the least doubt that there are many friends in the parish who will come forward and enable us to close up the year with a clear balance sheet.

Now we come to a more serious matter: Shall the "Chimes" be continued for another year? The receipts during the past year were not sufficient to pay the cost of publishing and some small incidental expenses which were incurred. Under these conditions the Rector and editors have decided not to continue the "Chimes" unless the parishioners show by their prompt renewal of subscriptions and contributions that they think the paper worth supporting.

It is customary to publish 10 issues (the summer numbers being combined) at a cost above receipts from advertisements of $60.00 per year. As may be seen this requires at the least 120 subscriptions to make good our expenses. Last year we received 87 subscriptions—hence our deficit.

While the editors wish it were possible to furnish the "Chimes" without cost to our people, it must be realized that the paper cannot be published without expense, and we hope and believe by the first of October enough money will be in hand to warrant the continuance of our parish paper.

Miss Mary Dahl has authority to collect subscriptions, or the same may be handed or sent to any of the editors. As the Rector is very anxious to continue the "Chimes" it is hoped that prompt response will be made to this appeal.

It has been decided to ask those who desire the "Chimes" mailed to contribute 10 cents extra to our fund. This will just pay for the necessary stamps and will aid the work just that much.

A Meeting of the Men of the Parish.

There are several matters of importance which the Rector wishes to submit to the men of the Parish for their consideration. It is impossible for him to visit all the men at their homes, and if he were to do so he could probably not fix upon a time when he would find them in. He is very anxious to have a talk to all the men and to this end he asks that every man in the Parish will kindly meet him in the Parish House on Friday evening, October 20th, at eight o'clock. This is the first time the Rector has called all the men of the Parish together, and he hopes that there will be a general response to the call.

Will every man please make note of the date and be present, Friday evening, October 20, at eight o'clock.

The Daughters of the King

In the early morning of Thursday, August 24, our beloved president, Mrs. James Y. Humphrey, entered into those joys of paradise prepared for those who love Him.

Her illness was brief, and her departure so unexpected as to shock deeply those who loved her. She was a charter member of our chapter, and to further its success gave of her time and strength unreservedly.

Whatever she undertook was promptly, efficiently and lovingly done, and with a pleasure that showed she had caught the secret of all work done for her Master.

We must come forward to take up the work she has now laid aside, but though, in the years to come, its earthly record may grow dim, the heavenly one will remain untarnished in the safe keeping of Him with whom not even a cup of cold water given "for His sake" goes unnoticed.

We resume our meetings on Monday evening, October 9, at 8 o'clock in the parish house. Will every member kindly make a special effort to be present?

What Four Presidents Think of Missions

Benjamin Harrison: These missionaries going into foreign lands do not go to disturb the political conditions of the States they enter; not at all. They preach no crusade, incite no rebellion; but work by instilling the principles of the Gospel of Christ—the doctrine of the unity of man; that God made of one blood all people; that not titles, nor rulers, nor the outer things at all, but the heart is the seat of judgment and esteem; and this doctrine, working its quiet way through the world, will yet bring in the kingdom that is promised.

William McKinley: I am glad of the opportunity to offer, without stint, my tribute of praise and respect to the missionary effort which has brought such wonderful triumphs for civilization. The story of Christian missions is one of thrilling interest and marvelous results.

Theodore Roosevelt: When I came back, I wished it had been my power to convey my experience to those people—often well meaning people—who speak about the inefficiency of foreign missions. No more practical work, no work more productive of fruit for civilization, could exist than the work being carried on by the men and women who give their lives to preaching the Gospel of Christ to mankind.

William H. Taft: Until I went to the Orient, until there were thrown on me responsibilities with reference to the extension of civilization in those far-distant lands, I did not realize the immense importance of foreign missions. The truth is, we have got to wake up in this country. We are not all there is in this world. There are lots of people besides us who are entitled to our effort and our money and our sacrifice to help them on in the world."

Envelope Contributors

Most of the envelope contributors have been prompt in paying up the amounts of their pledges, but a few are in arrears. Will all persons who contribute through the envelopes kindly make up their arrears as soon as possible so that the Warden may be able to meet promptly the financial obligation of the parish?

Death of Frank L. Donlevy.

On July 4th Mr. Frank L. Donlevy, vestryman of Christ Church, passed from this life into life eternal. Mr. Donlevy had been in failing health for some time past, and recently was compelled to give up his active business career. Through his own efforts and ability Mr. Donlevy succeeded in building up a large and prosperous business, and he was highly respected in the business world as a man of sterling integrity and honor. As a member of Christ Church he was generous, loyal and faithful. Whenever health permitted, he was always in his pew, and he will be greatly missed by all. At a special meeting of the Vestry, held July 7th, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas: We are called upon to mourn the loss of our fellow vestryman, Frank L. Donlevy, who has been taken from us in the prime of life and of usefulness.

And whereas, Mr. Donlevy has been a faithful member of this Vestry for more than ten years, and has endeared himself to all by his devotion to the Church and his activity in its interests, as well as by his Christian character.

Therefore, Be it resolved that we deeply deplore his loss and that these resolutions be published in the Churchman and in the Christ Church Chimes, and that a copy of same be sent to his family, with the assurance of our deep sympathy with them in their sorrow, which we share.

F. B. FALKNER,
Secretary.

"A saint has been called to rest." These words were said of Mrs. James Y. Humphrey, whose soul entered Paradise in the early hours of Thursday morning, August 24th. No woman in the Parish was more highly respected than she. Every one who knew her loved her. Never has this Parish had a more unselfish, devoted, consecrated woman than Mrs. Humphrey. For many years she was active in almost every good work in the church. Her first thought was how she might do good to some one. To the day of her death she lived and sacrificed for others. All the older members of the Parish knew her, respected her, lived her; the young people and the children of the Sunday-school looked upon her as their devoted "mother." The poor and the needy she was continually visiting and comforting, and they regarded her as their "ministering angel." Wherever Mrs. Humphrey went her presence shed a benediction. She will be greatly missed by all, but her beautiful life still lives on in the lives of others whom she has influenced and inspired.

She now lives in the fuller joy of the presence of that Saviour whom she so devotedly loved and faithfully served on earth. It may truly be said of such a saint of God: "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord; even so saith the Spirit; for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Our Parish House.

At last the dreams of years, and the self-denial and sacrifice of our people have become visible in shapely walls of stone and mortar, and our enlarge and renovated Parish House is beginning to assume not only form and beauty, but a promise of great usefulness.

The north addition can hardly fail to please every one. The ground floor affords precisely the facilities so long needed for the sports of young people. They are being finished in a most durable manner, while the solid flooring and high ceiling make them well fitted for some of the rougher games so dear to the hearts of boys, who will be still more pleased by the shower baths, etc., provided for their convenience.

The second floor is also most attractive. In the northwest corner is the Rector's study. The remainder of this floor is as yet unassigned, but it is so bright and well lighted that it will not be allowed to remain undisposed very long. This is where more money is needed, so that this second floor may be quickly adapted and put to use.

The main Sunday-school room is practically unchanged, except that the division of the first floor made it necessary to regard the second floor as our main audience room. This will necessitate purchase of furniture, which may be used either for Sunday-school purposes or for a general assembly. In this case the present semi-circular benches must be removed, somewhat to the regret of some of the older members to whom these old forms are dear.

As for the first floor, we can hardly say it is "all glorious within," but with most careful planning it has been divided into several rooms, including a kitchen, ladies' cloak room, and other rooms suitable for the uses of the various men's or women's associations of the Parish. It has been a great problem how to plan these rooms so as to give light and air to all, but we think the present plan is the best possible.

It is hoped that in another month all will be in readiness for a Parish House warming, which we trust will be attended by every member of our Parish, so all may share in our rejoicing in the completion of a work which promises so much comfort and increase of usefulness to our people.

In the next issue of the "Chimes" we shall endeavor to give you the financial side of the matter. At this time, let us be glad our desires and hopes are now nearing realization.

J. H. R.

It is a marvel how much clergymen do under the conditions. The minister is the only man in the community who has responsibility without authority. He can command nobody. Most of them haven't one paid helper. Suppose a man is responsible for results in his office, and yet his office force may work or not as they choose; and never are they all there. Yet this is the condition under which clergymen do their work. They are responsible for results. They need a large body of helpers to produce the results. But they can command nobody; and they never know how many will be there. Neither the doctor nor the lawyer will accept responsibility unless he is in control and his orders are carried out. But the minister, and he alone, has responsibility without a particle of authority. It is a marvel that he does so much.—The Church Militant.

As God leads I am content;
He will take care
All things by His will are sent
That I must bear.
To Him I take my fear,
My wishes while I'm here;
The way will all seem clear
When I am there.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

ALL SAINTS' DAY.

"The Communion of Saints."

"Beside the dead I knelt for prayer
And felt a presence as I prayed;
Lo! it was Jesus standing there,
He smiled: 'Be not afraid!'"

"Lord, Thou hast conquered death, we know;

Restore again to life,' I said,
'This one who died an hour ago.'
He smiled: 'She is not dead!'"

"Asleep, then, as Thyself didst say,
Yet Thou canst lift the lids that keep
Her prisoned eyes from ours away!
He smiled: 'She doth not sleep!'"

"Nay, then, tho' happy she do wake,
And look upon some fairer dawn,
Restore her to our hearts that ache!
He smiled. 'She is not gone!'"

"Yet our beloved seem so far
The while we yearn to feel them near,
Albeit with Thee we trust they are.
He smiled: 'And I am here!'"

"Dear Lord, how shall we know that they Still wait unseen with us and thee,
Nor sleep, nor wander far away?"
He smiled: "Abide in Me!"

Why should we speak of the faithful departed as dead? The early Christians were taught to believe that the blessed ones who were delivered from the burden of the flesh were not more
"in Christ" than they themselves were;
that all were equally "in the Vine," knit together in One Communion and Fellowship in the Mystical Body of God's dear Son. If only we will read our Bible and cherish by prayer to the Holy Spirit the thought that the spirit of our dear dead is still with us, while we are looking at the body; that we are still one in the fellowship of the Saints, then that thought will become as much a part of our being as the knowledge that the Lord Himself is with us. In the chamber of death we will at once be able to look at the body as separate from the spirit. We will think how happy that spirit is, and how it loves us and is with us still.

What can the world offer to those who mourn so blessed as these plain Bible truths? Who ever found rest from sorrow by plunging into the gayeties of the world, in hope to drown the bitterness of an aching heart? One who reads and believes in the Bible truths no trial can isolate, no sorrow can cut off from the Communion of the Saints. When we kneel and are with Christ in prayer we are with them.
Only a thin veil is between us All whom we loved and who loved us are ever near, because in His Presence, in Whom we live and dwell. Surely Wordsworth's little "cottage girl" was right when she said, "We are seven."

"Not dead! They pass us in the street
They sit beside us in the hall"

What an incentive to live holy lives is the knowledge that our holy thoughts are known to those whom we have so dearly loved on earth! How much nobler to have their approval than to be able to win the applause of this world, or to gain the laurel wreath of fame! But some will ask: "Are we really conscious of the presence of those who, theoretically, we may believe are about us?" Ask the fond wife who has seen the love-light die out of her husband's eyes, as they closed to open on fairer scenes, does she not know him to be near her? Ask the fond mother who has laid to rest her darling child. Does she not feel, even though she cannot explain it, the sweet presence of her little one and the loving arms about her neck?

"Ah, God! it was long ago—
That musical voice so low,
And the little palm
Touching mine, so calm!
But still in the evening light,
Or at the deep midnight,
I can hear that whisper clear,
From spirit lips so clear,
'My love, good night,
Good night!'"

In the Communion of the Saints there are no barriers of time or space. "We may not know," says a devout writer, "all the spiritual ways of their mystic communion with us who fain would follow them, but the fact remains, and those whose lives are hid with Christ in God, know that it is no mere fancy or vain illusion, but an obvious and palpable reality."

On this beautiful festival of the Church's year—"All Saints' Day"—when our Mother Church leads her children's thought upward beyond the veil, let those who have not yet realized the nearness of the unseen world, pray that their eyes may be opened, that they may be enabled to feel the Presence of the Lord, with His saints and angels keeping watch around them, so that when the hours of darkness and bereavement come upon them, they may, by the eye of faith, pierce beyond the veil and see and know and feel the Blessed Companionship of the dear ones who have gone beyond and become "meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light."

Then let our prayers on earth unite with theirs in Paradise; then let us, with them, seek to do God's will; then let us, with them, keep close to our Saviour's side; and let us, with them and all God's saints, come often and more often into that "Blessed Communion of the Body and Blood of Christ," that all may be one in the unity of the Life Divine.

So shall we keep our dear ones near us; so shall we enter into rest even upon earth, and know what it is to be filled with the peace of God which passeth all understanding.

On Saturday, November 28th, the Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude will occur, an event of far reaching importance to the Church in this Diocese.

On that day, in the beautiful Memorial Church of the Advocate, the Rev. Philip M. Rhineland, D. D., will be consecrated Bishop Co-Adjutor, and the Rev. Thomas J. Garland, D. D., Bishop Suffragan of Pennsylvania.

The presiding Bishop of the Church, the Rt. Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, L.L. D., will be the Consecrator, together with a large number of other Bishops from many parts of the land.

It will be a most solemn and impressive service, the same in essence and import as that related in the Acts of the Apostles, when the Apostles of our Lord assembled in solemn conclave, prayed the Holy Ghost that He would call one to the "Bishoprick" to "be ordained to be a witness with us of His resurrection," and "the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles."

This solemn service, when "the Presiding Bishop of the Church and Bishops present shall lay their hands upon the head of the elected Bishop" and say, "Receive the Holy Ghost for the office and work of a Bishop in the Church of God, now committed unto thee by the imposition of our hands: In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen," is a perpetuation and extension of the apostolic service by which the apostolic succession is preserved and handed down from generation to generation, from century to century, and will continue on this earth until the end of time, when Christ, the Head of the Church, shall come to claim His Bride and "the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord and His Christ; and He shall reign forever and ever."

Opportunities for Persons Who Desire to Give.

The following objects in the Parish invite the generosity of persons who may desire to do something for Christ Church, either in the form of a memorial, a gift, or a thank offering for Divine favors:

New furnishings for the Main Sunday school room.

Chairs for the new Guild rooms.

Equipment for the Boys' room.

The Infant School and Intermediate school furnished.

The pews in the church toned in color with the roof.

Interior of the church redecorated.

The Transept Chapel finished in memoriam.

Memorial windows in the church.

For further information, persons may apply to the Rector.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Jefferies has always been a kind and generous friend to this Parish. She has added another gift by offering to enclose the entire church property with a substantial iron fence in memory of her husband, Edwin Jefferies. The fence will be erected this month.

Parish House Warming.

On Wednesday evening, November 15th, the enlarged Parish House will be formally thrown open to the members of the Parish and their friends, and the occasion will be marked by an old-fashioned House Warming. A meeting of all the ladies of the Parish is called for Friday afternoon, November 3, at 4 o'clock in the Parish House, to make final arrangements. Every woman in the Parish is invited to this meeting.

The House Warming, to be held on November 15th, will be in the nature of a Parish Reception, at which time all who attend the services in Christ Church, and their friends, are cordially invited. At this reception there will be a form of entertainment and light refreshments will be served. There will be no charge made. An opportunity will be thus afforded to all to see the improvements made in the older portion of the Parish house and all will be shown through the new Parish building. It is hoped that every member of the Parish, old and young, man and woman, together with their friends, will consider this notice a personal invitation to attend this Parish Reception and House Warming. Remember the date, the hour, and the place—Wednesday evening, November 15th, at 8 o'clock, in the Parish house.

A cordial greeting awaits everyone!

A Missionary Service.

On Sunday morning, November 12th, a Missionary service will be held in Christ Church. Prominent speakers will be present to address our people on the missionary work of the church. The names of the speakers will be announced later. At this service an opportunity will be afforded to the people of Christ Church to learn, from the lips of men who are personally engaged in this great work of spreading the gospel of Christ to the ends of the earth, something of the wonderful progress and the great work that is being done in Christian Missions. Every one who is alive to the times will be interested in this great subject of Missions. It has taken possession of the greatest minds and hearts of today. Read what the last four Presidents of the United States have to say:

Benjamin Harrison: These missionaries going into foreign lands do not go to disturb the political conditions of the States they enter; not at all. They preach no crusade, incite no rebellion; but work by instilling the principles of the Gospel of Christ—the doctrine of the unity of man; that God made of one blood all people; that not titles, nor rulers, nor the outer things at all, but the heart is the seat of judgment and esteem; and this doctrine, working its quiet way through the world, will yet bring in the kingdom that is promised.

William McKinley: I am glad of the opportunity to offer, without stint, my tribute of praise and respect to the missionary effort which has brought such wonderful triumphs for civilization. The story of Christian missions is one of thrilling interest and marvelous results.

Theodore Roosevelt: When I came back, I wished it had been my power to convey my experience to those people—often well meaning people—who speak about the inefficiency of foreign missions. No more practical work, no work productive of fruit for civilization, could exist than the work being carried on by the men and women who give their lives to preaching the Gospel of Christ to mankind.

William H. Taft: Until I went to the Orient, until there were thrown on me responsibilities with reference to the extension of civilization in those far-distant lands, I did not realize the immense importance of foreign missions. The truth is, we have got to wake up in this country. We are not all there is in this world. There are lots of people besides us who are entitled to our effort and our money and our sacrifice to help them on in the world."

Junior Auxiliary.

The Junior Auxiliary of Christ Church will begin its meetings for the year 1911-12, on Friday, November 3d, at 3.45 o'clock, and continue each Friday afternoon until May. We would like to call the attention of parents and Sunday school teachers to the real work that is laid out for the Juniors. It is not merely a sewing society, where the older girls come to make garments for some local charity and the little ones paste pictures in scrap albums or string beads to pass away an hour, but it is an auxiliary to the Board of Missions, and in its way just as important as any other auxiliary to the Board of Missions. We have our apportionment to meet. We must be self-supporting. In short, we are banded together to do our work for the little folks in the far-away lands, and not permitted to do diocesan work.

There has been a forward movement in missionary work among the women. There has been the same splendid concerted action among the men, why not among the children?

What we leaders ask is the co-operation of the parents and teachers to constantly bring before the children of all ages the remembrance that they were each one baptized "into the congregation of Christ's flock and signed with the sign of the cross, in token that hereafter he shall not be ashamed to confess the faith of Christ crucified, and manfully to fight under His banner against the sin, the world and the devil; and to continue Christ's faithful soldier and servant unto his life's end." That in the Episcopal church we are avowed missionaries from our birth, hence it is our solemn duty to do some of Christ's work, either in the mission field itself or to help those who are there.

May we trust that the announcement of the Junior Auxiliary meeting will be made from the desk each Sunday morning in the Sunday school, thus constantly impressing upon the minds of the children that each has a duty to perform, no matter how young he or she may be.

Leaders: Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Miss Ruth Henderson, Miss Ruth Norbom.

The Envelope System.

All persons in the congregation are invited to avail themselves of the systematic method of giving through the envelopes. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibules of the church, and pledges may be made for a weekly offering of an amount to suit the ability of each giver, from five cents a week, upward. There is a large number of persons who attend the services of the church who have not, as yet, availed themselves of this systematic method of giving and the Vestry earnestly hope that all worshippers in Christ Church will become subscribers through the Envelope system. In this way the income of the Parish becomes a fixed one, and this method affords an opportunity for every one to give according to his or her ability, systematically, regularly and conscientiously.

On signing the pledge card with name and address a package of envelopes will be sent to each subscriber.

This system of giving is the most methodical, the most practical and the most business-like. It also has the warrant of Holy Scripture: "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay in store as God hath prospered him."—1 Corinthian xvi: 2.

All Saints' Day Services.

The services on All Saints' Day (November 1st) will be Holy Communion, 7.30 A. M.; Holy Communion and sermon, 11.00 A. M. The offering at each of these services will be for Missions. The names of members of the Parish who have departed this life since last "All Saints' Day" will be read from the chancel and appropriate prayers will be said. Friends who wish to place memorial flowers on the Altar will please have them at the church early Tuesday afternoon.

Services on Thanksgiving Day.

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7.30 A. M., and at 11.00 o'clock. The special "Form of Prayer and Thanksgiving" are set forth in the Prayer Book immediately preceding "Forms of Prayer to be used in Families."

The offering on Thanksgiving Day will be, as usual, for the Episcopal Hospital.

Sunday Evening Musical Services.

On the first Sunday evening in each month, beginning the first Sunday evening in November (November 5th) and continuing until Lent, the service will largely consist of musical selections by the choir, short cantatas, selections from different oratorios, anthem, etc. The usual Sunday evening sermons on these occasions will be omitted. The Choir Master intends to make these musical services a special feature during the winter. A program of each service will be printed. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend. All seats are free at these evening services. The service will begin promptly at 7.45, and it is requested that all persons be present at the beginning of the service.

One of Chicago's leading business men has spent $7500 during the last two years in maintaining a campaign among the Presbyterian congregations of his section for the introduction of the every-member canvass and weekly offering for missions. He has paid the salary and traveling expenses of a layman for this work. As a result, the offerings of Presbyterians in the territory covered have greatly increased, not only for foreign missions, but for congregational support and all home causes. This business man is convinced that he never made a better investment.

Parish Guild

The Daughters of the King.

A meeting of the Daughters of the King was held at the Rectory on October 16. There was a full attendance, and all manifested an interest in the work of the coming winter. A spirit of sadness pervaded the meeting, which was the first which had been held since the death of our beloved president, Mrs. Humphrey. In the passing away of Mrs. Humphrey we have lost a friend, who, by her unfailing loyalty and devotion, has been an inspiration to us all. We can only pray that her influence may still be felt in our chapter, and that by our greatly increased interest and work, we may show that the value of her example has not been lost.

It was with great regret that the resignation of Miss Gomersall, as secretary, was accepted. Miss Gomersall has been in ill health for some months, but we prayerfully hope that she will soon be much better and will again take her place as one of our most faithful workers.

The following officers were appointed:

President, Miss Grace M. Roop.
Vice President, Miss Brobson.
Secretary, Miss Parker.
Treasurer, Miss Horobin.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The Christ Church Chapter holds its meetings on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month in the Parish House at 7.30 o'clock. Beginning with the meeting on November 2d, a course of study on "The Gospel of Efficiency—Ten Lessons in Social Service," will be commenced under the leadership of Dr. Rubens Humphrey, Director of Physical Activities, at the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A., who has become associated with the chapter again after a long absence from the Parish.

Any men of the Parish who desire to attend this study class are cordially invited to do so and may be assured of a hearty welcome.

C. H. J.

"Boys' Club."

The Boys' Club of Christ Church is under the direction of Mr. Samuel F. Phelps, assisted by Mr. William S. Owens and Mr. White. The club proposes this winter to have many features of interest to young boys and men, and the meetings will be held weekly in the Parish House on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. The enlarged Parish House affords excellent accommodations for boys' meeting-rooms and the large play room, with fourteen-foot ceiling, shower baths and lockers (to be put in later) are already in great demand, not only by the boys of the Parish, but by the girls' societies, who will also be permitted to use the rooms on certain evenings in the month.

The Boys' Club welcomes all boys in the neighborhood, between the ages of twelve and twenty. Boys are invited to come to the club room and apply for membership on Friday evening, or they may send their names to any of the managers or to the Rector.

Each boy must be properly vouched for when applying for membership in the club.

Report of the Vestment Guild. (Formerly Choir Guild).

At the meeting of the Vestment Guild of Christ Church, held in the Parish House, October 3d, the following officers were elected:

Chairman, Mrs. Topliff Johnson.
Treasurer, Mrs. Sheldon Potter.
Secretary, Mrs. Justus Thacher.

Miss Chase will have entire charge of the Rector's vestments.

The past year has been a busy one and productive of real results. Gowns and collars for the women of the choir have been renewed, also vestments for the men. At Easter a surplice was presented to Mr. Arndt by the Guild, and two others were provided later, to be used by the visiting clergy. The Guild was enabled to present these through the voluntary offer of Miss Chase to make them.

The Guild has suffered a great loss in the death of Mrs. James Y. Humphrey, known among the members of the choir as the "Choir Mother," having been associated with the work since the time of its inception, and whose unfailing devotion in this, as in other parish work, leaves a beautiful memory, never to be effaced.

Women's Sunday Afternoon Bible Class.

The Women's Bible Class, which meets in the Parish House on Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock, has resumed its sessions and welcomes all women in the Parish to unite with them for an hour's study of the Bible. The class is taught by Mrs. Henry R. Baremore.

On the second Sunday in October was held a Corporate Communion of the teachers, officers and scholars of the Sunday school. It was inspiring to see so large a band of earnest Sunday school workers gathered together in God's house early Sunday morning to consecrate themselves anew to Him and to His service at the opening session of our school. All but two teachers and two officers were present. It was gratifying, also, to see so many scholars of the school—especially so many young men. Sunday school work will, indeed, become irksome to any who enter into it with other than the spirit of consecration. To one who enters into it in this spirit, however, the service becomes a joyous one, and its difficulties and discouragements and, it may be, apparent failures, will be more than met and overcome in the consciousness that the service is not for time but for eternity; not for self, but for Him who has said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto Me."

A Memorial to Mrs. James Y. Humphrey.

The friends of the late Mrs. James Y. Humphrey will be pleased to learn that an opportunity will be afforded them to contribute to a fitting memorial to her name. No woman in the Parish was more highly respected and beloved than Mrs. Humphrey. She was "continuously given to good works," and many homes in the Parish, especially among the poor, have been cheered and comforted by her beautiful life and influence. The following persons, named from the various Parish Guilds, of which Mrs. Humphrey was a member, will act as a committee to receive contributions for a suitable memorial.

For the Mothers' Meeting—Mrs. Case.

For the Daughters of the King—Miss Roop.

For the Missionary Society—Mrs. Walter J. Crowder.

For the Choir Guild—Mrs. Sheldon Potter.

For the Sunday School—Miss Pastorius.

There will be no soliciting for contributions, but all who desire to give toward this memorial are invited to send their contributions to Mrs. Sheldon Potter, West Tulpehocken street.

The form of the memorial will be decided by the committee in charge.

Women's Missionary Meeting. (The Women's Auxiliary.)

On Wednesday afternoon, November 1st, will be held the first fall meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Parish. At that meeting the society will reorganize and plans and work for the winter will be agreed upon. The Rector issues a special invitation to "every woman in the Parish" to attend these meetings and identify herself with the great work for Missions. This work for Missions must not be left to a few faithful women, but should enlist the unselfish interest of every woman who calls herself a Christian. It is Christ's own command to every loyal follower: "Go ye out into all the world and preach the Gospel." Not every one can go to the mission field but every one can help in the cause of Missions by prayer, by work or by gifts. Let every woman in this parish set apart the afternoon of November 1st (All Saints' Day) and attend this meeting of the Women's Auxiliary at 4 o'clock. It will be an interesting meeting, and an opportunity will be given to all to learn of the great opportunities and the needs in the Missions of the church.

The annual missionary service of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Women's Auxiliary will be held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Walnut and Nineteenth sts., on Friday, November 10th, from 10 A. M. until 4.30 P. M. The speakers will be the Rt. Rev. S. M. Griswold, D. D., the Rt. Rev. F. F. Johnson, D. D., the Rev. H. St. George Tucker, of Tokyo, and the Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin. All are cordially invited to attend.

Junior Auxiliary Meeting.

The Junior Auxiliary—a society of girls who meet to sew and work for Missions—begin their fall meetings on the first Friday afternoon in November. It is intended this winter to make useful articles for the missionary fields in our western and southern dioceses. All girls between the ages of ten and sixteen are invited to come to the Parish House on Friday afternoons at quarter to four and to join the Happy Band of Missionary Workers. The society meets every Friday in the Parish House at quarter to four.

Who's Going to Church?

"Who's going to church?" Was it the question at the breakfast table? Did someone interrupt you reading your morning paper? Is father going? Is mother? Are the children dressed, and have they been to breakfast? Are they going?

Who's going to church? Think one moment seriously. Is that really a right sort of question to ask? Ought not going to church to be taken for granted, as we take for granted going to school, going to work, going to any duty, or pleasure? Why make an exception? Why put it in the category of inconsequentials, occasionals, accidentals, as one may snatch a holiday if one can get his affairs fixed, or take an evening for a neighborly visit? Isn't it a misconception, a mistake? Isn't this instinct of worship the most beautiful, after all, in the whole constitution of man? And are not the memorials of it, in art and song and prayer and charity, the most precious of all memorials of the human family?

Why do we go to church? We go for impressions; for pure and sacred associations; for a feeling, a culture we cannot get elsewhere. We do not go wholly for doctrine, for ceremony; we go because it is beautiful to rest from the thought and care of the world. It is God's house we enter; and all the presences, all the voices, are pure and holy. Is it not best for even little children to begin with these impressions, these sacred associations, this pure atmosphere, this culture they cannot get elsewhere, these influences whose impact upon the mind, the soul, the heart, are eternally good—to begin early?

The church is of just as much consequence in the economy of your lives as anything you can name. You do not need a newspaper one whit more than you need a sermon. It is as important that you go to church as that you rest from labor, or write your absent son or daughter. Your children need the influence of worship as much as they need the art of reading. You may think you yourselves are getting on in life just as well without the incentive of religion ministered through the Church, but you cannot and never will. Then think of the example we set. The good we can do.

Who's going to church, then? Why. Everybody! Going to church should be taken for granted? No question about it need to be asked; no question expected. Everyone in the family is going—everyone! Going to church should be as natural as going to breakfast, to school, to work.—Selected.

The Girls' Friendly Society

The Girls' Friendly Society has resumed its meetings for the winter.

On Tuesday evening, October 17th, the annual election of officers was held with the following results: Miss Mabel C. Robinson, President and Miss Olive Moore, Secretary.

Just for To-Day

Lord, for to-morrow and its needs,
I do not pray;
Keep me, my God, from stain of sin
Just for to-day.

Let me both diligently work,
And duly pray;
Let me be kind in word and deed
Just for to-day.

Let me be slow to urge my will,
Prompt to obey;
Help me to mortify my flesh
Just for to-day.

Let Ae no wrong or idle word
Unthinking say;
Set Thou a seal upon my lips
Just for to-day.

Lo, for to-morrow and its needs
I do not pray.
But keep me, guide me, love me, Lord,
Just for to-day.

News from the Mission Field

The goal of human history is the redemption of the world. If the field of Christ and the field of the Church is the world, so the field of every man with the love of God in his heart is the world.—J. Campbell White.

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " }

Nine months only have passed away since the Diocese of Pennsylvania lost by death its revered and saintly Bishop Whitaker, and now, again, our Diocese is called to mourn in the death of his beloved successor.

In the early hours of Thursday morning, November 14, the soul of the Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, D. D., entered into life eternal. Although his death was a great shock to all and a surprise to many, it was not entirely unexpected by those who were closest to him. The Bishop had been in ill health for several years, and at times was a great sufferer, but he was always uncomplaining and bore his suffering with a sublime heroism. Upon the insistence of physicians, however, he finally consented to resign, and his resignation was to have taken effect next February. He has been spared this great sorrow of relinquishing his Episcopal office and of giving over its duties to another. God in His merciful way has called him home before he was compelled to lay aside his burden and while still faithfully serving his Master and patiently laboring in His vineyard, the Church. In his patient suffering our beloved Bishop could feel the power of the apostolic words: "Let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."

"Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; we give thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those thy servants, who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labors. And we beseech thee that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Asleep in Jesus.

It was underneath the rush and roar of a great heathen city, in the solemn gloom of that rocky cavern known as the Catacombs of Rome. Many of God's people are sleeping where, centuries ago, they were here laid to rest, in a sure hope of that blessed resurrection promised the children of God.

And here, by the fitful glare of torches, and often in the needful secrecy of the night, the early Christians brought their dead to lay them in the chill bosom of the silent rock.

Many of the inscriptions carved upon those rocky tombs are dim with age; but on almost every one may yet be traced at least the two words, "in peace." Yes, they slept in peace, many a one resting after cruel conflict, imprisonment and torture—forever at peace.

But here and there fuller inscriptions are yet discernible, and many of these breathe a touching tenderness, words of loving farewell, of tender prayer, and a boundless faith in that "communion of saints" so precious to heart and soul.

These are but a few of the words of love and faith inscribed in characters that have grown dim with the flight of more than a thousand years. But how gloriously gleams the light of that faith through passing ages, all the brighter because of the gloom amid which it first shone forth. Surely, if in those dark days of persecution and sorrow bereaved hearts could thus commit their loved ones to God's care in that desolate cavern, we may with loving trust lay ours to rest in His sunshine, and write above them "in peace."

Advent.

The Church year revolves around the Person of Jesus Christ. He is the Sun of Righteousness, the great center, and the Church begins her Christian year by a return to Him from Whom she receives all light and life. Advent Sunday is the first day of the Church's new year. Thus it happens in the Kingdom of Heaven we live in advance of the world; we are a whole month on our way before the civil year begins. In this manner the Church teaches us to be ever on the alert, "looking for and hastening unto the coming of the day of God."

The feast of the Advent, which opens the Advent season, is one which strongly mingles the most joyous with the most appalling thoughts; for while it strikes the keynote of our Christmas rejoicings, it dwells on the first Advent, with especial reference to its bearings on that which is yet future, and for which we are called to prepare. Our "song is of mercy and of judgment."

How salutary to the soul this annual awakening and setting forward towards immortality! Advent season should always be one of serious contemplation for the final appearing of our Lord. It is, therefore, a "minor Lent," a time for reflection—always, however, in joyful contemplation. The message of St. John the Baptist is the message of Advent, "Repent, ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand"; and of Isaiah, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God."

And then comes the fulfillment this joyous coming of the Lord: "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord!"

Christmas.

Can you imagine the world and all that it represents to us, or our own lives, apart from the present life of the Holy Child? We would sink crushed beneath the weight of a world's sorrows, a world's injustices, a world's contradictions, and a world's mysteries, were it not for our faith in the Divine Son. Life would be a prolonged groping in an ever-thickening darkness were it not for the light which streams from the stable of Bethlehem. Once having received the Divine illumination, we cannot picture to ourselves life without the Presence of Jesus, without the purifying, sustaining grace, which flows from Him, ministered through the Sacraments of His Church. And if we cannot conceive of life without our Incarnate Lord, how could we think of death? How could we approach the dark shadows of that dreadful valley without the assurance of the presence of Him who has tasted death for every man? No, as men and women journeying rapidly onwards, as the coming of Christmas reminds us, through life to death, and through death to judgment, we know full well the meaning of the words, "I need Thy presence every passing hour."

Confirmation.

Shortly after Christmas the Rector will begin a course of lectures on Confirmation and the Teachings of the Church. A number of persons have expressed their desire to know more about the history and the liturgy of the Episcopal Church, and these lectures are intended to give such information to all who may desire it.

A cordial invitation is extended to every one, whether they have been Confirmed or not, to attend these lectures.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

Contributions for greens for the Christmas decorations of the church are asked from the members of the congregation. Contributions may be sent to the chairman of the committee in charge, Dr. Wm. N. Johnson, 6460 Main street.

The Christ Church Club has kindly offered to defray the expense of furnishing and planting a hedge around the entire Parish House property. This large lot, facing on Washington lane and McCallum street, has recently been enclosed by a six-foot iron fence. A beautiful playground for tennis and other outdoor games has thus been added to the equipment of the Parish.

A limited number of Christ Church Calendars for 1912 has been ordered and will be on sale after December 1. The new calendars are different from those of previous years and are more artistic in design. An excellent cut of the interior of the church appears on the upper left-hand corner, while on the upper right-hand corner of the calendar is a cut of Axel Ender's "Resurrection," the same as represented in stone on the memorial reredos in Christ Church. The price of the calendar is thirty cents and they may be procured from Miss Dahl or from the Sexton.

The House Warming.

It was hardly possible to be present at the Parish House warming, held Wednesday, November 14, without being impressed with the thought that it was the most successful gathering ever held in our Parish. All who came were astonished at what they saw. The remodeled rooms were most artistically decorated with costly rugs, tapestries and furniture loaned by members of the congregation, while the new rooms were adorned with flags and were most attractive. It was clear that the equipment of Christ Church for effective parish work is now almost complete. We now need furnishings for the various rooms, and these, no doubt, will soon be forthcoming.

A committee of ladies received the guests as they arrived, and the general sociability was most marked. Some four hundred persons inspected the new rooms and were refreshed by lemonade, cake, sandwiches and coffee. Our choir-master, Mr. Rile, provided us with excellent music, both vocal and instrumental, which contributed greatly to our pleasure. Short addresses were made by our Rector, by Rev. Dr. Falkner and by the chairman of the Parish House Committee, who presented the new and improved buildings to the Parish. Altogether it was a most pleasing evening and we hope it is only a foretaste of many others.

Of course the improvements are not fully paid for, but the need was so urgent that it was thought best to go ahead. So far the cost, exclusive of the beautiful new iron fence, is about $12,500, of which $5000 is in hand, leaving about $7500 still to be raised, but it is believed that our money has been well spent and the recognition of this fact will bring a continuance of your generous aid.

Men's Corporate Communion.

In every parish of this Diocese the men are requested to congregate at the early Communion Service on Sunday, December 3. There are several reasons for this request, which should not seem unusual. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew has set apart the Sunday nearest to St. Andrew's Day (November 30) for their annual Corporate Communion. It is not possible to get the members together in one church, and so each chapter will celebrate the service in its own parish. The great good which is derived by these corporate gatherings is so apparent that the men desire to share them with those who are not Brotherhood men in name. Those who attend are encouraged to greater efforts by the influence which comes from kneeling side by side with other men who have the same desires and purposes. The Rector would be strengthened and made happy by your presence. It would prove to him that his efforts had not been in vain. The writer does not know at this time how many male communicants are on our Parish list. He does know, however, that if fifty men of this Parish would surprise the Rector by being present and partaking of the Holy Communion at this service he would remain happy until a like service in 1912 would increase his joy by the sight of one hundred men, which would be the natural result.

Rudyard Kipling might have said in his latest poem, "For the female of the species is more God-like than the male," and not been accused of giving praise. It is a fact, however, and it is up to the men to take their stand and make Christianity a man's religion. The time is ripe for action. The Men and Religion movement has many great opportunities for men to take advantage of for his own good and that of his fellow-men. Will you help? Will you be present on Sunday, December 3, at 7.30 A. M.?

Sunday School Notes.

The attendance shows some improvement, as follows:

October 15	134
October 22	147
October 29	172
November 5	185
November 12	187
November 19	199

Five new classes have been formed in the last month, and we hope for more.

We could use more teachers. Who will give their help to this most important work? If you cannot attend regularly, won't you join the Training Class taught by Col. Sheldon Potter, so as to be ready to act as substitute teacher when called?

Fifteen minutes of each session are given to memory exercises, when the scholars are asked to memorize the books of the Bible, names of the Apostles, etc., thus storing the minds of the scholars with useful knowledge.

It is proposed to send the parents occasional reports showing the attendance and standing of their children in the school. This is the common custom in day schools. Why should it not be good in Sunday School work?

Prizes are to be given at Easter to those who bring the largest number of new permanent scholars.

Special Meetings for Men.

On the Sunday evenings during Advent Special Meetings for Men will be conducted in the Parish House by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, commencing at 7 o'clock and lasting one-half hour.

The object of the meetings is to interest the men of our Parish in the "Men and Religion" movement—something which many, perhaps, have heard mentioned or noticed in the papers, but know nothing whatever of its purpose or organization.

Heretofore, in our church in particular, men have been much in the background. From now on it is purposed to make religion a man's religion, and the "Men and Religion" movement is the means whereby all Christians—Protestants and Romanists—all who worship God and acknowledge Jesus Christ as the Saviour of the world are going to make this worship mean something to themselves and to other men and boys who have not that privilege.

Every man in the Parish is earnestly asked to attend these meetings and help make them both of value and interest. Only a few minutes will be occupied by the leader in bringing out some leading points, after which the meeting will be thrown open to all for discussion or questions.

The subject for discussion at these meetings will be "Community Extension."

Dec. 3—Introduction, Dr. Rubens Humphrey.

Dec. 10—Boys' Work, Mr. S. V. Wilcox.

Dec. 17—Bible Study, Mr. C. H. Jackson.

Dec. 24—Social Service, Mr. W. S. Owens.

Kindly bear these dates and subjects in mind. Come yourself and bring your friends, and let this Advent season bring new life and energy into the men of our Parish.

Our Mothers' Meeting.

We Mothers, including Mrs. Morrison and myself, met almost joyfully on October 3, after our absence during the summer, and started right in for real work, in consequence of which we have aprons, towels, dusters, et cetera, for sale, also some beautifully woven "Carpet de Rag" of well-blended colors, ready for immediate use. Surely, at this time of the year, somebody wants that carpet, and we want the money. We shall be very glad to take orders for our saleable stock and shall endeavor to please our kind patrons.

Every first Tuesday of the month is our gala day. Music—vocal—most effectively rendered by one of the members of our choir, Miss Emily Louise Collisson, was enjoyed by all on this last gala day, after which we all felt like our noted little friend, "Oliver Twist," mentally exclaiming, "Please give me some more."

A kind friend who loves us and whom we love, for love begets love, furnishes us with what the small boy calls "Eats." If that word is really slang (it sounds very like it), I trust you will pardon me.

We now number eighteen mothers, and if there are any other hard-working, tired mothers who may read this and can be spared from their household duties for a pleasant social time each Tuesday afternoon from 2.30 until 4.30 we will most gladly welcome them to our harmonious family circle.

EDITORIAL

The members of the Vestry who have been in charge of the improvements to our Parish House are indeed to be congratulated on the very acceptable result which has rewarded their efforts. To those of us who have been working in the old quarters our new accommodations are a most welcome change.

In the altered first floor of the old building and the addition to both floors are to be found ample and comfortable accommodations for every part of our activities. One of the strong reasons for making the improvements was to provide surroundings so pleasant and convenient that no society or committee would find it necessary to meet at the home of one of its members. It is much better that our gatherings should all be held in the Parish House, which is provided for just this purpose.

Let us, therefore, suggest that the improved plant be used to its utmost capacity and thus show to all that Christ Church is not only awake to her opportunities and duties in this community, but, better yet, that she is doing her best to fill the place she should occupy.

The editors desire to thank the parishioners of Christ Church who have responded so generously to the appeal for funds to carry on the publication of "The Chimes." In the last issue it was stated that the editors desired to announce in the present number that enough money had been received to carry the publication through the year. We are pleased to be able to make that statement. Owing to the number who have answered with their subscriptions and to one friend in particular, who has contributed $25.00 for this purpose, the publication of this volume is assured.

While we are thus able to carry on "The Chimes" for the year, let no one who had intended or who wishes to contribute to this cause hold back. There are times, such as Christmas and Easter, when additional pages are desired or cuts might be procured to better the appearance of the paper, and the additional money received could be used in this way. Since the last issue subscriptions have been received from the following persons:

Miss L. Fell
Mrs. Morris
Mrs. P. J. Strasburger
Miss Olive Kirkland
Miss M. Bryan,
Mrs. J. Cook,
Mrs. Lemuel Davis,
Mrs. Ellis,
Mr. W. C. Feist,
Mrs. W. Ifill,
Mrs. W. A. Montgomery,
Mr. William E. Mikell,
Mrs. R. Ouderkirk,
Mr. L. E. Pfeiffer,
Mr. William R. Pugh,
Mr. H. B. Worrell.

The full program of church services for Christmas Day, together with the schedule of Sunday School entertainments, etc., for Christmas week will be published in the next issue of "The Chimes," which will be issued before Christmas.

By request of the Rt. Rev. Philip Mercer Rhinelander, Bishop of the Diocese, the Bishop's chair in the Chancel will be draped for thirty days, in memory of the late "Alexander Mackay-Smith, Bishop and Doctor."

Parish Guild

The Boys' Club.

A very promising work has been inaugurated this fall among the boys of this neighborhood. The large playroom for boys, equipped with shower baths, etc., in the new Parish House has become a great attraction for boys, and the attendance of the Boys' Club is steadily increasing. All boys in this vicinity are cordially invited to join this Club, which meets every Friday night in the Parish House.

It is advisable for boys to unite with the Club at once, while the classes and companies are being organized. The Rector has received the following communication from Mr. Samuel F. Phelps, who is in charge of the Club:

Germantown, November 16, 1911.

Rev. Charles Henry Arndt,
59 West Tulpehocken Street,
Germantown, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Arndt:

In relation to the Boys' Club, notice of which appeared in "The Chimes" for this month, I beg to advise that at our second meeting in the new room, on November 10th, we had an attendance of eighteen boys. This was a large increase over the first meeting, and I hope to be able to report to you a steady increase from now on. Any boy who was present that night, or at the Parish House Warming last evening, should at once appreciate the opportunity you have placed at his disposal, and with the assistance of Mr. White and Mr. Owens, I trust to be able to organize a Club that will be a credit to our Parish.

In addition to using the large room for basketball, indoor baseball, etc., I purpose to organize a company on military lines, including gymnastic exercises, devoting part of the evening to drilling and the balance to recreation. For any boy who does not care to take part in the above will be provided other amusements, and once a month during the winter I hope to furnish them with some form of outside entertainment.

On Friday evening, December 1st, we will hold a general meeting for organization and election of officers, and I am desirous of having a large attendance on that night, and extend, through you, a most hearty welcome to all boys of twelve years and over to join with us to make the Boys' Club of Christ Church one of the features of our Parish.

Yours very sincerely,

SAMUEL F. PHELPS.

Girls' Friendly Society.

Now that the new Parish House has been turned over to the congregation for use, every Tuesday evening will find a busy meeting of the Girls' Friendly Society planning for the furnishing of the room which is to be largely the Girls' Friendly room. Plans are now under way for the furnishing of this room, and we hope soon to have everything in place.

A stenciling class has been formed under the leadership of Miss Beatrice Morgan, and many pretty things have already been made by the members of this class. Curtains will be made by this class for the new room, and if others desire them for windows in their rooms we will be glad to inform them of the cost and undertake the work for them.

No other classes have been definitely decided upon and no further plans will be made now until after the first of the year. We cordially welcome new members to our Girls' Friendly Branch. We expect to devote one Tuesday a month to a Social Evening and have some pleasant surprises in store.

Choir Notes.

On Wednesday evening, October 4, the choir spent a very pleasant evening at the home of Mrs. Jackson, in Tioga.

The regular party given by the choir on Hallowe'en was held on Wednesday evening, November 1, at the home of the Choirmaster.

The following members have joined the choir: Miss Iola Seeds, Miss Painter, Mr. Abrams and Mr. Wenard.

The music for Christmas will include Stanford in A, morning service, and, by request, Gounod's "St. Cecelia," Communion Service.

The choir has started a saving fund society. Each member contributes something each week. It was started September 15, 1911. Miss Duling is treasurer. The amount on hand is nearly $150.00, and will be put in bank until next July, when the members will receive their savings and will go on a vacation collectively.

Women's Auxiliary.

At the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society (the Women's Auxiliary), on the first Wednesday evening in November, the Rt. Rev. William C. Gray, D. D., Missionary Bishop of Southern Florida, gave an interesting address on his work among the Seminole Indians and colored people of the South and made a special appeal for financial assistance to rebuild the church for colored people at Key West, which had been blown down by a tornado.

At this meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. William E. Mikell.
Vice President, Mrs. William N. Johnson.

Treasurer, Mrs. Samuel F. Phelps.
Secretary, Mrs. Topliff Johnson.

The Rector appointed the following committees:

On Colored Missions—Miss Sally Johnson, Mrs. Keith R. Rodney, Mrs. C. H. Arndt.

Diocesan Committee—Mrs. R. P. Mogridge, Mrs. Henry S. Abel, Miss Virginia Thacher.

Foreign Committee—Mrs. W. J. Crowder, Mrs. Guenther, Mrs. William N. Johnson.

Domestic Committee—Mrs. Charles Heyer, Mrs. T. H. Carmichael, Mrs. W. E. Mikell.

Indian Hope Association—Mrs. F. L. Donlevy, Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Miss L. W. Fell.

The next meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House on Wednesday afternoon, December 13, at 3 o'clock. Every woman in the Parish is invited to attend the meetings of the Auxiliary and to unite in the work for Missions.

The Rector has appointed Mrs. Keith R. Rodney as the representative from Christ Church on the Board of Managers of the Industrial Home for Colored Women. This home is doing a great work for colored women in this vicinity and should meet with a more liberal support from all the people of Germantown. Christ Church has a special interest in this home, as it was to the Rector of this Parish that the colored people in this vicinity first made their appeal for assistance, which resulted, by the co-operation of other parishes in Germantown, in the establishment of the Industrial Home for Colored Women, located at 30 Armat street.

The home is now in charge of a Board of Managers composed of representative women of the various religious bodies in Germantown. Those interested in this work are invited to visit the home at any time.

Preceding the Psalter, in the Book of Common Prayer, are Forms of Prayer to be used in Families. It is an order, we fear, but little observed. It cannot be the fault of the prayers themselves, for they are excellent. Nor would it matter if some other form should be observed instead. There are many excellent manuals for family devotion. Those of Bishop Wainwright and of Dr. Goulburn are especially good. There is no excuse for the devout Churchman, who, being the head of a family, fails to have daily family devotions. It witnesses to the too often forgotten fact that the head of the house is responsible before Almighty God for those of his household; that he is a priest in his own house; that as such he should instruct his family in the Faith, and in duty towards God and men; for himself and for his, claim a daily forgiveness; make an ever-renewed consecration; ask a daily sanctification, offering before God a morning and evening sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving. Daily reading of Scripture and daily prayer, in the presence of the assembled household, will prove one of the most effectual means for fulfilling one's duty, as a Christian teacher and priest, to those under his own roof. It will be a holy and blessed memory to the children, to their latest hour on earth. When scattered through the world, as they soon will be, their thoughts will oftenest recur to the old home and hearthstone in this connection; in memory, often going back tenderly to the times when their father or mother used to sit among their children, reading from the Holy Book; and when, as a family, on their knees before the Throne of Grace, God's forgiveness and mercy and strength were implored and God's joy and peace came to their hearts and gave to their lives a heavenly benediction.

A Scrap of Church History.

"The Church of England stands the one Church which has never separated from any Church or person."

We find this remarkable saying in the writings of the late Right Rev. George Ridding, Bishop of Southwell, in England; remarkable not only by its clear, strong utterances, but for its perfect truthfulness. And in thinking of it we must remember that the Church of England and the Protestant Episcopal Church in this country are, as declared by our own civil laws, "the same Church." The Church in this country is the "Old Church in a New Land." And the honor claimed for that Church in England belongs as much to the Church in this land. "It is the one Church which has never separated from any other."

It did not separate from the Presbyterians, or from the Methodists, or from the Baptists, or from the Quakers. It stood firm and steadfast on the foundation and principles it had held from the days of the first Apostles; and every one of those other bodies went out from it, and separated themselves from it. They were not thrust out, they went. It was their voluntary act.

And it is equally true that the Church of England never separated from the Church of Rome. The Church of Rome withdrew from the Church of England and separated itself from it. Up to the reign of Queen Elizabeth and for some years during her reign there was but one Church in England; and, although they differed somewhat in their teaching, those who held fast to Roman doctrine and those who accepted the reformed views all attended the same Church and worshipped together. And Lord Chief Justice Cook asserts that then the Pope offered to the Queen that he would consent to and permit the English Prayer Book if she would only acknowledge his supremacy. This she declined to do. And the Pope thereupon issued his command that his adherents in England should withdraw from communion with the Church of England and form a separate organization.

It is well that these historical facts should be known. It has been common to charge the Church of England and its daughter in this country with being uncharitable and excluding others.

But it never excluded any of them, they went out voluntarily. She stands where she has always stood. Her doors stand open, and her welcome is warm and ready for any one who wishes to enter.—Bishop Paret.

the sick and needy, to lift up the fallen, to encourage each struggler after virtue. He wants a life that is drawn so closely to Himself that the world will be crucified in us that our life will be hid with His in God. He wants us to feel no fear when death's shadows close about us, because the hand that guided us in life will lead us through the dark valley to the light beyond.

And the Church stands as the rallying ground for all who seek such a life. Jesus Christ established His church in this world to be His witness and to lead all men unto truth. On the threshold of another new year His voice is calling unto men and women to come unto Him to join in His Communion and to follow "in His steps" to a nobler and a holier life.

Christmas.

The great event which the Church celebrates on the twenty-fifth of December, is a point in history from which the religious, social and art world of our planet changed its axis. The human race since then has been gradually rising to a higher plane of civilization. The Person who by the most wonderful life ever lived brought about this change was born on Christmas Day. Christmas, therefore, is a religious, not a secular festival. They who forget this and devote this Holy Day entirely to secular amusements desecrate the day and dishonor God. This day is called "Christmas," from Him who sanctifieth the day. He only is honored by acknowledging on this day His divine character, and by drawing closer unto Him and endeavoring to follow His example. Christmas rejoicing at this season is intended to be a species of mutual congratulation and thanksgiving for God's "unspeakable gift" to man. Ever Christmas greeting means, "Rejoice with me!" And why? "For unto us is born this day a Saviour which is Christ the Lord." Without this conviction and the underlying conception and realization of the most important of all historic events and its consequence to the human race, our Christmas gifts, our feasts, our family gatherings, are meaningless. Christmas should first of all be a feast of Christ. If at the root of all our joy at this season there is not a real, burning flame of religious devotion, we are no better than the Romans in their Saturnalian orgies. But Christmas is the time when hearts are moved to generous impulses, noble deeds, loving, self-sacrificing devotions, all inspired by the great love of God, who gave to the world on this Holy Day, His Only Begotten Son. Every Christian heart, therefore, will yearn to come on Christmas Day to the source of all sympathy and love, Jesus Christ. Then will this day be, indeed, a happy, a joyous Christmas Day.

The Rector desires to call the attention of all parishioners to the special offering on Christmas Day. The object is one which must appeal to every churchman—the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund. The superannuated, or infirm, or disabled army and navy officer is taken care of by the Government, there is provision made for that noble band who grow old as teachers, many corporations pension those who have grown old in faithful service—but for God's faithful minister, who gives his life's service in the interest of others, there is nothing in our church today but to turn him out, like an old horse or a dog, to die. Last year the amount yielded from invested funds for the aged and infirm clergy of our church was a few cents over eight dollars a year. A little over eight dollars a year was apportioned to all clergy of our church over 65 years of age. How long will we permit this condition to exist? Every dollar that is given on Christmas Day will go into a sinking fund, the proceeds of which will help to save some poor, faithful minister of the church from starving in his old age. By the request of the Treasurer of the General Clergy Relief Fund, copies of a sermon on this subject have been sent to this parish with a request that they be distributed. They may be found in the vestibules. It is hoped that the offering on Christmas Day for the aged and infirm clergy will be a generous one.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

Service on Christmas Day.

The services on Christmas Day will be as follows:

Holy Communion, 6.30, 7.30 A. M.;
Morning Prayer, Holy Communion,
Sermon—11.00 o'clock. The offering on Christmas Day will be for the Aged and Infirm Clergy.

Confirmation at Christ Church.

The Rector has received notification from the Bishop of the Diocese, appointing the Fourth Sunday evening in Lent, March 17th, the date for Confirmation at Christ Church. Instruction on "Confirmation and the Teachings of the Church" will be begun on Friday, January 19th, in the Parish House at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening. These instructions will continue to be given at the same hour on every Friday afternoon and evening until the Bishop's visitation. Persons who are contemplating confirmation are requested to give their names to the Rector at once. He will be pleased to confer with any who wish to speak to him on the subject. All persons, whether confirmed or unconfirmed, are cordially invited to these Friday instructions on "Confirmation and the Teachings of the Church."

New Renters of Pews.

The Accounting Warden reports a number of new comers into the Parish who have recently rented pews or sittings in Christ Church. Whilst Christ Church is essentially a "free church," in that every one is cordially welcome, and the number of pews marked "vacant" is sufficient to accommodate all strangers and occasional attendants, the Vestry desire to encourage all persons who attend the services of the church to contribute in some systematic way toward the maintenance of the church and its philanthropies. Besides the expense of running the Parish, the church has many assessments made upon it for the support of hospitals, missions, works of charity, both within and without the Diocese, both at home and abroad. These opportunities for doing good should be shared in by the many, and not be borne by the few and therefore, to the end that every one may enjoy the privilege of doing his or her share in supporting and extending this work for Christ and His Kingdom on earth, that this Parish is endeavoring to do, the Vestry invite every one to become a regular and systematic contributor to the support of the Parish and its work.

There are two sources from which the revenue of the church is derived. First: Pew rents; second, the envelope system. All who desire to do so are invited to rent pews or sittings. Those who prefer to contribute through the Envelope system are invited to take a pledge card, to be found in the vestibule, and pledge the amount they desire to give weekly. Place the card on the plate on any Sunday and a package of envelopes will be forwarded to the subscriber. For further information, the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, may be seen after any service or may be addressed at 117 West Upsal street, Germantown.

Car Barn Services.

This is a matter which people who are interested in work for the Master should give serious consideration. There are two reasons for this, which include all minor reasons. From a religious standpoint it is the duty of Churchmen to carry the Gospel to these men who do not have the opportunity to attend church. From a worldly and practical viewpoint these services cause many of the men to rise above the level to which their work naturally holds them and to put into practice what they hear at the services held in the different car barns. This results in better service on the cars and can be proven from past experience.

At the Pelham car barn the Chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew located in this vicinity hold services every Sunday at 12.30 o'clock. Christ Church is responsible for the third Sunday of each month and it is in the hope of interesting more of our people in this work that this article is written.

The men like singing and will sing themselves if they have others to lead. This Chapter is small—only five members—and we have no one to play the organ. We appeal for assistance in this work, and trust that some one, not necessarily a man, will volunteer to play the organ on this Sunday and that several men and boys will volunteer to help in the singing. The service lasts only one hour at the most and whatever inconvenience may be incurred will be amply repaid when the thought comes to your mind that you are doing the Master's work and helping those who otherwise would hardly know it was God's day of worship.

Midnight Service, New Year's Eve.

A solemn Midnight Service will be held in Christ Church on New Year's eve, beginning promptly at 11 o'clock. The church will be open all evening for private prayer and meditation. At midnight the chimes will peal forth a joyous welcome to 1912 and ring out to every home a Happy New Year.

"Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The eager heart, the kindest hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be."

Sunday School Christmas Service.

The Sunday School Christmas service will be held in the church on Sunday afternoon (Christmas eve) at half-past three o'clock. At this service the school will sing their Christmas carols and the address will be delivered by the Rev. H. Cresson McHenry, of the City Mission. All members of the Parish and friends of the Sunday School are invited to attend this Christmas Carol Service.

The usual evening service will be omitted on Sunday, December 24th.

Sunday School Christmas Entertainments.

The Christmas Entertainment for the Main and Intermediate Departments of the Sunday School will be held on the evening of Holy Innocents' Day (Thursday, December 28th) at 8 o'clock.

A Christmas Cantata will be given on this evening by twenty odd members of the Sunday School.

In the afternoon of the same day, the Primary Department of the school will hold their Christmas entertainment at 3 o'clock, consisting of a Christmas story acted out by members of the school and illustrated by stereopticon views. Word has been received that Santa Claus is expected to arrive at about half-past three o'clock on that afternoon. The parents and friends of the scholars are invited to both of these entertainments. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Heyer, Miss Pastorius, Miss Morgan, Mr. Middleton, Mr. Jackson.

Annual Offering for the Sunday School

The annual offering for the support of the Sunday School of Christ Church will be taken on the Fourth Sunday in Advent (December 24th). The Sunday School is the most important parochial work of the Church and should receive the generous support of every member of the congregation. Christ Church Sunday School is largely self-supporting, and in addition the scholars and teachers give largely to missions and other charitable objects. To provide the school with lesson papers, magazines, books, etc., and to help defray the expenses of the Children's Christmas Entertainments, the Easter services, printing and other necessary expenditures the members of the congregation are asked to give $200 annually. It is hoped that this amount will be fully realized at the offering on the Fourth Sunday morning in Advent.

Church Periodical Club.

Will some person or persons kindly volunteer to send one or more of the following periodicals, monthly or weekly, when you have finished reading them? The former contributors have been obliged to discontinue these magazines and we wish, if possible, to avoid telling the recipients they must cease to look forward to this great privilege which has afforded them such real happiness. Those desired are:

"Good Housekeeping,"
"Outlook,"
"Literary Digest,"
"Collier's,"
"Success,"
"Continent."

Kindly send to the Librarian for particulars.

A Missionary Service in Christ Church.

A special Missionary Service will be held in Christ Church on the third Sunday after the Epiphany, January 21st. It is expected that Mr. John Wood, of New York, Secretary of the Board of Missions, will address our people on the work of Missions. Mr. Wood is one of the best informed men in the Church on the subject of Missions, and it will be a rare privilege for our people to hear him.

A limited number of "Christ Church Calendars" for 1912 may be purchased from Miss Dahl or the Verger for 30 cents apiece. These calendars are different in style from those of previous years and are very neat and artistic in appearance. They note the great Festivals and Holy Days of the church year, together with the days of fasting and the phases of the moon for each month.

Once again the happy Christmastide is approaching and we are all busy preparing for the most joyous of all the world's feast days. Each of us is no doubt looking forward with keen interest to the pleasures which the day will bring to those who are near and dear to us. It is, indeed, a great privilege to be able to give pleasure to those around us, but we should not lose sight of the many who are not fortunate enough to have loving friends and relatives to care for them. Hundreds, yes, perhaps, thousands of children in this city are doomed to the bitter disappointment of an empty Christmas stocking unless some stranger furnishes the necessary candy or toys or books with which to fill the void. There are many organizations which aim to provide both food and clothing for the needy and they are forced to their utmost to accomplish this without also seeking to give the children any unnecessary playthings. For us there is reserved the great pleasure of knowing that through our thought and generosity some poor children are saved the bitter feeling that Santa Claus has forgotten to visit them. Surely each of us knows where a toy or a doll or a book will make Christmas real and happy to some little one who must otherwise go in want of what our own children are enjoying. If you cannot find a case of this kind to help we know the Rector can furnish the names and addresses of many poor and needy who need your assistance. An act of this practical Christianity will do more to give us a Merry Christmas than any gift we may receive from our dear ones. Think of the comfort in the thought that you individually have been the means of bringing sunshine to the face of one of God's little ones where otherwise a rain of tears might have fallen. Remember how Christ himself said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me."

Since our last issue subscriptions have been received from Mr. L. F. Schaefer. Miss Sallie Johnson, Mr. W. G. Rowley, Miss Dora Crouder, Mr. George W. Harkins.

The editors feel that they can reasonably expect copy regarding the activities of our various parish societies to be sent to them without having to constantly remind the members of the organizations that we desire news items.

The time that such copy should reach us is very clearly expressed at the head of this page, and must be strictly complied with, unless special permission be secured from one of the editors.

In future unless copy is furnished us to fill up the space on pages 7 and 8, allotted to Parish Guild, it will be necessary to use these pages for general matter of interest to all of our readers. It is, however, much to be desired that every society be represented on our pages, and we earnestly desire and request that each organization will appoint one member to whom we may look for news of the happenings in his or her particular part of the Parish Guild.

Girls' Friendly Society.

We have just had a very interesting letter from Miss Clarkson, who was the leader of our Literature Class last winter. She is at present in France, having been in Europe since the middle of August.

She writes us of her very pleasant trip through Switzerland, where in October they take breakfast and lunch out-of-doors. She went up the Jungfrau and writes that you can see the birds flying beneath you in the valley, and can also see the avalanches start at the top of the mountains.

In the French city where she is now staying she says that on All Saint's Day the cemetery is wonderfully decorated, not only with cut flowers and plants, but with wreaths and set pieces of imitation flowers made of glass beads strung on wire.

On Sunday evening, January 7th, the third of the Special Musical Services, will be sung by the choir, program of which may be found in this issue.

On Tuesday evening, November 28th, the choir were entertained by Miss Linck and Miss Willard, two choir members, at the home of the former in Germantown. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

On Wednesday evening, January 24, the choir will give an entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections and recitations. The tickets are twenty-five cents and can be obtained from any member of the choir or the sexton. The proceeds will go toward the Organ Repair Fund.

Mothers' Meeting.

We meet every Tuesday at 2.30 in the Parish House. The 9th of January, which is the second Tuesday of the month, we are looking forward to our annual Christmas dinner. Then some of our kind friends in the parish will not only help us by contributing toward the dinner, but will also assist as a committee of arrangements on that occasion.

We do want to have a "Sale" of clothing, garments that have been laid aside but not worn out, and will be very glad to have our good friends donate anything of that kind and send them to the parish house.

We all know that if the coming winter be hard and severe many things not needed by those who are able to provide better will be serviceable and appreciated by those less fortunate, who cannot buy new clothing and whose larder is often empty.

Church Tramps.

The tramp leads a life of ease and variety which has, according to the testimony of a "professional," much in it to fascinate and interest the man whose ambition is to pass through the world bearing as little responsibility as possible and whose aim is to get his living out of the world without any care whether or not he makes any return to bountiful nature.

And there are church tramps. These, as a rule, dress very well; they go from church to church; they occupy front seats; they are always found among the pleased auditors of "Special sermons and extra musical programs" which furnish for them the spiritual variety which their prototypes in ordinary trampdom find in their aimless journeyings over the earth. The church tramp will drop a small coin on the passing collection plate; he will visit the church social and flatter the preacher, but carefully avoids an introduction to the church treasurer.

With the air of one conferring a favor, these religious wanderers will come to the minister for baptisms, funerals and other ministerial acts. With all other arrangements previously made, they will mercilessly condemn the minister who will not cancel any previous obligation to attend to their present necessities and go to another minister who will quickly "respond with the hope of gaining a new member for his flock." The church and the minister which owed him nothing are spoken ill of and injured wherever and whenever possible.

How numerous these church tramps are! A city pastor performs as many ministerial acts and even more, for "outsiders" than he does for the families which belong to his parish. These are so many parasites sapping life and power from the church. Pastors should go out to the lost sheep with a view to drawing them into the fold; but they should be made to understand that they have no rights. That which is done for them is by grace and not their due. In point of fact, why should the man who does not feel the church to be worth his support in health want the church when he dies?

The church tramp will not be offended by this editorial, for he does not read the church paper. But we will have accomplished our purpose if we succeed in directing the attention of pastors and church members to this prevalent weakness to such an extent as to move them to develop the organized church life so thoroughly as to make it possible to absorb and assimilate the parasites which are sapping their local congregational energy and make them a part of the supporting and active church organism. Let pulpit and pew modify methods of work until the church tramp, the most destructive of spiritual parasites, is an impossibility.

A Recipe.

Take a quart of pure good will,
Flavor well with sympathy;
Boil it over the fire till
It is full of bubbling glee.
Season with a dash of cheer,
Mixed with love and tenderness,
Cool off in an atmosphere
That is mostly kindness.

Stick a dozen raisins in Made of grapes from laughter's vine,
And such fruits as you may win
In a purely jocund line.
Make a batter from the cream
Of good spirit's running high,
And you'll hand a perfect dream
Of a Merry Christmas pie.

People Will Talk.

You may get through the world, but
'twill be very slow,
If you listen to all that is said as you go;
You'll be worried and fretted, and kept in a stew,
For meddlesome tongues must have something to do—
And people will talk.

If quiet and modest you'll have it presumed
That your humble position is only assumed.

You're a wolf in sheep's clothing, or else you're a fool;
But don't get excited; keep perfectly cool—

For people will talk.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,
Or a slight inclination to take your own part,

They will call you an upstart, conceit-
ed and vain,

But keep straight ahead—don't stop to explain—

For people will talk.

If threadbare your dress and old-fashioned your hat—

Some one will surely take notice of that;

And hint rather strong that you can't pay your way,

But don't get excited whatever they say—

For people will talk.

Be Yourself.

Perhaps you see in some one else,
The man you'd like to be—
Perhaps the garments that he wears
Just suit you to a "T"—
Perhaps his wealth, his handsome face,
His air of sweet content,
Have made you want to copy him
And all these things pre-empt.

But, friend, when God made you and me.

He made us to be men—
If apes He'd wanted, apes He'd made
And placed us in a pen—

He made us in His likeness:

To think, and act, and talk,

To have opinions of our own,
And not in "circles" walk.

There is in us ability

To be just what we will—

But we must draw upon it, friend,

If we'd get up the "hill."

We are just what we are, because

We are content to be

Like brothers to those "hairy men"

Who live up in a tree.

Read, ponder, think, reflect,

Select what's best for you—

Don't handicap with precedent

That which, to you, is true;

Then you're a part of "God's great plan,"

Nor bound by others' pelf—

You are a man, a noble man,

Because you are—yourself.

—Tho't out by "Pastor Bill."

Confirmation in Christ Church

The Bishop will confirm in Christ Church, on the Fourth Sunday in Lent March 17th. Confirmation instruction is being given by the Rector in the Parish House every Friday afternoon at four and Friday evening at eight o'clock. All persons, confirmed or unconfirmed are invited to attend these instructions. The Rector will be pleased to meet any who will confer with him, on this subject and he may be seen in Church after any Service, or at the Rectory, or by appointment. He cordially welcomes any person who may be overcome with doubt or desires information on religious subjects or who is burdened with any trouble. The Rector's first duty and greatest privilege is to help those who are "in trouble, sorrow, need, sickness or any other adversity," and he will gladly put aside everything else to minister to all such as shall come to him at any time.

A Word to Unconfirmed Manhood in this Community

There is a large number of men in this, as we presume there is in every community, whose attitude toward the Church is difficult to understand. They believe in its teachings, are willing to support it, want their children brought up in it and are often enthusiastic in its praise, yet have never been confirmed and seem to hold back from becoming communicants of the Church.

There are three excuses that seem to stand in the way of their confirmation.

First—There are those that fear they are not good enough to become communicants of the church. There are two ways of looking at this excuse. Confirmation is not intended for those who "are good enough" but for those who recognize their weakness and sinfulness and desire to become better. Of course there are those who love their Sins so well that they do not want to become better. To these Jesus Christ has no message. "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled." There is no blessing upon those who hunger for wickedness and thirst for iniquity.

But there are men in this class, while they think they are not good enough," they would like to be better, who would like to be better, have the strength to live up to their ideal of what a Christian should be. To such we would say that no human being who has high ideals lives up to them. The best we may do is to grow towards them and the best way to grow towards them is by using the means of grace, such as Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Communion, which God gives us through His Church. "My Grace is sufficient for thee," but only when men seek His Grace. "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance." You are a Sinner? Well, then, Christ calls you. Are you, like men, willing to answer that call? If so, then, show the stuff that is in you, and act like men. If so, then, let your best manhood assert itself. "put on the armor of Jesus Christ" and resolve to fight manfully under His banner unto your life's end. His Grace will sustain you in the fight. "Quit yourself like men" says the apostle. There is no defeat unless you refuse to serve or unless you give up the fight.

"Fight on my love, till death
Shall bring thee to thy God;
He'll take thee at thy parting breath
Up to His blest abode."

Second—There are men who hold back because they lack the moral courage to take the step. It does take a good deal of moral courage for a man to come forward and announce his principles publicly. But in politics, when great moral evils are at stake a man who lacks moral courage to declare his principles and does not dare to vote as his conscience dictates is considered a moral coward.

The State makes this test of her loyal citizens, and Christ makes His disciples stand this same test. We would glory in holding up the flag of our Country even if we stood alone and our life was forfeited by our courage.

Men! Let the same courageous manhood assert itself in raising the standard of the cross, remembering that if you through cowardice deny Christ before men He will deny you before your Father which is in Heaven.

Third—There are men who intend to take this step "some day," but find it convenient to make an excuse why they should not do it now.

In the United States Army there is an age limit after which men cannot enlist. Why not? Because, if the United States Army cannot have the services of a man when he is young and vigorous they do not want his services when he is old and feeble.

We do not say that Christ will not accept us at any age. His love is too great to reject His children at any age, but any man's self-respect ought to be such that he should be ashamed to say to Jesus Christ: "Yes, Lord, when I have given the best years of my life in serving my self; when I have spent my best vigor and manhood in the service of the world; when I am broken in health and am nearing my end, then I will enter Thy Service. Not now, Lord; not now in the strength of my manhood, when I could be of much valuable service to Thee! Not now, but after awhile." Will any man, who is a real man, offer such an excuse to God?

No true man will offer any such excuse to Christ. A service postponed from year to year. Men! Stand up like men and bear a man's testimony to the fact that Jesus Christ, is your Lord and Master, and although you may be unworthy followers, of Him yet you will endeavor by His help and guidance to be His faithful soldier and servant unto your life's end.

Your Rector needs the support of men, if his work is going to be effective in building up the character of the young and bringing into the Church the strength and vigor for its moral influence. The church needs the strong work, and the strong manhood of the land needs the Church. The Lord Jesus Christ calls for men and to-day all over this world, the bravest and the strongest and the best manhood in the world is more and more responding to that call and more and more the prophecy of our Lord is gradually being fulfilled. "If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me." Men! Men, who have not yet come out and declared yourselves for Christ! Is there any manly reason why you should not answer that call and come forward at this Confirmation and enlist in His Service?

One of the fundamental principles of our American liberty is the much talked of "Freedom of the Press" and yet it seems that at the present time even this is being carried to extremes in some ways. Particularly is this true in the accounts which are published in our newspapers and magazines of murders suicides and divorces. Much of the detail which is so vividly portrayed is both unnecessary and unwise. The average youthful mind will fairly devour the most revolting details of some crime or scandal and certainly not be benefited thereby. The police records are said to show conclusively that when some poor, crazed soul takes an unusual method of committing self-murder there is almost sure to follow a string of imitations on the part of others who are no doubt influenced by reading the printed accounts.

We do not mean to unduly blame the writers of the newspapers, for they are simply complying with a demand on the part of their readers for excitement and so-called entertainment. We are ourselves as a people much to blame and we have it in our power to correct this fault. If we demand clean, wholesome reading in our newspapers and plays in our theatres we can be accommodated. Is it not worth at least striving for?

New Envelope System

At the last meeting of the vestry it was decided to put into effect at Easter time, the beginning of the new fiscal year of the Parish, a system of weekly offering known as the "Duplex System." This system has been introduced into a large number of Parishes with most successful results. It consists of an envelope for every Sunday in the year, each envelope having in it two pockets. In one pocket is to be placed the subscriber's weekly offering for the current expenses of the Parish. In the other pocket (in the same envelope) is to be placed the weekly offering for missions. Thus side by side, on each Sunday of the year, the subscriber can give for his own parish expenses and also an offering for the extension of the Kingdom of Christ to those outside the Parish. In every Church where this system has been introduced a double blessing has flowed, an increase of revenue for the home Parish and an increase in the offering for Missions. By this system, the blue envelopes for monthly offerings to Missions now contained in each package of envelopes, will be done away with, and there will no longer be special Sundays in the year for Missionary offerings, as heretofore, but every Sunday will be a "Missionary Sunday," as it should be. It is hoped and firmly believed that this new system will be heartily welcomed by all our parishioners. It has been so welcomed wherever it has been introduced. It is a decided step forward in recognition of the fundamental principle of Christianity that our duty is not done when we give to the support of the work in our own Parish alone but our interest and our sympathy and our support should go out to others. The apportionment which the Board of Missions of our Church has asked this Parish to give is $1200 a year. All Parishes in the diocese and throughout the land are asked to give proportionately. This is the least that the Board of Missions can get along with from Christ Church if it is to meet the obligations which of course it must meet, that are resting upon it. If this Parish fails in raising its apportionment, some other Parish will have to make up our share, which, of course, no loyal member of Christ Church will want to have done. It need not be done if every one will give each Sunday something, according as God has blessed him, to the cause of the extension of the Kingdom of Christ throughout the world. There can be no doubt that every Christian and loyal member of Christ Church will cordially and generously respond to this larger opportunity for usefulness and that the result will be a double blessing, a blessing to this Parish and a blessing to the cause of Missions.

The New Apportionment Plan

The Board of Missions of the Church inaugurated on the first day of September a new method of meeting the Missionary budget of the Church. In former years it has depended very largely upon a few very large givers to "make up" the yearly deficit. This is as unsatisfactory a method of giving in the Church at large as it is in a Parish. A much healthier, saner, and rational method is for every member to do his duty. The Board, therefore, asks of the church this year a very much larger sum than ever before. This amounts in many instances, to an increase of one half of the previous apportionment. In many dioceses it seemed like a heavy burden, and doubtless still so seems. The fact that it was to include all the offerings of the Woman's Auxiliary and Sunday Schools helps very considerably, but after everything is taken into account the advance which the Church is called upon to make is a large one.

"The Board of Missions was impelled to make this call because it wanted to be frank with the Church, and just to the Church's great work. For several years the budget of expenditure has been greater than the sum of the apportionment. It was inevitable that yearly deficits should occur. The new Board was determined to ask directly and frankly for the whole amount necessary, believing that the Church so values the work her Master has set her to do that she will respond to such a call.

"The Board has also made a change in the method of apportioning, and no longer selects certain bodies of people within the congregation upon whom to levy a special apportionment. The missionary forces represented in the Woman's and Junior Auxiliaries and Sunday Schools should, in the opinion of the Board, have an opportunity to help the diocese in its great undertaking, and should not be divorced from it. Their offerings, therefore, will count upon the bulk apportionment made to their diocese. Even the penny of the smallest child in the Sunday School will go to the credit of its diocese as a part of that which it has done for love of its Master, to make Him known in all the world. This change of method inevitably involves some readjustment, and possibly some temporary difficulty. We have grown used to one plan and do not readily adapt ourselves to another. But if the Board is right in its estimate that the majority of our dioceses and districts are favorable to the levying of a single apportionment, this change should be a great stimulus, and will make easier rather than harder the task we have set ourselves to do.

"That task is not an impossible one. The sum asked of the Church is large only when compared with what we have been accustomed to give. It is not large in the face of our growing opportunities and our abundant resources. There is ample money for the needs of the Church's mission if men can be brought to understand."

The services on Christmas Day were all largely attended. There were over two hundred persons communicated at the two Early Celebrations of the Holy Communion and about one hundred at the eleven o'clock service. This is a larger number of Christmas Communions than usual.

The Sunday School Christmas Service held in the Church on Christmas Eve was a beautiful "Carol Service" and the singing, under the direction of Colonel Sheldon Potter, was well rendered by the members of the School.

The Christmas Entertainments for the School were held on the following Thursday (Holy Innocents' Day). The Primary Department had a merry time in the afternoon and the Upper Schools were entertained in the evening by a Christmas Cantata, given by the members of the School.

The illustrated story of "Scrooge and Marley" given by Mr. George Morgan was greatly enjoyed both by old and young.

Of course, old Santa Claus, was on hand at both entertainments and was most kind and liberal to all his many young friends.

There was only one regret and disappointment to the members of the School, and that was that Mr. James H. Ritter, our faithful and beloved Superintendent, was unable, through serious illness, to be present. The "good reliable" Mr. Middleton, who never fails us in an emergency or at any other time, was on hand and took charge of the exercises and successfully carried them out.

Too much credit cannot be given to the Committee in charge of the entertainments, and especially to Mrs. Heyer and Miss Morgan, who so efficiently drilled the children in their Cantatas.

At the invitation of the Rector, Mr. John W. Wood, of the Board of Missions in New York, gave an address, Sunday morning, January 7th, in Christ Church on the Missionary work of the Church. Mr. Wood reviewed briefly the work that is being done in the Missionary field and spoke of the wonderful opportunities that are opening up for Missionary work in various parts of the world. The Church is more alive to-day than ever before to the Christian duty and privilege of Missions and a wave of Missionary enthusiasm is arousing Christians of every name to their common mission of taking the Gospel to every creature.

The condition of our Sunday School deserves prominent mention in these pages. The improvement in every department and phase of the work is most marked and is very encouraging to those who are laboring for the success of the School. There is a substantial increase in the attendance this year over that for corresponding Sundays for several years past. The offerings have increased in greater proportion than the number present. The interest manifested in the spiritual work of the School is the most gratifying part of all the improvement. In every respect our School is doing a greater work than for some years and yet there is plenty of room for added activity.

The Editor knows of many children of this Parish whose parents are not sending them to Sunday School. Surely no parent has a more important duty to his or her child than to see and know that it is being properly taught its duty toward God and His Church. The 3 R's "readin'-ritin' and 'rithmetic," are excellently taught in our public schools, but how about the fourth R "religion?" A learned man recently said that the 3R's taught to the exclusion of anything higher spelt "rascal" in many cases; but that the full complement with Religion, the fourth R, included most frequently spelt "righteousness." How about our children? Are we satisfied with 3 R's or Day where they may be instructed in the fourth R which leads to righteousness?

The enforced absence of our Superintendent, Mr. James H. Ritter, owing to sickness, is very much regretted. Mr. Ritter has been most earnest in his efforts since he took charge of the School early in the fall and the success this season is largely due to his untiring work. He has had the sincere co-operation of his associates in the cause and has by careful and systematic study of the task been able to make the School progress very satisfactorily under his leadership. Every member of the Sunday School looks forward to and prays for his early return to his place in our midst.

The high standard of the music in Christ Church and the excellent manner in which it is rendered have been most favorably commented upon by visitors from other churches in Germantown and also by many persons from the city. The general class of music selected is exceptionally good and the music rendered on special occasions is of a type attempted only by the more prominent choirs. The special musical services which are being held on the first Sunday of each month are very pleasing indeed and it is gratifying that so many persons appreciate the opportunity given them to hear really good music so acceptably rendered.

The Choir Master and every member of the choir are to be congratulated on their efforts and upon the success which is rewarding them.

Parish Guild

Mother's Meeting

January 9th, the long anticipated day, was ushered in when Jack Frost had, I think, surprised even himself, although many pedestrians met with many a surprise during that day as they came in contact with the glassy sidewalks, and they must have felt like the affrighted old lady of color when she exclaimed, "I dun think ebery minnit ud be my nex." Notwithstanding while Jack Frost kept piling up the cold, we were surprised and rejoiced to be able to greet a goodly number of our "Mothers" before three o'clock, the time appointed. All seemed in a merry, jolly mood and harmony reigned in kitchen, dining room and Audience Chamber.

Miss Sallie Johnson kindly favored us with a most interesting talk about China, demonstrating it from her table of pictures, curios and silken materials of fine texture, embroidered bands of exquisitely blended colors, until as a whole, it represented a gorgeous Oriental selection of color.

We have one Mother whose proportions are generous, and when she donned the rich brocaded green silk gown with its beautiful decoration of color, usually worn by a Mandarin lacking only the famous yellow Cap and Button, and the Cue she really looked like the real, living Chinese Official.

After the distribution of Santa's gifts from our unavoidably absent President, Mrs. Morrison, whom we all love, Miss Collison, our musical stand-by and helper, played the march which was led by our Rector's good wife and dear little Robert, all were seated to our feast of good things. We did miss, however, our faithful well-wisher and friend, the Rector, who had migrated, like the birds, to a Southern clime, i. e. Atlantic, in search of quiet and long needed rest.

We wish to extend to our Committee of ladies who so generously donated "good things" and valuable time, our grateful appreciation of their united efforts contributing so much to the success of our Annual Dinner, not forgetting, but including our young friends the "Girl's Friendly" who always respond so readily to any request presented to them.

The meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary have been well attended this fall and it is hoped that this large attendance will continue throughout the winter. There is, however, a large number of ladies in the Parish who have not yet been present at any of the meetings. This is both a source of regret and in some cases, surprise; regret that they are not sharing with others the blessing of working and giving-for missions, and surprise that any woman, who is baptized into the name of the Great Missionary, Jesus Christ, is not interested in missions. The Woman's Auxiliary is intended to include every woman in the Parish and an invitation is extended to all to attend the monthly meeting at the next meeting, Thursday, February 8th. The Auxiliary meets on the first Thursday morning of each month in the Parish House at half-past ten o'clock. We shall be pleased to welcome more ladies of the Parish at the next meeting, Thursday, February 8th.

Lent begins this year, February 21st. It is now time to prepare for this Holy Season. In the next issue of the Chimes a full schedule of the Lenten Services will be published, together with the course of special lectures and addresses to be given.

This year 1912, is the Sixtieth Anniversary Year of Christ Church Parish. It is hoped that the year will be marked by special earnestness, and greater endeavor on the part of all members. Ten years ago, when the Parish celebrated its Semi-Centennial, the members arose to the occasion and paid off in full a long standing debt, so that since then the Parish has been free from all debt.

Now this year the sixtieth anniversary, a glorious opportunity is presented to the members to make an offering that will pay in full the balance due on our Parish House. We believe the Vestry will improve this opportunity and we feel that all the members will generously respond.

"Respect for her traditions have always been a chief note of the Church, and the great safeguard of her Catholicity. In this she is governed, not merely by principles of human conservatism, but by a sense of Divine responsibility. Knowing herself to have no earthly origin, the result of mutual consent, but to have been created and raised up by God for this very purpose—to bear witness to Christ—she has always felt herself bound, as the first of her duties, to deliver from age to age the revelation made to her at the outset, unimpaired and unadulterated. Voluntary societies, are under no such obligations. To modify the doctrines of their founders is in them no crime. But in the Church it would be the gravest of all crimes. She believes that her Founder was Himself 'the Truth.' She knows that He imparted to her, once and for all, 'the Spirit of Truth.' It is her conviction that in the first burst of His inspiration, He opened to the first generation of believers, the Apostles and those next to them, the entire wealth of truth, in the form in which they could apprehend it, and set it forth. Through those illuminated teachers she received the truth, as a sacred trust, for the benefit of humanity to the furthest shores and to the latest posterity. 'Keep the deposit' is the solemn injunction of the departing Apostles. 'Contend earnestly for the faith once for all delivered to the saints,' repeat their immediate associates who shared their inspiration. 'Let no innovation be made upon the received faith.' 'Let the ancient customs hold good' echoes the Nicene Council. To this test everything is brought. It is in accordance with the historical belief and practice of the Church. If not, it stands self-condemned. By this test the Nicene Fathers rejected Arianism. By this test the controversies of modern times must be settled. No new-fangled inventions are to be joined with that sacred heir-loom."—Selected.

Killed By Giving

Bishop Whipple, in a letter written just before his death, said: "I close by repeating a story which dear Bishop Clarkson loved to tell. A devout colored preacher whose heart was aglow with missionary zeal, gave the notice to his congregation that in the evening an offering would be taken up for missions, and asked for liberal gifts. He had in his congregation one well-to-do man who was very selfish, and who said to him before the service: 'Yer gwine to kill dis church ef yer goes on saying, Give! No church can stan' it! Yer gwine ter kill it.' After the sermon the minister said to the people, 'Before the service to-night Brother Jones told me I was gwine ter kill dis yere church if I keep a asking yer to give; but, my brethren churches do'sn't die that way. Ef dere's anybody knows of a church dat's died 'cause it's been giving too much to der Lord, I'll be very much obliged ef my brother will tell me whar dat church is, fur I'se gwine to visit it, an' I'll clim up on de walls of dat church under te light of the moon, and cry, 'Blessed are de dead dat die in de Lord.'"—Selected.

It is easy for the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.
—Emerson.

In the Silence

Who would himself and God would know,
Into the silence let him go,
And lifting off pall after pall,
Reach to the inmost depth of all.
How small in that uplifted hour,
Temptation's lure and passion's power!
How weak the foe that made him fall!
How strong the soul to conquer all!
A mighty wind of nobler will Sends through his soul its quickening thrill;
No more a creature of the clod.
He knows himself a child of God.

No. 2—Choral Recitative.
In that day shall the Lord of Hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the residue of His people. Is. xxviii. 5.
O Lord be gracious unto us; we have waited for Thee. Be Thou our salvation in the time of trouble. Is. xxxiii. 2.
He will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when He shall hear it He will answer thee. Thou shalt weep no more. Is. xxx. 19.
No. 3—Recitative (Soprano).
Behold, there cometh unto Jesus one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw Him, he fell at His feet, and besought Him greatly, saying:
Bass.
My little daughter lieth at the point of death; I pray Thee, come and lay Thine hands upon her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.
Soprano.
And Jesus went with him; and much people followed Him.
Chorus.
Trouble not the Master. Thy daughter is dead.
Bass.
My little daughter even now is dead. But lay Thine hands upon her, I pray Thee; come, and lay Thine hands upon her, and she shall live.
Soprano.
When Jesus heard it, He said, Fear not, believe, and she shall be made whole.

No. 5—Recitative (Soprano).
When Jesus cometh unto the house of the ruler, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.
The wailing (chorus of women)
Sweet tender flower,
Born for an hour,
Now by death's cold hand stricken,
Ne'er shall thy voice
Laugh and rejoice,
Ne'er shall thy life-blood quicken.
Sleep, gentle Child!
Pure, undefiled;
Weeping, to dust we yield thee;
Hush'd are thy cries,
Closed are thine eyes,
Peace now for ever shield thee.
No. 6—Recitative (Soprano).
And when Jesus was come in, He saith unto them, Weep not, she is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed Him to scorn.
No. 7—Chorus of unbelievers (Tenors and Basses).
In the death of a man there is no remedy, neither was any man known to have returned from the grave. The breath in our nostrils is as smoke, and a little spark in the moving of our hearts, which being extinguished our bodies shall be turned to ashes, and our spirit shall vanish as the soft air. Wisdom ii. 1, 2.
Come on, let us enjoy the good things of the present. Let no flower of the spring pass by us; let us crown ourselves with rosebuds before they be withered. Wisdom ii. 6, 7, 8.
This man professeth to have the knowledge of God. He was made to reprove our thoughts. Let us see if His words be true! Wisdom ii. 13, 17.
No. 8—Recitative and Chorus (soprano).
But when Jesus had put them all out, He taketh with Him the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with Him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying, and He took her by the hand, saying: "Maid, I say to thee, Arise!" and her spirit came again; and she arose and walked.

Chorus.

Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light. Ephesians v. 14.
Likewise reckon ye yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Romans vi. II.
Let not sin reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof. But yield yourselves unto God as those that are alive from the dead. Romans vi. 12.

No. 9—Duet (Soprano and Tenor).

1. Love Divine! all love excelling, Joy of Heaven to Earth come down, Fix in us Thy humble dwelling, All Thy faithful mercies crown.	3. Come, Almighty, to deliver; Let us all Thy grace receive, Hasten to return and never, Never more Thy temple leave.
2. Jesu! Thou art all compassion, Pure, unbounded Love Thou art; Visit us with Thy salvation, Enter every trembling heart.	4. Thee we would be always blessing, Serve Thee as Thy hosts above; Pray, and praise Thee without ceasing, Glory in Thy perfect love.

WHY ARE YOU A CHURCHMAN?

This in the minds of most people takes the form of one or two questions. All Protestant bodies who make light of precedents and ancient authorities, ask "Why do you insist upon the Historic Episcopate for us, and why do you have Bishops yourselves?" On the other hand, those who make a great deal of historic precedent, say: "We believe with you in having Bishops. But won't you be consistent, and have a Pope, too?" We answer that we have Bishops, because we find, in the primitive church, that is, in the church in Christ's time, they had Bishops. We have had Bishops only, because we are sure it had no such thing as the modern Pope. Taking up the first form of the question, there are

Eight Good Reasons

For holding that the primitive church was Episcopal in government, viz.:

(1.) At Pentecost the break in number of the twelve by the defection of Judas was immediately filled by the appointment of Matthias, who took his bishopric.

(2.) When James perished by the sword, Simeon, according to the statement of Eusebis, was appointed immediately to take his place of his place as the Bishop of Jerusalem.

(3.) Paul was appointed by the direct voice of God, as the Apostle to the Gentiles. He in turn designated Timothy and Titus, to exercise the office to which he had been appointed in certain local churches. We notice from the New Testament, that they did not get their names or their power through the superiority of character only, but also from their consecration to an office, and such an office to which the congregations that they be-them.

(4.) The seven angels of Asia were addressed by the Apostle John, as holding positions of accountability to those who sent them, the word angel having the same significance as the word Apostle, being one sent.

longed to had no power to consecrate
(5.) Clement of Rome, who was known personally to the Apostles, referred to the High Priest and Levite as the analogy that governed the establishment of three orders of ministry in the Christian Church. He also stated that the Apostles who knew the mind of the Saviour provided for the appointment of the Episcopate.

(6.) Ignatius of Antioch, who lived thirty years during the time of the Apostle John, said that the Episcopate was of divine ordering.

(7.) Those who knew the Apostolic fathers, i. e., Irenaeus, Tertullian and Jerome said that John ordained Polycarp to be the bishop of Smyrna. Clement of Alexandria said that John the Apostle appointed bishops after his return from Patmos.

(8.) The universal spread of the Episcopate in the second century is undisputed, and can only be accounted for by its establishment in Apostolic times.

From the above, it will be seen that the organization of the primitive church was not to be Congregational. Each society was not to form for itself its own rules and adopt a constitution of its own, with ministers receiving their appointments from the people. Nor was it to be Presbyterian, governed by a college of local pastors, having equality of orders. These were methods of government which seem to have been made necessary in times when the historic churches, both at Rome and at Canterbury, became political machines, and when liberty for believing a right doctrine was considered—as no doubt it then was—more important than an ancient form of government. Even Calvin lamented that the reforming churches did not have the unbroken continuity with the primitive church as they had an untarnished faith.

Although in primitive times there was much unsettled in the matter of administration, and there was a want of explicitness as to names given to the ministry; bishops acting as rectors of parishes and presbyters confirming, still, there are marks of this office which are plain, namely; corporate authority, officers sent, not chosen and called apostles, placed over other orders of ministers. Upon the same grounds of evidence and from the same lips as we accept the canonicity of the New Testament, do we accept the ordering of the church under an Episcopate. We have not only the sanction of our own communion, but of over 300,000,000 out of 350,000,000 Christian people of the globe to-day.

We take up the second form of the question, "You have bishops, why don't you have a pope?" We give as a reply one answer, and that is, there are for believing that the early British Church through which our church has its organization was ever governed by anyone but bishops. It certainly was not governed by a pope. At the council at Arles in 314, bishops were present from the British Isles. In 595

Augustine sought to bring the British bishops under his authority. In this he failed. Here is their reply: "The British churches owe the deference of brotherly kindness and charity to the Church of God, to the pope of Rome and to all Christians. But other obedience than this they do not know to be due him whom you call pope. We are under the jurisdiction of the bishop of Carleon upon Usk."

The Papal supremacy was a parenthesis in its religious history. With the coming of William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066, the advance was made until King John, 1213, sold the crown to the pope, without the assent of either church or state. Earl Selborne has said: "There never was a time when the independence and liberties of the Church of England were not, to a large extent, practically maintained against the encroachments of the court of Rome, or when its rights and organization as a national church were not protected by English law."

One of the historians of the American church has said: "In the time of Henry the VIII. there was no interruption in the continuity of the English Church; no approach to the sundering of the lines which connected her with the Saxon Church before the Conquest, or the British Church before the withdrawal of the Roman legions. Henry the VII. never attempted to found a church; he never in his day dreamed that he was founding a church. What was done in the reign of Henry the VIII. was to disallow, with the consent of Bishops Bonner of London and Gardiner of Winchester, the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Rome over the realm of England is resting upon divine right.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY
} 6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

A Letter from the Rector To My Dear People:

It is impossible for me to express the deep gratitude that I feel for all the many kindnesses which you have shown to me during my illness. The many kind enquiries and the messages of love, the flowers and the delicacies sent to the Rectory, and then the large and generous sum of money contributed by so many kind friends in the Parish to defray my expenses during the enforced rest which my physician has ordered me to take, have all touched me deeply. They have made me feel profoundly the great debt of love which I owe to the people of Christ Church, a debt that I shall never be able to repay.

I hope that the rest, which I expect to take, will restore me to my accustomed health and I pray that I may be able, in some measure, to show how greatly I appreciate your kindness and consideration, by a more unselfish and devoted service to the Master and the Master's cause.

It is a great regret to me that I shall not be able to share with you in the blessed privileges of this Lenten Season. Is it asking too much of you, my dear friends, to remember me in your prayers? I need not assure you that my thoughts and my prayers will often be with you during this Holy Season.

On the joyous feast of Easter let us all, my dear friends, kneel before God's Altar and there feel and know, that, although separated by time and space, we all are one in the blessed Communion of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ.

Affectionately your friend and Rector,
Charles Henry Arndt.

Our Pattern

God gives to us the perfect Standard of Divine Manhood—Jesus Christ—to be our Pattern. The development of this type in us enables us to understand what St. Paul means when he says that Christ lives in us.

We have before us the Pattern—We are to fashion ourselves after it, and the more we seek to do this so much the more we go from strength to strength.

Is it not one of the greatest incentives to Lenten discipline "to be made like unto Him?"

Christ came into the world with a purpose—definite and clear. From the manger to the cross, we see in Him one great resolve. The three-fold temptation of Satan in the wilderness thought to weaken that purpose and turn the Master away from His resolution. And it failed, while the Savior was victorious.

"I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men to Me." "I come to seek and to save that which was lost." "I am come that ye might have life."

This was the great purpose; and though the Saviour acknowledged that "the Son of Man must suffer many things" to accomplish that purpose, He resolutely set His face toward Jerusalem and faltered not until on Calvary was heard the exultant victorious cry: "It is finished."

That same purpose is the great responsibility of every Christian to the age in which he lives; and it defines for each one of us the spirit of Lent. A steadfast purpose to live the Saviour's life that we may fulfil His work to draw all men to Christ and to make them partakers in His Salvation.

There may be much that you may desire to do for your own spiritual good during this blessed season. There is much you need. But don't be selfish. Look outward—see how much your influence is needed in your own community to bring men to Christ. Catch the purpose of the Master—the great purpose of His life. Let that purpose be your's. And then Lent will be to you a season that inspires you with its larger vision, and while you deepen your own religious life as one great essential element, if you are to be a living illustration of the power of Christ in your own life you will be ready to aid in every way in your power the salvation of others.

Daily Prayers for Lent.

O LORD, who for our sake didst fast forty days and forty nights; Give us grace to use such abstinence, that, our flesh being subdued to the Spirit, we may ever obey thy godly motions in righteousness and true holiness, to thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. —Amen.

O BLESSED SPIRIT of truth, Thou who searchest the heart and triest the inmost thoughts, bring, I pray Thee, my sins to my remembrance and grant me light to see and find them out. Strengthen me also with courage to confess them truly, hiding nothing, excusing nothing, keeping nothing in my heart, that I may of Thy mercy obtain pardon and absolution, and thus healed may arise and sin no more through the merits and for the sake of Jesus Christ my only Lord and Saviour —Amen.

ALMIGHTY God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Maker of all things, Judge of all men; I acknowledge and bewail my manifold sins and wickedness, Which I from time to time, most grievously have committed, By thought, word, and deed, Against thy Divine Majesty, Provoking most justly thy wrath and indignation against me. I do earnestly repent, And am heartily sorry for these my misdoings; The remembrance of them is grievous unto me; The burden of them is intolerable. Have mercy upon me, Have mercy upon me, most merciful Father; For thy Son our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, Forgive me all that is past; And grant that I may ever hereafter serve and please thee in newness of life. To the honour and glory of thy Name; Through Jesus Christ our Lord. —Amen.

O LORD JESUS CHRIST, give me grace to so fix my eyes during this season on Thy most pure and holy life, that I may learn my own impurity and sin and seek in all humility to be conformed to Thy will and to be made like unto Thee, who with the Father and the Holy Ghost we adore as One God, world without end.—Amen.

O ALMIGHTY GOD, hear my prayers and grant my petitions in this time of grace and penitence. Enable me to perform my religious duties with exactitude and reverence, and grant that this fast, consecrated by the example and precepts of Thy adorable Son, may be pleasing in Thy sight and strengthen me with His might, that I may serve Thee more faithfully in time to come and finally bring me to Thy eternal Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. —Amen.

For Missions

O GOD, who hast made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the whole earth, and didst send thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are far off and to them that are nigh; Grant that all men everywhere may seek after thee and find thee. Bring the nations into thy fold, and add the heathen to thine inheritance. And we pray thee shortly to accomplish the number of thine elect, and to hasten thy kingdom; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. —Amen.

O ALMIGHTY AND EVERLASTING God, who dost govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplications of us Thy servants, and grant unto our parish all things that are needed for its spiritual welfare. Strengthen and confirm the faithful; visit and relieve the sick; turn and soften the wicked; rouse the careless; recover the fallen; restore the penitent; remove all hindrances to the advancement of Thy truth and bring all to be of one heart and mind within the fold of Thy Holy Church, to the honor and glory of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. —Amen.

Contemplation

Lent is the season of contemplation. We have seasons of great joy and hope: Christmas, Easter, Ascension. We have, too, the season which recalls to the thinking person the self-denial, the trials, the agony and the sacrifice of our Blessed Lord and Redeemer. The Christian, who hears the voice of Holy Church, thinks about these things. He purposely, dispassionately, without the blare of sensationalism, puts himself in the way of thinking most seriously of what the sufferings of Jesus mean for him. He frequents the services to hear from Lesson and pulpit the story of the Passion of our Lord. He comes to the Altar to confess his own unworthiness and to receive renewed strength.

Note:—Confirmation Instruction in the church, Wednesday evenings, at 8 o'clock.

The Bishop will Confirm in this Church, the Fourth Sunday evening in Lent, March 17th.

One thing is certain. If you undertake the honest observation of Lent, you will find it worth while. There are many blessings in a well-kept Lent—some of them will surely be yours. No one ever spent forty days in preparation to stand before the great Cross on Calvary to witness the Divine passion without gaining in spiritual power. This is what we seek.
 This is what we shall find.

There is only one way for you to find out the value of keeping Lent and that is to Keep Lent. You catch glimpses of it in the faithful, but you cannot really know. You must learn in the performance. GOD grant that each one of us may choose to learn this year what it means to keep Lent.

Our Rector's Vacation

Our beloved Rector, the Rev. Mr. Arndt has worn himself completely out by his indefatigable labors and untiring fidelity. No one but he knows how great is the burden not only of actual work but of sympathy, which daily falls upon him. As an instance the writer can only mention one day when in making a sick call late in the afternoon, he confessed that in that one day he had already held two private communions with the sick and officiated at two funerals. Our Parish is doing a great missionary work right here at our doors among people whom we rarely see in church but who nevertheless need her ministrations. All this work falls upon our Rector so that Sunday services are really a minor part of his duties.

It is no wonder, therefore, that Mr. Arndt's health has given way and that under the doctor's orders he has gone away with Mrs. Arndt for a three months' rest.

And now comes the delightful part of the story: As soon as the doctor's verdict was known, it was asked, "What can we do to make his trip possible?" The matter was laid before some of the members of the congregation and the reply was as prompt as it was unexpected. Those who were seen gave immediately and most willingly, others hearing of the movement claimed the right to contribute; and a purse of double the amount originally in mind, was given Mr. Arndt as some expression of the regard of the Parish, while flowers and delicacies arrived at the Rectory in such profusion that the Rector was overwhelmed, which fortunately proved a needed stimulus to encourage him to leave home, so that on February 13th, Mr. and Mrs. Arndt sailed for the sunny land of Bermuda where they will probably spend their entire time and it is hoped the Rector will recover his health rapidly.

Of course the Rector cannot forget the work, and with Lent so near he will naturally be anxious as to the effect of his absence upon the congregation.

The best reply possible to this is for each and every member of the congregation to resolve that they will show their loyalty not only to him but to the Church and Her Master by a consecrated devotion to the service and work of the Church. Let each worker do his or her best and let all aim to be regular and faithful at services. Even those few who were unable to give to the purse can in this way contribute much to the Rector's recovery. The Rev. H. Cresson McHenry has arranged to act as substitute during Mr. Arndt's absence and nothing will cheer our Rector more than encouraging reports mailed to Bermuda.

Self-Denial

Lent is the season of self-denial. The Christian who studies at all the Holy Sacrifice is moved to use that season especially set apart for such study to copy or have a part in that sacrifice. The natural way to follow Christ, as he walks towards His betrayal and agony, is to share in Sacrifice. As the true mother yearns to give herself in sacrifice for her child, so the soul yearns to show its love for Christ in self-denial for His sake. That spirit gave the Church its saints and martyrs. That spirit yet lives in every true Christian. So we do what we can. We deny ourselves food, parties, theatres, games, things innocent except when carried to the point of intemperance and excess. We make for ourselves a season of calm and dignity into which we put so much of Christ that all the rest of our lives we move along a plane one or many degrees higher than that we have left behind.

Self-denial shows another thing—our power of self-control. How much of a grip have these recreations and pleasures of life gotten upon us? Have cards, dancing, dinners, theatres, taken such hold on us that life seems empty and tiresome without them? Then it is high time to stop, before we reach the point of the Sin of intemperance. Lent is the testing time, the time to strike a balance.

EDITORIAL

The Rector wishes us to call special attention to the Evening Services during Lent. He has invited a number of visiting clergymen to come to Christ Church on Sunday evenings. All these clergymen are very busy men, engaged in great work in leading Parishes of this city, and it is at great sacrifice that they have accepted the Rector's invitation to preach in Christ Church. The Rector deeply appreciates their kindness, and it seems almost an insult to the intelligence of the members of this Parish for him to suggest to them the propriety of their attending these services, when visiting clergymen are to preach. Aside from the privilege it will afford to hear these able men, a sense of courtesy will, no doubt, impel the members of this Parish to attend these services and thus to assure them an appreciative congregation.

Our Vestry will soon issue a letter addressed to all the members of the Parish, setting forth the financial condition of the Parish and its needs at Easter time to meet all outstanding indebtedness. This letter should be carefully read by every member of the Parish. It is the just pride of this Parish that it is not a Parish of the few, but it is a Parish of the many. The offerings are, as a rule, generous, and they come from all the people. Each one considers, as each one should, that Christ Church Parish is his or her Parish, and that each has a definite responsibility and a duty to perform in the support of the Parish and the extending of its benevolences. The Lenten Season affords an opportunity for self-denials that an offering may be presented on Easter Day, that will represent genuine sacrifice. What a splendid illustration of devotion to Christ and His Church the offering may be if every member of this Parish will begin now to lay aside each day a generous offering to be presented on God's Altar on Easter morning!

If we were asked to name one prayer for daily use by every Christian at his bedside that would touch the conscience, stir the will, and breathe the spirit of Lent, we would name the Confession in the Communion office.

Why? Because it contains these words:

"We acknowledge and bewail our manifold sins and wickedness, which we, from time to time, most grievously have committed, By thought, word and deed Against Thy Divine Majesty. Provoking most justly Thy wrath and indignation against us. We do earnestly repent, And are heartily sorry for these our misdoings; The remembrance of them is grievous unto us: The burden of them is intolerable."

Use those words honestly day by day; let them deepen in you the sense of the awful sinfulness of sin, until their burden is intolerable, and their remembrance a grief--Then you will be in the attitude to cast them off; and amend your ways and your doings.

The Mother's Meeting

Our last gathering, Tuesday Feb. 6, was most pleasant, and while we sewed (many towels for sale) our needles kept pace with beautiful thoughts prompted by a little story read by Mrs. Morrison. It being Gala Day, (the first Tuesday in the month) we partook of our feast, consisting of cakes, coffee and ice-cream; and, as we were all children of a larger growth we greatly enjoyed our repast. Our friend Miss Collison sang "Voices of the Woods" and other songs, and judging by the encores she received her efforts in our behalf were most greatly appreciated.

We missed our dear friend and Rector and his kind and wise distribution of spiritual food, which meets the needs of many of our hearts; and we felt that we could not dismiss without kneeling for three minutes in silent prayer, asking the blessed Saviour to support him by the "Everlasting Arms" and to give him health, strength and the "Peace which passeth all understanding."

Now, as the Lenten season approaches and we realize the wonderful love of the dear Christ who suffered and died for all mankind, we cannot but feel that the "Still Small Voice" is being heard in many hearts who want to declare themselves on the Lord's side but are still hesitating. Can not we, who have had the courage to ask for Confirmation pray that the various hindrances may be taken from the path of those who have not yet received this beautiful, heavenly blessing?

Sale

On Monday February 26, there will be a sale of clothing which has been laid aside, not old nor worn, with prices to suit the needs of those who buy. The sale will take place in the Parish House from 3 to 4 o'clock and will include some new felt hats in several colors. We thank all those who have so promptly responded to our request for clothing and shall be very glad to receive donations up to the day of the sale.

Choir Notes

The following choristers won the prizes offered by the choir-master for the best attendance from September 1st, until December 31st—Misses Duling and Lindsay, first; Miss Abrams, second; Miss Strien, third.

Miss Wanda Groeneveld, who succeeded Mrs. Jackson as soprano soloist, has resigned to accept a similar position in the city. Mrs. Thompson, late soloist of a church in Reading, is temporarily filling the position. Miss Ada Woerthle will join the choir as soloist about March 1st.

Miss Jennie Willard, one of the most popular members of the choir, is confined at her home with typhoid fever. Miss Willard by her pleasing manner has endeared all the choristers. The best wishes of her choir friends are with her and they hope for her quick recovery.

Miss Iola Seeds, who joined the choir in November, has gone to South America on a trip. She expects to join the choir on her return about April 1st.

Miss Florence Dreisbach and Miss Violet Terrill are two new members of the choir.

The choir wish to extend their thanks to the ladies of the choir guild for their kindness in providing a lunch on New Year's Eve. A very pleasant hour and a half was spent in the Parish Building before the midnight service, when the members of the choir guild personally served the lunch. Several vestrymen and their wives were present, which made the evening more enjoyable.

A most enjoyable musicale was given by the choir, assisted by several well known musicians, in the Parish Building on January 24th. The amount cleared was about $50.00, and was given toward the Organ Improvement Fund. The choir have purchased a set of foot and border lights for the platform in the Parish House. Any Society desiring to use them may apply to Mr. Truman Hayhurst who will rent them at a small cost.

A pleasant surprise was given the choir master on Christmas, when he was presented with a Turkish bath-robe by the members of the choir. The gift was a real surprise, as contributions were received from the members at the regular rehearsals and services, the recipient being in blissful ignorance until "the night before Christmas." The choir-master fully appreciates the evidence of their regard.

On January 28th, the choir sung at a service at Masonic Home on Broad Street. They were engaged by a Musical Bureau, the head of which was looking for a good choir and heard a couple of the Special Musical Services which the Choir have been giving.

Stainer's "Daughter of Jairus" was sung by the choir on February fourth. This service was the last of the Special Musical Services. During the week of March 31st, the choir will sing the regular Holy Week Oratorio. The work to be sung has not been selected, the choir-master having several Oratorio's under consideration. The date of rendition will be announced, together with the name of the Oratorio, in the next issue of the Chimes.

The Rector's Room

A generous friend in the Parish has entirely furnished the Rector's Room in the new Parish House. The gift is a most complete one consisting of a beautiful desk, table, revolving book case, chairs, rug, mat, curtains paper-basket, ink-wells, paper, pen, pencils and evenink. This gift is greatly appreciated by the Rector.

Two other kind friends have since added a beautiful brass electric light standard for the Rector's desk for which the Rector extends his cordial thanks.

An Excellent Definition for a Churchman

If one regards himself as a Churchman, it is because he believes that God established a Church. He considers it a divine institution; as such he believes in it, just as he believes in God, and so declares himself in the creed.

The Churchman, therefore, believing as he does, has a high opinion of the Church and a low opinion of himself; that is to say, he believes that his spiritual welfare is dependent on the Church, on his faithful use of its means of grace, its sacraments, and its heavenly worship. He is loyal and obedient to it; he derives all his inspirations from it. For the Churchman, public worship is not a matter of mere inclination, but one of solemn obligation and a necessity; if for any reason he misses a service he realizes a loss. He believes the wilful neglect of public worship to be an actual sin.

The Churchman believes in the Scriptural requirement, "Let all things be done decently and in order," and therefore he desires the service to be beautiful, ornate and true to its high purpose in that it is offered to God and not to man. The Churchman contributes to the financial support of the Church as an institution, not simply because he happens to like "the preacher." In a word the true Churchman can always be counted on because he has a true conception of the Church, and consequently his work and worship and devotion are not erratic or changeable but constant and according to the Divine method.

The opportunity of Lent is two-fold. First, for the increase of devotion; second, for the strengthening of character. These every man needs and this is the reason why Lent comes as every man's opportunity.

In commenting upon the achievements of Henry Labouchere, late editor of London "Truth," London "Punch" recalls the saying of that clever philosopher, "If you want to know how the universe will get along after you have passed away, stick a knitting needle in a pond, withdraw it and look for the impression it made on the surface." Any-one suffering from enlargement of the hatband may find an effective cure by pasting the sentence in his hat.—Selected

FORM OF BEQUEST

Christ Church has no Endowment. The following form is suggested to all in making their wills.

I hereby give and bequeath to the corporation known as the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., the sum of

.....Dollars
for the purpose of its Endowment Fund (or such other purpose as the testator may specify).

.....Testator

.....Witnesses

Note:—Should the bequest contain real estate or personal property other than money, a careful description of the same should be made. Every will must be attested and subscribed in the presence of the testator by at least two credible and disinterested witnesses, and the same must be executed by the testator at least one calendar month before death.

If you are leaving anything to the Church, your will MUST be witnessed by two persons who are NOT MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH. This is very important.

If it is your mind to make any provision for the benefit of the Parish, please ask the Rector for a confidential interview.

What you may say to a priest in confidence can never be divulged to any other person.

Unfit for Service

An English minister employed a native catechist, who found it quite impossible to give a correct account of the money he collected for God's work and in consequence he was regarded as quite unsuited for missionary work, and was dismissed. The only explanation the poor man could make was that all the money he had collected had been spent in God's work, and not upon himself. Several years later a missionary lady was visiting a distant village in the jungle. She tried to make the simple folk understand what manner of person Jesus of Nazareth was. She told them how He was the poor people's friend, how He used to eat with them and come to their homes to sleep the night, how He used to go about healing wherever there was sickness, how the children used to run after Him in the street and clamber about His knees. Her description seemed to meet with an unusually intelligent response, and as she finished some one exclaimed: "Miss Sahib, we know him well; he has been living here for years!" Amazed, the lady discovered that this old catechist had settled there on his own account. It was he who fetched the old men and women their water and their fuel. When any one was sick, it was he who invariably attended to them. When plague and cholera visited the village, he was the intrepid nurse. In the old man unfit for missionary service the people of that village had seen and recognized Jesus Christ. —Good Words

Baptism and Conversion

In one of his recent mission addresses the Bishop of London gave an apt illustration of Church teaching on the subject of conversion. The distinction between baptism—the New Birth—and the turning of the soul to God in conversion must be carefully and clearly made. "You take a child from the street," he said, "and put the child in a London hospital; he is there 'in a state of salvation,' he is in a state wherein he may be healed; but if the means provided for his restoration to health are not used the child will probably die in the best hospital in the world. Now we are born again in our baptism just as unconsciously as we are born into the world—that is, in our baptism we are taken out of the streets of the world and placed in a great hospital where we may be healed. But we Churchmen never teach that baptism of itself—whatever the child's life is subsequently—will save him. No! baptism places the person in the great hospital—the Church of Jesus Christ—places him, as the Prayer Book says, 'in state of salvation,' but, unless the means of grace provided by God are used, the soul may be lost at last."

"Conversion," the Bishop explained, "is simply turning to God as the sunflower turns to the sun." It is possible for a man to be all his life converted, so that he is unable to fix any definite date of his conversion. In other words his conversion need not be a sudden and violent change. It began in early youth; perhaps he cannot look back to a time when he was not being converted. Complete conversion, or the absolute turning to God, is the work of a life time.

The Prayer Book

More than any other book devised by man, the Prayer Book is able to minister to our spiritual needs. Make much my brothers, of the Prayer Book in your daily life. Let it play at least some part in your devotional experience. Do not let yourself think that it is only an official guide to public worship. It is of course, but it is much more than that. It is more than a compendium of beautifully worded collects. It is a treasure-house of spiritual aspirations, and spiritual strength. Its music is the music of many saintly lives. It is made to minister to man's every need. Lean upon the Book of Common Prayer, and it will never betray your trust.—Bishop Richardson.

A countless number of the saintliest of God's servants testify that Lent furnished them with the best opportunity for spiritual growth and development. Why not try honestly and earnestly whether it will not help you?

Why not put yourself in sympathy and contact with millions of your fellow Christians by denying yourself in your appetites and in your pleasures, even harmless ones, to see if you are master or not, and by increased private and public devotions? Get control of yourself in some way, in something, and exclude gaiety and pleasure, and entertainment from your life for the forty days of Lent. Try it for one season, no matter by what name you are known as a Christian, or where you belong as such, or what you are taught as such. Only try faithfully to observe Lent for once, and see if you are not only made stronger and better by it, but also see if it does not give you more spiritual joy and satisfaction than anything you have ever tried, in the way of self-discipline and devotion.

Churchmen, who know the meaning, the purpose, the antiquity of Lent, must always be doubtful of the sincerity of those who profess to desire Christian unity, and yet will not join with us in the effort to strengthen and revive the souls of men. We plead not for our own way, not the way of a man or a sect, but for the universal practice of the undivided Church.

And we would most earnestly urge our own people to be very careful to use Lent aright, for your own soul's sake, and that you may commend to others, by living example, the value of the old way—the way of God. Let Lent mean more than a superficial routine, a time for physical rest from dissipation. Let it be a time for real heart-searching repentance, prayer and service. Make some such rules as these for your governance: I will God helping me

I. Abstain from all public places of amusement, theatres, parties, and weddings, and from novel reading.

II. Regularly and faithfully attend the Lenten services.

III. Fast on certain days, and on all days save the Sundays in Lent, abstain from luxuries.

IV. Devote more time to charitable work, (fasting and alms are the wings of prayer).

There are also those in the Congregation who are half hearted in the Christian life, who are making no progress in Christian character, and some who are absorbed with the cares and pleasures of this life. They have acknowledged Christ as their Master, and have made a solemn vow to learn of Him and to do His will, but have adopted other standards and motives of conduct than His commandments. They are in Church at times, but not regularly, and rarely do they come to the Holy Communion. They allow trivial reasons to keep them away and offer excuses which in their hearts they know are lies before God. These are symptoms of a serious condition of their religious life. Are you who reads this one of them?

Then will you not come back with your whole heart to Him Whose you are and Whom you should serve with all your powers? It is the Saviour Who died for you Who calls you. Dear friend, make Holy Week the time for your return. It offers a definite opportunity. It urges you with the appeals of the Redeemer's Cross. I beseech you, turn away from your life of indifference, come home again to a Saviour's love, prepare to receive the Holy Communion, that most comfortable Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ.

Easter Day

"Christ is risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."

1. Cor. xv, 20.

"The Resurrection of our Lord," says Henry Drummond, the scientist and theologian, "is better attested than any fact in history." The skeptic accepts, with little or no proof, other facts in ancient or modern history; yet although the proofs of the Resurrection are overwhelming, he doubts this the most stupendous and far-reaching fact in history. Our Lord's prophecies, the witness of more than five hundred persons who jeopardized their very lives in attestation to this fact, and the permanency of the Church itself, that pillar and ground of the truth, are all assurances of the fact, that on the first glorious Easter, Christ arose triumphant from the dead. The thoughts that come to us during this blessed Easter-tide are two-fold: the Resurrection of our Lord, and hence, as a necessary sequence, the resurrection of all who are members of His Sacred Body.

The fact of the Resurrection of our Blessed Lord is a pledge that those who are members of His Sacred Body shall rise in glory at the last day. In the Creed we say: "I look for the Resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come." "This" says a learned writer "is the crucial point of the Christian's hope. It is the distinguishing tenet of Christianity, as compared with other religions, that it extends its hope and makes it an article of faith." Many religions, so called, have taught in a way, a continuance of existence, but none have given to their votaries so certain a teaching and so definite a hope. The heathen decorated the tombs of their departed with symbols of despair; we place on the grave the Cross, the emblem of our faith, and plant sweet flowers, which, blooming with each returning spring, are symbols of the resurrection of our departed dead.

When and how are we really taught that there shall be a Resurrection? Reasoning from analogy, though it may strengthen and confirm a belief, is of course, not an absolute proof. Yet a thoughtful study of nature, "that unspoken word of the Lord," reveals a resurrection in all her works. What is sleep, but the twin brother of death? Outwardly we die each night, and rise to life again in the morning. The seed, that simile so aptly used by S. Paul, which contains the germ of the plant, must be buried and die in order to bring forth new life. The insignificant worm dies to the light, yet out of its tomb it bursts forth a radiant and winged creature.

"Lo, on the turf, the empty cocoon lay!
But from its gloom, up toward the perfect light,
Had soared on wings with gold and crimson wrought,
The once dull life that trod earth's dusty way."

Again nature wrapped in her snowy shroud, through the long, dreary winter springs into full life under the genial rays of the vernal sun.

"Countless types of resurrection

We may see in every sod;

Germ and grass blade in perfection

Rise in perfect proof of God,

And that life from death shall be evermore a verity."

But we need not depend on nature when we have spoken revelation as our guide. From faint presages which we find here and there in the Old Testament, to the positive declarations of the truth which the New Testament makes, the Resurrection of the Dead is verified to mankind as an indubitable and certain fact. After our Lord's Resurrection this became the burden of the Apostles' preaching. "He that raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus." Again he says, "He that raised up Christ from the dead shall quicken your mortal bodies by His Spirit that dwelleth in you."

Yes, the dead shall rise again, and in the words of a devout writer shortly before her entrance into the unseen world: "We shall look into the same deep eyes and clasp the same warm hands and walk besides the same beloved beings we have known here, our transfigured lives forever young, with the youth of angels." What the endless joy of the risen-life will be none yet may know. Keble says:

"What is the heaven our God bestows?

No prophet yet, no angel knows:

Was never yet created eye

Could see across eternity."

"It doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when He shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see Him as He is."

In deference to the wishes of some of our parishoners, the Rector has continued the practice, long established in this Parish, of having a Celebration of the Holy Communion on Maundy-Thursdays evening. This evening, on which the Lord's Supper was instituted, appeals to many as an especially appropriate time to draw near to the Table of the Lord and to receive the Holy Communion, and the Rector is always glad to administer the Holy Communion at any time to all who feel the need of it and come worthily prepared. But this Thursday evening Communion should not take the place of the Communion on Easter Day. If this is done and Easter Day is passed by without coming to the Holy Table and there communing with our Lord, the full significance and spirit of this, the greatest Festival of the Christian Year, is lost; and without the Holy Communion Easter Day degenerates into a day of flowers and music and song, a kind of pagan Ostara worship. From the very beginning of Christianity, from the time that the devoted friends of our Lord "very early in the morning, the first day of the week, came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun," until this day, the Apostolic Church throughout the world "having in remembrance His blessed passion and precious death, His MIGHTY RESURRECTION and glorious Ascension," has celebrated the Holy Communion on Easter Day and has expected all faithful followers of our Blessed Lord who are "risen with Christ" to come on this great day to meet, in Holy Communion, Him Who is "the Resurrection and the Life."

It is earnestly hoped that not one communicant of Christ Church will allow himself to remain away from the Holy Communion on Easter Day, unless Providentially hindered, but will so thoroughly prepare himself during the remaining days of Lent that he may come worthily to meet his Risen Saviour, "reckoning himself to be dead indeed unto sin; but alive unto God, through Jesus Christ our Lord."

O LORD, who through ages past hast trained Thy Church, as at this season, in finding out and striving against the secret or open sins which may be displeasing in Thy sight; by the help of the Holy Spirit lay open to me my heart and life, that I may in humble penitence lay them at the foot of the Cross of Christ for cleansing through His most precious blood.—Amen.

New Envelope System

At a recent meeting of the vestry it was decided to put into effect at Easter time, the beginning of the new fiscal year of the Parish, a system of weekly offering known as the "Duplex System." This system has been introduced into a large number of Parishes with most successful results. It consists of an envelope for every Sunday in the year, each envelope having in it two pockets. In one pocket is to be placed the subscriber's weekly offering for the current expenses of the Parish. In the other pocket (in the same envelope) is to be placed the weekly offering for missions. Thus side by side, on each Sunday of the year, the subscriber can give for his own parish expenses and also an offering for the extension of the Kingdom of Christ to those outside the Parish. In every Church where this system has been introduced a double blessing has flowed, an increase of revenue for the home Parish and an increase in the offering for Missions. By this system, the blue envelope for monthly offerings to Missions now contained in each package of envelopes, will be done away with, and there will no longer be special Sundays in the year for Missionary offerings, as heretofore, but every Sunday will be a "Missionary Sunday," as it should be. It is hoped and firmly believed that this new system will be heartily welcomed by all our parishioners. It has been so welcomed wherever it has been introduced. It is a decided step forward in recognition of the fundamental principal of Christianity that our duty is not done when we give to the support of the work in our own Parish alone but our interest and our sympathy and our support should go out to others. The apportionment which the Board of Missions of our Church has asked this Parish to give is $1200 a year. All Parishes in the Diocese and throughout the land are asked to give proportionately. This is the least that the Board of Missions can get along with from Christ Church if it is to meet the obligations which of course it must meet, that are resting upon it. If this Parish fails in raising its apportionment, some other

Parish will have to make up our share, which, of course, no loyal member of Christ Church will want to have done. It need not be done if every one will give each Sunday something, according as God has blessed him, to the cause of the extension of the Kingdom of Christ throughout the world. There can be no doubt that every Christian and loyal member of Christ Church will cordially and generously respond to this larger opportunity for usefulness and that the results will be a double blessing, a blessing to this Parish and a blessing to the cause of Missions.

The new envelope for all who subscribe through the envelope system will be found placed upon a table at the Tulpehocken Street entrance to the Church on Palm Sunday morning. The names of former subscribers will be written on the packages. All who subscribed last year are urged to renew their subscriptions and, if possible, to increase their pledges this year. If each subscriber were to increase the amount of his or her pledge fifty per cent. the annual deficit of the Parish would be eliminated. That is, if those who gave ten cents a week last year would give fifteen cents this year and those who gave fifty cents last year would give seventy-five cents this year and so on, the Vestry would not be required to issue an appeal at Easter time for a special offering to make up a deficit.

Pledge cards may be found in the racks in the Church vestibules. All attendants at the services are cordially invited to subscribe through the envelope system. Please mark with an X the amount (from five cents upward) you are willing to pledge as a weekly offering to the Lord. A package of envelopes will then be furnished you, one envelope for each Sunday. This pledge is purely voluntary and may be recalled at any time by giving notice. This system accomplishes two results: first, it affords a definite and regular income toward the expenses of the Parish; and secondly, it encourages systematic and conscientious giving on the part of each individual, and is intended to include every member of the Parish.

EDITORIAL

Special attention of the parishioners of Christ Church and all its attendants is called to the appeal made by the Vestry for a generous offering on Easter Day. The sum of $8600 is urgently needed at this time to discharge all obligations and to close the fiscal year without indebtedness. This amount can be realized only by a generous and self-sacrificing offering on the part of every member of the Parish.

In one of the city parishes there is an organization known as the Mechanics' Aid Society. The objects of this society are threefold. It brings the men together in meetings and thereby makes them better acquainted; it enables them to have men efficient in their several branches address the men upon subjects in which they are interested and saves the parish a considerable amount of money each year which would otherwise go to pay for numerous small repairs to the parish buildings. (In the parish mentioned over $200 was saved during 1906.)

Such a society would be of inestimable value to our Parish, as numerous minor repairs are being made from time to time which in this way could be looked after without the necessity of procuring outside labor and incurring the expense attached thereto.

Why cannot our parishioners who follow the different trades organize such a society? The benefits to all would make it a worthy movement.

Each year there has been increased attendance at the services on Good Friday, both at the 10 o'clock service and the Three Hour Meditation. More persons have remained throughout the entire Three Hour Service each year and have found it wonderfully helpful. It is hoped that the attendance this Good Friday will be larger than usual. Persons who wish to withdraw from the Church during this service are asked to do so at the singing of one of the hymns.

Easter Memorial Flowers.

Following the custom of past years the flowers in the Chancel on Easter Day will be memorials to the Blessed Dead. The Altar Guild requests that all persons who desire to remember their departed friends by memorial flowers will please send their contributions in money to Mrs. William H. Avery as soon as possible. The ladies of the Guild will personally attend to the selection and purchase of the flowers and will see to it that each contribution is represented by an appropriate memorial. By sending contributions in money the Guild will be enabled to make a choicer and more harmonious selection. Those who prefer to contribute blooming plants or flowers (white) are requested to send them to the Parish House on Saturday morning in time for them to be arranged in the Chancel on the same day. All persons are invited to contribute to the Easter Memorial, and any contribution, however small, will be cordially received.

Church Periodical Club.

The appeal of the Church Periodical Club for certain magazines was so well responded to that it is thought wise to enter another list, which we earnestly trust will meet with the same ready response. The periodicals most needed are as follows:

American Magazine, Everybody's Magazine, Good Housekeeping, Success, Outlook, Churchman, Colliers, Scribner's, Hampton, Atlantic Monthly, Electrical World, S. S. Magazine.

If you have any other magazines you are willing to pass along let us plead with you to seek a name and address from us and mail your magazine, when you have read it, to some person who needs it.

In Alaska a man was found carrying a dirty and ragged magazine, which had passed through many hands and had been read in every hospital in Alaska and he was then carrying it to more sick people. He refused to allow any well person to read it, saying the sick needed it most. Think what great comfort a box of magazines, now probably in the road in your store room or cellar, would be to these poor sick people in some far off hospital.

Names and addresses may be had from Mrs. Topliff Johnson, 430 Locust Ave., Germantown. Her telephone is Germantown, 3241.

Daily Prayers for Lent.

O LORD, who for our sake didst fast forty days and forty nights; Give us grace to use such abstinence, that, our flesh being subdued to the Spirit, we may ever obey thy godly motions in righteousness and true holiness, to thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end.

—Amen.

O BLESSED SPIRIT of truth, Thou who searchest the heart and triest the inmost thoughts, bring, I pray Thee, my sins to my remembrance and grant me light to see and find them out. Strengthen me also with courage to confess them truly, hiding nothing, excusing nothing, keeping nothing in my heart, that I may of Thy mercy obtain pardon and absolution, and thus healed may arise and sin no more through the merits and for the sake of Jesus Christ my only Lord and Saviour.

—Amen.

ALMIGHTY God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Maker of all things, Judge of all men; I acknowledge and bewail my manifold sins and wickedness, Which I from time to time, most grievously have committed, By thought word and deed, Against thy Divine Majesty, Provoking most justly thy wrath and indignation against me. I do earnestly repent, And am heartily sorry for these my misdoings; The remembrance of them is grievous unto me; The burden of them is intolerable. Have mercy upon me, Have mercy upon me, most merciful Father; For thy Son our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, Forgive me all that is past; And grant that that I may ever hereafter serve and please thee in newness of life, To the honour and glory of thy Name; Through Jesus Christ our Lord.

—Amen.

O LORD JESUS CHRIST, give me grace to see, fix my eyes during this season on Thy most pure and holy life, that I may learn my own impurity and sin and seek in all humility to be conformed to Thy will and to be like unto Thee, who with the Father and the Holy Ghost we adore as One God, world without end.

—Amen.

O ALMIGHTY GOD, hear my prayers and grant my petitions in this time of grace and penitence. Enable me to perform my religious duties with exactitude and reverence, and grant that this fast, consecrated by the example and precepts of Thy adorable Son, may be pleasing in Thy sight and strengthen me with His might, that I may serve Thee more faithfully in time to come and finally bring me to Thy eternal Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

—Amen.

For Missions.

O GOD, who hast made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the whole earth, and didst send thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are far off and to them that are nigh Grant that all men everywhere may seek after thee and find thee. Bring the nations into thy fold, and add the heathen to thine inheritance. And we pray thee shortly to accomplish the number of thine elect, and to hasten thy kingdom; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. —Amen.

O ALMIGHTY AND EVERLASTING God, who dost govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplications of us Thy servants, and grant unto our parish all things that are needed for its spiritual welfare. Strengthen and confirm the faithful; visit and relieve the sick; turn and soften the wicked; rouse the careless; recover the fallen; restore the penitent; remove all hindrances to the advancement of Thy truth and bring all to be of one heart and mind within the fold of Thy Holy Church, to the honor and glory of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. —Amen.

A Scrap of Church History.

"The Church of England stands the one Church which has never separated from any Church or person."

We find this remarkable saying in the writings of the late Rt. Rev. George Ridding, Bishop of Southwell, in England; remarkable not only by its clear, strong utterance but for its perfect truthfulness. And in thinking of it we must remember that the Church of England and the Protestant Episcopal Church in this country are, as declared by our own civil laws, "the same Church." The Church in this country is the "Old Church in a new Land." And the honor claimed for that Church in England belongs as much to the Church in this land. "It is the one Church which has never separated from any other."

It did not separate from the Presbyterians, or from the Methodists, or from the Baptists, or from the Quakers. It stood firm and steadfast on the foundation and principles it had held from the days of the first Apostles; and every one of those other bodies went out from it, and separated themselves from it. They were not thrust out, they went. It was their voluntary act.

And it is equally true that the Church of England never separated from the Church of Rome. The Church of Rome withdrew from the Church of England and separated itself from it. Up to the reign of Queen Elizabeth and for some years during her reign, there was but one Church in England; and, although they differed somewhat in their teaching, those who held fast to Roman doctrine and those who accepted the reformed views, all attended the same Church and worshipped together. And Lord Chief Justice Cook asserts that then the Pope offered to the Queen that he would consent to and permit the English Prayer Book if she would only acknowledge his supremacy. This she declined to do. And the Pope thereupon issued his command that his adherents in England should withdraw from communion with the Church of England and form a separate organization.

It is well that these historical facts should be known. It has been common to charge the Church of England and its daughter in this country with being uncharitable and excluding others.

But it never excluded any of them, they went out voluntarily. She stands where she has always stood. Her doors stand open, and her welcome is warm and ready for any one who wishes to enter.—Bishop Paret.

Why Laymen Have Been Idle.

A strong, capable man, who had been a member of a church for twenty-two years, we heard to say some time ago that during more than two decades of church life the supreme service he had been called to render, in addition to living right, was to usher and take up the offering. However, the imperative issue of the Laymen's undertaking has clutched his heart, and he has been giving days and weeks to superb aggressive personal endeavor, and is now proposing to invest his new-found talents in enlisting non-Christian men to become affiliated with the Church.

To Critics of the Church

More than three-fourths of all the social workers in America at this moment are members of Christian Churches. The ethical societies, the atheistic Socialists, the lapsed Church members, are not one-fourth of the whole, by the latest statistical account. Take away the men and women whom the Church has set aflame with her ideals of brotherhood and sacrifice, and every charitable work in America would be crippled to-morrow. In any small town where Church affiliations are well known there may be a score of "undenominational" charitable boards, but almost every member on each board is also a prominent church member. The van of the Church is pushing ahead eagerly toward industrial arbitration, municipal reform, temperance legislation, improved housing for the poor, the protection of women and children industrially, old age pensions and every other reform that modern America is considering. It is an undenominational van, shoulder to shoulder, representing no one church, appealing to no ecclesiastical authority. That is why its presence is taken for granted by the public and forgotten by the critic. But it spoils his argument the moment one comes to think about it.—The Outlook.

The Church of To-Day

The strong Church of today is planned upon four vital principles; (1) praying; (2) witnessing; (3) giving; (4) praising.

A praying Church is the natural result of the lives of men who are in close communion with God. It testifies to the fact that men know the needs of their fellow-men and are confident that only God can supply these needs. In the demonstrated sufficiency of prayer, by the measured progress of the church throughout the centuries, we know that a Church pleading before God receives the answer in priceless souls recovered.

A witnessing Church embodies the lives of those who appreciate the call to the militant service of Jesus Christ. It is in His name that the Church conquers. The hosts of the Church, with the sign of the Cross and the name of the King can possess all who belong unto Him. A Church that names not His name is a defeated Church.

A giving Church is the consummation of that sort of consecration that is genuine. The average Church, with its bills in arrears, its place of worship ill kept, the Rector insufficiently and tardily paid, is but the barrier to blessings that God would bestow. A giving Church is an honest Church. Only an honest Church can have influence with the world.

A praising Church has the show of gratefulness within it that pleases God. The studied effort of much of ritualism and formal worship leaves out the naturalness of thankful hearts.

Reader, is this the picture of your Church's need? Undertake in this very day to win your Church to this high conception of completeness in doing His will. Your own lives so lived will be your greatest influence to accomplish it.—The Parish Leaflet.

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY }
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

From time to time persons in the congregation ask the Clergy questions in regard to the services of the Church, the Prayer Book, and other matters of importance. If more persons would ask questions, not for the sake of disputation, but for information, we are sure that the Church and its services would be more intelligently understood and appreciated. The Clergy, therefore, cordially invite persons in the congregation to ask them questions, either personally or in writing, on any subject relating to the Church, its services or doctrines, and they will cheerfully endeavor to answer these questions to the best of their ability. Questions thus asked, which seem to be of general interest, will be answered in "The Chimes," without, of course, giving names.

The following questions, recently asked, may be of interest to our readers:

1. "When is the proper time for the congregation to rise during the Offertory?"

If there be no Offertory Anthem the congregation should rise immediately when the "Deacons, Church Wardens, or other fit persons appointed for that purpose," deliver the basins to the minister or server at the chancel steps.

2. "Why is the 'Amen' in the Prayer Book sometimes printed in italics and sometimes not?"

A principle of liturgics is that when the "Amen" is printed in the same type as the preceding prayer, it is to be said by the person or persons by whom the prayer is said. For example, at the end of the prayer of "General Confession" in the morning and evening service, the "Amen" is printed in the same type as the prayer, and therefore is to be said by all who have said the prayer (i. e.) by congregation and minister. In the "Declaration of Absolution," which follows, the "Amen" is printed in italics and, therefore, is to be said or sung by the people. The principle holds good throughout the Prayer Book.

3. "When a person becomes a member of the Episcopal Church is it necessary for him to believe in the Apostolic Succession?"

No, not at all necessary. He can have any opinion he pleases on this and other similar questions, and will still be welcomed into the Church, and may be a faithful member of the same. When a foreigner asks to become a naturalized American citizen he is not questioned whether he believes Theodore Roosevelt to be a successor of George Washington or not. He may if he chooses, believe that the American Republic began at the time of the Civil War, and that Abraham Lincoln was the founder of this Republic. As far as his eligibility to citizenship in this great Republic is concerned, it does not matter one whit what he believes in the Presidential succession, on the tariff question, on the gold or silver standard of money. The all important question is does he renounce his allegiance to any alien power, and is he willing to become subject to the laws of the Government of the United States of America? If he desires to continue in his "opinion" that Lincoln, not Washington, was the "Father of his Country," (as some desire to continue in the opinion that Henry VIII was the founder of the Episcopal Church,) or that the Civil War was the beginning of the Republic, and not a great contest for freedom (as some desire to continue in the opinion that the Episcopal Church began at the time of the Reformation, and was not a triumph over the thralldom of superstitions and Papal bondage,) if any one desires to continue in these "opinions" his stupidity may be pitied, but his sincerity and his honesty and his loyalty may be unquestioned and unquestionable.

Whatever "opinions" may be entertained, facts, however, remain the same, and refuse to be changed. Pope Urban codemned Galileo for teaching that the earth moved around the sun, but that in no wise affected the movement of the earth and the sun. "It is evident unto all men, diligently reading Holy Scripture and ancient authors," says our Prayer Book, in the Preface to the office of 'Making, Ordaining and Consecrating Bishops, Priests and Deacons,' that from the Apostles' time there have been three Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church, Bishops, Priests and Deacons. * * * And, therefore, to the intent that these Orders may be continued, and reverently used and esteemed in the Church, no man shall be accounted or taken to be a lawful Bishop, Priest or Deacon in this Church, or suffered to execute any of the said Functions, except he be called, tried, examined, and admitted thereunto, according to the Form hereafter following, or hath had Episcopal Consecration or Ordination."

That the English Church and her daughter, the Episcopal Church in America, possess the Historic Episcopalian in unbroken continuity from the time of the Apostles to the present day is as plain and uncontrovertible as any well established fact in history; as plain and as uncontrovertible as that William the Norman conquered England, or that the forces of Washington defeated the armies of George III, or that, at the time of our Civil War, the American Republic was not newly founded but purged, purified of slavery, and Lincoln and Johnson and Grant continued the historic successors of Washington and Adams and Jefferson.

A person may accept or reject these facts, and have his own private "opinions" just as he pleases, but of course, his "opinions" in no wise affect the truth. Notwithstanding his "opinions," the earth does move around the sun, William the Norman did conquer England, Washington did defeat King George III, the American Republic, purified, as by fire, from human slavery, does continue to be the Government of Washington and Adams and Jefferson, and the Historic Episcopate has come down to the Episcopal Church in America, through the Anglican Communion, in unbroken continuity from the times of the Apostles. These are facts which cannot be gained. But no one need believe them unless he wishes to do so.

No, it is not necessary for anyone to believe in the Apostolic Succession to be a member of the Episcopal Church. But the more one reads and studies the history of the Church, the more one will become convinced in his own mind that the claims of our Church to Apostolic origin and continuity rest, not upon opinions, but upon historic facts, positive, definite and rational. It is not the Church but one's own intelligence that will, therefore, demand acceptance of the Church's claims.

Christianity wants nothing so much in the world as sunny people, and the old are hungrier for love than for bread. The oil of joy is very cheap and if you can help the poor with a garment of praise, it will be better for them than blankets.—Henry Drummond.

Sunday School.

Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather Easter afternoon and evening, the attendance at the Sunday School service was most encouraging and seems to indicate a continuance of that much desired interest in our School and its work.

The service was wholesome and the hearty participation by all present is accepted as an expression of approval and encouragement.

Certainly we all regretted the enforced absence of our good Rector, Mr. Arndt, and our Superintendent, Mr. Ritter. Easter greeting were read from both and by unanimous standing vote of both School and Congregation the acting Superintendent was instructed to convey return Easter Greetings and Remembrances and to express the gratification of all present at the promise of recovered strength and speedy return.

The address by Mr. McHenry was very happy and interesting and was most favorably received by the young folks.

The usual awards and promotions were announced, this portion of the Service possessing peculiar interest to the recipients and their immediate friends.

In spite of the many demands from various sources the returns from the Lenten Mite Boxes will be materially in excess of last years offering.

Mothers' Meeting.

Just a few words about one of our Church activities. Our regular Tuesday meetings from three until five o'clock in the Parish House are progressing favorably, and we number—or rather our average attendance is fifteen. Fingers, scissors, needles and tongues vie each with the other as to social industry. The merry laugh is often heard in the other room where the Committee are preparing the "Afternoon Tea" which is served at four o'clock.

Some of our Lenten work resulted in some wee garments fashioned for the Rev. Mr. McHenry's little waifs, for which he has so many appeals in his great work in the City Mission. When he does come in and speak to us, which is but seldom because of the various and numerous demands upon his time, we are cheered and encouraged to greater effort by his example, the embodiment of Christ's command, "Go work in my Vineyard."

Now when the glad Easter is but a recent memory, our sewing has centered upon the construction of various colored rugs, some bright, and some delicate and dainty, such as two orders we have just finished—one of light blue with suitable border and knotted fringe ends; the other tri-colored shades of lavender with an harmonious blending of green as a border and a thread of pale yellow (which reminds one of the delicate plumage of our little song-bird, the Canary) each of them ordered to match rooms done in these respective colors.

We also are carrying a good supply of tea towels, dish towels and roller towels, dusters and broom covers which we hope to sell at moderate prices, so that our stock may lessen and our bank account may increase before our closing meeting in May.

Sale of Clothing

We frequently have a sale of clothing, laid aside and donated by interested friends, the proceeds going towards our Parish House Fund. One purchaser, a sweet-faced industrious little woman carried away to her home an immense bundle of pretty garments. She has a little daughter who has been ill in bed for thirteen months and the faithful mother has worked hard and had much sorrow. As she bade us good bye she thanked us and said "This sale is a blessing to poor people, everything is so nice and so reasonable."

We, Mrs. Morrison and myself, want to express our grateful thanks and appreciation to the kind donors of these saleable garments, shoes and hats; for so many send such nice things with no name attached. We shall be very glad to receive anything that has been laid aside, especially summer clothing.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

Our next sale will be Saturday, May 4th, from 3 until 5 o'clock in the Parish House.

Plain Words About Prayer.

To the end that we make more real to ourselves the fact of God's continual presence, so that we are conscious of Him as a guiding, strengthening and restraining Power, labor and constant practice are required.

It will never do to fancy that God will somehow reveal His Presence to us, with only a mild interest in the matter on our part. Nor is it safe to assume that the means of grace act automatically, and that all we have to do is to make use of them more or less perfunctorily in order to attain full communion with God. On the contrary, although nothing is more eagerly desired by God than that we should become conscious of His Presence, the barriers formed by this mortal life and by our material surroundings—to say nothing of sin—are so formidable, that nothing short of the very keenest desire and the most constant effort on our part can break them down and enable us to see God. The Kingdom of Heaven must be "taken by force." We must desire God as the Psalmist desired Him—as the exhausted deer driven by hounds pants for brooks of water—as, in the desert, the weary traveller longs for shade and water. "My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God; when shall I come and appear before God?"

Do you hear in such words the echo of your own longing? Could you truthfully say that your desire to break down all the barriers of sin and sloth and love of ease is so great that you look forward eagerly to your daily times of prayer, to the coming of Sunday with its hours of worship, to your meeting with your Lord at His Altar in the quiet of the early morning, knowing that by these means your desire will surely be attained? Or is it not rather true that to "say your prayers" is merely a duty to be performed more or less hastily and thoughtlessly; that the opportunities which Sunday brings are really a burden to you; that the Holy Communion itself offers no attractions as compared with an hour's lying in bed and the avoidance of a cold walk to Church? Oh, the pity of it, the self-deception, the irreparable loss! Not by any such luke-warm effort will the desire for God even be aroused in you, much less be made effective.

Easter Offering.

It is to be regretted that the Easter offering has fallen short of the needs of Christ Church Parish to meet its outstanding indebtedness, and is much less than the usual amount contributed in the past. It is to be hoped that those who have not yet given their offering will do so at once in order that all outstanding bills may be paid and that we may start the new Church year free of debt.

It was confidently expected that, as in the past, enough funds would be raised to liquidate our indebtedness. It was, also, hoped that we might have a surplus to be applied to paying the indebtedness against the new Parish House, which is only partly paid for.

It is well to state, in this connection, that Christ Church has some 500 communicants, while there are but 181 subscribers to the envelope system. Surely we ought to do better than this. Many are giving liberally while others are not doing their share. One hundred more subscribers at only 10 cents per week would increase the income $500 a year. Two hundred more subscribers at the same rate would give us an increase of $1000 per year.

Our annual deficit at Easter is about $1200 to $1300. Therefore, a vigorous effort should be made to secure new subscribers to the envelope system. This can be done if we all do our share. Let us then make every effort at once to this end, and give our Rector on his return the pleasure of knowing that the number of subscribers has been doubled. Surely every member of the church can give something, no matter how small.

One of the deeply interesting facts about the revolutionary leaders in China is that Sun Yat Sen, the President of the Republic, is a Christian. He recently said to an interviewer, as reported in East and West: "Our greatest hope is to make the Bible and education, as we have come to know them by residence in America and Europe, the means of conveying to our unhappy fellow countrymen what blessings may lie in the way of just laws, and what relief from their sufferings may be found through civilization."

The commander of the revolutionary armies and Wu Ting Fang are said to be baptized Christians. Wang, one of the younger leaders, was formerly student leader in the Japanese Young Men's Christian Association, and is a graduate of an American college.

There is a story told of a workman of the great chemist Faraday: One day he knocked into a jar of acid a silver cup. It disappeared—was eaten up by the acid, and couldn't be found. The question came up whether it could ever be found. One said he could find it; another said it was held in solution, and there was no possibility of finding it. The great chemist came in and put some chemical into the jar, and in a moment every particle of silver was precipitated to the bottom. He lifted it out a shapeless mass, sent it to the silversmith, and the cup was restored. If Faraday could precipitate that silver and recover his cup, I believe God can restore my sleeping and scattered dust.—Anon.

Girls' Friendly Society.

Lent has been a very busy time for the members of this society and, as always, labor has its reward for we now have a number of little garments ready to send to the City Mission.

Miss Clarkson, who is still abroad, has sent us a picture of the Annunciation for our room in the Parish House.

We are contemplating a very interesting social evening on the 30th of April. Every member should make an effort to come.

In the near future we hope to complete some arrangements we have under way for helping the Sunday School to raise money to meet its pledge toward the Parish House Fund. We shall have more to say of this in a later number. O. G. K.

Christ Church Club.

A new organization for the men and boys of the Parish has been recently started under the above name. The name was heretofore held by an organization of the younger men which for many years was a very active part of our Guild. However, of late years the old Club has been practically inactive and its members were willing that their name should be used by the new Club.

The addition to our Parish House and the contemplated building of Tennis Courts and other improvements to our grounds have made it desirable that some society be organized to supervise the use of these new appliances. Hence the new Christ Church Club. It is the aim of the Club to systematically equip and maintain both the indoor and outdoor game accommodations and all who intend to use them are expected to become members of the Club. Membership in the Club is limited to male members of the Parish over 12 years of age. The term "members of the Parish" is meant to include those who are either members of the Church or Sunday School. A Ladies' Auxiliary has been organized to make provision for the gentler sex and all women and girls who desire to use the game appliances are expected to join this Auxiliary. It is not the desire of those in charge to appear to be endeavoring to force any one to join these organizations, but we feel sure that any one who will but think a moment of the expense and work of equipment and maintenance of our athletic plant will be very willing to pay their share of the expense and to do some of the work.

It is hoped to shortly build two Tennis Courts and a Croquet Court in the lot above the Parish House and many other things are needed to adequately equip both the building and the grounds.

Membership in the Club is divided into two classes—the Juniors being boys up to 16 years of age, whose dues are ten cents per month; and the Seniors or older boys and men whose dues are twenty-five cents per month. An initiation fee of twenty-five cents is charged to any one joining either class.

The meetings will be held in the Parish House on the second Wednesday evening of each month at eight o'clock. It is expected that these meetings will be made both interesting and instructive in character and that those who may not be interested in athletics will derive some benefits from other activities of the club.

The officers of the Club as recently elected are as follows: President, John F. Davidson; Vice President, Edward Keenan; Secretary, Charles H. Jackson, and Treasurer, C. Lamar Hayhurst. The executive committee consist of the above four officers and Richard H. Morris, John Henderson, William Barstow, William S. Owens, Jr. and John Gallagher, Jr.

"The Kind That Evens Up."

One has so frequently to lament the attitude taken by the daily press upon religious, and sometimes even upon moral issues, that it is a satisfaction to quote with commendation an article appearing in the editorial column of the New York "Evening Mail."

Nor does it comfort one concerning the newspaper man alone. The story which he tells shows also an attitude on the part of the average man in the Pullman car which is, perhaps, more common than some suppose. Respect for religion and its exponents is neither dead nor dying among the men of Amercia. They desire to think well of the Church and the ministry. They are always ready to give prompt approval and applause to self-sacrificing work done in the Master's name.

The personalities in the story which follows will doubtless be clear to our readers. It is probably superfluous to say that the bishop who is described is our own Bishop Rowe.

A Pullman Car Story

A dozen men in the smoking compartment of a Pullman car were discussing the shocking downfall of a Boston minister. The tide ran all one way. Most of them were young—evidently business men, not idlers. For a time the injury done by one recreant minister seemed a crusher. His crime was made to discredit all preachers of righteousness. To listen was to feel the foundations of good citizenship crack and crumble.

Suddenly a quiet man in the corner removed his cigar, laid down the morning paper which he had been reading, and put his finger on the modestly printed news item. "Hear this," he said. "It is in the same daily news. A hardy bishop of Alaska reports that he has covered thousands of miles on snowshoes, with only an Indian guide. Mercury 70 degrees below zero often—generally 50 degrees below. This clergyman is physician to the sick Indians, he is dentist, he is adviser; he marries them, and buries their dead. He begins and ends all with the teachings of the Christian religion. Often he walks hundreds of miles on one trip.

Often on his sledges he takes provisions to the starving solitary miner's hut."

"That's the kind that evens up!" broke in one young man. Every man echoed the statement. In a moment the whole sentiment, that was slumping in social ruin, was changed. Men smiled as if in real relief,

Perhaps the worthy Bishop, now in New York, will be comforted to know that this heroic story, on the same page of the day's history with noisome treason to all virtue, is like the "salt of the earth." It cures putrescence. He had no idea, no forecast, that the noble and sweet music of his Christian life was to be sounded in this great city on this precise day. But something always happens to prove that the virtue of mankind increases. There are countless martyrs now, as of old.

There is no man living who has no day star—none who has not, somewhere, sometime, seen the face of a human being that was so illuminated by goodness that it is an infallible proof of all things that are good and true.

—Spirit of Missions.

Family Prayer.

Few things, perhaps nothing, is so lacking in our religious life today as Family Prayer. It may be because the life of most of us is spent in such a hurry and bustle, there is so much nervous activity. But that really only makes the need for gathering the members of the family together for daily devotions all the more urgent. The time occupied may not be long, but the practice of taking all our needs in prayer to God is most beneficent. Probably the forms provided in the Prayer Book are too long for the daily use of most of us; but they are very comprehensive and valuable as a guide to the right method of Prayer.

These prayers were inserted in 1789—adapted from some English forms drawn up by Gibson (Bishop of London from 1723-1748). They are forms of great comprehensiveness and of some beauty—most valuable both for use as they stand, and as a guide to right method of prayer.

An Easter Poem

The verses refer to the finding of a little seed by Lord Lindsay in the hand of an Egyptian mummy, where it had been deposited twenty centuries before. The seed was planted and brought forth flower after its kind.

Two thousand years ago, a flower
Bloomed lightly in a far-off land;
Two thousand years ago, its seed
Was placed within a dead man's hand.

Before the Saviour came to earth,
That man had lived and loved and died;
And even in that far-off time,
The flower had spread its perfume wide.

Suns rose and set, years came and went,
The dead hand kept its treasure well;
Nations were born and turned to dust,
While life was hidden in that shell.

The shrivelled hand is robbed at last,
The seed is buried in the earth;
When, lo! the life long hidden there
Into a glorious flower burst forth.

Just such a plant as that which grew
From such a seed when buried low;
Just such a flower in Egypt bloomed,
And died, 2000 years ago.

And will not he who watched the seed
And kept the life within the shell,
When those He loves are laid to rest,
Watch o'er their buried dust as well?

And will not He, from 'neath the sod
Cause something glorious to arise?
Aye! though it sleeps 2000 years,
Yet all that buried dust shall rise.

Just such a face as greets you now,
Just such a form as here we bear,
Only more glorious far, will rise
To meet the Saviour in the air.

Then will I lay me down in peace
When called to leave this vale of tears—
For "In my flesh shall I see God," E'en though I sleep 2000 years.
St. Matthew's "Messenger."

The Morning Prayer passes from thanksgiving for God's protection through the night to a vow of self-dedication, and to prayer for the gift of the Holy Spirit to enable us to fulfill it, and ends with particular prayer for the graces needed in the coming day—temperance, patience, justice, peaceableness, charity—and for God's guidance and protection in its various works. The Evening Prayer is (a) confession of sin (with special reference to the day past), (b) prayer for grace to amend, to purge our hearts from all malice, and not to "let the sun go down upon our wrath," (c) intercession for all estates of men, (d) thanksgiving for all God's blessings, temporal and spiritual, and (e) commendation of ourselves to God for the night.

The Bible.

This book contains:—the mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, and practice it to be holy.

It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass, the soldier's sword, and the Christian's character.

Here, Heaven is opened to us, and the gates of Hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet.

Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory, and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be opened at the Judgment, and be remembered for ever. It involves the highest responsibility, will reward the greatest labor, and condemn all who trifle with its sacred contents.

"A Member of the Episcopal Church"

"O, yes I am a member of the Episcopal Church," replied a bright woman upon whom the clergyman had called to see why she was not taking an active part in the work of the parish. "Yes, I was confirmed in (—) Church. My family were old Episcopalians."

"Well, are you willing to help us in the work of the parish?"

"Yes, I should like to, but the truth of the matter is, I did so much Church work in the last parish that I was in, that I simply can't force myself to get into the harness again."

"But I thought you said that you are a member of the Episcopal Church?"

"Well, so I am," replied the lady, with a controversial air. "I told you I was brought up an Episcopalian."

"Yes," replied the clergyman who had a number of similar visits during the week upon "members" (?) of the Episcopal Church, "will you please tell me what you mean by the word 'member'?"

"Why, of course, the word 'member' means any particular part of the body."

"Exactly," replied the curate, "now my arm is a member of the body, but if my arm were paralyzed, what would you say of its membership?"

"I would say it was a dead 'member,'" laughingly replied the woman, for she was clever.

"And the fact that it had been a good strong working arm in years gone by would not prevent it from being a dead member now," continued the clergyman pressing the point home. "And its membership now, instead of being helpful to the body, would be a positive hindrance."

"I guess that's right," replied the woman.

"The truth is," said the clergyman "the Episcopal Church is so full of members that either can't or won't work, that the body is pretty nearly paralyzed sometimes."

"Well, said the woman, "I guess I am a dead member. You may call on me for anything I can do to assist you." —Parish Messenger.

St. Mark's Day.

Briefest of the evangelical narratives is the Gospel according to St. Mark, and a superficial reader of Holy Scripture might deem it critical to say that it does not, like Matthew's work, give us the Sermon on the Mount; that it does not, like St. Luke, resound with melody and gleam with parable; that it does not, like St. John, contain long discourses. But more than any other book of the New Testament it throbs with condensed narrative—the style is warm, even passionate; St. Mark's account of an event sounds like the testimony of an eyewitness or of a man who had listened to an eyewitness.

From the days of the early fathers the general belief of the Church has been that St. Mark wrote under the influence of St. Peter. We can easily imagine a young man catching the fire of St. Peter's zeal. Then, too, the ancient belief was that St. Mark was the young man who was seized and whose covering was torn from him—hence he had personal knowledge of some of the events preceding the Crucifixion. If the Petrine influence be accepted, and it is a very old and very strong tradition, we have a beautiful picture of St. Peter's humility, for St. Mark gives the fullest account of the threefold denial.

In our own time Luckock has written a beautiful book entitled "Footprints of the Son of Man as Traced by St. Mark." There are important facts in the life of the second Evangelist which this article has designedly omitted, hoping that the reader will for himself find out how the weakness of the earthborn was strengthened by grace from on high.

CLERGY:

Rector. REV. CHARLES HENRY ARNDT, M. A.

Rector Emeritus, REV. JOHN B. FALKNER, D. D.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY {
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " } AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS

It was the Rector's great pleasure and privilege to return to his duties in Christ Church on May 6th, after a leave of absence of almost three months. Never before in all his ministry has he been kept so long out of his pulpit by sickness of any kind. While he has been greatly benefited by the change of climate he has not, as yet, quite regained his full strength. He is assured, however, that his strength will return gradually and that, after his summer's rest, he will be in better health and strength than he has been for many years.

The Rector wishes to express his high appreciation of the services of the Rev. Mr. McHenry during the Rector's absence. Mr. McHenry is an unusually good preacher and his sermons have the ring in them of sincerity and truth.

It was with profound sorrow that the Rector learned, on his return to the Parish, of the great loss that has come to Christ Church in the death of our Vestryman and Rector's Warden, Mr. James H. Ritter. Christ Church never had a more conscientious, faithful vestryman, and no Rector ever had a more loyal, sympathetic and consecrated Warden. He was interested in every phase of Church life. As a business man he gave a great deal of his thought and time to the temporalities of the Parish and was never absent from a Vestry meeting, unless Providentially hindered. He was a faithful teacher in the Sunday School for over thirty years and had a knowledge of the Bible that was both scholarly and spiritual. At the time of his death he was the Superintendent of Christ Church Sunday School and was beloved and respected by every teacher and scholar. He was a generous contributor to many charities and was not only a "willing giver" but was always eager to give to every worthy object. The Missionary fields of the Church were especially near to his heart and always found in him a generous supporter.

As Rector's Warden, the Rector on many occasions consulted with him on matters of grave importance and always found in him a sincere, a conscientious and a faithful friend and advisor. Being a man of deep spirituality he entered into the Rector's life and work with sympathetic interest, and has many times aided him by counsel and advice in the decision of different problems, or by sympathy and by prayer, helped the Rector in carrying a burden that was weighing upon his heart.

It is not given to every Rector to be encouraged and supported by such a Warden. It is not given to every Parish to have many men such as James H. Ritter.

This year 1912, is the sixtieth anniversary of Christ Church Parish. It has been ten years since our Parish has observed an anniversary. At that time we had a most interesting series of services and meetings. The occasion was marked by the presence of several distinguished churchmen, among whom were the Rt. Rev. Horacio C. Potter, Bishop of New York, the Rt. Rev. Hobart Hare, Missionary Bishop of Dakota and our own late Bishop the Rt. Rev. O. W. Whitaker, all of whom within a short decade have been called to their last reward.

It is eminently proper that we, the people of Christ Church Parish should mark in some fitting way before this year of grace draws to a close, the sixtieth anniversary of this Parish and that the occasion should be one of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God for all the manifold blessings and mercies, which He in His infinite goodness has vouchsafed to us both in our individual and in our corporate life.

At a meeting of the Vestry held on Friday evening, May 17th, it was resolved that the Sixtieth Anniversary of Christ Church Parish should be observed in an appropriate manner on a date next fall, to be determined later, and that all the people of this Parish be asked to co-operate in making this Anniversary an occasion of social gathering in our new Parish House of all parishioners and friends of Christ Church and also that services of thanksgiving to Almighty God be arranged to be held in the church.

In accordance with this resolution the Rector appointed an Anniversary Committee of the Vestrymen consisting of Richard H. Morris, O. N. Middleton, Charles Heyer, Henry R. Baremore and George T. Morgan.

A Parochial Committee will also be appointed to co-operate with the above Committee and the date of the celebration of the Sixtieth Anniversary of the Parish and more definite information will be announced in the next issue of the "Chimes."

The Rector wishes to say a word to every member in the Parish in regard to the "duplex envelope system," recently introduced into this Parish. He feels certain that it is by far the best system of giving that has yet been devised—because it encourages conscientious, systematic giving to God's work and is adapted to persons in every walk of life. System is necessary in the Church as in secular affairs. It forms good habits, and it also produces results of value. Even the most spontaneous acts, such as prayer, need to be cultivated and performed according to some rule. This principle holds good of our giving. Only by regularity can we gain the habit of worshipping the Lord with our substance or give a worthy amount to the maintenance and extension of the Church. To attain these important ends, the Vestry has introduced the Duplex Envelopes into Christ Church. The results are most encouraging. Our offerings have increased both to missions and the parish support. But it is clear that we can do much better than we are doing. The Accounting Warden states in his letter in another column of this issue of the "Chimes" that in this Parish of over five hundred communicants there are less than two hundred (200) contributors through this envelope system. There are many, therefore, who have not as yet, availed themselves of this system of giving. There are a few who have accepted the envelopes but make no use of them. Others who have taken them use them only fitfully. Let us start this spring with the resolve that every envelope in the package will carry an offering into God's treasury.

Secondly: Let us endeavor to get every one in the parish, old and young, to accept a package of envelopes.

Thirdly: Let us try to put something into each pocket of the envelope every Sunday.

Let each one give according to his own ability, the poorer members not discouraged by the necessary smallness of their gifts, and those who have more of the world's goods not wearied by the number of demands that come upon them from many quarters but giving as God hath prospered them.

It is earnestly hoped that the duplex envelope system will be adopted by every member of the Parish.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived:

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

Big Quarter's Worth.

On Wednesday, evening June 19th, the Sunday School will give an entertainment in the Parish House to raise funds toward paying their share of the expense of the improvements to the Parish House. There will be a pleasant hour or so of entertainment followed by the serving of refreshments, probably ice cream and strawberries. You are assured of a Big Quarter's Worth and every one is urged to be present. Tickets, including refreshments, are twenty-five cents each and may be procured from any member of the Sunday School.

The Committee in charge consists of Miss Insinger, Miss Thacher, Miss Dahl, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Heyer and Miss Kirkland.

A Moonlight Excursion.

The Neighborhood Club contemplates giving a moonlight excursion on the upper Delaware River sometime early in the coming summer. The date is not definitely arranged as yet and will be announced later. This excursion will be given in conjunction with other church organizations and those in charge guarantee a perfectly respectable crowd. No objectionable dancing will be permitted and liquor is absolutely forbidden on the boat. Music will be furnished by a first class orchestra. The trip promises a delightful sail on the upper Delaware and should prove very enjoyable. Tickets will be 40 cents and will be on sale by any member of the Executive Committee of the Club, the names of whom may be found in another column of this issue.

The Duplex Envelopes

This system of giving has been recently introduced in the Parish and is gradually spreading. It has been adopted in most of the Parishes of the Diocese and is universally commended as the most satisfactory system of giving that has been devised. It affords an opportunity, with its double pocket in each envelope, for every conscientious giver to contribute both to the support of the Parish and also to the Missionary work of the Church. It is hoped that every worshipper in Christ Church will avail himself or herself of this method of giving. We are sure that when all realize the reasonableness of this system and the importance that every one should co-operate in the support of the Parish and also in the extension of the Kingdom of God through the Missions of the Church, this Duplex Envelope System of giving will be adopted by every conscientious Christian man and woman, boy and girl. It is well to state in this connection that Christ Church has some 500 communicants, while at present there are but 181 subscribers to the envelope system. Surely we ought to do better than this. Many are giving liberally while others are not doing their share. One hundred more subscribers at only 10 cents per week would give us an increase of $500 a year. Two hundred more subscribers at the same rate would give us an increase of $1000 per year.

Our annual deficit at Easter is about $1200 to $1300. Therefore a vigorous effort should be made to secure new subscribers to the envelope system. This can be done if we all do our share. Let us then make every effort at once to this end.

Surely every member of the Church can give something, no matter how small. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibules or will be supplied on application to the Verger or to the Warden.

Germantown, May 1st, 1912

RESOLVED, that we, the Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, in special meeting assembled, record this minute of the affection, esteem and deep respect in which we held JAMES H. RITTER, our late associate.

The breadth of his Christianity included within the scope of its interest all the children of God, and his earnest sympathy was with every effort to spread the Gospel of Christ and speed the coming of His Kingdom. With Him effort counted for more than the name under which it was put forth, and Christian Brotherhood was not limited to any division of the Church of God.

He was a staunch Churchman, with deep affection for the Church, its Sacraments and Ordinances, prizing its Common Prayer, its helpful ritual, its glorious traditions and the continuity of its history.

He was a useful parishioner, strong in his loyalty to his Parish and his Rector, wise in counsel and abundant in labors. He served this Church as vestryman for twenty-nine years, and as its representative in the Diocesan Convention and in the Convocation of Germantown for ten years. He was, at the time of his death, Rector's Warden and Superintendent of the Sunday School.

We shall ever cherish the memory of his useful life and be urged by the inspiration of his example.

Using a Good Invention in a Wrong Way.

The automobile is a marvelous invention. I am not an operator of one, but an owner, and am very fond of riding in it, and it is because I am so fond of it, that I am sorry to see it being misused, and pressed so insistently and so successfully into the service of sin. The automobile is a fascinating means of locomotion, as everybody who has given himself to it with any degree of devotion, will readily confess. It stirs the blood, grips the heart, and makes fools of indeed not a few, who seem to think that the chief end of man is to run an automobile,—by a sinful over-indulgence. Yes, and it taxes the nerves, challenges the honor, tests self-control. What a splendid health tonic the automobile is. I sometimes think that the man who owns and uses an automobile not only for his own pleasure, but for the benefit of his friends, who are not so fortunate as he, is "not far from" the Kingdom.

Then, what a fine physical elixir! It calls one out into the open with a two, four, or six cylinder machine, and by the way, the more the better, although four are as good as six for the average car, and it says, "Keep your head clear. Steer steady. Have the brake well in hand. Just blow the horn when necessary. Watch it. Keep your eye on the machine, and especially on the road, looking out for ruts, ditches, children, chickens, automobiles, and other conveyances. Use your hands, use your feet. Look ahead. Look around. Keep in mind about sixteen things at once, all the time you are moving." The point is plain. It rivets attention. No man can operate an automobile and play stocks at one and the same time. He cannot run an auto and a printing office at the same time. What is true of a driver of a machine is in a measure true of the other occupants. It is the greatest system for forgetting things ever invented. So it heals headaches, it drives dull care away faster than the machine can go, it relaxes tension, unless one has a puncture, or a blow-out. It makes the rider forget quickly the things that are behind, and press forward to that which is ahead, unless the engine becomes stalled, or the tires become flattened.

And the beauty of it, one does not need to be the owner of an automobile to get the pleasure out of it. He may be a chauffeur, or a friend of the owner. For the auto has a happy greeting for everybody, even for those who indulge in joy-rides. The automobile is the ideal king of the road, and like some kings, frequently "rides over everybody."

Another reason, I think, why so many people are taking to the automobile, is that it is a supremely useful invention. I suppose more books have been written on the automobile, as to the different makes, the peculiar qualities of each, than regarding any other conveyance. For half the mischief the operator gets into is purely mental. Every chauffeur will acknowledge this. One can imagine more trouble in automobiling than in any other way of getting over the ground, and the moment one does, it becomes terribly real. He is in distress for sure. That is why the nervous, fidgety man or woman should never attempt to run it. It is a quick, studious, reasoning occupation. One has to make up his mind suddenly what to do, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, as in tennis, or baseball, or cricket; but as the long ride, or tour (the speedometer recording the time and mileage) is known only to the travelers, it is not spectacular, or cheer-evoking.

I suppose the steering-wheel would be conceded to be the most important part of a going automobile, but what a shy, sensitive little fairy she is. One slight turn of the wrist and the wheel will send the machine to the right, or to the left. Who has not felt that solemn, death-like stillness when the operator is meditating as to how to steer his automobile? So, I repeat, it is an invention for the cool-headed chauffeur, be he master or servant, worn-out business man, or perhaps a woman who has nerves, but not nervous. It is sometimes noisy, and an ill-smelling machine, a philosophical contrivance, subjective, objective, in-

It is with the greatest pleasure that we welcome our Rector on his return from an enforced absence owing to sickness. While his health is not fully recovered it is safe to say that with the added rest and recreation of his usual summer holiday there is every probability that he will face the work of next winter in better health than he has enjoyed for some years. In the interval, however, there is much we can do to aid him in carrying the burden which must rest on the Rector of every Parish. Much of any Rector's time is occupied in needless effort to spur on those who are entrusted with the details of the various activities. This should not be so and we can all aid our Rector by doing cheerfully and willing those tasks which are either assigned to us or voluntarily assumed by us individually. The Rector asks no unreasonable things of us and we should be always anxious to do our part in the great work and to do it promptly.

Once again it becomes our sad duty to chronicle the death of one of the vestry of our church. Since our last issue Mr. James H. Ritter has been called to receive the reward promised to a good and faithful servant. For many years he was an active and devoted member of this Parish and was called upon to fill several important positions in our activities, in every case proving his sterling worth and ability. The last office he was called to was the superintendency of our Sunday School and during the very short period he was permitted to fill this position he demonstrated that his administration would have been eminently successful. In all the departments of church work he showed a deep interest and consecration and he will be missed very much. To have known Mr. Ritter even slightly meant to respect him; to know him intimately was to admire and love him. He was in every sense a Christian and a gentleman.

There seems to be a lack of interest in the work among the boys and men of our Parish. Numerous societies for these members have been organized only to gradually die out or at best to move along in a half-hearted way not growing at all. There are at present two societies in our guild which are organized to embrace all the male members of the Parish, "The Neighborhood Club" for men and "Christ Church Club" for the younger men and the boys. On other pages of this issue are printed articles about each of these clubs and every male reader of our paper is urged to read these articles and then to seek further information from some of those who are already members. It is a reproach that we have so few men and boys actively engaged in the work of the Church. The church needs men and the men need the church. Can we not get together and make an effort to give the church what is due her and at the same time reap the benefits which will surely come in return. Come fellows! let's do our share of the work, the Rector wants us. A man who does not help is to a certain degree a hindrance.

Parish Guild

Christ Church Club.

On Wednesday evening, June 12th, the regular business meeting of the club will be held at which time the election of officers for the year beginning with September will take place. It is very important that every member be present so that those elected to the respective offices shall be the choice of the majority and not of a few. Perhaps it will be well to call attention to the provision of the By-Laws which prohibits all members who have been absent from three consecutive business meetings without reasonable excuse, or who are three months in arrears for dues, from the privilege of voting. Quite a number are under the ban and it would be well for them to see the Treasurer, Mr. Hayhurst at once.

The tennis courts are about in condition and some action may be taken at the meeting regarding their use and maintenance. It will be necessary to provide nets; see that the courts are lined out and that they have other needed attention. This will necessitate some expense and it is only just that rules be made which will eliminate those who are not willing to bear their share of the cost from the benefit of the courts.

Through the Christ Church Club the young men and boys have an opportunity of being benefitted mentally, morally and physically and of doing something for the Parish which will make the Club a credit to Christ Church. The only question is—do you want to do this? Let every member who desires to accept this privilege signify his intention by being present on June 12, at 8 P. M.

Neighborhood Club.

The annual meeting of the Neighborhood Club of Christ Church (formerly the Men's Club) was held in the Parish House on Friday the seventeenth of May. The important business of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the result was as follows:

President—Oscar N. Middleton
Vice Pres.—Chas. W. Sutcliffe, Jr.
Secretary—Charles H. Jackson
Treasurer—C. Lamar Hayhurst

The Executive Committee will consist of Colonel Sheldon Potter, Messrs. Davidson, MacIver, Owens and Dr. Rausenberger and the four officers as named above.

The Club is organized to afford the men of our Parish an opportunity to meet one another in a social way and to promote the feeling of fellowship and true "neighborliness" among the men of this community. Every man in the vicinity of Christ Church is eligible to membership and all will find a welcome awaiting them. The dues are not in any way burdensome and many more members are desired and needed to further our work.

Sunday School.

The Sunday School continues to show a steady growth. The attendance has been remarkably good in spite of the many stormy Sunday mornings. To this date Solid Gold Pins representing perfect attendance for four periods of thirteen Sundays each have been awarded to Mrs. Adkins, Walter Abrams, Walter Brown, Herbert Feist, C. L. Hayhurst, Charles H. Jackson, O. N. Middleton, Charles Sutcliffe, Sylvia Sutcliffe and Charlotte Westling.

The Sunday School sessions will be continued throughout the summer months, meeting at 9.45 o'clock instead of half past nine. Our School room is a very comfortable place in hot weather and the services will be made short and interesting so that all who can come will be repaid for their efforts.

The annual picnic will be held early in July. The arrangements are now being made and the full details will shortly be announced in the Sunday School. It is hoped that a large number will be able to participate in this event.

Choir Notes.

The Misses Frieda and Anna Mueller have recently become members of the choir.

On Thursday evening, May 2nd, the members of the choir were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell Lipp. The evening was spent in playing games, singing and dancing. After refreshments the choir members went their way all agreeing they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

On Sunday evening, April 21st, the choir members were both surprised and touched by receiving a large bunch of Carnations. The kind friend of the choir who sent the flowers is a member of Old St. Paul's Club in which our friend Mr. McHenry is so interested. Some two months ago this unknown "friend," who had not been leading a Christian life, was earnestly impressed by the reverent manner in which the choir conducted themselves in the chancel, as well as by their singing. He enjoyed the singing so thoroughly, and was so impressed, that he desired to give some thankoffering to the choir for what they had done for him. The bunch of Carnations was the outcome. They were distributed among the members who wore them as their unknown friend desired. Mr. McHenry says that the man from that evening has been living a most upright life. The touching compliment to the choir's singing, as expressed by this bunch of flowers, was appreciated by everyone.

It is with regret that the members of the choir have learned of the resignation of Miss Meisle, to take effect June 1st. Her many friends in the congregation, who have enjoyed her singing, will no doubt miss her. Miss Meisle has been under the doctor's care for some time, and it is at his advice that she is going to give up singing for the present. Miss Meisle has been a most efficient chorister and will be missed, not only as a singer, but for her personality which has made her such a popular member of the choir. Miss Alice Burnley will join the choir on June 2nd as contralto soloist.

The Mothers themselves have worked faithfully and deserve great credit for their successful year.

The Altar Guild

The Altar Guild held its regular monthly meeting in the Parish House on Monday, May thirteenth, at which time it was a great pleasure to all to have our Rector with us once more.

Mrs. Baremore presided and after the Secretary and Treasurer's reports were read and accepted, Mr. Arndt spoke to the guild of the privilege in caring for the most sacred possessions of the church and urged upon all the members the necessity of thoroughly conscientious work.

In this connection it might be well to explain briefly the duties of the guild. In the first place the membership is divided into committees of three, each committee serving one week in the month, during which time they are held responsible for any service which may take place. Then they must see that the chancel is cleaned and in perfect order, they must put the linens on the altar, find all places in the Prayerbook, and Bible, polish the brasses and silver, take charge of the silver communion service, fixing the special linens for use during the celebration, and lastly they must arrange the flowers, which on great festival days is not an easy thing to do.

The officers of the guild for 1912-13 are as follows:

Mrs. Henry Baremore—President
Mrs. Wm. Avery—Vice President
Miss Helen Donlevy—Secretary
Miss Frances Cooley—Treasurer

Junior Auxiliary.

The Junior Auxiliary has been meeting every Friday afternoon since October. Until Christmas we were busy preparing a box which was sent to a colored children's home in South Carolina. Since then we have been making infants clothes which are to be sent away next Christmas.

We have been collecting rubber of all kinds such as old rubber shoes, boots and garden hose to sell. Contributions to this supply if sent to Miss Frances O'Brien, 130 W. Duval St., will be gratefully received. The two superintending the work are Mrs. Topliff Johnson and Miss Ruth Henderson.

The officers are as follows:

Dorothy T. Rowland—President
Eleanor F. Lawrence—Secretary
Frances W. O'Brien—Treasurer.

New members are always welcome.

tropective—the Hamlet of conveyances. And it has had a most dishonorable history. It has been associated with more objectionableness than any other American, or European, form of conveyance. It has small attraction for the pedestrian, little, or none, for him whose head is unsteady with anything fermented, and none whatever for the man who is given to aviation. It is a contrivance that can be used for wrong doing, which leads me to the line at the head of this article.

Church attendance has suffered since the automobile has become a means of giving pleasure to the men and women who are fortunate enough to be an owner of one. It is true it can be used for going to and from church, for going on errands of necessity or mercy, but when used for pleasure, it is being used in a wrong way. Not only is a man starving himself and family by neglecting the house of God, and committing sin by desecrating the Sabbath day, but in many cases the hired chauffeur is a victim of indulgence on the part of his employer.

The poor man pleads the open air, boating, carriage riding, etc., as the Sabbath is the only day for recreation, but the vast majority of persons using the automobile can go when and where they please.

When it is borne in mind that thousands of automobiles are in use in the United States (40,000 licenses were issued last year in Pennsylvania) and that more are used for pleasure on Sunday than on any other day of the week, the question keeps swimming into thought, what is all this going to mean to the future of the Church? If, as some claim, the workingman is not in the Church, the automobile is taking out of it not only the chauffeur, but the well-to-do man. On the Sabbath you can behold God's law being run over by the automobile. And then there is the Sabbath desecration by the dealers in automobiles, giving demonstrations and making sales or preparing for sales the following day, besides employees in garages.

Like other conveyances the automobile may be used on the Lord's day for holy and legitimate purposes, but not when it keeps persons from the house of God or turns Sunday into a holiday instead of a Holy day.

Personally, I believe the automobile is fast becoming one of the most serious Sunday desecrating questions before the Church. The men and women who are using it are after health and pleasure, and the sellers are after the money and both think they are performing a religious duty when caring for themselves. The automobile draws its devotees largely from business and professional life, excluding the poor preacher. It is a keen blade thrust into the very life of the Church. The foe that is to be feared most is the advancing foe. And if you ask what we as Christians ought to do about it, of course one hardly knows what to suggest. It is not going to be an easy thing to combat any more than the regulation of the speed. And, by the way, when the automobile is driven at a rapid rate, apparently regardless of life, the sin is committed of violating the sixth commandment, although the fourth may be zealously observed. The automobile is here to stay. Oh, that it might be used for God's glory, and that there might be written on it Holiness to the Lord!

We are losing our Sabbath day by leaps and bounds and flashes. It is running away with us at breakneck speed, automobile like. No use denying it. The man who denies it knows the facts. The automobile and the links are doing more to-day to empty our churches than any other lure of the evil one. They are the response of a worldly Christianity to the irreverent challenge of the age.

—Selected

As in previous years the July and August issues of the Chimes will be combined and will be published about the middle of July.

There is no sentiment about Christian work. It is a plain matter of duty. The man who waits for some emotional impulse to send him into the ranks is liable to find that the night of death falls before the impulse comes.

—John W. Wood.

And this is life—temptation, trial, struggle, conflict, possible victory—the strenuous life! You cannot cowardly give it up, and you need all the help you can have; and the only adequate help is Jesus Christ.

Why not recognize the principle that self-sacrifice is the salt of your religion and that when the salt has lost its savour then your religion is good for nothing.

No man who has never really tried to serve God has a right to object to His service. And has anyone ever really tried, and then objected?

A religious life that begins to stay at home from church because it is inconvenient to go will end by staying home because it is disagreeable to go.

It is so easy today to excuse ourselves from duty not because it is impossible to perform it, but because it is inconvenient to do so.

An excuse, however disguised, always represents what we want to do, as opposed to what we know we ought to do.

The point is not have you had, what you call answers to prayer, but are you on prayerful relations with God?

It is not the grave we need to fear, but unrepented and unforgiven sins, spiritual death, unbelief.

We heard a man ask the other day, "When will this incessant begging for money (he meant for Church purposes) cease? It is call upon call, now for this and now for that, and I am sick and weary of it." More ask the question than those who like our frank friend put it into words. The answer is as easy as the question. It will never cease. It is a part of the law of the situation. While there remains a heathen on earth, an unfaithful Christian, a sick man, soul sick or body sick, an orphan, a cripple, an outcast, a wretched creature anywhere with any wretchedness, the demands will still be made, and they will still be answered worse or better. When all men on earth are blessed, when the sunlight of heaven gilds the hills and valleys of the world, and wraps the blue in celestial calm, then may men rest from their workings and their giving—not before.

Whitsunday, or Pentecost

The Festival of the Descent of the Holy Spirit upon the waiting Church (see Acts ii), has been annually observed from the very beginning having at first been grafted on the Jewish Festival of Pentecost by Jewish Christians. It is, however, mentioned by the early writers as a separate Christian Festival; and Tertullian records it as one of the great days for baptism in the early Church. Pentecost means the fiftieth day from the Passover. It was on Whitsunday, June 9, A. D., 1549, the Book of Common Prayer in English was first used in place of the Latin Offices.

Only One Way.

There's only one method of meetin' life's test;
Jes' keep on a-strivin' an' hope fur the best;
Don't give up the ship an' retire in dismay
'Cause hammers are thrown when you'd like a bouquet.

This world would be tiresome, we'd all get the blues,
If all the folks in it held just the same views;
So finish your work, show the best of your skill,
Some people won't like it, but other folks will.

If you're leadin' an army, or buildin' a fence,
Do the most that you kin with your own common-sense.
One small word of praise in this journey of tears
Outweighs in the balance 'gainst cartloads of sneers.

The plants that we're passin' as common-place weeds
Oft prove to be jes' what some sufferer needs.
So keep on a-goin'; don't stay standin' still;
Some people won't like you, but other folks will.

CLERGY:

Rector, REV. CHARLES HENRY ARNDT, M. A.

Rector Emeritus, REV. JOHN B. FALKNER, D. D.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS { 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY { AT HOME MONDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 7.00 P. M. " " }

The Rector is pleased to report that he is steadily recovering his strength and, if he has no set-back, will be able (D. V.) to return to his work in the fall fully restored to health.

He wishes to acknowledge with deep appreciation the many kind letters which he has received from parishioners expressing their sympathy in his illness and assuring him of their prayers for his recovery. He regrets that he is not able to reply personally to these kind friends who have written to him. The many kindnesses which he has received from the good people of Christ Church during his late illness will always be to him an inspiration in his work and will ever be cherished as one of the most sacred associations in his ministry.

On the first Sunday in July an offering was taken in Christ Church for the Children's Outing Fund. This fund enables poor children who live in the narrow streets and alleys of the city to enjoy a week in the country, where they can have good wholesome food and breathe the pure air. It has been the Rector's custom to get from various Charitable Institutions, the names of the poorest and most worthy families and to visit them in their homes (?), selecting from the list the most needy to be sent into the country for a week or ten days. This is one of the most worthy charities the Rector knows of.

It was somewhat of a disappointment therefore, that the offering on the first Sunday in July was not as large as usual, owing no doubt, to the fact that a large number of our people were absent from Germantown on their vacations. But the people who are blessed with the privilege of taking vacations are the ones who ought to be most anxious to share their blessings with the poor and especially the poor little children who are unable to go away.

The Rector affectionately appeals to every one, who has not, as yet, contributed to the Poor Children's Outing Fund, to send their contributions to our Warden, Mr. Wm. R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal Street.

Two dollars and a half will send one child to the country for a week. Surely every one will wish to contribute toward sending at least one little one out of the hot streets and alleys of the city to the fresh and green fields of the country. "Inasmuch," says our Lord, "as ye have done it unto the least of these my children, ye have done it unto me."

There is great danger comes to all of us in summer time to be careless or indifferent about our religious observances and especially about our Church attendance. Of course, no one who regulates his life on Christian principle will neglect his religious life in summer any more than in winter; but, unfortunately, many of us are not regulated in life on principle. Too many of us act according to our whims, or convenience and, therefore, when warm weather comes we find it very easy to offer excuses for absenting ourselves from Divine Service. The weather, the distance from church, and other excuses are easily found and the conscience is lulled to sleep. Oh, what a fearful danger befalls the Christian man or woman when such excuses are allowed to keep them away from the regular attendance at the House of God.

How unspeakably sad it is to see Church men and women give way to these temptations and to find them on Sundays on the gulf links, automobiling or any place, save worshipping before God's altar. Golf, automobiles and other outdoor recreation are good and wholesome exercises and are refreshment for both the body and the mind. But no sane man or woman will say that these things, good as they are, are or can ever be substitutes for worship. They can and do refresh the mind and body. But man is more than body and mind. He has a soul which craves and needs refreshment and these recreations which give refreshment to the body and mind are not sufficient to nourish the soul; and "what shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?"

Let us beware, therefore, lest in resting of our bodies and our minds, we starve our souls. We must not, we can not afford in summer to lay aside our worship. The weary mind and the weary body need rest and refreshment and should have them. The soul, too, needs refreshment, and for it there can be only one service, one fountain from which it can receive nourishment and strength. "Come unto me, all ye who are weary and heavy laden and I will refresh you." "Verily, verily I say unto you, except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink His blood, ye have no life in you."

Seldom has there been greater cause for encouragement in the missionary field than by the information concerning the Chinese provisional-president, Sun Yat Sen, who has made possible the great revolution which has transformed the Chinese Empire and is now retiring because of the success of the movement which he has led. Sun Yat Sen is a Christian convert and a Church man. He is a product of our Anglican School for Chinese in Honolulu, maintained by the S. P. G. under Bishop Willis, now a part of our own American Church Mission, and supported by the regular offerings of Churchmen. Moreover, three-fourths of those Chinese who have been factors in this remarkable movement in China are said to be Christians, and because they are Christians, the threatened massacre of Manchus has been averted. How thoroughly does this vindicate world missions! It tells of the world-mission of those who project them. It proves that our missions are not mere experiments, but forces that have the dynamic power to overturn the whole world. History in the Orient has been brought to a sudden climax and turning point by the simple force of Christian Missions!

The same force that has overturned the Chinese throne and ended the Manchu dynasty is the hope of the world in the solution of the present day problems of our American civilization, and no other force will solve them. With our present economic system in America that involves class supremacy, class rule and class hatred; the other is the Christian system that is based upon love. The question of the hour is, which shall prevail?

Let every believer in Christian Missions take courage. The force that went out from one of the humblest of our mission outposts has showed what is its power. The same force is latent wherever the Christian religion is truly presented, truly preached and truly lived.

The girls of All Saints' School, Sioux Falls, S. D., requested that they might go without one meal each day during Lent and devote the amount saved to the relief of the famine sufferers in China. This self-denial resulted in $65. During Lent they also earned $200 for general missions.

During the remainder of the summer and until the Rector returns the services will be in charge of the Rev. H. Cresson McHenry. The Sunday services will remain at same hours, viz: 7.30 A. M., 11.00 A. M. and 7.45 P. M. Rev. Mr. McHenry will be ready to respond at all times to any calls if word is left at the Rectory, or he may be called up by telephone at his residence, 238 Apsley Street, Germantown. His telephone number is Germantown 36-01.

The Rector wishes to call the attention of the parishioners of Christ Church to the following letter. It is very important and should call forth a generous response from our people:

Philadelphia, June 7, 1912
To the Rector of Christ Church.
Dear Sir:

As you are aware the recent Convention under the inspiring appeal of our beloved Bishop committed the Diocese to the building of "Six Churches in Six Years" and it has been decided to begin with the Memorial to Bishop Whitaker at 64th and Haverford Avenue.

Apart from the memory of our late revered Bishop, the opening at St. Barnabas Mission is especially promising. The work is rapidly developing so that in the near future the Mission hopes to be entirely self-supporting.

Will you, therefore, at the earliest moment, call this matter to the attention of your Vestry and Congregation and let us know how much your Church will contribute to this movement to carry into effect the recommendation of our Bishop as approved by the Convention of the Diocese.

We want to break ground in July so that the Church may meet the great need in this locality before January 1, 1913. About $30,000 is available. We must have $30,000 more in hand or pledged to warrant us in going forward.

Assured of your sympathy and awaiting your prompt action and reply, we are,

A Letter from the Bishop

Philadelphia, June 25, 1912
Rev. Charles H. Arndt
Christ Church
59 W. Tulpehocken St., Germantown
My dear Mr. Arndt:

You probably know that contributions from Parishes in this diocese have never equalled the amount of the diocesan apportionment for General Missions. Consequently, towards the close of each fiscal year it has been necessary to appoint a special committee representing the diocese as a whole, to raise the amount of the threatened deficit by personal appeal to individuals. Last year, on an apportionment of $132,912.00 there was a threatened shortage of some $40,000.00. This year with an apportionment increased to $157,970.00, the shortage seems to be only between $20,000.00 and $25,000.00. In other words, we had to ask a diocesan committee last year to raise 40 per cent. of our apportionment for us; this year we are asking them, at the most, to raise only 16 per cent. of a much larger apportionment. This is certainly a splendid step forward. We may well rejoice and take courage.

Meanwhile, what is to be done to prevent the injury to the church's work which would be the inevitable result should, our diocese for the first time fail to complete its apportionment? The Men's Auxiliary has appointed a special committee to prevent such a failure. I am confident you will give them all the aid in your power. But will you not let me make two specific suggestions:

FIRST: If your parish has not yet completed or promised its apportionment in full, is it not possible to make a special effort towards this end within the next three weeks? If this could be accomplished in every case, there would be no deficit.

SECONDLY: If your parochial apportionment is already completed or pledged, could you perhaps find it in your heart to take a share of the burden which now rests upon the diocese at large, by writing to, or still better by seeing, at least three persons before July 8th, in order to lay before them the facts I have mentioned above and to ask them to aid us in this crisis?

I fully realize this is suggesting a task that is neither easy nor pleasant. Perhaps too, you and your people feel that you have already done your full share. But with the progress that is evidently being made in our attempts to educate and arouse all our people to the Church's missionary obligation, it seems hardly unreasonable or unchristian to urge that those who have shown their willingness and strength should for a little longer bear gladly a part of the responsibility which really belongs to those who are still weak. There might be unfairness in this were we submitting to it in silence; but we are not, and the evidence shows that the unfairness is correcting itself surely and not slowly.

Any sums given may be sent in the regular fashion through the parish; but I venture to ask that you notify Mr. W. W. Frazier, Jr., Lock Box 1630, Philadelphia, of the success you may have in order that the special committee may be kept abreast of the situation. Contributions may also be sent, should you prefer, direct to Mr. Frazier.

May I suggest that you read this letter in full or in part to your congregation next Sunday? It deals with a diocesan obligation of paramount importance; and the true situation, with its mingling of great encouragement with momentary need, should be made known to all our people.

Faithfully yours,
Philip M. Rhinelander
Bishop of Pennsylvania

Deaconess Louise Smart one of our missionaries in Alaska, working at Ketchikan, was called to her rest on April 12th. She contracted double pneumonia, and the end came after three days. She was one of Bishop Rowe's noble and self-sacrificing band of women workers, faithful in all things, and her loss will be severely felt.

Christ Church Parish House Germantown, Phila.

At a special meeting of the Vestry held on May 27th, 1912, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS it has pleased the Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove from amongst us Mrs. Helen Butler Falkner, the wife of our beloved Rector Emeritus, Rev. John B. Falkner, D. D., and

WHEREAS Mrs. Falkner, as wife of the Rector of this Parish, was for many years, actively engaged in the work of this Church, laboring with unselfish devotion, especially amongst the poor of the Parish, always ready with her sympathy, as well as more substantial aid lightening the cares and burdens of many, and, in every way, striving to do the Master's Will and to bring souls to Christ, therefore be it

RESOLVED that the Vestry place on record their appreciation of her Christian character and untiring zeal and thank God for the memory of another devoted Christian of this Parish,

RESOLVED that we attend the funeral of Mrs. Falkner in a body and tender to our Rector Emeritus and the members of his family our deepest sympathy with them in their bereavement, and assure them of the affectionate regard in which we hold the family that has been so long and intimately connected with this Parish.

RESOLVED that these Resolutions be recorded in the minutes of the Vestry of Christ Church, and the Acting Secretary send a copy to Rev. John I. Falkner, D. D., and family.

CHARLES HEYER
Acting Secretary

The Church at home does not take its missionary duty very seriously. It does not realize its own importance in the great work. One cannot but think of this in reading words like these from a missionary in China: "I trust you are well and happy in your work, without which ours would be in vain, for it is that great army at home that is ever giving us strength and courage for the battle here."

Wardens and Vestrymen

By the Rt. Rev. William Laurence, D.D.
Bishop of Massachusetts

What are the duties of the Church Wardens?

The ancient traditions are that by them "churches be kept in sufficient reparation," "bread and wine be provided against every Communion," "loiterers be not suffered near the church in time of Divine Service," and "disturbing of Divine Service be prevented." These and a few other traditions, suggest the Warden's duties in three relations. What are they?

(1.) The Wardens have the general care of the fabric of the church, parish house and rectory. It is their duty to see not only that everything is kept in decent repair, but that the whole appearance of the buildings is worthy of God's temple. It is for them and not for the Rector to see that the walls are well painted and the roof tight; that the church lawn is well kept; that after a snow-storm the church's side-walk be not the last one on the street to be cleaned; also that the interior of the church be well appointed, that the carpet be whole, the walls and ceiling clean and free from weather stains, that the chancel and pews be fresh and dustless. To them belongs the arduous duty of seeing that the church is well ventilated and that the temperature of Church and Sunday School is good. Of course the Sexton, who is also at the Rector's command, is their agent, but such matters require vigilance, and all of them, as many other details, add to the comfort and the dignity of the church's service.

(2.) The Wardens with the Rector, prepare for all the services of the church. They are the body guard of the Rector, ready to respond to any reasonable request, quick to aid him in his work, attentive to his interests.

They "receive the alms in a decent basin and reverently bring it to the Priest." It is a dignified and representative act, that of the Wardens giving the alms of the people into the hands of the Priest.

To the Wardens, as representatives of the people, a wise Rector will turn for counsel, criticism and guidance. I am convinced that neither Rector nor Wardens take sufficient advantage of the confidential relations in which they may stand to each other. I believe that, if Wardens would in all kindness sometimes speak their minds more frankly to the Rector, and the Rector would confide in his Wardens some of his questions, difficulties and personal cares, there would be mutual advantage and a gain to the Parish.

(3.) The Wardens guard and assist the devotions of the congregation. Whatever tends toward edification—the seating of the people, the reception of strangers, the provision for Prayer Books and Hymnals—falls within the Wardens' province.

I know that many of these duties have been taken, no doubt with increased efficiency, by members of St. Andrew's Brotherhood and other young men. I am old-fashioned enough, however, to feel that they are doing it as the agents of the representative Parish officers; and I trust that, while the Wardens will encourage the services of young men in every way they will not abdicate their offices as the responsible curators of the Church and of the general interests of the congregation.

What are the duties of the Vestry?

The Vestry as a body stands responsible for the financial condition of the Parish. The duty of raising money cannot be given over to the Rector or the Treasurer or some active Vestryman. While one or another may take certain lines of work, the responsibility is with the whole Vestry; and no good Vestryman will hear the Treasurer report a deficit or a delay in the payment of the Rector's salary without a sense of shame and a resolution that he will try to prevent its happening again. Above all other institutions, the Church should bear a high name for financial honor. Business integrity is essential to the efficiency of a Parish. I occasionally come across a clergyman who, unpractical or careless in finances, does not pay his debts. I have no excuse to offer for him. I can say, however, that I look with admiration upon the great body of the clergy and their wives, for their economy, their good sense, their self-denial and sensitiveness to financial honor. And I know of few more cruel situations than that of a faithful clergyman who, keenly sensitive, has not been paid his salary and, therefore cannot pay his bills because of the listlessness of the Vestry and people. The work suffers through the Rector's anxiety, and thus the Parish suffers doubly in reputation and spiritual leadership. Fortunately such instances are few, but they exist; and I confidently ask every Vestryman to see to it that no such conditions find a foothold in the Parish of which he is an officer.

There is no doubt that the change from the Pew System to a Free Church or pledge or envelope system has made the collection of the Church's income far more difficult, and has also tempted Parishes to give less to missionary interests. Our Vestries have, therefore, a more difficult task before them than in other days. It is neither right nor wise to make the Rector appeal for his own salary. The officers of the church should have such a large conception of the Church's work, such a high estimate of its usefulness to the community, and such confidence in its Divine purpose, as to create a deep and abiding enthusiasm in themselves and the people, which will bring forth fruits in large and systematic offerings.

There is, as a rule, money enough in the people's income to support the Church. One discovers this when some object of special interest arises. I have known a Parish raise enough money in a few weeks to purchase a fine organ, while their Rector, an efficient man, silently endured the shame of unpaid bills because his salary was in arrears. The most valuable asset the Parish has is the Rector's best work and buoyant spirit.

We are well aware that, when a church depends upon fairs, entertainments, and spasmodic efforts, it loses its dignity and influence throughout the whole community. When a Vestry develops and sustains with energy systematic and business-like methods for gathering in the income, it is surprising how steadily the amount increases; the raising of the Rector's salary becomes possible, and there is cheer and buoyancy all along the line.

There are a few other considerations that I would like to suggest.

(1) The Rector is the appointed leader of the Parish. In addition to his routine duties, he should be alert to opportunities for the development of the work of the Parish and the increase of its influence. Toward such movements the Rector should take the first steps. If, however, he be drawn by his enthusiasm into plans and enterprises which are not wise, the Vestry serve as a wholesome check; and a wise Rector will heed the Vestry's advice. At the same time, the Vestry should in general recognize the fact that the Rector is the appointed leader. If he has shown himself to be a man of judgment as well as enthusiasm, he has a right to expect a sympathetic consideration of his plans; and if, after full discussion, favorable action is taken, he should be able to count upon the support of the whole Vestry and through them of the Parish. In a well ordered Parish, Rector and Vestry work together as one, the Rector leading, the Vestry supporting him with full confidence and loyalty.

(2) As the Vestry represents the Parish, I wish that it were possible for the members of the Vestry to know personally a larger proportion of the people of the Parish. The Rector knows all. The Vestryman usually knows but very few. It is not his fault; he has no means of knowing them. At the same time, I am confident that, if the people of the Parish knew their officers better, and the officers, being earnest and enthusiastic men, knew the whole people, there would be vastly more unity and more momentum to the Parish life than there is to-day. How that may be accomplished I leave to you. I am sure, however, that our Parishes would do a mightier work if, by mutual acquaintance and a sympathy which comes with it, there were more esprit de corps. It is that which wins the battle, whether it be in a South African war or in the battle against godlessness in a town in Massachusetts.

The Church on Business Principles

The Church is a business institution. Of course it is something other than that and more than that, but it is that and like every other business institution it is called to stand the test of efficiency. To make its people realize the parish's obligation and their own responsibilities is the vestry's business. Seldom have we seen this task so energetically undertaken as in the Church of the Ascension, Mount Vernon, N. Y., where one of the members of the vestry, himself an expert advertising man, has put his talent to effective use in leaflets that in their form command attention, and, having secured that, tell in a straightforward way where the vestry gets its money, what it does with it, how it organizes itself for the work of the church, and also, possibly quite as important, how it ought not to be expected to do business, and how haphazard and wasteful methods can be avoided if people will but think a little of the business end of the church.

Those who believe that special offerings will solve financial problems fool themselves and the parish. The greatest handicap to the successful operation of a church lies in the lack of knowledge on the part of the laity or the failure upon the part of the people to realize that the maintenance of a church is very much of a business proposition. It is a business in which every member of the parish is a part owner, and to which he owes constructive help in making the business more successful. They are bringing that home to the minds of the congregation so effectively in Mount Vernon that, starting with ninety contributors through duplex envelopes on March 1, with no canvass as yet, the subscribers in Ascension parish already number two hundred and ten.

No man, is justified in pleading any interest, be it ever so sacred, as paramount to the interest of the kingdom of God. This lesson is sadly needed to-day when the great sin of our time is not any particular overt violation of the moral law. There are, of course, violations and awful sins without number, but the great awful sin of our time is the sin of indifference to the divine claim. Men will deliver high tribute to the church and holy things in general. We do not really consider ourselves pagan, but the real offense is that of old—"when I have a more convenient season I will call for thee." Think of the smug complacency of the man who knows that eternal things are of paramount importance. He expects to share in all that the God of all glory has promised for faithful sacrificing service, and yet when business, pleasure, personal discomfort interfere with the routine of religious and necessary duty he permits the holy cause to go by default. One of the hardest tasks of the church today is not to combat atheism, or any particular form of opposition, but that spirit of good-natured indifference to the necessity for constant zeal and activity in every form of Christian service.

Philips Brooks was once asked the question: "What is the first thing you would do if you had accepted a call to become the rector of a small, discouraged congregation that is not even meeting its current expenses?"

His reply was, so it is stated: "The first thing I would do would be to preach on, and ask the congregation to make an offering for, foreign missions."

Phillips Brooks was never called to that kind of a church. But he was enunciating a sound principle. Scores of congregations today are proving in their own experience that the best way

To keep out of debt,

To develop a healthy growth,

To serve the local community effectively,

To drive away the congregational blues is to adopt a world missionary policy, and make adequate offerings for telling the message everywhere.

The Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club, whose Secretary in this Parish is Mrs. Toppliff Johnson, is doing a good work in a quiet and unostentatious way. The object of the club is to distribute periodicals and magazines to persons in far distant places, where good literature is scarce and difficult to get. The following letter recently received by a lady in this parish, who sends her magazines away, through our branch of the Church Periodical Club, is one of many which show how highly appreciated the work of the Club is by persons living in isolated places of the world.

The Parsonage. Kohala, Hawaii, H. T.
April 22, 1912

My dear Madame:

Please accept my very cordial thanks for the Magazines which were received in due time. We only have a weekly mail from Honolulu which makes our connection with the Coast mail very uncertain, so that it seems quite a long time before we can acknowledge mail received. I am very grateful for your kindness in sending me the Magazines. We are living in a very isolated part of the Islands where there is no Public Library or Reading Room and all kinds of reading matter is therefore most acceptable.

I shall also find the Magazines helpful in my work, as all the Clergy in this jurisdiction find it necessary to teach a Night School for the many oriental races who furnish the labor for the various sugar plantations. I have in my school, Japanese, Chinese, Koreans, Filipinos and a few Native Hawaiians. My pupils are all grown men and the ordinary school readers do not seem suitable for these men so that I make up their reading lessons from current literature and find pictures most helpful. I usually put a picture before them and get them to tell me all they can about it, this teaches them to speak English which is the thing they want to learn. Not many of my men are Christians but some are inquirers about our religion and it is by means of these night schools that we get in touch with them.

It is a great help and encouragement in our isolated life to have this help from those at home and I assure you that I do appreciate most highly the help that you give me.

Very faithfully yours,

J. W. Merrill

Persons in the congregation who take magazines of any kind, secular, scientific or religious, will be furnished with names and addresses where their magazines will be highly appreciated, if they will communicate with Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Locust Ave., Germantown.

Do not let your good reading matter accumulate and be destroyed when it can be of such valuable service to others less fortunate than you are.

The Infant School held its annual picnic Saturday afternoon, June 8th on the rectory lawn. The day was ideal and the children had a very enjoyable time playing games; after which they were served with ice cream and cake. One and all went home feeling very happy.

Big Quarter's Worth

On June 19th, after a lapse of six years, the people of Christ Church were treated to one of the old time "Big Quarter's Worth" entertainments; the only difference being the sign "Under New Management" which caused some a touch of sadness, which came from the fact that the tickets and programs bore the name of Christ Church Sunday School instead of Christ Church Club. However, "let the dead past bury its dead" and if the present generation continues to emulate in like manner other worthy principles of the Club the same results will accrue.

The entertainment was a success in every sense of the word. Many compliments have been paid the committee of ladies in charge and they deserve credit for the manner in which they performed their duty.

The proceeds will amount to $45.00 and this sum will be used by the School in helping to redeem the pledge of $1500 towards the Parish House Improvement Fund. But for the heavy expenses caused by a desire to give all the worth of their money the net return would have been close to $60.00.

The Sunday School wishes to thank every one who helped in any way, both participants and audience, and trust that they will come to its aid in future when another equally deserving effort is to be made by the School. C. H. J.

Sixtieth Anniversary of Christ Church Parish

The Sixtieth Anniversary of the Parish will be celebrated by a series of meetings and services, beginning Tuesday evening, October 22nd and continuing until the following Sunday, October 27th, when the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D. D., will preach in the morning. In the evening the preacher will be the Rev. Robert Johnston, Rector of the Church of the Saviour, West Philadelphia.

The days previous to this Sunday will be devoted to a series of social meetings, to be held in the Parish House.
The following is the provisional program:

On Tuesday evening, October 22nd, a Parish Reception will be held in the Parish House from eight to ten. Every member of the Parish and every attendant at the Church is cordially invited to be present at this reception. It is hoped to make this one of the pleasantest socials in the Parish.

On Wednesday evening, October
23rd, a Men's Smoker will be held.
Good speakers have been invited to speak on subjects of special interest to men of the Church. Every man in the Parish will want to be present on this occasion. The Smoker will be from eight until ten o'clock.

On Friday, October 25th, an entertainment will be given by "celebrated" local talent. Of course no one can afford to miss this treat. A full announcement of the program and the "celebrities" who will take part in it, will be made later.

The Anniversary will be brought to a close on Sunday, October 27th. The services on Anniversary Sunday will be as follows:

Holy Communion 7.30 A. M.
Holy Communion and Sermon by the Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D.
D., Bishop of Pennsylvania, 11.00 A.M.
Parish Guild Service 7.30 P. M.

This service is especially intended for members of the Sunday School and all Parish societies. The special preacher at this service will be the Rev. Robert Johnston, Rector of the Church of the Saviour, Philadelphia.

The offering at all services will be for the extinguishment of the new Parish House debt.

A Memorial Pew to Mrs. James Y. Humphrey

The many friends of the late Mrs. James Y. Humphrey will be glad to learn that an opportunity will be given to them to contribute toward a memorial to this faithful and consecrated life.

The memorial will take the form of a perpetual endowment of the pew which Mrs. Humphrey was accustomed to occupy for many years in Christ Church. This pew will be known as the "Miriam Humphrey Memorial Pew" and will be perpetually free for use of strangers. The necessary amount to endow a pew will be $2000.00. As Mrs. Humphrey's consecrated life in the parish for many years was known to all, and everyone, old and young loved and respected her for her unselfish service in every good work, this amount should not be difficult to raise. A committee of ladies, the chairman of which is Mrs. Sheldon Potter, has taken the matter in charge. It is desired that this memorial be an expression of love and esteem from every one who knew Mrs. Humphrey, and therefore contributions of any amount will be appreciated. A suitable tablet will be placed in the Church, stating that the pew is given by friends in memory of Mrs. Humphrey.

Contributions may be sent to the chairman of the committee, Mrs. Sheldon Potter, 48 West Tulpehocken St., or to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal St.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the Memorial Pew.

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

The Mothers' Meeting

On Tuesday, October the eighth at half past two o'clock, we hope to welcome all our former members and many new ones.

We shall begin our winter's work with renewed enthusiasm. Orders for more of the pretty rag carpet which we had for sale last year, make it necessary for us to appeal to our interested friends for all pieces of cloth they can spare for the carpet and rugs which were such a great success last year.

We have for sale as heretofore, white and gingham aprons, dish towels and dusters, and trust that every one in the Parish having use for such articles, will buy them from the Mothers Meeting. We shall be pleased to welcome new members into the meeting.

A. M. M.

Envelope Offering

During the summer months when many are away on vacation, the offering in the Church falls very far short. The Warden finds it difficult to meet the financial obligations of the Parish and is compelled to negotiate loans to tide over the time. It is therefore most urgent that all persons who are in arrears in their offering should pay their amounts in full at the earliest opportunity. Some are in arrears several months and if every one will pay up promptly the Warden will be relieved of a great part of his financial difficulty.

Boys' Club

It will be good news to the boys of the Parish to learn that the Club will be re-organized this fall and meetings will be held in the Parish House on Friday evenings. All boys over fourteen years of age are invited to join the Club.

Two basket ball teams will be organized and competing games will be held in the large new play room in the Parish House. Some of the boys want to put individual lockers in the shower bath room so that each boy may have his own locker. This and other matters will come up before the first meeting to be held, Monday evening, October 7th, at quarter to eight. Every boy who wants to join the Club is urged to be present on that evening. All boys over fourteen years of age are invited. The Club will be in charge of Mr. John Davidson and Mr. Keith R. Rodney.

Boys! Remember the date: Monday evening, October 7th.

The President of the Altar society requests that all the members be present in the Parish House on Thursday afternoon, October 7th at three o'clock. Arrangements of the Committees for the coming winter will then be made and some special work will be undertaken. An elaborately embroidered Altar Cloth for the main Altar was recently presented to the Church by a member of the Parish in memory of the late Walter J. Crowder.

Altar Flowers

As is well known, the Altar Guild supplies the altar vases with flowers. After the use on Sunday the flowers are taken to the sick of the Parish. The flowers on the Altar are mostly given by persons in the Parish in memory of friends. Any person who desires to contribute flowers in memory of a dear one in Paradise is invited to choose a Sunday nearest the anniversary of the death of the relative or friend and notify the Rector or President of the Altar Society, Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, who will be pleased to arrange to have the flowers placed on the Altar on that Sunday.

The Source of Civilization

We hear more to-day than ever before of the blessings of Christian civilization. Men are quick to recognize that this seems no more than an admission of the power of the Christ over the wills and affections of mankind. Yet many of them fail to recognize, or, if recognizing, are unwilling to admit that this power has been maintained and preserved, humanly speaking, at least, only through His Church. Go back only one hundred years, if you please, and ask yourself through what agencies have come the greatest achievements in all works tending to the betterment of human conditions. You will agree with me that they have come through the influence and teaching of the Church of Christ, when that Church has truly set forth the gospel of Christ. And yet multitudes of men who recognize this are unwilling to give that Church in any human form their personal presence and aid, the greatest gift of all.

The various societies of the Parish will resume their regular meetings in October. The Rector desires to meet with each society of the Guild on the opening meeting. A full attendance is requested of every society, that plans may be made and the work arranged for the coming winter.

EDITORIAL

With this issue the Chimes completes the tenth year of its existence. This is a record of which the people of Christ Church may justly feel proud. It is unusual for Church papers to have so long an unbroken continuity. When the Chimes was first presented to the parishioners it was hoped, but not very confidently expected, that it might have a life of five years or thereabout. However, at the end of twice that term of years we are still "doing business at the old stand;" and, although there have been times when it seemed certain that the end was in sight, we are in a position that would seem to warrant our continued existence for many years to come. This, of course, depends entirely on the financial support of our readers and we earnestly and confidently hope that the generous response that has marked the last few years will be the experience of most Church papers that the number of subscribers has steadily decreased until suspension of publication was necessary. Not so in our case. The people of Christ Church have so shown their appreciation of our efforts that our subscription list has grown year by year until the number for the volume just ending has been the largest in our short history. The paper is yours and you have generously aided its Editors in meeting what has been a very considerable expense. May we not hope for even a larger number of subscribers for this year? All subscriptions end with this number and we earnestly request prompt renewals, in order that there may be no interruption in our publication.

While figures are usually tiresome it may be of interest to note that since our first appearance we have issued 109 numbers of the Chimes, that over 70,000 copies of our paper have been printed and distributed. In these ten years over 900 pages of reading matter, excluding advertisements entirely, have been prepared and presented to our readers.

It has been our endeavor at all times to present the local news of the Parish in a breezy and yet dignified manner, at all times bearing in mind that we represented a Christian Church and had her traditions and dignity to maintain. We have also tried to give our readers some general reading matter along churchly lines that might prove both interesting and instructive. Whether we have succeeded in our ambitions or have in any way failed to measure up to the desires of our readers we must leave to others to judge and we can find the only indication of your approval or disapproval in the measure of support which we receive. We appreciate your generosity of the past and will enter upon another year confident that it will be even better than the year now ending.

The Episcopal Church accounts reverence to be one of the indispensable foundation-stones of noble character, and is willing to run even the risk of formalism that she may foster in young and old the spirit that in humility adores. Therefore she uses a liturgy.

The Awakening in China

About fifty years ago Bishop Boone proposed to go to China and he was told there was a wall about it, but he said, there's a door. The reply given was, the door is closed. "I can go, however, and oil the hinges, and if I can accomplish that, I will consider that my mission is not in vain." Considering the fact that he worked eight years before he made a single convert, it was not surprising that there were those who made their criticisms as to the waste of men and the useless expenditure of money in trying to carry the Church where, it was said, it was not wanted. The work, however, was persisted in, and today we have in our Diocese there fifty clergymen, ten physicians, two hundred teachers and five thousand communicants.

Altogether in China, there are now over two hundred thousand members of Christian Churches and at least a million of adherents. The literary and student classes have been reached. The Bible has been adopted as a part of the teaching of the public schools in many of the provinces. A viceroy, nearest the throne, has published a book advocating Christianity as a part of the coming civilization in China. With the marvelous awakening in the East, there should certainly be on our part a corresponding awakening in supplying men and equipment, in entering the doors of opportunity that are now open and in responding to the calls of encouragement which are given.

Unfaithful Messengers

A little street boy had learned in his few visits to a mission school the story of God's love, and he accepted with eager faith the thought of a watchful Father in heaven. Some older companions sneered at his trust.

"If you've got a great friend like that, why don't he take better care of you?" they asked. "If he's so rich and mighty, and thinks so much of you, why don't he send you decent clothes and shoes and the other things you need?"

The little fellow pondered a minute—it was the old hard question that has tried the faith of many an older Christian—then his loving trust conquered, and he answered with simple loyalty, "I guess he did tell somebody, and they forgot!"

Somebody—somebody who has God-given money and time and responsibility—has always forgotten when the little ones go neglected and uncared for. A great share of the pain and need of the world, over which we mourn, and concerning which we challenge the Highest, comes through human forgetting. Somebody is neighbor to every case of grief and want our old world knows. Suppose each one should do all in his power to lessen it and to help those nearest to him, how far off would the millennium be? But the little boy's trusting, loving answer holds another lesson, also, for many of us older ones. When things go wrong, when hopes and plans fail, and the need and its answer seem slow to meet, we are often swift to murmur that God's promise had not been kept. Why should we grow bitter and hard as if he had deserted us? Why cannot we, too, remember how human weakness intervenes, and be lovingly, loyally sure that the Father is true, however man forgets? We may be sure that he sees the unfaithful messenger as well as the needy servant, and that his help will come to the one who trustingly waits.

Some people are always complaining that they do not get any good out of going to Church and seem to feel that in some way the Church or the minister is to blame. These people need to look within and they will speedily find that the fault lies in themselves. We get from the Church proportionately as we give. The business man who desires to get larger returns from his factory or his shop knows that he must put more into it—more of his money, more of his time, more of himself. The same rule is equally true when applied to the Church—if we would get more out of our religious connections we must give more ourselves.

"The Dangers of Prosperity"

"In all time of our prosperity, Good Lord deliver us" in our sublime litany reminds us of the danger that beset our path when everything seems secure and prosperous. It was when Israel of old "waxed fat" that the people "kicked" or rebelled against God and forgot all that he had done to redeem them and make them a great nation.

So in our own country our apparent strength, marvelous growth and wonderful prosperity bring in their train weakness and disease which, if not corrected and eradicated, must inevitably lead to decay and death, as with the nations of old. The increasing number of divorces, the foul crimes perpetrated, the wasteful extravagances of the rich and unrest of the people are simply superficial manifestations of a deeper trouble, which is nothing other than the worship of Mammon, and the false ideals of life which apostasy creates. Character, ability and worth sink into insignificance before the glitter and bauble of that which money can buy, and thus the desire to seem to be rich and the greed to obtain riches, the marriages for convenience or for material and social advantage: these eat as a canker into the fabric of society and destroy homes, corrupt the State, degrade the Church, and God and his service is forgotten; but He reigneth still and some day will call men to account and punish them for their sins. It becometh then the supreme duty of all his faithful servants to set their faces steadfastly against these things.

A Blessed Death

A venerable colored minister, who had been pleading earnestly for Foreign Missions, closed his exhortation with these words: Brethren, I've heard of Churches dat's dying of 'spectability. I've heard of a Church where de souls of de people is all shrivelled up with selfishness, and I've heard of lots of Churches like a great barren desert, with no living waters, no waters of 'freshment running in 'em, 'cause dey refuse to do de Lord's will. But bredren, who ever heard of a Church dat was killed 'cause it gave money to Foreign Missions? Who ever heard of a Church dat died 'cause it did what de Lord said? Neber! neber! Bredren, ef anybody would tell me of such a Church in all dis wide universe, I'd make a pilgrimage to dat Church, and I'd climb up its ivy-mantled walls in de moonlight, and up to de top of de steeple, and I'd put dis great black hand on de topmos' pinnacle of dat temple and say, 'Bressed am de dead dat die in de Lord."

—Selected

Bishop Morrison, of Iowa, says the Church will grow in almost any community, if the people—the laymen—will take hold and in a spirit of devotion to Christ and His teaching, begin an aggressive work themselves. He further says that in looking over his Diocese after seven years of service as a Bishop, he finds that while in many places there has been a change in the minister, he finds little change in the people. One thing is lacking—a body, large or small, of people consecrated to making Christ and His teaching a power in the souls of men, willing to make any personal sacrifice of time and inclination, ease and comfort, to set a good example and to rouse the indifferent. He adds with emphasis, that if any Parish or Mission is to grow the PEOPLE must make it grow.

The Sunday School

The Sunday School has been kept open all Summer. Many of the teachers and scholars being away, the attendance was of course, small. The lesson was taught each Sunday from the chart by a different person. Those who taught the school during the summer were:

Mr. John Gallagher, Jr.
Mr. Wm. S. Owens, Jr.
Mr. John Davidson
Mr. Geo. J. Morgan
Mr. Charles H. Jackson
Mr. Frank O. Chaffee
Mr. O. N. Middleton

The School will resume its regular session on the first Sunday morning in October. Mr. George T. Morgan, our recently elected vestryman, will take charge of the School, together with Mr. Middleton who has served the School so faithfully for many years. There will be a Corporate Communion of all the officers, teachers and confirmed scholars of the School on Sunday morning, October 6th at half past seven. A number of the teachers and scholars live at a distance from the School and cannot go to their homes and return in time for the opening of the school at half past nine.

The Rector and Mrs. Arndt will be pleased to welcome all members of the School to the Rectory for breakfast immediately after the service.

Choir Notes

The choir held their annual picnic at Belmont, Saturday, July 6th.

On Sunday, July 7th, the choir again visited the Eastern Penitentiary, and gave a service, consisting of anthems and hymns. The choir give as a rule, two services a year at the above institution, and are afterward conducted through the prison by the warden and chaplain.

Mr. Guthrie, baritone soloist, who gained such favor with the congregation, owing to his sympathetic rendition of solo parts, resigned July 14th. The choir presented him with a briar pipe, and several went down to Washington Street Wharf on July 27th, when he sailed for England with his family, where he will reside.

Mr. Warren Lightcap has been engaged as bass soloist to fill Mr. Guthrie's place.

Miss Cummins, who has been absent from the choir since the latter part of June, suffering from nervous prostration is now on the road to recovery, and expects to return to her place in the choir shortly.

The Christ Church Choir Saving Fund, started by the choirmaster September 1911, in which the choristers made deposits weekly with the object of having vacation money for this summer, stopped receiving deposits on July 1st, 1912, and returned to each depositor their share. The total amount deposited was $428.11. Miss Jean Duling, who acted as Treasurer, received the warm thanks of all the choir for her kindness in encouraging the members to save and for the arduous work she accepted so graciously.

Seeing the successful outcome of the Saving Fund, the choirmaster this past month, started the second yearly fund. Miss Duling declined to serve again as treasurer, preferring another to have the honor. No one has been appointed as yet to fill the vacancy.

On Monday, August 5th, a number of the choir left for Wildwood. Different choristers joined the party while there and all enjoyed the outing.

The prizes offered by the choirmaster for attendance during the summer months were won by Misses Frida and Anna Muller, first; Miss Laura Hayhurst, second; Miss Collisson, third.

Mrs. Anderson sailed for England on August 17th, for her health, and expects to return October 15th. During her absence, Miss Ethel Lightcap is filling her place.

Miss Elizabeth Barrett has joined the choir as contralto.

For the Sixtieth Anniversary of Christ Church to be held October 27th, the following musical program will be rendered: Kyrie, Gloria Tibi, Sursum Corda, Sanctus, Benedictus and Gloria in Excelsis from Gounod's celebrated St. Cecelia Communion Service will be sung in the morning. In the evening, Stainer's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis will be given. The anthem will be "Rejoice in His Holy Name," by L. M. Rile. This anthem is a festal setting for full choir, in four to eight parts, containing a fugue, and ending with a Coda, full choir and organ. It has been written for this service, and is dedicated to the Rector and Vestrymen of Christ Church.

L. M. R.

Rev. Murray W. Dewart of St. James Church, Roxbury, has this apt parable in his Parish paper: "Some of us can remember, some years ago, when the explorer Greeley was lost in the far north, a crew of men was collected, given a ship and supplies and sent out to find Greeley. It wasn't a matter of particular concern whether they would have good weather or bad, except as the weather helped or hindered them in the finding of Greeley. Not a member of the crew ever supposed that that ship was given him for his own pleasure; no one thought of gauging the success or failure of the trip by the amount of pleasure or pain he had on that voyage; there was just one thing on their minds, one outcome that would spell success, one thing their happiness demanded, and that was to find Greeley. With a purpose no less distinct our Lord founded His Church. It wasn't for the personal comfort of the members of that Church. It was because He wanted an organization to go on a mission for Him."

—The Church Militant, Boston.

It Isn't the Thing You Do

It isn't the thing you do, dear,
It's the thing you have left undone
That gives you a bit of a heartache
At the setting of the sun.
The tender word forgotten;
The letter you did not write;
The flower you did not send, dear,
Are your haunting ghosts tonight.

The stones you might have lifted
Out of a brother's way;
The bit of heartsome counsel
You were hurried too much to say;
The loving touch of the hand, dear,
The gentle, winning tone,
Which you had no time nor thought for
With troubles of your own.

Those little acts of kindness
So easily out of mind,
Those chances to be angels
Which we poor mortals find,
They come in night and silence,
Each sad reproachful wraith,
When hope is faint and flagging
And a chill has fallen on faith.

For life is all too short, dear,
And sorrow is all too great,
To suffer our slow compassion
That tarries until too late;
And it isn't the thing you do, dear,
It's the thing you leave undone,
Which gives you a bit of heartache
At the setting of the sun.

Look thou within my thoughtless heart and say
What thou hast done in this most precious day,
No longer thine to use in any way.
Hast thou been faithful to the truth and right?
Hast helped to make another's burdens light?
Art thou a better heart than yesternight?
Alas! alas! But wilt thou sometimes be Good, noble, earnest, grand in ministry?
To-morrow's sunset gun may knell for thee.

Gethsemane

In golden youth, when seems the earth
A summer land for singing mirth,
When souls are glad and hearts are light

And not a shadow lurks in sight,
We do not know it, but there lies
Somewhere, veiled under evening skies,
A garden each must some time see—
Gethsemane, Gethsemane—
Somewhere his own Gethsemane.

With joyous steps we go our ways,
Love lends a halo to the days,
Light sorrows sail like clouds, afar,
We laugh and say how strong we are,
We hurry on, and, hurrying, go
Close to the border land of woe
That waits for you and waits for me,
Gethsemane, Gethsemane—
Forever waits Gethsemane.

Down shadowy lanes, across strange streams,
Bridged over by our broken dreams
Behind the misty cape of years,
Close to the great salt font of tears
The garden lies; strive as you may
You cannot miss it in your way.

All paths that have been or shall be Pass somewhere through Gethsemane

All those who journey, soon or late
Must pass within the garden's gate;
Must kneel alone in darkness there
And battle with some fierce despair,
God pity those who cannot say—
"Not mine, but Thine;" who only pray
"Let this cup pass," and cannot see
The purpose in Gethsemane.
Gethsemane, Gethsemane—
God help us through Gethsemane!

The Habit of Going to Church

The sense of duty, the love of truth, the desire to do good to all men, are not inseparably connected with the habit of going to church. Yet many a man may also make a noble use of the opportunities of public worship. They may deepen his nature and character; they may strengthen and steady him. They may draw him towards others and prevent his becoming isolated. They may enable him to resist temptations of evil to get rid of levity and egotism. They teach him to know himself, they may lead him to think seriously of life; they may enable him to preserve consistency when other men are going backwards and forwards from one pole of religious belief to another; they are the natural balance of the amusements and excitements of youth, when the pulse beats quickly and the heart is eager, and the sorrows of life have not yet been felt. There is nothing in this which is necessarily formal or unreal or constrained. He who does not under some hasty misconception lay aside the habits of religion, as many in the present day seem apt to do, will find that they are in no way inconsistent with the love of truth. And he will learn, as years go on, that truth does not consist in a series of abstract propositions, or in systems of philosophy, or discoveries about facts of science or history, but that of truth too there is a higher and more living image in the perfection of human nature, the likeness of God in Christ.

CHRIST CHURCH Tulpehocken and McCallum Sts.

CLERGY:

Rector, REV. CHARLES HENRY ARNDT, M. A.

Rector Emeritus, REV. JOHN B. FALKNER, D. D.

CURATE

Parish Visitor, MRS. LAURA H. DAYTON

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY }
6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS

With this number the Chimes begins the eleventh volume of its publication. With this issue a new Board of Editors assume charge. After a faithful service of ten consecutive years the former Board retires at the request of its own members. Few persons, who have not had the experience, realize the amount of time and labor entailed in getting out a monthly parish paper.
The Editors of the Chimes have labored faithfully during the past ten years, solely with one object in mind—the best interest of Christ Church, and it is gratifying for them to know that their labors have been appreciated by the Rector and people. As an evidence of the favor in which the Chimes stand in the estimation of our people it may be stated that at no time in the past has the subscription list been as large as at the present, and each month its publication is looked forward to by an increasing number of interested friends.
The splendid spirit of loyalty to the Parish, which pervades all classes of people, together with the gradually increasing number of persons who are cooperating in the support of the Parish and the furtherance of its philanthro-pies through rental of pews and envelope subscriptions, is due, in no small measure, to the Christ Church Chimes, co-ordinating, as it does the various interests of the Parish and bringing all the societies into harmony and sympathy of action.

It is greatly to be desired that the publication of the Chimes shall be continued. The new Board of Editors are willing to do the work if the people will continue liberally to support it.

To the retiring Board the Rector expresses his hearty congratulations on the successful completion of the first decade of the publication of the Chimes and his appreciation of their faithful efforts and loyalty on behalf of Christ Church Parish.

The Rector greets the incoming Board with sincere best wishes and bespeaks for them, on the part of the congregation, a cordial co-operation.

The Sixtieth Anniversary

Estimated by any standard, the meetings and services held in commemoration of the Sixtieth Anniversary of Christ Church Parish were a great success. Despite the rain that fell on both Tuesday and Thursday evenings, the the Reception and Entertainment held in the Parish House were both very largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The Reception will long be remembered as one of the most delightful social functions ever held in the Parish. The entertainment on Thursday evening reflected great credit on all who participated and was highly appreciated by the large audience that gathered in the upper room of the Parish Building. The Men's Social and Smoker gathered together a larger number of men than had been seen at any one time in the Parish

House for many years and a hearty good fellowship prevailed among all present. The speeches on that occasion were noteworthy in that they were full of inspiration to the strong, virile manhood of the community to recognize their Christian duty and obligation and to discharge that Christian duty through the Church of Jesus Christ. The legal profession seemed to predominate on that evening, all the speakers, save one, were lawyers.

The culmination of the week was the wonderful services held on Sunday, October 27th. Beginning with the Celebration of the Holy Communion at half past seven and ending with the Guild Service in the evening, the attendance was very large and the services were inspiring.

The Celebration of the Holy Communion at eleven o'clock, will long be remembered as one of the most impressive services ever held in Christ Church. The Bishop of the Diocese, the Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D. D., preached an impressive sermon on the text: St. Mark 12:30.

Gounod's St. Cecilia Mass was rendered by the Choir in so beautiful and reverent a manner that, in the words of a worshipper, "it seemed a trance of worship and I shall never expect to be nearer Heaven, than I was at that service, until I gain the Gate."

In the evening the Guilds of the Parish, including the Sunday School, marched into the church from the Parish House, the Sunday School and some of the societies carrying with them their banners. The large congregation listened to an inspiring sermon on "Consecrated Service" by the Rev. Henry M. Medary, Rector Memorial Church of the Advocate, Philadelphia.

With this service ended the observance of the Sixtieth Anniversary of the Parish. Outwardly the Anniversary was, in every particular, a success. We hope that it was more than this. We pray that this Anniversary may mean a fuller consecration of every soul in the Parish to Jesus Christ, which will manifest itself in a deeper devotion to His Church and an unselfish service in His Kingdom among men.

Faithless Communicants

In connection with the late anniversary service of Christ Church the Rector has had occasion to go carefully over the list of the members of the Parish. There are something more than six hundred names of communicants on the books, about seventy-five per cent. of this number are faithful and loyal to the Parish. They attend the services of the Church with more or less regularity, and contribute to the support of the work according to their ability. Many are inspiring examples of faithfulness and generosity.

Of the remaining 25 per cent., about twenty per cent. are "indifferent." They come to Divine Service "when they feel like it," and that is not very often—and drop a small coin on the plate, as they may chance to "have it at hand."...Of course their attendance at Church is not based upon any Christian principles, but is regulated according to their "convenience," and their "giving to the Lord," averages about as much as they would give to a beggar at their door or a grind-organ man on the streets. They do not know what it means to give "an offering unto God."

And then there is a third class—consisting of about five per cent. of our communicant list who are absolutely "worthless," so far as any usefulness to the Church is concerned. They seldom, if ever, attend the services of the Church, yet they consider themselves "members in good standing." Notices, letters and appeals are sent to them, as they are sent to others; yet they never reply when the Rector asks support for some especially worthy charity, they never respond—much less do they give to the support of their Parish. As far as any service to the Church or any support, personal or financial to any of its charities, is concerned, they are worthless. And yet they are the people who are as a rule the most severe in their criticisms of what "other people ought to do," and who, often make the most exacting demands upon the Rector's time and complain most often because "he does

The Parish Reception

The reception at Christ Church Parish House, on Tuesday evening, October 22nd, was the first event of the week devoted to the celebration of the Sixtieth Anniversary of Christ Church Parish.

In every way it was a most pleasant beginning of a successful series of reunions.

Mr. George T. Morgan and Mr. Henry R. Baremore were appointed to attend to the arrangements for this reception, and showed their wisdom by calling to help them several of the capable and willing ladies of the congregation, who met at the residence of Mr. Baremore, and it is solely due to their efficient work, that the reception was such a successful and enjoyable affair.

Mesdames, Shinn, Roddney, Avery, Lewis, Jones, Crowder, Bland, Bains, Morris, the Misses Woodruffe, Morgan, Pugh were asked to attend to decorations and accomplish wonders.

Mrs. Richard Morris and Mrs. Topliff Johnson, the music committee, did their part so well, that the music was a distinct feature.

not come to see them." They expect a great deal of the Rector, yet they never do anything for the church, or give anything for the furtherance of the great cause which the Church represents.

The Rector wants to do by these people what is right. But the question rises, "what is right." When this class of people need his ministrations, every Rector yearns to do all he can for them—to dedicate their children to God in Holy Baptism, to be at their side to help them in time of trouble to comfort them in their sorrows and to kneel in prayer with them at the bed of death.

But surely, if people feel the need of the Church in the time of trouble and sorrow and at the hour of death, ought they not to remember their duty to the Church in the time of their prosperity? Should people be encouraged to believe that they can live all their lives without discharging any obligations to the Church and then, when they come to die, expect the ministrations of the Church and that her ministers will read over their graves—"Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

They who think that they can afford to live without Christ and His Church ought—were they consistent—to be content to die without Christ and the ministrations of the Church.

But no soul can afford to do this. Sooner or later there comes into every life a time when the soul cries out for God and turns to Him as the only source of comfort and strength.

To meet this universal need the Church of Jesus Christ is in the world. But the Church, her ministry, the Sacraments, are intended to help men now, not to wait until they are dying or after they are dead.

Ought not these men and women who do next to nothing for Religion and seldom attend Divine Service to recognize their obligations to Religion and the Church, while they are living, while they are enjoying God's blessings of health and prosperity, and not wait until after they are dying or after they have passed away?

Mrs. Henry Marot and Mesdames J. M. Ritter, Heyer, Rowley, Simcox, Cannon, Robinson, Morrison, Johnson, and Miss Chase filled their mission of providing for the inner man very successfully.

Mrs. Alexander Jones, regarded by all as indispensable, presided at the coffee urn at one end of the well filled table, and Mrs. Walter J. Crowder ably supported her at the other end.

There is no doubt that every one at this well attended reception passed a pleasant evening, the mark of approval was on every face.

Colonel Sheldon Potter made a short address in his always happy way, and called attention to the fact that our much beloved Rector had been with us for twenty years; and most gracefully presented him with a token of the esteem in which all hold him.

H. R. B.

The second of the Social meetings of the week to commemorate the Sixtieth Anniversary, was an entertainment given in the Sunday School Room on Thursday evening, October 24th.

The talent was entirely local and was furnished by the members of the choir, the Ladies' Auxiliary and the Girls' Friendly Society.

The evening was anything but inviting, being wet and stormy, yet notwithstanding this the room was filled to its utmost capacity.

A piano duet in which both performers were heard to great advantage was followed by a soprano solo, beautifully rendered, and then came the sketch, "Surprise" by a number of the members of the Auxiliary. The story of the troubles of the new school "maam" ending in the happy triumph of the young and pretty leader, was well brought out by the members of the Auxiliary, and reflects great credit on the leader who had worked so hard to train the amateur actresses.

Another duet on piano, and a vocal duet, soprano and contralto, very efficiently given, brought the first part to a close.

The second part opened with a delightful soprano solo and was followed by an ambitious effort in amateur theatricals by the Girls' Friendly Society, entitled "The District School."

This was in three acts and gave in detail the troubles, trials and triumphs of scholars, teachers, parents and principal connected with the village school. A number of local hits were interpolated and many of the speeches and situations were received with shouts of laughter.

The audience showed their appreciation of the work of the Girls' Friendly by prolonged applause.

A very effective bass solo, and a duet on piano in which the organist and Miss Collisson again displayed great talent closed the entertainment.

The following was the program rendered on the above occasion:

The "Smoker" which was held in the Parish House on Friday evening, Oct. 25th was attended by about 125 persons, and proved to be a very enjoyable affair. Colonel Sheldon Potter presided at the meeting and introduced the gentleman who addressed the gathering. Very interesting addresses were made by Mr. Francis A. Lewis, of Philadelphia, Mr. Butler of Mauch Chunk, the Rector and Colonel Potter, while Mr. Montgomery enlivened the meeting with several humorous selections. After the speeches, those present were very pleasantly entertained by the ladies' who served refreshments, Mrs. Arndt, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Rodney presiding in the most delightful manner. The evening's entertainment closed with the singing of a number of popular songs accompanied by the piano and the participants separated at a late hour, having apparently enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Neighborhood Club

Mr. Bernard J. Newman, Executive Secretary, of the Philadelphia Housing Commission, has kindly consented to address the next gathering of our Neighborhood Club, telling us of their work and the City's needs and illustrating his talk with lantern slides.

The usual "Smoker" will be the indulgence, and all men interested, as well as all members, are requested to note the date, Friday, November 15th, 8.00 P. M., and make special effort to be with us.

The subject is one of interest to us all and we anticipate an interesting presentation; let us show our appreciation by our presence in goodly numbers.

O. N. Middleton, Pres.

The Annual Missionary Meeting of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, 19th and Walnut Streets, on Friday, November 15th, from 10 A. M. until 4.30 P. M. The Bishop of the Diocese will preside and the other speakers will be announced later.

The Mothers' Meeting

Since our opening meeting, October 8th, we have been working industriously, filling orders for Colonial Rugs, many of them corresponding with decorations and colors of rooms in which they are to be used.

We have also had an urgent appeal from St. John's Mission, Home and School, Corbin, Kentucky, to help clothe and care for six children of one Mountain family, ages respectively, 15, 12, 9, 8, 5 and 3 years. The step mother only two years older than the senior child. It is not unusual in these mountains to find wives and mothers 16 years of age. The father is wanted by the Sheriff for the illegal manufacturing of "Moonshine Whiskey." We want to purchase material to make clothes for these six children. The girl mother must of course go to work, as cold weather will soon be here. We purpose to fill a box and send it to make these poor little waifs comfortable for the winter. Any donations of money, clothing, picture books, toys, dolls, will be gratefully received. We would like to send the box as a Thanks giving offering, for, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

We shall also continue our Parish House Sales of clothing, as we had them last year, and in asking for clothing laid aside, we want to express our appreciation and sincere thanks to all kind friends, who so promptly and liberally responded to our home-needs in this way last year. "The poor ye have always with you."

L. H. D.

O. A. B. C.

The attendance at the Sunday School has steadily improved since "Rally Sunday," first Sunday in October. It is anticipated that the two hundred mark, which is the normal attendance during Fall and Winter season will soon be passed.

It is proposed to form in the near future a Men's Bible Class to be run on the latest plans which have been found so successful in other churches.

Our organized Adult Bible Class should be a great help to the Rector and Vestry of the Church. Christ Church must not be without this help. The Superintendent sends out the usual call for more teachers—Volunteers will be welcome at any service.

An assistant in the Primary Class, one who can play the piano, is needed at once.

Choir Notes

On Thursday evening, Oct. 17th, the members of the choir were entertained at the home of Miss Duling in Germantown. The committee in charge of arranging the party, appointed by the hostess of the occasion, decided it was to be a children's party. The result was that all the choristers appeared costumed appropriately, and the novelty caused much merriment. Songs, games and recitations in keeping with the occasion were indulged in the evening closing with all gathered 'round a well laden table. Favors were distributed, both by the hostess and other (shining lights) of the choir. The affair was the most successful ever given by the choir, as all present agreed, and the thanks of all the choir are due Miss Duling, (also Mrs. Lening and Miss Strien, who assisted Miss Duling in the entertainment) for a most delightful evening.

Miss Cummins has returned to the choir after a long absence due to illness. All her co-workers were glad to see her and know of her recovery.

Mrs. Anderson has returned from Europe, where she had gone for her health. She rejoined the choir, greatly benefitted by her vacation abroad.

The following members of the choir assisted on the program rendered in the Parish Building on Thursday evening, October 24th: Miss Woerthle, Miss Steinmetz, Miss Burnley, Miss Collisson, Miss Terrill, Mr. Lightcap and Mr. Rile.

Miss Woerthle, one of the soprano soloists of the choir, sung her last service in Christ Church on October 27th, resigning to take a similar position in the city. Miss Woerthle while in the choir always did the work assigned her conscientiously, and by her invariable good nature and pleasing manner, became a general favorite among the choristers. Her absence will be felt by her many friends.

Mr. George B. Latham has been engaged as tenor soloist; taking the place of Mr. Cox, who has left the choir.

Mr. Geo. J. Corbett has joined the choir as tenor. Mr. Ed. Hutchinson has entered the choir as baritone.

Miss Irene Sharer, soprano, is now a member of the choir.

Miss Margaret Hayhurst has accepted the appointment of choir treasurer.

Ladies' Auxiliary of C. C. C.

The Auxiliary resumed its regular meetings in September, at which time it was decided to give a play in the fall. The proceeds to be given to the Sunday School Pledge Fund.

As it is the custom to celebrate the birthday of the Auxiliary every year, the members attended a theatre party on September 25.

After the business meeting on October 10, a "kitchen shower" was tendered Miss Millie Bolton.

The memorial corporate Communion was celebrated on September 29. The flowers on the altar at that service were in memory of the deceased members of the Club and Auxiliary.

E. R. A.

Envelope System

The envelope system of giving is gradually being extended more and more throughout the Parish. A larger number of persons in the Parish now give through this systematic method than ever before. The system ought to be extended until it embraces every man, woman and child in the Parish.

It is the most business like method; it is the most regular and systematic; it is the thoroughly Christian; it is the spirit of Apostolic teaching. "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him." 1 Cor. 16:2.

Cards for envelopes may be had in the vestibule or may be procured on application to the Warden.

It is our desire to publish monthly an official showing of the Receipts and Expenditures or rather expenses of our Parish. Having talked this over with the Rector and several of the Vestry, and expecting to confer further on the matter, we hope to arrange to receive such a monthly statement in time for the next issue of the "Chimes."

This should show receipts of our Pew rents, Envelopes, Collections and all sources; Expenses of light, heat, music, salaries, etc., and bring home to us all the larger and necessary expenditures in conducting the Church and Parish. Also the too often uncertain and slim support given.

Girls' Friendly Society

In past years the Friendly, like other societies in the Church, did not hold any meetings during the summer. This year, however, a meeting was held every other Tuesday. The attendance of course was not very large, owing to various members being away on their vacations. The meetings, however, were greatly enjoyed by all who came.

The first Tuesday in October ushered in the regular fall and winter meetings.

Plans have not been definitely laid for work this winter, as the month of October was spent in arranging for the 60th anniversary celebration.

Only one suggestion for the winter's works has been made, that is, that a basket-ball team be formed. Mr. Arndt has promised to furnish an instructor if the class is started.

Any girls, members of the Friendly or not, who are interested in this should see Miss Phyllis Morgan our Branch Secretary.

O. G. K.

The Daughters of the King have taken up the Winter's work with the following Officers:

President, Miss Grace M. Roop; Vice President, Mrs. C. H. Arndt; Secretary, Miss C. Parker; Treasurer, Mrs. Quay.

We hope to take up the study of Blakesley's Apostolic Age. On last Monday evening we had a rededication service in the Church, conducted by Mr. Arndt. It was very impressive, and those who were present will carry the memory of that service through the years work in all we do for His sake.

All women (communicants) who are interested in spreading Christ's Kingdom among women are invited to visit us in the Parish House on the 2nd and 4th Monday evenings of every month, and to come over and help us.

EDITORIAL

Editorial

With this issue the "Chimes" enters upon its eleventh year and under new Editorial management. Ten years is a long period of time. For the new management we ask your co-operation and help; help not only of its readers but of all communicants and friends of the Parish; for the retiring management an appreciation of long continual and well rendered service.

In the leading Editorial on completion of the tenth year is the statement, "The paper is yours and you have generously aided its Editors in meeting what has been a considerable expense." This is true and not true. Every year many of the congregation rally to the support of the "Chimes" upon the necessary threat that if they do not so do, it must cease to live, but how many there are who, month after month, take the "Chimes" from church or Parish House and never pay for it? And what is worse how many times does our good and beloved Rector go down into his own pocket for the necessary ten, twenty, thirty dollars to pay bills and keep the Parish paper on an honorable basis. Do we pay such an extravagant salary and do we stop to think how many, many calls our good Rector has upon his purse. Let us be fair in this matter. We want every one to have the "Chimes" so let those who cannot send 50 cents for the years subscription send us as much as they can, 40cts, 25cts, 10cts and their subscription will be credited in full without a word. Let each and all send as their conscience dictates.

Many changes have come to Christ Church and its people during the life of the "Chimes." To look back is to note the many and silent changes that have taken place. We reverently say, thank God the Rector is still with us. May his years be many and his health improve.

A search through past issues strongly marks the fact that while there are many male communicants on the list, and many men seen at the church services, there are but few who have it upon their consciences to work. The number of male teachers in Sunday School at any one time as published totals but three. The present list shows better than this, but are there no others in the Parish with a sense of obligation for mercies shown?

As the Rector has written fully and freely regarding the 60th celebration of our Parish, and as individual accounts are given by several of the Vestry, we will not take it under Editorial comment at this time.

Some people think that written prayers are only form and do not come from the heart. Does any one doubt they came from the heart of those who first used them? They meant every word of it. Cannot we use them as earnestly?

"Train the mind to dwell on great themes, and it will soon make its home among them."

Hearty Recognition and Praise

We remember having read years and years ago an article written by the late Right Rev. Hugh Miller Thompson, Bishop of Mississippi, on this subject; it made a deep and lasting impression; and we believe it will do good to many others to read it. Here it is:

"There is nothing better for a human being, sometimes, than a little hearty praise. Many good people conscientiously act on the directly opposite principle, and seem to think nothing better than a little hearty blame. They are mistaken, be conscientious in their blame as they may. There are sore burdens enough in life, bitterness and pain enough, hard work enough, and little enough for it, enough to depress a man and keep him humble, a keen enough sense of failure, succeed as he may; and a word of hearty commendation, now and then, will lighten his load and brighten his heart, and send him on with hope and energy, and if he has any reasonable amount of brains at all will do him no harm."

"Children are sometimes heart-starved for a little hearty praise. Conscientious teachers and parents refuse it on principle. They are conscientious fools for their pains. Boys will act up to the estimates put upon them, or at least try to, if they are worth their salt. A hearty word of commendation is meat and drink to them for the next endeavor.

"It is just so with men. The strongest of us can not work without some recognition of our work. We want to know that it is considered good. Our own judgments are not sufficient for us. A 'well-done,' now and then, makes us certain of better doing still in the future."

"We are not speaking of the silly nonsense of flattery. We mean sensible, honest, hearty commendation, because a man deserves it. We mean a showing that a man's good work is appreciated, that the doer is regarded for the doing, and that other people are happy in his doing, and want to cheer him on to do more. It will not hurt anybody, boy or man. To hold it back often does great harm, and inflicts on many a sensitive soul sore pain. For our own part, we consider it only an honest man's duty, when he sees another man doing good work, faithful and hearty service, and doing it well, to say so; and, if it will help him at all in his work, to say it to him freely and heartily.

"Sincere commendation is the wine of life. He who withholds it, when he can give it, is a churl, a churl from the best of motives, but he is a churl nevertheless."

"Think kindly, and thy thoughts shall the world's famine feed;
Speak truly, and each word of thine shall be a fruitful seed;
Live truly and thy life shall be a great and noble deed."

"God nothing does, nor suffers to be done,
But thou thyself wouldst do—if thou couldst see
The end of all events as well as He."

Up or Down?

We do not know who said it, but it was well said. "People who are down on missions are usually those who are not up on missions." There is a world of truth in this simple statement which lies at the bottom of all the modern movement toward missionary education. Again and again it has been demonstrated that opposition to missions as such, has its foundation only in ignorance. How many times have we heard of persons who had "no use for missions," yet after a trip through foreign lands, with seeing eyes and an open mind, have become enthusiastic advocates of that which they once condemned?

The grand essentials of happiness are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

Have faith in God, 'twill give sweet cheer,
God's good, just trust and live,
He'll comfort give, and wipe each tear.
So trust. His peace he'll give.

Now

If you have a word of praise
In these busy heedless days,
Of some striving, helpful one,
For the good that he has done,

Do not wait

Until too late,

Till the weary hands at rest,
Folded on a silent breast,
Leave your praises unexpressed,
Say it now.

Lest some earnest, struggling soul
Falter ere it reach the goal,
Lacking the encouragement
That you surely might have sent,

Do not wait

Until too late

Open both your lips and heart,
Comfort, courage, strength impart,
Bid his gloomy doubts depart,
Do it now

If you know that by your side
Others walk with hope denied,
Do not keep your sympathy
In your bosom silently,

Do not wait

Until too late

Their sad hearts to soothe and cheer,
Let your pity reach their ear,
They may not be always near,
Give it now.

If you love them, tell them so,
Ere the treacherous moments go,
Do not keep affection hid,
Till above a coffin lid,

Do not wait

Until too late

Till the hearts that would have stirred Gladly to your spoken word
Silent are, with love unheard,
Tell it now.

} 6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS

Advent and Christmas

The four weeks which precede Christmas compose what is known as the Advent season. Advent means "coming." The lessons read in the Church and the thought towards which our minds are directed bear upon the "coming of Christ;" they are threefold.

First: The greatest fact in the past history of the world, namely, that the Lord Jesus Christ took upon Him our flesh, came into this world and thereby redeemed it.

Second: That He now comes to every life, and calls through His Church to every soul to come unto Him. "Behold I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in to him and will sup with him and he with me."

Thirdly: That some time, "the day nor the hour knoweth no man," He will come again to judge both the quick and the dead.

The purpose of the Church in this season of Advent is to have its members dwell upon these thoughts, to meditate upon this subject, with joyful hope, preparing our minds and hearts for the coming of our Lord. We are commanded to do so by our Lord, Himself. Christ says: "Watch, therefore, for ye know not when the Master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock crowing, or in the morning; lest coming suddenly He find you sleeping."

It is this preparation in mind and heart for the Advent of Christ that makes Christmas Day so real to the devout Churchman and gives to the Day its true spiritual significance. Christmas to him, is not simply a holiday. It is, what the Prayer Book terms it, "the Nativity of our Lord, or the Birthday of Christ."

Christmas, therefore, without Christ is no Christmas.

Christ is the beginning, the center and the ending of the Day. Its joys, its gifts, its merry-making all spring from the Gospel,—the "Good News" that "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son."

He who conceives of Christmas in this spirit, remembering its religious, its spiritual significance, will not allow the Day to be spent in wholly secular amusements, but will dedicate the day unto the Lord and, like the wise men of old, will seek Jesus and opening up the treasures of their hearts, will present them unto Him and fall down and worship Him

The Bishop has appointed March 12th as the date for his visitation to Christ Church for confirmation. Lecturers and Instructions on Confirmation will therefore be begun by the Rector on Wednesday evening, Jan. 10th, at eight o'clock in the Parish House. Persons contemplating Confirmation, or who desire information or instruction on the subject, are requested to give their names to the Rector at once. The Rector may be seen in the Church after any service.

The Rector is pleased to announce that, by the authority of the Vestry, he has called the Rev. Howard W. Gernand to assist him in the work in Christ Church. Mr. Gernand has been pursuing his theological studies at the Divinity School in West Philadelphia and was ordained to the Diaconate last month. He has had, however, considerable experience in Parish work, before coming to this Parish, having been engaged in the work at St. Simeon's Church, Philadelphia.

Mr. Gernand is a young man of ability, and we believe, will be instrumental in doing great good, especially among the young people in the Parish. The Rector bespeaks for him a cordial welcome into the hearts of all our people.

The following letter is sent out to the Rectors of the Diocese. We hope that many teachers and others interested in Sunday School work will avail themselves of the opportunity.

The Church House

"Will you kindly announce to the Teachers in your Sunday School that Teacher Training Classes are held at the Church House at 2.30 P. M. on the second and fourth Saturdays of the month during the winter season, which they are most cordially invited to attend.

We would be glad to give what assistance we can to any Rector desiring to form a Parochial Teacher Training Class."

A memorial window is being made and is expected to be placed by Christmas Day in the West porch of the Church. The window is in memory of two little boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lippincott. The window represents the Saviour holding in His arms two little children and underneath are the words "Of such is the Kingdom of God."

The window is of excellent workmanship and beautiful in tone.

A Men's Bible Class

A new Bible Class for men is being formed to meet in the Parish House on Sunday mornings at a quarter to ten o'clock. The first meeting of the class will be held on Sunday, December 15.

The class will be under the instruction of the Rev. Howard W. Gernand, who has recently come to the Parish as Curate to the Rector.

A cordial invitation is extended to all young men to join this class. Mr. Gernand will be pleased to meet any young man who desires to join this class.

My Childhood Saint

The following poem was written by a young mother in this Parish, shortly before her death. She gave her life in the birth of her first-born child, a little daughter who survives her. The sentiment of the poem shows the tender affection of a devoted daughter to her mother.

How well do I remember,
In the days that have gone by,
Of a friend, so kind and tender,
Whose love shall never die;
Of a face so full of beauty,
Of a beauty no art can paint,
The one I loved so dearly,
My Saint, my Childhood Saint.

In childhood she watches o'er me,
Like an angel from above,
With loving words she cheered me,
And guided with her love;
Her praises I would chant,
In words, they may be quaint;
I love, yes! I adore her,
My Saint, my Childhood Saint.

When life's trials shall overtake me,
And I fall beside the way,
I know she'll ne'er forsake me,
But for my soul's health pray;
Her peace shall come upon me,
When I am worn and faint;
My sweet, my holy mother!
My Saint, my Childhood Saint.

The tongue no man can tame;
hence thou canst not tame thine own, for thou art a man. So thou must needs have continual recourse to God, that He may do for thee what thou art not able to do for thyself.—St. Augustine.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the Memorial Pew.

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

Christmas Services

The Services on Christmas Day will be Holy Communion, 6.30, 7.30 A. M. Morning Prayer, Sermon and Holy Communion at eleven o'clock.

The Sunday School Christmas Carol Service will be held the following Sunday at 3.30. This afternoon service will take the place of the usual night service. There will, therefore, be no Evening Service on Sunday after Christmas.

The Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund

The offering on Christmas Day will be devoted as usual, to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund. The people of this Parish have usually been very generous in their offerings to this worthy object. The appeals which come to the Clergy Relief Fund are many times more than can be responded to and the Secretary of the Fund reports many cases of dire need among old and infirm Clergy of our Church. The fund is gradually increasing by generous givers but, at present is wholly inadequate to provide for the needs of the old Soldiers of the Cross, many of whom have little or nothing to keep them from want in their old age. It is hoped that no member of the Church will forget on Christmas Day to give or send an offering to help make the latter years of these faithful old servants of the Church free from want and care. Those absent are asked to send their contributions to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal St.

Altar Guild

The Altar Guild meets on the second Monday of each month. The last meeting was largely attended. At this meeting Miss Bessie Chase and Miss Maud Wismer, were given charge of the linens. It is requested that memorial flowers be sent to the Rectory before two o'clock on Saturdays.

Any one desiring a memorial Sunday in commemoration of their dead, will please notify Mrs. Wm. H. Avery, 54 W. Tulpohocken St.

The Altar Guild will be pleased to receive donations of money or flowers for the Christmas decorations.

Girls' Friendly Society

A very inspiring neighborhood conference was held at St. Luke's Parish House, on Monday evening, November 25th. There were members present from branches in Chestnut Hill, Germantown, Tioga, Frankford, and other nearby points.

The program consisted of supper from 5.30 to 7 o'clock, recreation hour from 7 to 8 and the conference from 8 to 10. About 290 girls were present for supper, which was served by the members of St. Luke's Branch, and which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were there. The recreation hour, of which St. Paul's Branch, Chestnut Hill, had charge, was also a splendid success.

Many attended the conference in the evening who were unable to be present at the supper. Dr. Upjohn, rector of St. Luke's Church, opened the conference with prayer, after which Miss Wilson our Diocesan President, gave us a short talk. Following this, papers were read by members of the various branches. There were about fourteen papers, written by the girls themselves. The topics, which had been selected by the committee, were as follows: Our Name, How and When to Wear the Badge, Good Citizenship, and the Advantage of Education. Many valuable thoughts were brought out in these papers, which will be useful to the members of the Friendly in the work in their own branches.

Nineteen members were present from Christ Church Branch, one member having written a paper.

The Girls' Friendly Society is the largest organization of girls in the world. Christ Church Branch meets in the Parish House every Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock. We extend a cordial invitation to all girls in the Parish to join us.

The Mothers Meeting

We are still busily working on rugs and trying to fill the orders constantly coming in. Unfortunately it is almost impossible to secure the material for this work and for the rag carpet which was ordered several weeks ago. We must make another very fervent appeal to our friends for contributions from their scrap bags to help on the good work.

The last sale of clothing was the most successful one yet held. We hope to have another one before Christmas, by which we may add to the snug little sum set aside for an Easter offering. No garment is sold for more than one dollar and it is understood that we reserve the right to give away any articles, when a very needy case is called to our attention.

We have had given us recently, by one of our members a very pretty dark red cover for the table.

Having received a very touching appeal from one of our Missions in the Mountains of the South, we have gathered together with the help of kind friends, warm, comfortable clothing, underwear, hats, shoes and toys to fill two barrels, and partly fill a third. We have also decided to send ten dollars in money, beside the clothing. Cannot some one else be inspired to help us fill that third barrel.

At our last meeting, we were delighted to welcome Mr. Arndt and our new Curate, Mr. Gernand. It being the first Tuesday in the month, we were able to offer our visitors a share of the extra good things served on those occasions, ice cream, coffee and cake. We were glad to hear again one of Mr. Arndt's helpful talks. This time he chose for his theme, the Advent season and work for Missions.

All of us enjoy these weekly meetings and the greatest harmony prevails. There is still space for new members on the roll.

A. M. M.

Neighborhood Club

This is an organization of men which meets the first Friday of each month in the Parish House. Its object is to bring the men of this community into better acquaintance by enjoying a social smoke and chat and to spend a pleasant evening according to the program arranged by the Executive Committee.

On November 15th, we had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. Bernard J. Newman, Executive Secretary of the Philadelphia Housing Commission, who gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on the conditions in the congested portion of the city. The talk was to have been illustrated, but unfortunately our lantern refused to work and Mr. Newman had to speak and the men gathered a mental picture of these conditions without the aid of the slides. After the address the men were served with light refreshments by several of our young ladies, and the thanks of the club was extended to Mr. Newman for his very interesting talk and to Mrs. C. L. Hayhurst and the Misses Martha Insinger, Elsie Moore and Jessie Kirkland for the kind assistance rendered.

The Executive Committee deem it best to omit the meeting for December as its proximity to Christmas will make it very difficult to secure either attendance, speaker or entertainment. At the January meeting we hope to make up for the loss of the December meeting and full notice will be given later. It might be well to mention that the Neighborhood Club has no dues. The expenses of each meeting are borne by those present as each may feel inclined to give. In this way the man who can only be present a couple of times does not pay a years dues for the privilege. Let every man bear in mind the Jan. meeting and try to be present.

The Guild Choir

This Guild has not been disbanded. Its apparent inactivity has been due to some changes in its officers, as well as some unavoidable detentions. We hope to take up our work very soon.

L. J. J.

Church Periodical Club

This club is one of the most far-reaching organizations in the Parish for doing real material good as well as giving whole time, deep-down pleasure to many you little dream of—and think! it literally costs you nothing and are giving away what you do not want. Is not that an alluring proposition in itself? To say nothing of the pleasure of helping some man or woman, shut off from even the veriest scrap of reading matter, not to mention the splendid reading we have 'round us on every hand.

If you have not given it a thought—please do so at once—there is hardly a person you know that has not one periodical, mechanical, secular, religious, scientific and especially childrens magazine.

The club is doing a big work—but it cannot work without your co-operation. So men, women, and children wake up to what is at your hand to do—we want magazines, money, books—and your interest!

But do not send anything to the Parish House; first consult the Librarian.

Women's Bible Class

The Women's Bible Class of Christ Church meets in the Parish House on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. Henry R. Baremore is the teacher, and the class at present is regularly attended by the following: Mrs. Yates, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. Baisbrown, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Rudolph, Mrs. Case, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Gallagher and Miss Lapp. One hour is devoted to Bible study and music. They are now practising Xmas carols in preparation for the Christmas Sunday School gathering in the church.

Mrs. Baremore is anxious to extend the class and will be pleased to welcome new members.

The Mothers Meeting needs material for rag carpets. Please send to Parish House whatever you have.

Vestment Guild

The Vestment Guild consists of ten women of the Parish, two of which are assigned to each one of the four—and if it so happens—five Sundays of the month, to assist the choir in the Vesting Room—with a general supervision over all things appertaining thereto—looking after the making and purchasing of new vestments when needed and keeping same in repair.

These ten women are most faithful in their attendance upon their respective Sundays besides meeting once a month to consult together over matters relating to their work.

One of the members of this Guild makes herself entirely responsible for the care and condition of the Rector's Vestments. This too is most carefully and conscientiously done.

Junior Auxiliary Band of Mission

We Juniors are very anxious to increase our numbers and our good work in this Parish and feel that this Advent season is a most fitting time for us to awaken to the splendid opportunities that are at hand for us to help those of our own ages, but lacking our comforts and advantages—in other lands. So we beg of you to join us on Fridays at four o'clock and bring your friends—we know you will be delighted with the interesting things we are planning.

Devotedly yours,

Mrs. Topliff Johnson

Kalendars for 1913

A limited number of Christ Church Kalendars may be purchased from Miss Mary Dahl or from the Verger at thirty cents a piece. These Kalendars mark the seasons for the Christian year, giving the Saints Day and Festivals in their appropriate ecclesiastical colors. There is also printed on the back the proper lessons appointed to be read on Sundays and Holy Days throughout the year. The supply last year was easily exhausted and all who wish a Kalendar for 1913 are advised to purchase at once.

Sunday School Christmas Service

The Sunday School is practicing the Christmas Carols which will be sung at the Sunday School Christmas service which will be held in the Church on the Sunday after Christmas, Dec. 29th, at three-thirty in the afternoon. The scholars will assemble in the Parish House at three o'clock and will march from there in procession into the Church. Addresses to the school will be given by the Superintendent, Mr. George T. Morgan and the Rev. Mr. Gernand.

The parents and friends of the scholars are cordially invited to this service.

The Sunday School Christmas Entertainment

The Christmas Entertainment for the Main and Intermediate Schools will be held in the Parish House on Friday evening, December 27th. A special "entertainer" has been engaged for that evening and an interesting program is promised to all the scholars. Of course old Santa Claus will be present to remember each member of the school.

The Primary Department will hold its Christmas Entertainment in the afternoon of the same day, (Friday December 27th,) at half past three in the Parish House. A letter has been received, stating that Santa Claus has already prepared his presents to give to "each good little boy and girl of Christ Church Primary Department." Santa Claus is expected to arrive promptly at half past three and will remain about one hour. So every little boy and girl must be promptly on time. Bring with you your mother and father and room will be made for them.

Envelope Subscribers

Will persons in arrears in their envelope subscriptions kindly place in their envelopes the amounts due at their earliest convenience? The support of the Parish is entirely dependent on the rental of pews and the envelope subscriptions and payment on the part of parishioners allows the Warden to meet promptly the financial obligations of the Parish.

Lippincotts Magazine

We promised a monthly report of Parish receipts and expenditures and hoped to have it for this issue but after consultation with the Accounting Warden, it being necessary to originate and adopt a form that would be permanent, it was decided to publish the first showing in the January number.

We publish in this issue a Poem, written by our good Rector, and first published in the "Chimes" of June, 1903 but now set to music as a Hymn. The expense of making plate is borne by a few friends who wish to pay him a personal compliment and do him honor at this Christmas season, although the Hymn is of the Ascension season.

Cannot you help the Periodical Club? Most of us are overwhelmed these days, and our houses cluttered up, by the rapid accumulation of the monthly and weekly journals bought or sent us. Notify, or send to, Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Librarian, who knows where they are badly wanted and will be welcome. Read the report published on another page of this issue.

In the November issue we commented upon the cost of publication and necessity of obtaining more subscriptions. While some 20 odd have since then been obtained by personal solicitation, the unsolicited subscriptions total 6. We printed 600 copies; not fifty are left and our total number of subscriptions is now 82. There are over 500 communicants in Christ Church Parish.

60 cents per mail; 50 cents unmailed, and your own price if you cannot afford the full amount.

The Rector wishes notice called to the inoperative societies and expresses a desire that where no work is being done, as shown by repeated failures to report, they be removed from the list and be considered non-existing. It is certainly much better to concentrate on a few live, working and workable societies than have a number that exist but in name. Fallstaff's army but excites ridicule.

Several of the Societies in the Parish are preparing to give entertainments in the Parish House, immediately after Christmas for the benefit of the Parish House fund. Our Church people should encourage these young people in their efforts to contribute toward this Fund by purchasing tickets and patronizing the entertainments.

We are rich only through what we give, and poor only through what we receive.

The following poem, composed by our fellow parishioner of Christ Church, Mr. Washington VanDusen, appears in one of the leading magazines. We publish it, by permission, in the "Chimes" as appropriate for this Christmas season.

The Prince of Peace

(By Washington Van Dusen)

The smile of peace is on the land,
Where castle walls were wont to stand,
And where the clash of arms did sound
Now flowers hide the battle-ground;
And olives crown the hills to-day,
The blooming hills that seem to say
All war and strife will pass away.

Syria's fortresses lie low,
But, as of old, the lillies blow;
Her ancient towns in ruins lie,
But there's a light will never die;
For Jesus lives, and everywhere
His spirit charms the very air,
And makes the land He trod more fair.

All ills that mankind ever knew
In Palestine took root and grew,
Yet Jesus came with truth to found
His kingdom on the bloody ground;
To hold an olive branch and pray
The coming of a better day,
When war and strife will pass away.
Philadelphia, Pa.

*In his Dictionary of the Bible, Dr. Smith alludes to the fortresses in ruins, as one of the main features of the Holy Land.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 22nd.,
Horatio Parker's Christmas Cantata,
"The Shepherd's Vision" will be sung.

Special Request

I am very anxious that every member of the Parish shall take a personal interest in the service, mentioned elsewhere in this issue, which will be held in Christ Church, on the first Sunday morning after the Epiphany, January 12th. George Gordon King, Esq. Treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Church, has most kindly accepted my invitation to come over from New York to speak to our people on the subject of the Missions of the Church. Mr. King's wide experience for many years as a prominent man of affairs in the City of New York and lately, the magnanimous surrender which he has made, to give his time to the Church in the cause of Missions, entitle him to the thoughtful and appreciative attention of all who have at heart the uplift of mankind. Mr. King will speak at the Morning Service in Christ Church, Sunday, January 12th. I ask, as a personal request, that every member of Christ Church, who can possibly do so, will be present at this service and, also, will endeavor to bring others.

I hope that there will be a cordial response on the part of all to this request.

The Rector wishes to call attention to all unconfirmed persons and others in the Parish, who desire information in regard to the Episcopal Church, that he will begin a course of informal instruction for minors on Friday afternoon, January 10th, and Wednesday evening, January 15th, for adults to which he issues a cordial invitation to all to attend. The Rector may be seen personally after any service or by appointment.

The Season of Lent begins early this year. Before the next monthly issue of the "Chimes" shall have appeared Septuagesima Sunday will have come and gone. This Sunday comes three weeks before Ash Wednesday, which, this year, occurs on February 5th. In the Septuagesima Season the Church enters the penumbra of her Lenten Eclipse and all her services are shadowed with the sombre hue of her approaching season of fasting and prayer. The name of this Sunday (Septuagesima) implies that it is seventy days to (the last day of) the feast of the Resurrection; next Sunday it will be Sexagesima, in round numbers, sixty days; then Quinquagesima Sunday, fifty days; and then comes Lent, or forty days to the great Feast of Easter. Thus, we have turned our back upon dear old Christmas and the group of holy days that followed it; and setting our faces toward the more sober, but still more glorious, light of Easter, we begin to number the days of preparation, which, if duly observed, will fit us to keep the Paschal as the Apostle commands, "not with the old leaven but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Nor is the way in which the Church counts these days to be regarded as teaching nothing. It is the way of the world to reckon advancing time by addition; but the Church now gives us seventy days, and gently hints to us how life is passing as she bids us daily to subtract one, that so "we may number our days and apply our hearts unto wisdom."

In these seventy days, we thus see a striking emblem of our three score years and ten, a model of the Christian life, which passes through shadows and tears and trials to the Resurrection. While we persevere through Lent, the sunrise of Easter and rejoicing to find the appointed days diminish as that Day draws near, we learn also to pass the few days of our sojourning in the world, feeling every day that we have one day less to live, keeping the Great Day always in view, and singing with the Psalmist, "when I wake up in Thy presence, I shall be satisfied."

Thoughts on the Epiphany

The Feast of the Epiphany follows immediately after Christmas. It occurs twelve days after the Feast of the Nativity of our Lord and has, therefore, often been called "Twelfth Night." Epiphany is a Greek word meaning "showing forth," or "manifestation," and commemorates the occasion when the Christ-Child was made manifest unto the three wise men, representatives of the Gentile world, who saw His Star in the East and traveled from afar to seek the King of Kings, that they might fall down and worship Him.

We, in these western lands, ought to commemorate the manifestation of our Saviour to the Gentiles with great thankfulness, because it is due to this great fact, that we, "Who dwell in the uttermost parts of the earth," have had brought to us the Gospel of the Kingdom of God and have enjoyed the blessed privileges of the Christ and His Church.

In His infinite goodness He was pleased to offer salvation to all mankind and to receive all humble supplicants as objects of His mercy.

"Blessed be God's Holy Name for that glorious Light, which dispersed itself through the dark regions of this world; which dispelled the thick clouds of ignorance and idolatry, of folly and vanity; which directed mankind to the true and most worthy object of their worship, and raised their nature to its utmost improvement.

The mercies of God seemed for ages to be pent up within the narrow banks of the Jewish Church. Beyond this all was desolate, it was a land of drought and of the shadow of death, lying waste from generation to generation. And when at length the "mystery which from the foundation of the world had been hid in God," began to disclose itself in the awakening of the Gentiles and their earnest inquiry for the Bread of Life, such was the ignorance of the Christians at Jerusalem that even Apostles were reluctant to enter on the work, while the whole Church was prepared to condemn the enterprise. It was with unfeigned astonishment, no less than with pious joy, that they exclaimed, when at length the will of God as to the conversion of the heathen was fully understood, "Then hath God to the Gentiles also granted repentance unto life."

We see then why the calling of the Gentiles should be made the occasion of a Christian festival.

Through the sufferings and the sacrifices and the martyrdom of others, the blessed privileges of the Gospel of Christ have come down to us. How eager we should be, therefore, to impart these blessings to others, who still "live in darkness and in the shadow of death." "Freely have ye received, freely give." This Epiphany Season, which sets forth the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles, is the great Missionary Season of the Church; it should impress upon the mind and heart of every follower of Christ his duty and privilege to let his light shine out to others, to give and work and pray God that all men everywhere may seek after Him and find Him; that all nations may be brought into the fold, and all heathens into His inheritance; and shortly to accomplish the number of His elect and to hasten His Kingdom; through Jesus Christ, our Lord."

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the

.....
Memorial Pew.

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of

.....
dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

The Bishop has notified the Rector that he will (D. V.) visit Christ Church, March 12th, to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation.

A beautiful stained glass window has been placed in the western porch of the Church in memory of the two little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Lippincott. The window represents the Saviour in a sitting posture and in his arms are two little children looking up into His face. Beneath the figures are the words: "Of such is the Kingdom of God." To the Glory of God and in loving memory of Dudley Lippincott, December 24, 1906, August, 1907; and Oliver Clarence Lippincott, Jr., September 8, 1910, September 5th, 1911.

The window is from the celebrated D'Ascenzo Studios and is fully up to the high standard of art and workmanship for which this firm is justly known.

Appreciation is desired to be expressed to a number of subscribers through the envelopes who are gradually making up their arrears. It is not the wish of the Treasurer to push any person for payment but some persons, no doubt have overlooked the fact that they are in arrears and it is hoped that all who are able to do so will please place in their envelopes the amounts due as soon as may be convenient.

Mother's Meeting

Since our last meeting we have packed three barrels of clothing of all kinds, not old, but many of the articles being very nice and well made, including also, shoes, hats, games, toys, etc., which we know will make many hearts, small and large, glad this Christmas-tide in those Southern mountains. These have all come from interested kind friends. We want to thank these kind friends who have so generously and promptly responded to our appeals. Also one kind friend (who is continuously kind) for shipping our barrels without expense to the Mother's Meeting.

Our Annual Dinner will be on Tuesday, January 7th, in the Parish House at three o'clock, and we shall be most grateful to our friends who in the past have given so generously if they will, this year repeat their donations of money, turkey, ham, cake, celery and anything that in this line may suggest to them something that may appeal to the "inner man."

Our Mothers have worked with such zest and good-will and are so interested in all that we want to accomplish (that it is a real pleasure to have this Annual good time).

Our Mr. Gernand we include as one of our dependable friends and his presence, when he can join us, is most thoroughly appreciated.

Tuesday morning, January 7th, we will gratefully receive any donation at the Parish House.

With a Happy New Year to all, and God's blessing we are Gratefully yours,

Mother's Meeting

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club is entering upon its 25th year of work, and Jan. is the month in which we reap our greatest harvest and at the same time have our greatest discouragements. In this month many new subscriptions are taken and also many dropped. Will you not, good people, let us have some of your wealth of reading? The Librarian cannot reach every one, so will you not reach her?

You are also urged to inform the Librarian of any magazine that you are discontinuing to send away, also do not exchange one magazine for another without notifying the Librarian.

The Church Periodical Club is also packing a box of books to go to St. Andrews School at Sewanee, Tenn. The boys are reading nothing because they have read everything the school possesses. Will you not notify the Librarian of any books of any kind, secular, religious or novels, and of course boys books and school books, maps, etc., that you may have, before the 10th of January. Those that the committee may deem unsuited for the boys, can be exchanged for others. The call is important. Will you not respond?

Confirmation Classes

Classes for Confirmation are being formed and the Rector asks all persons who are desirous of being confirmed or who wish information on the subject to give their names to him as soon as possible. He will be pleased to confer with any person after Church service or by appointment and he will gladly loan literature on the Church or other religious subject to any who may apply. Lectures on Confirmation will begin on Friday afternoon, January 10th, at four o'clock for minors and for adults on Wednesday evening, January 15th, at eight o'clock. These lectures will be held in the Main Room in the Parish House and will continue every Friday afternoon and Wednesday evening until the Bishop's Visitation, March 12th.

All are invited to these lectures, whether they have been confirmed or not. Those who have been confirmed and may wish to renew their confirmation vows, as well as those who are newly seeking information on the subject will be cordially welcomed to these lectures. Minors, Friday afternoons at four o'clock. Adults, Wednesday evenings at eight o'clock in the Parish House.

The Sunday Morning Nickel Is It Yours?

The other day a man went to church. It was a beautiful Sunday morning. He was well dressed and at peace with the world. The church was filled, the music was well rendered, the sermon interesting and inspiring. He was glad that he was at church and was greatly satisfied with himself. The offering was received and he put a nickel in the plate that Sunday morning.

The next day he went down town and before he arrived at his office he had his boots blacked. It cost him five cents, and he gave the bootblack a nickel as a tip; and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

As he sat in the boot black's chair, he bought a newspaper for a penny and he handed the newsboy a nickel and told him to keep the change; and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

During the morning, feeling the need of refreshments, he went out to get a drink. Meeting a friend, he took him with him, and when he had paid for what he had had, he gave the barkeeper a dime as a tip; and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

When luncheon time came, as he had worked hard and felt rather hungry, he treated himself to an unusually good meal. When he arose from the table he gave the waiter fifty cents as a fee; and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

In the afternoon he bought some cigars, and as there was a friend with him, in a spirit of pride, he paid twice as much for one for his friend as he would if he had been alone; and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

At the close of the day he went to get a shave, after which he gave the barber a ten cent gratuity; and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

He had stood up on that Sunday morning with the rest of the congregation when the offering was presented and he had joined lustily, for he had a fine tenor voice, in the singing of the offertory sentence, "All things come of Thee, O Lord, and of Thine own have we given Thee;" and he had put a nickel in the plate on Sunday morning.

Now, to whom did he give this nickel on Sunday morning? Was the favored recipient his newsboy, his bootblack, his barkeeper, his waiter, his cigar dealer, his barber? O no! This person to whom he gave the nickel which he had put in the plate on that Sunday morning WAS HIS GOD!

—Cyrus Townsend Brady, D. D.

A Precious Legacy

Persons who have not had the advantages of the beautiful service of our church in their earlier years often become in their latter life, when this privilege is enjoyed by them, the most enthusiastic admirers of the church service and the most devoted and loyal members of the church. They are able from their past experience to contrast the barrenness and simpleness of other forms with the richness and fullness of the grand historic liturgy of the church. The following extract from the Memoirs of Professor Austin Phelps, the scholarly Congregational preacher is a case at point:

"The Liturgy of the Episcopal Church has become very precious to me. The depth of its meaning it seems to me nobody can fathom who has not experienced some great sorrow. We have lost much in parting with the prayers of Old Mother Church, and what have we gained in their place? I do not feel in extemporaneous prayer the deep undertone of devotion which rings out from the old collects of the Church like the sounds of ancient bells. I longed for and prayed for, and, worst of all, waited for, some sublime and revolutionary change of heart; and when that was, as a fact of a child's experience, I have not the remotest idea. If I had been trained in the Episcopal Church, I should at the time have been confirmed and entered upon a conscious and religious life, and grown up into the Christian living of the Episcopalian type."

A Greeting to Young Men

A New Year Greeting to the Young men and boys of Christ Church Parish. We greet you in Christ's name, and wish for you a bright, happy and prosperous New Year. The clergy are deeply interested in you, brothers, and are going to help you make this year the brightest and best in your lives. How?

First of all by appealing to you to begin the New Year with a heart in full allegiance to your Lord. He has done much indeed for you. Can you count the blessings of the past year? No! But what have you done for Him? Very little, doubtless. You can't retrieve the past. It is gone forever. But you can redeem the present, and fill the future with purpose. Let this be your purpose then, "Loyalty to Christ." That's a grand resolution, isn't it? Make it! Keep it! And it will return you joy.

Secondly, every Sunday in the year 1913 write in your engagement book "9.45 A. M., Y. M. B. C." What does that mean? It means you are a member of the Young Men's Bible Class of Christ Church, and intend to be on hand at every session. A duty and a privilege. If you are not already a member, you are missing much. Get busy and become one. It's not difficult. Just drop in any Sunday morning, and somebody will grip your hand, and you will be at home in a jiffy. "Remember the Bible Class next Sunday," said the Curate, parting from one of our splendid young fellows one evening. "Sure," he replied. That's the Spirit, brothers. Cultivate it!

And thirdly, don't go for a good time where you wouldn't take your mother. You will regret it and you know it. A word to the wise is sufficient. Brothers, God wants you to have a good time, with an emphasis on the "good," and Christ Church means to help you get it, in the right way.

So keep your ears open for future announcements. They will interest you, and also your friends. Tell them!

Young men of Christ Church, A happy New Year. And this is our wish for you. H. W. G.

Missionary Service in Christ Church

A Missionary Service will be held in this Church on Sunday morning, January 12th, at eleven o'clock. The people of this vicinity will have the privilege of hearing George Gordon King, Esq., of New York, give an address on the Missionary work of the Church. Mr. King is the treasurer of the Board of Missions and as a layman, and a business man, will present the subject of missions from a practical and business standpoint. In the Gospel for that day—the first Sunday after the Epiphany—occur these words of Christ, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

A cordial invitation is extended to all persons in this vicinity to attend this Missionary Service, Sunday morning, January 12th.

The Weekly Pledge

It may seem like a small thing for the Church to set itself the task of securing a contribution from each one of its members and to collect the same every week. But that is just what some of the big corporations of the country are doing. One of the captains of industry, the head of one of the great life insurance companies of this country, recently stated that his company has 9,600,000 policies on which agents of the company collect each week five, ten or twenty cents. The children of this generation are wise in their generation, and the children of light, we must insist, should learn from the example they set. The seas and mountains are made up of grains of sand and drops of water. If the Church will gather from the millions of her people weekly the tributes of their hearts, the little streams will flow into great rivers and fill all treasuries of the Kingdom as the waters fill the great deep.—Selected.

It is in the minor actions of our daily life that our true character is revealed.

Money cannot save a soul, but it can open doors of service. It can open gates into fields where souls can be saved.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary is very happy in having been able, out of its little band of twelve, to send a Christmas box containing about 21 toys, and an infants outfit to Rev. Mr. Clearland, of Stanardsville, Va. This will go a little way towards making a merry Christmas among the children in his isolated as well as impecunious Parish. Each one of the Juniors contributed something toward this box and the baby's outfit was made entirely by them.

At our next meeting, which will be in the New Year, we will plan some new work, in which we hope all our Juniors will be deeply interested.

The Bridge of Sociability

"If after kirk you bide a wee,
There's some would like to speak to ye;
If after kirk you rise and flee,
We'll all seem cold and stiff to ye.
That one who's in the seat wi' ye
Is stranger here than you, maybe.
All here have got their fears and cares;
Add ye your soul unto our prayers;
Be ye our angel unawares."

Make Christ your companion. Read Him every day. Talk with him hour by hour and He will create all things new for you as He did for Paul. No power on earth could overcome Peter or any modern disciple who has had experience with the risen Christ.

Dare to look up to God and say:
"Make use of me for the future as Thou wilt. I am of the same mind; I am one with Thee. I refuse nothing which seems good to Thee. Lead me whither Thou wilt. Clothe me in whatever dress Thou wilt."—Epictetus.

Money cannot save a soul, but it can open doors of service. It can open gates into fields where souls can be saved.

We now publish in this number the first of the monthly statements from Accounting Warden showing receipts, expenses and the amount required to pay all fixed expenses for the month, hoping it will lead to a feeling of personal interest and responsibility and an individual effort to at least raise the necessary amount as stated.

The Church was again this year beautifully decorated for the Christmas season, the work being done by some of the young men of the Church who deserve the appreciation and thanks of the congregation. This work is difficult and took two entire evenings up to midnight.

The Editor welcomes suggestions as to matters of interest to Church or Parish and, if answer is requested, will either do so through the "Chimes" or by personal letter direct.

He also welcomes contributions to be inserted at the discretion of Editor or Rector and limited space permitting.
"The Bridge of Sociability" printed elsewhere, was sent by one who also sent "little sentences to fill in when Editor is hurried." We thank her for these and for the thought and will be glad to hear from others.

Why not use the "Chimes" as a medium of free advertising for the mutual benefit of the members of the congregation and Parish. There are many among us who have some profession or business, valuable at times to each of us, and we would rather turn our patronage to the members of Christ Church than to others if we but knew whom to call upon. Under a proper heading and with the Rectors assent, we will publish the names, ad-resses and occupation of those who believe we can be of use to them in securing work.

We suggest a few occupations.
Book-keeping and Accounting; Addressing and Collecting; Massage, Manicuring; Hair Dressing; Nurses;
Piano tuning; Stenographer; Cooking;
Preserving; Gardening; House and Rug Cleaning; Teaching; Music; General work.

Drift Toward the Episcopal Church To the Editor of the "Chimes":

It is a rare occurrence for the daily or secular press to comment intelligently on Church affairs, except when something sensational is occupying the public attention. For this reason I take pleasure in sending you the accompanying editorial from the Memphis "Commercial Appeal," in reference to secession of certain Episcopal clergymen to the Church of Rome. These figures give the story of the other side. You might publish it in the "Chimes" and keep it conveniently near when one speaks of our "Romanish tendencies."

B. M. C.

A few years ago several Episcopal priests withdrew from their Church to join the Roman Catholic Church, and this incident created the impression that there was a drift away from Episcopalianism. The Rev. William C.
Richardson, Rector of St. James Church, Philadelphia, made some investigation on this point and he finds that there is a decided drift toward Episcopalianism. He wrote to 96 Episcopal Bishops and received answers from 88 of them. He asked them to state how many clergymen from other denominations had come over to the Episcopal Church during the year and he publishes the result in the Southern Churchman.

6 Methodist in two years; another 11
Methodists and 6 Congregationalists in twelve years; another 7 Methodists and one Baptist since 1903, and another 300 Roman Catholic laymen in four years.

These facts, taken in connection with recent statistics showing the steady growth in the number of communicants in the Episcopal Church, prove that the influence of this religious organization is steadily growing and that it was never so strong as it is now.

Just stand aside, and watch yourself go by;

Think of yourself as "he" instead of
"I."

Pick flaws; find fault; forget the man is you,

And strive to make your estimate ring true.

The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink,

Love's chain grow stronger by one mighty link,

When you with "he" as substitute for
"I"

Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

Meeting of Women's Auxiliary (Women's Missionary Society)

A meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House on Friday afternoon, Jan. 10th, at half past 3 o'clock. This will be a very important meeting. Every woman in the Parish is urged to be present. Missionary work for the Epiphany Season and for Lent will be planned. Every woman who has been baptized in the name of the Trinity is a member of the Missionary Society of the Church. The command of our Lord to all His disciples was: "Go ye out into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." Every baptized person is therefore a Missionary. Will not every woman bear this in mind and be present to help at the meeting to be held on Friday afternoon, Jan. 10th, at half past three?

It appears that 93 ministers from other denominations were received or ordained during the year and that there are 36 applicants pending, while a number of applicants, upon careful examination, were refused. Of those received or ordained, 28 were Methodists, 10 Presbyterians, 13 Congregationalists, 12 Baptists, 8 Roman Catholics, 5 Lutherans, 2 Dutch Reformed, and 5 of various minor denominations. Among the applications pending 9 were from Presbyterians, 7 from Methodists, 6 from Congregationalists, 3 from Baptists, and the rest "scattering."

It appears that the figures for the year are not exceptional. For instance, one Bishop writes that he has taken in

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS { 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS
{ 6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " }

The schedule of special Lenten Services will be found on another page of this issue of the "Chimes." The hours of the services have been arranged, as far as possible, to meet every class of people within the Parish. The early Celebration of the Holy Communion on Ash Wednesday has been appointed at half-past seven o'clock, so that business people and others may attend before going to their work and thus avail themselves on Ash Wednesday of a proper beginning of the Season of Lent. The mid-day and afternoon services are put at an hour to meet the largest number of Parishioners who remain in Germantown during the day. The Wednesday night services are especially intended for those who are not able to attend at an earlier hour in the day. It is earnestly hoped that every person in the Parish will select certain services which they will endeavor to attend each week and will not allow anything—except a most serious cause—to interfere with the conscientious discharge of a solemn duty. I am very anxious that this Lenten Season shall be a real spiritual help to every member in the Parish. Let each one of us try to make it such. Parents! Set the example to the children in your household; and let every man, woman and child in Christ Church endeavor during this Lent, to develop by God's help a truer Christian character.

A speaker at one of the noon-day Lenten services began his address with these words: What are you driving at? Then in his forceful manner he emphasized the purpose of Lent as the striving after the correction of some particular fault; bending every energy of our manhood in one direction. The typical American in business is successful because he is putting forth his effort to do some one thing well—persistently driving away at it.

The mere performance of Lenten duties in a vague, general way is not enough. Be definite! What is your one great fault? Find it out and then "go at it" and, by God's help, conquer it! If you do not consider that you have any faults, then ask some one else what your faults are. Your neighbor knows them; perhaps, if you ask him, he will be frank enough to tell you. If he will not, then, better still, go apart into some quiet place by yourself—into your bed-room, or into Church; there read and picture before your mind the only One True, Perfect, Life; His purity; His unselfishness; His forgiveness; His suffering; His patience; His steadfastness; His sacrifice; His love. Measure yourself along side of that One Perfect Life and, I am sure, every honest man will realize how small and mean and full of sin he is and the wonderful possibilities there are in store for him to become truly great and good by keeping near to that Life, that lighteth every man who cometh into the world. I hope that, with some such definite purpose as that—every member of this Parish will strive to keep this Holy Season of Lent. Let each one ask himself this Lent—what am I driving at? And then, seeking some definite faults, some definite failure, some definite sin—endeavor by faithful, conscientious effort to overcome it and, by God's help, to conquer it.

The Vestry will soon issue a letter to the members of the Congregation, setting forth the financial condition and the needs of the Parish. It is earnestly desired that not only the customary deficit in the current expenses should be fully met at this coming Easter but that an extraordinary effort be made to greatly reduce the debt on the Parish House. This debt can be very soon wiped entirely out, if our people, one and all, will determine, even at the greatest personal sacrifice, to do it. At the Sixtieth Anniversary of our Parish, held last fall, a generous offering of about a thousand dollars was given by the members of CHIMES.

THREE Christ Church to go toward the extinguishment of the debt. This Lent let us make it at least double that amount over and above the amount asked for to meet the current expenses. Surely, the same spirit of self-sacrifice which the people of Christ Church have always shown in the past, will not be lacking during this coming Lent and Easter Day! Let every one make a heroic effort to cancel the Parish house debt of $5000.00 on Easter Day.

There are a number of persons in this community, who attend the services of the Church with more or less regularity, but have been putting off from year to year the very important duty of being confirmed. For some trivial reason they are refusing to make the decision, which, when once made and acted upon, will mean so much to their own future happiness and to the happiness of others. They are denying themselves a most blessed privilege which God intended and wants them to enjoy and which will always be to them a source of spiritual strength and joy.

How much they would gain by putting themselves under the full privilege of the Church of Jesus Christ! How much good they would do to others by setting an example of manliness in enlisting in the service of Christ and His Church!

It is desired to make the Sunday evening services in Christ Church during Lent especially interesting and helpful.

Several of the best preachers in the city have kindly consented to speak and not only all of our own people should endeavor to be present but let every member of Christ Church constitute himself a practical missionary, and bring others to Church with him. Here is an opportunity for every one. Let this be the endeavor of every Vestryman, every Christian man and woman in this Parish during this Lent—to interest some one else and bring them to the evening service in Christ Church.

Familiar, inspiring hymns will be sung, a practical Gospel sermon will be preached and the service will last one hour.

Let this, then, be the practical Lenten work of every member of Christ Church—to bring at least one person, each Sunday, to the hearing of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Why Be Confirmed.

In order that I may be a strong Christian. In order that I may obey God's Will. In order that I may become filled with God the Holy Ghost. In order that, realizing in a deeper way every day that my body is God's temple, and that my heart is a shrine of His Holy Spirit, I may grow as my spirit responds to the appeals of that Holy Spirit, and daily increase in the fruits of that same Spirit, more and more, until I come unto His everlasting kingdom.—Selected.

The question for each man to settle is not what he would do if he had means, time, influence, and educational advantages but what he will do with the things he has.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of

dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

Confirmation will be administered in this Church on Wednesday evening, March 12th. Instruction on Confirmation is now being given in the Parish House every Friday afternoon, at 4.15 for minors and on Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock for adults.

The Rector cordially invited all persons, whether they have been confirmed or not, to attend either of these instructions. He will be pleased to confer with any one personally on the subject after any service or by appointment.

Mr. LeRoy M. Rile has resigned as organist and choir master of Christ Church. Mr. Rile has been choir master for the past four years and given satisfaction. Owing to the failure of the Music Committee to select his successor he is to continue to rehearse with the choir until relieved. Miss Emily Colisson will act as temporary organist.

Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions

The first meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church for the season of 1912-13 was held in the Parish House, on Friday, January 10th, at 3.30.

There were present as follows:

Mrs. Wm. N. Johnson	Miss Sally Y. Johnson
Mrs. T. H. Carmichael	Mrs. Phelps
Mrs. Cook	Mrs. Garrett
Mrs. Balshroune	Mrs. Robert Mogridge
Mrs. Henry H. Marot	Mrs. John H. Shinn
Mrs. J. M. Woodroffe	Mrs. George Morgan
Miss Bosile Chase	Miss Morgan
Mrs. T. P. Robinson	Mrs. Chas. Henry Arndt
Mrs. Henry Baremore	Mrs. H. C. Thompson
Mrs. Topliff Johnson	Mrs. VanDusen
Mrs. Walter Crowder	Mrs. J. I. Morrison
Mrs. Algernon Thacher	Mrs. C. B. Williams

Mr. Arndt opened the meeting with prayer and after the singing of a hymn, the Rector introduced Mr. Prevost, of the Alaskan field, as the speaker for the afternoon.

Mr. Prevost went briefly over some of the work done in that far away territory, bringing before us quite sharply the wonderfull advance made there in the last twenty years, changing almost complete isolation into instant communication. The great number of sand storms peculiar to some of the Alaskan districts causes much eye trouble; he had just received a letter from one of the medical missionaries, Miss Graves, who had recently gone to Tanana, asking for certain books on diseases of the eye. Mr. Prevost said that he would much appreciate it if these books could be sent. An immediate response to his appeal assured that the books would be sent at once.

The later part of the meeting was devoted to the election of officers for the remainder of the year. The following named persons were elected:
President—Miss Sally Johnson
Vice Pres.—Mrs. J. I. Morrison
Treasurer—Mrs. Henry H. Marot
Secretary—Mrs. Topliff Johnson

A motion was made to take up some specified work for the remainder of the Epiphany season and through the coming Lenten season. This was unanimously carried. Mrs. Garrett had several suggestions from Miss Emory, with whom she had communicated on this subject, also mentioned one of her own pet missions in Virginia. The vote lay between Virginia mountaineers and Alaska. Virginia carried the vote.

These meetings are to be held every Thursday morning from 10.30 to 12, and it is earnestly desired that every woman in the Parish will make it her conscientious duty to be present at as many meetings as possible.

A Purchasing Committee composed of Mrs. Shinn and Mrs. Carmichael was appointed to buy materials and these ladies spared no time in making the necessary preparation for the work to be done. Their purchases were most satisfactorily made at Strawbridge and Clothier's from which company they not only received a generous discount, but were presented with 32 yards of materials over and above their purchases.

A cutting committee took charge of these materials and put them into shape for the women to begin sewing on Thursday morning.

The cutting committee is as follows: Mrs. George Morgan, Mrs. P. T. Robinson, Mrs. H. C. Thompson. A machine was presented by Mrs. William Land, and Mrs. Cook kindly volunteered to do any of the stitching. These were received with much appreciation.

An Executive Committee to assist and advise the President, also to welcome new comers, was appointed as follows: Mrs. John H. Shinn, Mrs. T. H. Carmichael, Mrs. Keith Rodney, Mrs. Robert Mogridge.

Committees are to be appointed to represent Christ Church on the Foreign, Domestic, Indian and Colored Branches of the mission work at the monthly meetings at the Church House in order to keep abreast with the work that is being done.

Before closing, an offering was taken which proved to be sufficient to purchase the books for Mr. Prevost, buy material for our sewing guild and leave some still in the treasury to meet other worthy calls.

Notice will be given of the regular monthly meetings for business discussions and to hear reports from various committees of the work in the field.

The meeting adjourned with high hopes for more united interest and good work for the spread of the Gospel.

L. J. J.

Women's Auxiliary will hold its monthly meeting on the first Thursday in each month at 10.30 A. M., when the committee will make their reports and special speakers will be invited to address the meeting.

We hope to have with us on February 6th the Rev. Mr. Cleaveland, of Stanardsville, Va., to tell us of the works among the Virginia mountaineers for whom we are working.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club has just celebrated its 25th anniversary, which was held in the Church Missions House in New York.

The C. P. C. has also just completed its annual gift of books (sent to different parts of the diocese) to St. Andrews School at Sewanee, Tenn. Our Parish contributed 25 books.

The Librarian has just heard of a rumor that the C. P. C. had discontinued its work in this Parish. If you read the Church "Chimes" each month you will certainly see it is making a vigorous effort to live and is living. Call up Gtn. 3241 and you will find a ready address for any and all periodicals you are willing to send to those who have none.

Some one asks, "What magazines are wanted?" Answer, ALL MAGAZINES! Religious, secular, mechanical, agricultural, sporting and children's. Anything that will uplift, instruct, amuse or divert.

Anything that will uplift, instruct, amuse or divert.

The following are especially wanted by the Librarian as the contributor has ceased his subscription and it is too bad to destroy the recipients pleasure. 2 copies Literary Digest, 1 or more Current Opinion, Outlook, Good Housekeeping.

Many other people are patiently waiting to be supplied with your cast off magazines.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary to the Board of Missions has decided to take up some work for the children of Alaska, and intend to have by Easter a very fair showing for their efforts.

Vestment Guild

The Vestment Guild had its regular monthly meeting on January 14th. Six of the ten members were present which enabled us to come to satisfactory conclusions as to the best way to keep up our supply of vestments for the choir.

The Lenten Meeting of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, 19th and Walnut Sts., on Monday, February 24th, at 2.30 P. M. The speakers will be the Bishops of Idaho, Eastern Oklahoma, South Carolina and the Bishop Suffragan of this Diocese.

Lenten Reading

The Board of Missions has issued a very interesting book entitled "Japan Advancing Whither," which is highly recommended to the members of the Church for Lenten reading.

By reading this book much information may be gained of the great work that is going on in the transformation of this mighty Empire, now so close to our shores and which is bound to play an important part in the history of our own land.

The Rector has ordered and received fifty copies of this book, and they may be purchased from the Verger at 70 cents a copy.

The Mothers' Meeting

Tuesday, January the seventh was a red letter day in the Mothers' Calendar for 1913, being the day of the annual dinner. It proved a feast of reason and a flow of soul, besides providing for the inner man, or should we say woman in this case. We were so fortunate as to have with us our dear friend and former President, Mrs. Garrett, only recently returned from a two years stay abroad. She gave us a fine description of her experiences in foreign lands. The story was enlivened by anecdotes and illustrated by numerous souvenirs picked up in various cities and towns of Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Holland and England. At the close of this delightful talk we were all given candles in small candlesticks, the lights were turned off, the small tapers were lighted and we sang, "It came upon the midnight clear." Miss Donlevy playing the accompaniment. This was followed by "Onward Christian Soldiers," all marching into the dining room. All found seats at the prettily decorated table and enjoyed the good things so kindly provided by friends. Turkey, ham, mashed potatoes, stewed tomatoes, cold slaw, rolls and butter, coffee, ice cream, cakes, salted nuts and after-dinner mints comprised the bill of fare. All this was made possible by the gifts of the many friends whom we wish to thank through the columns of the "Chimes." Also we wish to thank Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Garrett and Miss Donlevy who waited upon the table and assisted in the kitchen. Several of the Mothers' helped in the preparation of the dinner.

Mrs. Dayton, who was not able to be with us was greatly missed, and we were sorry to learn that Mrs. Garrett's stay in our midst will be so short, as she will make her home on the Pacific Coast.

We are starting the New Year with thankfulness for past blessings and hopes for greater opportunities for future usefulness.

Sunday School

At the Teachers' Meeting on the second Friday in the month the subject of finance was discussed at some length. It was proposed that a duplex envelope system be established for the classes, the teachers to take charge of the amount for each class and the sum collected each Sunday to be turned over to the Accounting Warden. In return the Accounting Warden would pay all expenses of the Sunday School when vouchers were submitted to him approved by the Finance Committee of the school. As the matter was of importance and the attendance at the meeting small, further discussion was suggested for the next Teacher's meeting.

A boy choir is to be started for the Sunday School and Mr. Miles has kindly agreed to train the boys who are invited to be at the Parish House at 3.00 P. M. every Saturday.

The attendance at the School is increasing and the interest in the lessons is encouraging.

The Superintendent again asks for volunteers as Teachers. One who could play the organ on an emergency would be especially welcome.

G. T. M.

The following is the list of those Scholars and Teachers of the Sunday School who were "perfect" in attendance during the year 1912:

Charlotte Westling, Francis O'Brien, Florence E. Why, John F. Arndt, Frederick H. Belfield, Elizabeth Connor, Mr. Jackson, Mr. Miles, Mr. Hayhurst. The following attended 51 Sundays:

Walter Abrams, Miss Insinger, Mr. Middleton.

The following attended 50 Sundays:

J. Walter Brown, Mrs. Adkin.

The following attended 49 Sundays:

William J. Feist, John Cookstock, Frank Ellis, Margaret J. Hannan.

EDITORIAL

The subject of the Apportionment is so generally misunderstood, but is so important, that we endeavor in this issue to treat the matter fully and exhaustively, and not only quote from the address of Mr. King in our own Church but also from a speech of Bishop Rhinelander given at length in the December issue of "The Church News." In our own Church it is remarkable to find how little real knowledge of the subject even leading, active members of the Parish have. The most common statement being that the new Parish House is responsible for a large raise in the amount Apportioned us. In the first place the Apportionment is now but in its second year, the following resolution being adopted at the last Diocesan Convention: "Resolved," that the Men's Auxiliary as provided for be instructed to make the Apportionment for the ensuing year, September 1st, 1912, to September 1st, 1913, to the Parishes, on a sliding scale from 7½ per cent. to 35 per cent. on current expenses, and without discretionary power to make any changes."

The sliding scale applied to the current expenses of the several Parishes divided them into seven groups as follows: Under $1,500 7½ per cent.; under $2,500, 10 per cent.; under $4,000, 15 per cent.; under $6,000, 20 per cent.; under $8,500, 25 per cent.; under $13,000, 30 per cent.; under $25,000, 35 per cent.

There are 46 Parishes in group 1; 37 Parishes in group 2; 35 Parishes in group 3; 25 Parishes in group 4; 14 Parishes in group 5; 9 Parishes in group 6; and 8 Parishes in group 7. There is a total of 174 parishes showing expenses of $675,722.36 and Apportioned $154,130.71. Christ Church reported expenses of $6,650.50, was therefore placed in group 5, assessed 25 per cent. or $1,662.62 for the year. You will note the Apportionment is at a fixed rate upon total expenses as furnished by the Church through the proper authorities, and that no one has authority to change the amount or rating.

To quote Bishop Rhinelander "I learned how greatly blessed a diocese would be, in all its parts and members, if only it would raise its Apportionment aright." "The Church has adopted the really perfect principal. Apportionment is the Divine Law. Each has his portion given him—given that he may give it. As ye have received the gift, even so minister the same as good stewards of the manifold grace of God." "Men everywhere are telling the same tale of great revival by faithful use of the Apportionment. Some of the most eager and compelling witness comes from vestrymen, who are not always the first to be converted." "The ugly little perforated envelopes come to bless but equally to warn. They offer a ready opportunity of reasonable, holy and living sacrifice. They knit our mission into our worship." "Has any one of us sufficient inspiration to foretell, what might happen in God's love, if the 57,000 of us took a hand in the Apportionment? No, but it is for each of us to try and see."

We quote from the speech of Mr. King in another article.)

You may give without loving, but you cannot love without giving.

Having kindly consented to come and fully explain just what the apportionment of the Board of Missions meant, and how the sum asked for them Christ Church was complied, J. Nicholas Mitchell, M. D., of the Diocesan Board of Missions made a most interesting and instructive address in the Parish House on the evening of Tuesday January 7th. All the members of the Vestry, with the exception of Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Morgan, were present and in addition about fifteen men and women of those interested in Church work. We regret to say there was but little discussion of the subject, and we fear Dr. Mitchell received an unfortunate impression of the real interest of our Church in the subject of Missions. No comment was made or question asked by members of the Vestry and but two of the ladies present made remarks. The Rector, as usual, rose to the occasion and thanked Dr. Mitchell for giving Christ Church an evening of his much sought for and valuable time.

Sunday morning, January 12th, George Gordon King, Esq., Treasurer of the Board of Missions, gave a most earnest statement of the work of the Board and an eloquent plea for the money necessary to carry on the work during the current year ending September 1st, 1913. We regret space will not permit us to publish the speech in full nor will we attempt to give a condensed, connected resume but the following facts and figures are of the utmost use and interest. We quote Mr. King.

"We are living in days of great visions—not dreams, but visions which are daily becoming realities."

"75 years ago the Board had in its employ 1 Missionary Bishop, 25 Clergy in Domestic work, 4 Clergy in Foreign work. Today it has 32 Missionary Bishops, more than 2550 workers of all kinds. In addition the Board assists 43 Dioceses in the United States in Missionary work."

"75 years ago receipts from all sources were $54,000; last year they were $1,700,000."

"33 years ago Sunday School children gave $7,000; last year $167,000."

"Contributing Parishes to Apportionment, in 9 years, increased from 2,200 to 4,900."

"31 Dioceses and Missionary Districts completed their Apportionment this year against 18 so doing 9 years ago."

"2,900 Congregations and Mission stations completed their Apportionment the past year against 754 so doing 9 years ago."

"To pay 32 Missionary Bishops (each receives $3,000) and 2550 workers salaries, outfit and expenses of various kinds, the Board appropriated last May $1,352,000. This is an average salary of less than $600 per capita if no expenses were attached to it. The deficit on September 1st, 1912 was $197,000."

"Sum required for year ending September 1st, 1913, $1,559,000. Receipts from various sources $265,000. Apportionment, $1,200,000."

"Toward this apportionment we expect Women's Auxiliaries and Sunday Schools to give $300,000, leaving $1,000,000 to be secured from Parishes and individuals. Last year these two sources contributed $725,000. Is it visionary to believe $1,000,000 can be secured in this way?"

"There are 930,000 recorded Communicants in the Church, 5 cents each per week equals $2,400,000. 2 cents per week about equals $1,000,000."

"Long ago words 'Stranger' and 'Foreigner' had real meaning but Jesus said 'I am my brothers keeper' and brother is an other name for all the world."

"You may extend your personality across sea and land. You do the work through your money. Your personality is behind it. You alone make it good or bad money. You set it in motion for either selfish or unselfish aims."

"When the Treasurer is collecting money, he is actually collecting influences and personalities; and sending them out into the world to do the Masters work."

"The real remittances are your love, zeal, prayers, and your belief in the Son of God."

Mr. King, also at some length, told of a house to house canvass that more than realized the Apportionment and in addition caused an increased interest in Parish and other work that resulted in the cancelling of the then present Church debt.

Our Apportionment of $1,662.62 will be raised from two sources, Duplex Envelopes and Voluntary contributions on the one hand; Sunday School Missionary offerings, Lenten offerings and Womens Auxiliary on the other.

According to printed report dated, The Church House, Oct. 15th, 1912, Christ Church last year gave $307.07. This year in Apportionment we are asked to give $1,662.62. Last year the 14 Parishes in group 5 gave $3,261.61; they are Apportioned $24,093.63. Of the 14 Parishes but one reached or exceeded its Apportionment. 6 gave a total of $9,122.33 leaving 8 to give $1,139.28 between them. But two gave less than Christ Church.

It is proper to call attention to the fact that Christ Church is also assessed in addition to the Apportionment of $1,662.62, the sum of $210.00 for the Germantown Convocation, about $40 for the Sustentation Fund, and some $300 for Convention and other funds or a total of about $2,100.

} 8.00 to 8.00 P. M. " } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS

Holy Week draws near! It is the Holy of Holies of all the weeks in the year. Every day, every moment is sacred. Day by day we draw nearer to the Cross. Surely, no heart can be so hard as to be indifferent to the solemn, awful events of this Holy Week.

To those who really know the love of Christ—how dear will be the services, the Meditations, the Communion of this week! Day by day will be rehearsed in our Church what Jesus said and did as He passed along the Via Dolorosa from Bethany to Calvary. Thus will the Gospel story sink deeper and deeper into the hearts of all who listen aright and the sad lessons of Holy Week will be more fully realized and will lead up to the joyous, triumphant hope of Easter Day.

Only they who follow Jesus in His trials and suffering and Crucifixion can enter into the joy of His Resurrection!

May I ask every member of Christ Church to pray daily—between now and Easter Day—the following prayer for our Parish?

There are so many in this vicinity who have become cold and indifferent to God, to Christ, to the Church and to their Christian duty. Only by the power of the Holy Spirit of God can they be aroused from their impending spiritual death. As we pray this prayer daily I ask that each one keep in mind some particular person or persons in this Parish and mention the name before God in this prayer.

Prayer for the Parish

O Almighty and merciful God, who doth govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplications of thy servants and grant unto our Parish all things that are needful for its spiritual welfare. Strengthen and confirm the faithful (especially.....) visit and relieve the sick, (especially.....) turn and soften the wicked (especially.....) arouse the careless and indifferent (especially.....) recover the fallen (especially.....) restore the penitent (especially.....) remove all hindrances to the advancement to Thy truth; and bring all to be one heart and mind within the fold of Thy Holy Church, to the honor and glory of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Easter Joy

"The strife is o'er, the battle done,
The Victory of life is won;
The song of Triumph has begun."
Alleluia!

With what triumphant joy the Christian heart sings these words! Out from darkness into light; from the sadness of Gethsemane and Calvary into the joys of Easter; away from thoughts of suffering to hymns of victory; from the dark tragedy of Good Friday to the empty tomb—such is the great transition today in Christian thought, voiced in anthems and flowers, in carols and hymns, and emphasized in the message of joy proclaimed from Christian pulpits and Christian altars. The good news that encircles the globe today and visits each hamlet and village and city and makes hearts beat the quicker for joy, is the announcement made to the disciples of old, and repeated through all the Christian centuries: "The Lord is risen, indeed!"

How strong a hold, the fact of the Resurrection has gained upon the hearts of men! As the centuries multiply, the thoughts grow stronger and stronger. The whole world keeps Easter Day. Men and women are studying the fact from every joint of view. Sentiment has laid hold upon it. Reason has accepted it. The man of science finds the law of Resurrection capable of demonstration. The spiritual truth beneath the fact itself far outweighs the seeming physical difficulties. And who can find words to tell of the comfort which this thought gives to those who grieve over the loss of loved ones, gone before us? Who can express in language the hope with which it cheers and inspires the heart of one called to suffering and pain.

There is power in this central fact of Christian history!

There is an uplifting in this key-stone of the arch of Christian truth.

Let us rejoice, then, as we look this day into the sepulchre, "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" Let us weave this truth and fact into our lives! Let it give courage to the struggling, hope to the discouraged ones, comfort to the mourners—joy to every heart, because Jesus Christ has brought life and immortality to light.

Through the proper observance of Holy Week shall be better prepared to enter more fully into the joys of Easter Day. The time between now and Easter should be devoted to a thorough, conscientious preparation for the Easter Communion, endeavoring to crucify the old man and utterly abolish the whole body of sin." Surely no good Churchman, without "grave and serious cause," will be absent from the Holy Communion on this "Queen Festival" of the Christian year. At the Lord's Supper, we not only have in remembrance "His blessed Passion and precious Death" but, also, as the Prayer Book tells us, "His mighty Resurrection, rendering unto God most hearty thanks for the same."

Thousands of altars throughout the world will be spread on Easter Day and millions of souls will kneel before God's throne and receive the Bread which came down from Heaven and with Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of Heaven" will be "knit together in one Communion and fellowship, in the mystical Body of Jesus Christ our Lord.

Let every Churchman, therefore, begin now carefully and conscientiously to prepare himself for his Easter Communion. "Draw near with faith and take this Holy Sacrament to your comfort; and make your humble confession to Almighty God.

Our Easter Offering

Our Easter Offering on Easter Day should be a true expression of our love and loyalty to Jesus Christ. As He suffered and sacrificed and died for us, and rose again, that we through Him, might have Life Eternal, so should we present on Easter Day such an offering as will mean something in His sight—will mean a real love and devotion, a genuine spirit of self-sacrifice for Him, whom we call our Lord and Saviour.

Far back in Old Testament times, the faithful were commanded to appear before the Lord for sacrificial worship three times a year, and they were not to appear empty. One of these occasions was the "Feast of Unleavened Bread"—which corresponds to our Easter Day. "Three times in a year shall all appear before the Lord thy God in the place which He shall chose; in the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and in the Feast of Weeks, and in the Feast of Tabernacles, and they shall not appear before the Lord empty. Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which He hath given thee." (Deut. 16:16.)

If this was the custom in Old Testament times how more abundantly and gladly should the Christian pour out his heart to God in thanksgiving on Easter Day.

Whilst I am very anxious that the full amount asked for by the Vestry shall be realized this Easter, I am even more anxious that this offering shall come from all, from every man, woman and child, and that it shall be an expression of deep, true Christian devotion and shall be according as God hath blessed each one of us.

Girls' Friendly Society

That members of Christ Church may know more about the Girls' Friendly Society, it has been suggested that a brief history of it be given here.

It was started in England in 1875 by Mrs. Townsend. Its purpose was to bind together Churchwomen and girls for religious help. This Society was brought to America in 1877, when the first branch was started in Lowell, Mass., by Miss E. M. Eason. It is now to be found in 64 diocese in America, with 667 branches and 43,200 members. It is the largest society of women for women in the world. Our motto is "Bear ye one another's burdens."

The objects of the Society are as follows: 1st. To bind together in one society Churchwomen as Associates, and girls and young women as members, for mutual help, (religious and secular) for sympathy and prayer. 2nd. To encourage purity of life, dutifulness to parents, faithfulness to employers, and thrift.

3rd. To provide the privileges of the Society for its members, wherever they may be, by giving the man introduction from one Branch to another.

The rules of the Society are:

1. No girl who has not borne a virtuous character can be admitted as a member of the Girls' Friendly Society: such character being lost, the member to forfeit her card.

2. Girls and young women may join the Society, from the age of 12 years and upwards, on the recommendation of an associate.

3. Members to pay not less than 9 cents a quarter to the Society; those refusing to pay their subscription lose their card.

While a girl is a member of the Society an associate always keeps in touch with her. After marriage, members may continue in the branch as Married Branch Helpers. On leaving the Society, card, guide-book and badge are returned.

The Christ Church Branch is very desirous of increasing their membership and will cordially welcome any girl or young woman who cares to join us.

Guild Choir

The Guild choir has come forward splendidly during these Lenten days and the services have been helped greatly by their assistance.

They have taken the service every alternate Wednesday and the first was a choir of fourteen. We hope to continue this interest throughout the season of Lent and wish to thank the regular choir for their co-operation on these Wednesday nights.

Women's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions held its monthly meeting on Thursday, February 6th at 10.30 A. M. in the Parish House. We had hoped to have with us the Rev. Arthur M. Cleaveland from Stannardsville, Va. who has charge of some of the work among the Virginia mountaineers, for whom we are working, but due to a heavy cold, he could not be with us, so the meeting resolved itself into a sewing meeting.

These regular weekly meetings have certainly been a great success and by Easter we will have a splendid box to send to these needy mountain people.

We have an average attendance of twenty-two and the mornings fly by most pleasantly. Those women in the Parish who do not attend are certainly missing a great deal. But it is not too late to come, you are always welcome.

The Auxiliary has the pleasure of thanking the James S. Jones Co. for a donation of outing flannel, John Wanamaker for a donation of gingham, Lit Brothers for a donation of outing flannel.

With the splendid generosity we have received from the dry goods houses it ought to behoove us all to greater energy to put them into wearing apparel. There are some seventy five garments already finished and many more ready for anyone who feels inclined to take work home, as many are doing.

Soon after Easter a complimentary afternoon tea will be given by the Woman's Auxiliary, Girls' Friendly and Mothers Meeting, to display their work and it is hoped the members of the Church will show their interest in the efforts of these societies by being present, the date to be announced later.

L. J. J. Sec.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary is increasing in numbers and our work is going on nicely. Last week we had six new members and we would be glad to welcome new ones each week to our pleasant Friday afternoons. We meet at 3.45. Mr. Gernand is going to talk to us next week on Alaska, the mission for which we are working.

Altar Guild

Commencing with "The Chimes" for April—there will be a monthly record of the "Memorial Flowers" for each Sunday.

Contributions of money for the Altar Guild will be most acceptable—also a new Bible for the Lectern and new Altar Prayer Books and Hymnals. Should any one wish to give the above kindly consult the Rector or President of Altar Guild. Those sending memorial flowers will kindly have them at the Church before one o'clock Saturday afternoons.

Daughters of the King

The Daughters of the King held their winter meeting of the Local Assembly at the Church of the Incarnation on Tuesday, February 18th.

Those who attended the Parochial Service at 4 o'clock heard a most inspiring Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Carpenter from the text "As thy day so shall thy strength be." After the service the meeting was called together by the President Mrs. Charles Henry Arndt. After all the business of the meeting was over the Rev. E. J. McHenry of the Church of the Holy Comforter, West Philadelphia, spoke very helpfully on the influence of Women in Church work.

At the evening session there were the Revs. Dr. Levis, Mr. J. Lugins of the Incarnation, Dr. Pierce and Mr. West of St. Matthew's, Mr. McHenry of the Holy Comforter and Rev. Chas. Henry Arndt, of Christ Church, Germantown in the chancel.

After the evening prayer, Dr. Levis received 4 new members into their Chapter, then followed a helpful sermon by our own Rector. He began by reading the account of the healing of the demoniac boy as given in St. Matthew's Gospel. Mr. Arndt showed that Faith, Prayer and Self-sacrifice are the only means by which we can give efficiency as servants of Jesus Christ, even then we must take Him at His word, that without Him we can do nothing and be as the dumb organ waiting the touch of the Master, or as tools idol but in readiness for the great Artisan.

E. L. M.

Boys Club

The Boys Club under the energetic management of Mr. Keith Rodney meets each Friday evening in the new play room in the Parish House and a number of the coming men of the neighborhood have enjoyable, healthy evenings.

Two Basket Ball teams have been organized from among the members while other boys are practising hard in an endeavor to make one or the other of these teams. Challenges are out and several will be accepted in the near future with neighboring teams. Not all of these boys are of our own church but a good work is being done in inculcating a manly, healthy, spirit of sport and a desire to keep their physical in first rate condition. Also that the Church and those from it are anxious and willing to help them and look after them in both a spiritual and a physical way.

Envelope System

Let every one in the Parish subscribe now through the Envelope System of giving.

Pledge cards in vestibule.

Mothers Meeting

We are pursuing the "even tenor of our way" with nothing very unusual or exciting to report.

Every member enjoys these weekly meetings, when we sew, and chat or listen to some amusing or otherwise interesting reading, followed by an inspiring address from, either our dear Rector or our friend, Mr. Gernand. The serving of tea and buns is a little diversion, after which there are cheery good-byes and hopes for meeting all again the following week.

Our rug industry moves briskly along our only drawback being a lack of material. We have recently sold nine rugs and have received orders for nearly as many more. The very moderate price at which we sell these rugs, prevents the buying of material for making them, so we have to depend entirely upon our friends for our supply of scraps of woolen and cotton cloth for this work.

We are planning for a clothing sale before Easter. As we do not ask more than a dollar for any garment, these sales are a great help to many.

The proceeds from these sales of clothing and from the rugs will be used to complete the Easter offering from the Mothers' Meeting.

A. M. M.

Young Men's Bible Class

Seventeen young men are now enrolled in our Bible Class, four new members having come in this past month. We should like to have at least twenty five on our roll by Easter. Will you help to make this possible by contributing your own presence and interesting other men in the class? Our organization is now complete. We have a good teaching staff, a new pianist, a violinist and better still, splendid enthusiasm in our meetings. On January 26th we held a joint discussion with class No. 11 on the question, "Is war ever beneficial to the human race." Interest was enlivened by the reading of specially contributed opinions from Bishop Rhinelander, Mayor Blankenburg and John Wanamaker. We are now taking up the book of Amos.

adopting in our study, the real seminar method of personal research into the hearts of this grand old prophet's stirring message. All men, both young and old, who love God's work, and sincerely want to know more about it, will find it very profitable to attend our Sunday morning circle of Bible study.

H. W. Gernand

The Sunday School

The attendance at the Sunday School though improving is still a little below the two hundred mark. We should like to reach that number before Easter and we are sure that a little individual missionary work on the part of the older scholars would soon make up the difference.

The unavoidable absence of teachers is a great drawback to the school. If the Superintendent could have a list of names of men and women who will occasionally teach, this difficulty would be largely overcome. Teachers should always notify the Superintendent if they know that they cannot attend to their duties on a certain Sunday.

The Lenten boxes have been distributed and it is hoped that with the co-operation of the family the contribution of the Sunday School to the Apportionment for Missions will be maintained.

Carols and Hymns for the Easter celebration have been selected and are now being learned on Saturday afternoon and before and after the lesson on Sundays.

G. L. M.

On the three Fridays following after Easter the Rector will continue his instruction to the members of the Confirmation class. The subject of the lectures will be "How to use the Prayer Book." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Friday afternoon at four o'clock and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock in the Parish House.

We older children group our way
From dark behind to dark before;
And only when our hands we lay,
Dear Lord, in Thine, the night is day.
And there is darkness nevermore.

Church Periodical Club

There seems to be a very vague understanding as to what the C. P. C. really stands for, so we present the following, trusting that it will be carefully read and digested. In another issue we will publish some of the replies from grateful recipients. These we are sure will move your hearts to deep repentance for what you have thrown away as old papers.

The Society was formed to supply periodicals and books to those of the clergy and laity who are unable to procure good literature in other ways.

1. It obtains from the Bishops names and addresses of those who need books and periodicals.

2. It appeals to those who have periodicals to send them, regularly every week or month, to the persons who ask for them, always prepaying postage.

3. It keeps lists of donors and of the recipients of such periodicals, so that a change in the address of either may be at once noted, and that any magazine, when discontinued, may be quickly replaced.

4. It receives packages of books and papers, notes contents, and sends out lists to the clergy, afterwards forwarding to each one, for his Reading Room or Sunday School, such books, etc., as he needs.

5. It sends out also Christmas and Easter cards, Prayer Books, Hymnals, Bibles, Carols, Service Leaflets, Games, etc., to Schools and Reading Rooms.

It needs 1st, books and magazines to supply the constant demand.

2nd. Money to pay for the room where the books, etc., are received and the salaries of the clerks receiving.

Also to pay postage on the letters and postals sent out during the year.

To pay postage, expresse or freight on the books and papers forwarded from the Central Office.

It needs the interest and prayers of every person in the Church.

EDITORIAL

A Lenten Creed

Let me be a little kinder,
Let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me,
Let me praise a little more;
Let me be, when I am weary,
Just a little bit more cheery,
Let me serve a little better
Those that I am striving for.

Let me be a little braver
When temptation bids me waver,
Let me strive a little harder
To be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker
With the brother that is weaker;
Let me think more of my neighbor
And a little less of "me."

Let me be a little sweeter,
Make my life a bit completer
By doing what I should do
Every minute of the day;
Let me toil without complaining,
Not a humble task disdaining,
Let me face the summons calmly
When death beckons me away.

In a leaflet signed by the Finance Committee and distributed widely through the Parish, the regular Income and Cost of maintaining property and conducting worship from Easter 1912 to Easter 1913 is (estimated from Feb. 1st) given as follows:

Expenses

Salaries	$3823.19
Choir	1700.00
Repairs	401.87
Coal Bill	419.75
Lighting	115.00
Taxes, Water Rent and Insurance	349.79
General Supplies and Sundry Ex- penses	535.00
Including Interest on Notes

Income

Pew Rents	$2675.00
Envelope Pledges	2578.93
Plate Collection	700.00
Deficit	$5953.93
	$1390.67

"This includes no donations to specific objects, nor expenditures on account of such objects, but presents (approximately) only the necessary running expenses and the regular receipts, and shows what amount must be made up by Free Will Offerings in order to maintain public worship, without incurring debt.

There are mortgages on the property aggregating $7,000; interest on which will be an additional expense to be provided for annually."

In the Accounting Wardens statement for January we note there were overdue bills amounting to $1698.10.
We also call attention to the fact that in addition to the expenses given above there is some $2100 to be raised for Apportionment, Convention, Sustentation Fund, etc.

We received most interesting verses on the Women's Aid Society but are unable to publish for want of space, the entire poem taking almost a full page.
We thank the writer and hope others will send us for publication concise writings concerning the Church and Guilds or Societies with which they are connected.

The prompt, immediate and generous response from a majority of the various Guilds and Societies for reports on the work and activities of the Church has been most gratifying and, we hope, a means of interesting others in their behalf. We cannot but comment that almost without exception these are from the women of the Parish. Where are the men and their work.

We are compelled to report that unless money is forthcoming this will of necessity be the last issue of the Chimes for this year. We should publish the April, May and June issues, but must have at least 20 additional dollars with which to do it. The "Chimes" costs net about $8.00 per issue of 600 copies. The Christmas issue of 800 copies, cost about $14.00 and the February issue, 800 copies, about $12.00. If publication suspends with this issue the two or three subscriptions received since January 1st, will be proportionately refunded.

We were disappointed when of the 200 or more subscription cards inserted in the January issue not one was returned signed. We regret figures already published. There are over 550 communicants in the Church; we issue from 600 to 800 copies per month and have 109 subscribers. Who will contribute towards the $20.00 and the continuance of the "Chimes"?

As this is the last issue of the "Chimes" before Easter it is proper to remind all members of the Church that the annual election of Vestrymen is held on Easter Monday and that it is a most important event in the life of the Church. Rightly or wrongly there is always more or less unrest in the church and criticism as to this or that thing done or left undone, while in reality no one has any reason to complain who does not enter actively into the life of the Church and exercise at the election authority and rights given them through Charter and By-Laws.

At the last election but six votes were cast and at previous election but

11 votes. We are informed that in time past it was customary for one man annually to go and cast the one vote electing the Vestry. This was wrong. Nor will the Church ever be in a thoroughly healthy condition until all take an active interest in the election, consider most carefully who they believe will most successfully and widely represent the entire congregation and conform and contribute most to uplift and success of the cause and Church. All members entitled to vote should do so but only after prayerful consultation and consideration and then they should have no hesitation in expressing their views and wishes in casting their ballot.

We do not say that the present Vestry should not be re-elected but do say it should be reorganized, made more representative and consult always and fully before any important steps effecting the entire congregation is taken.

Extract from Christ Church Charter
"The Vestry of said Church shall consist of 12 persons " " and the election of such Vestry shall be made every year, on Easter Monday, by a majority of such members of the said Church as shall appear by the Vestry books to have paid two (2) successive years immediately preceding the time of election for pew or a sitting in the said Church."

This extract from the Charter seems to show that Vestry should be elected by a majority of the Church members.
The By-Laws state the same but add the words, "male, adult" making it read, "by a majority of said male, adult members" etc. We understand it is the intention of those in authority to have the charter and by-laws modified and widened and we now ask that the new Charter read, "By a majority of such adult communicants as shall appear by the Vestry books to have contributed two successive years immediately preceding the time of election the sum of one dollar per year towards the expenses of said church." We advocate the right of all adult communicants to vote.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY 8.00 to 8.00 P. M. AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS

The Rector wishes to express his appreciation of the generous offering received on Easter Day. There were two or three large contributions, but by far the largest part came from all the people, showing a wide spread and general interest of the people in the Parish. This is as it should be. The Parish should be supported by every one and this Easter offering shows that the people of this Parish recognize, as a rule, their individual and personal responsibility. It is a privilege for any clergyman to work among a people who are responsive and sympathetic and try to measure up to their personal responsibility. By far the greater majority in this Parish are of this kind. There are only a comparatively few who shirk.

Among this number referred to above the most hopeless individuals are they who always have some plausible excuse.

There is no excuse that is so often put forth by persons who wish to avoid doing what they do not want to do, as the excuse, "I have no time." Opportunities for doing unselfish service for Christ and His Church are on every hand and within the reach of all; and yet, when the clergy seek persons to undertake the work, the same old excuse that is so familiar to their ears, and sounds so shallow and is so disheartening, is every where present—but is more apt to be found among the self-complacent, selfish, self-centered individuals.

It is the really busy, active, energetic big-minded man or woman who always can find time to do more. In the busiest lives there is room for what we want to do. It all depends upon the inclination. The votaries of pleasure are those who oftenest use the threadbare plea of "I have no time."

The man of business, who "fills the unforgiving minute with sixty seconds worth of distance run," is the man who is apparently placid, unruffled and at leisure to give ear to the claim of duty wherever or when ever it presents itself.

We began as children by being "too busy" to practice the piano or to do some long problem in our school. But we were never too busy to play. Anything that was fun displaced what was no fun. Some of us have never grown and never have lived down the juvenile proclivity to neglect our work for the sake of amusement. The person who seems to have been morn with that "tired feeling" and the person whose excuse is "I have no time," ought to be buried together in the same grave, where they both may rest and have all the time they want. Certainly the living have no use for them or their kind. There is no white lie so popular as "I haven't time." It enables us to evade an unpleasant appointment where our real duty lies. Nearly always the real and honest reason is, "I don't want to." For what we want to do, we shall find time to do.

The Rector desires to commend most highly the members of the Women's Auxiliary (Women's Missionary Society) for the splendid work which they have done during the past Lent in their weekly meetings. The money they have raised for Missionary purposes, the large number of garments they have made for the poor, and the full attendance at all the weekly meetings have made this one of the most successful as well as one of the most encouraging and delightful winters. A report of the work done by this Society is printed on another page of this issue of the "Chimes."

The financial year of the Parish begins at this time, (Easter). The past year has been marked by a wide-spread generosity on the part of many in the Parish. The Envelope system has been extended, and the offerings have largely increased. This is encouraging. There are many, however, who do not co-operate in the support of the work of this Parish, or, if they do, it is in a spasmodic manner or in a way not at all commensurate with their ability. It is hoped that these persons will soon awaken to their duty and responsibility in this matter and will come forward and help in this work for God and humanity which this Parish is doing. Everyone should do his or her share according to their ability.

The envelope system of giving should be extended to every man, woman and child in the Parish. It encourages regular systematic, conscientious giving and is the most satisfactory method yet adopted.

Pledge cards may be found in the vestibules or will be furnished by the Verger. Persons are invited to indicate by a cross on these cards how much they are willing to subscribe each week to the support of the Parish and to Missions. These cards, when signed with names and addresses, are to be placed on the alms basin or sent to the Rector and a package of envelopes will then be sent to the address.

These envelopes, with the amount subscribed, are to be placed on the alms basin each Sunday. If persons are absent from any service, the amount in arrears, together with the amount due for the Sunday present, is to be placed on the alms basin. If every one in the Parish would give liberally in this way a regular and assured income for the support of the work of the Parish could be depended upon.

It is hoped that every one who does not give through this system will begin at once. Every member, including each child in the home, should make an individual pledge and have a separate set of envelopes. In this way personal liberality will be encouraged and a sense of personal responsibility—so important a principle in every life—will be fostered in the character of young and old alike.

Aids to Memory

The clergy of every large parish have their minds burdened with such a variety of engagements and care that the question of faithfulness or neglect often reduces itself to the mechanical status of mere memory. They forget things that ought to be done on the moment, because there are other matters of importance which claim the attention of the moment. A failure of memory is sometimes charged to neglect, but only persons who never forget are allowed to cast stones at the offenders.

Some of the best and truest friends we have in the parish are people who voluntarily serve on our staff as "Aids to Memory." Whenever they note anything that ought to be done, they come, in confidence and with helpful consideration, and whisper a friendly suggestion in ears that are always open. There are no better or truer helpers in the whole parish than these dear friends, who are always suggesting to us ways of usefulness. God bless them for what they have done! And may God (who knows full well that the memory of men in the priesthood is no more nearly infallible than the memory of laymen) greatly multiply the number of those who are candid and helpful in their desire to send the clergy to the places of most immediate need. The poor priest does not get a better memory by a Bishop's ordination. Help him when you can, and be an "Aid to Memory."

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the

.....
Memorial Pew.

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of

.....
dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

A Chance for Some Generous Heart

There are several things greatly needed in our Parish and opportunities are afforded for some good, kind, generous persons to interest themselves and in a practical way do something for the Parish. One of the objects, enumerated below can be undertaken by some person, or group of persons; another object can be undertaken by others, and if several persons or groups of persons can be interested, all of the below mentioned objects can be accomplished this Spring. Who will lead off? Here is the list.

1st. The Church exterior walls need repenciling and the stone work in places is badly in need of repair.

Who will do it or help do it?

2nd. The Church interior walls need refinishing and redecorating.

Who will do it or help to do it?

3rd. Electric lights are badly needed to properly lighten the Church interior.

Who will do it or help to do it?

4th. The woodwork in the Church need to be finished to harmonize with Chancel.

Who will do it or help to do it?

5th. The Sunday School room needs new seats adaptable for audience room.

Who will do it or help to do it?

6th. The interior of the Rectory is in need of repairs, papering and paint.

Who will do it or help to do it?

Generously disposed persons, who desire further information will be given "the glad hand" and "a right royal welcome" if they will apply to any member of the Vestry or to the Rector.

Who will take the lead?

Sunday School Report

The attendance at the Sunday School continues to increase and the Superintendent is in pressing need for three more teachers. On Easter Sunday two classes graduated from the Intermediate Department to the main school and one teacher, Miss Haley, has resigned her position. We are glad to hear that the church is so well supplied with teachers.

loses a faithful, regular and earnest teacher and a most interesting class of boys is left without a preceptor.

The Lenten offering from the Mite boxes was as usual very liberal amounting to nearly $150. This special Lenten offering is always devoted to Missions.

The special service in the Church on Easter Sunday evening was most encouraging and inspiring and the school starts in the coming year with renewed hopes and aspirations.

The Teachers Meeting will be held in the future on the second Monday in the month. It is hoped that this change will result in a larger attendance. The personality of the Teacher must always be a large factor in a successful class, still much can be learned by all Teachers through Association.

Vestrymen Elected

At the annual election of Vestrymen of Christ Church held on Easter Monday the following were elected to serve for one year.

Charles W. Schwartz
Sheldon Potter
William M. Johnson, M. D.
William R. Pugh
Francis B. Falkner
James M. Woodroffe
O. N. Middleton
Henry R. Baremore
Richard H. Morris
Charles Heyer
George T. Morgan
Keith R. Rodney

At the organization of the Vestry the Rector appointed Mr. James M. Woodroffe, Rector's Warden, Mr. Wm. R. Pugh was elected Accounting Warden and Mr. Francis B. Falkner, Secretary.

The Rector appointed the following Standing Committees: Finance Committee, Messrs. Woodroffe, Johnson and Falkner; Choir Committee, Messrs. Potter, Woodroffe and Baremore; Sunday School Committee, Messrs. Morgan, Middleton and Morris; Property Committee, Messrs. Rodney, Morris and Middleton.

A handsome oriental rug has been given by a member of the Parish to be placed in the vestry.

The Mother's Meeting

As our greatest efforts in a social way are concentrated upon the annual dinner in January; so our Easter Offering is the goal toward which the most of our work is directed.

The funds for our Easter offering are obtained by the sale of the rugs which we make from materials furnished us by interested friends and from the sales of clothing which are held several times through the year.

We have given ten dollars and two barrels of clothing to Missions during the past Winter in addition to our Easter Offering of fifty dollars.

This represents faithful attendance at the weekly meetings and most conscientious work on the part of the members. We shall close our season's work feeling that our efforts have been crowned with success, but hoping for even better results in the future.

We cannot more fittingly close this brief article, than by thanking our kind friends who so generously contributed to the dinner and assisted us in our work with gifts of clothing for the sales and materials for rugs.

A Men's Social Evening

A social evening for all the men in the Parish is being arranged to be held about the middle of April. The definite date cannot be announced at present owing to the uncertainty of certain speakers whom it is desired to have present. The date and speakers will be determined upon soon and will be announced from the Chancel. It is desired to have every man in the Parish present at this meeting and a very enjoyable and profitable evening will be guaranteed. Let every man keep his ears open to hear the date and when it is announced put it down and be sure to be present.

Addendum

Since the above notice was set in type definite arrangements have been made for a Men's Big Social Meeting to be held in the Parish House on Friday evening, April 14th at eight o'clock. George Wharton Webb, Esq. and Mr. George Wharton Webb, Esq. will be the prominent speakers. It is desired to have every man in the Parish present at this meeting. The date is April 14th at eight o'clock.

The series of Sunday evening Lantern slides services for the children during Lent were well attended by the young people. Through the kindness of Mr. Joseph Beale, of Germantown, slides were procured covering the most interesting portions of Bible history, both of the Old and New Testaments and the pictures were accompanied by short explanations of the truths pictorially represented. It was particularly gratifying to the clergy to note the large number of children unconnected with the Parish who were faithful in their attendance at the services and it is hoped that many of these children who are not associated with any church may find their places in our Sunday School. A very pleasant feature and one that greatly contributed to the success of the services was the splendid order maintained by the children throughout, their respectful attention, and manifest interest in the beautiful stories of God's blessed Saints of Old.

To Miss Burnley, Miss Collisson, Mrs. Miles, Mr. Hayhurst and Mr. Moore we tender our thanks and appreciation of the kind assistance which they rendered.

The Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club is about sending in its report for the past year and wants to thank its generous donors for the good work they have done, and the generous contributions of money. The work has grown so that there is a loud call for funds to keep up the good work.

But please, good people, do not think that because the reports are turned in that the work ceases for the summer. Far from it! Any time you have periodicals or money donations you will find your Librarian only too ready to procure addresses and receive contributions.

So remember always your less fortunate neighbors.

W. J. J.

The Women's Bible Class, taught by Mrs. Harry R. Baremore, presented to the Church on Easter Day two sets of hand-drawn Bible pictures and a book of hymns. The pictures were drawn by the members of the class and the book of hymns was compiled by Mrs. Baremore.

The Delegates elected to the Diocesan Convention and the Germantown Convocation are Messrs Potter, Pugh and Woodroffe. The following report was submitted to the Vestry by Mr. Pugh, the Accounting Warden.

Since compiling the above, additional offerings have been received which bring the total amount of the Easter Offering to $1500.00. This is a splendid showing, considering that almost one thousand dollars was received in offerings at the Anniversary Service held last fall. The Vestry expresses their deep appreciation of the co-operation of the members of the Parish in the support of the work. It is hoped that by the further extension of the Envelope System of giving and by the renting of pews and sittings the revenue of the Church next year will be sufficient to meet all expenses of the Parish.

The Woman's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary held its last meeting, Thursday morning, Mar. the twentieth.

These meetings have been a great success; well attended, and if a vote were taken, there would not be a dissenting voice as to the delightful social gatherings we have had on Thursday mornings. But best of all is the result of the work which brought us together; viz:—Over 160 made garments. These, with several pieces of materials, will be sent to Virginia after the "exhibition tea," which has been previously announced.

Although our meetings were well attended with an average of twenty-three it was with great regret that we noted the absence of many of the women in the Parish, and it is earnestly hoped that they will make it their conscientious duty to meet with the Auxiliary another year.

The dues have been placed at 50 cents, and it is greatly desired that each woman in the Parish should feel that she is privileged to contribute; therefore we would suggest that those who have been prevented from working with us, would send their dues, if so inclined, to the Treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Marot, 239 W. Hotter Street; for we all know that each baptized woman is by right of the sacrament, a member of the missionary body of the Church.

The following things are needed for the children of the Blue Ridge Industrial School:

Second hand shoes, children's and women's, sizes 5 to 7; Little children's dresses, age 2 to 6; Second hand dress skirts, colors, dark and black; Little bottles and corks; Second hand jackets. Anything for men, women and children.

It is hoped to get the box off by April the twelfth, all things should be at the Parish House before that date.

According to the general custom of all the branches of the Woman's Auxiliary at large, our meetings were closed each week at twelve o'clock, with what is known as the "Noonday Prayer" for Missions, read by either Mr. Arndt or Mr. Gernand.

Mrs. Laura H. Dayton, honorary Parish Visitor of Christ Church, is engaged in Missionary work among the poor under the direction of the City Mission of Philadelphia. The district under her care embraces, among other sections, this portion of Germantown and she has office hours in Christ Church on Tuesday afternoons between two and five o'clock, where she may be seen by any who need assistance.

The Guild Choir

The Guild choir has been most faithful in its attendance during the Lenten season just past. The average attendance at each service was 6. We divided the honors with the regular choir for the Wednesday evening services, taking each alternate Wednesday, except the last, which we took by request, owing to the shortage of time the regular choir had for rehearsals of the Easter music.

We were fortunate in having the confirmation services fall on our Wednesday evening and with the kindly assistance of a few from the regular choir, we turned out a choir of 22—and the music was most satisfactory.

The Rector paid us a most beautiful spiritual compliment on our efforts to keep up our end during the Lenten season, and those who were not present Easter even certainly missed something that can never be repeated to them.

The Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary has met each Friday afternoon through Lent and earnestly hopes to have some results of its efforts to display at the "exhibition tea."

It is most encouraging and delightful to note the increase in our numbers; when we started our meetings in November, we had but six members, and now we have twenty-two who come regularly and each week adds new names to our roll.

The Junior Auxiliary's attendance at the Friday afternoon services during Lent, is also a pleasing fact to note; the older girls looking after the little folks.

The Junior meetings will continue for some time.

Credit is due to the members of the Altar Guild for the beautiful arrangement of the flowers in the Church on Easter Day.

The side and the main Altars were each embedded in a mass of lilies and potted flowers, all given in memory of the blessed dead. After the services the flowers were taken to the sick in the Parish and in Hospitals.

EDITORIAL

Easter morning was all that could be desired and the attendance at the three services most gratifying and impressive. Ninety-four members attended the Holy Communion at the early morning 6.30 service and one hundred and nine at the 7.30 service while at the 11 o'clock service one hundred and thirty-two, making a total of three hundred and thirty-five persons communicating on Easter Day. The Church was decorated as usual in a handsome but plain and reverential manner and appealed to all who in their hearts love Christ Church.

Meteorological Mystery

Did you ever notice the strangely mysterious effect of weather on piety? Sunday heat is hotter; Sunday cold is colder; Sunday rain is wetter than on other days, so that while on weekdays we are quite ready and able for business or pleasure that weekdays heat or cold or rain cannot keep us away from; we really can't get out to church on a Sunday! Strange, isn't it? Ever notice it?

We call to the attention of the young men of the Parish the Washington Lane lot and ask if a committee cannot be formed to take proper care of it during the coming summer. The lot could be made not only attractive and useful for those who play Tennis and other out-of-door games but a most sightly and pleasant approach to the church, particularly for those living in the upper portions of Germantown. It should be kept cleaned, grass cut, weeds pulled and in general made to look up-to-date and in keeping with the church. A most excellent beginning was made when hedge was planted and other improvements made but unfortunately the good work was not continued and by the end of the summer the lot looked most shabby. Who will volunteer for this work this season?

Expressions of appreciation are heard on all sides of the splendid service rendered at the daily Lenten services by the Guild Choir. With but few exceptions, the volunteers were most faithful in their daily attendance at the Lenten services and the music was excellently rendered.

Thank You

We are in receipt of the following letter in response to an appeal made in last number of the "Chimes." We deeply appreciate the kind interest of our friend. Are there not others in the Parish who will follow this generous example?

Germantown, March 28, 1913

Mr. Editor:

I saw in the last issue of "The Chimes" that there is a deficit and I will be very sorry if they cease to "ring." I am so deaf that I scarcely go to church and the little booklet gives me not only information but comfort; so I enclose in this one dollar to start the ball "a-rolling," for surely there must be many in the Parish who can give fifty or twenty-five cents to cover this. But I do not like the idea of our dear Rector having to ask for it. He has quite enough to shoulder.

Very truly yours,
(Mrs.)

The singing of the choir on Easter Sunday was most creditable in tune, tone and volume and we congratulate the members of the choir and its new leader, also the organist on the admirable results obtained in so short a time and under such unfavorable circumstances. We hope soon to see more men in the choir. For a long time the usual attendance of men has been but five and of these four were paid. This has never looked or seemed right or a credit to the church. We have been in churches where the sight of a numerous body of grown men in a mixed choir was most impressive and the sound of their singing most inspiring.

What a pity it is that either the men of our Church are unresponsive, unleadable, or they are not taken care of for there is not now one active men's society or Guild in the Parish. The neighborhood club is practically dead and has no meetings. The St. Andrew's Brotherhood is inactive, and month after month we have been unable to get any report of activities among or for the men of the Church. Why are the activities of the church among the women and a comparatively few of these, taking the number of communicants. How can any man come to the Solemn and Holy Communion, receive the help and blessing of Christ's Church and fail to ask himself what can I do to bring these comforts, helps, blessings to others. How can I help in the necessary organization of the Church. We remember asking one of the principal men of the Church to come to a proposed Church "Smoker" and his reply "Oh I enjoy my cigar more at home." Is this all there is in a meeting of the men of my cigar more at home." Is this all there is in a meeting of the men of the Parish? By faith and works men have moved mountains and there are mountains to be moved, gullies to be filled and rough places to be made smooth in every organization. Will not someone see that the men get together and soon?

The canvass for pledges to missions and Church support has brought out several objections to the envelope system. Some feel that a pledge should be made to God only and that no one should know, how much they give. The sufficient answer to this objection is that if everyone acted on such a principle the financial affairs of a Parish could not be successfully administered. The great trouble in the business management of our parishes is that vestries have no income guaranteed. The envelope system with its yearly pledge is simply an effort to right a wrong. It is a wrong to ask men to shoulder the responsibility of paying the running expenses of a church, pledges, apportionments, salaries, heat, repairs, etc., without knowing exactly where the money is to come from.

The great advantage of the weekly offering is that it enables those who have but little to give a considerable amount in the course of a year. Those who wish to give all at once, or quarterly or monthly should be careful to make their contributions on the weekly basis. If they do not there is great danger that their gifts will be surpassed by those who are much less able to give.

For example: Mr. A—may be imagined as saying, "I do not care to use the envelopes, I can't be bothered with them; but I will pledge $5 a year for church support and $1 a year for missions." But in this, Mr. A—is getting off too easily, for some of our younger communicants give ten cents a week for church support and five cents a week for missions, which means $5.20 a year for the one and $2.60 for the other.

All of which shows that there should be a good deal of careful thought and earnest prayer in regard to this matter of the envelope system and the pledge.

"Let every one do according as he is disposed in his heart not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver." 2 Cor. 9:7.

I Ought! I Can! I Will!

Every duty to be performed, every responsibility to be met, every privilege to be enjoyed, requires three steps—each step the result of an appeal to a man's nobler nature; a proper response to which brings success in life, while refusal to heed its voice speaks failure.

The first appeal is made to Conscience,—to arouse the sense of duty, to make a man take the first step and say: I ought to do it!

The second appeal is made to Ambition—to give a man confidence—to make him feel equal to the task, to make him say: I can do it!

The third appeal is made to Manliness—to cause a man to consecrate his talents, his time, his thoughts, his efforts to the task; to make him take the third and all important step and resolve: I will do it!

This three fold appeal gives Lent its meaning—a season devoted to give a new start in life, to lift the life to a higher plane, to bring to it a spiritual influx.

To do this, the Church sets forth this Season of Lent and calls on its members to employ certain "means of grace." Without these means of grace the purposes of Lent cannot be accomplished.

Prayer is the first means of grace, without which Lent will be a failure. Did any man ever succeed in any enterprise whatever, who did not keep it in his mind and make it the burden of his expressed desire? It is the first element in success. This same rule obtains in the religious life. A man must strengthen his desire for spiritual things, and for a nobler life, by prayer. Lent now makes the appeal to every one and the response must be: I ought to pray! I can pray! I will pray!

The second means of grace is Fasting—the companion of prayer. Fasting and Prayer is found throughout all Scriptures, both in the old Testament and the New. Christ fasted and the Apostles followed His example. To fast for a purpose always strengthens that purpose. If one would follow in the footsteps of Christ he will say: I ought to fast! I can; I will!

Self Examination is another means of Grace to be employed during Lent; not a morbid introspection, but a careful, thoughtful, conscientious examination. "Taking Stock" is a familiar term to every practical business man. It is the annual drawing of balances—the study of the condition of business—a profit and loss—the determination of methods for future success. Every persons needs to take account of the gains and the losses to character through contact with the world—to make a careful reckoning of present conditions with a view to better results in the future. Lent affords this opportunity. It emphasizes Self Examination; and realizing the value of careful, honest, conscientious, self examination every one who really seeks spiritual growth will reply; I ought! I can! I will!

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY }
} 6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS

After Lent and Easter there is often a tendency, among some sort of Churchmen, to fall away from the high standard of Christian work and Church attendance which the holy season of Lent inspires. It is encouraging to note that there has not been an appreciable decrease in attendance on the part of the members of Christ Church during the past month and that, with but few exceptions, the members of the Parish are not neglecting their Communion. There are some, however, who are falling away from their high estate and are allowing such excuses as, "friends coming to visit us," "week end outings," "automobile excursions" and such unwarranted diversions to keep them away from the House of God on the Lord's Day. How insidiously all these "excuses" work to draw away Christian people from their duty to God! How easy it is, especially in these Spring days, gradually to lull our consciences to sleep and not to hear the voice of God speaking in our souls!

A Parable

"Father," said a boy of 14, "what is a parable?" The father, who was reading comfortably the big five-cent Sunday newspaper after breakfast, looked up as if taken by surprise. He had just got through reading the extracts of some political speeches delivered on Saturday, glanced over the graphic account of the latest scandal, and was just getting deeply interested in the lively descriptions on the sporting page. He was really not prepared for that question, and he tried to conceal his embarrassment when he felt the boy's eyes looking at him in earnest expectation. "A parable," he said slowly, as if trying to collect his thoughts, "a parable is a story taken from life to convey a religious lesson." "Is this a parable?" said the boy, pointing to an open Bible before him. "Read it," said the father, with a show of interest. And the boy read the following: "A certain man made a great supper; and he bade many; and he sent forth his servants at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready. And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it; I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them; I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. And the servant came and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. And the servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. And the lord said unto his servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. For I say unto you, that none of those men that were bidden shall taste of my supper." (Luke 14:16-24.)

When the boy stopped, the father said, after a pause: "Yes, my boy, this is a parable." "And who spoke it?" "Our Saviour," answered the father thoughtfully. "And what is the lesson, father?" persisted the boy. "The lesson, the lesson, well, our Lord sought, and still seeks, to make us see and feel the love of God for men, and also to what extent such a love is shown in our behalf. Moreover, to make us see and feel, in contrast, our shallow indifference and stupid ingratitude. My boy I hear our Church bell ring. It is the message which the Master sends, 'Come, for all things are now ready.' We shall take the trip to the park some other time. You and I will go to Church this morning, and partake of the feast which our Lord and Master has made ready in the Church which He has purchased with His Blood for all who love and fear God."

On that Sunday morning there were two more at the Holy Communion in Christ Church, Germantown. It was an inspiring sight to see the father and son kneeling side by side.

The children of the Sunday School placed on the altar $150.00 as the result of their Lenten savings and sacrifices. This offering will go to Missions and will apply on our apportionment. When we consider that this amount was not realized from entertainments, "sales" or "shows," but was the result of personal giving in some cases at much sacrifice, certainly the members of the School are to be congratulated on their Lenten efforts. Personal service, whatever form it may take, is the highest expression of Christian faith. If we can educate our children up to this point, that Christianity consists not in faith alone, but in work in the spread of the Kingdom of Christ on earth, then we are bringing into their lives a power for good that will be to them a source of the greatest and highest and most abiding happiness in the years to come and will bring to others the power of Christian example, which means the furtherance of the Kingdom of good, the spread of the Kingdom of Christ on earth. The Rector commends the officers, teachers and scholars of our Sunday School on their splendid example of personal sacrifice.

Is Our Church Catholic and Should Its Name be Changed?

The Vestry have caused to be distributed in the pews of the Church the following circular letters, addressed to the members of the Parish.

Christ Church, Germantown
Phila., April 15th, 1913

Dear Sir:

At the Diocesan Convention to be held this Spring the change of the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America to "The American Catholic Church," or "The Catholic Church in America" or some other name of like import may be considered.

The Lay Delegates from this Parish to that Convention have been chosen by the Vestrymen, elected by you on Easter Monday.

Your Vestry believes that any such change in name as above mentioned is of such grave importance to the Church, that the instructions of the qualified electors of this Parish should be given to their representatives in the Convention as to their action thereon.

We, therefore request that you will indicate by your signature upon one or the other of the attached blanks, your wish in this matter and return the same at your earliest convenience to Mr. Francis B. Faulkner, Secretary of the Vestry, No. 48 W. Tulpehocken St., Germantown.

The Vestry of the Christ Church, Gtn.
By Francis B. Faulkner, Secretary

I favor the proposed change of name of the Church

I oppose the proposed change of name of the Church

In consideration of the Vestry's letter the Rector desires to make extended comment.

As this letter indicates, its purpose is to ascertain the wish of the members of the Parish in regard to the subject of the proposed change of name of the Church. This question, of course, will not come up for consideration before the Convention of this or any other Diocese this year, but will probably be proposed at the General Convention of the whole Church, which will be held in New York City next October.

Our Diocesan Convention will meet in this city the second week of May, at which time delegates to the General Convention will be elected by the representatives sent from the various Parishes of the Diocese. These Diocesan delegates to the General Convention will therefore, vote on this question of the change of name, should it come up before the Convention.

The proposition is to substitute for the present local title of our Church, "The Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America" the generic title, "The American Catholic Church." It is needless to state to the intelligent mind that the word "Catholic" is here used in its historic sense and is not synonymous with "Roman" or "Roman Catholic." Webster defines "Catholic" to mean "Universal or General, as the Catholic faith." "This epithet," says Webster's Dictionary is rightly applied to the whole Christian Church, although it has been claimed exclusively by the Church of Rome, to which it is often limited." The word Catholic is an historic word and connotes "Apostolic." The word cannot, in the face of history or of reason, be narrowed down to "Roman," although, it must be admitted, to some minds the two are interchangeably associated.

Writes an eminent authority: "when the present name, Protestant Episcopal church, was adopted in 1789, after the American Revolution, it was necessary to identify that body of clergy and laity, who formerly had been members of the Apostolic Church of England and who purposed thereafter, as an organization, to maintain the same doctrine, discipline and worship which they had previously practiced."

They were not Roman Catholics, holding allegiance to the foreign Bishop of Rome, they were not Presbyterians, recognizing only two orders of the ministry, they were not the followers of Luther, nor were they Baptists or Methodists. They were not identified by law, as their mother Church of England was, and therefore could not call themselves the church of the Republic. To distinguish themselves from other bodies of Christians they chose the name which we still bear.

In their form of order they were "Episcopal," that is, holding to the historic form of government, found in the time of the Apostles—the historic Episcopate; and this distinguished them from the Protestant Communions of the later centuries, which do not lay claim to Apostolic continuity; Roman they certainly were not, and this distinguished them from the Papal Communion. They adopted the word "Episcopal," to mark them off on the one side; and in the absence of any other commonly-accepted term, they adopted the word "Protestant" to mark them off on the other side. Our present name, therefore, bears with it the history of the strenuous conditions of the time, when "protesting," on the one hand, against the absurd and false claims made by the Roman Church, against which the Catholic spirit in the Church has always "protested," and on the other hand, emphasizing, in the word "Episcopal," (which means "Bishop,") the historic Episcopate, or the three orders of the ministry, which was the order of the early Apostolic Church. Our name, "Protestant Episcopal," historically considered, stands for a mean between two extremes—or the true Catholic position.

Our name, however, "Protestant Episcopal" is not such as we can believe would have commended itself to the early Apostolic Church. Different parts of the one church of the Apostolic days were identified by some geographical or national term, indicating where they were found; for example in the Book of Revelation, "the Church of Sardis," "the Church in Philadelphia," etc. To apply to any group or section a personal or a doctrinal, or a descriptive designation was equivalent to branding it as a sect; and to the mind of the undivided Church a sect connoted heresy or schism.

"Yet," says a writer in a recent issue of the "Churchman" we did not intend to become and we deny that we are a sect.

"We hold the Catholic faith, we maintain the Catholic order, and we practice the Catholic worship. We claim, and of right we occupy, our place as part of the "Catholic," "Universal," "Apostolic" church. To a large and increasing proportion of our Communion it now appears a misfortune that we are identified by a sectarian name."

On the other hand we would say that it does not follow that necessity or expediency now requires a change of name. For a century and a quarter we have been doing our work for Christ, not as we wish we had, not so as we may boast of it, but such as it is and God has blessed it far beyond its deserts. However our opinion as to the suitableness of our name may differ, we are one in our love for the communion to which we belong. Upon the question of changing the name under which hitherto our work, has been done, a large proportion of our number, whether more or less than half does not matter, believe that a change of name would be detrimental to the cause which all have at heart. A change at the present time might shake the allegiance of some (unreasonably it may be) because they fear it might denote a repudiation of certain principles which they believe to be inseparable from the truth of the Gospel. It certainly would grieve many. Whatever their various reasons, the fact is that a great body of our people, important for their numbers, conspicuous for their piety, shining examples for their devoted and unselfish service, while their minds are open to conviction, are not yet convinced that a change is desirable.

The time may come when some great religious impulse will make it clear that we can serve God and advance His kingdom more effectively if we renounce the present name, from which so many shrink as sectarian, and assume some other designation which connects us more obviously with the Universal Body of Christ, the Church in which we believe: One, Catholic and Apostolic, including in it all faithful followers of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. God speed that day, but the time has not yet come. In our impatience we must not force the time, but must abide His waiting. In the meantime we must pray and labor and love. Until that day let us all continue to pray the prayer of our Prayer

Book, "that all who profess and call themselves Christians may be led into the way of truth and hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace and in the righteousness of life," so that finally our Lord's own prayer may be answered that we "all may be one in Him, even as He is one with the Father."

Our Missionary Apportionment and the Envelope System

As is known, perhaps, to most of our parishioners, the Board of Missions of our Church, in order to meet the needs of the great Missionary work of the Church, has appointed to the several Dioceses of the land, a certain definite amount for each Diocese to contribute annually toward the general missionary fund. The Dioceses in turn, look to the parishes within their respective boundaries, to raise the apportionment placed upon them. The apportionment of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is $125,000 and of this amount Christ Church Parish is asked to contribute the annual minimum sum of $1,650.00.

In addition to this amount our Parish is assessed, and has always been prompt in paying in full annually to the Convocation of Germantown and the Sustentation Fund, the sum of $250. This latter amount goes toward the support of Mission work within our own Diocese. Therefore the aggregate amount which we are asked to give each year for Missions is $1,900.00.

Every one recognizes, of course, that the great work of the Church of Christ is carrying the Gospel—"the Good News"—to others. That means Missions. It is our Lord's command. Every Christian will therefore, want to share in this work and to do his or her part, however little that may be, in the furtherance of the Kingdom of Christ on earth. The Missionary apportionment that is assigned to Christ Church should be shared in by every one, old and young, rich and poor, who prays the prayer our Lord taught us to pray—"Thy Kingdom Come."

To this end—that everyone may give something—regularly, conscientiously, systematically, the "duplex envelope" has been introduced into the Parish, which permits each attendant to give in one side of the envelope, "to the support of the Parish," and in the other side, "to the support of Missions." By this method no one in the Parish is slighted and the privilege is extended, as it ought to be extended to all.

The members of Christ Church will not, we are sure, want our Parish to be behind others in doing our Christian duty. Every member will want to share in this great work of the church and do whatever they can in carrying out our Lord's command—"Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

At present only a little over two hundred envelope packages have been taken out. There should be, at least, twice that number of envelope subscribers. The envelopes, as has been said, have in them two small "pockets"—one for the weekly contribution for the "support of the Parish," the other for "Missions."

Pledge cards for these purposes may be found in the vestibule of the church. Every one is invited to take one of these cards and check on the card the amount of weekly offering. The Rector would advise that each one pledge a smaller rather than a larger amount, and then, subsequently if circumstances allow, to increase the pledge. It is better to give a small amount regularly and systematically and continuously rather than to give a large amount irregularly or spasmodically.

When these pledge cards are received—and they may be placed on the alms basin at any service or given to the Rector—a package of envelopes, fifty two in number, one for each Sunday of the year, all bearing a number, will be sent to each and that will be set down opposite each name on this year's list of contributors.

The envelopes may be turned in regularly or intermittently. The ideal way, of course, would be for everyone to be at service every Sunday and to make their offering regularly weekly. If, by any chance, a person is not present one Sunday, or several Sundays, set aside the offering weekly at home and then at the first opportunity, give the total amount and it will be credited to the account of each person.

There is every reason why this system should be extended to every man, woman and child in this congregation. It is the best method yet devised, both for the good of the Parish and for the individual. It insures a regular income by which the Vestry can meet the obligation of the Parish in the local needs and in its charitable and missionary endeavors, and also,—and this is the most important of all—it fosters a spirit of systematic, conscientious giving to the work of the Church of Christ and inculcates the principle of individual, personal responsibility, which is one of the most important elements in Christian character.

What is That in Thine Hand?

"What is that in thine hand, Abel?" "Nothing but a wee lamb, O God, taken from the flock. I purpose offering it to Thee, a willing sacrifice." And so he did; and the sweet smell of that burnt offering has been filling the air ever since, and constantly going up to God as a perpetual sacrifice of praise.

"What is it thou hast in thine hand, Moses?" "Nothing but a staff, O God, with which I tend my flock." "Take it, and use it for Me." And he did; and with it wrought more wondrous things than Egypt and her proud king had ever seen before.

"Mary, what is it that thou hast in thine hand?" "Nothing but a pot of sweet-smelling ointment, O God, wherewith I would anoint Thine Holy One called Jesus." And so she did; and not only did the perfume fill all the house in which they were, but the Bible-reading world has been fragrant with the memory of this blessed act of love, which has ever since been spoken of "for a memorial of her."

"Poor woman, what is that thou hast in thine hand?" "Only two mites, Lord. It is very little; but then it is all I have and I would put it into Thy treasury." And so she did; and the story of her generous giving has ever since wrought like a charm in prompting others to give to the Lord.

"What is that thou hast in thine hand, Dorcas?" "Only a needle, Lord." "Take it, and use it for Me." And so she did; and not only were the suffering poor of Joppa warmly clad, but, inspired by her loving life, Christian sewing women continue their benign mission to the poor throughout the world.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title 11; Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

The woman's Auxiliary closed its season of good work and profitable influence by shipping 173 new garments supplemented by some splendid second-hand clothing and 37 yards of new material to the Blue Ridge Industrial School under the care of Rev. George P. Mayo. Through the kindness of Mr. Morrison, the Pennsylvania R. R. carried it through free of freight charges.

Previous to packing the above made and collected articles, the Women's Auxiliary gave a tea in the Parish House to which all the congregation were invited. The room was decorated with the articles made and the Mothers' Meeting, the Girls' Friendly and the Junior Auxiliary were asked to have a part in the exhibition of their work of the past season.

Tea was served during the afternoon Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Woodroffe, presiding over the bubbling and cheery urns.

A cake and candy table—the contents of which were donated—realized quite a neat little sum and altogether it proved a very pleasant and social occasion.

We are looking forward to a fine season next year with our members largely augmented.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club held its annual meeting March 27th, at the Church House, 12th and Walnut Sts. Reports of the various Parishes were made, all moneys collected handed in, and the Secretary's report read. Philadelphia now has 81 well established branches and the work is growing splendidly. But does it not seem a pity that out of a parish the size of Christ Church, your Secretary could report but 51 contributors, and but $8.50 in money to help push along a work that not only brings help and comfort to the minds of the recipients but also strongly aids and encourages our good workers in the out of the way places. Don't forget your Secretary's name and address. It will be found among the Parish Organizations in the Christ Church Chimes. L. J.

Men's Canvass Committee

At a meeting of the Vestry some time ago, the question of Parish financing was a subject of discussion and the Vestrymen generally deplored the necessity almost every Rector in the Church is subject to, of begging from the Chancel to urge the congregation to do their duty, financially, towards carrying on the work of the Church.

It was decided to appoint a committee of men to canvass the parish systematically, to urge the extension of the duplex envelope system in order that the expenses of the parish may be met regularly and amply and also that our apportionment to the Board of Missions may be met; all this without the necessity of an unusual effort at Easter time to meet a deficit.

It is easy to see how simple a matter it may be made to meet our apportionment to the Board of Missions when we realize that an average of six cents for Missions each Sunday from each communicant will result in our giving to our Board of Missions more than they have asked of us to enable our Church to spread the Word of God to all parts of the earth as Christ has instructed us to do. It is hoped that every one, who through thoughtlessness or carelessness has not met his share of this duty in the past, will send in his pledge card and help. K. R. R.

Monthly Evening Hymn Service

It is very gratifying to note the increase of attendance at the Sunday evening services, particularly by our young people. This is as it should be. It is to be hoped that the coming warm weather will in no wise make us derelict in our Christian duty of attendance upon Divine worship. God never rests, the church never takes a vacation, the powers of evil follow the summer voyager whithersoever he may wander, and consequently we, as devout Churchmen, cannot afford to indulge in any spiritual vacation from attendance upon the means of grace. Beginning the first Sunday evening in May and continuing thereafter on the first Sunday evening of each month there will be inaugurated a service of hymn worship to take the place of the customary sermon. Old familiar hymns will be sung and appropriate remarks made from the Chancel on their spiritual significance. A marked fault with us all is to sing the hymns of the Church oftentimes with but little regard for the devotional sentiment expressed by the words. By this interesting and worshipful service of hymn worship we trust that a deeper spirit of wisdom may partake this important part of our worship.

Girls' Friendly Society

During Lent the members of our branch have enthusiastically devoted their evenings to sewing on infants clothes, which, through the Diocesan organization of the Society will be sent to the Sheltering Arms. There are seven complete outfits together with a number of additional garments. These were on exhibition at the very successful informal tea held on April 5th, in the Parish House. The annual service of all the branches in the Diocese was held at Holy Trinity Church, April 24th. Further account of this will be published later.

At the Easter social, a spoon, on the handle of which is the Girls' Friendly Society emblem, was given to Miss Morgan, the Branch Secretary.

Vestment Guild

For the last two years the Vestry has provided the money necessary for keeping up the Choir Vestments. It is given in quarterly payments of $6.25 Making $25.00 a year. This has made the work of the Vestment Guild much more comfortable than it was when we did not know how much we could have and often put off getting any new vestments until the old ones were practically falling to pieces and a large outlay was necessary at one time. Now we supply a few at a time, as our money accumulates enough to pay for them. And we hope never to be in such dire straits as three years ago, when 20 women's gowns had to be made as quickly as possible. This winter we learned that vestments imported from England, came in as church property, without duty and would cost about half as much as we would have to pay here; so we ordered three men's cassocks and one cotta, and are now waiting their arrival. We were told the other day by an English woman, they would not be finished off as well as ours, but we will judge of that when we see them. Cassocks made here cost $8.50, those imported of the same quality are $3.85. We hope they will prove satisfactory so we can continue to get them in the same way.

G. F. P.

The Junior Auxiliary held its last meeting April eighteenth, and as the work on hand had been finished, decided to close until next fall. The older girls have been making children's clothes which are to be sent to Canana, Alaska—the younger ones have been stringing beads, pasting doll-houses and scrap books.

The attendance during the past year has been more regular than in former years and a greater interest has been shown. The work accomplished has been very satisfactory. We hope to start our work again in the fall and to continue with even greater success.

Men's Meeting

A very pleasant and interesting meeting of Men was held in the Parish House on Friday evening, April 11th. An interesting address was delivered by George Wharton Pepper, Esq. and an instructive talk was given by our Vestryman, Mr. George M. Morgn. Mr. James M. Woodroffe, presided and refreshments were served by the ladies. The tables were beautifully decorated and great credit is due to the ladies who generously assisted the men in making the meeting a success. The ladies were happy to welcome on that evening, Mrs. George Wharton Pepper, who accompanied her husband from the city.

As a general invitation to attend this meeting was extended to all the men in the Parish it was greatly regretted that more men did not respond. There were fifty seven men present. These social gatherings of the men are very pleasant and interesting occasions and it is hoped that the meetings will be held more often and that there will be a larger attendance on the part of the men.

Daughters of the King

Since our last report to the Chimes, one of our beloved members, Miss M. L. Gomersall has been called home to the blessed Lord after an illness of over two years. While we mourn with her family, we know she is now free from suffering and enjoying that more abundant life which our Lord died to give.

On Tuesday, May 20th, Christ Church chapter of the Daughters of the King will entertain the Local Assembly of this Diocese.

The afternoon meeting will be held at 4.30 P. M. and will be addressed by Mrs. Albert E. Clay, and Miss Behlen-dorff, of New York, General Secretary of the Order. The sermon in the evening will be preached by the Rev. John B. Harding, of St. Mark's Church, Frankford. The members of the Parish are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Altar Guild

On Thursday evening, April third, the Altar Guild, having Mr. Arndt and Mr. Gernand as their guests, held their annual supper at the home of Mrs. Wm. Avery, on West Tulpehocken Street. Although it has been the custom of the Guild to meet socially once a year never has there been a gathering more enjoyable than the one just held. Sincere thanks are extended to Mrs. Avery for her hospitality and to those who helped so wonderfully in making the affair such a success.

With the approach of summer, members of the Guild will gradually leave Germantown for other places but, nevertheless, the work of the Guild goes on just the same and it will rest with those at home to see that the work is properly done each week.

Then comes the question of flowers—a most important question. There are no doubt many persons in the congregation who have any quantity of flowers in their gardens during these summer months and would not miss a few were they placed upon the Altar on Sunday. The Guild would gladly welcome and appreciate any contributions of flowers and earnestly desire that the members of the church will bear this fact in mind.

The following is the list of memorial flowers for the month of May:

Miss Kate Allen—May 4th
Mrs. Lapworth—May 11th
Mrs. Walter Crowder—May 25th

The Mother's Meeting

The last meeting of the year will be held at the home of Mrs. Morrison on Friday, May the ninth, to which all members are most cordially invited.

The annual report will be read at this time after which there will be music and light refreshments.

As the meetings have not been discontinued for the year; when this goes to press, it is impossible to publish a report of the years work. The statement of the receipt and expenses, attendance and other items of interest will be published in the next issue.

Don't Miss This

The S. S. C. wish to announce that on Wednesday evening, May 14th, they will present in the Parish House a play entitled "1999." This play is an exceedingly funny and clever farce by Anthony E. Wills, and we can promise all who attend an interesting evening and a good laugh.

The proceeds of this play are to go to the Parish House Improvement Fund, but the expenses owing to the necessity of procuring scenery, etc., are going to be unusually heavy, and a full house is greatly needed. You have perhaps noticed our advertisement in the advertising section of the Chimes, or you may have seen one of the circulars which we have been endeavoring to place in the hands of all members of the Parish. These only go to show how hard we are working to get a crowd. The last time we gave a play we received very generous support, but this time we want better—not so much because we deserve it, as because we need it.

So don't forget the 14th of May. We want you to come and will promise you that you won't spend any dry evening.

Guild Choir

The Lenten Season having passed the Guild Choir's work is over for this Spring. We hope in the fall to have regular rehearsals and be able to do better work in the coming winter. I am sorry all members were not at the Easter Even service for our dear Rector spoke to us in a way we can never forget.

We have six dollars in the Treasury with which to buy Hymnals.

By religion I mean the power, whatever it be, which makes a man choose what is hard rather than what is easy, what is lofty and noble rather than what is mean and selfish; that puts courage into timorous hearts, and gladness into clouded spirits; that consoles men in grief, misfortune, and disappointment; that makes them joyfully accept a heavy burden; that, in a word, uplifts men out of the dominion of material things, and sets their feet in a purer and simpler region.—A. Will Some Kind Friend or Friends Respond?

We reprint below an article from last month's Chimes. Will not some kind friend or friends respond? Read this:

There are several things greatly needed in our Parish and opportunities are afforded for some good, kind, generous persons to interest themselves and in a practical way do something for the Parish. One of the objects, enumerated below can be undertaken by some person, or group of persons; another object can be undertaken by others, and if several persons or groups of persons can be interested, all of the below mentioned objects can be accomplished this Spring. Who will lead off? Here is the list:

1st. The Church exterior walls need repenciling and the stone work in places is badly in need of repair.

Who will do it or help do it?

2d. The Church interior walls need refinishing and redecorating.

Who will do it or help do it?

3rd. Electric lights are badly needed to properly lighten the Church interior.

terior.

Who will do it or help do it?

4th. The woodwork in the Church needs to be finished to harmonize with Chancel.

Who will do it or help do it?

5th. The Sunday School room needs new seats adaptable for audience room.

Who will do it or help do it?

6th. The interior of the Rectory is in need of repairs, papering and paint.

Who will do it or help do it?

Generously disposed persons, who desire further information will be given "the glad hand" and "a right royal welcome" if they will apply to any member of the Vestry or to the Rector.

Who will take the lead?

A college man hung pictures in his room which offended his mother's sense of propriety. She asked her son to hang up a copy of Hofmann's picture of the Face of the Boy Christ. When other college men asked for the other pictures, and why they had been taken from the walls, the collegian replied that his mother's gift and the other pictures could not hang together in the same room. So, hang up the image of Christ in our hearts and other pictures will be cast out, for they do not find place in the same heart and in the same life.

Physical versus Psychical

Every season of the year brings its joys and perils. By the time this number reaches our readers the summer season will have begun. It is the season for outdoor life when the young and old alike prepare for times of pleasure. Steamboat and railroad companies vie with one another in offering attractive inducements to beautiful and healthful resorts, not only during the six days of the week, but more and more are they encroaching upon the Sabbath. Here is a positive danger to civilization. The peril lies in our giving up so readily to the physical demands of our nature. That the body needs nurturing and recreating is not to be denied for a moment. But what about the soul, the real part of us? How much time are we devoting to nourishing and recreating the soul? Is it not true that many a man who goes out in search of bodily health is actually suffering from the effects of an impoverished soul?

Would it not be well for us during the coming summer months to endeavor to build up our psychical nature as well as our physical nature? Let us spend a portion of each day in the reading of some religious book, or better still "read, mark, learn and inwardly digest" each day certain portions of the Bible, so that our souls may receive that refreshment and strength that they so much need.

Baptism

It is an encouraging sign of the times—a sign that there is beginning to be a reaction against the loose latitudinarianism in Christian doctrine and practice that has prevailed so widely among certain types of mind within the past five years—it is an encouraging sign of the times when strong articles written by laymen are appearing from time to time emphasizing certain cardinal principles of the faith. Among other valuable contributions written by distinguished laymen the Rector has received a little brochure on "Baptism." The writer, a layman of Virginia, deplores the tendency of the times to neglect or postpone this Sacrament and then adds:

"Holding baptism to be only a badge or uniform in which to fight for Christ as a soldier wears his uniform; and as the uniform does not make the soldier, neither does baptism make the Christian; holding it to be only an initiatory rite into their communions and not essential to salvation, they do not consider it necessary to administer it to children, to sick people, to people in deserts and frozen countries, and that these can get along just as well without baptism, living or dying.

Our Saviour did not say this. He said baptize all nations, and we do not see how man can change this and do just as he pleases, baptizing where he pleases and refusing it where he pleases.

If baptism is not an essential feature in the plan of salvation, but only a badge or uniform to put on or leave off as one pleases, it would be difficult to understand such quotations as these:

"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark xvi:16.)

"Even baptism doth now save us." I Pet. iii. 21. "He saved us by the washing (baptism) of regeneration." (Titus iii:5.)

"Arise and be baptized and wash away your sins." (Acts xxii:16.)

"For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." (Gal. iii:27.)

"Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death, therefore we are buried with him by baptism unto death, that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." (Rom. xi:3-4.)

"Jesus answered, verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born of water and of the spirit he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God." (John iii:5.)

"John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins." (Mark i:4 and Luke iii:3.)

And the very first sermon that was ever preached was by St. Peter on the day of Pentecost in which his doctrine was:

"Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ for the remission of sins." (Acts ii:38.)

"Now in all courtesy, in all charity, pray tell us why St. Peter should preach baptism for the remission of sins? St. Peter says it was, and he preached it too, immediately after having spent forty days with Jesus listening to the things pertaining to the Kingdom of Heaven.

Who dares say that baptism is not for the remission of sins when St. Peter and the Bible say it is?

It does not matter how much individuals and Christian denominations which deny baptism to infants, may think and feel that baptism is not necessary—no matter how objectionable baptismal regeneration may seem to them—the Bible says Baptism is for the remission of sins. This is not our construction of it. It is the plain letter of the Bible that says so. It is just as much harm to take from the Bible as it is to add to it, and if baptism is for the remission of sins it occupies a far higher place in the plan of salvation than simply a badge or uniform which may be received or rejected as one may please.

If these passages above quoted do not mean that baptism is a saving Sacrament, then what do they mean? And let me ask you seriously and solemnly and may you so regard the question: If these do mean that our Saviour did institute this Sacrament to have a real saving part in His plan of Salvation, what is to become of those who are responsible for those who are not brought to baptism. * * * "Would it not be safer, to say the least, to act on the theory, that it is essential, because then we would have both chances; if it is essential we would have done our duty. If it is not essential we have certainly done no harm."

The above words from the pen of a laymen—a distinguished lawyer—carry with them weight and conviction and indicate that there is an awakening on the part of the intelligent laity of our land; a reaction against the indifference to religious ordinances and Sacraments which has threatened the very foundation of our faith.

Ex-President Taft put a sermon in a sentence at a recent Missionary meeting when he said: "I know a great many people opposed to foreign missions, in fact, who religiously, if you can use the word, refuse to contribute to them. I confess that there was a time when I was enjoying a smug provincialism and had some of these feelings, but they left me when I went to the Orient. I never realized the immense importance of foreign missions until that time." The reason so many men in the churches are not interested in missions, and even religiously, oppose them is because of their narrow, artificial horizon. They know the points of their creed, but not the thirty-two points of the compass. Where there is no vision the people perish.

The average church-member will never realize the immense importance of foreign missions until he catches the vision of the Orient. Japan, Korea, China, India, Egypt, must cease to be mere geographical terms in the preacher's vocabulary, and be made to stand out vividly as a vision of God and a call for service. The best collect for the church that is suffering from smug provincialism is the one used by the men by the wayside at Jericho, "Lord, that our eyes might be opened." Mr. Taft is right. "We have got to wake this country up to the fact that there are other people in the world besides us, people who have been thrust upon us and who need our time, money and help. You can not study the nations, but you will realize that Christianity is the hope of modern civilization for Christianity is the true democracy." The church is universal and in her there is no place for provincialism. Jesus Christ is the light of the world.

The Timely Word

How often after a play, a sermon, a concert that has stirred us we feel the impulse to make known to actor, preacher or musician what it has meant to us! Yet how often the impulse perishes as the warm glow of the instant's inspiration wanes—like a rill of water that runs aimlessly to waste in desert sands and is lost.

It is so easy to let the word of enthusiastic appreciation remain unspoken—perhaps by a trivial accident, such as the absence of pen and ink to serve our inclination. But had we written, had we said the word, it might have been just the lift that was needed toward the light and the air and life itself for a soul that struggled.

We think the eminent men and women so strongly poised, so independently secure, so braced and fortified that they need no limping phrase of ours to bring them succor; but it is not so. Just because most people do not think—or else think and then forget—the one who gives generous rein to the feeling aroused, in the presence of the one who has aroused it, is a comfort and reinforcement more than is realized except by the tired, grateful heart that is comforted. "Encouragement" literally means putting a heart in a person. That is what the timely letter or spoken words may do.

A young man whom Fate laid by and compelled to take a protracted rest-cure was frankly discouraged. The busy life that eddied and seethed about him seemed to have no use, no place for him. The future was as black as the bottom of a well. He cried out against the destiny that—at the golden culmination of promise—seemed to have relegated him among the failures and the unfit. Then there came a friendly, human, sympathizing letter. It was from an old man, a good man, a man of experience, fit to be an apostle and a philosopher. It reminded him of the fine saying of Henry Vaughan, "I climb when I lie down," and bade him to be the stronger, like Antaeus, for the contact with the earth. It concluded with the prayer that all his dreams with patience and waiting might come true. It gave him strength and the will to proceed, and comforted the chafing rebellious spirit. He recovered and went back to his work again after the complete restoration to health and happiness.

Any one may leave unsaid the timely word. Blessed is that man or woman who says it.

Several persons in the Parish have expressed their regret that they did not decide to be confirmed in the last class and have expressed their desire to receive instruction on confirmation and the teachings of the Church at an early date next fall. The Rector will, therefore, begin his course of instructions on Confirmation earlier than usual, during the coming year, and he cordially invites all who are thinking on this important subject to give their names to him as soon as possible.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the

Choir Notes

On Thursday evening May 8th, the members of the choir were delightfully entertained in the Parish House by Vestryman Col. Sheldon Potter. The evening was devoted to instrumental and vocal music and an orchestra was present to allure the guests to "trip the light fantastic toe." Colonel Potter's recitations were greatly enjoyed and after refreshment, served by Mrs. Potter, who acted as hostess of the evening, the members departed, unanimous in their expression of appreciation of Colonel Potter's kindness in giving us such a pleasant evening.

The choir has been augmented by several new members and we wish to express our gratitude to those who have acted in behalf of the choir in creating a renewed interest. We hope that this will be a Trinitytide of success.

Christ Church Choir in Prison

The choir of our Church will conduct the monthly service of song in the Eastern Penitentiary on the first Sunday afternoon in July. There are thousands of prisoners confined in this place. The service will be held in the main corridor. Who knows what tender memories may be awakened in the minds of some one that afternoon? Who knows but some heart may be touched, some soul may be turned to God by the hearing of these sacred hymns?

May God's Holy Spirit be with our choir and inspire their song on that Sunday afternoon!

Women's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary closed its work for the season some two months ago but we now have before us the preparation of a great piece of work for the fall, and as all women in the Parish are members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, it therefore becomes really a continuation of the work of the Women's Auxiliary.

A preliminary meeting to lay plans for a sale and supper in the early fall to raise money for several urgent needs in the Parish was held Thursday afternoon in the Parish House. The affair will be conducted along very unique lines and it is hoped to make it the most successful undertaking of the Parish, but this can only be done by the combined interest and efforts of each individual man, woman and child in the Church; so be ready when you are approached to take hold and each one give it a hard push.

Japanese to Speak

The Rev. P. C. Daito in charge of St. John's Church, Tokyo, Japan will speak in Christ Church, on Sunday evening June 29th. St. John's Church is situated in the very center of the great Buddhist locality of Tokyo and the Rev. Mr. Daito, a native Japanese, is carrying the light of Christian faith and worship into the hearts of the enemy's camp.

Mr. Daito will tell of his interesting work in this region.

A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend this service.

Guild Choir

We were very much pleased to have the music on the evening of May 20th, when the Daughters of the King held their meeting.

Our work for the winter is over. Now we are looking forward with pleasure to our rehearsals in the Autumn, and will be glad to welcome some new members. Several in the regular choir have kindly helped us this winter, for which we are very grateful.
M. L. M.

Vestment Guild

The Vestment Guild at its last meeting planned to make new collars for the choir during the summer. The linen has been purchased and some of the ladies are to cut them out and then they will be distributed among the members of the Guild to make.

The Guild has recently purchased three new cassocks for the men's choir which they imported finding this a most advantageous method over either making them or purchasing them here.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

Here is a serious call to every spiritually minded Churchman in the Parish. It is a call "to arms," a call to the service of the Master, a call to read decipleship, a call to definite Christian work. Surely no one thinks for a moment that by simply attending divine worship, important as that may be and is, we have thereby fulfilled our full measure of service to God. The Christian life means more than that, much more indeed. The services of the Church are intended not only to be a means of worship but to afford us the inspiration and to supply us with divine grace to go out into the world to carry the message of the Christ to others. The Word tells us that St. Andrew, finding the Messiah, was not content to enjoy his salvation alone. He must needs share his blessing with another and straightway he brings his brother Simon to the Saviour. So likewise did St. Philip with St. Nathaniel. And so has it ever been with the faithful deciples of the Lord. The joy of active service, of personal work, of real decipleship, is the greatest blessing of the Christian life. Our worship in the Church is one aspect of our faith; personal service in the vineyard is the other, and these two make up the sum total of our "reasonable service." We are all called to be "fishers of men," we are all men possessing talents, all laborers in the vineyard, all commissioned disciples of Christ with a mission and message to every soul with whom we come in touch. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew offers the opportunity of direct personal work for the Master to every seriously minded Christian who has caught the true vision of service and has heard the Saviour's "Follow Me." Our local Chapter needs to be invigorated. It is not dead. It is only inert. It needs perhaps your consecrated life, brother Churchman, to make it energize with spiritual activity for the extension of Christ's kingdom in our Parish. Will you not heed the call? H. W. G.

Through the interest and generosity of a few friends in Christ Church, who realize the need of better lighting of the Church, money has been subscribed to install a new system of electric lights throughout the Church. It is expected that the work will be completed in June so that the evening services, during the summer months will be made bright and cheerful.

The parishioners owe a debt of gratitude to these generous friends who have kindly subscribed for this much needed improvement in the Church.

Another friend has volunteered to have the exterior of the church repointed. This work has now been about completed and adds, not only to the appearance of the church, but contributes to the preservation of the walls. The tower of the church is still greatly in need of repointing and this work awaits the generous offer of some other kind "friend." Who will volunteer to have it done? Further information can be had from Mr. Keith R. Rodney, chairman of the Property Committee of the Vestry.

As the weather was fine the last meeting of the year on Friday, May the ninth was well attended. It was a great pleasure to have with us on that occasion both Mr. and Mrs. Arndt who greatly assisted in making the afternoon a success. Mrs. Dayton and Mr. Gernand were not able to be with us much to the regret of every one.

There was a very pleasant surprise for the one in charge of the work for the past two years. The Mothers gave a very beautiful and appropriate picture of Ruth and Naomi to the hostess. It will always be a pleasant reminder of the many pleasant afternoons spent together in the Parish House.

The Mothers' Meeting will have charge of the booth for useful articles for the household, in the Fair which is to be held in the Autumn. We shall have for sale aprons, dish and roller towels, dusters and dust caps and any number of other practical articles and shall expect liberal patronage from our many friends. A. M. M.

Bazaar Next Fall

The ladies of the Parish propose to give a large bazaar or fair in the fall which promises to be one of the most interesting and attractive gatherings that have been held in the Parish. It is to be called "A Bazaar of the National Holidays."

The tables or booths will represent the different holidays of the year and will be decorated and stocked with useful and fancy articles appropriate to the various days. The bazaar will be held on two successive days, a parish supper will be served on each day and, in addition, an entertainment will be held on each evening. The occasion will be so varied in character that it will interest all persons in the Parish both old and young.

Each Parochial Society has been assigned some special feature of the fair and the members will all assist in making their special "feature" attractive and popular.

These committees invite, also, all members of the Parish and their friends to co-operate with them in making this Bazaar a great success. Useful and fancy articles are solicited from everyone and it is hoped that, during the summer months all the women in the Parish will work to contribute as much as possible toward this object.

It is desired that everyone should be interested and a cordial welcome is extended to all. The Bazaar will be given the forepart of next November; the definite dates will be announced later. Contributions may be sent in the fall to any member of the Committee, or to the General Chairman. Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, Cliveden Ave. and Jefferson Street.

The following are the Committees in charge of the various "National Holidays":

"Christmas"—The Women's Auxiliary. Chairwoman, Mrs. George T. Morgan.

"New Year's Day."—Daughters of the King. Chairwoman, Mrs. Charles Henry Arndt.

"Washington and Lincoln's Birthday,"—Sunday School. Chairwoman, Mrs. Rittenhouse Reaver.

"Memorial Day"—Auxiliary Christ Church Club. Chairwoman, Miss In-singer.

"Independence Day"—Choir and Vestment Guild. Chairwoman, Mrs. Topliffe Johnson

"Labor Day"—Mothers' Meeting and Bible Class. Chairwoman, Mrs. J. I. Morrison.

"Thanksgiving Day"—Altar Guild. Chairwoman, Mrs. Henry H. Marot.

"Hallow E'en"—Girls Friendly Society. Chairwoman, Miss Phyllis Morgan.

The Chairwomen of any of the above Committees will be pleased to receive the names of persons willing to assist in the Bazaar. Let everyone prepare for it! Let everyone co-operate! Let everyone be present! Remember the date; the forepart of November, the days and dates to be announced in the fall.

Dead Timber

In our Churches there are men and women who are well equipped for service, but they are not rendering it. They possess natural gifts and fine qualities which attract our attention. We expect to see them giving generously of their time and talents to God's work, but they hold aloof. A canker is causing the havoc. Because of some real or supposed slight, or perhaps because of some secret sin, they have decided to withhold hands and heart. And the work lags. Instead of partaking of the rich privilege of sharing in God's plan for bettering this world, they have become a dead weight and a positive hindrance.—Zion's Herald.

Summer Services

Services in Christ Church during the summer months will be at the usual hours, namely, Holy Communion every Sunday at 7.30 A. M. Morning service and sermon at 11 o'clock and evening service at 7.45 o'clock. The eleven o'clock service will be shortened and will consist of morning prayer only, together with sermon, except on the first Sunday in the month when there will be celebration of the Holy Communion and Sermon. The evening service will consist of shortened form of Evening Prayer and Sermon. The series of "Hymn Services," will be continued throughout the summer on the first Sunday evening in each month. Old familiar hymns will be sung and appropriate remarks will be made from the Chancel on their spiritual significance.

The Holy Communion will be celebrated on Holy Days at the usual hour, 9.30 A. M.

The Friday afternoon evening prayer will be discontinued during July and August. The Sunday School will continue to meet throughout the summer beginning promptly at ten o'clock instead of at 9.30 and will consist of a bright hearty service, with lesson instruction from the desk.

The Rev. H. W. Gernand, who has been serving his Diaconate as curate in this Parish, during the past winter, was ordained to the Priesthood in Holy Trinity Church, Philadelphia, on Trinity Sunday morning, May 18th. By consent of the Vestry, the Rector has invited Mr. Gernand to continue as curate in Christ Church. Mr. Gernand is at present on his vacation but is expected to return by the first Sunday in July and will have charge of the Parish during the Rector's absence. Any calls for his services during the summer will receive prompt attention if word is left at his home, 37 West Pomona Street, or at the Rectory.

Everyone should bear in mind the Bazaar, announced in another column of this issue to be given this next fall. Fancy and useful articles may be made during the summer months and will be most acceptable to the ladies in charge. Let everyone do something.

Poor Children Outing Fund

An offering will be taken in Christ Church on Sunday, June 22nd, for the poor children's outing fund. As most of our people know, this fund is for the purpose of sending poor children—and sometimes their tired mother's with them, into the country for a week during the hot summer months. There can be no more worthy charity than this.

During the past seven years the Rector has made it his annual custom to secure from the "City Mission," "the Country Week Association," and "the Bedford Street Mission" the names of the poorest and most deserving children.

He has thus personally visited the families of these children in their so-called "homes" and has learned, not only of their physical and temporal needs, but something, also, of their moral and spiritual poverty. He has thus been enabled, through those who have generously contributed toward this object, to minister both to the souls and as well as to the bodies of God's worthy poor.

It is generally supposed that suffering among the poor is less in summer than in winter. Such is not the case, however, and statistics, both vital and social, show that although there is no demand for fuel and very little for clothing and food; nevertheless, the intense heat is so cruelly debilitating upon those who are compelled to live in courts and alleys that our hospitals, dispensaries and police stations are taxed to their utmost to provide relief for their suffering. The mortality among the children of the poor alone during the months of July and August is appalling. Were it not for the great efforts put forth by such institutions as the City Mission and other similar Associations to relieve the poor by providing ice, pure milk for babies and country outings for little children and tired mothers, the suffering and the death rate would be largely increased.

All who wish to contribute to this worthy charity of the Poor Children's Outing Fund are invited to place their offerings on the plate in Christ Church on Sunday, June 22nd, or contributions may be sent to the Accounting Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 West Upsal Street, Germantown.

A Word to Envelope Subscribers

A year ago your Accounting Warden called your attention to the necessity of making provisions for your envelopes during your absence through the summer months, at which period the plate collections and envelopes show a decided falling off, but salaries and other necessary expenses go on as usual.

He is glad to state that the summer months of 1912 showed a decided improvement in this respect, and he earnestly hopes that you do as well, if not better, the present summer.

One of our thoughtful parishioners sent a check for envelopes covering the three summer months, June, July and August, also check for pew rent.

It is well to remember that our only source of income is pew rent, envelopes and plate collections, and if these are paid promptly your Accounting Warden can meet all obligations without borrowing funds and paying interest on the same.

Young Men's Bible

Adjournment until the first Sunday in September. This does not mean disorganization, however. Far from it. The Y. M. B. C. has become a permanent and integral part of Christ Church Sunday School. It was considered wise to hold no regular sessions during the warm summer months. With the coming of the fall, we hope for a fresh impetus, new inspiration, deeper consecration, greater loyalty, and a larger work in every way. Our record for the past year, while not reaching the ideal which we had set, is nevertheless very encouraging. With a total enrollment of 18 and a teaching staff of 3, a fairly good attendance and general interest was maintained throughout. One of our young men became a teacher in the Intermediate School and two were confirmed. We held one very successful social evening in which sports and a "feed" were safely indulged, 30 young men being present. With such a splendid start as this, we look forward with much hope toward our reunion in the fall believing that God's blessing which has attended us thus far will abide with us in even greater fulness. H. W. G.

Who Are Sometimes the Chief Offenders

A great many efforts are made in these days to learn why it is that some churches are so poorly attended. We hear something said about the lack of drawing power in the sermons preached. "We do not have eloquent sermons," say some. Then it is charged upon the choirs. "The music is not good enough." Frequently it is suggested, "If we could only have social gatherings, entertainments, and the like, we could bring strangers in." Not often, however, are we told that the chief offenders, the people who really are doing most to keep the congregations small, are irregular in their own attendance. They set a bad example for those from whom not so much can be expected. Someone said recently, in speaking of a service in a certain church, "Only three vestrymen were present, and quite a number of prominent families were not even represented."

That service would have seemed a much more important matter to that community if those who had virtually pledged themselves to labor for the interests of the parish had been there. "Why should we go if such people stay away?" is the question too often asked.

A very practical and effectual way of making the attendance better in your parish church is to go regularly yourself. "Why A, B and C go whenever they can. There must be something worth while." This is how people look at the matter.

Vestryman Elected

At the last regular meeting of the Vestry, held on Tuesday evening, June 3rd, Mr. J. I. Morrison was elected a vestryman of Christ Church to fill the place of Mr. Charles Heyer, who has removed from the city.

Found

A beautifully bound prayer book and Hymnal was found in the Church. The owner can have same by applying to the Verger.

Daughters of the King

Christ Church Chapter, Daughters of the King, entertained the Local Assembly of the Diocese on Tuesday, May 20th. In the absence of Mr. Arndt the opening service was conducted by Mr. Gernand, who also made a pleasing address of welcome to the visitors. After the regular business Miss Behlendorf, General Secretary of the order gave a talk on the Chamber of Peace, showing the great spiritual gain to be had by a daily casting away of all earthly concerns and going apart for a few moments, to commune with God.

Mrs. A. E. Clay, of the Church of the Redemption, Philadelphia, gave a very interesting talk on prayer.

At 6.30 we had supper in the Gymnasium, after which we had service in the Church with the Rev. Mr. Arndt, Mr. Gernand, Mr. Williams, Rev. A. Brock, of Wissahickon, in the Chancel with a sermon by Dr. John Harding, of St. Mark's Church, Frankford.

There were three new members admitted to Christ Church Chapter.

We thank Miss Morgan and the girls of the Friendly and all others who so kindly helped serve supper.

Another Play

On Wednesday evening, June 25th, the S. S. C. will give an entertainment in the Parish House. The full program of this evening has not been arranged at this writing, but it will consist of two or three short plays, or sketches, and several musical numbers.

Owing to the short space of time in which this entertainment has been gotten up, no tickets have been issued and admission will be gained through a silver offering at the door.

We hope that all our friends will try to be with us on the night of the 25th.

Sunday School

Beginning with Sunday, June 29, the Summer arrangement will become effective for our Sunday School. As usual, the entire session will be shortened to one hour, starting 9.45 and closing 10.45.

Mr. Morgan plans to have a variety of Leaders and also a pleasing variation in each of the services and expects the active co-operation of all the "stay-at-homes."

The first Sunday, June 29th, being so close to our National Holiday, July 4th will be suitably observed and it is hoped Col. Potter will lead and make the address.

The School will picnic this year at Willow Grove, Wednesday, July 9th. We will gather at the Parish House, 9.30 A. M., as it is our intention to start for the Grove by 10 o'clock. The School provides transportation for all its members and we anticipate an encouraging attendance. Teachers particularly are requested to reserve the date and assist by their presence.

The absence of Teachers has been conspicuous on former occasions. Arrangements are being completed for the customary outing of the Primary members and their mothers and will be announced fully by Miss Morrison later.

Preparation for a resumption of our old time "Socials," during the coming Fall and Winter, will be completed and announcement will be made later.

If those who feel an interest in our School and really desire it to succeed—(of course that means all our Parishioners)—will only manifest that interest by visiting us and offering service as teachers and officers, or if needs be, as members only, the outlook for the future, for both School and Church, cannot fail to prove encouraging.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club held its annual meeting in its room at the Church House on Thursday, May the 28th, at 10.30 A. M.

Bishop Rhinelander, presiding. Here let me say that this is one of the chief features of our annual meeting, and a great support to our work to feel we have the personal interest of the head of the Church in our great Missionary work.

The Bishop gave us a most interesting little talk on his work along our lines in fact in the Church Periodical Club, during his days at Cambridge, and he said without hesitation that our Society has the advantage over any other organization in the Church, in that it can find its way into places and remain there, when no other Society can; in short it becomes the entering wedge for the other work.

After the talks we had an open conference in which advice was given and suggestions made, all of which sent the Librarians to their respective Parishes with a renewed stimulus to place our work in a stronger and a better light before not only our parishioners but our clergy.

Hoping that you will remember the Church Periodical Club in your prayers as well as in your individual ability to help and spread the news of its work wherever you can especially during your summer travels.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS { 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS
{ 6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " }

The Rector returned from his vacation the first week in September greatly benefitted in health by his summer's rest. He made every effort to return from Maine on the ill-fated Bar Harbor Express, which was wrecked with fearful loss of precious lives. His plans and efforts to come by this train were mysteriously thwarted, greatly to his disappointment at that time, as he was most anxious to return to Germantown to officiate at the funeral and to pay a last tribute to the memory of our faithful Vestryman, Mr. Charles W. Schwartz, whom every one in Christ Church Parish loved, honored and respected. Unable to get this train he was compelled to return from Portland to New York by boat and being delayed by fog, arrived in Philadelphia too late for the funeral. It was with profound sorrow for the afflicted that he read in the papers the next morning an account of the awful accident and with gratitude to God that he had been so mysteriously hindered in getting the train he tried so hard to take. It was only one more of many instances in his life, which re-emphasized the conviction that what we want the most is not always what we ought to have. Would that, in the midst of our disappointments in life, we always could possess our souls in sure confidence and faith in the goodness of God and fully believe what

He teaches in His Holy Word, "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thought."

Now that vacation days are ended the Rector hopes to see our parishioners in their accustomed places in the House of God and trusts that they all have returned home with higher ideals and strong purposes to enter unselfishly and enthusiastically into some form of Church work, with a desire to further, to the full extent of their ability, the Kingdom of Christ on earth. There is one thing that every one can do; and that is to be a home missionary, to influence other persons in your neighborhood in your Church, to invite them to the services of Christ Church and make them feel at home when you see them there. If every member of this Parish would take a personal interest this fall in getting some other person to attend the services and to identify himself with this Parish how widely the influence of this Church would be extended in this Community. Let every member resolve to do, at least, this much during the coming year. Let the clergy know the names and addresses of new comers in the neighborhood. Interest yourself enough in their welfare and in the welfare of your Church to call on them and welcome them to the services.

By your example and by your work and by your prayers resolve this year to follow St. James' command: "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves." Let each one in this Parish bear in mind and seek to emulate the example of the people of old in rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem: "So built we the wall and all the wall was joined together, for the people had a mind to work."

Runagates

The Rector wishes to speak at length on a subject of great importance which has been on his heart for many months. He addresses himself to a large class of people who need to be told some facts plainly, positively and kindly. This he will do. He might preach a sermon on this subject, but if he were to do so, the people whom he most wishes to reach would not be present and his words would never reach their ears. He, therefore, takes this means of addressing a class of people in this community whose interests he has deeply at heart and whom he hopes his words will reach and by God's grace may arouse to better things.

In one of the Psalms we read "He letteth the runagates continue in scarceness." If we consult the Century dictionary anent the word "runagate" we find that the word holds three shades or gradation of meaning. It means, first, "one who runs-about—a sort of idle, restless, vagrant, homeless creature, continually gadding around, without any definite idea whither he is going or what he is seeking."

In religion the run-a-bout has the quality of runagateness, in that his interest in religion never goes beyond regarding it as a sort of diversion. He has no church home; he rarely attends a religious service twice in one parish; his presence at one church rather than another is determined by the news that in a certain church the organ has been enlarged, or a new candelabrum has been set up, or a new art window has been inserted, or a special sermon is to be preached before the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Post, or some other equally worthy and interesting organization. In short he is not identified with any parish. He contributes neither by his personal presence nor in any other way to the maintenance of any particular church, and gets in return for his religious vagrancy, only a growing habit of runagateness, which is quite proof against any spiritual uplift. He is in religion for the diversion it offers. I am persuaded from a wide observation, that if one's Christian life is to be vital, one must eliminate from it religious vagrancy and focus his effort and influence in the fellowship of some particular parish. Spiritual impoverishment is the sure and dire reward of homelessness in our Christian life. Of course, homelessness in religion is not to be confounded with an occasional attendance on services other than those held in one's parish. What is meant is that the nomadic habit makes for spiritual emasculation and depletes the virility and hampers the efficiency of all parochial effort.

There is another shade of gradation of meaning in the word runagate. A runagate, says the Century dictionary, is one who runs-a-way. The run-a-bout and the run-a-way are by no means the same. In religion, the run-a-bout spells religious vagrancy; the run-a-way signifies the shirker. This is a much darker shade of runagateness than is a mere perambulating religiousness. It means recreancy to the duties and obligations of plighted loyalty to God and His church. The run-a-ways are not drifting aimlessly about from one parish to another; they are, let it be said to their credit, disposed to choose a church home and dwell in it, but they do not develop, as they should, a strong sense of personal responsibility in bearing its burdens and coming up, as the old Scriptures express it, "to the help of the Lord against the mighty." They are all too much at ease in Zion. They are far from disloyalty, but they have never realized that sense of answerability for the wealth and efficiency of the church which their Christian calling imposes upon them. The runaway, as differentiated from the runabout, represents that type of religiosity which always, in the presence of some call to duty or generosity, is asking itself, not "How much can I do to help forward the lagging cause of Christ and the bettered efficiency of His Church" but "How little can I do without quite falling into the company of those who are wholly indifferent to the progress of the kingdom of God."

This type of runagateness is not without some sense of personal responsibility for the advancement of Christ's kingdom, but it endeavors to salve and quiet that sense of responsibility by doing just the very least that is compatible with its retention as a feeble, flickering flame. It holds in respect, and even in admiration a hard-working rector, and will sometimes speak words of commiseration that he is suffered to carry parochial anxieties in addition to his manifold duties as preacher and pastor; but this type commonly allows its interest to find its chief expression in words. It is in apparent accord with the missionary endeavor of the Church, but when the parish apportionment is being counted up, it does not figure in it large enough to be discoverable by the eye unaided by the microscope. It believes, in a way, in the Church's social service, but it does not believe in personal identification with any of the social services the Church is doing.

Now what will result to us if we run away from the burdens and obligations which are imposed upon us? There can be but one result. If we sow to recreancy to plighted loyalty and duty to the kingdom of God, we shall reap, as did the runagates of old time, spiritual poverty.

There is a striking passage in the Old Testament that runs: "He gave them their hearts' desire, but he sent withal leanness into their souls." Material blessings may still dower the unfaithful, but spiritual blessings, by a law as uniform and invariable as that which holds the planet in its march about the sun, will be withered—lean-ness of soul. Spiritual poverty must follow on runawayness from the tasks, the duties, the cross of the Christian life. There are many foes to the advance of the kingdom of God in this world. Many of them are without, but the foes without are not as inseparable and deadly as the foes within, and among the foes within, the most baneful, perhaps, is the shirker! I am sure from both observation and experience that a homeless, vagrant, runabout Christianity almost never eventuates in Christian character, and what is more, that it tends to pass into recreancy to the duties of the plighted loyalty and service, and then on, if not arrested by the grace of God, into religious apostasy and desertion. We have with us the run-a-bouts—religious vagrants all. We have the run-a-ways—shirkers of duties and obligations. We have the renegates, apostates and deserters. And yet God's mercy is as wide as the sea. He will gather the solitary vagrant into his family—if the vagrant will allow Him to do so. He will lead home the prisoner in captivity to runawayness from godly duty and service, if they will suffer Him to do so, and He will even welcome home the outright deserter, but for the incorrigible runagates He will let them continue in scarceness—spiritual poverty, a devitalized Christian life, a stunted and starved soul, are the heritage of those that make light of the claims of the kingdom of God.

Memorial Altar Flowers

The Altar Society, have charge of placing on the Altar the flowers given by members of the Parish in memory of their departed friends. This beautiful custom of remembering at the altar the dear ones who rest in Paradise has been observed in this Parish for many years and any in the Parish who wish to have the names of their friends on this "Memorial List" are invited to consult with the Rector and he will be pleased to assign them a Sunday nearest to the anniversary of the marriage, or birth, or death of their "Blessed Dead." After the Sunday service the flowers are sent to the sick in the Parish or to Hospitals.

That the congregation may know, each Sunday, in whose memory the flowers are and may unite with the friends of the departed in their prayers and in their Communion, a list of the names will be published from month to month in the "Chimes."

On these "days of remembrance" it will be sweet to come to God's House and in His presence to recall the loving memory of dear ones whom we have "loved long since and lost awhile;" to kneel before the altar and to feel their nearness and to unite with them and all God's Saints in one common worship—"knit together in one Communion and Fellowship in the Mystical Body of Christ our Lord."

Without Christ, without God, these oft recurring anniversaries of our dear departed, bring with them sadness and a pain of heart; but these days of sadness and loneliness will be turned into joy, not in trying to forget, but in sweet remembrance of the Blessed Dead, in Holy Communion with Christ in whose loving Presence they now are and we, and who is still their Saviour and ours.

A Pressing Need

The Rector wishes to call attention of the members of the congregation of the pressing need of a fund in this Parish for the relief of the poor and the many worthy cases of charity which he, as Rector of the Parish, is constantly being called upon to meet.

For the many demands that are made upon him he has, at his disposal, the insignificant sum of twenty-five dollars a year, which is the interest on a legacy left to the Parish many years ago by Mr. Phineas Hamm, a former vestryman, together with the alms what are given at the Holy Communion. This amount is wholly inadequate for the Rector to meet the needs of many most worthy persons who make their appeal to him, as their friend and Rector, sometimes in cases of sickness, sometimes in their sorrow, sometimes when wives and mother have been deserted and left friendless, and penniless, with little children to support. The Rector can give many sad instances of such cases and in order to relieve these needs, he is often compelled to go about from house to house in the Parish, asking for alms, or when unsuccessful in this method, to borrow money on his personal security, at the bank and pay with interest when he can.

No worthy person in this Parish, known to the Rector to be in distress, will ever be allowed to want. He desires this to be known to every one and wants no one in this Parish, who may be at any time in trouble to hesitate to come to him and he will be their friend. This is what he is in the ministry for and what the people under his care have a right to expect of him. But it would seem that he might also in turn, reasonably look to his people to share with him in this Christian responsibility and privilege and, at each Communion service, generously to remember God's worthy poor and the blessedness of helping others. As the cold weather comes on, will our comfortably heated homes, and well furnished tables and healthy, warmly clad children suggest other homes shadowed by sickness and sorrow—homes where food is very scanty and fuel and clothing very scarce? Will it occur to any of our people, when some great blessing comes into their lives, or the recurrence of some anniversary, laden with sweet memories of some loved one long gone home, to send a thank-offering, a generous offering to the Rector or to the Warden to go toward an endowment fund to relieve the needy of the Parish?

Will any in this Parish, before going out of this life to meet their God, remember in their last will and testament the poor and the needy at their door and provide, that after this life their good works may follow them. There must be some in this Parish, there must be many, who, being reminded of the need, will surely "remember." It is not because people are uninterested or indifferent to doing good that so many opportunities are neglected, but because, "we forget." "But evil is wrought by want of thought,
As well as want of heart."

And it is this "forgetfulness" of the needs of Christ Church and the opportunities for good that lie at our doors—"this want of thought" that so many of us are guilty of, that the Rector would urge to be overcome and be guarded against by the people of Christ Church, whom never has he found in his ministry among them, to be guilty of "want of heart."

A Word to Fathers

The father, whose attitude toward religion preaches a continuous sermon to the boy—more powerful than the sermons delivered from any pulpit—is too apt to let his influence be at least a negative one. The boy very quickly assimilates the father's appraisal of the worth of the Christian religion. If it is not a living force of the father's life, if worship be not a duty strong enough to counteract the father's natural desire to play golf or go motoring on a pleasant Sunday, the son quickly relegates it to at least a secondary place. The father who does not practice his religion to its fullest extent, by regular participation in worship and regular communion as well as by letting it dominate his every-day life, is helping to remove the impetus of the Christian religion from the son's life. Now nobody knows better than the middle-aged father what are the temptations that are coming, if not immediately present, to his son; and it is a fact that a vital religion is the strongest force to counteract those temptations. The father who, by his example, weakens the force of the boy's religion, assumes thereby the responsibility for making it more difficult to resist temptation. Fathers need not think it strange if their sons fall into sin as a consequence.

An Example to Follow

In the obituary of an earnest churchwoman, who had been in a parish only a few months, we find this glowing tribute, which also contains a valuable suggestion to all who remove from one parish to another:—

"Mrs. ———— seemed to find her place at once, and set about her work so quietly and yet so intelligently and devotedly, asking to be put to work and doing the work she was given without the slightest complaint or hesitation.

If only all Church people could learn this lesson which she seemed to have mastered, that every parish Church is your Father's House and the moment you enter it, you set to work on your Father's business as a matter of course.

I am very grateful that I had this short and pleasant association with her. She was a real encouragement and inspiration to me in my work and in a short time made a place for herself in the Parish life."—The Chronicle

The continuance of the publication of the "Chimes" during the coming year will depend upon whether sufficient money is forth coming to pay expenses. One hundred and fifteen dollars will be required and this amount must be met by subscriptions and by private contributions.

Will not every person in the congregation remember to send in a subscription of fifty cents at once?

The Rector will feel greatly relieved of a financial responsibility if some good friends in the Parish will come forward and guarantee that whatever arrears may be after all subscriptions are in, will be forthcoming. The "Chimes" is a most valuable agency in extending the usefulness of the Parish and it will be a loss if publication is forced to be discontinued.

The Editorial staff during the coming year will be: Editor, the Rector; Associate Editor, Rev. H. N. Germand; Business Manager, Stanley V. Wilcox, 82 W. Johnson St., to whom subscriptions and contributions should be sent.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

The Directory page, in which appear the names of the various Parish Organizations, has been omitted in this issue of the "Chimes," but will appear in the November issue. This page is at present undergoing a complete revision, with the view of eliminating from the list all societies which have become inactive. The Secretaries of all Parish Societies are requested to send at once to the Rector the names of the officers of their respective Guilds, so that a full and accurate list of the Parochial organizations may appear in the next issue of the "Chimes."

Subscriptions to the "Chimes"

All subscriptions to the "Chimes" have expired. If the publication of the "Chimes" is to be continued throughout the year, there must be at least, one hundred and fifty subscribers at fifty cents each. Seventy-five dollars is needed to be guaranteed to assure its continuance. Are there not some persons in the Parish who will assume part of this financial responsibility and guarantee a certain amount? Subscriptions and contributions are urged to be sent to Stanley V. Wilcox, 82 W. Johnson St. at once. Please do not forget!

Church Embroidery Class

A meeting will be held in the Parish House, Monday afternoon, October 6th at 3.30 o'clock, for the purpose of forming a class to do Church Embroidery. It is hoped that all members interested in this work will attend.

Fair and Supper in November

A Big Parish Fair and Supper will be held in the Parish House on Wednesday and Thursday, November 5th and 6th. The Fair is to represent the "National Holidays" and each booth will be appropriately decorated and stocked with useful and fancy articles for sale. These articles are now solicited from all, and everyone in the Parish and their friends are urged to donate as many articles as possible. It is desired to make this Fair the most pleasant and profitable in the history of the Parish and every one, it is hoped will give something toward making it a success. Let every woman in the Parish, who has not already contributed to it, begin now to make or solicit among their friends useful and fancy articles so that there will be an abundant and a choice supply.

Besides the articles on sale, appropriate for holiday gifts, there will be many other features for the enjoyment of both old and young. A substantial supper will be served by the ladies on both of these evenings in the new Recreation room of the Parish House and it is probable that an entertainment will also be given in the Assembly Room, above, on one or both evenings. It is desired to make this affair an occasion for every person in the Parish to enjoy and it is hoped that all will co-operate and will also interest others. Persons willing to assist in any way are invited to notify the chairwoman,

Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, Cliveden Avenue and Jefferson Street.

Now is the time to prepare! Remember the dates, November 5th and 6th! Everybody should co-operate! Everybody should come!

Clothing Wanted

Persons in the Parish who have clothing to spare will convey a great favor by sending the same to the Parish House. Warm outer and under-garments, and shoes for men, women or children are always in demand during the winter months and are bestowed upon worthy persons in need. Please send the same to the Parish House in care of Mrs. Morrison, Directress of the Mothers' Meeting.

The Sunday School

What can I tell you of our Sunday School? I could tell you a very great deal, if you would only come to the School, Sunday mornings at 9.30 and give me the opportunity. I could tell you that regular Fall and Winter work and sessions will begin with our Rally Day Services, September 28th, everybody invited and a spiritual service expected and promised. I could tell you the school is your concern, a very vital and important part of Our Church Organization, worthy of and demanding your active support and assistance.

This is not a plea for money—we give that ourselves—but for workers and co-operation.

We need Teachers, consecrated and "dead in earnest" workers, who appreciating our growing opportunities will give of their time and abilities—will not expect someone else to do all the hard work, nor be too easily discouraged.

The training of our young (and old) is not reserved for any one class of our Parish, it should appeal forcibly to all parents and members of every station and condition, and workers should be plentiful. If you agree with me, Christ Church Sunday School is on the eve of a new era of success.

O. N. M.

Sunday School Church Service

In order to familiarize the scholars of the Sunday School with the Prayer

Book and the worship of the Church the custom will be resumed this fall of having the school assemble in the Church, instead of in the Parish House on the first Sunday of each month. Morning Prayer will be said, after which the school will go to the Sunday School Room for the usual lessons.

Each class will be assigned a definite place in the Church and the teachers and scholars are requested to be in the pews promptly at half past nine o'clock.

The relationship between pastor and people is a reciprocal one. If the minister has a duty to his congregation, not less does the latter owe one in return.

Men's Bible Class

Sunday morning, September 14th, the Men's Bible Class began its regular fall and winter sessions. We plan this winter to study together the books of the New Testament and have now commenced with the Gospel according to S. Matthew. This class for Bible study should appeal to every man in the Parish who is not otherwise identified with the Sunday School. Surely if we love God's word and have made it our will, our comfort, and our hope, "a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path," we should employ every opportunity for increasing our knowledge and understanding of it. What more pleasant and profitable time than can be spent of a Sunday morning than to meet with a body of serious minded Christian men for an hour's searching of the Scriptures. To be cultured in the Bible is to know the secret of the triumphant life; to be armed with the "Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God" is to stand four square against all the varying eventualities of life as a conqueror. We of the Bible Class therefore are hoping for a larger enrollment and attendance this year than last and a greater interest manifested in this notable work, and desire to extend our hearty invitation, not only to men of the Parish, but also to the men of the neighborhood who are not connected with any other Church or Sunday School to come and join and participate with us in our Sunday morning Bible Conferences. 9.45 is the hour. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good." H. W. G.

Attention! Envelope Subscribers

It is of the greatest importance that all persons in arrears in their subscription through the Envelope System are urged to place the amount of their indebtedness in their envelopes at the first opportunity and put them in the alms basin or give a check to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh. Many persons have done this immediately after their return from their vacations, but there are still a large number who have not done so. A prompt attention to this duty on the part of the parishioners will, relieve the Warden of some pressing financial obligations.

Mothers' Meeting

The Mothers' Meeting will resume its regular sessions on Tuesday afternoon, October 14th and will continue to meet every Tuesday afternoon in the Parish House at half past two o'clock. The meetings last year were very well attended and a great deal of good work was done by them in the way of sewing and making useful articles for charitable purposes. The Mothers are anxious to have a large supply of articles on sale for the Fair to be given in the Parish House in November and they are working hard preparing towels, dish-rags and other useful household articles, which, they hope, the members of the congregation will assist them in providing and will also come to the Fair and will liberally patronize their sale.

The Mothers' Meeting cordially welcomes to their weekly afternoon gatherings all working women in this vicinity. A very pleasant and helpful time will be assured to all who come.

Girls Friendly

The Girls Friendly Society has not held any meetings during the summer, but we hope to resume our meetings next week and are planning some very interesting evenings

During the summer the Branch Secretary visited the G. F. S. Holiday House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania at Cape May. It is a fine old-fashioned house with large porches and a beautiful garden. The house is large enough to accommodate sixty-two girls and many come from distant parts of the State to spend their vacation there. One of our own members enjoyed a two weeks vacation in the House this summer.

The Holiday House is certainly an institution of which Pennsylvania should be proud.

The Girls Friendly Society is for girls over 14 years of age of any creed. We have in our Parish 22 members and would much like to enlarge our membership. Any girls in the Parish would be welcome at any of our meetings. These meetings are held in the Parish House at 8 o'clock Tuesday evenings. P. M.

New Electric Lights

Through the generosity of a few friends in the Parish a new system of electric lighting has been installed in the Church during the past summer and is a marked improvement. The light in the fore-nave is well distributed by brass globes suspended by brass chains from the ceiling, while the rear-nave is lighted by six reflectors placed on the hammer beams. It is hoped that these reflectors may soon be replaced by brass fixtures which will shield the light from the eyes of the congregation. On account of the great height of the roof it was a difficult problem to arrange the light so as to get the best results, but after much experimenting the Property committee have succeeded in accomplishing the best possible results. The system was installed by Mr. O. N. Middleton and reflects great credit on his skill and workmanship.

Through the generosity of the people of Christ Church about eighty children and a few mothers were sent into the country for a week or more during the past hot summer. This is the largest number that our Parish has ever sent and the blessings of this charity will have a far-reaching influence for good on the lives of those to whom it ministered. The Rector wishes to extend his hearty appreciation to all who contributed to this worthy cause.

Money

There are many people who say, "O, don't discuss money, preach about the love of God or some other topic!" But the Church needs money. It is hampered in every way for lack of it. Nearly every Vestry in the land is compelled to borrow money and pay interest because of just this popular and prevalent idea that money ought not to be mentioned in Church. If all the delinquencies in pew rents and envelope subscriptions were paid up next Sunday, not only in this parish, but every other parish, I dare say in many instances Vestrymen would be puzzled at first what to do with the money. People who are punctual and honorable about paying household accounts will let Church bills run on indefinitely, and even repudiate them in the end, for they have learned that no legal pressure is apt to be brought to collect a Church bill. It used to be the same with the Doctor's bill, but now the physician who takes a proper view of his responsibility to society and his family, collects his bill just like any other creditor collects his.

The Church ought to collect its bills in the same way exactly, for the sake of the people.

It is not to be taken that the Church does not do a vast amount of charitable or free work any more than that the physician does not do the same thing. I am called upon constantly by people who never give a cent—do not even give their presence at services—to support the Gospel, and I minister to them without hesitation, of course, and gladly. I even try not to have thoughts about them, although I am not always successful in that!

We have had dinned into our ears that the Gospel is free so long that we have come to believe that we have a right to it without paying for it. Wrong, all wrong! Even Almighty God made a sacrifice so priceless that we have no standard of value by which to estimate it save itself before men could be saved. I do not believe that He even intended that we should get something for nothing. The only concession I make to poverty is that the price to be paid for salvation is not beyond anyone's reasonable ability to pay.

I do not believe there is a Church in the land which will not admit to its privileges all who may desire them for just whatever they are able to contribute. Certainly that is the policy of this Church. That is not the question. It is a question of doing what you can which is doing what you ought. The burden is carried, always has been carried, by the few; but if I were one of the indifferent many, it would be my highest ambition to get into the class of the noble few.

Self-denial, what is it? I know a Vestry Committee which called on a man and asked him if he could not give five cents a week on each side of the duplex envelope. The man said that he had met financial reverses, which was true; that sickness and other demands had greatly increased his expenses, which was also true; therefore, he could not afford to pledge himself even for five cents a week on each side of the envelope, which was not true, although perhaps he believed it. The interesting feature of the interview was this: He was smoking a ten cent cigar at the time and he smoked at least three every day, probably more. It didn't occur to him that he could give up one cigar a day for this purpose although it did occur to the committee which waited upon him. But they were timid men and didn't say it.

—Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady.

Entertainment, October 17th

Short sketches entitled, "The First Time" and "The Dead Beat" will be given in the Parish House, Friday evening, October 17th by the pupils of the Boys Dramatic School, 1720 Chestnut Street. This will be the first of a series of plays to be given this winter for the Parish House Fund by the men of Mr. Arndt's Monday evening class. Admission 25 cents.

Musical Service

Our monthly musical service on the first Sunday evening in October will be somewhat varied in character from the hymn services held heretofore. The choir at that time will render Mozart's "Gloria" from the "Twelfth Mass," to be preceded by appropriate remarks upon the tenor of its message from the chancel.

Charles Wheeler Schwartz

On Sunday morning, August 31st, Charles Wheeler Schwartz, passed from this life to the life immortal.

Owing to the large number of our parishioners who were away from home on their Summer vacation the death of Mr. Schwartz may be news. His funeral took place in Christ Church on Tuesday, September 2nd and the interment was at South Laurel Hill.

On the return to Germantown of the members of the Vestry resolutions will be adopted and will be published in the next issue of the "Chimes." In his sermon on the first Sunday morning after his return, the Rector made reference to the death of Mr. Schwartz and his long term of faithful service as Vestryman.

For thirty-five years a vestryman of Christ Church, at one time a teacher and the Superintendent of the Sunday School for many years the Accounting Warden and our representative to both the Diocesan Convention and the Convocation of Germantown, Charles Wheeler Schwartz was always faithful to every trust, loyal to every good cause, deeply devoted to the interest of the Church and generous and self-sacrificing to every appeal for the furtherance of the religion of Christ both at home and abroad. Positive in his conviction, he was frank, open, sincere and honest. His acts of kindness and gifts of charity reached out to all classes of people and only those who were near to him—as the Rector of this Parish had the privilege of being—ever knew of his abundant generosity to the poor and his eager desire to help the needy whenever opportunity afforded. Although he was unable, through his sad affliction, to serve his Church for the past five years, so highly was he esteemed and so greatly honored was his name, that to his death, he was continued each year to be elected a member of the Vestry.

His devotion and loyalty and self-sacrificing service to the cause of Christ and His Church will ever remain a precious legacy to this Parish and will continue to be, to his family to his friends and to every member of Christ Church an inspiration to Christian character and service. Surely it may be said of him, "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Boys' Brigade

Here's some interesting news for the boys of our Parish. On Friday evening, October the 3rd, we shall organize a military brigade and all boys twelve years of age and over, and not less than 5 ft. 2 in. in height are eligible for membership. Our brigade is to be an auxiliary to the Sunday School and the Church and through its influence we hope not only to develop our own boys in Christian character and manliness but to win many others of the non-churched boys and young men of the neighborhood into our Sunday School. The object of such an organization is broad and comprehensive. It is intended to elevate the boys and young men, to bring out all the good there is in them, to promote the habits of reverence, discipline and self-respect to inculcate a spirit of Christian manliness, and to create in them a love for their country and to establish the Kingdom of Christ in their hearts. We therefore earnestly urge the parents of our Sunday School scholars to commend the Brigade to their boys. It is not, be it understood a military organization in the sense that it creates in the boy unwholesome desires for war-like practices but to the contrary it aims to show that Christ came as a messenger of peace and good will toward men. The military feature is only adopted for an end. If placing a rifle in the hands of a boy and a uniform on his back will be the means of making him a little man and saving his soul then the end for which the organization was started has been accomplished. And this is the sole object which the Boys Brigade of Christ Church will serve. Our Parish House is well equipped for this movement. We already have a splendid armory and many promises of assistance toward making the Brigade a success from the start, and we simply wish now to appeal to the parents of all the boys in the neighborhood whether they are affiliated with Christ Church in any way or not to urge their boys to enroll in this organization for their own good. Any boy of good moral character will be cordially welcomed into our ranks. Definite announcements will be made later in the Sunday School and Church.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

A preliminary meeting of our Brotherhood Chapter is to be held on Friday evening, September the 26th, in which plans for an extensive campaign among the men of this community are to be proposed and discussed. The field all about us is truly white unto the harvest and this should be a clear sounding call to the laborers to begin the reaping. The Brotherhood will begin its work this fall with an increase in membership, and we also trust and believe with new inspiration and fresh zeal. To bring men under the influence of the Church ought to strike a responsive cord in every Christian heart and the Brotherhood is determined to live up to this high ideal of service. The National Convention is to convene in New York City from October 1 to 5, simultaneously with the General Convention of the Church and a number of our brothers are scheduled to attend its sessions. Let us hope and pray that this great gathering of devoted Churchmen may vitalize the whole Brotherhood movement with renewed impetus for spreading Christ's Kingdom among men, and also that the glowing opportunities for effective service which we have right here in our own neighborhood may inspire each brotherhood man of our local chapter to fully do his part in leading those who know not God into the marvelous light and liberty of Christ's salvation.

All Saints' Day

The important teaching which the Church emphasizes at this time of the year and for which it appoints a special day for all its members to lay deeply to heart its solemn lessons, is the great and blessed truth of the "Communion of Saints." Of all the anniversaries that come and go in the circling course of the Church's year there is none, perhaps, which comes more close to human hearts than that known and loved as "All Saints' Day." Many feasts and festivals there are, which, like greater planets, shine resplendent in the heavens, revolving closely about the Sun of Righteousness and then reflecting and shedding forth His glory. Such are the feasts of our Lord's Nativity, His Resurrection, His Ascension and the coming of the Holy Spirit. These glorious festivals, which we observe in the Church year, must, indeed, command our homage and our devotion.

But this "Quiet Day" of the Church's cycle, wearing the softened halo of autumn's mystic beauty, steals gently into the sanctuary of the heart and fills it with a sweet incense and an holy influence all its own.

For while, upon this day of hallowed memories we should and do recall the Saints of all ages, the glorious company of the Apostles, the goodly fellowship of the prophets, the noble army of martyrs enriching the Church throughout all the world—yet, who of us does not know that swiftly the vista shortens, and the cycle narrows and full soon the heart is gathering about this day its own dear, precious absent ones and feels a throbbing, holy joy as it looks into the faces of departed ones which it has "loved long since and lost awhile."

At this Holy Day of Remembrances as we kneel before God's altar and draw near unto Him in the Communion of the Blessed Body and Blood of His Son Jesus Christ, silently the mist veiled gates of Paradise swing wide open and lo they throng about us—those loved ones dear; and as they come, distance and time dispelled by sweet memory's wand, each loved one wears again the form endeared, clothed in that immortal garb woven by each soul in its earthly journey, its own enduring, divine personality.

"O blessed communion, fellowship divine!

We feebly struggle, they in glory shine;

Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine. Alleluia!

Let this hallowed festival of "All Saints" make real to each one of us the blessed truth that the blessed saints are near and close to Christ, their Saviour and ours; let each one of us, while here in our pilgrimage below, so live each day of our lives, close to things holy and heavenly, as to make us meet to enjoy the fullness of Communion with them hereafter. Let us thank God for their noble example; let us pray to Him for strength to emulate their self denial and ask for grace to follow after their faith; for courage patiently and hopefully to love and labor in the service of God, even as they loved and labored;—to live, as they who are living in the fuller presence of their Lord, would have us live; and to die, as they died "in the communion of the Church of Jesus Christ, in the confidence of a certain faith, in the comfort of a reasonable, religious and holy hope, in favor with Thee, our God, and in perfect charity with the world." And then, when we, too, are called Home; when the pilgrimage of life is over; when the heat and burden of the day have been bravely borne, when the watching eyes are closing in sleep and the weary head is at rest, may we pass into their blessed company and with them in hope and bliss await the hour for which angels are longing and the Church praying, and all material creation is groaning and travailing—the hour when the mystical number of the elect shall be completed, the hundred and forty four thousand sealed and the kingdoms of the world become the kingdoms of Christ.

The Rector is in receipt of the following letter from a parishioner:

October 14th, 1913

My dear Mr. Arndt:

I enclosed a poem sent me by a friend in Rhode Island. The author is a Presbyterian Minister of Edinburgh. It seemed to me a remarkable poem, coming from a Presbyterian and I thought you might find room in the next issue of the "Chimes" for it.

Sincerely,

Prayers for the Dead

O'er land and sea love follows with you a prayer,
Its dear ones in their trouble, grief, and care.

There is no spot,
On which it does not drop its tender dew,
Except the grave, "and there it bids adieu,"
And prayeth not.

Why should that be the only place un-cheered
By prayer, which to our hearts is so endeared
And sacred grown?
Living, we sought for blessing on their head;
Why should our lips be closed when they are dead
And we alone?

Idle? Their doom is fixed? Ah who can tell?
Yet, were it so, I think no ill could Come from my prayer;
And oh, the heart, o'er burdened with its grief,
This comfort needs, and seeks therein relief
From its despair.

Shall God be wroth because we love them still,
And call upon his love to shield from ill
Our dearest, best,
And bring them home, and recompense
their pain,
And cleanse their sin, (if any sin remain)
And give them rest?

Nay; I will not believe it, I will pray,
As for the living, for the dead each day.
They will not grow less meet for Heaven,
when followed by a prayer
To wait them home like summer scented air
From long ago.

Who can forbid the heart's desires to flow
Beyond the limits of the things we know?
In Heaven above
The incense that the golden censers bear,
Is the sweet perfume from the saintly prayer
Of trust and love."

As to our friend's remark, "it seems to me a remarkable poem coming from a Presbyterian," the Rector would reply, that whilst it might seem "remarkable," yet it is, really, the most natural expression of a deeply religious soul. We pray for those we love while here on earth, and their prayers go up to heaven for us. Shall we think less of them and they of us and cease to pray, when they and we are even nearer one another than when on earth? We know not how, but love will never cease to think and pray for those dear ones who have gone before. All that we know about them is what faith accepts; and love is built on faith. The dear ones go away; they pass from our view; our hearts die down; our eyes are full of tears; and we say, "they are gone." Do they yet live?

If so, are they aught to us or we to them? And are we still, in any sense, as ever, one? The late Rev. Morgan Dix, Rector of Trinity Church, New York says: "The teaching is very clear and distinct. It is drawn partly from the written word of God; partly from the concurrent belief of His people; and in part it comes to us through the voice of nature, which no man can silence. God tells us—for however it comes the message is His—that the Departed live, that they are conscious, that they are happy, that they are in Christ, that they are one with us. No real separation occurs, when, in the sight of man they seem to die. There is indeed a local separation, a physical and material one; but really, truly, and spiritually, we are with them, and they with us. Memory and love can never fail. They remember, they love us; they think, and we are in their thoughts; they pray, and we are in their prayers. We are members of of the same church, the same household, the same family. One God is father of us all; they have, as we might say, passed out of one room into another in the same building of the Lord; one and the same roof is still over us and them; they are in a better, brighter quarter of the same great Home and House of Christ, and whatever they are doing, whatever they are beholding, whatever they are enjoying, they never forget us, nor cease to count the hours of time till we be with them.

Such is briefly the teaching of God, speaking to us of this through His Holy Scriptures, and the Church and our own hearts. * * * I pray you, bear in mind the contrast between the Faith of the Church and our practice. There are few things more striking than this contrast; between the elevating and consoling truth that they are all living in God, that we are with them in Christ that the whole Church, this side of the veil and beyond it, is one and the same family; and our chill, hard indifference to and neglect of them, their names, their memories as if death were annihilation, and partings here partings for ever, and the separation between us that of hollow, hopeless, voiceless silence never to be broken.

This practical separation between us and the dead in Christ, is one of the misfortunes and calamities of the times; it would be hard to estimate what we must be losing, spiritually, every day we live, in consequence. And if any ask how it has come to pass, the answer is clear. It is the result of banishing them, as has been done, from the devotional exercises of the people of God, here on earth. If they be really so very near to us, as God says they are, that close and most precious inter-communion should be mentioned; it should have its definite expression, and be kept ever before the eyes, and in the ears, of us who remain here below. This was done in the Primitive Church in the ancient use of prayers for the departed. For thousands of years such prayers have been a part of the instituted service of the Lord's people. They were in use among the Israelites hundreds of years before Christ. They form a part of the Synagogue and Temple worship, in which the Lord and His Apostles took part when they were here. They are in every Liturgy of the ancient Christian Church, known to us at this hour. They were retained in the First Reformed Prayer Book of the Church of England, through reverence for the ancient uses of Christianity. * * * The Reformers rightly protested against the Roman doctrine concerning Purgatory, with its corollaries of masses for the delivery of suffering souls, and indulgences of time to be spent in that place of woe. All those novel inventions they rightly denounced; but in abating them they went too far, and came near utterly silencing the voice of the Church on that subject. They did not quite silence it, for they left a few words in the Prayer for Christ's Church militant to remind us that the Dead in the Lord still live; Let us make it a matter of religious duty never to forget the Holy Dead, never to let go of them, to insist that they are not really gone from us, to resolve that nothing shall divide us still farther, or widen the gap which Death has made! Until it is with us a matter of principle and religious duty to be as loyal, as faithful, as true, as loving towards our beloved ones now as we were while they were with us, we shall be losing help, comfort and grace, and suffering that moral decline which comes of solitude, selfishness, and isolation.

Let the memory of those who are in Christ be a purifying motive in our actions. Let their names be uttered with joy, as the names of those who live, in a truer sense than we. Let us remember that it is we who are in the shadows and the darkness, not they; let us cling to the idea of our communion with them as a powerful aid to us in our effort to lead holy lives. And let the thought of them calm our troubled souls; for soon shall we be where they are, "where storms shall cease, and surges swell no more." So pass the shadows away! So let the veil be drawn aside! So may we who, though parted for a time, are one in Christ for ever, be also made one again, in that dear and everlasting home, where the righteous shine forth as the sun, in their Heavenly Father's Realm."

Have Funerals in the Church

There is a widespread and popular custom of having funerals in private houses that is thoroughly unchurch-worthy, unedifying and undevout. It is also unrubrical. The Prayer Book provides that the Burial Office may be said either in the Church or the graveyard. "The minister meeting the corpse at the entrance of the church and going before it, either into the church or towards the grave." The office may be said partly or entirely in either. The only valid reason for not having it in the church is in the case of infectious diseases, when the Board of Health will not allow the Church to be used, and in that case it is better to say the whole office in the graveyard.

The custom of "house funerals," as they are called, originated outside the church, when it was usual to have a service upon the model of a prayer meeting with eulogies, prayers and addresses by persons present, this service lasting, sometimes, several hours.

When the Burial Service is used at "house funerals" it is often far from being a solemn service.

The friends are crowded together in the various rooms of the house, from the back kitchen to the garret. They generally sit on camp chairs, or on the stairs, and not infrequently on one another's laps.

All this does not especially contribute to solemnity or reverence. The Prayer Book directs that "the minister, meeting the corpse at the entrance of the church-yard and going before it, either into the church or toward the grave, shall say the Order for the Burial of the Dead."

This is dignified, solemn, impressive. The Church regards death as an occasion for reverence, for praise, for worship. She, therefore, provides that those who die in the Lord shall be brought within her holy walls.

Rubrics and Canons Sometimes Forgotten

When any person is sick, notice shall be given thereof to the Minister of the Parish.—Rubric in the Order for the Visitation of the Sick.

A communicant removing from one parish to another, shall procure from the Rector (if any), of the Parish of his last residence, or, if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a communicant in good standing; and the Rector of the Parish or Congregation to which he or she removes shall not be required to admit such a person to the Holy Communion until letters be procured stating that he or she is a communicant in good standing.—Canon 12, Title 11.

All persons within this Church shall celebrate and keep the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, in hearing the Word of God read and taught, in private and public prayer, in other exercises of devotion, and in acts of charity, using all Godly and sober conversation.—Canon 20, Title 1.

Cast-off Clothing Needed

Winter clothing, outer or under garments, and shoes are solicited from members in the Parish. All clothing sent to the Parish House will be worthily bestowed. The Sexton is in the Parish House until five o'clock every day.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the Memorial Pew.

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

At the latter service the names of those who have departed this life during the past year will be read from the chancel. Persons are invited to send memorial flowers to be placed on the altar on All Saint's Day.

It may not be generally known that Evening Prayer is said in the Church every Friday afternoon at five o'clock. If more people knew of this peaceful Evening Service there would be a larger attendance on this day, which the Church sets forth as a day of fasting and prayer in memory of the Cross.

"Week by week this day we ask

That holy memories of Thy Cross
May sanctify each common task,

And turn to gain each earthly loss.
Grant us, dear Lord our cross to bear,

Till at Thy feet we lay it down;
Win through Thy blood our pardon
there,

And through the cross attain the crown."

The Holiday Fair

A Bazaar and Supper will be held in the Parish House on the afternoons and evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, November 5th and 6th.

The supper will be served each night from six to seven thirty o'clock, and it is hoped that everyone will come, and partake of the excellent meals that will be provided, the price of which will be 50c. per plate.

Fancy articles, useful articles, toys, dolls, books, cards, calendars, flowers, etc., will be exhibited attractively for sale. Each booth will represent a holiday of the year, and the decorations will be appropriate.

Refreshments, such as cakes, candy and lemonade will be served at small tables and under the care of the girls of the Sunday School.

In addition, an entertainment which will add greatly to the pleasure of the occasion, will be given Wednesday evening, October 5th, for which there will be a charge of thirty-five cents.

A special feature of this entertainment will be the orchestra composed of pupils of the Philadelphia Musical Academy. Vocal and instrumental music and a short sketch will also be given at this concert.

Contributions of flowers, eatables, and merchandise will be gladly welcomed by the members of the various committees.

Kindly send donations to the Rectory, where they will be received.

All this effort is primarily to extend acquaintance and good fellowship among the members of the Church, and secondly to furnish money for urgent repairs and to decrease the debt on the Parish House property.

If the affair is to be a success, and all the committees are working hard to make it successful, let each and every member conscientiously endeavor to help.

It is needless to say that a fair share of the duties will not burden any one, and the result will be amazing to all of us.

Thanksgiving Day

The services on Thanksgiving Day will be Holy Communion at 7.30 A. M. Morning Prayer and Sermon at 11.00 o'clock. The annual offering for the Episcopal Hospital will be taken on that day.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

The winter work of the chapter has been planned for some time ahead and with the help of several new men who have heard "the call" we trust will be carried on with interest and success.

It has been decided to change our meeting night to the third Tuesday evening of each month when any men who care to spend a little while with us will be gladly welcomed. Two members of the chapter were able to attend the Brotherhood Convention held in New York City in October and spent a very profitable time. The Corporate Communion of the Brotherhood men, held on Sunday morning October 5th, at 7.30 o'clock was most inspiring both as regards benefit derived by the participants and as an example for other men to follow. The sight of our two thousand men assembled in the massive Cathedral of St. John the Divine at that early hour—delegates from forty-four states—drawn by a common bond for a common purpose would have surely stirred the coldest heart into some degree of warmth and faith.

Several years ago it was attempted to hold Men's Corporate Communions in this Parish but with out much success. This winter we hope to carry out this idea to fulfillment and trust that every one who reads this article will bear it in mind. Mothers, wives, sisters, friends—all can help by using their influence upon those who should, but do not, regularly attend the Holy Communion. Bear in mind the saying of Christ "Is it nothing to you all ye that pass by?" If it is anything to you it is worth sharing with others. Will you do it?

Sunday School

The great need of the Sunday School today is more teachers. The best results undoubtedly are obtained by having small classes and plenty of men. It is next to impossible for any teacher to do much good with a large class of energetic, restless, wide-awake and inquisitive boys or girls in an open school. Some teachers apparently give up all hope and let their scholars follow their own sweet will. I don't wonder. It is too much for any one teacher to control a large class keeping up the interest in a course of teaching twenty minutes or half hour. What we need is more teachers. It is really not so much of a hardship as some may imagine. Of course you must come every Sunday for we must have regular attendance, but look at the hours, 9.30 to 10.45. To what use do you usually put that one hour and a quarter? Certainly there is nothing of more importance than the religious education of the future great."

The delightful satisfaction that follows as you settle down in church to enjoy the morning service makes up for all the darts your self importance may have received while in Sunday School. We want more teachers. The machinery is there, the officers, the scholars and the school room, but after all the teachers are the all important part of the school. Come and help. Try it for this one winter.

Boys' Brigade

The Boys' Brigade of Christ Church is now a fact. On Friday evening, October 10th, Mag. Gen. Fred. Gerhard, Penna. Division, U. B. B. A., organized our boys into Company II of the First Regiment, Philadelphia Brigade, and seventeen enthusiastic boys of our Parish are now a part of that great army of Christian soldiers, one hundred thousand strong which is bivouaced among thousands of Sunday Schools all over the country. Gen. Gerhard in his splendid address inspired the boys with the noble ideals of the organization and Col. Keeble, commander of the First Regiment, of which our company is a part, outlined the work, recreation and pleasure to which the boys may look forward. We are to be congratulated in having as commanding officer, First Lieut. Paul Williams, N. G. P., who is every inch a soldier, and for Second Lieut. Geo. Taylor, an able and efficient comrade in arms. Pleasant anticipations of the future are already looming large. There are signs which indicate that Company II will soon become one of the two crack companies of the Philadelphia Brigade. This should inspire each one of our boys with a sense of our importance and responsibility. It should make us all, young and old, members of the brigade and everybody else connected with the Parish zealous missionaries in bringing new recruits from the outside into our ranks. It is our purpose to make Company II a direct agency for advancing Christ's kingdom among boys and we appeal for the hearty co-operation of the entire Church in this laudable work. We particularly ask every member of the Parish, especially the grown ups folks, to take some active interest in our boy soldiers. Urge boys to join us; help us with counsel and money; come out to our drills on Friday night and see what we are doing; donate to us furnishings to make our company room bright and attractive, and your reward, under the Master's blessing will be to see a splendid work of character building going on in an ever growing organization, an increasing enrollment in the Sunday School, and a larger percentage of boys in our confirmation classes.

H. W. G.

As several of the Parish organizations have not as yet elected their officers for the ensuing year the list of officers of Parochial societies will not be published in this issue of the "Chimes."

It is hoped in the next issue to have a complete list of all the Societies, together with the names of officers and the dates of meetings.

The Altar Guild

On Monday, October 13th the Altar Guild resumed its regular monthly meetings and the members have started their fall work in earnest.

At the opening of the meeting the President read two letters received from members of the Altar Guild of the City Mission thanking the Guild of Christ Church for a donation of altar linens to be used at the service held in the prisons and slums of Philadelphia.

Besides the regular business to be discussed, plans for the fair to be held on November 5th and 6th were considered, the Guild having charge of the supper to be served both evenings. It is earnestly hoped that as many persons as possible will take their supper at the Parish House those evenings as every means is being taken to make it a success.

During the summer the members of the Women's Bible Class of which Mrs. Baremore is teacher, presented the church with two sets of prayer books and hymnals for the side altar. In this connection it might be well to remark that the Guild is always very grateful for donations of any kind, for, with the exception of the monthly dues of the members, it is dependent entirely upon outside contributions.

In conclusion a word of praise should be extended to the members of the Guild who were so faithful in their duties during the past summer. Not only were flowers supplied for the altar every Sunday but their work was so efficient that it was especially praised by the clergy. May not this be an inspiration for even better results in the future?

H. P. D.

The Daughters of the King commenced their winters work with the following officers:

President—Miss G. M. Roop

Vice President—Mrs. C. H. Arndt

Treasurer—Mrs. Quay

Secretary—Miss Caroline Parker

After going through the usual business Miss Parker was appointed to represent the Chapter at the Convention to be held in New York, October 14th, 15th and 16th.

Mrs. Arndt, being National Treasurer of the Order and President of the Local Assembly of this Diocese, also went to the Convention.

The Christ Church Club

This is a small organization consisting of but twelve members. It originally was an auxiliary to a club of young men which is no longer in existence.

Meetings are held once a month, the second Thursday usually, at the houses of the members. This has been done as we find it more pleasant than meeting at the Parish House.

A part is being taken by the club in the coming fair and at various times during the year some work is done by them in a small way. For instance, some money is given to the Children's Country Week, $10.00 a year is sent to Bishop Scadding for the Oregon Silent Churches, a corporate communion is held once a year for its departed members and dinners sent out to worthy poor at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

There is no devotional service connected with its meetings, but the constitution calls for its members to assist the Rector wherever possible.

Olive G. Kirkland, Sec.

Choir Notes

We are having a revival of old times in the choir this Fall, not only in numbers, but the spirit to do things, is manifest also.

It is our purpose to have social gatherings from time to time throughout the cold season in the Parish House, (the get better acquainted kind) so we will really know each other and be in better trim to do our work when we go into service. The first of these Socials will be held on the 13th of November. We anticipate a pleasant evening.

We will have several special musical services this fall and winter, starting with P. H. Schnecker's Advent Cantata to be given November 30th in the evening with some special hymns. We also will sing some new anthems in other services. It is the choir-master's intention to have bright hearty, spiritual singing in all the services and asks the prayers of the congregation to give us the wisdom to so interpret the music that each anthem or hymn rendered will be helpful to us all. In the next months issue we will print a complete list of members in the choir.

The business editor has received sixty subscriptions to the "Chimes" since the October issue. We need about seventy-five more subscribers to put the "Chimes" on a good financial basis and it is hoped that members of the Parish who have not yet sent their subscriptions will do so at once. The rate is 50 cents per year. If it is desired to have copies mailed monthly, the rate is 60c. Remittance should be made to the business editor, Stanley V. A Word to the Wise

One day a thousand years and more ago a man by the name of Saul was converted, under the mercy of God, to the Christian faith. With a clean heart and a new joy and a fervid desire to praise and serve his newly found Saviour, he hastened from Damascus up to Jerusalem to become a communicant member of the Church in that city. But we are told that when Saul was come to Jerusalem and essayed to join himself to the disciples they were all afraid of him and gave him no welcome. In and out of the Church he passed unnoticed; in the seclusion of his own soul he was left to worship as best he might; no kindly word of greeting lifted the heavy cloud of loneliness from his heart; no cordial hand-clasp welcomed him as a friend and brother. They gave him a prayer book to be sure; they gravely escorted him to a pew; he was privileged to join in the common worship of the Church, but still for all that, he felt himself a stranger and somehow ignored. How he longed for S. Peter, S. James and S. John to come to him after the service was over and with a hearty handclasp say, "Welcome, my brother into our Church. We are glad to see you. Come again." But no, not a word was spoken nor a hand outstretched and poor Saul was in a sore way. Courtesy the Church had given him, but he wanted more than that. He wanted cordiality, and the welcome which comes from a friendly glance and a cheery word. He had not, indeed, come to Church to gossip or to enjoy a social time, neither did he want the members of that Church to make a "fuss" over him, but, as a stranger among them, he did want and had the right to expect the cordial greetings of his fellow Christians with whom he wished to worship in the common ties of brotherhood. Had the apostles persisted in thus ignoring the lonely stranger, Saul might have turned his back upon the Church and been forever lost to the cause of Christ, but happily S. Barnabas, one of their number, with the true Christlike spirit, at length went up to him and spoke a few kind words and then introduced him to all the apostles and brethren and told them how he had seen the Lord in the way and that He had spoken unto him and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus, and then when James and Cephas and John who were the pillars of that Church perceived the grace that was given unto Saul, they repented then of their spiritual inhospitality and gladly gave to him the right hand of fellowship, and so the lonely stranger, who is also called Paul found a place and a welcome in the House of God at last. He that hath ears to hear let him hear.

Non-Church Going Habit

"It is all a habit!" We wonder how often one hears that expression as an excuse, or an explanation of the neglect of the Church services! This neglect is a habit, and a bad one. It grows into a habit, and a bad one. It grows into a systematic neglect of all that pertains to the outward expression of religious life, and its effect on the more personal, inner, life is not less sure. A certain moral complacency grows up that makes the real conscience in the matter hard to reach. Dr. Lyman Abbott, in an open letter to the "Outlook" deals with the habit—that of church-going. He says:

"I heard the other Sunday a very excellent sermon on the advantages of church-going, and asked the preacher of the sermon, for permission to give to others one paragraph in which the advantages of church-going were summed up. The paragraph was as follows:

"But I do say without fear of successful contradiction, that the conscientious habit of going to Church always is one of the surest promoters of human happiness and courage. It broadens the mind, it cheers the soul. It lifts men's thoughts to the skies above them. It breaks the dull routine of work; it releases the captives of toil. It makes life interesting again; it awakens new powers of insight and sympathy. It changes the world's prose into poetry. For this is the conclusion of the matter: 'They kept the feast with gladness. For they all rejoiced, so that there was great joy in Jerusalem.'"

A Page in Church History

"The Church of England stands the one Church which has never separated itself from any Church or person."

We find this remarkable saying in the writing of the late Right Rev. George Ridgway, Bishop of Southwell, in England, remarkable not only by its clean, strong utterance, but for its perfect truthfulness. And in thinking of it we must remember that the Church in this country is the old Church in a new land. And the honor claimed for the Church in England belongs as much to the Church in this land. "It is the one Church that has never separated itself from any other."

It did not separate itself from the Presbyterians, or from the Methodists, or from the Baptists or from the Quakers. It stood firm and steadfast on the foundation and principles it had held from the days of the first Apostles and every one of those bodies went out from it and separated themselves from it. They were not thrust out, they went out. It was their voluntary act.

And it is equally true that the Church of England never separated from the Church of Rome. The Church of Rome withdrew from the Church of England and separated itself from it. Up to the reign of Queen Elizabeth and for some years during her reign, there was but one Church in England, and, although they differed somewhat in their teaching, those who held fast to Roman doctrine and those who accepted the reform views, all attended the same Church and worshiped together. And Lord Chief Justice Cook remarks that then the Pope offered to the Queen that he would and consent to and permit the English Prayer Book if she would only acknowledge his supremacy. This she declined to do. And the Pope thereupon issued his command that his adherents in England should withdraw from communion with the Church of England and form a separate organization in England.

It is well that these historical facts should be known. It has been common to charge the Church of England and its daughter in this country with being uncharitable and excluding others.

But it never excluded any of them; they went out voluntarily. She stands where she has always stood. Her door stands open, and her welcome is warm and ready for any one who wishes to enter." —Bishop Parets.

Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; We give thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those thy servants, who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labours. And we beseech thee, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. IMPORTANT NOTICE Special Advent Sermons

The Rector has arranged for a series of special Advent Services and Sermons which will be of absorbing interest to every one in this community. Four eminent speakers and specialists on the subject of Social Service have consented to give addresses in Christ Church—one on each of the four Sunday evenings in Advent, beginning Sunday evening, November 30th. This subject of social service has engaged a world wide attention of late and Commissions on Social Service are at work in this and other lands to spread the principles of Social Service throughout the world. The Social Service Commission is now a part of the official life of the Church. Consequently it deserves the serious consideration of every loyal Churchman. In some diocese a Social Service Committee has been organized to inaugurate a definite propaganda. The Social Service Commission seeks to apply its principles to every walk of life. "It makes a study of the conditions of employed children and corrects abuses connected therewith;" it seeks to improve the housing condition of the poor; it aids in the attainment of the legal rights of these people; it seeks "to safe guard the integrity of the race and the home, so far as the power lies with them, by spreading educational matter before the congregations and, if not insisting upon, at least encouraging the presentation of a health certificate from a reputable physician to the effect that those who are to marry have neither an incurable or a communicable disease." These are but a few objects of its endeavor.

It will be seen at a glance that the work of the Social Service Commission is most vital and far reaching in its scope. It should enlist the enthusiastic interest of every Churchman, Christian and patriot. It relates to the home, to the Church and to the State. It seeks to apply the living principles of Jesus Christ to every walk of life. It means the "voice of one crying in the wilderness, prepare ye the way of the Lord; make His paths straight." It means the heralding of the Coming of the Kingdom of God.

The appropriateness therefore, of the consideration of such vital subjects as these during the Season of Advent will be patent to all. The Rector urges that every member of Christ shall not only attend these special Advent Services but, also, shall proclaim them abroad to their friends and neighbors, and influence them to share the privilege of hearing these addresses.

The courtesy of these distinguished speakers in coming to Christ Church on Sunday evenings in Advent to speak to our people is highly appreciated and the Rector asks that every member shall make it his or her duty to co-operate in making these services known far and wide, that this rare course of addresses may be heard by many.

The course will be on Sunday evenings during Advent at 7.45 o'clock. There will be special music on each evening. All seats will be free and a cordial invitation is extended to every one.

The special speakers will be as follows:

Sunday, Nov 30th—The Rev. George C. Foley, D. D.

Sunday, Dec. 7th—The Rev. William N. Groton, D. D.

Sunday, Dec. 14th—The Rev. Louis C. Washburn, D. D.

Sunday, Dec. 21st—The Rev. G. Woolsey Hodge, D. D.

To Non-Givers

Two years ago the "duplex envelopes system" of giving was introduced into the Parish. By this system each contributor is afforded an opportunity of giving weekly an offering toward parish work and toward the work of missions. The increase in the offerings to missions has been most encouraging. Our people are awakening to the privilege of giving by a systematic, weekly offering. A large number of the people of Christ Church, however, have not as yet availed themselves of this envelope system of giving. The current expenses of the Parish amount, in round numbers, to $7000.00 per annum. Our assessment for Missions, Convocation, Episcopal and Convention Funds amount to, in round numbers $2000.00, making a total of $9000.00 a year, fixed charges. If every member of the Parish would give 30 cents a week, or a little over four cents a day, the total, in addition to the amount received in pew rents, would be ample to meet all expenses and assessments of the Parish. Will not every one, who has not as yet, subscribed a weekly offering through the envelope system please do so at once and thus share in bearing the expenses of the Parish? We have not many "shirkers" in Christ Church. A large majority of the people are giving their share and some more than their share: but there are some—and, as a rule, they are the ones most exacting in their demands and the most ready to criticize others—who are evading their Christian duty and are letting others pay the expenses, while they do the "talking." Let every one who attends the services of Christ Church begin now, this Advent Season, to do his or her duty. The envelope system of giving affords every one such an opportunity. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibule or may be had from the Verger. "Be merciful after thy power. If thou hast much, give plenteously; if thou hast little, do thy diligence gladly to give of that little; for so gathereth thou thyself a good reward in the day of necessity."

Advent Sunday is the beginning of the Christian year. "Thus it happens says Bishop Coxe "that in the Kingdom of Heaven, we live in advance of the world; we are a whole month on our way before the civil year begins. In this way our Holy Mother, the Church, teaches us to be ever on the alert, looking for and hastening unto the coming of the Day of God."

The Christian year, beginning with the Season of Advent, is so arranged as to bring before us the leading events in our Lord's life and the leading principles of Christian faith and conduct. This aim is carried out by means of special collects, Epistles and Gospel, by special Lessons, and in certain cases by special selections of psalms.

The season of Advent, so called from the Latin Adventus, a coming, is intended to prepare our minds for the celebration of the coming of our Lord, both on that first Christmas Day and also on that great last Day when we shall all appear before the judgment seat of God. It is impossible for us, as Christians, to enter into the joy of Christmas unless we realize the object for which Christ came into the world—viz: to save not merely from the guilt and consequences but from the power of sin.

Thus, this season of Advent, in its Lessons, Epistles and Gospels, strongly mingles the most joyous with the most appalling thoughts; for while it strikes the keynote of our Christmas rejoicings, it dwells on this first Advent with special reference to its bearings on that which is yet future, when "He shall come again to judge both the quick and the dead."

How helpful to the soul this annual "awakening," and setting forward towards Christ's appearing and towards immortality!

Christ tells us: "Watch, therefore, for ye know not when the Master of the House cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning; lest coming suddenly He find you sleeping."

The Christian year, which, as we have said, begins with Advent, is divided, for practical and doctrinal purposes, into two parts. In the first or festal part of the year—that is from Advent to Trinity—the Epistles and Gospels are selected for their appropriateness to the teachings of the doctrine of the day or season; in the second, or non-festal part of the year—that is, from Trinity to Advent—they follow a certain regularity, setting forth the practical life, which should flow out of these doctrines or teachings.

By this method of the Christian year the Church brings before her people the leading events in our Lord's life and the leading principles of Christian faith and conduct. Nothing essential is lost; nothing is added. It is a well rounded teaching of the Christian faith and life.

The teachings of the various seasons of the Church year may be epitomized as follows:

Advent. The Church year commences with the season of Advent which begins four Sundays before Christmas Day. During this period the Church warns mankind of the coming of Christ, the Son of God. This season is penitential in its character. The color for Advent is purple.

Christmas. The Advent season is followed by Christmas Day, and the Christmas season, which commemorate the birth of Christ. Color is white.

Epiphany. Then comes the season of the Epiphanytide, when the wise men, led by the star, came to see the infant Christ. Our Lord is here manifested before the Gentile world as the Son of the Living God. Color is purple.

Lent. This season lasts for forty days and is a period of abstinence and prayer. Consistent church members do not attend any places of amusement during this season and practice special self-denial in the way of food, pleasure, etc. Color is purple.

Good Friday. This day commemorates the crucifixion of Christ. It is a solemn fast day in the Church. Color black.

Easter. On this day and during this Eastertide the Church emphasizes the resurrection of Christ from the dead. Color is white.

The Ascension. Forty days after the resurrection is celebrated the feast of the Ascension and the Ascensiontide when Christ ascended into heaven. Color is white.

The Feast of Whitsunday. Ten days after the Ascension occurs the feast of Whitsunday, or Pentecost, when the Holy Ghost came down upon the assembled Christian band in the upper chamber. Color is red.

Trinity. Then follows Trinity Sunday which closes the doctrinal part of the year and brings before the people the idea of the ever blessed Trinity. Color is white.

Trinity Season. On the Sundays following and continuing up to Advent the practical duties of the Christian life are emphasized. Like Aaron's rod, the rod and staff of our Creed must now blossom and bear fruit in Christian life and service; so we pray the life-giving Spirit, that we, who are by nature dead in sin, may become plants of grace in the garden of God. The color of Trinity season is, therefore, green.

Saints' Days and other holy days, intersperse the Church year to commemorate the blessed Apostles and martyrs of the Church. The color for martyrdom is red.

No real progress in any department of our lives has been made by intermittent efforts. All true growth is steady and consistent if it is a healthy growth. Let us not deceive ourselves, then, into thinking that we can make any real progress morally or spiritually unless we are constant and faithful, in season and out of season, in the worship and service of Almighty God, and in our use of the Sacraments of His Church.

The attendance of the Male Communicants of the Parish is directed to an appeal by the members of the local chapter of the Brotherhood of S. Andrew, to make S. Andrews day, which occurs on Sunday, November 30th, an occasion for a corporate Communion of men. This is a nation wide endeavor on the part of the Brotherhood of S. Andrew, to have the men of the Church set apart this day to come to God's Altar and there shoulder to shoulder and heart to heart, dedicate themselves anew, their souls and bodies to be a reasonable, holy and loving sacrifice, unto God. It was a most inspiring sight at the Brotherhood Convention, held in the city of New York last October, to see over two thousand men in the Cathedral of S. John the Divine at the early Celebration of the Holy Communion.

S. Andrew, after he had found "the Messiah which is called the Christ," immediately went out and brought his brother Simon to the Saviour. On Sunday, November 30, the feast of S. Andrew, may we not see a large body of men kneeling at the Altar in Christ Church, seeking to find the "Messiah, which is called the Christ?" Let every male communicant in the Parish begin now to prepare to come to the corporate Communion on S. Andrew Day at half past seven o'clock.

The Rev. H. W. Gernand, who has been the Curate at Christ Church during the past year, has accepted a call to become rector of S. Pauls Church, Montrose, Pa., and enters upon his new duties on Sunday next before Advent. Mr. Gernand served his Diaconate in Christ Church Parish and was ordained to the Priesthood last June.

The Rector regrets to lose Mr. Gernand as curate in this Parish where he has rendered faithful and loyal service. He is to be congratulated, however, on having a charge of his own and his many friends in Christ Church extend to him their best wishes for a successful work in his new field and pray that God may bless him in this and all his future ministry.

The Rector has invited the Rev. Harry S. Ruth, a senior student at the Philadelphia Divinity School, to assist him at Christ Church. Mr. Ruth is in Deacon's order, being a candidate for the Priesthood from the Diocese of Fon Du Lac. He has accepted the Rector's invitation and will remain until he is ordained to the Priesthood in June, when he will be required to return to his Diocese.

Mr. Ruth is very much interested in boys and young men and invites all young men in the Parish to join a Men's Class which meets in the Parish on Sunday morning at 9.45 o'clock. The Boys' Brigade, which meets on Friday evenings in the Parish House is also under Mr. Ruth's charge. Mr. Paul Williams is doing excellent work drilling the Brigade, assisted by Mr. George Taylor.

All boys in this neighborhood are invited to meet in the Parish House on Friday evenings and join the Brigade.

The Dean of the Cathedral in Fresno, Cal., in sending an offering of $100 to the Church Mission House, New York, gave this account of how it came into his hands: "A young nurse had been slipping quietly into the church on Sundays, when her duties did not prevent, for some months. As my entire congregation was, during that time, new to me I did not realize that she was a stranger in town. On Easter Monday she came to my house, told me of her appreciation of the Church's privileges, and asked if she might be permitted to make her Easter offering for missions. She seemed to get a great deal of happiness out of the writing of that check for $100. Since then I have come to know her very well and to realize that this was but the natural manifestation of a consistently unselfish life."

Every soul on its way to eternity has its appointed times and seasons for good, which, if they be allowed to pass away, shall never return again—Keble.

The Bazaar

There has never been given in this Parish a more successful Bazaar and supper than that held during the past month. There was a hearty co-operation on the part of a large number of the ladies in the Parish and their labors were lightened by a few faithful men who proved themselves something more than mere "ornamental appendages." To these many faithful women—and never have there been so many women co-operate in a Parish function than there were at this Bazaar—and to the men, who worked hard in the construction of the artistic booths and tables, the thanks and appreciation of the Parish are gratefully extended. A large percentage of the membership of the Parish were in attendance and thus there was afforded an opportunity for social intercourse among the members.

The delicious supper, bountifully served by an efficient corps of young ladies in costumes, called forth the favorable comments by all who attended. The Musicales, given on Wednesday evening, was one of the best entertainments ever held in the Parish. The audience expressed their appreciation by enjoining each number on the program and it is to be regretted that space of this article precludes personal comments and congratulations to be made. The orchestra composed of pupils from the Germantown Branch of the Philadelphia Musical Academy, added greatly to the evening.

Aside from the financial success of the Bazaar, which, when the full returns are made, will probably amount to $600.00, these two evenings in the Parish House were thoroughly enjoyable in a social way and many expressed the wish that more frequent opportunities might be afforded the people of the Parish to meet together.

The receipts reported by the treasurer, Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, have been as follows to date:

"New Years Table"	$ 55.57
"Grab Bag"	20.00
"Independence Day"	34.16
"Washington's Birthday"	74.52
"Labor Day"	75.50
"Christmas"	121.51
"Memorial Day"	8.95
"Supper and Entertainment"	160.42
"Incidentals"	1.62
"Donation"	15.00
Total	$567.25

A meeting of all who assisted in the Bazaar is called for Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Parish House. A full report will then be received from all sources and all bills are asked to be rendered. Every one interested in the Bazaar are asked to be present at this meeting.

MEN'S COMMUNION SERVICE

S. Andrews Day

Sunday, November 30th will be the anniversary of the martyrdom of S. Andrew—"one of the two which heard John speak and followed Him;" the one who having found the Messiah, did not keep the good news to himself but brought his brother to Christ.

Many of us are prone to forget that many are waiting for an invitation to "come and see," some for a word which will bring them back to good things they once enjoyed and others for encouragement to keep them steadfast. Generally this is due to carelessness on our part and not because we do not wish to share the benefits derived from our association with the Master.

On S. Andrew's Day the Brotherhood of S. Andrew will celebrate two events worthy of note; the 30th anniversary of its inauguration when its members may look back with pride upon many things accomplished and yet with sorrow upon other things left undone; but grater than this is the fact that upon this day, in every parish where a Chapter is organized, will be held a corporate Communion of its members.

If we were to stop here many would say "what is that to us" but we do not stop here. There are those who have never taken Communion; those who have not for years. To all men in these classes, we appeal for consideration of the importance of this service at 7.30 A. M., November 30th. There are men who know others whom they could bring to this service if they asked them. Do so. There are men who know they should come themselves. Do so. One does not have to be a member of the Brotherhood to follow St. Andrew's principals. It is every Christian man's duty to look after his brother's welfare as he does his own.

It is reasonable to expect that at the least, twenty-five confirmed men of this Parish will read this article. If they pledged themselves to be present at this service would it be worth while? If each man also brought another man! what then? Would the Rector get a new spring of life? Would the work of the Parish revive? Would you feel that the day had been better because you had done something to make it better? Each one can answer the questions for himself. May each remember that other great question "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"

C. H. J.

Pew Rents

All pew rents and sittings fall due on December 1st. The Warden reports that payments of pew rents are, almost without exception, very prompt, for which he is most grateful to the people of Christ Church. If renters of pews and sittings will remit promptly at this time the Warden will be able to discharge a number of outstanding accounts which must be met at once.

Confirmation

The Bishop of the Diocese has notified the Rector that he expects to visit this Parish (D.V.) on the evening of Maundy Thursday to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. The Rector will, therefore, begin at an early date a course of Instructions on Confirmation and the Teachings of the Church. The Rector would like to have all persons contemplating confirmation give their names to him at once that he may provide them with literature that will prepare them to receive the instructions that are to follow. The Rector may be seen after any service or by appointment at the Rectory.

The Church Periodical Club

As our winter's work again looms up before us, we would like to bring to the notice of our parishioners the meaning and outcome of the Church Periodical club.

What does its name stand for? It is not a reading club; it is not a mere parochial work; it is not confined to church literature; what is it then?

It is an organization of the Episcopal Church, with its branches in each parish, doing as wide spread a work as the Woman's Auxiliary, and along the same missionary line; feeding the minds, as the former clothes the bodies and greater still is the work, when we realize that it keeps God's workers in the field in touch with all the onward movements of the day, both spiritual and temporal. It supplies reading matter for camps, for schools, for individuals, for the invalids, for the lone watchers through the long winter night of the Alaskan trapper. It sends out Traveling Libraries, that find their way into places where such a thing has never been known, and these libraries make such beautiful memorials. Remember this when you would perpetuate the loving memory of one no longer here.

Would that you could have been at the corporate communion of the church in New York, Bishop Greer the celebrant, the chapel full to overflowing. Would that you could have been at the Conference of Librarians in New York, women from all over the United States addressed by such men as Bishop Tucker, of Japan, Mr. Newton, of Alaska, Bishop Biller, of S. Dakota, and may more that space will not permit mentioning, thrilling everyone present with the wonderful work the club is doing, the wonderful help it is to the missionary, and the enormous field yet to cover; and in your hands, good people of Christ Church, lies the power to spread the work.

There is not one person in this parish that cannot contribute something toward this splendid work; you can give a book now and then, you can send away one or two of your periodicals each week or month as the case may be, or you can subscribe for a magazine for someone if you prefer, and you can contribute some money toward the work we wish to carry on.

Christmas is coming and you are receiving your yearly subscriptions to all sorts of periodicals; can you not be generous with your much and give away that which you have enjoyed, and teach your children of the untold pleasure they can give to little people like themselves by passing on that which has given them pleasure.

Christ Church Club

The first meeting of the year was held at the home of the Secretary in September. At this time the officers for the ensuing year were installed. They are as follows: Miss Mabel C. Robinson, President; Miss Esther R. Alexander, Vice President; Miss Olive G. Kirkland, Secretary; and Miss Olive M. Moore, Treasurer.

As with most of the other societies of the church, the time of the club has been taken up during the past two months with preparation for the supper and fair. At the October meeting which was held at the home of the Misses Alexander, arrangements were made for the flower table, which was the Memorial Day feature, and was assigned to our club.

Christ Church Calendars for 1914

A large number of Christ Church Calendars for the new year, 1914, were sold at the late Bazaar. A photograph of the exterior of Christ Church appears at the head of the Calendar and the various seasons of the Church Year, together with the Holy Day, are marked by their appropriate colors. On the back of the Calendar will be found the Bible Lessons appointed to be read on each Sunday and Holy Day throughout the year.

There are a few more of these Calendars left and they may be purchased from the Sexton at thirty-cents each.

A "friend of the Parish" has presented a beautifully embroidered "fair linen" for the Chapel altar. It is of most exquisite design and workmanship and is especially prized as a "labor of love" by a lady over seventy-five years of age. Some people never grow weary in well doing.

The Sunday School

The Sunday School has now fairly settled down to the season's work with the attendance normal in the Primary and Intermediate departments, but far from satisfactory in the Junior department or Main School. This we think is largely owing to the loss of several teachers who by, their regular attendance and devotion to work, are sadly missed.

The Superintendent again asks for volunteers in this department.

The usual Christmas services in the Church will be held on the afternoon of December 28.

The entertainment in the Parish House on Tuesday, December 30.

A Social will be held on Wednesday evening, November 26. It is hoped that all the Teachers and scholars and many of the parents will make an effort to be present. This is the part of a Series of Socials to be given during the winter.

ATTENTION!

Women's Auxiliary Meeting

All women in the Parish are invited to attend the opening meeting of the Women's Missionary Society (Women's Auxiliary) on Thursday morning, December 4th, at half past ten o'clock in the Parish House. The annual election of officers will be held at that time. Diocesan delegates will be appointed, the report of the treasurer will be received and work for the coming winter will be discussed. Will every woman in the Parish please consider this notice a personal invitation to unite with the Auxiliary in their Missionary work? It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at this first meeting on Thursday, December 4th, at half past ten o'clock.

The Mothers' Meeting

Our time and attention have been entirely taken up with work for the Bazaar since our first meeting in October. Beside the usual Tuesday afternoons we have met in the Parish House on Friday afternoons. On one Friday we spent the entire day sewing for the fair having our lunch served at one o'clock.

The Labor Day Booth was in charge of the Women's Sunday Afternoon Bible Class and The Mother's Meeting. The members were most faithful and conscientious in devoting their time and money to the work for the booth. One member of the Bible Class who could not come to the meetings devoted her spare moments to making jelly and preserves. The money from the sale of these amounting to five dollars was added to the amount received in the booth. Many of the women worked at home besides the sewing done at the Church. Two members made thirty-three aprons, two others made shoe bags, iron holders and fancy aprons at home. Another made six childrens petticoats, prettily brie stitched. Several members gave aprons and useful and fancy articles to be sold. Still others gave sums of money for the purchase of materials.

The Bible Class contributed five dollars, the Mother's Meeting ten dollars, several friends also helped us with gifts of money for materials. One kind friend solicited donations from various merchants.

All of this enabled us to realize from the sale at our booth the gratifying sum of seventy-five dollars.

Now that the fair is over, and our kind friends have shown such generous appreciation of our work, we hope they will continue to give us orders for rugs and all other useful articles for the household.

Choir Notes

The choir spent a very enjoyable evening on November 13th in the Parish House in one of the old time socials participating in games, songs and dancing, and last but not least a Dutch Supper, for which we passed a vote of thanks to our committee so ably serving us with good things. We will try and have others of different nature throughout the winter months and hope for the same success. The choir is gradually filling up all the vacant places, but we are still short on the men. The choirmaster extends a most cordial invitation to any, who would like to connect themselves with our choir especially Tenors or Basses.

The names of the active members of the choir are given below.

Christmas Communion

On Christmas Day every Churchman will wish to come to the House of God and there, as did the wise men of old, kneel before the Saviour in love and adoration. Christmas without Christ?—no Christian man or woman will cherish the thought! The very word "Christmas" means meeting with Christ. Christmas is not a worldly holiday but a Christian festival. It is the feast when the Christ—Mass, the mass of the Incarnate Word, is kept with joy. Surely on that day we will not forget Him! Wise men ever bring gold and frankincense and myrrh to Bethlehem—offerings of their earthly substance, offerings of worship and adoration, offerings of lowly penitence and love for Him in His humiliation for our sakes. On this happy Christmas Day there will be gifts for our loved ones, offerings for our spiritual mother, the Church, and offerings of "ourselves, our souls and bodies" in the Holy Communion for the building up of ourselves more and more into the spiritual likeness of Him Who was given to us to be our Pattern and our Guide.

That every communicant may kneel before Him on the day of His Nativity and offer unto Him "their hearts deepest devotions." Holy Communion will be celebrated in this Church at 6.30, 7.30 and at 11.00 o'clock. Every one, who is physically able, will want to come to, at least, one of these Services. The happiest Christmas is the one that is filled with Christ and His love.

"Love"—the Spirit of Christmas

What else should be in our thoughts at this most holy time, except the love of Christ. Of all the news that could be brought to us what so good as this, that unto us was born, as at this time, "a Saviour which is Christ the Lord?" If the news came that all the world was ours, all the wealth, all the money, all the precious things in it, which would be worth most to our real and lasting happiness, that we had all the world and all that was in it, or that we had a Saviour, who can and will give to all, who come to Him, that which cannot fade or pass away, even life eternal! God's love toward man, man's love toward God—this is the Christmas message Love, Love, Love! "God so loved the that He gave His only begotten Son." "If God so loved us, we ought to love one another."

If this Spirit of Christmas were to prevail, the barbarous methods of competitive trade, the soulless administration of trusts and the evils of the department store bargain counters, etc., would have to give way to the spirit of "live and let live."

If this Spirit of Christmas were to prevail, all the wrongs of humanity would be done away with; if all men could at all times be possessed of the true Christmas spirit, greed and lust and envy find no room to dwell where love abides.

If this Spirit of Christians were to prevail, the rich would be able to put themselves in the place of the humble poor, and do them justice and help them, and the poor would not envy and try to rob those who are possessed of greater blessings and greater responsibilities.

Peace on Earth

For any true peace on earth there must be peace with God. God has said it universally, 'There shall be no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.' How can there be peace in the soul so long as a man is not reconciled to his Maker?

Strange word—'Peace with God! Then, if there is now peace, there has been war. War with God! War of a worm with Omnipotence! Yet so it was and so it is, and so it would be for ever, if the Dayspring had not come and laid his hand upon us, both. He, and He only, is 'Peace.' And he who has Him has peace.

People say, 'Make your peace with God.' Make your peace with God! You can never make your peace with God. But accept Christ, and you accept Peace. The Gospel is the treaty; the angel's song, echoed now, was its herald; that light upon the hills was its flag of truce; the love of the Father drew the treaty; the blood of Christ sealed the treaty, and the contracting parties are an eternal God of truth and every rebel man who lays down his arms, and puts his hand to the contract and professes 'Jesus only.'

Made by that peace with God—within it, and a part of it, is the peace of the conscience. The language of that conscience is, "I believe—I feel—I know that I am forgiven. I am simply nothing but a poor, poor sinner, forgiven; but whatever happens to me now, my affairs stand right with God." He has said it, and I take it, "There is now no condemnation to them who are in Christ Jesus;" and there, by the infinite grace of God, I have placed myself, and I now am.

People talk of 'Christmas pleasures! What are they all to that sense of safety, that deep, inward peace? Can there be 'pleasure' if there is no peace? Could the Israelites sit down to the Paschal banquet, with the angel of death in the air, and no blood upon the door? Can we enjoy life if we are not ready to 'meet with God,' who may come in upon the Christmas revel?

Let us at this Christmas-tide seek to have peace with our own conscience—the peace of a witness within that we are in Christ—that we love Christ—that we would not willingly do anything to grieve Christ; that our own heart knows, in our own poor way, our first wish, our great end in life, is to please and serve and glorify Christ.

Oh that this 'peace' may be God's own Christmas gift—the peace of a Christ born in the low places of your own poor, mean, wicked heart; a Christ known—a Christ consciously your own—a Christ received into our hearts in Communion with Him at His altar on Christmas Day—a Christ reflected in a life of self-sacrificing forgiveness and love to everyone. Then shall this Christmas bring to us the most precious of all gifts, "the peace of God, that passeth all understanding."

"Happy New Year"

As I express these familiar words, used many times before, I feel that it carries with it each year a larger thought. Each New Year we stand face to face with an evidence of "the greatness of time," as expressed by this turning point in its ever onward march—an added New Year.

Each New Year's Day brings its plans and desires, and hopes and resolutions for the future. Are not, then, all these expectations and purposes intensified at such a time as this? Do they not look forward beyond a single year? Are they not more far-reaching, embracing even the plans for all the rest of one's earthly course?

It is the Christian mind that sees in all things natural the pictures or types of greater spiritual truths. Is not this "turning point in time" a symbol of that more important "turning point" in each human life when time merges into eternity, when we shall stand face to face with its far greater greatness and importance? This thought gives Christian character to our greeting, and fuller meaning to its ever familiar words. And it is my wish for all that the coming year may be to each of you full of happiness, and that those of you who have enjoyed rich religious experiences in the past, may find them richer by far in the days to come; that those of you, who have allowed the influences of your surroundings to cause forgetfulness or neglect of your Christian privileges may bring back again the joy that Christian zeal, and devotion and faithfulness secure; that those of you who still halt "between two opinions" may no longer delay the choice that brings you to the acknowledgement of Him as your Master "who died and gave Himself for you." May this new year, which brings us a little nearer to the end of life's journey, bring each one of us in this Parish nearer and closer to God—in His church, in His worship, in His loving service to others.

Thus the days and the years will bring the truest happiness of life, a greater happiness still when life's burdens are exchanged for the never-fading crown of victory.

Infant Baptism

How often has the answer been given to the clergyman who urges the baptism of the infant in a household: "I would prefer to wait and let the child choose for himself." Such an answer shows a thorough misunderstanding of the purpose of baptism.

If you consider religious faith only a matter of opinion, and each Christian congregation as standing for certain opinions regarding certain doctrines, and baptism as assenting to these particular ideas, then it might be well for the child to wait—the longer the better.

Baptism, however, rests on an entirely different foundation. Religion deals with character, not with doctrinal opinions. And character must be trained. "Train up the child in a way he should go." Baptism begins that training in the most natural and practical way. It admits the child into the Kingdom of God. It charges parents and sponsors with the duty of training him in Christian ways. It throws around him the influence of the Church. The child becomes "a member of Christ, the child of God, and an inheritor of the Kingdom of Heaven," and bids him guard well this inheritance. Among many things which baptism represents, it emphasizes the training of character.

You would never say that you prefer to wait and let the child choose his character. That is your duty.

We do not allow children to choose anything. They have no judgment. We choose and they obey. The mother watches the physical development of her babe with a ceaseless anxiety, and does what she thinks is best for the child in food and dress and exercise. The day never comes in the life of a child when his physical needs are left to his choice.

The mind unfolds. We watch its daily development. We plan for its progress. In the nursery, in the kindergarten, in the school, the best of talent trains the child, week after week, year after year. Sometimes the child pleads for his own wishes, and begs to stay at home. But the wise judgment of the parent prevails. No child ever chooses his teacher, or the books he shall study. What parent would let the child grow up in ignorance because "I prefer to wait and let the child choose for himself!"

We even choose a child's playmates, knowing the good and bad influence of companionship. In the home every safeguard is thrown around the child, lest he be led into temptation.

We do not even let the child choose its "native country." As he grows up we teach him patriotism; we instill loyalty. And when the boy is of age, he is proud to cast his first ballot as an "American citizen." How became he a citizen? He never had any other thought. He was trained to love our form of government.

Why should it be any different in regard to his religious life—his Christian character? As the child is born an American citizen, why should we not choose also to give him birth into Christian patriotism, and instill loyalty to Christ, so that when the child becomes of age he will never have had any other wish or desire, save one of faithfulness.

Choose what? A child chooses nothing—the parent does the choosing and the training. And the jewel of character, the sparkling gem we call the soul, the precious life that is eternal, that is tabernacled in this house of flesh, should never be left to drift in uncertainty, to be aimless in its purposes, to be unsettled in its principles, during all those early years in which the parent is fitting the child to go out into the world with credit to himself and to the family name. His character more than all else will produce the credit; and character depends upon religious training.

No, it is not better to wait. Have your child baptized, and when you have given him as faithful Christian training as you have mental and physical, he will never regret your choice.

The Jewish Church represented in the ancient world the life of a nation under the government of Almighty God.

Under the laws of that nation the severest penalties were inflicted on any father and mother who neglected the circumcision of the babe on the eighth day after its birth. Circumcision was the rite by which the child was admitted into the Church, and all its duties and its privileges. No child of a Jew was ever allowed to wait and choose his religion. He was trained in the Church from infancy.

Christ came to fulfill the law and the prophets. He came to enlarge the Church, not narrow it; and baptism in the Christian Church exactly corresponds with circumcision in the Jewish Church. If the babe by God's appointment could belong to the one, he could belong also to the larger Church.

When you say that there is nothing in the New Testament that commands it, you forget that it is not necessary to give special instructions about that which had always been the custom.

On the other hand it would have been necessary to have given very positive instructions not to baptise babies, if there was to be any change in this respect. Do you suppose that the Jews would have given up such a treasured custom without a word of dissent or complaint? When the question of not circumcising the Gentiles arose, the contention was so great that it demanded a general Council of the whole Church to settle the matter. Although no direct command may be given, yet we find the custom has prevailed in every century. Is it not reasonable to conclude that when you find a custom existing many centuries before Christ, and during all the centuries since, that it naturally existed during the one century in which Christ lived on earth, and that it must have had His sanction? And can you give one reason why the religious training of a child should have been so necessary and so valuable before Christ came, and become of so little use or consequence under the light of Christianity?

This idea of "choosing for himself" is against reason and against history. This idea has grown up only because persons in this age of sectarianism have formed mistaken ideas of the Church and its purpose. As a consequence, we let the child's character suffer, and his future also.

Some object to infant baptism, because it is not expressly commanded in Scripture. Should they not then be consistent, and refuse to admit females to the Holy Communion? Also they should decline to keep holy the first day of the week instead of the seventh. We find no express command for either. But as in the old dispensation, so in the new, children and infants are admitted, and have always been admitted to this spiritual birth.

But, it is both taken for granted and commanded, in the New Testament, that ALL persons are to be baptized; and unless you can produce a definite command in Holy Writ excluding infants from the Rite, it must be admitted that they are rightly made partakers of it.

1. The Redeemer, after having shown His good will toward children (St. Mark 9:42; St. Mark 10:14), gave the command to go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them, etc. (St. Matthew 28:19).

2. In the first Christian sermon, St. Peter says, "Repent and be baptized, etc., etc., for the promise is to you and to your children." (Acts 2:38, 39).

3. There is record of the baptism of three entire households. (Acts 16:15; Acts 16:33; I Cor. 1:16).

4. The two epistles addressed to baptized persons, children are exhorted as well as adults. (Ephesians 6:1; Colossians 3:30).

Now, considering the consistent history and training of God's Covenant People for 1500 years and more previous, and also the subsequent consistent and universal custom under the Christian Covenant for 1500 years and more, it is for those who deny infant baptism to show:

1. That our Lord meant to exclude children. 2. That Peter meant to exclude children. 3. That there were no children in the three households. 4. That the children addressed as baptized, were in reality, not baptized. This of course cannot be done.

Three Gates

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale some one to you has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.

Three narrow gates—First, "Is it true?"
Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind
Give thoughtful answer. And the next
Is last and narrowest—"Is it kind?"

And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gate-ways three.
Then you may tell the truth, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.

These lines quoted from an exchange embody one of the truths which should come into our hearts and minds from the recognition of the fact that Christmas Day commemorates our allegiance to a King whose rule is one of peace and love and good will to all men.

Three Holy Days after Christmas

Three days following Christmas are dedicated to three sacred events: First, on December 26th, is commemorated The Martyrdom of St. Stephen. This day has been commemorated since the fourth century. In the Greek Church the Festival is a day later than it is in ours. In addition to the reasons given above for its position in the Calendar, it has been said that 'Christ was born on earth in order that Stephen might be born in heaven.' Thus this, the anniversary of his martyrdom, is also, in a higher sense, the anniversary of his birth.

On December 27th occurs The Feast of S. John the Evangelist. Then we remember the fisherman John, the son of Zebedee and Salome, the brother of James, the partner in earthly business of Simon and Andrew; and we see what grace made him. We remember how he was called and obeyed the call; how he abode with Christ after the tenth hour on that memorable day; how he became a fisher of men; how he was styled a son of thunder; how he was admitted to be the beloved disciple; how he leaned on that bosom; how he stood by the cross; how he made it his business to house the Virgin-mother; how he grew and expanded and was perfected, waxed riper, and more and more reflected the image of his Master, received and diffused light; how he suffered for the truth; had heaven opened to him at Patmos, and tarried to such an old age that men thought he would live on till Christ came, all the time doing his Lord's work, ordering the Church after his Lord's mind, teaching, reclaiming, ruling, refuting error, declaring the truth by word and writing to the end.

On December 28th is celebrated the Martyrdom of the Innocents, which was anciently commemorated at the Epiphany; the date of its first observance as a separate festival is not known. The Innocents have always been regarded by the Church as martyrs, they having, though unwittingly, shed their blood for Christ. (See St. Matt. 2:16-17.)

"Chimes" Subscriptions

Since the last issue, subscriptions have been received from the following:

Mrs. C. M. Meyer

Mr. S. N. Baxter

Miss L. D. Lovett

Mrs. Longstreth

Miss Quay

Mrs. J. M. Ritter

Miss Kirk

This brings the total number of subscribers to 91, a splendid showing for a parish paper. We should have, however, at least 200 subscribers to make the paper self-supporting. The "Chimes" is the official organ of the Parish. It should go into every home. Every month it records the activities of the various societies and gives notice of future plans. The paper is free to all, but many prefer to pay the nominal subscription rate. Two hundred contributors is not aiming to high for a Parish with over six hundred communicants. If you have not already subscribed, please do so before January 1st. Fifty cents pays for the "Chimes" during 1914. If you wish it sent by mail, add 10 cents for postage. Send subscriptions to the Business Editor, Stanley V. Wilcox, 82 W. Johnson St., or to the Rector.

Services on Christmas Day

The Services on Christmas Day will be as follows:

Holy Communion, 6.30, 7.30. Morning Prayer (shortened form)

Holy Communion and Sermon 11.00.

The offering at all services on Christmas will be for the benefit of the Aged and Infirm Clergy.

Sunday School Christmas Service

The Sunday School Christmas Service will be held in the Church on Sunday afternoon, December 28th, (Holy Innocents Day) at half past three o'clock. The service will largely consist of Christmas hymns and carols sung by the School. Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. H. S. Ruth and Mr. George T. Morgan.

All members of the Congregation, and especially the parents and friends of the scholars of the School are cordially invited to this service.

Sunday School Christmas Entertainment

The Christmas Entertainment of the Main and Intermediate Schools will be held in the Parish House on Tuesday evening, December 30th, 7.45 o'clock. A beautiful Christmas Cantata entitled "Santa's Santa-Plane" in which about twenty-five members of the Sunday School will take part, is being prepared under the direction of a committee of which Miss Dorothy Woodruffe is chairman. Of course our old friend Kris Kringle will be on hand to distribute Christmas gifts to his many friends in Christ Church Sunday School.

The Primary Department will hold its Christmas Entertainment on the afternoon of the same day at three o'clock. A part of the same Christmas Cantata will be given also on this occasion and old Santa will be on hand in his "Santa-Plane." The parents of the children are cordially invited to both of these entertainments.

Midnight Service

The usual solemn midnight service will be held on New Year's Eve commencing at 11.00 o'clock. At midnight the Chimes will peal forth to greet the New Year. The church will be open all evening for prayer and meditation.

Aged and Infirm Clergy

The offering on Christmas Day will be for the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund. No object is nearer to the hearts of the members of this Parish than this one. Our people have always given to it most willingly and generously. It appeals to the heart of every loyal Churchman. That any old and infirm minister of the Church should be turned out to suffer and die in poverty and want, is too cruel and horrible a crime to contemplate. And yet there are such cases known today. It is the earnest endeavor of the trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund to gather from the members of the Church a sufficient sum of money, the interest of which may be used toward pensioning the superannuated Clergy of the Church.

It is to this worthy cause that the offering on Christmas Day will be devoted. It is hoped that the offering on next Christmas will be fully equal to the offerings of previous years and that, if any are not able to be present at the services on Christmas Day, they will remember to send their offering to the Warden, Mr. William R. Pugh, 117 W. Upsal Street, or place it on the plate at some subsequent service.

Memorial Flowers in January

Flowers on the Altar during the month of January will be in loving memory of the following persons:
 Jan. 10th—John Wetherill Baremore
 Jan. 11th—Martha Connor
 Jan. 17th—Almyrah Johnstone
 Jan. 19th—Miriam Fisk Humphrey
 Jan. 25th—Elizabeth H. Pugh
 Jan. 26th—Charles E. Read

Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity: We give thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those thy servants, who having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labours. And we beseech thee, that we with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Christmas Music

The music on Christmas Day will be as follows:

Processional Hymn, 56—"Christians, Awake! Salute the Happy Morn!"
 Venite E. Miles
 Te Deum—Festival E. Buck
 Jubilate—Festival G. M. Garrett
 Introit, Hymn 50—"Come Hither, Ye Faithful, Triumphantly Sing!"
 Kyrie Eyre

The Sunday School Christmas Service will be held in the church on Sunday afternoon (Holy Innocents Day) at half past three o'clock. The following carols will be sung by the members of the Sunday School.

"Hark the Herald Angels Sing"

"O! Little Town of Bethlehem"

"It Came Upon the Midnight Clear"

"Come with us, O! Blessed Jesus!"

The Church Choir will assist the School in the music.

Christmas Greens

The Church will be decorated, as usual on Christmas with laurel and evergreen. The expense of these Christmas decorations are met by the free-will offerings of the members of the congregation. The work is cheerfully performed by the young men of the Parish.

Persons who wish to contribute toward the expense of these "greens" are invited to give or send their contributions to Mr. Richard H. Morris, Wayne Ave. and Horter Streets.

The Altar Guild will be in charge of the Christmas decorations of the Chapel and Main Altars. Persons who wish to contribute for that purpose may send their offering to Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, President of the Guild.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

The small chapter of the Brotherhood in Christ Church was very much encouraged by the number of men who attended the Men's Corporate Communion on the morning of St. Andrew's Day, November 30th. A great deal of personal work was done to bring men to this service, and aided by the splendid article in the December "Chimes," a great measure of success attended our efforts.

S. V. W.

On November 3, entered into life, Mary Martha Dahl, one of the most valued members of Christ Church Parish. Interested in many departments of Church work, notably the Sunday School, Girls' Friendly Society and the Daughters of the King, her influence was felt in every direction. She was an indefatigable worker, in a most quiet and unostentatious manner. Always on the alert for the best interests of the Church and her neighbors—she seemed to know by instinct of cases of illness, babies to be baptized and children to be confirmed. Probably more than any other one person she kept the Rector informed of cases where his ministrations were needed. Words cannot express how deeply she will be missed, but a life which has been spent so prominently in the service of others must leave behind it a great influence for good, which, keeping her example in sight, will lead those who are left behind to realize more fully the opportunities which God has given them, and to follow in the footsteps of this loyal, devoted servant of Christ who has gone to be with Jesus, which is far better.

Confirmation

The Rector is receiving the names of persons who are considering being confirmed. He will soon begin a course of Instructions on Confirmation and the Church and desires that all persons who are contemplating confirmation shall give their names to him at once that he may provide them with suitable literature that will prepare them on the subject. The Rector may be seen after any service or by appointment at the Rectory. The lectures will begin after the Holidays and will be announced in the next issue of the "Chimes."

The Mothers Meeting

Now that the Bazaar is only a memory, and the strain and stress of preparation is over, we have settled to a more normal existence; but, are still busy filling orders for rugs, aprons, iron holders and dish towels.

Two of our former members who were not with us last year have returned. We were delighted to have Mrs. Crowther and Mrs. Brown with us again. Our meetings open with a hymn and a short service, then comes sewing of some kind with pleasant talk, followed by tea and buns. On the first Tuesday in the month we have an extra feast of ice cream, cake and coffee.

Plans are under way for the Annual dinner in January, of which we shall have something to say in the next issue.

The Mothers Meeting wishes all the members of the "Chimes" A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year.

Epiphany

This season of the Church's year, through which we are now passing, is called "Epiphany." It follows immediately after, and is indeed an extension of the Christmas Season and continues up to Septuagesima Sunday. The festival of the Epiphany must be deemed of very high importance by the believing and thoughtful Christian. It does not merely commemorate one of the most beautiful incidents of our Lord's infant life,—the visit of the three wise men to worship "the new born King,"—it, also, asserts one of the most fundamental and vital features of Christianity: the great distinction, in fact, between Christianity and Judaism. The Jewish religion was the religion of a race. Was a merely national religion like this a full unavailing of the mind of a common Father of the human race? Was His interest and love to be confined to one people, alone? Was there to be no place in His heart for more races, who lay east and west and north and south of the favored region? Was the Son of God come to reveal the Father's love to and to save one set of people only, or was He come to manifest His love to and to save all people, everywhere? The event set forth is the festival of the Epiphany and the missionary teaching of this Epiphany season is sufficient answer to that question. The Church's mission is to all the world, to every people, to every clime. The Epiphany season is the great missionary season of the Church. Every season, of course, should be a "missionary season," but at Epiphany special emphasis is laid on this teaching; indeed, that is what the word "Epiphany" means,— "manifestation," "shining out." The star shone out and led the Gentiles to the Child of Bethlehem and they "fell down and worshipped Him." And so we pray, in the collect for missions, "O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on the face of the whole earth and didst send Thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are far off and to them that are nigh; Grant that all men everywhere may seek after Thee and find Thee. Bring the nations into Thy fold, and add the heathen to Thine inheritance. And we pray Thee shortly to accomplish the number of Thine elect, and to hasten Thy Kingdom, through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Practical Thoughts for Epiphany

The Epiphany Season should engage the thoughts of all good Churchmen in the extension of the Kingdom of God on earth. Everyone who follows Christ's command wants to assist in this work. That every one may have some share in giving to the missionary work of the church, "duplex" envelopes have been introduced into this Parish. By this means every parishioner is afforded an opportunity to give—according to his or her means—a weekly offering both to the parish and to missions.

Eight reasons for the weekly support of missions:

1. It is Scriptural. "Bring an offering and come into his courts" (Ps. 96: 8). "Worship the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of all thine increase" (Prov. 3:8). Thus was the duty of giving organically connected with the idea of worship in the Old Testament; and it is not to the priest or the vestry that our offerings are to be given, but to God. "Bring me the whole tithe into the storehouse that there may be meat in my house, and prove me now herewith, saith Jehovah of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven and pour out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." (Mal. 3:9, 10). S. Paul, carrying on this divine message, says: "Upon the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, as he may prosper." (1 Cor. 16:2.)

2. It is Educational. If we give thus systematically and frequently, in the light of the assurance that "God is a Spirit and they that worship Him must worship Him in Spirit and truth," this scriptural method becomes to us in very deed the spiritual method, for one always gets more out of a service to which he contributes something. If one could only afford to give a penny a week, it would be better to give that every week than to give it all at one time once a year. Habits are tremendously important things. A habit can scarcely be formed by doing a thing once a year, or once a quarter. But a thing done every week may come to be a second nature. It ought to be impossible for any Christian ever to attend a service in God's house without thinking devoutly and prayerfully of the whole Kingdom of God in the world, of which his particular parish is only one among a vast multitude of vitally related parts. The weekly offering which goes toward the extension of that whole kingdom is therefore educational in that it necessarily encourages such thought and prayer.

3. It is Equitable. The Church has discovered that nothing less than a weekly offering is adequate to the support of the particular church in which one worships. Now the divine command is not only that we should love our neighbor as ourselves but that we should "love one another even as I have loved you." The weekly offering which is merely local or parochial is not in harmony with the idea of Christ. Such an offering fulfills only a part of His plan. If confined to that it denies the great multitude to whom our Lord's message has never yet been given the privilege we ourselves enjoy. Is not the evangelization of the world as important as the support of our particular local church? Shall we say to the heathen, "let the dogs eat the crumbs which fall from their master's table? Inasmuch as we do it to the least of His creatures we do it to the Master Himself."

4. It Promotes Prayer for Missions. There are three outstanding objects of prayer in connection with missions.

1. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. 2. That the Lord of the harvest will throw forth the needed laborers. 3. Prayer for the laborers after they have been sent. When analyzed, it will be seen that the answer to these prayers involves among many other things the right conception of Christian stewardship, the correct interpretation of the great commission to go to the whole world and preach the Gospel, and the compassion of Christ for His lost sheep. Thousands of laborers are needed. The command to "pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers" is generally ignored, or put into a subordinate place. We are reminded by the weekly envelope of this great need of prayer for missions. With prayer comes more giving, for no one can pray for workers without wanting also to send them out.

5. It Enlists Larger Numbers. Only a fraction of our parishioners are at present supporting in any serious way the nations of the earth. This explains the utter inadequacy of the Church's missionary efforts. It also means that the Church as a whole has not yet been led to adopt Christ's purpose to save the world. Every member of a parish from the richest to the poorest, should be given an opportunity to support God's plan in God's way. It is not that God needs money. The silver and gold are His already, and the cattle upon a thousand hills. He could fill all missionary treasuries with streams of gold should He so will. But He cannot reproduce His character in that way. God is love, and He so loved the world that He gave. His giving was the necessity of His love. Our giving is the measure of our love. We ought to lay down our lives for the brethren because He laid down His life for us. "But whoso hath this world's goods and beholdeth his brother in need, and shuteth up his compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in Him?" This is the strongest possible way of saying that God's love cannot exist in the heart that refuses the appeal of other's needs. Giving is a grace whose healthy development depends on exercise. Selfishness and covetousness are basic tendencies of human nature, and need the antidote of love, with the cultural grace of giving. Love withers and fades unless it is expressed. Giving is its normal expression. We serve God in serving our fellow-men. Our love to them is the measure and proof of our love to Him. Logically, therefore, the number of systematic subscribers to missions in any congregation should be larger than the list of communicants, or adult attendants upon the services, for children need this grace developed as well as older people. The weekly envelope helps materially to prevent the child from growing up without being taught how to give; it helps toward the abandonment of the plan of having the head of the family do all the giving for the family. Why should he, any more than he should pray, or eat, for the whole family?

The generous habit, like all other habits, is learned most easily in early life. Every child can be taught by this system to give in childhood, and so to overcome his natural tendency to selfishness.

6. It Makes it Easier to Give More. The weekly subscription basis, with numbered and dated envelopes, has unquestionably proved to be the best method of church finance. Why then should we adopt an inferior method for dealing with the missionary finances, by means of which the world is to be evangelized? It is difficult to understand how the Church could ever have fallen into so inadequate a method as an annual collection, or even quarterly collections, for the spread of Christ's Kingdom. The only explanation seems to be that the Church regarded this as a subordinate issue, and not its primary business. We have seen that weekly giving is the divine principle for financing the Kingdom. It will come more readily where the weekly worship of God with one's offering is being practiced. Experience shows maximum in any other way. Considering the needs of our fellow-men, no congregation should be satisfied with anything less than its maximum. In every case where the weekly system of missionary offerings has been properly introduced, the aggregate amount contributed has been greatly increased. It has frequently been found that congregations give as much per week as they were previously giving per month. Very few are too poor to afford ten cents a week to missions. They can be led to give this much gladly if the weekly missionary offering is in operation. Small as this amount is, it would furnish sufficient funds for the whole missionary work of the Church if the entire membership could be enlisted. It is as easy to secure ten cents a week from the ordinary parishioner as to secure $1.00 in an annual collection, and the weekly amount aggregates $5.00 in a year.

7. It Provides Continuous Support Without Borrowing. Among other things the Church is a gigantic business enterprise. Its affairs should be managed at least as carefully and skillfully as any private business. The necessary expenses of this enterprise go on week after week. Unless support is paid in week by week, money has to be borrowed, and interest paid upon it, to keep the vast machinery in motion. Thousands of dollars are wasted every year in this way that would go into the work of extending the Kingdom if the weekly offerings were generally adopted.

8. It Increases Other Offerings. This may seem strange to "the natural man," but it is nevertheless true. And it is in absolute harmony with the operation of spiritual law. Giving, as already pointed out, is a grace to be developed by exercise, just like love, or faith, or any other grace. Nothing else develops this grace so rapidly and effectively as the unselfish spirit of missions. When the grace of giving is once developed, it overflows in every direction. This is the explanation of the phenomenon that live missionary churches are always the best in meeting expenses of the Parish and in the support of every worthy Christian enterprise.

The following words were addressed by a Rector of a certain Parish to his people. They are pertinent to every Parish.

"It will need some more steam or a new propeller to make headway this year. It is for the parishioners to furnish the power, every one pushing up to the limit of his capacity if the propeller is going to show a good run for the year.

What am I as Rector asking of you?

1st, that you take a pleasure in your worship. Everyone contributing his presence and his voice in the service of the Church. Your Rector may plan the form of service; you must give the service its spirit.

2nd, that we make a business of our giving. That we divide the expense of running the parish among ourselves according to our ability, taking our share cheerfully and generously; and that as we give of our own services we contribute regularly and systematically to helping others to have that which we enjoy.

3rd, that we are not only generous in purse and hearty in person, but that we are helpful in service; not being content until we do something as our labor of love.

Now I realize that this program does not fit in with some of your ideas of pleasure and profit, but as your Rector I will vouch for the lasting pleasure and the permanent profit if you have faith enough to make the required investment.

I do not believe that Almighty God is interested in any other kind of religion than that which I have indicated and if He isn't why waste your time in putting up any other kind?

Let us all pull together and every man put his full weight on the oar and see how exhilarating it is to make good progress. Let every man, woman and child put his full weight on the oar. It is the only kind of crew in which there is any pleasure.

A Model Parishioner

The following letter was lately received from a faithful communicant of this Parish, who never tires of doing good. How fortunate any parish is to have such souls in it!

The Reverend Chas. Henry Arndt:
My dear Rector:

The very rainy Sundays are most unpleasant to those who wish to go to Church and have a long distance to walk, as I have.

The "first Sunday in the month" a rainy one, must be hard on that fund for the "Poor of the Parish." Please let me send what I should have been glad to have placed on the plate yesterday. No thanks please.

Affectionately,

Attendance at Christmas Services

The attendance at the Celebration of the Holy Communion on Christmas Day was 230 persons. This number is a little over one third of the Communicant list of the Parish. There were many at the eleven o'clock service on Christmas Day, who did not, we regret to say, remain to the Communion. The number of Christmas Communions, are, however, steadily increasing each year and it is hoped that the day is not far distant when all will be in touch with the Church's spirit of Christmas and will share in the world wide question and universal privilege of kneeling at the altar on Christmas Day.

Services on First Sunday in Lent

On the first Sunday of each month Morning Prayer is held in the Church at half past nine o'clock. This service is attended by the Sunday School in a body and is especially intended to familiarize the Scholars of the Sunday School and others with the use of the Prayer Book. After this service in the Church the School adjourns to the Parish House at ten o'clock for the regular lesson instruction. The eleven o'clock service in the Church, on the first Sunday in the month, consists only of the Celebration of the Holy Communion, with sermon.

Confirmation Classes

The first meeting of the Confirmation Classes will be held in the Parish House, on Friday, February 6th. The class for minors will be held at four o'clock in the afternoon and for adults at eight o'clock in the evening. All persons, who are contemplating Confirmation, are requested to give their names to the Rector at once and to meet with one of the above mentioned classes on Friday, February 6th.

The Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese expects to visit this Parish during the coming Lent.

The Rector will be pleased to meet any one who wishes to talk to him on the subject of confirmation after Church services or by appointment.

The schedule of Lenten services, together with the subjects of addresses, and names of special preachers will appear in the next issue of the "Chimes." Ash Wednesday occurs on Feb. 25th. Before the next issue of the "Chimes," the Septuagesima season, which has been termed the "penumbra of Lent," will have begun. Septuagesima Sunday falls on March 8th.

The Woman's Auxiliary

The first Thursday in January, being New Years day, the meeting for this month was held on the second Thursday instead of the first Thursday as heretofore. The meeting made up in interest and enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Those of us who were privileged to hear Mr. Longshore's fine address, felt the great regret that only ten women of Christ Church were there to enjoy this very interesting and inspiring talk on the Church's work among the immigrants entering the port of Philadelphia. We were told that the six lines of steamers entering this port brought seventy-five thousand foreigners to our city last year.

Mr. Longshore has charge of the work among the English speaking people, brought here by the vessels. Especially, he is the friend and helper to all who are members of the Church of England. As he has been carrying on this work for the past twenty-six years, he has a rich fund of information to impart in incidents and experiences both touching and pathetic.

After giving Mr. Longshore a vote of thanks for his intensely interesting address, we heard reports from several

Sunday School

The attendance during the past year while not all that could be desired, has been fairly good and leads the officers of the School to hope for better things in the year now starting.

The Honor Roll of those having a perfect record for the entire 52 Sundays is as follows:—

Mr. Edw. R. Miles
Frederick H. Belfield
Elizabeth Connor
Paul Wagenseller

The following members of the School are credited with missing only ONE Sunday in the year: Mrs. Elizabeth M. Adkins, David Arndt, Emma Mogridge and Harold Williams.

Those missing but two Sundays were: Sarah Conner, Florence E. Ithey and Russell Williams.

Those present all but four Sundays were: Herbert Brown, Mr. C. L. Hayhurst, Mr. O. N. Middleton, Mr. Geo. T. Morgan and Ralph Williams.

Those present all but four Sundays were: Mr. Edward Bains, Mr. Charles H. Jackson and Helen Williams.

In connection with the above records it might be well to remind the parents of our scholars that when a member of the School visits a Sunday School in another town, and procures a certificate of his or her attendance and hands it to the Secretary of our School, then a perfect record may be retained on the records of our School. Blanks are furnished when requested.

In our School a record is kept of the "Star Classes," that is the classes which have every member including the teacher present at a session of the School. In the year 1913 Mr. Morris' Class was "Star" 20 times, Miss Quay's Class 13 times, Mrs. Adkins' Class 12 times, and Mrs. Dowlings' Class 9 times. A number of other classes were "Stars" on several Sundays but not more than six times.

Let us all work and plan to make this year's Honor Roll much more imposing.

of the Committees who had been to the Diocesan meetings at the Church House. These were followed by a discussion of work to be done during Lent. It was decided to furnish the outfit for our Indian girls at the Rose Bud School, and some other work to be decided upon by the Executive Committee.

It is most earnestly hoped that a larger number of the women of Christ Church will interest themselves in the Missionary work of the Church. How can we profess and call ourselves Christians, if we are not willing to do even a small share of the dear Masters Work?

The next meeting will be held on Thursday morning, February 5th, to which all women are invited.

Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew

On invitation of the Rector, the Rev. Mr. Arndt, a number of boys met at the Rectory of Christ Church Friday afternoon, January 9, 1914, to organize a Junior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The Rev. Mr. Arndt presided, and after stating the object of the meeting, appointed Rev. Mr. Ruth, Director.

The Chapter was composed of the following boys: John F. Arndt, Robert Brigham, Leonard Carmichael, Reginald Graeffe, Henry Ritter, Charles Gordon Sutcliffe, William Morrison, E. Scranton Gillette, Philip Cannon, Howard Feist and Donald B. Cooper.

The following officers were elected: Vice Director, Reginald Graeffe; Donaldson B. Cooper, Secretary, and Robert Brigham, Treasurer.

It was decided that the Chapter would meet every two weeks, the second and fourth Tuesday of the month, at 7.45 P. M. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, January 13, 1914.

A Chinese Clergyman to Speak

On Sunday morning, February 1st, Rev. P. N. Tsu, Rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Shanghai, China will speak in Christ Church on the missionary work that is being done in that great country. He will address the Sunday School at the service in the Church at 9.30 and will also speak at the eleven o'clock service. In a letter to the Rector, Rev. Mr. Tsu writes:

"I shall be very glad indeed to visit your Parish on the first Sunday of February. I intend to speak on the development of the native church to your Sunday School. The subject of my address to the congregation will be the relations of Christianity and the pagan religions of China. Ours is the only self-supporting Parish in the Missionary district of Shanghai. Last October we raised $6,000 for our new church to be erected in 1916.

Please read my articles published in the "Spirit of Mission." May and December, 1913.

Anticipating the pleasure of meeting you and your people.

Yours most sincerely,

P. N. Tsu

The Boys' Brigade

"God give us men!"

Such is the world's cry today.

The Boys' Brigade of Christ Church has heard it and is intent on meeting its demands.

Paul Williams, Mr. Ellis, George Taylor, and Fred Feist are doing splendid work.

Eighteen boys at the last drill!

Why not twenty-five by next meeting?

Boys over twelve years should come to the Parish House every Friday night at 7.45 o'clock sharp.

Report to Mr. Williams.

The Curate is present to talk a few moments to our little men after which they repair to the "gym" for an hour of drilling.

Then basket-ball.

Boys it is great! Come yourselves and bring others.

H S. R.

The Mother's Meeting

Our Annual Dinner will be held on Tuesday, January the thirteenth at three o'clock. We are hoping for fine weather, that all may come and enjoy the good things.

We are planning to do some special Missionary work for Lent that we also may enjoy the blessings which come from work for others.

A special appeal is made for partly worn winter clothing, to be given away as worthy cases are brought to our notice, and to be used for our sales. Our stock of winter clothing is very low, most of the garments only being suitable for Spring and Summer wear.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Subscriptions to the "Chimes" have been received from the following:

Miss Mary Kirk

Mrs. Longstreth

Miss M. M. Nixon

Mrs. J. M. Ritter

Mrs. Chas. Wismer

We now have ninety-three paid subscribers. Many parishioners have not yet sent in their subscriptions and should do so at once. The rate is 50 cents per year or 60 cents when it is desired to have copies mailed. Send subscriptions to the Rector or to S. V. Wilcox, Business Editor, 82 W. Johnson St., Germantown.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary met on Friday, January 9th. They will meet every Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the Parish House to sew for missions. The Secretary has a number of objects to work for and the members will decide at this meeting on January 16th. All young girls in the Parish are invited to meet with the Auxiliary on Friday afternoons and help in preparing a missionary box.

Guild Choir

The Guild Choir had a good representation at the Epiphany services on January 6th. Lent is near and volunteer singers will be needed for the week day Lenten services. All men and women who are willing to assist in this Guild Choir, which is responsible for the music at the extra services—not on Sundays—are cordially invited to join. Please send names and addresses to the Secretary, Mrs. Topliff Johnson, 430 Locust St., Germantown.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club has just sent off to Valdez, Alaska, its annual library; this library is sent to different parts of the United States, thus endeavoring not only to be impartial in our efforts, but to spread the work of our organization in all directions where it is most needed.

The usual number of books collected by our Librarians from each Parish annually and sent on their various ways, amount to about 500 volumes. This year we collected and sent 2000, and we all know how gratefully they will be received in far away Alaska.

This brings forcibly to our minds what immense good can be done when "two or three are gathered together."

Spread knowledge! which also helps to spread the Gospel! Let others have of your plenty after you have enjoyed it! Everyone in the Parish can give toward this great work! A book, a periodical or a contribution of money; little, medium or much! All or any of these will be deeply appreciated.

Envelope Subscribers

There have been some additions of late to the envelope subscribers. It is hoped that more members of the congregation will take out envelopes.

Pledge cards may be found in the vestibule or may be had from the vergers. Begin now: "If thou hast much, give plentifully; if thou hast little, do thy diligence gladly to give of that little; for so gatherest thyself a great reward in the day of necessity."

Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; We give thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those thy servants, who having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labours. And we beseech thee, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

We must remember that we can go up to that happy country in no other way than as the saints went up of old; that it is of no use to think of the martyrs, unless we try to imitate them; that it will not avail us to pray to be with them hereafter, unless we have trodden in their footsteps here. Theirs were indeed great trials, and ours are little ones; but we are fighting the very same battle that they fought, and if we win we shall inherit the same reward. An evil thought put down, an unkind word left unsaid, is a stroke struck in the same war in which they are already crowned as conquerors. They were faithful in a few things before they were put in charge of many things; and if they had not been found trustworthy in the one, they had never attained the other. —J. Mason Neale.

Prof. C. Lloyd Morgan, in his recent book "The Interpretation of Nature," quotes from Professor Sully the story of a little girl who stole softly into the dining-room, not noticing that her elder sister was standing at the bookshelf in a dark corner of the room. The little girl took a bunch of grapes from the fruit-dish and tiptoed toward the door; but, before she reached it, she paused, then returned to the table, replaced the grapes, and left the room empty handed, murmuring softly, "Sold again, Satan!"

The Church's Loyalty to Truth

When we say in the Creed that we believe One Catholic and Apostolic Church we mean that we stand for that body of teaching which the Church of Christ originally received. It means that we "contend earnestly for the faith once for all delivered unto the saints." Though the Church be divided, the Creed remains the same. Its integrity is unimpaired. Its terms have not been superseded. Its force has not been explained away. It means that we believe in the continuity of the Church through the inviolability of the Creed and the perpetuation of her apostolic order and ministry. It means that we have kept sacred the original commission given by our Lord to His Church. If other bodies of Christians have departed, more or less, from these principles, we leave the ultimate issue in the hands of the great Head of the Church. Visible Christian Unity may be desirable, but not by the sacrifice of those principles which are of more value than a mere negative unity. Perhaps the endeavor for visible Christian Unity is being overdone. When the time is ripe for it the Great Centre of Christian Unity will accomplish it. But not till then. Not until we prove ourselves not merely historical Christians or doctrinal Christians, but consistent Christians shall we be worthy of the restored jewel of visible Christian Unity. It was the spirit of domination and hate which lost it. It will be restored when the spirit of love and service dominates the Christian Churches. Rome and Constantinople and Canterbury and Geneva must give place to the Jerusalem which is from above. Whatever be the glory of each of these it must be merged in the greater glory of "the city of our God."

The seeker after Christian truth in its fulness and completeness, desiring to attach himself to a body of Christian believers which possesses at once Catholic antiquity, apostolic doctrine, and unbroken line of ministerial continuity from the apostles themselves; which values the Sacraments and administers them in the terms of their original institutions; and which offers to God a public worship full of reverence, devotion, and spiritual fervor, will find in the Anglican Church, known in this country popularly as "the Episcopal Church," those things for which he seeks. At first he may find it difficult to adjust himself to its environment and its atmosphere. But when he becomes accustomed to her ways, receives Holy Baptism and Confirmation, becomes a devout and regular communicant, and assimilates her splendid spirit, he will understand the reason for the loyalty and love of those who repeat with him the words in the Creed: "I believe One Catholic and Apostolic Church."—From the Old Faith in a New Setting, by the Rev. B. W. R. Tayler, D. D.

To be beautiful we must cherish every kind impulse and generous disposition, making love the ruling affection of the heart, the ordering principle and inspiring motive of life; the more kindness, the more beauty; the more love, the more loveliness.

There is but one virtue, in naming which the whole Divine character is summed up. We are told that God is Love, and both S. James and S. John teach us that love is the corner stone of the Christian character and life. Love of our brother in the helpful deed and kindly word; love of God in the resolute acceptance of His orderings and following of his commandments.

A Letter From the Rector Christ Church Rectory Lent 1914

My Dear Friends:

Once again the call of Lent is sounding in our ears, bringing with it its message of unspeakable solemnity to every soul which will hearken. Lent succeeds Lent with a rapidity which almost startles me as the years fly by, and each one brings us nearer to the long ages of that eternity which is so very near to us.—so much nearer than we are yet able to realize.

Let us begin this Lent in the most earnest prayer to the Holy Spirit for His guidance and blessing upon what we are going to undertake. So much depends upon powerful preparation. The great Sower will sow His seed now, as always, with the most liberal hand; but its fruitfulness will depend upon the preparation of the ground of the heart. Are we convinced that prayer is the one power which can command the graces of God, and that nothing good and lasting can be done without it? No matter if at the present moment you feel cold and lifeless, disinclined for the necessary effort; it is prayer that will remedy this. Go to God and tell Him exactly how you feel. Put all your trust, not in yourself, but in what you know that He is able to give you. This very disinclination is often a sign that He means to do great things for you, and that He wants you to recognize that it is He who has done it. Have you not found that the most blessed Lents in your past life have been those in which you have been most conscious of your weakness at the beginning, but about which you have prayed very earnestly. Let us begin this Lent, and continue and end it, in the spirit of most earnest prayer.

There is something indescribable about this season of Lent, something which cannot be explained by the mere fact of the extra services and our own penitential discipline, something which I have recognized and wondered at and rejoiced in for very many years; it is like the touch of another world upon the darkness and worldliness of our present lives. It is a wilderness, but the wilderness has blossomed like the rose. It is often a hard and wearisome way, but there are visions of the heavenly country. What can this mean but the "unction of the Holy One," and the magnet power of the Cross? There is nothing more certain than this to all who have experienced this atmosphere of Lent. God is always near us, but then He makes His nearness felt, because He sees us really trying to draw near to Him.

But this drawing nigh unto God is not merely the effect of prayer; it is also brought about by strictness of life and the voluntary acceptance of the cross. There can be no blessing upon a Lent in which self-discipline does not hold a very foremost place. The ordinary means are fasting and works of mortification; all earnest Churchmen will want to use these means; but, for those who cannot, for reasons of health practise these, there must, at least, be a real renunciation of the world, and of the luxuries of life, however harmless in themselves. It is impossible to exaggerate the spiritual effect of this voluntary treading the way of the cross. Its influence is felt at once; the scales of worldliness drop from our eyes, the heavenly vision becomes clearer, the interior life is invigorated and new possibilities of holiness open out before the soul. Can we afford to throw away one of life's great opportunities for the sake of a little self-indulgence and personal ease? Has not long experience taught us that these have never brought us real happiness or satisfaction? God is the only true end and joy of the soul. When shall we learn this, and give ourselves up without reserve to seek Him? I pray that the hearts of the men and women—and the children, too—of Christ Church will be inspired by the Holy Spirit to make this Lenten Season an occasion of real sacrifice, of unselfish devotion, of a deepening of the spiritual life of the soul. This we can do only by using the Divine Means of Grace which our Saviour has bequeathed unto us.

Affectionately Yours,

Charles Henry Arndt

How to Keep Lent

The best way to keep Lent is,—first to be in earnest. Lent demands of us to be sincere, to be genuine, to be real. First, resolving to make an honest endeavor—then this honest endeavor will be best carried out by employing the following Means of Grace, which will surely bring to all, who faithfully and conscientiously use them, a spiritual blessing.

Prayer—

Intense, earnest—both public and private—expressive of the deepest desire of your heart for a better life.

Meditation—

In the quiet of your own room and in the house of God, that you may think of your life and its duties; that you may understand better the lessons the Cross of Christ teaches of sin and holiness, of guilt and forgiveness.

Self-Examination—

To find out your besetting sins, your sinful habits, your failings, temptations, dangers; to ascertain your actual spiritual condition, that you may strengthen the good, and conquer the evil.

Repentance—

Whereby you forsake sin, that dishonors and offends God, violates His laws and pollutes your soul—a genuine hatred of that which makes your Saviour mourn and drives him from your breast.

Church Attendance—

A punctual, regular and systematic attendance upon the special services appointed. Attend as many as possible. Give special importance to every opportunity offered to partake of the Holy Communion.

Good Works—

That by abundant labors you may serve humanity for the Master's sake, and use your influence to bring others into the fold of Christ.

Alms Giving—

To relieve distress; to advance the interests of the Church; to create an Easter offering worthy of your devotion.

Blessings of a Quiet Lent

There are no times in life when blessings descend so richly upon the soul as in the quiet, meditative, hours of self-examination, when alone with God the soul learns more of duty, and finds ways to fulfill it—of privileges, and enters upon their enjoyment.

You will realize the awful character of sin, and will shun it as you would a drink of deadly poison.

You will have learned how "to keep the body under," how to break every evil habit, that has gained control over you; and will rejoice over the "conquest of self."

You will have gained a deeper insight into truth, and a better knowledge of God and your relations to Him.

Your character will be purified; your spiritual power will be increased; your Christian life will be filled with richer experiences of prayer and devotion.

Looking upon the Cross, you will realize that you have been bought "with a price," and that your talents of mind and body belong to Christ—your time, influence, money, life—all are Christ's; and you will more fully consecrate them to His service.

Your heart will be touched with sympathy for your Redeemer; and you will love Him with an intenser love, and give Him the allegiance of your life.

You will love the Church better than ever before—

"Her sweet communions, solemn vows,

Her hymns of prayer and praise."

Are not these results worthy of your effort this Lent?

Duplex Envelopes

I want to say a word about the duplex envelope system of giving toward the expenses of the Parish and the maintenance of the charities and missions. Every self-respecting person will want to share in helping in the support of the Church's work. A large number of the people of Christ Church are giving liberally and systematically. There are others who are giving disproportionately to their ability and only as fancy dictates. There is also a considerable number who are neither giving systematically nor liberally—a few, it pains me to note—who are doing nothing. I do not want to believe that there are any who are willfully and intentionally shirking their responsibility. I much rather believe that they are careless and will wish to co-operate in the support of their Church when the matter is brought definitely before them. I pray that all may do at least their duty in this respect, and, in time be led to a higher plane of considering Christian duty a great privilege. It is only then that we can begin to realize the blessedness of giving—as many noble souls in this Parish can testify. The Vestry needs every dollar they can get to meet the expenses of this Parish and to discharge the assessments that are made for charitable and missionary objects. Each year there is a deficit, because some fail to do their duty. If every member, man, woman and child would resolve to bear his or her share, this Parish would then be able to meet each year its full quota of expenses and begin each fiscal year without arrears. Is it not time for some people, who have been neglecting their duty in this respect to help in the support of the Master's work and give something, systematically and regularly according as God has blessed them? I am sure that every self-respecting person will want to do this especially when their attention is called to the urgent need. The Duplex Envelope System affords an opportunity for every one to give something, in a systematic way. Even the children should be taught the privilege of sharing in this giving and every child, as well as every adult, should have his or her own package of envelopes and be encouraged to be regular and systematic in contributing to the extension of the Kingdom of God.

System is as necessary in the Church as in secular affairs. It forms good habits, and it also produces results of value. Even the most spontaneous acts such as prayer, need to be cultivated, and performed according to some rule. This principle holds good of our giving. Only by regularity can we gain the habit of worshipping the Lord with our substance, or give a worthy amount to the maintenance and extension of the Church. To attain these important ends, we introduced the Duplex Envelopes into Christ Church two years ago. The results have been encouraging. Our offerings increased at once. But it is clear that we can do much better. There are many who have not accepted the boxes or make no use of them. Others who have taken them use them only fitfully.

Let us start this Lent, with the resolve that every envelope in our box, shall carry an offering into the Church's treasury. Secondly, let us endeavor to get every one in the Church to accept a package of envelopes. Thirdly, let us try to put something into each pocket every Sunday.

Let us each give according to our abilities; the poorer members not discouraged by the necessary smallness of their gifts, and the richer not wearied by the number of the demands that come upon them from many quarters, but giving as God hath prospered them.

The money placed in the pocket marked simply "Missions," will go to the Apportionment.

In addition to the expenses of the Parish, a little over $2100.00 is asked from Christ Church for outside purposes, each as Mission, Episcopal and Convention Fund, Germantown Convocation Fund, Sustentation Fund, etc. Let every one do his best and God will bless us in our endeavors. May God give us the spirit of loyalty and liberality! Those who are willing to co-operate—and certainly there must be many—will find pledge cards in the vestibules or they may be had from the Verger. Please sign this card and place, as soon as possible, on the alms plate or send it to the Rector.

The list of Lenten Services, together with the names of the special preachers on Sunday evenings and the subjects for the week-day addresses to be delivered in Christ Church will be found on page six of this issue of the "Chimes." Let every one read over carefully this list and resolve to attend as many services as possible and also, endeavor to do some unselfish missionary work by bringing others to the services. The Rector expects every member to do his duty!

Every woman of the Parish should make it a special duty, during this coming Lent, to attend the weekly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, which will meet every Thursday morning in the Parish House at 10 o'clock to sew for Missions. There will be occasionally, a special speaker at these meetings. Please read the announcement of the Women's Auxiliary to be found on page seven of this issue.

Lenten Resolutions

Made by a member of Christ Church and affectionately commended to others during this Lent by the help of God.

1. I will attend regularly and constantly throughout the whole season of Lent the services on another page which I have marked.

2. I will devote minutes every day to private prayer and meditation; to the reading of the Bible and other devotional books.

3. I will deny myself some articles of food during the entire season.

4. I will withhold my presence from all social gatherings and public amusements.

5. I will lay aside daily or weekly the equivalent of my self-denials toward my Easter offering.

6. After consultation with the Rector of the parish, I will undertake some definite parish work, and be responsible for its accomplishment.

7. My motto during the season will be: "No day without some deed to crown it."

8. I will use my influence with (name some person or persons) to bring them to services and to an earnest Christian life, and will remember these persons in my prayers.

9. At twelve o'clock each day I will pray for missions.

10. Above all, I will find out and strive against my besetting sin.

And may God give me the help of His Holy Spirit to keep these resolutions faithfully and constantly until Easter Day. Amen.

Confirmation

The Rector wishes to call attention that the Instructions on Confirmation are being given in the Parish House every Friday afternoon at four o'clock (for minors), and at eight o'clock, for adults. He welcomes all persons to these instructions—confirmed and unconfirmed. He will be pleased to talk with any one on the subject after any service or by appointment. Do not delay. Act now!

Daily Prayers for Lent

For Faithfulness—

O Almighty God, I beseech Thee, hear this, my prayer and grant my petitions in this time of grace and penitence. Enable me to perform my religious duties with exactitude and reverence and grant that this fast, consecrated by the example and precepts of Thy Adorable Son, may be pleasing in Thy sight and strengthen me with His might, that I may serve Thee more faithfully in time to come and bring me, finally, to Thy eternal Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
A Prayer for the Parish—

Almighty and everlasting God, who dost govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplication of Thy servants and grant unto this Parish all things that are needful for its spiritual welfare. Strengthen and confirm the faithful; visit and relieve the sick; turn and soften the wicked; rouse the careless; recover the fallen; restore the penitent; remove all hindrances to the advancement of Thy truth and bring all to be of one mind and one heart within the fold of Thy Holy Church, to the honor and glory of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

For Missions—

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the whole earth, and didst send thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are far off and to them that are nigh; Grant that all men everywhere may seek after thee and find thee. Bring the nations into thy fold, and add the heathen to thine inheritance. And we pray thee shortly to accomplish the number of thine elect, and to hasten thy kingdom; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Women's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church held its regular monthly meeting in the Parish House, Thursday, February the fifth at 10.30 A. M. There were about ten women present, which is a very small proportion of all the women in Christ Church. The Auxiliary begins its Lenten work on Thursday, February the 26th at 10.00 o'clock and it is hoped that these weekly meetings from then until Easter will be well attended. The work to be done is now being prepared by the committees appointed to purchase and cut out materials, so that all will be in readiness for the volunteer sewers those Thursday mornings in Lent which everybody found so pleasant last season.

The purchasing committee is Mrs. George Morgan and Mrs. William N. Johnson.

The cutting committee is Mrs. Geo. Morgan, Mrs. C. B. Williams, Mrs. H. C. Thompson, Mrs. P. T. Robinson, Mrs. Keith Rodney, Mrs. Topliff Johnson.

The reports from the Diocesan committees were excellent and most interesting.

The chairman, Mrs. J. J. Morrison made a full report on the meeting held at Holy Trinity to urge interest and assistance for Dr. Teusler's work in St. Luke's Hospital, Tokyo, Japan. Bishop Lloyd and Hamilton, Wright Mabie were speakers.

A report was also made of the Germantown Convocation held at St. Michael's Church, January the 20th. The delegates were Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Marot and Mrs. Potter. Upon payment of 25c. a year any churchman can become a member of the Convocation which keeps one in touch with the local missionary work of the Germantown Convocation.

The Women's Auxiliary also had two representatives at a parlor meeting at Mrs. George Knorr's, West School House Lane, to listen to a most interesting talk given by a young English woman working in the extreme north of Japan under the American Board of Missions.

The Question Box

A box has been placed at the west door of the Church to receive written questions on any religious subject, which the members of the Congregation would like to have answered. If there are any religious difficulties perplexing the minds of persons or if there is any information which members in the congregation would like to have on religious subjects, the Rector requests that they be written out on a piece of paper and placed in the Question Box at the door. The box will be opened weekly and the subjects referred to on the papers contained therein will be discussed from the chancel at each Thursday afternoon service. Many questions, no doubt, come up to the minds of honest, truth-seeking men and women, upon which light might be thrown and doubts cleared away, if an opportunity were presented. It is the intention at these Thursday afternoon services to afford an opportunity to discuss such questions and it is hoped that, by God's grace, some difficulties may be removed and the faith of some may be made stronger.

The time of the daily afternoon Lenten Services has been put at quarter of five, in order that persons who live at a distance from the church may return to their homes before dusk. The afternoon services will be from one-half to three-quarters of an hour long. A short address will be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons. For the subjects see list of Lenten Services. On other afternoons Evening Prayer only will be said.

The fiscal year of the Parish ends at Easter. It is desired that all outstanding indebtedness should be met before that time. Will all persons who have made special pledges of any kind for Parish purposes kindly send the full amount of their pledge to the Acting Warden, or place the amount in a marked envelope on the plate as soon as possible?

The Girls' Friendly Society

There was a beautiful little service held in the Church on the first Sunday evening in February when ten girls were admitted into the Girls Friendly Society and ten members were advanced to the Senior membership. We were all so sorry not to have Mr. Arndt officiate at the admission service but Mr. Ruth very kindly took the service. The G. F. S. has had a very successful winter so far, the girls come more regularly, and we have some very enjoyable evenings. One evening a month we read. We are reading Lorna Doone, and another evening we have an interesting talk, and then we have our social evening. We had such a delightful evening at Mrs. Schaeffer's about a month ago. Through Lent the G. F. S. all over the country sew for missions, and Christ Church Branch has always done very well and we hope to have a very busy time this Lent. We would be very glad to have any girl in the Parish meet with us, we meet on Tuesday evening in the Parish House at eight o'clock.

The Boys' Brigade

What it is not.

It is not a reform society.

It is assumed all applicants are characteristic boys having to some degree a sense of honor.

It is not strictly parochial.

It is social and missionary in spirit.

Not only does it desire all the boys over 12 years in Christ Church Parish for members, but also those belonging to other Sunday Schools. Boys not attending any Sunday School may become members by joining Christ Church Sunday School.

It is not wholly secular.

Its ultimate object is to make Christ more real to the boys, and to better fit them by exhortation, discipline, and wholesome pleasure for greater usefulness as Christ-men in the world.

Look in the next edition of the "Chimes" for what it is. Watch us grow. Membership now over 25.

The Sunday School

The Sunday School will make a special effort during the Lenten Season to reach all the old scholars. This will mean much work in the way of visitation and the Superintendent asks for volunteers for this service.

An "Older Boys Congress" will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Building Arch Street, on February 27-28. Christ Church Sunday School will be represented and we anticipate much good to result from these meetings.

The attendance has been good during January notwithstanding some trying weather. Four or five "Star" classes every Sunday. The officers are pleased to record the visits of several substitute teachers. We have room for more especially at this time when sickness is keeping away several regular teachers. The names of "Star Classes" and "Star Scholars" will be published in the "Chimes" every three months. We look for a long list next month.

Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club is glad to report great activity in the Christ Church Branch of the work. Several new contributors have come forward and offered to send their magazines as soon as the Librarian can furnish names and addresses which she is delighted and willing to do, as speedily as possible.

The Church Periodical year closes the first of April and it is most encouraging to be able to hand in a larger report each year both in money and magazines, but greater than that is the pleasure of knowing that we have cheered and broadened that many more lives than had had such privileges one year previously.

There is a great call for the Sunday School magazine, and this each teacher in the Sunday School could certainly supply one person by sending his magazine to a given address each month when the new one comes out.

Any good magazine will be appreciated, kindly call up Gtn. 3241 or address Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Librarian, 430 Locust Ave.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary meets each Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the Parish House.

We decided at the last meeting to change the hour to three o'clock with the understanding that the younger members would meet at four as usual.

We have commenced a christening outfit to be sent to Rev. H. Burt, Cheyenne River agency, South Dakota, to be used when the Indian babies are brought to the mission to be baptized.

Very often the mothers have not clean clothes for their babies to be baptized in and it is a help to have an outfit at the mission.

The Junior Auxiliary is composed of the young girls of the Parish who meet once a week for the purpose of exchanging ideas, sewing, and having a good time.

We would like more girls to assist us in our work and we hope all who can will come.

The officers of the Junior Auxiliary are:

Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Mrs. Laurena Simcox, Leaders.

Frances O'Brien, President

Marion Waldman, Vice President

Elman Strien, Treasurer

Marjorie Howell, Secretary

Mission Study Class

A Mission Study Class for young ladies will be held in the Parish House every Wednesday afternoon—beginning on Ash Wednesday—at 3 o'clock. The class will be taught by Miss Virginia Morrison. This will be a splendid opportunity for young ladies to study the subject of Missions and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew

Should you notice unusual things being done in the usual way, or ordinary things being done extraordinarily well, it is because the Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew is composed of lively boys, thoroughly conscious of their obligations expressed in the Rule of Prayer and the Rule of service.

There is a great deal to be done but more help is needed.

Boys over 12 years of age are cordially invited to the meetings of the Brotherhood every 2nd and 4th Tuesday at 7.45 P. M.

H. S. R.

Altar Guild

An unusually interesting meeting of the Altar Guild was held on Monday afternoon, February the ninth. Work for the Lenten season was discussed.

The embroidery class under Miss Chase's able instruction is busily at work and expect to accomplish a great deal before Easter. Mrs. Cotton has donated, as a thank-offering, money for a white stole, which it is also hoped will be finished by then. The Guild was glad to welcome Mrs. Cotton after her long and serious illness. Miss Chase was commissioned to buy linen for new veils, which will be embroidered by members of the Guild.

Confirmation or the Laying on of Hands

We learn from the Acts of the Apostles that in the early days of the Church, after converts had been baptized, the Apostles used to lay their hands upon them for the further outpouring of the Holy Ghost. It was so in the case of those Samaritans to whom the Acts viii, v. 14 refers. We are told that "when the Apostles, which were at Jerusalem, heard that Samaria had received the Word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John, who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost (for as yet He was fallen upon none of them; only they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus). Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost." It was so also in the case of certain believers at Ephesus, of whom St. Paul asked whether they had received the Holy Ghost when they believed, meaning thereby to inquire whether, after they were baptized, they had received the Laying on of Hands. Their answer showed that they had not received Christian Baptism at all, but had been baptized only with the baptism of John, that is, of John the Baptist, the forerunner of our Lord. Whereupon, by St. Paul's direction, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and then he laid his hands on them; and "the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues and prophesied."

The holy rite of Laying on of Hands has been continued in the Church from the beginning.

The special blessing, then, which we are taught to connect with Confirmation is spiritual strength. If by Baptism we are taken into Christ, and are made to be "in the Lord," by Confirmation we are made to be "strong in the Lord." This is the teaching of Holy Scripture, and of the primitive Church, as Hooker says in those familiar words, "The Fathers everywhere impute to Confirmation that gift of grace of the Holy Spirit, not which makes us first Christian men, but, when we are made such, assisteth us in all virtue, and armeth us against temptation and sin."

As it is with regard to all means of grace and religious ordinances generally, that they are to us very much what we ourselves make them, so it is with Confirmation. If a person comes to it with earnest purpose of heart, offering himself and his life to Christ, not knowing, indeed—as how can he as yet know?—all that self-sacrifice involves, but trusting himself to his Saviour and there is that within him which, if he will fully trust Him, will be an infinite strength—a living Power, which will do for him exceeding abundantly above all that he can ask or think—a Power which will be ever at work within him, destroying, correcting, encouraging, impelling, invigorating him, carrying him on step by step, until he is able to present him perfect in Christ Jesus.

Can any one dare to risk a life without His grace and power. Submit yourself to Him, according to His will and ways and you will know His power. The Bishop of the Diocese will be here on Maundy Thursday evening to confirm. The Rector affectionately invites all, who have not as yet been confirmed to consult with him about this all important matter at once. Do not delay. "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of Salvation."

Patience Guards Faith

Patience is the guardian of faith, the preserver of peace, the cherisher of love, the teacher of humility. Patience governs the flesh, strengthens the spirit, sweetens the temper, stifles anger, extinguishes envy, subdues pride; she bridles the tongue, restrains the hand, tramples upon temptations, endures persecution, consummates martyrdom. Patience produces unity in the church, loyalty in the state, harmony in families and societies; she comforts the poor and moderates the rich; she makes us humble in prosperity, cheerful in adversity, unmoved by calamity and reproach; she teaches us to forgive those who have injured us, and to be the first in asking forgiveness of those whom we have injured; she delights the faithful and invites the unbelieving; she adorns the woman and improves the man; is loved in a child, praised in a young man, admired in an old man; she is beautiful in either sex and every age.—Bishop Horne.

Opportunities Abroad

All thoughtful men agree that we live in critical times—amid great resolutions in thought and in society.

The opening years of this century are laden with problems in regard to this nation that shall determine its future welfare and power. The opportunity is given to the Christian problem, and lay wise foundations for the noblest Christian nation on earth.

Never were grander opportunities given to the Church we love to plant the standard of Christ and our most holy faith, in all the developing sections of our country, or to wield an immense influence in the well-settled centres of population.

In this great crisis in history, the Church bids us learn in this solemn season the chance offered for Christian prayers and gifts, the importance of the hour, and the responsibility to use well an opportunity that once neglected can never return.

By reference to the list of services it will be seen that clergymen from the city and at a distance have agreed to come to Christ Church on Sunday evenings in Lent. It is a great favor that these clergymen are doing the people of the Parish, and it is hoped that the people of Christ Church will show their appreciation by attending these Sunday evening services.

All who attend the daily Lenten Services in the Church are urged to occupy the front pews. It is an advantage in every way that the congregation should be compact and not scattered throughout the Church. At these daily Lenten Services it is very important that all should take part in the singing of the canticles and hymns. Endeavor to come early to these services and devote the time before the service begins to meditation and prayer. Religious reading may be found in the Tulpehocken Street vestibule. This literature may be taken by putting price of book in the alms box.

An Easter Letter from the Rector

Holy Week with its solemn, sacred lesson draws nigh! The glorious Easter dawn will soon light up the darkness that surrounds the Cross and hangs heavily over the tomb and will pour forth its golden rays of eternal hope and joy into every Christian heart. The joy with which we enter into the coming Easter Day will depend upon the way in which we spend these latter days of Lent. No one can enter into the deepest joys of Easter save him who follows Jesus in His sufferings and kneels before the Cross. "It is a faithful saying, for if we be dead with Him, we shall also live with Him; if we suffer, we shall also reign with Him; if we deny Him, He shall also deny us."

On Easter Day, what beauty of holiness, what divine joy, what glimpses of heaven burst full upon the soul of him who has lived and talked and communed with Jesus during these solemn forty days!

Surely, my dear friends, there can be no in in this Parish, who is really a Christian at heart, who will wish to allow to pass by so precious a privilege as now is at hand in these closing days of Lent.

I affectionately urge, therefore, that every member of Christ Church devote the remaining days before Easter to an earnest, conscientious and devout attendance at the services of your Church; that you prayerfully endeavor to lay to heart the solemn, sacred meaning of the lessons of Holy Week; that you practice, during these solemn days, a genuine self-denial that will represent real sacrifice and love and devotion to the Saviour Who has done so much for you, that, in the work of our Prayer Book, you "so search and examine your own consciences, (and that, not lightly, and after the manner of dissemblers with God; but so) that ye may come holy and clean to such a heavenly Feast, * * * and be received as worthy partakers of that Holy Table."

My earnest prayer to God is that there will come to the heart of every member of Christ Church, this Holy Week and Easter Day, a deep conviction of sin, both of omission and commission, a re-consecration of life to the service of our Blessed Lord and an outpouring of the Holy Spirit of God that will possess you and direct you in every good work!

With this prayer from my heart may I not look for every communicant on Easter morning kneeling before the altar in Christ Church?

I can wish you no higher joy nor greater blessing, and I pray that this joy and this blessing, this peace may come this Easter into every Christian home, into every Christian soul in this community.

Affectionately your friend and Rector

Charles Henry Arndt

The Rector has received the following circular letter sent out by the Rector of Calvary Church, Pittsburg, Pa. It is published in the "Chimes" with a hope that it may bring a cordial response to every busy man and woman who may not be able to attend a Church service on Good Friday.

Pittsburg, Pa.

March 9th, 1914

Reverend and Dear Sir:

At the last General Convention a resolution was passed unanimously by the House of Deputies, "Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That we commend to all Christian people the observance of ten minutes' thoughtful silence at three o'clock on Good Friday in recognition and commemoration of the sacrifice and death of the world's Saviour." The House of Bishops adopted the following substitute: "Resolved, the House of Deputies concurring, That we recognize with sympathy the inability of many Christian people to share in the age-long custom of setting apart Good Friday as a day of public and private devotion in commemoration of the sacrifice of our Lord. In view of this fact we call upon them at noon on that day to unite in at least a few minutes of special personal contemplation of Christ crucified." The House of Deputies concurred in the substitute.

Possibly a word of explanation in regard to the motive and meaning of this action of the General Convention may be acceptable to those of the clergy who were not present.

When a President of the United States dies, during his term of office, at the time of his funeral there is a general cessation of business for a few moments throughout the country; the country is silent out of respect for his memory. When the President of a great railway system dies there is a cessation of business in its shops and offices for a few minutes at the hour of his funeral; the system is silent out of respect for his memory. The veterans of the Grand Army observe a few minutes' silence at noon on Memorial Day in commemoration of the death of their comrades. It is the world's way of showing respect. There is no expression of recognition or commemoration of the sacrifice and death of the world's Saviour by the great Christian world. It observes Christmas in recognition of His birth; it very largely observes Easter in commemoration of His resurrection; the Church has its Eucharist and its Good Friday services; but for multitudes of people who call themselves Christians, who believe in Christ, who honor His memory and trust in His atoning death, there is no expression or commemoration of His death which at all corresponds with that of His birth and resurrection. It is hoped that this may appeal to them, that they may feel its reasonableness and appropriateness, and that it may draw them to that larger expression of faith and love which the Church affords; that if it is adopted and observed by our own Church it may appeal to other Christian Communion, as our observance of Christmas and Good Friday has done. It is indeed a little thing, utterly inadequate, but anything would be inadequate, and something is better than nothing. The Reverend Clergy are asked to commend it earnestly to their people, to their Clerical Unions, to the Ministerial Unions of other Christian bodies, to do what they may to "commend it to all Christian people." As no committee was appointed by the Convention to remind the Church of its action, I have ventured to take upon myself the liberty of doing so.

Faithfully yours,

J. H. McIlvaine

Good Friday Services

The services on Good Friday in Christ Church will be Penitential Office, Pro-Anaphora and address at ten o'clock.

A Meditation on the Seven Words from the Cross will be conducted by the Rev. Robert B. Greene, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Norwood, Pa., from noon until three o'clock. Persons attending this service are requested to be in the Church for meditation and prayer before the noon hour. They who find it necessary to leave before the end of the service are requested to do so during the singing of the hymns and not at the time of the Meditations. The offering on Good Friday will be devoted to Church work among the Colored People. Alms plates will be found at the doors.

The Vestry Letter

The Vestry have issued an earnest appeal to all worshippers in Christ Church for a generous Easter offering. Two thousand dollars are needed to meet the deficit for the past year, which must be made up at once and five hundred dollars is asked for to apply on the Parish House debt, making a total of $2500 required at Easter. One thousand dollars was paid off on the Parish House debt during the past year and each year it is desired that there shall be a considerable reduction of the balance of the debt of $6000.

Twenty five hundred dollars is a large sum but it can be raised if every one will give generously.

Let every person who considers Christ Church his or her Church home or who attends the services of this Church, make an extraordinary effort this Easter to give conscientiously an offering which will mean a genuine sacrifice.

Only in this way can the amount be realized. May the Holy Spirit move the hearts of our people to give generously as God has blessed each!

"An Every Member Canvas"

In several churches in this vicinity, the men of the Parishes inaugurated a movement which has been productive of great good, both to the individual members and to the work of the Church. It consists in a personal canvas, by a large body of men, among all the members of the Parish, to enlist the interest of every member, in helping to support, both the mission work of the Church and also the expenses of the Parish.

A comparatively few people give toward the support of its great work and it is believed that every member will wish to do his or her part, if this important matter is brought personally to the attention of each one.

A number of men in Christ Church intend to follow the good example of other parishes and make an "every member canvas," that is to call on every member in Christ Church and ask his or her co-operation during the coming year, in the support of this work. It is not right that any person in the Parish, who attends the services of the Church, or looks to the clergy to minister to them in sickness or trouble or in sorrow, should not have an opportunity of doing their share in support of the Parish. No self-respecting person wants some one else to pay his share and yet, there are a large number in this Parish who are doing nothing, or next to nothing, for this work. Every adult member of the Church, every child in the family should be made to feel his or her personal responsibility and to share in the blessed privilege of helping to some extent, however small, according to their ability.

It is wrong, both in principle and in practice, that the work of the Church should be supported by a few—a wrong to those who give and also to those who do not give. Every one should be made to feel that the responsibility of the spread of Christ's Kingdom on earth belongs to every Christian, not to a few. The Rector, therefore, is in hearty sympathy with this effort on the part of the men of the Parish and asks that every member shall co-operate with this movement.

It is proposed to divide the Parish into districts and to assign to each committee of men a certain number of parishioners to be visited. The Rector feels certain that, not only will these gentlemen be courteously received by the parishioners—which goes without saying—but that every member of the Parish will be interested in this canvas and will pledge something, however small it may be, to the support of the Parish and its philanthropies. The committee ask for other men to volunteer to join them in this canvas, which will be undertaken immediately after Easter. The Rector will be pleased to receive the names of any man who will co-operate in this canvas. Please report to the Rector at once. Further announcements will be made later from the chancel.

Early Communion

(A letter from one of the Laity to Another).

Since you told me that you have never been present at an early celebration of the Holy Communion, the thought has been ever present of you and certain other dear friends whom I do not meet there.

If it were possible to set before your eyes the picture that rises before mine!—the quiet of the early preparations in a house not yet astir—the issuing into the streets, silent, except for other worshippers moving to and fro; the rare beauty of the new day, fresh from the hand of God, undefiled as yet and unspoiled by the deeds of men;—a wonderful revelation in this world of serenity and peace,—a revelation new every morning of this early pilgrimage to the house of God.

And the arrival,—the same, or rather a yet holier, calm brooding over all things; no presence save that of those who are like-minded; no intrusion of curiosity or frivolity; no pang of regret at the departure of those who turn their backs on the altar and the command "This do,"—nothing to come between the disciple and the Master. About you are those who are weary and heavy laden,—those who have climbed up hither out of a life so immersed in worldly cares or concerns that only this constant return to the mount of vision can keep in sight that which is invisible: the man of business and affairs,—the over-taxed professional worker; the woman whose daily cares and anxieties would dry up the springs of her life but for the never-failing fountain which fills and refreshes her soul.

Here, too, are those who are under the shadow of bereavement. In the first anguish of parting they have come to meet at the altar that dear soul who is nearer to-day than ever in the flesh.

Here, too, are those whose hearts overflow with joy at the great deliverance that has been granted them, or the new happiness that crowns their lives; their feet have been turned hither to join in the sacrifice of thanksgiving that can best express their gladness.

Those also are about you whose pathway is tangled, perplexed and dark; what lies before them, what course to choose, they cannot tell; they have come to inquire of the Lord,—where else should they seek light and guidance but here?

Here are those who are struggling in the net of a habit that has bound them so fast that by themselves they cannot get forth, and who seek the touch of the Divine Hand to break their bonds asunder; those who are fainting in the glow of a fierce temptation, and know that out of that furnace their souls can never come alive unless the Son of God walk with them in the midst of the fire.

And here also are those whose hearts bear the burdens of others,—the need, the sorrow, or the sin of some dear one—the unbelief of some noble soul whose strength is coveted for the Master's service,—the darkness and wretchedness and guilt of a city, a nation, a world redeemed, but not yet made perfect in holiness.

Such is the group that kneel here in this sacred quiet to confess their unworthiness, emptiness, helplessness and need. To them the word of absolution and peace is spoken; for them the feast is spread and the sacrifice set forth in the holy mysteries.

Here they find all that they seek, in the Sacrament that assures them of their oneness with the Lord; here is strength for the weak, comfort for the sorrowful, light and guidance for the perplexed, shelter and peace for the storm-tossed.

To those who go home thus refreshed and strengthened by the Body and Blood of their Divine Lord, how strange would seem the uncomprehending cry: "O, I do not feel good enough to make those frequent communions—I shouldn't dare to go—one cannot be expected to live on this plane."

As well might one say, "I am weak and run down, I could not take food frequently." Such an utterance is that of a soul too near spiritual starvation to have left in it any wholesome longing for the Bread of Life or the Cup of Salvation. Let it rather draw near, eat and live, and gather strength and grace for every need. "O taste and see that the Lord is good." So shall renewed desire for the blessed comfort of those gracious mysteries be ours.

Church Periodical Club

The following is an extract from a letter received from the recipient of one of the periodicals now being sent; it speaks for itself of the benefits of this great work:

The President of Margaret College in Kentucky writes:

"Certainly, I for one, do appreciate the work of your society. It has meant a great deal to us here in College; it has meant a great deal to our school in Corbin; it has meant a great deal to our mountain missionaries. I do not think we can overestimate the value and importance of the work of distributing papers, magazines and books to those who otherwise might not have the opportunity of getting hold of them. It is always the little things that accomplish the big things in life. The sources of inspiration which lead to higher living, are nearly always obscure. They are hidden in the bosoms of those who alone know. Very seldom are they revealed. So much of the work that your society does cannot in the very nature of things make a showing where it may be seen of men. But it isn't any less effective for that reason. From my own limited experience I can testify that your work has led to the salvation of souls and has been blessed of God. And so I congratulate the C. P. C.

"It takes faith to be a zealous worker in the C. P. C., simply because in the very nature of things one sees so little of the results accomplished. Probably 95 per cent. of the good you do is never revealed. But that it is nevertheless accomplished we believe from the fruit that is manifested to those who are on the field and see from time to time the out-cropping."

When we are asked to be Confirmed we are not asked chiefly to give up something, or to believe something, or profess something, but the great demand is that we shall be something, and do something to show what we are and make ourselves be that more completely.

Easter Memorial Flowers

The flowers in the Chancel on Easter Day will all be memorials to the blessed dead. Persons in the congregation who wish to have flowers in the Chancel on Easter in memory of friends who rest in Paradise are cordially invited to send blooming plants or cut flowers to the Parish House on Saturday noon.

Names of senders are requested to be attached. Persons who wish to forward money contributions for flowers may send the same either to the Rector or to Mrs. H. R. Baremore, Cliveden Ave. and Jefferson St. Flowers will be purchased by the Altar Guild and the memorials will be placed on the altar.

Contributions are requested to be sent as soon as possible that an early selection of flowers may be made.

The Mothers Meeting

As the account of the annual dinner did not reach the printer in time for the previous issue of the "Chimes," we take this opportunity to say that it was a success and that there were eighteen Mothers seated at the table to enjoy the good things provided by the generosity of our kind friends.

Miss Collison and John Arndt kindly furnished the music for the feast.

At present we are having read aloud to us Pollyanna, the glad Book, and are thoroughly enjoying its quaint humor.

Orders are still being filled for rugs, towels and aprons and we urge our interested friends in the Parish to give us their orders for these useful articles that we may have as large an Easter Offering as possible.

Boys' Brigade

Company No. 11, First Penna. Regiment, of the United Boys' Brigade of America.

Object:

To extend the spirit of Christian boyhood, to teach patriotism and good citizenship; to foster and stimulate courage, honor, self-reliance, and hardiness, through military drill and training.

It meets every Friday night at 7.45 o'clock in the Parish House. Any boy at least 12 years of age shall be eligible for membership.

We need uniforms. They cost $5.00 each. Every boy has been urged to hustle about, and make an earnest effort to raise $2.50 each or half the cost of a uniform. Some have done so, no doubt others will. After sent we will all work hard and endeavor to raise a sum large enough to cover the cost of the uniforms and other things urgently needed for the life of the Brigade.

The Boys' Brigade is trying to solve the boy problem of the Parish. Two things are needed:

(1) More boys.

(2) What is sadly lacking—the interest of the Parishioners of Christ Church.

If there is a person who does not believe in the Brigade he is cordially invited to attend a meeting on Friday night, and we guarantee that if you are not no winterested in the moral and spiritual welfare of the youth of Germantown you will be before you leave.

New Charter and By-Laws for Christ Church

The Charter of Christ Church was granted in 1853 and until the present time has not been amended in any particular.

It now seems desirable to the Vestry to amend the Charter so as to permit such persons as contribute to the support of the Church through the envelope system, to have a voice in the selection of the Vestry—a privilege which has heretofore been confined solely to those renting pews or sittings.

While it is desirable that all regular worshippers should rent a pew or sitting it is apparent that for various reasons some do not find it convenient to do so, and when such persons contribute regularly to the support of the Church they are entitled to a voice in its management.

The Vestry therefore, with the consent of the Diocesan Convention, have applied to the Court for privilege to amend the Charter and we are assured that this permission will be granted by the Court on March 30th, so that the Easter Monday Election for Vestrymen will be held under the amended Charter.

The amended article follows:

Article 6

"The Vestry shall consist of twelve men, to be chosen by election from those duly qualified to vote thereat. Said election shall be by ballot and shall be held on Easter Monday in each and every year between such hours and upon such notice as the by-laws of said Church may provide; and those only shall be entitled to vote thereat who are communicant members of said Church, of lawful age, and who, as shown by the books of the Church, shall have paid respectively for and towards its support and maintenance for the period of at least two years next preceding any such election annual subscriptions of not less than ten dollars each, or the like sum in annual rental of pew or sitting during the said period. Said Vestrymen shall be elected to serve for the following terms: at the election next to be held after the adoption hereof four thereof shall be elected to serve until Easter Monday of the year 1915, and thereafter until their successors have been elected; four thereof shall be elected to serve until Easter Monday of the year 1916, and thereafter until their successors have been elected; and four thereof shall be elected to serve until Easter Monday of the year 1917, and thereafter until their successors have been elected; and at each annual election thereafter four vestrymen shall be elected to serve until the third Easter Monday thereafter and until their successors have been elected. The vote of a plurality of the qualified electors voting at any such election shall be requisite for the election of any vestrymen."

It will be noticed that women as well as men are entitled to vote.

It was thought best to extend the privilege of voting only to those whose annual contribution to the support of the Church amounted to, at least, ten dollars either in envelope contribution or in pew rent, (which is equivalent to less than twenty cents a Sunday or three cents a day), this annual contribution or payment having been made for at least two years prior to the election at which the vote is offered.

It was also decided to arrange for the annual election of four vestrymen to serve for three years, thereby giving more stability to the body and complying with the almost universal practice among churches of our communion.

At the election to be held on Easter Monday next twelve vestrymen will be elected, four to serve for three years, four for two years and four for one year. Hereafter at the Easter Monday Elections four vestrymen will be elected annually to serve for three years.

In order that the congregation may be fully posted in regard to the candidates for election to the Vestry the following by-law was adopted:

(By-Law I. Section 8

"Any qualified elector of this Parish may nominate for the office of Vestryman one or more duly qualified persons to be voted for at the next succeeding annual election, all such nominations must be made in writing and delivered to the Secretary at least ten days prior to such election, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary to post the names of all such nominees in the Southeast vestibule of the Church at least two Sundays prior to the holding of such election, and no person not so nominated shall be a candidate."

This will take effect at the same time as the Amendment to the Charter, so that candidates for the next Easter Monday Election for Vestrymen must be nominated in accordance with its provisions.

Francis B. Faulkner,
Secretary of the Vestry

Women's Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church held its regular monthly meeting in the Parish House on Thursday, March the fifth, at 10.00 o'clock.

There were about ten present to listen to one of the most appealing talks by Mr. Thurber, a young man who has given up his whole time and attention to a work among a class of Virginia Mountaineers, living for ages in the fastnesses of the Appalachian range, only a few miles from the White Sulphur Springs where fashion and wealth have gathered year after year, and yet these people, especially the young generation growing up do not know the name of Washington or have an idea of the appearance of the American flag and alas; worse than all this never heard the Gospel of Christ. The laws of Virginia do not reach them from a point of education, nor do they seem equal to taking care of them from a social or moral standpoint, so this young man, with the aid of an elderly woman and her sister are striving to build up a plant there for the moral and religious uplift of the boys, who seem to be the most neglected.

Of course he wanted assistance; money to enlarge their tiny quarters, and the power to bring more boys into the fold and make good men for future citizens.

The Auxiliary immediately went to work to try and raise even a small amount to help along so splendid a cause, championed by so earnest and spiritual a leader as Mr. Thurber.

The Auxiliary is not encouraged by large numbers as it was last year, yet the promises made must be kept, thus letting the great work and responsibility fall upon a few. Does this seem fair to throw your duty, dear parishioner, on your more faithful neighbor?

The Society meets and will meet every Thursday morning at ten o'clock make an extra effort to join the workers. You will find a hearty welcome awaiting you.

Junior Chapter No. 575

Meetings in April:

Tuesday, April 14 and 28 at 7.45 P. M.

Corporate Communion, Sunday, April 19, at 7.30 A. M.

Members of the Chapter have been doing good work in a quiet way. We have good material and enthusiasm, which are requisite for a live chapter.

There are several other fellows in the Parish over 14 years who should be doing the work of the Brotherhood. They had better give this matter serious thought.

There are two Rules:

(1) The Rule of Prayer i. e. to pray daily for the spread of Christ's kingdom among boys.

(2) To try each week to bring someone nearer to Christ through His Church.

After the business meetings the fellows make use of the "gym."

Boys 14 years and over think this over.

Christ Church Club

As the club meets but once a month the Lenten work is of a different character than that of most of the societies of the Parish. For several years past the club has sent $10.00 to Bishop Scadding, of Oregon. This amount is given by the members of the club and is sufficient to keep open for one year one of the silent Churches of Oregon. The churches were built some time ago but the amount of appropriation made it impossible for all to remain open for service.

The club has also been taking an interest in a certain poor family and food, coal and articles of clothing have been sent to them.

Miss Marguerite Brooks has returned to our ranks and was warmly welcomed by the members.

A Special Missionary Service

The Germantown and Chestnut Hill branches of the Woman's Auxiliary will hold a service, for the New China Fund, in Christ Church on Wednesday, April 22, 1914 at 10.30 A. M. It is hoped that the Bishop will be with us at this service. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion and an address by the Rev. Arthur M. Sherman, formerly of China, now in charge of the New China Fund.

As the Lenten Classes have been studying "The Emergency in China," this service should be a fitting close of the year's work.

Those of us who have read Mr. Sherman's interesting articles on China in the "Spirit of Missions," will be glad to hear his address upon a subject on which he is so well informed.

The New China Fund is being formed to meet the changed state of affairs brought about by the recent Revolution; in other words; to assist our Missionaries in "The Emergency in China."

It is hoped that Christ Church will be well represented at this service.

Junior Auxiliary

Owing to the bad weather we have been having lately there has not been a very large attendance at the meetings of the Junior Auxiliary.

We have a new treasurer, Miss Grace Gerhard, as our last one cannot be with us any more.

We are working hard to have our sewing ready for the Spring Box.

Subscriptions to the "Chimes" have been received from

Miss Fell

Mrs. Samuel Jackson

Mr. Gerhardt

Mr. Fred H. Belfield

This brings the total list of subscribers up to 96. This is a splendid showing but hardly enough to guarantee the publishing of the paper for the entire year. As usual at this season the editors are facing a deficit and there are several numbers still to be issued. Parishioners who have not sent in subscriptions should do so at once and any contributions toward the maintenance of the paper will be greatly appreciated. Subscriptions and contributions should be sent to the Rector or to the Business Editor, S. V. Wilcox, 82 W. Johnson St.

Confirmation and Communicants' Service

The Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese, will confirm in Christ Church on Maundy Thursday evening, April 9th at eight o'clock.

His address will be, especially to Communicants, preparing them for the Easter Communion. Every communicant member of Christ Church Parish should be present at this service. It will be a privilege, which no communicant can afford to miss, to receive preparation for the Holy Communion from so spiritually minded a man as Bishop Rhinelander.

It is hoped that every communicant will avail himself of this privilege. It is hoped that not one communicant of Christ Church Parish will be absent on Maundy Thursday evening.

Daughters of the King

Although we have been somewhat handicapped by the illness of our Vice President, Mrs. Arndt, we have held our regular meetings. There were 4 of the members at the local Assembly on the 17th of February, held in the city at St. Simeon's Church. Mrs. Arndt was missed very much at the meeting, as Diocesan President and presiding officer.

We are now doing some Lenten Sewing and hope to have Mrs. Arndt at our next meeting, and hope to have some new members to welcome her.

E. L. M.

The Guild Choir has added its help to the Lenten services and despite the unusually unclement weather during the first half of the Lenten season has missed but two services and are also taking the alternate Wednesday evening service in order to help out the regular choir who are working very hard over their Easter music.

The Church of the Sacraments

It is a characteristic feature of the Episcopal Church that she is the "Church of the Sacraments." Other Christian bodies believe in and use them, but they do not lay as much emphasis upon them as this Church does. They have no Sacramental system. In the Church, the Clergy in their sermons are constantly instructing, counselling and pleading for their faithful use. They estimate the spiritual progress of their Parishes in the number of Baptisms, the number admitted to the Holy Communion by Confirmation, and the total number of persons who faithfully and frequently commune. The first thing that attracts the eye as one enters one of our church buildings is the altar, not, as among other Christian bodies, a pulpit. The font stands where it ever invites attendants to come to Baptism, and is a constant reminder of the vows already resting on those who have felt its water on their foreheads.

We believe in the Sacraments—those outward, visible signs of an inward, spiritual grace; bonds of fellowship, tokens of a covenant, signs of a close and intimate union between each soul and its Saviour—Sacraments that are full of the power of life because they are full of Christ.

The following article is from the pen of the late Bishop Thompson:

"Man himself, in this world, is a sort of Sacrament—an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace." A spirit clothed in matter his spirit must be reached through matter. He must be approached through fleshy doors. Spiritual powers, to tell upon him, must come clothed. The very articulate bonds by which he expresses his spiritual ideas are a kind of universal Sacrament, The written page, or the printed one, where black lines and letters clothe his thought, is the same. All the powers of the great unseen world of spirits that spreads away around him, reveal themselves to him in some tangible coverings. So only can these powers affect him. God himself, when revealing purely spiritual truth, submits to the necessity of His creature, and makes the relation in His creature's speech or writing. But, for the necessities of man, the Sacrament of speech is not enough. He cannot express the highest and even the best of human ideas by speech alone. He forms for those ideas the signs and symbols of some expressive acts; or he adopts some emblem, more eloquent in its silence than any words. Friend meets friend after a long absence. There are words enough by which to express gladness and sympathy and good wishes. But will mere words content them? Do we not know that in such an hour words utterly fail? The emotions of the heart demand a sign, and we have made it. The Sacrament of the clasped hands (we speak it reverently) is the only thing that can begin to express the thought. Or, the father meets a returned son. Will words satisfy to express his emotions? The hands laid in blessing upon bowed head can alone fitly symbolize parental love. The heart demands the outward sign of the inward feeling, and the tongue is dumb perforce.

So, among ourselves, we have made these human Sacraments signs and embodiments of human feelings for human good. We have clothed the expression of all our loves in signs. Language fails man again and again. it will not embody his idea; it will not express his love; it will not reveal his sentiment. He flies to symbols then; he creates outward signs of great inward realities. He does not demand very costly elements either for these signs. The most common thing will answer. The more common, generally, the better. The sign should have the least value, that the mind may remain undisturbed in contemplating the thing signified. He takes a poor cheap rag. He colors it with cheap color. He puts it on a pole. He makes it the symbol of his patriotism. It means love of country. It means loyalty, honor. He follows it through the storm of battle. He charges up heights, slippery with blood, where it leads the way. He staggers with it through the pelting hail of rifle shots, and falls with it, clasping it in his arms in death, dying to save it from dishonor. Does he die for the rag upon the pole? According to what one often hears talked about the Sacrament, he does. But we know that he does not. The flag is (reverently we say it) the nation's Sacrament. It stands for all the loves and thoughts and feelings that cluster about the mother-land. He bravely dies for the great unseen realities that flag expresses.

"No, the matter of our human Sacraments may be very mean. It may be very cheap to the thoughtless or the stranger. It may be some worn-out old ring, never shown to common eyes. Common eyes would see no value in it. A dollar would buy a better, it is so worn and tarnished. But it is lost one day. The owner offers a great reward. Among all the jeweller's cunning skill there is nothing so valued as that old old ring. It is the sign and symbol of a great reality to him who prized it so greatly—the Sacrament of some friendship or some love that blessed his life with a great blessing long ago.

The mother keeps among her hidden treasures some remembrance of a dear child transplanted into Paradise. How many mothers do, for Rachel still is weeping for her children. It is only a tattered little dress, a small shoe, may be, with the impress of the little feet, that ceased to patter in the upper rooms long since, upon it yet. It is a thing utterly valueless in your eyes or mine, but gold cannot buy it from her. There is a quick convulsive moment as she grasps it, and another tear that stains it as she reverently lays it back again—her little Sacrament of maternal love—and murmurs. "It was my darling child's."

No, words cannot measure human thought or human feeling. Man for ever insists on creating Sacraments. He stands dumb till the eloquence of the symbol speaks his heart out and stirs the hearts of others.

So, we say, if God gives us a religion, it will surely be a Sacramental religion, because he knows man's needs. So Christianity has its Sacraments, where the thing that is visible to the eye is common and plain; where the thing invisible is the priceless gift of God. God clothes His unseen blessings in these signs. Words cannot express His love, His pity, His grace to the soul of man. So, for man's good, He adopts man's other speech and conveys the mercies of His measureless goodness by Sacramental sign.

Junior Chapter No. 575

Meetings in May:

Tuesday, May 12 and 26 at 7.45 P. M.

There are quite a number of small improvements to be made in and about the Parish. These the boys have enthusiastically undertaken to accomplish. The members of the Chapter have started to fix up the Church tennis courts, and hope to have them in a fairly good condition in the near future.

The Chapter will be glad to receive suggestions.

D. B. C.

Some Things Needed

Will not some person or persons give or raise about $100.00 for an electric Vacuum cleaner for the church? This is very much needed and will be a great aid in keeping the interior of the Church in a clean condition. The Property Committee will welcome any suggestions or help towards acquiring it.

The Property Committee would like to plant trees along the McCallum Street side of the Church property and also on Tulpehocken Street. This will cost about $75.00 and is an opportunity for some person to do much to beautify the Church property. Further particulars may be had by applying to the chairman,

Keith R. Rodney

Daughters of the King

The Lenten work undertaken by the Daughters of the King this year was for the Inasmuch Mission. Twelve garments were made for the men.

The regular meetings have been held—one business and one devotional meeting a month, as well as the special meetings. Twenty-six visits were reported. On May 4th our chapter accepted an invitation from St. Barnabas chapter, and enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

On May 12th the Local Assembly meeting of the Diocese was held at St. Andrew's Church, 8th and Spruce Sts. The afternoon was given to hearing the reports of the chapters for the past year. In the evening we held our usual service when we were privileged to have as preacher the Rev. Louis C. Washburn, D. D.

E. L. M.

A very interesting Men's meeting was held in the Parish House on Friday evening, May 8th, when an edifying address was given by Mr. B. J. Doyle on "Religion in Business and Business in Religion." Addresses were also made by Messrs R. H. Morris, Jonas Westling, H. W. Amerling, L. H. Schaeffer, Keith R. Rodney and the Rector. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Alexander R. Cheston. After the addresses, refreshments and cigars were served by a Committee of ladies to whom a vote of thanks was given for kindness and hospitality. Members of the Choir furnished music for the occasion and hearty singing on the part of all present made the occasion a very pleasant and enjoyable one. The Committee on arrangements consisted of Messrs. Cheston, Cox and Lawrence.

Mr. O. N. Middleton was elected President of the Club and Mr. C. H. Jackson, Vice President, for the ensuing year. The club adjourned to meet on Friday evening, October 9th, when an interesting program will be arranged and all men in the Parish are cordially invited to be present. Don't forget the date, Friday evening, October 9th.

The Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary held its last meeting of the season on May 8th. We have been making garments for the Indian babies in the Cheyenne River District and included in our work baptismal outfits. We have packed our box which contains a very choice lot this season.

The Mothers' Meeting

After working since last November, we were able to present an offering of thirty-five dollars at Easter. Half of this was given for the expenses of the Parish and half was for our Missionary Apportionment. While this was not so large an offering as the previous year, it must be remembered that we gave ten dollars for materials for the Bazaar, and that all our work until November, was done for the Bazaar.

Next November, and each ensuing Autumn, we shall hold a sale of aprons, dish and roller towels, rag rugs, iron holders and useful household necessities. We hope that our friends will just bear this in mind, and when replenishing their stock in the Autumn, will wait for the Mothers' Meeting Sale.

We have finished reading the delightful story "Pollyanna" and can heartily recommend it to our friends.

The last meeting for the season of 1913-14 will held the second week in May at the home of Directress Mrs. Morrison and it is hoped that every member will be there. Cards announcing the exact date will be mailed later.

The Duplex Envelope System and the Every Member Canvas

There has been so much written and spoken of late about the advantages derived from the proper development of the duplex envelope system that any more talk on this subject seems more than superfluous. So I am not going to bore anyone with any more arguments in favor of the system, or indulge in plagiarism for I believe no original arguments could be coined, so thoroughly has the matter been thrashed out. But to my mind the most complete and convincing argument in favor of the plan is the make up of the committee who volunteered to do the necessary canvassing, and the enthusiasm with which they have pressed their work.

These twenty-two men are all active business men who have seen what advantages should accrue from such a canvas, and have done their part thoroughly. The result should be an ample income for all parochial expenses and besides the reasonable amount asked of us by the Board of Missions for the purpose of extending the word of God at home and abroad. Persons who have not yet responded by subscribing through the envelope system are cordially invited to procure pledge cards, which may be had in the vestibules of the church, and indicate the amounts they are willing to give, and place the cards on the plate at a Sunday service or mail same to the Rector.

Women's Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church was held on Thursday, May the 7th at 10 o'clock in the Parish House.

The principal business of the meeting was to distribute the money among the various diocesan committees and to arrange a time in the near future to pack the boxes, the results of the winter's work.

The great discouragement of the winter has been the very small attendance at our meetings which of course is a lack of interest or seemingly so.

The discussion arose as to how to avoid a similar condition next season. The chairman, Mrs. Morrison, suggested that an awakening might be brought about by personal visits; that the only way to know people was to know them in their homes. All summer is before us to think out some effective plans for a successful winter, suggestions of any kind are most desirable.

With all our lack of helpers we are able to send away an outfit for the Rosebud Reservation in South Dakota, and clothing of all kinds for men, women and children for the Appalachian Industrial School at Penland, North Carolina.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jeffries

On Sunday afternoon, March 22nd, the one hundred and first anniversary of her birth, God called to Himself the soul of Mrs. Elizabeth Jeffries, widow of Edwin Jeffries, a former Accounting Warden and for twenty five years a vestryman of Christ Church. She was a woman of remarkable physical and mental activity, interested in many charities and always abounding in good works. Like God's prophet of old, to the day of her death, "her eye was not dim nor her natural force abated." Whilst, in her last will and testament, she generously remembered many Christian Institutions and charities, she did not wait until after her death to bestow her benefactions on others but during her life she was generous in her gifts, kind to the poor, thoughtful of those in need and loyal in the support of her Church and missions.

Though she is taken away from earth, by her generous provisions for hospitals, institutions for the poor, missions of the Church and her own Parish Church, of which she was for many years a devoted member, her memory lives on and her good deeds continue, blessing others and bringing nearer to earth the Kingdom of Heaven.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord: for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Mrs. Jeffries Will

By the Will of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Jeffries a bequest of $30,000 was made to Trustees, to be known as the Edwin Jeffries Fund," as a memorial to the husband of the testatrix, who was for many years a communicant in, and Vestryman of the Church.

The terms of the trust are that the Trustees shall "securely invest the fund and expend only the income arising therefrom toward the support and maintenance of the said Church," and by a Codicil to the Will the testatrix directs that "out of the income * * * the chime of bells shall be kept in good repair, be insured and properly rung."

A number of questions have been asked by parishioners respecting the legacy among them. "The time when it will become applicable; the purpose for which it may be used and the amount of income which it will produce."

The legacy will not be payable until the expiration of one year from the death of the testatrix, and during that year no income will accrue to the Church. Only at the expiration of the year, upon the filing of the account by the Executors, will the amount of the legacy be awarded to the Trustees, who must then invest it so as to produce an income. The investments would probably produce no income until the expiration of six months after they were made, so that the Church will not be particularly benefitted by the legacy for about a year and a half at least, and will probably not be in receipt of income upon the entire fund for about two years.

The only restriction upon the use of the income is that out of it shall be paid the cost of the maintenance, insurance and ringing of the bells, an expenditure which the testatrix bore in her lifetime. The balance of the income will be generally applicable to the support and maintenance of the Church.

The collateral inheritance tax upon this legacy is directed to be paid out of the estate. The Trustees will, therefore, receive the full legacy of $30,000, which should produce after the payment of the expenses of the trust about $1400 per annum payable to the Church.

From the above statement it will readily be seen that for a year and a half at least the financing of the Church must be conducted upon the same basis as though no legacy had been given. In fact the Church will be deprived of the generous and helpful contributions to its support, which the testatrix so freely made in her lifetime, and must, until the receipt of income from the legacy, pay out of its current funds for the maintenance, insurance and ringing of the bells.

The yield of the legacy to the Church over and above pew rent and contributions of the testatrix toward the support of the parish and the ringing of the bells, will probably be about $600. In other words, there will result from this legacy when it is finally invested an increase in the income of the parish (upon its present basis) of about $600 per annum.

Easter Offering

The offering on Easter Day amounted to $1350.00. Considering that several large amounts of previous years were not received this Easter, the offering is an exceedingly generous one, coming as it did, from a large number of persons in the parish who gave most liberally according to their ability. It goes to show that by far the larger number of members of Christ Church are most generous and conscientious supporters of the Church and its missions. Each year the giving is becoming more and more general in its scope and now includes almost every member of the Parish. It is gratifying to note the marked increase of the spirit of Christian generosity and the rapidly lessening numbers who are not meeting their personal responsibilities and sharing in the glorious privilege of helping — according as God has blessed each one—in the spread of the Kingdom of God. May God speed the day when the word that our Lord said to the faithful woman, may be said unto each one of us, "she has done what she could."

My dear Editor:

Whatever our shortcomings as a school—we certainly do respond loyally to any meritorious appeal. When Mr. Morgan asked that we give one Sunday offering to the "Saturday Outings for Poor Children," we hoped we might respond with sufficient for one car load (100 children).

Instead of the $13.00 expected for one car load, I am much pleased to report $26.00 as the offering of our School and I know every member will rejoice that by our united efforts, two hundred little "Poor Children" of our city, will be made happy in The Park, for at least one day. I have just received the official notice from Mr. Geo. W. Jacobs, Treasurer, that our Lenten offering of $125.77 had been duly and thankfully received.

If all our efforts for the increase of knowledge of our Risen Lord and Saviour and the spread of His kingdom, were as enthusiastic and consistent as our giving, what an influence in this community we should be.

Boys' Brigade

A sham battle and parade were the two events which marked the progress of the Company during the past month. It is rumored that Christ Church Company made the best showing while on parade. This speaks well for both officers and privates. Second Lt. Else has officially become connected with the Company, having been appointed by 1st Lt. Williams.

Sunday evening, May 31st, will be Boys' night at Christ Church. The Company together with others will assemble in uniform to attend this service. A strenuous effort should be made by every member to bring at least another boy. The address will be delivered by the Rev. John A. Carr, of St. James' Church, Bristol, Pa.

A fair will be held by the boys early in June, the proceeds will be used in furthering the Company's work.

The Brigade has proved its usefulness, and is here to stay. If parents and parishioners will co-operate with the Company it will prove a blessing not only to the members and parish but also to the community at large.

P. F. W.

Special Service for Boys and Young Men

A special service for boys and young men, under the auspices of the Company of Boys' Brigade of Christ Church will be held in the Church on Sunday evening, May 31st. The members of the Brigade are requested to appear in uniform at the Parish House at 7.30 sharp and be ready to march into the church in a body at 7.40. The service will begin at 7.45. It is expected that Christ Church Company will be joined by other Companies of the Brigade in Germantown.

A cordial invitation is extended to all men and boys in the vicinity to attend this service on Sunday evening, May 31st. The Rector has invited the Rev. John A. Carr, Rector of St. James' Church, Bristol, to deliver the address.

On Friday evening, May 8th the members of the Choir were hospitably entertained in the Parish House by Colonel and Mrs. Potter. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner and after the refreshments were served all who shared in the pleasure of the evening voted to Colonel and Mrs. Potter a sincere appreciation of their kindness.

The Embroidery Guild which meets weekly, held its last meeting for the season on Monday, May 11th.

The Guild was started at the beginning of the year by Miss Bessie D. Chase. Any member of the congregation who could embroider was invited to join. Only about half a dozen responded, but they have every reason to feel encouraged and justly proud of the work accomplished. A Burse and Veil presented by Mrs. J. H. Graeff, as a memorial, and a stole, the materials given by the Altar Guild and Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. Mogridge and Mrs. Topliffe Johnson. It is hoped when the Guild re-opens in the Fall there will be many others who will be willing to join, as the Church needs many more vestments than the few now belonging to the Guild are able to make.

Poor Children's Outing Fund

Following the custom of several years past an offering will be taken in Christ Church on Sunday, June 21st for the Poor Children's Outing Fund. This most worthy charity has always met with a sympathetic and generous response on the part of our people and of all who have at heart the interest of children, and it is hoped that the offering this year will be sufficient to send a large number of poor children from the hot city streets and courts and alleys—together with their tired mothers who need the change—into the country where they may enjoy its pure air and wholesome food for a week and sometimes longer.

It has been the Rector's custom to procure from societies, which work among the tenement regions of our city, the names of some of the poorest and most deserving children, whom he personally visits in their so-called "homes" and is thus enabled to meet many of these children and also their parents, to counsel them and, often times, to minister to them spiritually. This work is a most blessed privilege and its far-reaching results cannot be estimated. The good bestowed and the extent of the benefactions are limited only by the unworthiness of those of us who minister and the insufficiency of the means in hand.

The following personal letter from the Bedford Street Mission has just been received by the Rector. Similar letters are at hand from other charitable organizations in the city.

Rev. Charles Henry Arndt,

Germantown

Dear Friend:

The approach of summer sets us planning for our Fresh Air Work and naturally we wonder if our treasury will be equal to the demands that will surely be made upon it.

But why be anxious about funds?

Providence which has never failed us in the past will surely supply our needs in the future.

I want to thank you and express our appreciation of the generous help that you have extended to us in the years gone by in this special department of our Mission.

As you are well aware, we take the puny ill-fed children from the alleys and tenements into some of which a ray of sunshine never enters and put them where they can revel in it to their hearts' content. We give them an abundance of wholesome food and comfortable, well ventilated sleeping rooms.

Can you imagine what it means to a child who generally satisfies its hunger with a slice of bread to sit down three times a day to a well-spread table and to get enough each time? They frequently reply when we ask them if they liked it out in the country: "Oh, it was fine and maybe the eats wasn't good!"

We do not limit the children to one week, but try to be guided by the needs of the case.

Last year, from one family whose home was one small room, we sent three brothers on opening day and kept them till camp closed.

From another, one boy was sent and from another two little girls were our guests the entire season.

All these were children of widows, one under treatment for lung trouble.

I'm sure that all the friends who made it possible for you to aid this work would be fully satisfied that their gifts had reached those for whom they were intended, could they peep into the dining rooms of our boys' camp and our girls' cottage at meal time.

I am sending you a few names of children whom I would like you to visit if possible for I know you like to see them in their own homes. The children and parents whom you visit are always glad to see you.

Yours truly,

Mary E. Boyd

It was with great regret that the Vestry accepted the resignation of Mr. William R. Pugh as Accounting Warden. The following resolution was unanimously passed:

Resolved: That the thanks of the Vestry be tendered to Mr. W. R. Pugh for his faithful and conscientious service as Accounting Warden for so many years and that we hereby express our sincere regret that he feels it necessary to resign that position which he has so acceptably filled.

Worship in Summer

Let us not forget in these beautiful summer days, when so many leave their city homes for the country or the mountain or the ocean shore—let us not forget in our life of free and easy abandon, that our Christian obligations rest upon us in summer quite as much as they do in winter. Wherever Churchmen may be they will never forget that God and His worship come first—and all things else afterward.

"Look through nature to nature's God." The Rector would commend these words of Pope's in his "Essay on man," to every one who will seek, during these coming months, to get away from the city life, for at least a few days and come in close touch with nature.

Bryant has told us that:

"To him who in the love of nature hold Communion with her visible form, she speaks a various language."

If we carry about with us the spirit-of Jesus Christ, which we receive by frequent and regular communions with Him,—as He has commanded us to do—we will be in God's presence and will see His face and will hear His voice wherever we are or go.

Our perception are opened to spiritual things and our temperament becomes more responsive to spiritual influence the more and more we come in communion with Christ. We may be in heaven here today, this hour, if we be in communion with Christ. We are in the spiritual, heavenly life now. We are dwelling in the body as an instrument through which the spirit must work in a physical world. We are of spirit, but embodied. Does not this realization invest this part of our life with a new dignity, as well as a new responsibility? This world, so far as it is anything, is a spiritual world now, though in a cruder and lower state of development than that which the spirit enters after leaving the body. But the forces that govern it are of the spirit, for there is no force but spirit. The life of vegetation is but the dawning of spiritual life. It is all under the great law of evolution.

To live truly and see clearly in this world of spiritual forces; to discern our appointed way and hearken to the divine voice that attends each one of us; to discover and to follow the divine ideal that is set before us is to attain success in life. This is the only true success. All else without its realization, is failure. It is failure to suppose that happiness is conditioned by possessions or surroundings. It is failure to think that happiness is not to be attained here and now but to be postponed to some future life. The happiness of heaven begins here and now in Christ; and it will be continued hereafter in fuller and higher measure to those who enter into it now. "This is life eternal" says Christ, to know Thee the only God through Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent." That means, that we are brought into a heavenly environment here and now and our heavenly happiness may begin here and now. The power is in ourselves, given to us by God; if we find Him not, if we hear Him not, the fault is our own, not God's. It should, therefore, be our effort to see in this beautiful world about us the goodness and the mercy of God; to feel that "in Him we live and move and have our being;" to live in touch with all this divine life that, once gained, offers to us that which eye has not seen nor mind conceived—the infinite wonder and beauty and joy of spirituality.

Only as life is held receptive to these divine influences does it become great; only as one lives in this atmosphere of spirituality does he enter into true happiness and joy.

Six months ago the Rector invited the Rev. H. S. Ruth to serve as curate until after the completion of his studies at the Philadelphia Divinity School, when, it was understood, his Bishop would expect him to return to his own diocese of Fon du Lac. During Mr. Ruth's short stay in this Parish he has made many friends and has done a good work among us. All his friends in Christ Church unite in wishing him God-speed in his new field of labor. The following letter from Mr. Ruth is handed to the Rector for publication in the "Chimes."

A few months ago you cordially welcomed the new Curate. "He was a stranger" and "you took him in." He became one of you. He is no longer a stranger. You have become a part of him.

Truly sensible of the bigness and importance of the work in this portion of God's Church, yet he feels obliged to return to the Bishop to whom he first responded to the call to the ministry.

He has watered where others have planted, anticipating in God's good time the increase.

You have made his work pleasant by your thoughtfulness and consideration. Your hospitality has enriched his vision of parochial courtesy.

Indeed thankful God sent him to you, he gladly writes,

Affectionately yours,

Harry Stanley Ruth

Poor Children's Outing Fund

The Rector wishes to thank the people of the Parish who have contributed so generously to the Poor Children's Outing Fund. The amount of contributions to date is $109.23, which will provide some forty or more poor children from the slums of the city with a week's outing in the country, where they will enjoy the fresh, pure air and be fed on wholesome food—great luxuries to children whose lives are lived amid most miserable conditions. The Rector has visited a number of these so called "homes" during the past two weeks and has selected the children, who seemed to be in the greatest need of a change of food and environment. There are many more worthy children who might be sent, if the funds were in hand. Two dollars and thirty cents will send one child into the country for one week. Persons who desire to assist in this worthy charity may do so by sending their contributions to the Accounting Warden, Mr. J. I. Morrison, 635 Westview Ave., Germantown.

Parish Notes

Notice

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

Summer Services

The Sunday services during the summer months will be at the usual hours, viz. Every Sunday, 7.30 A. M., 11.00 A. M. and 7.45 P. M. The eleven o'clock service will consist of Morning Prayer, only, with sermon, except on the first Sunday of the month when the service will consist of Holy Communion and sermon. The Sunday evening service will be shortened form of Evening Prayer with an address.

On Saints Days there will be celebration of the Holy Communion at the usual hour, 9.30 A. M. Evening Prayer on Friday afternoon will be omitted during the summer.

Since the electric light system has been installed in Christ Church, the temperature of the Church is much cooler, the high roof of the Church together with the excellent system of ventilation, make Christ Church one of the coolest and most comfortable churches in Germantown.

The services during the summer will be in charge of the Rev. Robert Magee Beckett. Mr. Beckett has recently been curate at St. Simeon's, Philadelphia, where he did a splendid work. Mr. Beckett will preach every Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service and on Sunday evening will give a short address. At the evening service there will be one lesson read and hymns, familiar to all, will be sung.

Persons who may be in need of the service of a clergyman may apply at the rectory at any time during the summer and they will receive Mr. Beckett's prompt attention.

Remember that your work comes only moment by moment, and as surely as God calls you to work, he gives the strength to do it. Do not think in the morning, "How shall I go through this day? I have such-and-such work to do, and persons to see, and I have not the strength for it." No, you have not, for you do not need it. Each moment, as you need it, the strength will come; only do not look forward an hour for what you expect. At any rate, you will be borne through each needful and rightful thing "on eagles' wings." Do not worry yourself with misgivings; take each thing quietly.—F. D. Maurice.

Christ Church Club

In acknowledgement of $10.00 sent to the Oregon Associate Mission, the late Bishop Scadding wrote the following letter to the Club under date of May 4th.

"Thank you for your kind note, and contribution of $10.00 for our work from the Christ Church Club. Kindly thank them for me.

Yesterday I confirmed 14 adults in this mission (Medford, Oregon) which was one of our "Silent Churches" but is now responding well to the work of our missionary.

We cannot stand still in Oregon. To attempt to do so would be to fall behind. I know of no field where contributions for missionary enterprise will find quicker returns than here. The motto of the State is "Oregon flies with its own wings" and we are trying hard to effect this in the diocese.

With best wishes for the prosperity of your club.

Faithfully yours,

(Signed) Charles Scadding."

Election of officers was held at the July meeting and the following were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Miss Mabel C. Robinson, President; Miss Elsie M. Moore, Vice President; Miss Martha J. Insinger, Secretary; and Miss Esther Alexander, Treasurer. To serve on the Executive Committee, with the officers, Mrs. Samuel N. Baxter was elected.

Boys' Brigade

It was good to see nearly 100 members of the Boys' Brigade in uniform at the special service in Christ Church on Sunday evening, May 31st.

The Rev. Mr. Carr, of Bristol, Pa., knew just what to say, and he said it so plainly that every boy was able to carry away a helpful message.

Not only have the boys appeared well in Church, but they should themselves capable of making a Strawberry Festival a big success. The Girls

Friendly and the Brigade worked splendidly together, and consequently the treasuries of both societies are fuller.

The Annual Encampment of all the Companies of the Boys' Brigade will be held this year at Pitman Grove, for ten days from July 3rd. Full details may be had from the officers.

Parents are co-operating with the officers in making this organization worth while. Next Fall and Winter great things should be done.

Report of Neighborhood Athletic Association

Tennis? Sure! Ready in a minute!

This, and many other similar and appropriate exclamations are the often heard slogans and by-words in this vicinity, since the organization of the Neighborhood Athletic Association of the Christ Church of Germantown.

On Saturday, June the sixth, the adjoining vacant property of the Parish House of this Church was formally thrown open to the use of its neighbors with light refreshments, sports and a general sociable good time.

For the last few years many of us living near this Church have looked with longing and envious eyes at this property, which although full of great possibilities, has gone unused. And now through the foresight and broad-mindedness of a few loyal members of this Church we have been permitted to enter within its open gates and fulfill our longings and desires.

The nucleus of the present Association met for the first time, for the purpose of organization in this Parish House on Friday, May 22nd. From the very start a successful prophecy of the future of the Association could readily be made judging only from the general response to an invitation nailed to a nearby tree, inviting all ages to be present at its beginnings.

Owing to the high range of age limits of those attending, it was deemed best to divide the organization into a Senior and a Junior division.

The Junior meeting on the same afternoon effectually organized their Division with the election of officers and the discussion of such important topics as dues, membership and other subjects. Howard Feist was chosen as their President and their other officers are as follows:

Vice President—Marjorie Howell

Secretary—Bertha Armiston

Treasurer—Grace Gerhardt

Although we all realize that the younger people are desirous of having their own officers and the control of their own affairs it was decided best that the President of the Seniors should be the active head of the entire Association.

To hold this office and to uphold the future welfare of this Society we congratulate ourselves that we have so wisely chosen a man of high ability, and of deepest interest in the success of our Association as Mr. Geo. Faust.

Of no less importance in the performance of their duties and no less ambitious in their spirit for our future are the other officers whom have been elected as follows:

Vice President—Dorothy Howell

Secretary—Frances O'Brien

Treasurer—Edith Quay

Chairman of Committees—Arthur Boyd.

Chairman, Executive Committee—Mrs. Belfield

Though tennis is the all absorbing topic of the present season it is expected that in time we will have facilities for other sports as Basket Ball, Croquet, Hand-ball and various social functions and activities throughout the year.

And so while we are young and full of life and growing, we number over fifty members and we, who have already taken a wise step by joining the Neighborhood Association, extend to all in our vicinity a hearty invitation to come and unite with us in this opportunity to pursue and gain, health, strength and neighborliness.

Meetings are held on the last Thursday of each month in the Parish House.

(Signed) W. Harvey Perkins

To be bereft of an ideal is worse than death. Death may be the putting on of an ideal, the crowning of life with all its hopes and possibilities. But to have nothing to live for, to see nothing in life, only vagueness, emptiness, inanimation, languor and ennui, is a living death. Better a death crowned with a hopeful ideal, with all the glories of the immortal life before it, than to let the energies waste and rust in aimless, purposeless existence. But why should any life be aimless in a world such as this? There is room in it for every voice. There is a path in it for every foot, there is a work for every hand. There are hearts waiting to respond to every word of love. There are parched lips waiting for the cup of cold water. There are tottering, blind spirits feeling their way over troubled pathways needing the guidance of eyes that can see. There are victims to vice whom the song might lead to Jesus. There are warped and twisted tenements where penury has refused to release its pitiless grasp, where the prayer and the ready help would be as blessed as the footsteps of the Great Comforter on the streets of Capernum. There is no need for emptiness of life in this world. From every soul paths radiate, like the spokes of a wheel, paths of opportunity along any one of which we may walk to the glorification of God.

Sunday School

The very successful series of lessons on the Life of Christ came to an end on Sunday June 21. These lessons have been continued through the Fall, Winter and Spring sessions and have been unusually attractive, the interest having been sustained for more than thirty Sundays.

With the service on June 28 the regular summer course will commence. Short sessions every Sunday morning with good music, interesting talks and illustrated lectures on Missions will hold the scholars through the hot weather and up to the middle of September when with Rally Sunday the regular teaching of the lessons will be taken up again.

On Saturday June 13 the Primary Department enjoyed their annual Picnic on the Rectory grounds.

Flag Day was recognized on Sunday, June 14, by appropriate services which included a March by the Primary Department, the little ones singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," the salute to the Flag by the members of the Boys Brigade in uniform, a recitation "My Flag and your Flag," and the singing of the Rector's Hymn "Hail to the Flag."

The Sunday School Picnic will be held on Wednesday, July 8, at Willow Grove Park.

Daughters of the King

On the 25th of May a delegation from the Chapter took the garments we had had during Lent down to the "Inasmuch" Mission. We were very kindly received and stayed to a very interesting service, showing what a wonderful work the Mission is doing among the so-called "down and outs" of the city.

We were glad to have Mrs. Arndt with us again and hope she will return in the fall fully restored to health.

We are going to meet during the summer on our regular night at the home of Mrs. Geo. S. Wertsner's, No. 7 Herman Street to make books, cards and other articles for the Hospital.

E. L. M.

The Mother's Meeting

The last meeting before dispersing for the summer, was held at the home of Mrs. Morrison.

After a stroll about the yard and gardens, there was music indoors, followed by something more substantial, sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee.

The members of the Meeting gave Mrs. Rowley and Mrs. Morrison each a beautiful cut glass bowl. A short summary of the year's work was read, and hoping that it may interest some of the readers of the "Chimes" we give the statement below:

Receipts

Balance from last year	$23.85
Cash received	55.90
Total	$79.75

Expenses

For materials, etc.	$22.47
Easter Offering	35.00
For the Bazaar	10.00
Total	$67.47

Balance on hand	$12.28
-----------------------	---------

While the amount received was not so large as last year, it must be remembered that a great deal of our work was sold at the Labor Day booth in the Bazaar which was in charge of the Sunday afternoon Bible Class and the Mothers Meeting. This booth contributed seventy-five dollars towards the total amount received at the fair.

The attendance while not any larger than in previous years, has on the whole been more regular. Before saying good-bye for the summer, many of the members promised to be more regular than in the past and to try to persuade others to come and share our pleasant Tuesday afternoons, to which everyone is made most heartily welcome.

Strawberry Festival

The Strawberry Festival which was under the management of the Girls' Friendly and the Boys Brigade was a great success. The weather man was especially kindly in providing one of the warmest days of the year. No one wanted to stay indoors and nearly everybody needed ice cream, few objecting to the strawberries.

Five hundred tickets were issued and it has been said by careful observers that apparently no one stayed away.

The corner of the grounds where the soft drinks were dispensed under the watchful eyes of the Boys Brigade was a popular quarter and repeated hurry calls had to be sent out for additional supplies.

The Boys gave an exhibition drill on the Tennis Courts which though not very good for the courts was much enjoyed by the visitors.

A nine seated touring car kindly provided by the Washington Lane Garage was used by all the young people.

The short excursions were the source of much pleasure and the management do say that the profit was not inconsiderable.

The social part of the meeting was much in evidence. Many of the older members taking advantage of the opportunity to make plans for the further development of the many societies connected with the church.

Too much praise cannot be given to the Girls' Friendly and the Boys Brigade for their earnest work in making this Festival a success.

M. P. M.

As this will be the last issue of the Chimes until October, when the various societies of the Parish resume active work, it is an appropriate time to give a brief summary of the finances of the paper for the past year. For the nine issues since last October, the Chimes cost $80.50 or less than $10 per issue. This includes special numbers when many extra copies were distributed. Against this expenditure we have an income of $57.40 through subscriptions and contributions, leaving a deficit of $23.10. We are anxious to meet this deficit at once and would appreciate contributions from individuals or from the Parish Societies.

Remittance should be sent to the Rector or to the Business Editor, S. V. Wilcox, 82 W. Johnson St.

On May 12th Mr. John Shyrock, Director of the Incarnation Chapter, Broad and Jefferson Streets, with his Jr. Chapter visited our Chapter, encouraging us and making several valuable suggestions.

We resolved Mr. Ruth should not leave Christ Church without a permanent recognition of "our working together." At the last meeting he attended the Chapter presented him with a "Book of Officers for use on special occasions,"

Monthly meetings of the Chapter will continue throughout the summer months on the 2nd Tuesday.

New members are cordially invited to attend.

This is the last issue of the Chimes until the Fall. This issue is delayed, from an unavoidable cause and there have been a number of inquiries made by interested friends and many have expressed a hope that the publication of the Chimes is not to be discontinued.

This is the end of the twelve years of the continuous publication of the Chimes. There are few Parish papers in the country that have had as long a continuous publication. At the end of each year there has always been a deficit. The burden of this deficit has generally fallen upon one person in the Parish.

It is, however, doubtful if the Chimes will be continued to be published next fall, unless some good friends in the Parish will guarantee that, if there be the usual deficit at the end of the year, the burden will be shared by them and not allowed to be borne by one. It is hoped that some generous persons will indicate their willingness to be among this number. otherwise it is not probable that the "Chimes" will be continued to be published.

The Business Editor, Mr. Stanley Wilcox, West Johnson Street will be pleased to hear from them.

A Message from the Board of Missions

At a meeting of the Board of Missions on May 13th the Treasurer reported that the income to May 1, 1914, was $21,043 larger than to May 1, 1913. The Board is grateful for this evidence of the growing missionary spirit of the of the Church. On the other hand, it cannot forget that the appropriations for the year 1913-14 are necessarily larger than they were last year so that the financial situation continues to give much anxiety. The Board desires to share its knowledge of the facts with every member of every congregation in the Church. It therefore adopted the following resolutions:

"Resolved: That the Board of Missions assembled to make appropriations for the general missionary work for the year, 1914-15, finds the Church facing a grave financial situation.

The Board gratefully recognizes the loyal co-operation of many of the men, women and children of the Church without whose devotion and offerings it would have been impossible for the missionary work at home and abroad to reach its present extent and efficiency.

Nevertheless, the Board feels bound to present to the Church the following statement of facts:

The accumulated deficit on September 1, 1913 was $197,294

The appropriations for the current fiscal year from September 1, 1913 to September 1, 1914 amount to $1,458,739

If the people of the Church give as they gave last year the total deficit on September 1, 1914 will be .. $322,317

This deficit will have arisen in spite of the fact that current appropriations do not make adequate provision even for the natural growth of the Church's existing work.

The deficit hitherto has been carried on the credit of the Domestic & Foreign Missionary Society, supported by the reserve fund created to protect the Society's credit in time of emergency. This basis of credit is being rapidly exhausted. Should it be exhausted, nothing will intervene between the missionary work of the Church and bankruptcy except the generous loyalty of all the people of the Church."

"Resolved: That the Board of Missions send a copy of the foregoing statement to every Bishop of the Church and request him to lay the facts before every congregation in his jurisdiction, either in the form of this statement or of a pastoral letter or in such form as he shall think best."

Accompanying the above letter from the Board of Missions the Bishop has sent the following appeal to the clergy of this Diocese.

Reverend and dear Brother:

I enclose a brief statement issued by the Board of Missions, which will explain itself. It shows a very serious situation which the Church is facing. I believe that the situation has arisen largely because so many of our people do not know the facts. If the facts were widely published, and were really brought home to the minds and consciences of all our Communicants, I think this great reproach and burden would be removed almost at once. With this thought in view, and in accordance with the Resolution passed by the Board of Missions last month, I write to ask you to bring the facts, as stated in the enclosed circular, to the attention of your congregation, adding such comments or explanation as may seem wise to you.

Faithfully yours,

P. M. Rhinelander

Bishop of Pennsylvania

Although our Parish has contributed more largely to missions during the past year than we have for a great many years past, we have not yet equalled our apportionments, owing to the fact that a number of our parishioners do not contribute to Missions through the envelope system.

It is hoped all who do not do so, will begin at once and thus help to realize our parochial apportionment to missions so that the Board of Missions of the Church will be loyally supported in its efforts to meet the necessary expenses of the Missionary work of the Church.

Summer Expenses

During past summers your Accounting Warden has been unable to keep the current expenses paid because of the falling off in receipts, and if members of the Parish would kindly make their offerings in advance before leaving for summer vacations, it will be very greatly appreciated. This is a small sum for each one, but in the aggregate will be a great help toward carrying on our financial arrangements.

The Remembrance of the Dead

Our sleeping dead, O Lord, are gone to Thee,
To be forever more in tranquil rest;
Grant that, O Lord, we may with them be blest,
And with them, all Thy endless glory
see.
O ever living, loving God, set free
Our souls from every vain and worthless guest;
To be with Thee, be that our soul
behest;
With Thee in time, as in eternity:
Then with our dead shall we be blest
indeed,
And with them live in heaven, while here below;
And with them too, in heavenly rapture grow;
For, while on earth, we shall from earth be freed,

And all our life will be a path to go Where we, with them, Thy joys shall ever know.

The Foreward Look

Earnest men and women to-day have little time for looking backward. Facing the future, they "forget the things which are behind," and looking forward in hopeful anticipation to the marvelous possibilities of "the things which are before." Paul's picture is striking and vivid. The runner, after a rigid course of training, now that the race has begun, attends to only one thing. Forgetting that part of the course already passed over, he strains every muscle, exerts every physical power, to the accomplishment of a single purpose—to reach the goal and win the prize.

An old deacon was accustomed to offer this prayer: "Help us to forget that we ought not to remember, and to remember what we ought not to forget." A wise forgetfulness of some things that are past is helpful to progress. He who is pursuing with all energy the great purpose of life, cannot afford to have his attention diverted. The slow and painful effort by which the alphabet was mastered is for the scholar a thing of the past, to be forgotten. Forgiven sins need not be remembered after we have learned a lesson from the manner in which we were overtaken. Forget your enmities, the faults and peculiarities of others, the annoyances of life, the disagreeable things of the past; but remember past mercies and comforts and joys. Whatsoever things are lovely and of good report think on these things. Do not glory in the good deeds of the past, but devote all the energy to greater achievements, looking forward to a future that is bright with promise for all earnest souls.

Never brood over thyself; never stop short in thyself; but cast thy whole self, even this very care which distresseth thee, upon God. Be not anxious about little things, if thou wouldst learn to trust God with thine all. Act upon faith in little things; commit thy daily cares and anxieties to Him; and He will strengthen thy faith for any greater trials. Rather give thy whole self into God's hands, and so trust Him to take care of thee in all lesser things, as being His for His own sake, whose thou art.—E. B. Pusey.

The kindliness of silence is something we might all bestow much often-er than we do. Granted that we do not indulge in scandal, that when we know of the distress and humiliation that has befallen a friend's household in the wrong-doing of one of its members we tell the tale only pityingly and with every extenuating circumstance, yet why tell it at all? If it were one of our beloved that had stumbled into sin and disgrace, if one dear to us had yielded to sudden temptation, if our home had been rent with bitterness and dissension, would not the first impulse, a right and natural impulse, be to hide the hurt and stain from every human eye? Would we not bless the friendship that so far as possible closed its eyes and sealed its lips, and that could be trusted not to repeat what it perforce had seen and heard? Surely this is a place where the Golden Rule might have much wider practice than it has—the shielding of others by silence as we would have our own shielded.

Don't be content with spending all your time on your faults, but try to get a step nearer to God. It is not He who is far away from us, but we from Him. If you ask me the best means to persevere, I would say, if you have succeeded in getting hold of Almighty God's hand, don't let it go. Keep hold by constantly renewing ejaculatory prayers to Him, acts of desire, and the seeking to please Him in little things. —Mother Francis Raphaetl.

The European War

The awful war, which is raging in Europe, is but the outcome of conditions which have long obtained among the nations. It is but the reaping of the harvest of pride, envy and jealousy, selfishness—in short, it is the result of sin.

This war, which is at last visible, has been really proceeding for at least a generation. The continual piling up of armaments, the building of frontier fortresses, the mortgaging of future industry to pay for vast and untried fleets, the buying and selling of secret official plans and memoranda, the capturing of spies, the underhand influence of the press—all these are the fruit and evidence of a perpetual war which has been none the less war because it has been sardonically presented to the world in the guise of a guarantee of peace.

This monstrous growth of militarism must fall if civilization is to endure. It is falling now, and the more complete and costly its death-throes, and the more of dynastic jealousies and "divine" rights it pulls down and buries with it, the freer will the field be for the growth of a real peace which can only have its roots in the brotherhood of man.

Peace we want, but it must be a peace, not a mere absence of actual hostilities covering a seething depth of suspicion, hatred, envy and fear. If by miracle the marching hosts could be turned back today; if no hunting ships of prey could be drawn home to their own coasts; if the emperors who have claimed divine sanction for their appeals to men could be suddenly brought to countermand their wanton orders for war and destruction, it remains a miserable certainty that the state of armed tension would yet exist, the garrisons on international boundaries would not be reduced, the making of guns and explosives would not cease, the toil of the farmer and mechanic would still be taxed more and more heavily for the upkeep of these monstrous armies and gold-braided general staffs, and the tension would simply continue to grow—with an added cause of distrust in the recently demonstrated futility of international guarantees or national promises.

As long as any nation or any sovereign in Europe retains the power or the will to devastate an unoffending neighbor, as Germany has done to Belgium, or to plunge a continent into war without warning, as Austria has done to Europe, so long is any peace in the real sense of the word a social impossibility. Peace, yes!—but not a peace which bears within its bosom the seeds of perpetual war, whether hidden or open. Peace, again yes! but not a peace which is simply the ingenious balancing on the point of the bayonet a soap-bubble which is bound to burst.

Out of this destruction may yet come forth brotherhood. The people of Germany do not hate the people of France any more than the people of England hate the people of Austria. And perhaps when the princes and the war-cabinets and the monster guns and the high-power explosives and the bomb-dropping aeroplanes have thoroughly and absolutely demonstrated their incapacity to preserve peace or to promote international amity the peoples will take the matter into their own hands. Let it be this peace, full, final and fruitful, that we plead for in our prayers, and not that mere mockery of peace which has so long gone by its name.

A Day of Intercession for Peace

In devout recognition of the dependence of the people and the rulers of the nations upon the guidance and wisdom of Almighty God, the President of the United States has called the people of this country to prayer and has designated Sunday, the fourth of October, as a Day of Intercession for Peace. It is a timely summons to which we give reverent response.

This Sunday will, therefore, be observed in Christ Church, both morning and evening, by a special service of Prayer and Intercession for Peace. As elsewhere is announced in the Chimes this Church will be open daily, until further notice from eight o'clock in the morning to half past five in the afternoon for private prayer. Special prayers for peace will be found in the Rector's notes of this issue. There should be a devout and fervent outpouring of prayer to God, on behalf of all Christian people, that God will open the eyes of the people and those who in His name are entrusted with the authority of government to see and understand their Christian duty and to hasten to bring about an honorable peace among the nations.

This Church will be open every day, until further notice, from 8.00 A. M. to 5.50 P. M. for private prayer and intercession for Peace.

Prayers for Daily Use

Let thy merciful ear, O Lord, be open to the prayers of thy humble servants, and that they may obtain their petitions, make them to ask such things as shall please Thee. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on the face of the earth, who in Thy Holy Word hast taught us that One is our Father, even God, and that all we are brethren.

We pray Thee in this dark hour of international strife that Thou wilt open the eyes of the people and those who in Thy Name are interested with the authority of governance, to see and understand their right and true relation to Thee, and, through Thee, to one another.

Teach them by Thy Spirit that hatred and violence are not strength but weakness; that the true safeguarding of a nation is not to be found in the weapons of war, but in those eternal principles which make for righteousness and truth and brotherhood and peace.

For the Sick and Wounded

Almighty God, who dost look down in fatherly love upon all Thy children; We beseech The to hear our humble prayers for those who shall suffer in the war which is now raging. Give them, we pray Thee, the consolations of Thy grace; heal the sick, comfort the wounded, minister to the dying, and bind up the broken heart. All this we ask through the mediation of Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For those who Minister

O Merciful God, whose blessed Son went about doing good, uphold with Thy strength and grace those who in loving-kindness are serving the wounded and the sick. Grant to the ministers of Thy Gospel faithfulness and love; to thy physicians and surgeons, wisdom and skill; to the nurses, sympathy and patience, and we beseech Thee to protect and bless them in all their dangers, anxieties, and labors. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For those in Need

O Heavenly Father, who by Thy blessed Son hast taught us to ask of Thee our daily bread, have compassion on those who through this war are brought to poverty or hunger. Relieve their distress; make plain the way of help; and grant Thy grace unto us, so that we may bear each others burdens according to Thy will. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Bring, we pray Thee, to a speedy end this international strife, and hasten the time when peace shall flourish out of the earth, and all shall dwell together in unity and love, and war shall be no more. We ask it in the Name of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Almighty God and Heavenly Father, who hast promised through Thy Son Jesus Christ to be with Thy Church to the end of the world; We humbly pray that Thou wilt so quicken and strengthen us with the consciousness of Thy Presence, that in Thy Light we may see right, and may both perceive and know what things we ought to do to serve the peace of the world, and also may have grace and power faithfully to fulfill the same. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Almighty God, who canst bring good out of evil, and who makest even the wrath of man to turn to Thy praise: We beseech Thee so to order and dispose the issue of this war, that it may result in a true and lasting peace and the the nations of the world may be united in a firmer fellowship for the promotion of Thy glory and the good of all mankind. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Most Gracious God, we humbly beseech Thee, as for the people of these United States in general, so especially for Thy servant, the President, and all others in authority; that Thou wouldst be pleased to direct and prosper all their consultations to the advancement of Thy glory, the good of Thy Church, the safety, honor, and welfare of Thy people; that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety, may be established among us for all generations. All which we humbly ask through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom with Thee and the Holy Ghost be honor and glory, world without end. Amen.

O Almighty God, who alone canst order the unruly wills and affections of sinful men, grant unto Thy people that they may love the things which Thou commandest and desire that which Thou dost promise; that so among the sundry and manifold changes of the world, our hearts may surely there be fixed where true joys are to be found. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Almighty God, the fountain of all wisdom, who knowest our necessities before we ask, and our ignorance in asking; We beseech Thee to have compassion upon our infirmities; and these things which for our unworthiness we dare not and for our blindness we cannot ask, vouchsafe to give us for the worthiness of Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Lord bless us, and keep us. The Lord make his face to shine upon us, and be gracious unto us. The Lord lift up his countenance upon us, and give us peace, both now and evermore. Amen.

The Rector desires to call the attention of all persons to the various societies in the Parish which afford opportunities for Christian work. Among the first and most important is the Sunday School. Parents should see to it that their children be rightly instructed in the Bible and be brought into the Church. To this end, Christ Church Sunday School, which meets every Sunday morning at quarter to ten, welcomes all young people to join its classes and calls for adult men and women to connect themselves with the school and assist in this great and important work of instructing the young. Faithful teachers are in urgent need and the Rector cordially invites men and women to offer their services to the school during the coming winter. The Rector will be glad to meet, after Church, any who are willing to volunteer their services.

The various other Guilds of the Parish, such as the Womens Missionary Society, the Choir Guild, the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the Daughters of the King, the Girls' Friendly Society, the Mother's Meeting, the Neighborhood Club for men, the Boys' Brigade, the Vestment Guild, the Altar Guild, the Athletic Association all are open to new comers and extend a cordial welcome to unite in membership. The officers of the Societies or either of the Clergy will be pleased to give further information to any who may apply.

A Contrast

Two persons meet the Rector—both on the same day. One tells him that during the past year "things have not gone prosperously with him," "he has had a rather hard time of it!" several ventures have not turned out as he had expected, etc., etc." This person, therefore, began to look around to see where he can "economize" and begins with "economizing with God."—he cuts down his church "expenses" and his attendance at the House of God.

The other person has met with reverses during the past year—even more serious than the other. He, however, is made of different "stuff" than the first individual. "The last place that I shall economize is with God."—says he. "I need God and He needs me, more now than ever before." "I may lose my money but I won't lose my self-respect, nor my Church, nor my God!" "You will see me in Christ Church more often this winter than ever before and I intend to do more for God and His Church than I have ever done before in my life!"

The above conversation took place this fall between the Rector and two persons on the same day, at different hours. The Rector intends to watch the career of these two friends during the coming year. He will pray that both these persons may be relieved of all anxiety, and may be blessed by God. Which of these two will be the happier during the coming year, which will receive the greater blessing?

There is no doubt in the Rector's mind, which it will be—but he intends to pray and watch.

Notice to New-Comers

There have recently moved into this vicinity a large number of persons who are unattached to any Church. They are procrastinating from day to day identifying themselves to the Church and have become, or are becoming, indifferent to the worship of God and thereby are losing the benefits and blessings of public worship. Others have become "floaters" from Church to Church and have no Church which they can call their Church Home. The Rector affectionately urges all new comers in this vicinity to make themselves known to the clergy of their Parish, who will be pleased to call on them at their homes and to cordially welcome them to the services and membership of Christ Church. The Clergy may be seen after any service or a card sent to the Rector, at 59 W. Tulpehocken Street, will meet with prompt response.

Sunday School

The Sunday School "Rally Sunday" was celebrated on 16th Sunday after Trinity, September 27. Most of the scholars and teachers were back in their places—but we missed several faithful ones and hope to see them soon.

The attendance has been so good during the Summer sessions that there is every promise of an unusually busy Sunday School during the Fall and Winter.

On Sunday October 4th the regular teaching of the lesson will be resumed.

The Acts of the Apostles and the history of the early church is the subject selected and promises to be a very interesting series of lessons.

It is proposed that the teachers and older scholars shall hold corporate communion on First Sunday in October. Breakfast will then be served in the Parish House and few short addresses will be given during the breakfast hour on the duties and privileges of teachers.

It is believed that this will be a fitting and beneficial commencement to the regular course of the Sunday School.

The illustrated talks on Missions have been so successful and entertaining that an effort will be made to continue these without however interfering with the teaching of the Sunday lesson.

The third Sunday in each month will be reserved for the catechising of the Senior Department of the school by the Rector.

Arrangements have been made for a series of entertainments by the older scholars and during the Winter three old time socials will be held.

Women's Bible Class

A very successful Bible Class for Women meets in the Parish House every Sunday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock. This class is under the efficient instruction of Mrs. Henry R. Baremore and affords an exceptional opportunity to all women in the Parish for a systematic study of the Bible. The class resumes its sessions on Sunday afternoon, October 1th, at three o'clock. Women are cordially invited to attend.

Boys' Brigade

On July 3rd, 1914, Co. 11 U. B. B. A. left Christ Church Parish House for the annual encampment of the Boys' Brigade at Pitsman, N. J.

The routine of the camp was as follows: Reveille at 6.00 A. M., 6.10 First call, 6.15 Assembly, when the roll was called and the details assigned for the day. 7 o'clock Mess and good, plain, wholesome food was served to the boys. 7.30 Drill till 9 o'clock when recall was sounded. Then till five o'clock the boys did as they pleased. 6.30 Dress parade. 9.30 Call to quarters, 9.45 Tattoo. 10 o'clocks taps.

During swimming hours there were always 2 or 3 officers detailed to see that everything was all right. We had a physician and a fully equipped Hospital Corps to take care of any accidents that might occur.

There were plenty of things for the boys to amuse themselves with and then for one evening they amused about 2000 people of Pittman and the neighboring towns. It was a big sham battle. The boys were divided into two parts. One was the Mexicans and the other was the Americans. Needless to say the Mexicans were completely routed.

Our Co. was the junior company of the Regiment and they gave the crack company a very close run for first place in Military matters. Next year there is no reason why we should not get first place.

All boys 12 years and over are invited to come around to the Parish house any Friday night and get the particulars of the organization. We try to give to boys a military training as far as it is possibly with boys, and you can nearly always tell such a boy by the way he will answer a question you may happen to ask him.

Paul F. Williams

Lieut Commanding

(A report has come to the Rector that the members of Christ Church Brigade were especially noted for their good discipline and courteous behavior.)

Memorial Altar Flowers

The Altar Society, have charge of placing on the Altar the flowers given by members of the Parish in memory of their departed friends. This beautiful custom of remembering at the altar the dear ones who rest in Paradise has been observed in this Parish for many years and any in the Parish who wish to have the names of their friends on this "Memorial List" are invited to consult with the Rector and he will be pleased to assign them a Sunday nearest to the anniversary of the marriage, or birth, or death of their "Blessed Dead." After the Sunday service the flowers are sent to the sick in the Parish or to Hospitals.

That the congregation may know, each Sunday, in whose memory the flowers are, a list of the names departed will be published from month to month in the "Chimes."

On the "days of remembrance" it will be sweet to come to God's House and in His presence to recall the loving memory of dear ones whom we have "loved long since and lost awhile;" to kneel before the altar and to feel their nearness and to unite with them and all God's Saints in one common worship—"knit together in one Communion and Fellowship in the Mystical Body of Christ our Lord."

The one misery of man is self-will, the one secret of blessedness is the conquest over our own wills. To yield them up to God is rest and peace. What disturbs us in this world is not "trouble" but our opposition to trouble. The true source of all that frets and irritates, and wears away our lives, is not in external things, but in the resistance of our wills to the will of God expressed by external things.—Alexander MacLaren.

In Heaven God's will is done, and the Master teaches the child to ask that the will may be done on earth just as in heaven; in the spirit of adoring submission and ready obedience. Because the will of God is the glory of heaven, the doing of it is the blessedness of heaven. As the will is done, the kingdom of heaven comes into the heart.—Andrew Murray.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

On Sept. 22, the chapter of Christ Church opened its session with a large number present.

The regular meetings will be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 8.00 P. M. in the Parish House. The corporate communion will be held at 7.30 A. M. on the third Sunday of each month and everybody is invited to attend.

Notice is here given that on Tuesday, October 13 an election for a Treasurer will take place to fill the office left vacant by the resignation of Robert Brigham; and all members are urged to attend.

Reginald Graff and Arthur Boyd were appointed to serve as ushers on Sunday evenings till next meeting. William Morrison and Henry Ritter were appointed to give out the Christ Church "Chimes" at the Church doors.

H. S. R.

Entertainment Thursday, October 29

On Thursday evening, October 29, the boys of the S. S. C. assisted by the Boys' Brigade will give two sketches in the Parish House. One will be a Suffragette play entitled "How the Vote was won." The other will be "The Merchant of Venice," (Slightly revised). These plays will be under the direction of Miss Martha Noyes, of the Noyes Dramatic School, 1720 Chestnut Street. Tickets may be had from any member of the Sunday School. Proceeds will be toward the expense of publishing the "Chimes."

It is the desire of the various societies of the Parish to utilize the splendid stage and auditorium in the House quite frequently this winter for plays and entertainments. The attendance at this first effort should be large so that the players will be encouraged to proceed with their plans for more pretentious plays to follow.

Choir Notes

Our choir made their annual visit to the Eastern Penitentiary, Sunday, September 13th.

Holding a praise service of song. Warden McKenty congratulated us on the tonal quality, saying he could distinguish the words of the anthems at extreme end of each corridor. Rev. Mr. Welsh the chaplain also made an address of welcome, saying, he was always glad to hear us sing, because we entered into it with our whole heart. It is very encouraging to the choir to be encouraged. If by our service we touched but one heart, we will be more than repaid.

Trusting that our Parish will always remember us in their prayers to be a success at all services in which we take part, for which we sacrifice our thought and time, is the earnest wish and prayers of the Choir.

M. L. M.

Choir Notes

After the vacation season, the choirsters are returning rapidly including new members in its soprano choir.

We would like more Altos and Basses, and those who would like to learn church music and take an interest in the church work will be made welcome on any Friday evening, at 8.00 o'clock rehearsal.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Warren Lightcap has tendered his resignation, and hope he will be as successful in his new field as he was with us.

In Mr. Lightcap's place, we have the services of Mr. Hood, as well as the services of the Misses Quay and O'Brien.

The second Sunday in November the choir will render Gaul's Holy City.

E. L. C.

The Rev. Robert M. Beckett, who has acceptably taken charge of the services during the Rector's vacation, has been invited to remain in Christ Church Parish as the Rector's Curate. Mr. Beckett has until recently been curate in S. Simeon's Church, Philadelphia and was previously engaged in Missionary work in the Diocese of Wyoming. The Rector bespeaks for Mr. Beckett a cordial welcome among the people of Christ Church Parish.

The Mother's Meeting

Our first meeting for the coming season will be held on Thursday, October the thirteenth, in the Parish House.

All former members are urged to be there and new members are cordially invited to join us.

Plans for the Winters work will be proposed and we hope to begin with renewed enthusiasm after the Summers' rest.

Our friends in the Parish who are house-keepers, in replenishing their stock of aprons, dish towels, kitchen rugs and iron holders, are reminded that the Mothers Meeting can furnish them with these articles at very reasonable prices and of much better quality than can be purchased in the stores.

"No Cigarette Smoking by my Employees"

Says Thomas A. Edison

That cigarette smoking is highly injurious both to mind and body is the opinion of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor. He employs hundreds of men, but not one of them is a cigarette smoker. The following letter is commended to young men and boys who are given to smoking cigarettes. It shows how a practical scientist regards the matter. The letter is as follows:

From the Laboratory of Thomas A. Edison:

Orange, N. J., April 26, 1914
Friend Ford:

The injurious agent in cigarettes comes principally from the burning paper wrapper. The substance thereby formed is called "Acrolein." It has a violent action on the nerve centers, producing degeneration of the cells of the brain, which is quite rapid among boys. Unlike most narcotics this degeneration is permanent and uncontrollable. I employ no person who smokes cigarettes.

Yours,
Thos. A. Edison

Altar Guild

The members of the Altar Guild were most conscientious in their duties during the summer months, which is a great gratification to the Rector. There will be a regular meeting of the Altar Guild the second Monday in October at 3.00 P. M. in the Parish House. It is hoped there will be a large attendance to prepare for this winter's work.

The Tennis Club

As the days now grow shorter and the school book calls, the tennis court so lately a scene of vivid action becomes once again silent and inert. During the long pleasant summer now past, scarcely was there a day that passed into darkness but that a picture of vigor and dash was graphically portrayed on this same court. With the coming of the brisk and cool breezes of autumn, interest turns to other pursuits. Some are to work again, some to the schools and their attendant pleasures for which the coolness of the fall seems to have been specially designed. The racquet is forgotten, tossed aside until the coming of the warmth of summer shall again revive the thrill that comes with the hurrying of feet over the hardened clay, the swish and electric, snapping tenk of the racquet and ball.

The season now so nearly completed has been one of constant pleasure. May it be vigorously said that lacking in anything else, the Tennis club was not needful of interest. The response to the opening of the court to play was immediate and enthusiastic. The spirit lasted and as the summer progressed, grew to proportions which taxed the single court. May the hope of an additional court in the adjoining space be realized for the season which is to come. Now as we say farewell to tennis as to the other pleasures of summer, we thank, one and all, sincerely and heartily, the Rector and Vestry who so kindly gave to us this opportunity for health and vigor.

Attention! Envelope Subscribers

It is of the greatest importance that all persons in arrears in their subscription through the Envelope System are urged to place the amount of their indebtedness in their envelopes at the first opportunity and put them in the alms basin or give a check to the Warden, Mr. J. I. Morrison. Many persons have done this immediately after their return from their vacations, but there are still a large number who have not done so. A prompt attention to this duty on the part of the parishioners will, relieve the Warden of some pressing financial obligations.

Use thy utmost endeavor to attain such a disposition of spirit that thou mayest become one with Me, and thy will may become so entirely conformed to My all-perfect will, that not only shalt thou never desire that which is evil, but not even that which is good, if it be not according to My will; so that whatever shall befall thee in this earthly life, from whatsoever quarter it may come, whether in things temporal or things spiritual, nothing shall ever disturb thy peace, or trouble thy quietness of spirit; but thou shalt be established in a firm belief that I, thine omnipotent God, love thee with a dearer love and take of thee more watchful care than thou canst for thyself.—St. Catharine of Siena.

Look around you, first in your own family, then among your friends and neighbors, and see whether there be not some one whose little burden you can lighten, whose little pleasures you can promote, whose little wants and wishes you can gratify. Giving up cheerfully our own occupations to attend to others, is one of the little kindnesses and self-denials. Doing little things that nobody likes to do, but which must be done by some one, is another. It may seem to many, that if they avoid little unkindnesses, they must necessarily be doing all that is right to their family and friends; but it is not enough to abstain from sharp words, sneering tones, petty contradictions, or daily little selfish cares; we must be active and earnest in kindness, not merely passive and inoffensive.

Money

There are many people who say, "O don't discuss money, preach about the love of God or some other topic!" But the Church needs money. It is hampered in every way for lack of it. Nearly every Vestry in the land is compelled to borrow money and pay interest because of just this popular and prevalent idea that money ought not to be mentioned in Church. If all the delinquencies in pew rents and envelope subscriptions were paid up next Sunday, not only in this parish, but every other parish, I dare say in many instances Vestrymen would be puzzled at first what to do with the money. People who are punctual and honorable about paying household accounts will let Church bills run on indefinitely, and even repudiate them in the end, for they have learned that no legal pressure is apt to be brought to collect a Church bill. It used to be the same with the Doctor's bill, but now the physician who takes a proper view of his responsibility to society and his family, collects his bill just like any other creditor collects his.

The Church ought to collect its bills in the same way exactly, for the sake of the people.

It is not to be taken that the Church does not do a vast amount of charitable or free work any more than that the physician does not do the same thing. I am called upon constantly by people who never give a cent—do not even give their presence at services—to support the Gospel, and I minister to them without hesitation, of course, and gladly. I even try not to have thoughts about them, although I am not always successful in that!

We have had dinned into our ears that the Gospel is free so long that we have come to believe that we have a right to it without paying for it. Wrong, all wrong! Even Almighty God made a sacrifice so priceless that we have no standard of value by which to estimate it save itself before men could be saved. I do not believe that He even intended that we should get something for nothing. The only concession I make to poverty is that the price to be paid for salvation is not beyond anyone's reasonable ability to pay.

I do not believe there is a Church in the land which will not admit to its privileges all who may desire them or just whatever they are able to contribute. Certainly that is the policy of this Church. That is not the question. It is a question of doing what you can which is doing what you ought. The burden is carried, always has been carried, by the few; but if I were one of the indifferent many, it would be my highest ambition to get into the class of the noble few.

Self-denial, that is it? I know a Vestry Committee which called on a man and asked him if he could not give five cents a week on each side of the duplex envelope. The man said that he had met financial reverses, which was true; that sickness and other demands had greatly increased his expenses, which was also true; therefore, he could not afford to pledge himself even for five cents a week on each side of the envelope, which was not true, although perhaps he believed it. The interesting feature of the interview was this: He was smoking a ten cent cigar at the time and he smoked at least three every day, probably more. It didn't occur to him that he could give up one cigar a day for this purpose although it did occur to the committee which waited upon him. But they were timid men and didn't say it.

Clothing Wanted

Persons in the Parish who have clothing to spare will convey a great favor by sending the same to the Parish House. Warm outer and under-garments, and shoes for men, women or children are always in demand during the winter months and are bestowed upon worthy persons in need. Please send the same to the Parish House in care of Mrs. Morrison, Directress of the Mothers' Meeting.

Was One or the Other

A certain millionaire did not approve of Foreign Missions. One Sunday at Church when the collection was taken for Missions, the collector approached the millionaire and held out the collection box. The millionaire shook his head.

"I never give to Missions," he whispered.

"Then take something out of the box, sir," whispered the collector. "The money is for the heathen."—Pittsburgh Chronicle and Telegraph.

There is a difference between essentials and non-essentials—the Faith of all the centuries and the opinions of a given age. This is the fact that binds together men of every shade of opinion in the Episcopal Church. Their motto is: "In essential, unity; on non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity."

All views in one Church? Impossible! Why? The nation is one, with many parties. And she is the stronger and grander because there are parties. And shall the grandest and greatest Kingdom on earth fail to bind in one fellowship all schools of thought?

A Good Example

Early in April the Treasurer of the Board of Missions received a letter which cheered him greatly. It contained a check for $5,000, concerning which the writer said: "I had intended leaving this in my will, but decided it would be a greater pleasure for me to pay it at once."

Why do not more people think about their missionary giving in this way? Why should so many deprive themselves of the pleasure which it affords even though they make provision for gifts after their death? How much more interesting to see the money actually doing service in the upbuilding of the Kingdom! Beyond doubt, also, the man who begins to give in this way, and experiences the joy of it, would find himself able and eager to make provision in his will for the continuance of the work which he had thus begun.

Think about this, you among our readers who have been made the stewards of wealth.

It is surprising to observe how much more important anybody may become by simply being always in his place! One need not be wealthy, or influential, or talented, or even educated, to attain this importance. Try it—in the Sunday School, the choir, the Church services, the various meetings and other gatherings. The people who are always in their places are the people we "count on."

ALL SAINTS

(All Saint's Day November 1st)

The dead in Christ are not very far from us. By this is not meant any false spiritualism, any physical nearness of sound, or sight or touch. That would be only to restore what is most imperfect and what death was meant to end. The nearness is that of deeper, hidden bonds which bind the souls of them that love Him together: in the Lord Jesus Christ. The body is resting in the grave under the care of God's holy angels till its glory of the Resurrection morning, but the soul is somewhere with Christ. He knows it, cares for it, watches it, loves it, has drawn it to himself in a closer vision, has poured fuller graces upon it, has washed it in his own blood. It is one with him in a fuller, deeper sense than ever before. The soul, too, must be gaining in all spiritual powers; it must be growing in love, in humility, in charity in every grace.

It is surely right to think that it remembers those it loved on earth; that it prays for them; that it is fuller of abounding grace, and worships the eternal Father, Son and Holy Ghost, as it never worshipped here. And therefore, in proportion as one left behind grows nearer to Christ he must be growing nearer to his loved ones. Both in Christ, they must also be near to one another in Him; He is their meeting place. The departed are on one side of the veil, the living on the other—that is all. Just as when two who love one another here are parted, and hear that they can meet, they hurry as quickly as possible to the place appointed, even so will the mourner try to prayer, by good works, by patience, by gentle cheerfulness, by love, and above all, by the faithful reception of the Holy Communion. Wherever Christ is, there the dead in Christ must be! Drawing nearer to Christ must lead one to them, and thus it seems that there must be deep and invisible bonds binding the holy living to the dead in Him.

The dead in Christ are awaiting us in Paradise. The reason of man, teachers and Holy Scripture confirm it, that we shall know one another in that blessed land. We must believe that the dearest ties we have on earth, the things that most lead us unto God, have their fruition in heaven—not in any earthly way, but divested of all that is weak and poor and frail in them in a transfigured glory. All our hearts, and thought and feeling will, indeed, center in Christ, but these blessed ties will be the steps to the throne on which he sits. In loving any member in His mystical body, we shall only love Him the more who is the head of it. Thus father and son, mother and daughter, husband and wife, friend and friend—one in Christ—will still be one with each other. Somehow, in this world, familiar ties, if they bind the members of the family closer together, serve also to separate the family in that degree, from the rest of the world. In the other life, there will be all the union and none of the separation. The one family of Christ, however much all earthly bonds may find in it their blessed fulfilment, will know no separation, and yet each earthly tie on which God has set the zeal of His blessing, will have its distinct place in the eternal oneness.

Thus as the mourners here on earth seeks to draw near to God, each step will bring him closer to the soul at rest with God, until at last the veil shall be lifted, and, hand in hand, in the glad company of the Redeemed, they will see the vision of God's glory, and at the Resurrection wake up after God's likeness "in the beauty of holiness."

All Saints' Day falls on Sunday this year. The Rector trusts that it will be an occasion when all, who have dear ones in Paradise, will draw near to God in the Blessed Sacrament of the Lord's Supper where all God's Saints are knit together in one Communion and fellowship, in the mystical body of His Son Jesus Christ, our Lord."

At the mid-day service on All Saint's Day the usual custom will be followed of reading the names of those who have departed this life during the past year. Persons who wish to send memorial flowers to be placed on the altar on All Saint's Day are requested to send them to the Parsh House—with names attached—on Saturday morning. The flowers from the altar are sent to the sick in the Parish after the service.

The Rector frequently receives letters from business men asking him his opinion concerning the capitalists and character of persons under advisement for employment. Recently an inquiry came to the Rector concerning a certain person who was being considered for a responsible position. The candidate seemed admirably qualified in many particulars to fill the prospective position, and it was, therefore, gratifying to the Rector to be able to answer the question asked him in a way which appeared to indicate a favorable consideration. Finally the business man put this question up to the Rector: "Do you know this man to be strictly a man of his word; keeping his appointments and one who can be relied upon to be prompt and punctual?" The Rector regretted that this question was put to him so pointedly and positively, for he could not conscientiously answer it affirmatively. This young man in question had, to the Rector's knowledge, repeatedly failed to keep his appointments and had frequently so lightly regarded his word as wilfully to break his promise, seemingly without compunction of conscience. The Rector therefore had to admit, most reluctantly, that this man as not "strictly a man of his word." "That settles that man for me, for I would not have a man in my employ—no matter how gifted or able he might be in other ways—who lightly regarded his engagements or did not value his word as highly as his bond. "Such a man I regard as a thief—he steals time that belongs to others; he is also a liar, because he does not intend to keep his word."

The Rector protested that these were very strong words, but he was also secretly constrained to admit that this practical, level-headed business man was right and that people who wilfully break their word and intentionally fail to keep their promises are deserving of the plain Anglo-Saxon epithets so frankly used by our business friend.

The sad sequel has been shut out of a splendid opportunity by a habit which he has allowed himself to acquire. It is hoped that this experience will be a lesson both to him and to other young men who lightly regard their word or do not endeavor to keep their promises. The fault in this particular case, however, as it often is in other cases, was due quite as much to the parents and the environment of the home, as it was to the young man himself. The lesson is applicable, therefore, to parents and young people alike.

Enriching our Friends

Our friends do not need to know that we are praying for them in order to be helped by our prayers. It is not their knowledge, but God's knowledge, of our prayers that is the important thing. A man knew that a friend of his eight hundred miles away was facing an important and difficult piece of work, and he prayed earnestly for God's guidance in that work. Writing to the friend, he told him that he had prayed for him, and later he received this reply: "Your letter came yesterday morning just as I was sitting down to the work, and I assure you that the thought of your prayers helped. Pardon me for saying the thought of your prayers; I should have said your prayers." If the chief helpfulness of our prayers for our friends lay in their knowledge that we were praying for them, prayer would be a very human and limited thing. Prayer's greatest helpfulness lies in the fact that it makes the way clear for God to bring special blessings to those for whom we intercede; and He does this even though He and the intercessor are the only ones who know that the prayer has been offered. Are our friends' lives being supernaturally enriched by the Heavenly Father because we are their praying friends?—

Scandal

A look, a gesture, and a sneer, a fool on mischief bent; and then upon its darksome way, a word of scandal went; the thoughtless one who turned it loose would fain have checked its course; but on it sped to scatter far grim sorrow and remorse. He knew it was a coward's act, a monstrous thing to do, and tried his best to head it off, but how that scandal flew! A hundred people started out its horrid wrath to tame, but where it went the spotless page was never quite the same; they fought it, killed it, buried it, they thought it gone, forsooth; but by and by it came to life and wore the guise of truth. It kept upon its hurtling way with venom in its dart, it turned the sunshine into gloom, it broke a tender heart. Oh, what an easy thing to send a word upon the track; but when it's gone, it grows more lusty every hour, it waxes fat and gay; be careful how you start a word of scandal on its way.

Series of Parish Suppers, to be Given During the Winter

At a meeting of the ladies of the Parish held on Wednesday afternoon, October 14th, it was decided to hold A Series of Eight Monthly Suppers in the Parish House on the first Tuesday evening of each month, beginning on Tuesday, November 3rd from 6 until 7.30 o'clock. The purpose of these suppers is to realize money toward the extinguishment of the Parish debt and also to bring the people of the parish together in social intercourse. The supper will be fifty cents—four dollars for the series of eight months. It is hoped that all members of the Parish will reserve the first Tuesday of each month for their supper and, together with their friends, will attend as many as possible of the series throughout the winter. If every one in the Parish will be faithful in attending these suppers a large sum of money may be realized toward meeting the Parish House debt and an opportunity will be afforded of greeting people in the parish and of welcoming new comers to the Church. Single supper tickets, fifty cents each, or a "series ticket," good for eight suppers and reserved seat each month, four dollars, may be secured from any of the ladies below named who will be in charge of the supper each month:

Tuesday, November 3rd—Mrs. Keith R. Rodney, Mrs. W. N. Johnson, Mrs. A. Cannon.

Tuesday, December 8th—Mrs. Sheldon Potter, Mrs. Lawrence Simcox, Mrs. James M. Ritter.

Tuesday, January 5th—Mrs. Walter J. Crowder, Mrs. Edwin F. Kamerly, Mrs. H. L. Reid, Mrs. L. F. Schaeffer.

Tuesday, February 2nd—Mrs. J. I. Morrison, Mrs. Charles Heyer Mrs. James M. Woodroffe.

Tuesday, March 2nd—Mrs. George T. Morgan, Mrs. Topliffe Johnson, Mrs. R. H. Morris.

Tuesday, April 6th—Mrs. Edward Bains, Miss Bessie Chase Mrs. U. G. Rowley.

Tuesday, May 4th—Mrs. Henry R. Barremore, Mrs. Frank Wells, Mrs. James A. Aull.

Tuesday, June 1st—Mrs. Alexander R. Cheston, Mrs. John Shinn, Mrs. Henry Marot.

Let every member of the Parish arrange to take supper on the first Tuesday of each month at the Parish House. After the supper a pleasant evening will be spent in an informal Parish social. Remember the date of the first Parish supper, Tuesday, November 3rd!

The English Church and the Reformation

A Statement of Facts

The following is condensed from The Diocese of Chicago, and was called forth by the discussion in regard to the statements made in the public school text books in connection with the reign of Henry the Eighth and his relation to the English Reformation.)

Inasmuch as the text-books of English history commonly used in American public schools give a misleading impression as to what happened to the English Church at the Reformation, the following statement is offered for use in the schools by way of supplement.

First, as to what did not happen:

The present church of England was not founded in the sixteenth century, either by Henry VIII or by any one else: but is the same Church which existed in England from ancient days. What happened in the sixteenth century was a rejection of the supremacy over the English Church of the foreign Bishop of Rome, a rejection of certain mediæval beliefs and a removal of certain mediæval practices which were regarded as abuses. The same Church remained, having es-entially the same worship and sacraments, preserving without break the ancient episcopate, retaining its property and Church buildings, and claiming to retain the Catholic faith and religion, freed only from what were regarded as mediæval additions.

What really happened:

1531 A. D.: Henry VIII demanded that the Convocation of the English Church should acknowledge him to be the "Supreme Head of the English Church and Clergy." The Bishops objected to this on the ground that such language implied spiritual headship. The king thereupon explained that he claimed no such headship, but only the ancient power of the crown to see that the spiritual authority discharged its functions without damage to the realm. Thereupon, in order to bear witness to this limitation, the clergy added an explanatory clause and acknowledged the king to be the "Supreme Head," "so far as the law of Christ allows." The real design of this was to exclude all interference by the Pope with English concerns.

1534: Convocation declared that "the Bishop of Rome hath not by Scripture any greater authority in England than any other foreign bishop." This completed the process of casting off papal government over the English Church, but it left that Church the same Church, which claimed still to be the ancient Catholic Church of England.

Sunday School

The Sunday School has now entered on its regular course of instruction and all scholars and Teachers who have been absent during the Summer sessions are urged to return to their places in the Parish House.

The Acts of the Apostles and the story of the early church is the subject selected by the General Board of Religious Education for this school year. This has been found to be particularly interesting and instructive.

On the first Sunday in October the Teachers and many of the older scholars attended Communion at the early service and afterwards enjoyed a breakfast together at the Parish House.

The time thus spent together was a fitting commencement for the Fall and Winter Course. The Rector during the breakfast hour read a very practical paper on the duties, opportunities and privileges of Teachers in a Sunday School.

The registered attendance is at this time a little larger than last year.

Several Teachers who have been a great help to the school in the past have found it impossible to take classes this year.

An appeal to the Congregation at Christ Church is not made for a few earnest men and women who felt that they can devote themselves to this great work.

G. T. M.

Another word in reference to the Progressiveness of our Sunday School on Saturday afternoon November 7, the following little girls of the Intermediate Department:

Ruth Miles, Louse Wells, Margaret Wells, Margaret Hannon, Adelaide Hagan, Marie Taylor, Elizabeth Wertsner, Constance Van Dusen, Helen McHenry, Edith Johnson, Margaret Brown Gertrude Brooker.

Will meet at the home of Mrs. Belfield, where the little ones will organize a Club at which they will be taught to make many little delicacies to be distributed by the children to many of the sick in the Parish.

Daughters of the King

Those who could of the Daughters of the King met on Thursday evening during the Summer at Mrs. Geo. Wertsner's and decorated fans and made Books and folders for the Hospitals, we took 33 fans to the Germantown Hospital and 9 to the Home for Consumptives at Chestnut Hill, the Books and folders are still to be disposed of.

Thanks are due to Mrs. Wertsner for the use of her home, and also for the entertainment every evening.

On the evening of August 3rd, Mr. Beckett held a service in the Church for the Daughters of the King, he took for his text, "As thy servant was busy here and there lo he was gone." He spoke of the importance of recognizing the right course when there are so many open. After the service Mrs. Belfield invited us into the Rectory where she entertained us very bountifully, and we had a very pleasant time.

E. L. M.

Athletic Association

At the last meeting held in the Parish House it was decided that the organization should turn its attention to indoor activities. The girls have organized two basket-ball teams which play every Thursday evening and are to provide an exhibition game at the next regular meeting.

The men of the club met at the home of Mr. Beckett on Thursday, October 8th, and arranged to provide and serve the refreshments at the next regular meeting the first Thursday in November.

It is hoped to make this one of the many pleasant times planned for the winter. As the season for tennis waned the interest was allowed to decrease. The club has still something to work for. An additional court would be a great advantage.

Let us lend our energies so that at the opening of the next tennis season we may have two courts instead of one.

The Girls Friendly Society

The G. F. S. is planning a very busy time this month. We are to hold the annual G. F. S. neighborhood Conference of the Germantown District at Christ Church.

St. Michael's Friendly will help us and we expect to entertain about three hundred girls at supper. The Conference in the evening will be addressed by Dr. C. S. Schmucker.

The Germantown District is made up of twelve Branches including some out of town Branches.

It is a great pleasure to meet the G. F. S. girls from different parts of the City.

The Conference will be held in the Parish House on Tuesday evening, October 27 at 8 o'clock. All members of the Parish are invited to attend this conference.

Our girls will have a dancing class this winter to meet once a month. We have a good teacher and we expect to have a very pleasant time.

We shall have more members in our Branch of the G. F. S. Are there not many girls who have lately come into our Parish who would like to join?

We would be glad to welcome any new member at any of our regular meetings every Tuesday night at 8.00 o'clock.

P. M.

Men's Club

There will be a meeting of the men of the Parish on Friday, November 13th in the Parish House. The committee on arrangements are putting forth every effort to make this evening an interesting and enjoyable one.

There will be good speakers, refreshments and cigars.

All the men of the Parish are cordially invited to be present to help make this the best time you have ever enjoyed. It is hoped that the spirit which was shown at the last meeting will not be allowed to lapse. Having started the ball rolling let us strive to make these occasions of "good cheer" to look forward to in our Parish life.

Dramatics

On Friday evening, November 6th, the young men of the S. S. C. assisted by the Boys Brigade will give an entertainment consisting of two sketches in the Parish House. One will be a suffragette play entitled "How the vote was won." The other will be "The Merchant of Venice" (slightly revised). These plays will be under the direction of Miss Martha Noyes of the Noyes Dramatic School, 1720 Chestnut Street.

Tickets may be secured from members of the Sunday School and the Boy's Brigade.

The proceeds will be devoted towards the expense of publishing the Chimes. This is the oldest Parish paper, which has been published continuously, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. We all have a share in its success you now have an opportunity to show your appreciation in a substantial way.

The Embroidery Guild

On the first Thursday in October the Embroidery Guild resumed its meetings for the winter. These meetings will be held every Thursday afternoon at 2.00 o'clock in the Parish House. A cordial invitation is extended to all, who are desirous of assisting in this work, and are requested to give their names to Miss Bertha Chase. As there are no dues for membership the Guild asks for gifts of money for material, for stoles, as several are now needed.

The offering on the First Sunday in Oct., which was the Sunday devoted to prayer and intercession for peace among the nations now at war, amounted to $48.37. This will be divided equally between the needs of the poor of the Parish and the work of the Red Cross Society in Europe. Persons who have not contributed to this object are invited to send their offering to the Accounting Warden. Mr. J. I. Morrison, 636 Westview Ave., or to the Rector.

Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; We give thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those thy servants, who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labours. And we beseech thee, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Morning Prayer

Let me today do something that shall take

A little sadness from the world's vast store,

And may I be so favored as to make

Of joys too scanty sum a little more.

Let me not hurt, by any selfish deed

Or thoughtless word, the heart of foe or friend;

Nor would I pass, unseeing, worthy need,

Or sin by silence when I should defend,

However meagre be my worldly wealth

Let me give something that shall aid my kind,

A word of courage, or a thought of health,

Dropped as I pass for troubled hearts to fid,

Let me to-night look back across the span

"Twix dawn and dark, and to my conscience say—

Because of some good act to beast or man—

"The world is better that I lived to-day."

Envelope System

The Duplex Envelope System affords an opportunity for every one to give something, in a systematic way. It is not so much the amount that is given as it teaches us to be regular in our habit of giving. Our children ought to be taught the privilege of sharing in the extension of the Kingdom of God. This we may do by giving to each boy or girl his or her own envelopes, so that they may learn to contribute in a regular systematic way.

Pledge cards may be found in the vestibule or may be had from the vergier.

The Parish has been wonderfully blessed in the past. In the present, it has great responsibilities. Every soulder put to the wheel makes the burden lighter. Action equals reaction. Those who contribute of their means receive in return a deeper interest in the work. It becomes their work. We spend ourselves for those we love. Is this not also true with regard to our substance.

Pastoral Letter of the House of Bishops

Issued at a special meeting held October 8, 1914, at St. Mark's Church, Minneapolis, Minnesota

To the Clergy and People of the Protestant Episcopal Church:

YOUR House of Bishops, assembled in the City of Minneapolis to elect Missionary Bishops, cannot adjourn without sending you this message:

The War in Europe, with immeasurable and universal sorrow and distress, lays upon the Christian people of this country peculiar responsibilities and opportunities.

Accepting in loyalty and with gratitude the leadership of the President of the United States in the cause of peace in both Europe and America, we urge you that as brethren of the people of all nations, you sustain a spirit of forbearance, be careful in expressions of judgment; and while not unthoughtful, and still less unfeeling, that you encourage the exercise of an honest neutrality.

In the presence of this distress, we urge simplicity and economy in expenditure, and such restraint in pleasures and luxuries as will express the seriousness of temper consonant with the affections and sorrows of our brethren.

We urge all people to continue to pray earnestly to GOD for peace such as will bring justice and international good will.

We also urge that in view of the great destruction of property and shrinkage of incomes, the spirit of self-sacrifice be called into willing action, that the benevolences and beneficences of religion, charity, and missions may not suffer loss.

This is the more imperative in view of the fact that, for the time being, the burden of the world's work is likely to fall chiefly upon the shoulders of Christian America, and the leadership in these activities is thrust into our hands.

Amidst the shakings of the powers of the earth stand the eternal forces of God's Spirit; under His Providence these forces give protection and make for freedom, justice, and peace. Let our faith in them and the power of their might be strong, and when peace shall have been restored, may we with grateful hearts take up resolutely and cheerfully the duties of peace.

Choir Notes

On Wednesday evening, November 11th, 8.00 P. M. The combined choirs of Christ Church and St. Thomas's Church of Whitemarsh will render the Holy City an Oratorio composed by A. R. Gaul.

The treatment of the subject of this work is almost entirely reflective, the more dramatic parts of the book from which many of the numbers are taken, viz: the Vision of St. John, having already been treated in so masterly a manner by the great German composer Louis Sphor, in his Oratorio, "The Last Judgment."

The first part of the "Holy City" was suggested by the passage of scripture, "Here have we no continuing city," "Thy Kingdom come," and sets forth the desire for a higher life, as expressed in the words, "My soul is athirst for God," which desire is followed by other passages expressive of the perfection of the higher life, such as "Eye hath not seen."

The second part was suggested by the words, "I saw a new Heaven and a new earth, for the first Heaven and the first earth were passed away," thus realizing the desire and promises contained in the first part.

With the exception of two hymns, a verse from Milton and three verses from the Te Deum, the words are entirely scriptural.

E. K. M.

The Woman's Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary will hold its first monthly meeting on the first Thursday in November at 10.30 in the Parish House.

It is earnestly desired that the women of the Parish will consider their conscientious and religious duty to be present at these meetings and do everything possible to advance the cause of missions in our Parish.

Mrs. John A. Ely, teacher of Art in St. Mary's Hall, Shanghai, expects to address the Auxiliary some morning in November, (the date will be announced later) and it is earnestly hoped that a large audience will greet Mrs. Ely at this meeting.

The Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club will hold its first meeting of the season the last Thursday in October.

Your Librarian trusts that there will be a free and generous outpouring of magazines and books as well as donations of money for the carrying on of this work from Christ Church Parish, this year.

L. J. Johnson, Librarian

Just a year ago, one of our most faithful and earnest workers, Mary Dahl, passed away.

Several of the Societies of which she was a member, desire to furnish a room in the Parish House as a Memorial to her.

Any person in the Parish desirous of helping the cause may send their contributions of money to the Rector.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS
} 6.00 to 8.00 P. M. }

Christmas Day falls this year on Friday. Every Christian will want to observe this day as a Christian Festival and will want to "Come and Worship, worship Christ the new-born King."
The hour of service on Christmas Day have been arranged that all may avail themselves of this privilege; that all may come and receive anew into their hearts the Christ; that all; on this day when the Saviour came into the world, may dedicate themselves anew to Him and to His cause.

The hours of services on Christmas Day morning will be as follows: Holy Communion, 6.30, 7.30 and 11.00 o'clock with sermon.

The offering at all services will be for the Aged and Infirm Clergy. This worthy object will strongly appeal to the generosity of every Churchman.

The Rector hopes to see present at one or other of the services Every Communicant of Christ Church. He cordially invites, also, all other communicants in this vicinity who may not be able to attend the services of their own Church. A Christmas without Christ is unthinkable; it is a sacri-ligious parody, just as a Christian life without Christ is a given tragedy.

The meaning of "Christ-mas"—is "Christ Communion." They who would make it something more than a mere secular holiday will, therefore, make it a holiday of gladness and of joy and draw near unto Christ on that day and will fall down before Him, as the wise men did of old, and worship Him.

A Midnight Service will be held, as usual on New Year's Eve in Christ Church, beginning at eleven o'clock.
A new order of service from that of other years has been prepared and copies will be found on the tables in the vestibules.

There can be no more fitting way to end the old and to begin the new year than by spending the time in meditation and prayer in the House of God.
Opportunities for reflection and meditation come too seldom in the lives of most people. We all need, more often, to look back on the past life; to realize its short comings, its failure, its sins; to take a fresh start, with more earnestness, more helpfulness, more effort, with more consecration, with more prayer; to involve, by God's help to make our live purer and higher, and holier.

It is sin that brings so much unhappiness and misery into our lives.
And it is Christ alone who can bring into our hearts the truest happiness and the highest joy.

Let everyone, therefore, as this old year—so full of sin and warfare and suffering—draws to a close, earnestly pray that the terrible warfare on earth may cease, that universal peace may be established among all nations, that the hearts of men, everywhere, may turn unto God and find Him; that the Kingdom of Jesus Christ—the kingdom of love and peace and goodwill—may reign in the hearts of all men.

As the Chimes in our Church tower shall peal forth, on New Year's Eve, a joyous welcome to the coming New Year, let each one's prayer be the prayer so beautifully expressed in Tennyson's "In Memoriam:"

"Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty night;
The year is dying in the night;
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind,
For those that here we see no more;
Ring out the feud of rich and poor,
Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out the slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of petty strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shaper of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousands wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

Christmas Giving

Are we becoming more sensible, more Christian in our Christmas preparations?

It is to be hoped that we are. But how often is giving of presents at Christmas time attended with extravagance and the incurring of debt! Such giving is a travesty on the spirit Christmas Friendship and Love are not to be measured in dollars and cents. Why, then, should it be deemed necessary for the Christmas expression of these qualities to be given in articles that bear no suggestion of the day and the purchase of which is an extravagant waste, which the giver cannot afford, and the recipient deems a burden to be reciprocated by a gift of similar value?

What hypocrisies are many of our Christmas gifts!

Will not Christian people begin to Christianize their gifts? That means first that they shall be true expression of friendship, and second that they shall involve no burden of debt on the part of the giver nor sense of obligation on that of the recipient. The simple, appropriate Christmas card, selected for the suitable expression engraved upon it, or an inexpensive book, with beautiful thoughts of Christian love in it, is a truer portrayal of the Christmas spirit than, under ordinary circumstances, any gift of great intrinsic value could be. A sheet of paper, with one's own individual Christmas wishes written to a friend upon it, may be still more fitting.

Let us expel from our Christmas giving extravagance, the incurring of debt, reciprocal burdens. Let us bring back into our Christmas giving the simplicity of spirit, tenderness of personal attention, sincerity of true friendship and love.

Then will our gifts be after the spirit and in the name of Him, who is Himself the true Christmas Gift,—the gift to the world of the Father's love.

In so far as we hold ourselves back from a communion with Christ, perfect and complete as we can make it, something in us must die; for He in His fulness of life is ready for us, and we in our need of life are so pathetically ready for Him. Now and unceasingly, the hour strikes afresh for our souls to achieve their destiny in Christ. It is the supreme business of every soul to see that at not a single striking of that hour shall it be possible to say, in regard to its relationship with the appealing Christ, that the Christ came unto His own and His own received Him not.—Henry W. Clark.

The Story of the Virgin

Six months after the appearance of the Angel Gabriel to Zacharias in the Temple, he was sent from God to Nazareth, a secluded village unknown and unnamed in the Old Testament, hidden away amongst the hills of Galilee, and within the limits of the ancient tribe of Zebulun. At this village there lived a lowly Virgin named Mary, or Miriam. She belonged to the royal tribe of Judah, and the lineage of David (Lk. 1, 32; Rom. i, 3), and was connected by marriage with Elisabeth (Lk. 1, 27), who belonged to the tribe of Levi. Moreover, she was at this time betrothed to Joseph, who occupied a humble position as a carpenter at Nazareth, but like herself was of the lineage of David. (Lk. 1, 27; ii, 4).

To this lowly Virgin, the angel now appeared, and announced that by virtue of the operation of the Holy Ghost, she should become the mother of a Son whom she was to call Jesus (God the Saviour). He should be great, and should be called the Son of the Highest should sit on the throne of His father David, and reign over the house of Jacob for ever (Lk. i, 30—33). Though at first startled at the sudden address of an angelic visitant (Lk. 1, 29), the Virgin received his announcement with implicit faith, and prayed that it might be with her according to his word (Lk. i, 38) and being informed of what had occured to her relative Elisabeth, arose with haste to seek out her home amidst the Judean hills. The journey of four or five days accomplished, she reached the humble abode, and had had no sooner crossed the threshold, and saluted the aged wife of Zacharias, than the other addressed her as the mother of her Lord, and fully confirmed the words of the angel. Thus assured of the certainty of the mighty event about to happen, the lowly virgin, like Hannah at the birth of Samuel, burst forth into words of holy praise and exultation, and gave utterance to the inspired hymn, which is used in our Evening Prayer, under the name of the Magnificat and remains one of the most precious treasures of the Church, and the most familiar of her hymns (Lk. i, 46-56).

Confirmation Class

Immediately after the holidays the Rector will organize the annual confirmation classes and will begin in January a course of Instruction on Confirmation and the Teachings of the Church. As soon as the Class is formed the dates of these Instructions will be determined upon and announced in the next issue of the Chimes. All persons who are thinking of being confirmed are asked to give their names to the Rector at once. He will be pleased to confer with any who wish to speak to him on the subject and an invitation is extended to all persons, confirmed or unconfirmed, to attend the lectures. The Bishop expects (D.V.) to visit this Parish in Lent.

Repentance

Ascertain clearly what is wrong with you; and so far as you know any means of mending it, take those means, and have done; when you are examining yourself, never call yourself merely a "sinner," that is very cheap abuse; and utterly useless. You may even get to like it, and be proud of it. But call yourself a liar, a coward, a sluggard, a glutton, or an evil-eyed, jealous wretch if you indeed find yourself to be in any wise any of these. Take steady means to check yourself in whatever fault you have ascertained and justly accused yourself of. And as soon as you are in an active way of mending, you will be no more inclined to mourn over an undefined corruption. For the rest, you will find it less easy to uproot faults than to choke them by gaining virtues.—Ruskin.

The Church Year

Such a complete life is pictured in the Church's year. It has its Advent, Nativity, Epiphany, Lent, Easter, Whitsunday, Trinity Sunday. It fills the year with its increasing, slowly maturing beauty. This is the true meaning of the year, with all its sacred seasons. Let us be true Churchmen and give it all its richness. Only dear friends, we do not really honor the venerable beauty of the church's calendar when we make it a badge of our denominational distinction, or deck its seasons out with all the trickery of colored altar-cloths, purple and white and green, but when we see in it the story of a human life slowly ripened from God's first purpose to the full-grown glorified manhood and standing before God's presence, and sending forth God's power to its fellowmen.—Philips Brooks.

Envelope System

The Accounting Warden is gratified in receiving of late, quite a number of contributions from envelope subscribers who have fallen in arrears. He does not wish to be importunate in his requests that persons in arrears shall pay up in full, but he would respectfully state that all who can do so will greatly facilitate him in meeting the financial demands upon the Parish, if they will enclose in their envelopes amounts due and place them on the plate at their earliest convenience.

By far the most of the envelope subscribers contribute regularly and are prompt in making up their arrears, but there are some who, either through ignorance of their arrears or through neglect, appear on the church books behind in their contributions. If these persons will please respond at their earliest convenience their contributions will be appreciated.

Sunday School

The Christmas entertainment will be given in the Sunday School room on the evening of December 29.

The members of the Girls Friendly have prepared a series of tableaux to illustrate "Grandmother's Album."

The scholars of the Intermediate department will present a story called "Christmas Gifts from other Lands" and also will be seen in a very pretty exhibition called a Wand Drill.

A Christmas story will be told illustrated by stereopticon.

On the afternoon of the same day Tuesday, December 29, the Primary Department will have their entertainment which will consist of Christmas stories, pictures and carols at three o'clock.

Christmas Day Services

The services on Christmas Day will be as follows: Holy Communion, 6.30, 7.30 A. M. Holy Communion and sermon 11 o'clock. The offering will be for the Aged and Infirm clergy.

New Year's Eve—Midnight Service

A New Year's Eve service will be held in Christ Church beginning at eleven o'clock. The church will be open all evening and persons are invited to come early and devote the time in meditation and prayer.

Change of Day for Monthly Suppers

The next monthly Parish Supper will be given in the first Thursday in January instead of Tuesday.

This change to Thursday evening is made in response to requests from a number of housekeepers who find it more convenient to take their suppers in the Parish House on Thursdays.

It is, therefore, hoped that the next monthly Parish Supper given on Thursday evening, January 7th, from six until seven o'clock will be largely attended. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come to the Parish House on that evening and help to make these monthly Parish Suppers a social and a financial success. The price of the supper is fifty cents. The committee in charge for the January supper is Mrs. Walter J. Crowder, Mrs. Edwin F. Kamerly, Mrs. H. L. Reid, and Mrs. L. F. Schaeffer.

Pew Renters

During the past month pews or sittings have been rented to the following:

Pew, Mr. Neville B. Craig
 Pew, William H. Wells
 Pew, Frederick Lennig

The Warden reports that there are only two full pews available in the center aisle. There are, however, parts of pews still unrented in the Church. The pew rents are graduated in price so as to be within the reach of all. Persons who desire to rent pews or sittings are invited to confer with the Warden, Mr. J. I. Morrison, after any service or by appointment.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

The Christ Church Chapter of the Junior Brotherhood entertained the Junior Chapter of the Church of St. Simeon, 9th and Lehigh Ave., on November 10th.

Both Chapters turned out well. The meeting was opened by Mr. Brightly director of the St. Simeons' Chapter, who used the St. Simeon's form of service to which the boys responded heartily. Mr. Beckett acted as chairman of the meeting, and after a few words of welcome called upon several speakers, among them Mr. Gerley who spoke of Brotherhood work in the South; Mr. Gerhard who told us about the Atlanta Convention; Mr. MacIntosh, vice director of St. Simeons' Chapter who told us of the interesting work in the matter of Saturday afternoon outings which they had accomplished during the summer and were to undertake during the winter.

Mr. Brightly also gave us some suggestions in the matter of a Brotherhood Programme. After prayer and benediction by the Rector the members and guests enjoyed ice cream and cake and candy in the adjoining room.

It is hoped that the inspiration which the members gathered from this meeting may continue throughout the year.

On December 15th the Christ Church Chapter will be entertained by the St. Simeons' Chapter and it is hoped that all the members of our Chapter will be able to be present.

The Fall meeting of the Philadelphia Local Assembly was held at St. Mary's Church, West Philadelphia on St. Andrew's Day. Evening Prayer in the Church was held at 5.30.

At 6 o'clock the Junior and Seniors separated for individual conferences.

The Junior Conference was opened with prayer by the Rev. Robert M. Beckett of the Christ Church Chapter.

Three members from Christ Church attended the conference. Henry Ritter the treasurer of our local organization spoke at the conference.

The following have made application for membership:

Robert Montgomery
 James Aull
 Paul Manser

Daughters of the King

The Devotional meeting of the Daughters of the King was held November 16th, and was very well attended. The Rev. Robert M. Beckett opened the meeting and also gave us a very interesting talk, leaving with us the thoughts of watchfulness, prayer and steadfastness in connection with our opportunity and work as Daughter's.

Reports were made of visits to the sick and the hospital.

The regular meeting, December 7th, was not very well attended because of the weather and therefore no business or reports were made. E. Q.

Junior Auxiliary

It is a pleasure to note at this time the great advance both in the spirit of work and increase in membership made by the Junior Auxiliary.

The little ones have been busier than the proverbial busy bee. They have packed a box which has been sent to Miss Rowe at the Epiphany Mission, Sherwood, Tenn., with both useful and pleasant gifts to less fortunate children. In addition they have been sewing very industriously upon clothing for the Belgium babies. Twelve yards of flannel have been donated by both Mrs. Johnstone and Mrs. Bamford which is being made up into clothing.

The membership has now reached 21 with an average attendance of 15.

At the last meeting the members enjoyed a tea party as a respite from their tedious work.

A great deal of credit is due to those who have this work in charge and it deserves every encouragement. Its value lies not only in the number of articles sent out by the organization, but in fact that they as children learn to do something for others and that it should be done as carefully and well as one has the skill to do it.

Do not forget the Monthly Parish Supper to be given in the Parish House Thursday evening, January 7th, from 6 to 7 o'clock. A good supper for fifty cents and a pleasant time.

The Vestment Guild

The Vestment Guild held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, December 8, at 3 o'clock in the Parish House. The weather being exceedingly inclement, the full number were not present, and there being no special business before the committee, the meeting was adjourned.

At a special meeting the following officers were elected:

Chairman—Mrs. Topliff Johnson

Treasurer—Mrs. Sheldon Potter

Secretary—Mrs. J. S. Laurence

In charge of Clergy's Vestments—Miss Bessie Chase.

In charge of choir vestments—Mrs. Thacher.

Mrs. Laurence Simcox was appointed to fill a vacancy on the committee and will serve with Mrs. Laurence on the fourth Sunday in the choir room.

The Woman's Auxiliary

On Tuesday morning, November the twenty-fourth a special meeting was held in the Parish House at half past ten o'clock, to hear an address by Mrs. Ely, teacher of Art in St. Mary's School, Shanghai, China. A short business meeting preceded the address, when the officers for the year were elected. They were Mrs. Morrison, President; Mrs. Morgan, Vice President; Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Secretary; Mrs. Kamerly, Treasurer. Mr. Arndt introduced the speaker, who for over one hour talked to us of the church's opportunity in China and how she is meeting it. We were told of the condition of women in past and of the wonderful changes brought about by the Revolution. At present, China is in a plastic state and it is for us to mold her into a Christian Nation.

Our schools and universities are doing a noble work; but only a small part of what they might do, if we would give them greater facilities. Mrs. Ely spoke of the different departments of St. Mary's school and of the great importance of the Normal department in sending active teachers into all parts of China. Bishop Lloyd has said that "One Native Christian teacher is worth twenty missionaries. No one who heard Mrs. Ely could fail to be thrilled by her enthusiasm and deeply impressed by the wonderful opportunity offered to us to do the work of the Master; by prayers and gifts for missions.

After the address all were invited to remain for luncheon, to meet Mrs. Ely and hear more of her very interesting work.

On Thursday, December the third, was held the regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary at which the several committees were appointed to attend the Diocesan meetings at the Church House. The following persons were chosen:

The Domestic:

Mrs. Heyer, Mrs. Kamerly, Mrs. Fix.

The Diocesan:

Miss Fell, Mrs. Rowley, Mrs. Schaeffer.

Indian Hope:

Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Modgrige.

Colored:

Mrs. Gerhard.

Foreign:

Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Simcox, Mrs. Morrison.

Germantown Convention:

Mrs. Topliff Johnson, Mrs. Schaeffer, and one or more from the Diocesan Committee.

The Girls Friendly Society

The Girls Friendly has been very busy this winter, we have held classes in several different subjects, and had a very successful dancing class. This Christmas we are filling twenty-five stockings for the poor children. The stockings were a gift from a kind friend in the Sunday School and the girls are going to bring the gifts to fill them. Some of the stockings are going to Blockley where there are about one hundred and fifty children, and very often they are forgotten at the happy Christmas time. We are also going to have charge of the Sunday School entertainment this year. We are working very hard and we hope it will be a great success. We have had a number of new members lately, which is quite encouraging, but we want more. Every Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Diocesan Fair

The Diocesan Fair for the benefit of St. Martha's Settlement House, which was held the 3rd, 4th and 5th of December at Horticultural Hall, Broad and Locust Streets, was a creation of beauty and a wonderful success.

The Settlement House is the only diocesan one we have, consequently it is the ward of every parish in the diocese. These fairs are held about every ten years, and each church is assigned the wares it is to sell, the rest is left to it to work out as it so desires—the results at this time were most unique and beautiful, Christ Church having failed to receive its notice until late in the autumn, decided to make a donation in money—the collection for which amounted to $25 and St. Luke's kindly asked this parish to co-operate with her in selling her articles which were "china." Three women were appointed on the committee from Christ Church:

Mrs. Baremore, Mrs. W. N. Johnson, Mrs. Topliffe Johnson, Mrs. Keith Rodney, also three aids: Miss Regina Baremore, Miss Margaret Falkner, Miss Phyllis Morgan.

The financial results of the fair were something over $6,000.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club will dispatch its usual Christmas box and its annual library to Farmington, Mass.

This place was selected on account of a plea that came from the rector of the Church of the Advent there who wrote to the Church Periodical Club Secretary asking to be helped in forming a library and reading room in this small town, where at present there were no saloons and he hoped to interest the towns people in coming to a pleasant and instructive place like this, before a saloon found its way into the village and enticed the men and boys within its fold.

So the Pennsylvania branch has assumed this as its Christmas work and through the generosity of Christ Church people, the librarian has been able to send a large box of toys and about 50 books.

Persons in the congregation who have books or periodicals they can spare are invited to communicate with the Secretary of the parish branch and the names and addresses of persons who will appreciate the literature.

Address Mrs. Topliffe Johnson
430 Locust Ave., Gtn.

The cooking class which meets on Saturday afternoon in the Parish House under the direction of Mrs. Belfield is having profitable as well as enjoyable afternoons. It is very interesting to see how well the children are taking hold of the work. There is always some delicacy for the sick prepared at these meetings.

Athletic Association

The association held its regular monthly meeting December 3rd in the Parish House.

In the absence of the President Mr. Beckett acted as chairman, a committee was appointed to arrange a social for New Year's Eve.

Also a committee on "Pins" for the organization was appointed.

The Girls have been playing basketball in the gymnasium on Thursday evenings.

Monthly Parish Suppers

The second of the monthly Parish Suppers was held in the Parish House on December 1st, with a larger attendance than any thus far given. All present were unanimous in their appreciation of the bountiful supper furnished by the committee and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed by those who attended. A vote of thanks was extended to the committee in charge, Mrs. Sheldon Potter, Mrs. Laurence Simcox, Mrs. Samuel Gerhardt and Mrs. Laurence.

Contributions for the Suffering Belgians

In addition to the Societies in the Parish which are making garments for the Belgian sufferers an alms box will found at the west door of the church in which members of the congregation are invited to place their contribution for this purpose.

The Sunday School Christmas service will be held in the Church on Sunday afternoon, December 27th at half past three o'clock. The School will sing their Christmas carols and addresses will be made by the Superintendent, Mr. George T. Morgan and by the Rev. Robert M. Beckett. A cordial invitation is extended to the parents and friends of the School to be present.

Neighborhood Club

The November and December meetings of the Neighborhood (Men's) Club of Christ Church were pronounced successes in every way. A very fair number of the men of this vicinity attended each gathering.

At the meeting held on November the thirteenth we had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Bernard J. Newman, Field Secretary of the Philadelphia Housing Commission, explain that organization work in Germantown and Chestnut Hill. Mr. Newman is an interesting speaker, and his talk was illustrated with lantern slide pictures. Light refreshments were served by some of the young ladies of the Parish.

The December meeting was devoted to a discussion of the future of the Club and we look forward to a pleasant and useful season. The latter part of the evening was spent in singing popular songs and in enjoying the lunch prepared by the Executive Committee.

Any man connected with the Parish or residing in our vicinity may join the Neighborhood Club and an invitation is extended to the men to meet with us on the second Friday of each month. All meetings are held in the Parish House. There are no dues to the Club, the expenses being met by the voluntary contributions of those present at each meeting.

The officers elected to serve the Club are President, O. N. Middleton; Vice President, C. H. Jackson; Secretary and Treasurer, C. L. Hayhurst. The Executive Committee consists of the above officers and Messrs H. W. Amerling, A. R. Cheston, S. Gerhard and Dr. W. A. Johnson.

The next meeting will be held on the evening of January 8th, 1915 when a pleasant time is promised. Come out and enjoy it with us!

Christ Church Brigade Company 11, U. B. B. A.

At the recent election of the company W. H. Clarke was elected president, Lieut. Frank Else, Vice President; Sgt. Feist, financial Secretary, and Mr. Sutcliffe, Secretary. This meeting was held for reorganizing the company and putting it on a firm and systematic basis.

The company has been connected with the church since October, 1913 and I find by talking with several members of the church that the object of the organization as well as its benefits to the boys of the church and surrounding neighborhood are not fully understood.

The company is a Christian organization having for its object and motto the "Advancement of God's Kingdom among the Boys."

Every red-blood American boy has a fondness for things military and the Boys Brigade takes advantage of this tendency to reach and interest the boys. The military is but a means to an end to bringing the boys in closer contact with the Church and Christian principles.

Every company in the Boy's Brigade must be connected with the Church and meets once each week to drill, but before drilling a religious service must be held. It is also a rule that this company shall attend divine service, in uniform, the third Sunday of each month.

The military feature therefore accomplishes a two-fold purpose, it teaches the boy obedience, courtesy, love of country, and team work and by its religious activities it teaches them to love and reverence the one great Captain—Jesus the son of God.

Besides the military and religious features there are many things to instruct and interest the boys. Frequent hikes, scouting trips, sham-battles, parades, rallies, athletic competitions with other companies of the Boys' Brigade and a summer camp. On hikes the boys are taught how to build a fire and cook, first-aid and how to erect temporary shelter.

The Company drills every Friday night in the Parish House and visitors are always welcome. I trust that the members of the church will show their interest in the work we are doing by visiting us.

Wm. H. Clarke.

Social Service in Christ Church

New ideas and new methods in the world's work are often heralded and popularized by some epitome or catch word or phrase.

In these days we hear much of "social service" in the work of the Church. Christ Church heard a course of sermons in explanation of it, and a Diocesan Committee has issued literature upon it. After all this new idea is a bit older than the declaration of Sinai, since God who created us, His children, wrote in our very being the commandment to love our neighbor as ourself. But Social Service is continually breaking out in new spots and in new ways. The Apostles could not help healing the sick and providing for the needy than, from overflowing hearts, making known the love of Christ and His wonderful salvation. Religion had more than its Sunday, sickness and sorrow aspects to them; it was a good thing for every minute's use. It was Life. It not only touched man on every side, but it was in him, a part of him and emanating from him in acts and words which warmed, brightened, comforted, and moved other lives.

The early Church was adaptive to the needs of its members.

It not only preached, it organized its Social Service and appointed seven to be over it, that the Apostles might give more time and attention to the preaching of the Word. So the modern Church has discovered anew that religion is not something to be applied from without, like an ointment or liniment, but part of the life and being of everyone, and to be awakened, not acquired. Social Service does not preach at men; it preaches to men in words and deeds and actions which show the interest and kindness of those who have awakened to the realization of their sonship for those who have not found their Father.

It recognizes man as God's creature and his wants as proceeding from his being and therefore the concern of God and of his Church.

It does not divide the world's work into religious and secular, but into spiritual and physical, and it interprets the mysteries of the spiritual through the physical and reaches out to the soul through the body.

It is the adaptation of methods to conditions that is new. We have not a new thing in Social Service but a new method of rendering it.

Christ Church has a play ground, a play room and a parish house adapted for all kinds of Social Service work, and heretofore it has in large part left the serving of its tables to its Clergy, as well as the preaching of the Word,—the administration of the Sacraments,—the visitation of the sick,—the care of the poor and needy and the countless other cares, which, without the addition of new lines of work in Social Service, more than fully employed the time of the Rector and make heavy drafts upon his physical powers and nervous energy.

With a desire to lift these burdens from the Rector's shoulders and at the same time to more effectively organize the Social Service work of Christ Church, the Vestry has authorized the engagement of a layman to superintend and direct the work of the playground, the playroom, the athletic and social activities of the young and the social work among the men of the Parish. A playground or a play room is worse than useless without proper and constant supervision and intelligent direction, and none of the purely social activities in a Church are a proper part of its work unless they be so directed as to lead up to the great work of the Church in the worship of God, the preaching of his Salvation, the teaching of His Word and the administration of the Sacraments ordained by Christ himself.

Mr. Richard H. Gurley who comes to us on January 1st is a live wire, a collegian, an athlete, a Scout Master, a worker among the sailors of our Navy, a Superintendent of a public playground, a Church Man licensed by his Bishop as a lay reader. You will find him young with the young, a boy among boys and a man among men.

The Rector has appointed a Committee of the Vestry consisting of Messrs. Potter, Rodney and Baines to aid in this new method of work.

Let us pledge our hearty interest and support to the Church and Mr. Gurley in this new undertaking of organizing and systematizing the Social Service of the Parish.

A New Christian Year Some Visions

It was a happy thought of the Editor of one of our Diocesan Papers to ask the Bishop and a number of the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese to give its readers their Vision of the New Year—what it ought to be and what might be accomplished if every one had that Vision as an inspiration to stir up the gift that is in him to do his best.

And what Visions they were! The Bishop leads off with an appeal to our sense of personal responsibility—to awake out of sleep, for "the night is far spent, the day is at hand." If every individual realized his or her personal responsibility to God, to the Church, to the nation, to the community, to the home, what an opportunity the new Christian Year affords "for spiritual renewal, for the adoption of better methods of life and devotion, for the achievement of greater conquests in the extension of the Kingdom of God."

One of the older clergymen, with a noble record of long and faithful service in a single parish, strikes the Key-note of personal religion—the experience of a heart ever learning new meanings in the Book of God, new practice in keeping Divine commands, new warmth in the manifestation of brotherhood, new light, new joy, new peace—the deep, calm, changeless and wonderful love of Christ, received as the true expression of our Father's love, and we, His children, constrained to call upon our souls, and all that is within us, to bless His Holy Name." The Vision to all the people of Personal Religion.

Another sees the great needs in every community—the problems every parish must solve—the difficult tasks to be done—the discouragements. "Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat," said Philip. He had no Vision; but the Master knew. Christ's blessing multiplied the loaves. And with the vision of the Christ blessing, nothing is impossible in any parish; and every man at the Master's bidding can do the difficult work. What a Vision for every one of us to take the loaves that Christ creates and feed the people.

And a layman out of the experience of his own life realizes the truth that we are "Saved to Serve," and he sees the opportunity of "individual, personal service to the downcast and forlorn—those in the slough of despond, mental, spiritual, physical, that thru guidance and counsel and friendliness and offers of companionship more and more than heretofore, the community may look to the Parish as the source and center of the only satisfactory life. Then the Church will surely grow; its services will be well attended, and all questions of support and maintenance will be out of the way forever." Oh, that all men might have the Vision of the power of helpfulness in personal service.

Still another sees in his Vision of the year the need of putting first things first, and gives chief place to the education of the child; and sees what must be the future if sufficient importance be given to Sunday School work in the mind and service of every Christian.

Still another sees a Vision of the power of united action in creating a greater missionary enthusiasm than the Church has ever felt before, sweeping through the Church like the current of a mighty river.

Another sees glorious results if we "forget those things that are behind," and hopefully looking into the future every man, woman and child is encouraged to press forward toward the prize of our high calling in Christ Jesus.

And there is no end to Visions when the heart is aflame. And the fact stands out that everybody can do something, everybody must contribute something in efficient prayer, in ennobling example, in self-sacrificing service—if our ideals and resolutions are to come to anything more than empty dreams and pleasant sounds, if we are to hasten the time when his Kingdom shall come and His Will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Everybody can find something to be and to do in his community, to better social conditions; in his business, to solve industrial problems; in his State, to improve civic legislation; in his Church and Parish, to preach Jesus Christ and Him crucified as the only final and sufficient fulfillment of all service for the good of humanity.

And the challenge of the year before us is not for men of Vision—but that every one of us have a Vision, and then bend every energy for its fulfillment.

Worship—A Lost Art

By the late Rev. A. W. Snyder

Mr. Wendell Phillips has an interesting lecture on "The Lost Arts." He mentions many. There is one, however, which he does not speak of, which has, in this country, at least become far more a lost art than any that he does mention; and that is the worship of Almighty God. That it has for Americans become largely a lost art needs no proof. Unbelievers do not worship nor pretend to, and of professing Christians comparatively few seem to have any adequate idea of the duty, the privilege, or the grace of worship. Go, on Monday, to any one hundred persons around you, who attended religious services on Sunday, and ask them their reason for so doing, and, no doubt, the majority will tell that they went to hear Mr. So-and-so preach, never dreaming that there should have been another and a higher reason. Mr. Brown says he does not go to Church because he does not like Mr. White's preaching. Mrs. Green does not go because "they have such horrid singing." Mrs. Griffin does not go "because so few have called on her." Mrs. Minty does not go because she is mad at Mrs. Mills. Mr. Mills does not go because he does not like the minister.

Mr. Hill does not go because "he is hard of hearing." His son does not go because he does not like preaching anyway; and his son-in-law does not go because he says he can read better sermons at home in the Sectarian Advocate. Your friend, Mr. Neighbor, tells you that you must come and hear their new minister. You meet the minister himself, and he invites you to come and hear him preach. Thompsonians are building a new Church. We were looking at it lately, and as one of their deacons asked us how we liked it, we told him that it seemed admirably suited to their purpose. He said that all he wanted a Church for was to see and to hear in, so they had theirs built after the plan of the Metropolitan Opera House.

Reader, what does all this indicate? It shows this plainly enough, that worship has, for the great body of the American People, become one of the lost arts. If the purpose of Church-going be to hear a sermon, then these men talk reasonable enough. If the end of Church-going be to see and be seen, to hear Mr. Eloquent pray at you and preach to you, or hear four people sing to you, or one man play on the organ for your entertainment, then it is a sensible thing for the Thompsonians to build their Church after the plan of the Metropolitan Opera House. But if that be not the true purpose of a Church, then it is quite another matter. And, if the one great purpose of Churches and Church attendance be the worship of Almighty God, then, whether Mrs. Green likes the singing, or Mr. Blank likes the preacher or preaching, does not enter into the question at all. They ought to go to Church, and they ought to go there for the worship of God. Whether they like the music, or the preaching, their like has nothing to do with the duty and privilege of joining in the public worship of Almighty God. That is a duty, resting upon all Christian men; and alas for our land if men do not come to know it and act accordingly! We say that "The heathen, in his blindness, bows down to wood and stone." But this much may be said for him, and it is a great deal—he has a clear and definite notion of the privilege and duty of worship. He believes in a God of some sort, in some one outside of him and beyond him, better or at least more powerful than himself and that to Him he owes worship and adoration. So it is that the pagan before his idol, or the Mohammedan in his mosque, is at least a worshipper. And that is a great deal more than can be said of the average American. The heathen before his god stands and kneels; he falls down; he prostrates himself in worship and adoration. Alas! how often may we look, and look in vain, in many Christian congregations for any token that they worship anybody or anything, unless it be the preacher, or the organ, or the quartette. Looking, hearing and seeing would seem the great reason for their meeting together. So they will sit and sit through the whole Service; listen while one man talks or prays, or while four people sing to them; but as for kneeling, or worship and adoration, this they will have none of. Unless we are very much mistaken, one mission of the Church in this land, and to the people of it, is to restore and keep constantly before men the sense of the great duty and the blessed privilege of the worship of Almighty God.

Don't complain if members of the Church don't call on you when you are sick, until you count up how many sick members you have called upon during the past ten years.

A single rule for posture in worship is this: Sit to listen, stand to praise, kneel in prayer." Whenever the service is addressed to God, never sit. Whenever the services is addressed to man, except in solemn exhortation, we remain seated.

Lent—An Opportunity!

As each Lenten season returns it is this thought that gives it force and character. Lent is an Opportunity. "Once more the solemn season calls." It is one more chance to bend every energy of the spiritual nature to lift the soul to a higher plane of life, to richer experiences, to nobler deeds, to firmer faith, to deeper consecration, to labors and prayers more abundant. The time given us in life is all too short for the great task of preparing the soul to dwell in the presence of God. We cannot afford to neglect one single help, to waste one single hour.

At the opening of the Lenten season many are the thoughts that crowd the mind, telling us of the blessings of a well-kept Lent. Many are the ways of keeping it. We can, however, express the experience of those who earnestly enter upon its occupations, that, wherever they turn, they feel one, strong, influential power towards a better, truer, nobler life. There are no times in life when blessings descend so richly upon the soul as in the quiet, meditative hours of self-examination, when alone with God the soul learns more of duty, and finds ways in which to fulfill it.

Yes, Lent is an opportunity—your opportunity, whoever you are, for God is no respecter of persons; because it is God's given time to you to ascertain the facts of your life, its needs, its duties, its relation to the Saviour, and, as you listen to the Gospel message, reveals to you more fully how you may square your conduct after the standard of Jesus Christ.

If we treat this year's Lent as possibly our last, we shall understand that it is a season for honest endeavor, glowing with reality, burning with zeal, full of that energy which accompanies honest determination to make things right, to conquer things wrong, to live as God would have us live. Let there be none of the nonsense of half-heartedness, nor the folly of faint-hearted timidity to hinder the work of God within us, but with the prayer for Divine help daily upon our lips, seize every opportunity, ere it vanishes, and make brave use of its privileges for the ennobling and enriching of our souls.

It is with great regret that we lose the Rev. Mr. Beckett from Christ Church Parish. During his stay in the Parish Mr. Beckett has made many friends and he has been faithful in the discharge of all his duties. The best wishes of his friends go with him in his future work and their earnest prayers are that his ministry will be greatly blessed with abundant harvest.

A Word to Indifferent Parishioners

A comparatively small percentage of the people of Christ Church conscientiously avail themselves of the privileges of Lent. Year after year the services are attended and the missionary and the parish work is done by the same faithful few. Now and then new comers join the ranks and become loyal to the cause.

But there are some persons in the Parish who seem to have lost their sense of privilege or obligation to the Church.

They seldom, if ever, are seen in the House of God and therefore their interest in the Church has gradually decreased and the love for worship has well nigh disappeared.

As the Rector goes over, one by one the names on the list of parishioners and notes how many there are of these indifferent ones, his heart faints within him—"how long, oh Lord, how long!"

These lines will be read by some such a one. It is you, my friend, to whom I most earnestly appeal, now at the beginning of this Solemn Lenten Season.

Will you not cast off this fearful indifference which has so deadened your spiritual faculties as to keep you away from worship, Communion and God?

Will you not make this Lent an occasion prayerfully to strive to overcome the habit of indifference and conscientiously endeavor to be more faithful in your attendance at the services of your Church and more loyal in the discharge of every Christian duty?

A Word to Parents

Will not parents and others, who are interested in the welfare of the young, call the attention of all children eligible for Confirmation to the Instructions given by the Rector in the Parish House on Sunday afternoons at four o'clock?

Parents and adult friends of the young are cordially invited to come with the children to these Instructions.

Let no parent or sponsor neglect his duty this Lent to the children whom God has given him to bring up in His fear and love.

At the Baptism of your children this solemn obligation was placed upon you:

"Ye are to take care that this child be brought to the Bishop to be confirmed by him, so soon as he can say the Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the Ten Commandments, and is sufficiently instructed in the other parts of the Church Catechism set forth for that purpose."

Are you doing your duty?

The Rector wishes to suggest to the members of the congregation that, in their responsive reading of the Psalter, they do not go at such a rapid pace. The habit is growing of reading the psalter so rapidly that many persons in the congregation—especially the young are not able to keep up.

And then, too, by this rapid reading the beauty and solemnity of these heart searching, soul inspiring psalms are lost.

The Rector has requested the Choir to lead the congregation in their responses in a more deliberate, and what would seem, a more reverential manner.

Of course, this criticism does not apply to the evening service, where the Psalter is sung in a dignified and impressive manner.

The Rector wishes to state, in reply to a question that has been frequently asked him, that there is no charge made for the use of the Church on the occasion of Baptisms, Weddings or funerals. The poorest as well as the richest are welcome to the use of the Church "without money and without price."

If the choir is wanted at weddings or funerals a charge is made for their services.

There are no charges, however, "for the use of the Church" and whatever gratuities are given by anyone must be considered entirely voluntary and optional.

You will have a good supper and a pleasant time if you come to the Parish House Thursday evening, February 4th, 6-7. Come and bring your friends.

Sunday Reading

A clergyman who was supplying a pulpit, not his own, was entertained in the home of one of the prominent members of the church. The conditions of the home life impressed him deeply; and although he was careful not to disclose anything that could identify the family, he referred to the Sunday spent in their home as among the dreariest and least profitable in his whole experience.

The family, struggling down to breakfast Sunday morning, brought with them the gossip acquired at various places on Saturday night. Two of them had been to the theatre, one had been to a party, most of them had been out late. More than one of the household began the day with a headache.

On the breakfast table there were three Sunday newspapers. On these the different members of the family pounced, and were soon hidden behind them.

Only the father and the mother went to church; the young people were "too tired," and did not care to dress.

After the morning service, the clergyman found the newspapers well shaken out and scattered. There was hardly a chair that did not contain one or more parts of one or another of them.

After the Sunday dinner, the papers were seized again, and creased and re-creased in the weary quest for new sensations.

The home had a good library, but no member of the family opened a book that day. The library had the works of Whittier, Lowell, Longfellow, and Holmes, as well as those of Shakespeare and Tennyson, but no other member of the family read one of them much less any distinctly religious book.

The hymnal on the piano lay under a trashy song that came with one of the newspapers. The family Bible on the centre table was buried deep beneath the so-called "comic supplements."

The whole atmosphere of the home all day was commonplace, worldly, and depressing. There was nothing that lifted the thoughts of the members of the family above the wearisome round of the world and the things of the world. Business, politics, scandals, and bargains were the themes of conversation. The three secular newspapers, each with its sixty-odd pages, covered not only the seats, tables and carpets, they covered the spiritual life of the family as well. Without questioning the morality of such a Sunday, what may we not say of the pity of it? Is the soul of man so mean, so sordid, that not one day in the week can be saved for an acquaintance with the better things of literature and of life, and for the higher ministrations of the Spirit?

Henry Drummond, speaking of the value of a little time spent alone with God, said: "Five minutes spent in the companionship of Christ every morning—aye, two minutes, if it is face to face and heart to heart—will change the whole day, will make every thought and feeling different, will enable you to do things for His sake that you would not have done for your own sake or for any one's sake."

An Effectual Hint

An earnest Church woman hit upon an excellent plan of dealing with Sunday evening callers. There is no excuse in that home of being "kept from church by company."

Her plan is this:—At six o'clock or earlier she puts her bonnet nearby, to be put on at the ringing of the door bell. Thus the callers remark, "Oh! you're going somewhere!" Easily and effectively the reply comes forth—"Yes, I'm going to church before long, and I thought I'd get ready early."

The plan works splendidly. The hint is taken. We recommend the plan to our parishioners. Be sure, however, to tell your intended guests that as they have honored you with a call, you will expect them to go to church with you.

Some one has said that there are three sorts of men in the world—the will, the wots and cants and that the former effect everything, the second oppose everything, and the latter fail in everything.

Daily Prayers for Lent

For Faithfulness—

O Almighty God, I beseech Thee, hear this, my prayer and grant my petitions in this time of grace and penitence. Enable me to perform my religious duties with exactitude and reverence and grant that this fast, consecrated by the example and precepts of Thy Adorable Son, may be pleasing in Thy sight and strengthen me with His might, that I may serve Thee more faithfully in time to come and bring me finally to Thy eternal Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
A Prayer for the Parish—

Almighty an everlasting God, Who dost govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplication of Thy servants and grant unto this Parish all things that are needful for its spiritual welfare. Strengthen and confirm the faithful; visit the wicked; rouse the careless; recover the fallen; restore the penitent; remove all hindrances to the advancement of Thy truth and bring all to be of one mind and one heart within the fold of Thy Holy Church, to the honor and glory of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

Feb. 14th—Mr. Pursell.
Feb. 14th—Rev. William H. Avery.
Feb. 21st—Mr. James Y. Humphrey.
Feb. 28th—James Graeff, Jr.

Almighty God, with whom do live the spirits of those who depart hence in the Lord, and with whom the souls of the faithful; after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; We give thee hearty thanks for the good examples of all those thy servants, who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labours. And we beseech thee, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Lent is as indispensable to the growth and fruitfulness of the Christian life as is Winter to the future harvest. The divine order of rotation and succession, of sowing and reaping, is as fixed in one case as the other. The tears of penitence must precede the joy of justification. This is the immutable decree. A closer searching of the heart, a severer self-examination of the life, a deep, poignant contrition that we are what we are: a fervent desire and "prayer without ceasing" for amendment of life: abstinence and self denial in necessary things that we may be chastened and disciplined to deny ourselves in superfluous and forbidden things; the practice of charity; alms giving, to teach unselfishness, and self restraint in the use of the good things God has given us. A regime of this kind, strictly adhered to through the forty days of Lent, with special withdrawal from the world and devotion to God—think you not that this Wintertime of the soul will not, by His blessing, have its "fruit unto holiness and the end everlasting life?" The harvest following will be an abundant one.

Athletic Association

The Parish House is open now on Monday and Friday afternoon and evening and Wednesday and Saturday afternoon for the boys. It is open Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning for the girls. It is open Wednesday night for the men (all ages.) And there is somebody right on the job now every afternoon and night to see that everything is all right and that it stays all right. The play-room is open only to the use of members of the Christ Church Athletic Association (Junior or Senior membership) and any boy or girl, man or woman is eligible to membership if he or she is not a member of some other church or Sunday School. Those attending no church or Sunday School are the more welcome here. Twenty-five cents pays for six months for a Junior and fifty cents for a Senior for the same period. There is also a sustaining membership of two dollars a year which we hope will be liberally subscribed to by the adults of the parish.

We have a volley ball game, an indoor baseball game, and a basket ball game to interest the older children and adults and a number of playground games for the smaller children.

Come and join. You will help us and we will help you and mutual benefit is the best kind there is. And "you" means every loyal member of the parish of Christ Church. Its a trite saying but a true one that your religion and your church will be valuable to you in proportion as you exercise the first and exercise for the second. We offer you in this work an opportunity to do both. What interest you take will be returned to you with interest.

R. H. G.

Confirmation

The Rector will deliver a course of Instructions on Confirmation and Teachings of the Church on Friday evenings at eight o'clock, and on Sunday afternoons at four o'clock. The Instructions will begin on Friday evening, February 5, and Sunday afternoon, February 7th, and will continue on every Friday evening, and Sunday afternoon until the Bishop's visitation, Maundy Thursday, April 2nd. All who are desirous or are thinking of being confirmed are requested to confer with the Rector at once.

The Friday Evening course is intended for adults, the Sunday afternoon course is adapted to minors. All persons in this vicinity, who desire information on the subject of Confirmation and the Church Teachings, whether they have decided to be confirmed or not are cordially welcome to attend these Instructions.

The Instructions will be given in the Parish House, room No. 2.

Confirmation or The Laying on of Hands

We learn from the Acts of the Apostles that in the early days of the Church, after converts had been baptized, the Apostles used to lay their hands upon them for the further outpouring of the Holy Ghost. It was so in the case of those Samaritans to whom the Acts viii, v. 14 refers. We are told that "when the Apostles, which were at Jerusalem, heard that Samaria had received the Word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John, who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost (for as yet He was fallen upon none of them; only they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus). Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost." It was so also in the case of certain believers at Ephesus, of whom St. Paul asked whether they had received the Holy Ghost when they believed, meaning thereby to inquire whether, after they were baptized, they had received the Laying on of Hands. Their answer showed that they had not received Christian Baptism at all, but had been baptized only with the baptism of John that is, of John the Baptist, the forerunner of our Lord. Whereupon, by St. Paul's direction, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and then he laid his hands on them; and "the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues and prophesied."

The holy rite of Laying on of Hands has been continued in the Church from the beginning.

The special blessing, then, which we are taught to connect with Confirmation is spiritual strength. If by Baptism we are taken into Christ, and are made to be "in the Lord," by Confirmation we are made to be "strong in the Lord." This is the teaching of Holy Scripture, and of the primitive Church, as Hooker says in those familiar words, "The Fathers everywhere impute to Confirmation that gift of grace of the Holy Spirit, not which makes us first Christian men, but, when we are made such, assisteth us in all virtue, and armeth us against temptation and sin."

As it is with regard to all means of grace and religious ordinances generally, that they are to us very much what we ourselves make them, so it is with Confirmation. If a person comes to it with earnest purpose of heart, offering himself and his life to Christ, not knowing, indeed—as how can he as yet know?—all that self-sacrifice involves, but trusting himself to his Saviour, there is that within him which, if he will fully trust Him, will be an infinite strength—a living Power, which will do for him exceeding abundantly above all that he can ask or think—a Power which will be ever at work within him, destroying, correcting, encouraging, impelling, invigorating him, carrying him on step by step, until he is able to present him perfect in Christ Jesus.

Reader—Can you dare to risk a life without His grace and power. Submit yourself to Him, according to His will and ways and you will know His power.

The Vestry's Letter

The usual Lenten letter of the Vestry, setting forth the financial condition and needs of the Parish will be issued to the parishioners of Christ Church on the first Sunday in Lent. Notwithstanding the financial depression of the times the people of Christ Church have, as a rule, kept up their systematic and generous offering. In some few cases there have been a falling off in contributions but these were really necessary from urgent conditions.

The people of Christ Church, as a rule, do not "begin their economy at the House of God." We venture to say that there are not many parishes that have a larger percentage of conscientious, faithful givers than Christ Church. There are only a few persons in the parish—and they are not the poorest either, who fail to do their duty by their Church!

Through the generosity of several persons in the Parish a number of dinners were given to very worthy families at Christmas time. Expression of gratitude went out from many hearts to the kind and thoughtful people in this parish whose generosity contributed so substantially to the comfort and happiness of others.

The Christmas decorations in the Church were unusually beautiful this year. They reflect great credit on the young men of the Parish who did the work.

Sunday School

The Sunday School Festival held in the church on December 27th, was well attended and successful. Many of the parents of the scholars were there, all seemed much interested in the work being done by the teachers. The Entertainment on December 29th was as usual crowded. The plays were given by the girls of various ages, and were well staged. Everyone recognized the amateur talent and were not slow to express their appreciation. The Lantern Pictures and the appearance of Santa Claus were its climax and closing of a very entertaining evening. The school shows a slight increase in attendance especially in the Intermediate Department: the two hundred mark was passed on one Sunday.

A Men's Bible Class will be formed at an early date. A number of men have already said they wished to join.

The Sunday School room and stairway have been painted, the color light brown and yellow being most beautiful. The Rector, Superintendent, and Teachers hope the scholars will show their love and appreciation of this and be very careful not to hurt its beauty in any way. G. T. M.

The Embroidery Guild, which meets every Thursday morning at ten o'clock in the Parish House, is doing some beautiful work. The Class is under the personal instruction of Miss Bessie Chase who cordially welcomes any woman in the parish who wishes to be taught embroidery or is willing to co-operate in the work.

In answer to many inquiries it is announced that the Christ Church Kalendars, usually issued for distribution at this time, have been omitted this year. There have been many demands for these Kalendars. Next year it is hoped that they will be issued as heretofore.

A limited number of the "Church Missionary Calendar" for 1915 may be had from the Verger, if application is made at once.

The price is twenty five cents—all the money goes to Missions.

Mother Meeting Dinner

Never was there a jollier crowd of women gathered together in Christ Church Parish House than the members of the Mother's Meeting, who had their holiday dinner served to them on Tuesday afternoon, January 12th. The day was very inclement, the rain pouring down in sheets. Notwithstanding twenty four mothers, ranging in years from eighty years downward—but all young in spirit,—met at the appointed hour and singing lustily marched in procession to the long table, beautifully decorated with laurel and flowers and baskets of fruit. At each plate Santa Claus had left a box of delicious candy, as a token of his good wishes.

The meal was sumptuous, composed of turkey and all the many good things that go to make up a real "turkey dinner."

After the dinner came "the feast of reason and flow of soul." The Rector presided and the post prandial speakers were the mothers themselves. The exercises were opened by selections on the piano by Masters John and David Arndt. Recitations were delivered by Mrs. Hearst, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Reckerd and "speeches" were made by Mrs. Crowther and Mrs. Stroup.

The Mothers were then delightfully entertained by a clever exhibition of legerdemain by Master Walter Gibson, assisted by his brother, Master Anthony Gibson.

The Mothers unanimously voted their thanks to the ladies who so kindly served the dinner—Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Sheldon Potter, Mrs. Woodroffe, Mrs. Topliffe Johnson and Mrs. Gurley, and to others who contributed to the dinner.

Regrets were expressed that Mrs. Rowley could not be present on account of illness and best wishes were sent to her by all the Mothers.

Clothing Needed

Persons who have clothing to spare, outer and under garments or shoes for men, women or children are asked to send the same to the Parish House. They will be given to worthy persons and will be greatly appreciated.

The Easter Offering

Every Parish will have some particular object or objects for which generous gifts will be made on Easter Day. So far as this offering is connected with Lent it is the result of self-denials. We deny ourselves some luxury or some necessity not to save but to give. The denial is for Christ's sake, and is given to aid His cause. What a splendid illustration of devotion the offering at Easter may be, if every Christian in every congregation throughout the land will determine what pleasure or pleasures he or she will cut off during these forty days, and bring the savings—offerings rich and rare as such offerings must be—and lay them on the Altar.

Periodical Club

The Periodical Club is an organization formed to furnish literature to persons living in distant or isolated parts of the country, who have not the opportunity or who cannot afford to subscribe for magazines, books or periodicals, etc.

The Secretary of the Periodical Club in this Parish is Mrs. Topliffe Johnson. Through the thoughtfulness of many friends she is able to send regularly to worthy and appreciative persons in distant parts of the country a great deal of good reading matter. The many letters which are received in cordial acknowledgement of these books and magazines show how greatly they are appreciated by the recipients.

If, instead of allowing good literature to accumulate and become rubbish in the house, people would realize how useful it would be to others and send each copy to people not similarly blessed, this good work would be greatly extended and bring happiness to a much larger number.

Will not all persons in the Parish who desire to share their reading matter with others, please communicate with Mrs. Topliffe Johnson, 430 Locust Avenue, Germantown, who will gladly furnish them with full information.

Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January the seventh at 10.30.

Although the number present was not what it should be when we consider how many women there are in the Parish, yet it was most encouraging to find strongly evidenced a spirit of interest, and determination to make the auxiliary a telling agency of the Church. Plans were discussed with regard to the work to be taken up for the Lenten season and committees were appointed to look into the work suggested and be ready to report at the next meeting, when definite work will be decided upon.

It was decided to continue the regular business meeting on the first Thursday morning of each month at half past ten o'clock. In addition to the monthly business meeting, the ladies will meet every Wednesday afternoon during Lent at two o'clock to sew for missions. Every woman in this Parish is cordially invited to these weekly meetings.

Men's Club

The Men's Club will have a supper to be followed by various forms of entertainment on the evening of Friday, February 12th, Lincoln's birthday. A brief address on the subject of Abraham Lincoln will be given and the members of the club are planning to make this an occasion pleasant in every way. The attention of those who are members of the club but who have not been to recent meetings is particularly called to the coming social meeting. It will be a good opportunity to renew your interest and your co-operation to make the success of the club an assured fact. The name of the speaker for this occasion will be announced later. Keep this evening open and have a seat saved at the table for you. All men in this vicinity are cordially invited. Remember the date, Friday, February 12th.

What Phillips Brooks Said of Lent

The following words are from the lips of that great spiritual giant—Phillips Brooks. Every one will admit that his life was lived with God and what helped him to attain to spiritual heights will help others in their Christian life. He speaks of Lent as follows:

"My friends, our Lent is here. There is no magic in its days. It is only that we have resolved till Easter to give more time and thought to our religious life. All that may come to much or it may come to nothing. I beg of you let it come to much. And the way to do that is to bring your soul up to the point of whole and genuine repentance. By any discontent you have now with your life, by any longing for a better heart, by the solemn responsibility you owe to God, by the great unutterable love of Christ. I beg you, as if I went from ear to ear and pleaded with each of you, not to let this Lent pass without confessing your sinfulness and being forgiven and becoming a grateful servant of Jesus Christ. May God grant it for all.

Whatever forms of fasting you may decide upon as being real to you, let it all be with a single idea and purpose. To teach your body its proper place—subjection to the Spirit. You may not destroy or even injure the body, for that is God's temple, but you must teach it that the welfare of the soul is man's first consideration. Be honest in your fasting. Do not pretend to fast by giving up minor things. That brings no good results. We might add that the person who does this is not really seeking results, but is play acting. Let your sacrifices, which are supposed to be in imitation of the sacrifice of Christ, be of some value. According to their reality they are acceptable to God."

Permanent interest in missions depends on knowledge. Christian people are not indifferent to missions because they are lacking in faith and life, but it is with many of them a lack of knowledge.

Mr. Richard H. Gurley, who has been engaged to assist the Rector as lay reader and to have charge of the work among the young men and boys of the Parish began his duties on January 1st. Mr. Gurley has many excellent plans which will interest the young people and he invites the attendance of all young men and boys and girls in this vicinity to the meetings as they are announced to be held in the Parish House.

There is a story of an atheist's child who had learned something about God. The Father wished to expunge the thought from her mind, and he wrote on a piece of paper, "God is nowhere." He asked the child to read the words and she spelled out, "God is now here." The child's unconscious misreading of the atheist's creed startled him to the feet of the God whose very existence he had sought to deny. Wherever we are we are in the presence of God.

Mr. Edward Miles, who has had temporary charge of the Choir pending the engagement of a Choir Master has resigned and Mr. Horace W. Hardy has been appointed Organist and Choir Master of Christ Church. Mr. Hardy comes highly recommended as a musician and trainer of voices and excellent service may be expected from the Choir.

It is with great regret that we shall lose Miss Emily Collison, who has faithfully served as Organist during the past year. Resolutions of appreciation of her services were passed by the Vestry at their regular meeting held January 5th.

On Sunday afternoon, January 31st the choir will have charge of the music at the Masonic Home. This is the Choir's annual service at the home.

Do not forget to come to the next Monthly Parish Supper to be given in the Parish House on Thursday Evening, February 4th, from 6 to 7 o'clock.

One chief reason why the world is not reformed is that we all think others ought to be reformed instead of reforming ourselves.

Little Girls' Missions Class

All the little girls in the Parish and their girl friends are invited to meet in the Parish House at half past three on Friday afternoons in Lent for a Mission Study Class. The class will be taught by one of the ladies in the Parish and an interesting time will be had. The class will begin on Friday afternoon, February 19th and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of little girls.

Junior Auxiliary

The business meeting of the Junior Auxiliary of Christ Church was held on December fourth. We had the Secretary and Treasurer's report read and then we went into another room where we had a lovely little party.

We reserve the first Friday of each month for a business meeting and a social afternoon.

We have not had any meetings for two weeks account of the holidays but we have started our work again January 8th and expect to meet every Friday afternoon as provided. All girls are invited.

Opportunities Abroad

All thoughtful men agree that we live in critical times—amid great revolutions in thought and in society.

The opening year is laden with problems in regard to this nation that shall determine its future welfare and power. The opportunity is given to the Christian people of America to solve the greatest problem, and lay wise foundations for the noblest Christian nation on earth.

Never were grander opportunities given to the Church we love to plant the standard of Christ and our most holy faith, in all the developing sections of our country, or to wield an immense influence in the well-settled centres of population.

In this great crisis in history, the Church bids us learn in this solemn season the chance offered for Christian prayers and gifts, the importance of the hour, and the responsibility to use well an opportunity that once neglected can never return.

Altar Guild

Wednesday, January sixth was a memorable date for the members of the Altar Guild.

At 9.30 in the morning there was a corporate communion of the Guild and in the evening they held their annual dinner at the home of Mrs. William Avery.

Although it has been an established custom for the members of the Guild to meet socially once a year, never has there been a more enjoyable time than the last dinner and the Guild wishes to extend to Mrs. Avery their sincere appreciation of her kindness and hospitality.

Some time ago a letter was received by the rector containing a generous contribution to be used in placing flowers upon the altar in memory of a deceased parent.

The Guild desires to express their appreciation of this gift in this issue of the "Chimes" and would be deeply gratified if the donor would make herself known to the rector or any member of the Guild in order that personal thanks may be extended.

The Daughters of the King

The monthly devotional meeting of the Daughters of the King was held on December 21st. The meeting was opened by the Rev. Mr. Beckett who gave us a helpful talk. At this meeting it was decided to give a half ton of coal as a Christmas present to one of our friends, and also to send a small present in money to two others. The members also agreed to send Christmas postals to an old lady who would not be apt to receive any.

On January 4th, our regular business meeting was held. The Visits reported for the last two months were ten hospital visits, and seventeen parish visits. One of our members, through the kindness of her brother was able to bring to a Sunday morning service, a former member of the Church, who is now a confirmed invalid and living in Philadelphia.

An Admission Service was held in the Church after the evening service on January 10th, at which time Mrs. Belfield was admitted to the Order.

The Rector's Notes

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " }

Holy Week Services

The list of services during Holy Week and the hours will be found on another page in this issue of the "Chimes."

It seems presumptuous for the Rector to suggest to sensible people that they should conscientiously observe Holy Week. This, of course, is needless; is, indeed, an insult to a devout Churchman. Every Christian will want to devote as many hours as they possibly can, during this most Holy Week in the presence of their Lord.

The Rector begs, however, to call the attention of all devout people to one service, which may escape their attention, namely: the daily celebration of the Holy Communion at 7.30 A. M.. Cannot business people and others in the Parish arrange to begin their days and their days' occupations during this week, in Communion with their Lord? It will mean so much to all!

Service for Communicants

The Rector wishes to call special attention of all communicants to the service which will be conducted in Christ Church by Bishop Rhinelander on Maundy Thursday evening. At that time the Bishop will administer to the candidates for Confirmation the Apostolic Rite of "Laying on of Hands." Immediately after the Confirmation Service the Bishop will conduct a Preparatory Service for the Easter Communion.

Whilst all persons are invited to this service it will be more fully appreciated and especially helpful to those who are eager to prepare themselves thoroughly in mind and heart to receive on Easter Day the blessed privilege of the Holy Communion.

And every true Churchman will want to do this! The invitation is so broad, so loving, so tender—who can refuse it?

"Ye who do truly and earnestly repent you of your sins, and are in love and charity with your neighbours, and intend to lead a new life, following the commandments of God, and walking from henceforth in His holy ways; Draw near with faith, and take this holy Sacrament to your comfort; and make your humble confession to Almighty God."

Every "Communicant"—worthy of the name—will make every effort, will make every sacrifice conscientiously to prepare himself and "draw near with faith" on Easter Day in Communion with his Risen Lord.

The Rector's Concern

The primary and most important interest which concerns the Rector is, and, no doubt should be, the spiritual condition of the Parish.

And yet the financial condition of the Parish is also a very grave concern to him. At present he must admit it is causing him considerable anxiety.

Owing to the death, during the past year, of the largest single contributor in the Parish and, also, to the reduced incomes of many who have been effected by the late business depression, the deficit this Easter is $2600.00.

This amount must be raised in full if the Parish is to begin the next fiscal year without a debt for current expenses. The Rector realizes that this cannot be accomplished without an unusually generous and self-sacrificing giving on the part of all. There are some in the Parish,—who, through distressing circumstances will not be able to give very much, or, at least as liberally as heretofore. It is impossible for them to do so—and they painfully regret it.

It is therefore, incumbent upon others, who have not been so seriously effected, in order that our Parish work may not be crippled, to exert every effort to make every sacrifice to increase their offering this Easter over that of any previous year. The Rector begs that those whom God has so generously blessed above so many of their less fortunate brethren, will not "plead poverty" or the stress of "so many other demands" or other excuses which are such common stock in trade, but will come forward at this Easter time and do a really great and a heroic thing—by pouring out their generosity, so freely and so unrestrictively, that this Parish so dear to the heart of every true and loyal member,—will be freed from all financial burdens and will be blessed with ample income to do a greater work in this community for our Blessed Lord and Saviour.

This is possible and quite within the ability of some—if they will rise, by God's help, to the occasion, and to the privilege.

The Rector freely admits that this matter is weighing heavily on his heart, because it is obstructing the work which might otherwise be done.

Will not every friend of the Parish make a strenuous and conscientious effort this Easter to give the largest possible offering?

If the Parish were to be entirely relieved of its indebtedness at this Easter time and were to begin its fiscal year unhampered, there is every prospect that, with the enlarged field of usefulness at its very doors and with its present well equipped Parish House facilities, its influence on the moral and spiritual life of this community would be by God's grace, wonderful and far-reaching.

Will not, therefore, every friend of the Parish now, at this time, give most generously, as God has blessed each one, and make it possible for Christ Church to do, in a greater and better way, the work the Master has given it to do?

You Ought to be Confirmed

Several persons in the Congregation, who ought to be confirmed, have not as yet given their names to the Rector. This is a duty they owe to their family, to themselves, their Church and their God. They have been hesitating for years; at times wanting to come, but procrastinating from day to day.

Some day it will be "too late."

Will not every man and woman in this community, who is desirous of leading a better life, of following Christ and being of some use in the world come to the Rector that he may talk over the matter with them?

It is not now too late. Someday it will be! The invitation is to all—Now! "Whosoever will—let him come!"

One secret act of self-denial, one sacrifice of inclination to duty, is worth all the mere good thoughts, warm feelings, passionate prayers, in which idle people indulge themselves.

Confirmation and Preparatory Service

The Rt. Rev. P. M. Rhineland, D. D., Bishop of Pennsylvania, will visit Christ Church on Maundy Thursday evening, April 1st, to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. After the Confirmation Service the Bishop will conduct a service and give an address to Communicants, preparatory for the Easter Communion.

Every Communicant of the Parish is urged to be present.

Instructions on Confirmation are being given by the Rector in the Parish House, Friday evenings at eight o'clock for adults; Sunday afternoons, at four o'clock, for minors.

All persons are invited to these Instructions.

The Rector asks that all persons in the Parish, who, through sickness or other causes, are not able to attend the Easter Communion in the Church, will notify him and he will be pleased to go to their homes or hospitals and have the service for the "Communion of the sick."

He holds himself in readiness to visit at any time the sick or those in need.

The Value of Parish Work to the Worker

There is a very great value in parish work to the worker. One who stands on the outside, and has not "part nor lot" in the activities of the parish—is merely named on the register as belonging to the parish—cannot realize that a very real value to the individual exists.

The word work to the uninitiated all too often means something unpleasant, something to be avoided; but when one considers that work and happiness are inseparable, it is strange more do not find their work and their happiness. Each individual member of a parish bears a responsibility for a certain part of the Church's work, and has a talent intended for use—much depends upon the use made of opportunities.

Activity creates interest; as there can be no activity without mind and body, so there can be no interest without heart. As soon as this factor enters, it all ceases to be work in the popular meaning of the term and great good comes to the worker—in happiness derived, the feeling of being necessary to the great whole, the sense of power and dependableness; all of which will be found to work out in this wise—that the more one does, the greater the desire grows to do something more.

Then comes a deepening and broadening of character—a worker must look upon the world differently; coming into close relation with fellow-workers gives a wider outlook. Too many to mention are the elements for the strengthening and upbuilding of character which enter in this contact; they extend soul-deep.

It has been said: "What we pray for we work for," and as truly it can be said, what we work for we pray for; and what we work and pray for, we stand for; here is a test of our loyalty, and a deepening of our spiritual life.

Parish work done with any right motive must have its value; but many, many times is that value increased if there is a deep underlying sense of for WHOM it is all done, a belief in the Church, and the fundamental principles for which the Church stands. Then with the growth in character and influence, there will be also a splendid growth in true Churchmanship; ideals will be higher, and there will come the "Vision."

The Rector wishes to recommend a worthy woman, who has large family to support, for days' work; also a refined elderly woman wants board at $3.00 a week who is willing to look after various light work in home; also a man of family in great need, who desires place as butler or valet, has had long experience in English families and bears excellent record; also, Rector can recommend a most worthy woman who excels in making of cakes, pastry, candies and delicacies for the sick, she will receive orders at her home; inquire of Rector; also, man for gardening, has family of small children and sick wife dependent upon him; also young man, excellent machinist, good character. Inquire for above to the Rector.

And we beseech thee, that we, with all those who are departed in the true faith of thy holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Junior Brotherhood

The work of our Junior Brotherhood is picking up and we want all boys in the Parish who have never been members or who are interested in being useful to come around to our meetings on the second and fourth Tuesday of every month. We want to get a baseball team started and get the boys of the Parish to work together along other lines. If you like lots of pep and ginger in doing things we don't know which need is the greatest yours for us or ours for you.

Come to our next meeting and satisfy both needs.

The Rev. Hugh Q. Miller has been gaged to assist the Rector at the Communion service in Christ Church until the first Sunday in June.

Woman's Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church has met for its regular monthly meetings in the Parish House, with much encouragement owing to the increased attendance and greater interest.

After the business part of the February meeting we had the pleasure of hearing a most interesting talk on "Missions and Mission Study" by Miss Avery of Bala. She told of what wonderful work and financial returns and wide spread interest in missions had been evidenced in her own Parish since Mission Study Classes had been formed there.

The Mothers Meeting Appeal

This is an appeal to our friends in the Parish who have so kindly encouraged us in the past. We are greatly in need of orders for the special kinds of work done by our members.

Surely some one in the Parish is in need of white or gingham aprons, dish or roller towels, dusters or Colonial rugs.

We have quantities of rags all cut and sewed waiting orders to be made up into rugs or rag carpet. Our supply of uncut rags is entirely exhausted hence we have no work of any kind to do. Our meetings are much more interesting when our hands are busy. It is by the sale of these useful articles that we are able to make our usual generous Easter offering.

No Monthly Parish Supper in April

The monthly Parish Suppers, which have been given on the first Thursday in each month, have been exceedingly successful from every point of view. The large number of parishioners who have attended has made these occasions very pleasant in a social way and have brought together many friends in the Parish. The ladies on the various committees have excelled themselves in providing most delicious suppers and the tables and rooms have been most attractive. Great credit is due to these ladies for their successful effort in making these monthly gatherings such delightful features in the Parish life.

Owing to the fact that the first Thursday of April occurs in Holy Week the April Supper will not be held. The two combined committees will arrange for a supper on the first Thursday in May—May 6th—when it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The last supper in the series will be on the first Thursday in June—when all the committees and societies of the Parish will combine in a general Parish meeting.

No one should fail to attend the next two suppers—Thursday May 6th and June 3rd. A very enjoyable time is promised to all on both these occasions.

Young People's Meetings

Have you been to one of the Young People's meetings yet? They are held at 7.00 sharp every Sunday evening and they last just half an hour, but during that half hour there is all the spirit and enthusiasm you could want. They are called Young People's meetings but only on the idea that a person is just as young as he or she feels. All ages come and all ages enjoy it. We have a seat saved for you. Remember, every Sunday night at 7.00 sharp in the Parish House.

Notice for Boys

The first Saturday after Easter, the boys of the Parish are invited to meet at the Parish House at 9.30 and take a hike out into the country. Elementary and practical instruction will be given in tracking, trailing, fire-making, camp-cooking, camp construction and other branches of wood-lore. The party will cook their own lunch and return to the Parish House about 2.30 in the afternoon. Later on will be given instruction in fire making without matches, how to recognize different kinds of trees, how to bridge small streams or creeks, signalling, camp and tent location and sanitation—all the knowledge that the experienced camper has and that the boy wants to have. If you want to join this crowd give your name to the Parish Secretary and remember the day of the first hike—Saturday, April 10th at 9.30 A. M.

The Mothers Meeting

We recently had a pleasant visit from our friend Mrs. Dayton who spent the afternoon with us and played the accompaniment for the hymns. We have sadly missed a musician this winter, Mrs. Rowley's illness having kept her at home.

The Rector's helpful talks are always enjoyed and we also had an address and a Bible reading from Mr. Gurley which was very interesting.

Some of the readers of "The Chimes" may not know that Christ Church was the first Church to organize a Mother's Meeting. Over fifty years ago Miss Bayard organized the women of the Parish who were employed by the day, into a Guild which she called the Mothers Meeting. We now have twenty-one names on the roll with an average attendance of fifteen. We are always glad to welcome new members.

Girls Notice

All girls in the Parish who would be interested in forming a play-ground baseball team please give their names to the Parish Secretary as soon as possible. Those of ages from 14 to 16 years are eligible.

Junior Auxiliary

The Juniors have been divided in their work this Lenten season on account of their varying ages. The older girls have taken up a course of Mission Study, the course being worked out on the story of "The Building of the City."

The little girls are making over Easter cards to send away in time to carry the joyful message "He is risen!" to those little ones who have not the benefits and opportunities that they have.

L. J. J.

Athletic Association

We have excellent material out of which to form a boys', a girls, and a young men's baseball team. But we can't play baseball in the Parish House or on the streets and the ground about the house is too small to practice on. Does any man in the Parish own, control or know of a good field, the use of which we could have either by their efforts or by our own? It is really a pressing need. Look back to your own early days when the frost came out of the ground and the robins began to sing and the fleecy clouds drifted lazily across the blue sky and the warm sun-kissed breeze blew gently upon your face and somebody yelled "Play ball" and you heard the crack of the bat against the ball and—but why go further? We want to play the good old game, but have the right to no field large enough. Can you help us out?

The Men's Club

Arrangements are now being made to furnish one of the large rooms on the first floor of the Parish House as a Club Room for the men of the Parish. The lighting of the room will be improved and the room fixed up in every way calculated to add to its comfort and attractiveness. But we need furniture, games, magazines and your help. Here are some of the ways you can give it.

A subscription to any one or more of the evening papers for our newspaper file.

A subscription to any good dependable magazine that will interest men.

The cost of fitting up one of the "cozy corners."

The cost of lace curtains for the windows.

A game of checkers, chess, dominoes or any other that amuses.

And here are some of the ways of lending your interest. Any article loaned will be labeled with the owner's name and carefully preserved from injury.

A couple or more good, husky straight backed chairs with comfortable seats.

Two good rocking chairs.

A large table cover.

A couple of good sized rugs.

Two good oil lamps with dark shades.

Of course we could eventually buy all these things but what's the use if you'll lend them to us, instead of paying storage bills for them or keeping them tucked away in the attic or cellar. If you'd come around some night to the Parish House and look the situation over you'd be surprised to find how much you could help to make this Men's Club Room attractive and the club itself attractive to you. Of course you may be ready and willing and anxious and eager to help from a distance but there are so many men like that we can't keep track of them so we just have to depend more or less on the men who come around in the flesh and not in the spirit alone. Please don't wait to be asked. We haven't got stamps or shoe leather enough for that. The Club Room, starting April 4th, will be open for the convenience and comfort of the men of the Parish every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening between 7 and 10 o'clock. Make use of it but in the meanwhile help every way you can to fix the room up. Just have a talk with the Rector or his assistant and see what particular obstacles to our plans you can remove.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, of which there are 82 branches, held an all day meeting at the Church House, Thursday the 25th, 1915. The session was called "A School for Librarians."

There was a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9.00 A. M. at which the Bishop was the celebrant.

There then followed a series of one hour sessions, under the following heads:

Canvass of Parish and the Methods.
Records and Publicity.

Books, Cards and Magazines in Bulk.

Donors and Recipients.

Finance and Parish Meetings.

Noon-Day Prayer was made by our former Curate, Mr. Gernand. Miss M. E. Thomas, the Executive Secretary of the Central Office, came over from New York and was present at all the sessions, making an address at the close of the stipulated classes.

Bishop Rhinelander again came to us at five o'clock and made the closing address, telling of his personal experience in this great work and how it should be brought before the notice of each Parish and to be mindful of the fact that it is a part and portion of the Woman's Auxiliary.

With his blessing we adjourned with our hearts and minds full of renewed interest and strength to go on with this splendid work, despite the discouragements of parishioners who ruthlessly turn one aside with the remark:

"Oh! it is too much bother and trouble."

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Girls Friendly Society

The social activities of the G. F. S. have continued with vigor. The girls meet the third Tuesday (before Lent) in every month especially for dancing. We charge the members 10 cents and the non-members 20 cents a lesson. The members of the G. F. S. and also those who are not members have taken such a great interest in these dancing classes that we have bought a Victrola. This Victrola will be rented to any of the Parish societies for $1.00 an evening.

Although we have bought a few new records, we would like to have any records that have been used and have become tiresome to their owners.

If any of our kind friends of the Parish have such records will they please communicate with Miss Morgan at once.

M. L. I.

Daughters of the King

The regular business meeting of the Daughters of the King was held on Feb. 1st, at which was reported 16 Parish visits; also two delegates were elected to attend a meeting of the local assembly held at Grace Church, 41st and Girard Ave.

On Tuesday, February 9th, was the meeting of the Local Assembly, eight members reporting from our chapter. The afternoon was given over to business and also an address by Mrs. Pillsby, on Social Service in the Church. We had evening service in the chapel and an address by Bishop Garland.

The devotional meeting was on Feb. 15th at which we welcomed Mrs. Berger, President of the Local assembly, as a visitor. It was also decided at this meeting, that we should work this Lent for the City Mission. Any donation of material or money would be gratefully received.

E. O.

Junior Auxiliary

At the last business meeting of the Junior Auxiliary Mrs. Belfield, Miss Anderson and Miss Quay were elected as members of the entertainment committee.

During Lent Mrs. Johnson is holding a Mission Study Class, on Friday afternoon from three thirty to four thirty o'clock. It is for girls over ten years old. Mrs. Belfield and Miss Quay have care of the children under ten years old who paste pictures and string beads.

We have finished and will soon send the baby outfit which we promised to contribute to the Belgians.

We held the monthly party the first Friday in February which was well attended.

Mr. Beckett spent the afternoon with us. Refreshments and games were enjoyed by all.

A Call for Service

It is not a wise plan to talk too much about things before they are accomplished and so this will be made as brief and as explicit as possible. It is for the careful attention of all those who are interested in the growth of the parish activities and who would welcome an injection of new life and interest into all of its organizations.

For those who are not interested—this warning is sounded—that when something has been actually achieved—when the boys' and the girls' work has outgrown the present facilities for handling it—when the meetings of the various organizations are alive and full of interest—as some are now and some are not—when the present corps of workers is not sufficient to manage the task with best results—then those who now are not interested will be invited to see the work in actual operation and to experience the satisfaction of helping to make it a greater success. But now is not the time for those who can do it so much better if they had the chance, now is not the time for those who have tried it all before and know there is nothing in it—now is not the time for those who never have any time for this sort of thing—now is not the time for those who don't believe in this kind of work—now is the time for those who will put their hands to the plow, and not turn back. One ounce of heart interest now is worth a ton of criticism.

Three things we need to make this work a success. First, energy—the kind that lasts—second, enthusiasm—the sensible kind—and third—equilibrium which, in plain English, means that blessed state in which imaginative optimism does not run away with common sense.

The co-operation of those who will help is earnestly invited. The problem is this—Given, a well-equipped home for the activities of boys and girls, men and women, old and young. Given also a field for work, filled with those who are anxious for such activities, lacking only the home for them. Required to introduce the people to the home. It is not a one-man task to answer it—it is not a ten-men task—it is a problem that will be answered successfully only as you make it your own and come to feel your share of the responsibility of its successful answer. Can we count on you?

Enough said, or rather written. Now let's unite and get something done.

"Be sure your world is not one in which things happen. But one in which things are done."

You happen to be a member of this Parish. Is your life in it just a happening or a record of something accomplished in its work?

Cradle Roll

In the course of a few days the mothers of children under four years of age of our Parish, will be asked to take little boxes for the pennies of these babies, and the latter will become members of "Little Helpers" organization, which is the same as the "Cradle Roll." The cause is a most worthy one, as the money goes toward the apportionment of Christ Church for Missions. It is hoped that the mothers of these little ones will become generally interested in these "little red boxes," which will not be collected until the middle of May. In April the mothers will be invited to bring these babies to our Parish House for a social hour. That all may become better acquainted. There will be young ladies present to care for the children while "mother has her cup of tea." It is also hoped that the Rector will be with us on this occasion to welcome these new little ones to this worthy society.

G. H. B.

Mrs. Earl Belfield has been appointed by the Rector in charge of the Intermediate Department of the Sunday School. Four new teachers have been added to this important department of the School, Miss Emma Crowder, Miss Helen Falkner, Miss Alexander and Miss Abrams. The corp of teachers in the Intermediate School now consists of Mrs. Belfield, Miss Yates, Miss Middleton, Miss Clarissa Kist, Miss Brooker, Miss Woodruffe, Miss Abrams, Miss Alexander, Miss Crowder, and Miss Helen Falkner.

The Forty Days After Easter

The forty days between the Resurrection and Ascension were in some respects amongst the most important of all the days of our Lord upon earth; they were, of course, important as evidence of the reality of the Resurrection of Christ, and as a pledge of the Resurrection of ourselves; they were important as completing the supernatural character which belonged to our Saviour's life; but they were important likewise for the teaching which they contained. It was in those days that the Lord instructed His Apostles more completely concerning the nature of His Kingdom. He opened their minds to understand things which they could not understand before. He made them ready for that great outpouring of the Holy Ghost, which came down upon the Church on the day of Pentecost. The forty days, therefore, were pre-eminently school-days for the Apostles; they had no ministry of their own to interfere with their progress in Divine knowledge — preaching, healing, the working of miracles,—all were apparently suspended. They had to wait for power from on high. It was a time of holy rest and calm; perhaps the only time of rest and calm which the Apostles had known since they became Apostles; and it was a time which was well spent in preparing for that storm of affliction and that pressure of labor which were to follow the day of Pentecost, and which were never again to cease till they were followed by the rest and calm of Heaven.

We are easily puzzled if we try to picture to ourselves with any precision the manner in which the time was passed between the Resurrection and the Ascension. It has often been remarked that most of our Lord's recorded appearances to His disciples took place upon His own day; in this way He may have hallowed the new seventh day, and taught His disciples to use it as their great weekly festival; and no doubt He gave them other definite directions as to what they should teach and what they should do; and one would suppose that when He was with them from time to time, He would give them some idea of what was so soon to take place, and would hint to them something of His own Ascension into Heaven, and of the coming of the Holy Ghost. Nevertheless, perceive that when the great event of the Ascension came, it took them by surprise. If one may judge from their language nothing was further from their thoughts. The Lord came to them for the last time, according to the history preserved by St. Luke, and chosen as the Epistle for Ascension Day: "and when they were come together they asked of Him, saying, Lord, wilt Thou at this time restore again the kingdom of Israel?" so wide were they still of the mark. It was the old notion of the restoration of Israel's glory, not the new Gospel notion of a Holy Catholic Church, founded upon Christ, and established throughout the whole world. And this, observe, was the last question that the disciples ever asked their Lord.

Ascension Day, Whitsunday and Trinity

Three great days occur this month, Ascension, Whitsunday, and Trinity Sunday. They emphasize three fundamental teachings of the Christian Church. First, Ascension Day:

Jesus Christ is coming again. This day we celebrate with glad hearts that glorious Ascension into Heaven. But we do more than this: we not only testify to our faith in His triumphant departure; we declare an expectation of His still more triumphant return.

There is no greater mistake that a Christian can make, than to think of Jesus Christ Our Lord, as having ceased to be a man when He died a human death. One of our Articles tells us that "Christ did truly rise again from death, and took again His Body, with flesh, bones and all things appertaining to the perfection of man's nature; wherewith He ascended into Heaven, and there sitteth, until He return to judge all men at the last day." And mysterious though this doctrine be, still it is to be held fast as most true and comforting to us during our pilgrimage here upon earth. Jesus Christ is still man, and represents humanity before the Throne of God; we may look upon Him as still able to sympathize with us in our troubles, and as being able and willing to advocate our cause with the feeling of One Who is still our Brother though He also be our Ascended Lord. The doctrine of the permanent humanity of Christ is the blessed possession of every simple Christian heart. And, therefore, there would seem to be a special propriety in celebrating upon the Feast of Our Lord's Ascension, the blessed Sacrament of His Body and Blood.

Whitsunday

This day is the birthday of the Christian Church. This day the Divine society was constituted. Not till Pentecost were Christians a distinct corporate body. This day the Divine life, the life of the Holy Spirit of God was infused into its members, and the first cry of the new-born Divine society was praise—"They spake in other tongues the wonderful works of God."

For our own hearts and consciences there is a solemn Whitsuntide message of warning: "Quench not the Spirit. Despise not prophesyings." He breathes life, but by our wilfulness or our unbelief we can quench the life. He inspires holy thoughts, but we can quench them. He would speak to our consciences, "Do the thing which is lawful and right;" we can say, "I will not." He offers means of grace in service and Sacrament, opportunities of hearing His Word written by the prophets of old, interpreted by the prophesyings of men who are still taught of God; but we can "despise prophesyings," and refuse to attend means of grace, in carelessness, indifference, wilfulness, unbelief. Oh! if we have thus quenched Him in the past, may "God the Holy Ghost, proceeding from the Father and the Son have mercy upon us, miserable sinners," and in His mercy pardon us and by His grace make us no longer "miserable" but thankful and glad! And then let us in the Holy Sacrament of Christ's Body and Blood, surrender ourselves, body, soul and spirit to be living temples of God the Holy Ghost, and we shall receive the renewal of the life which He will bestow, as by faith we partake of our Risen Lord.

Comfort from the Chimes

The Rector is in receipt of the following letter written by a gentleman who lives not far from the Church. The letter is so appreciative that the Rector is constrained to make it public by the permission of the writer:

Germantown, April 23, 1915.

My dear Mr. Arndt:

Though I am not a member of Christ Church Parish, being connected with another body of Christians, it is a joy to know that we are all members of Christ's Parish and that through Him we can be drawn together. I desire to express to you the great comfort and pleasure I received in listening to the Chimes as they have been played during the last weeks. Being confined to the house for over a month, the larger portion of which I was in bed, I eagerly awaited Sunday morning and evening, especially on Easter when they told that "Christ the Lord is risen today, and again one calm beautiful evening when they sounded the notes of a hymn, the words I have known being "Softly now the light of day," it is set to a tune called "Seymour," taken from a composition by "Weber"—and also the same evening "Abide with me," that hymn of so much comfort.

Possibly it will never be known what comfort the Chimes have been and how many beds of pain have been eased through their speaking a message from God.

May Christ Church continue to be the power it has been these years for the building of the Kingdom of our Blessed Lord and Master, Jesus Christ and may the Chimes continue to ring the glad news of the Saviour's Birth, Life and glorious Resurrection.

Sincerely yours,

The Mission Study Class of Christ Church has been especially favored this year by having Mrs. Hayes as its leader. Every member feels it a privilege to be instructed by one of such ability, and her spiritual influence is an inspiration and refreshment. The class numbers sixteen (16) members, the subject this year being "social service" a topic of live interest to all. The class has met every Friday morning at half past ten o'clock in the Parish House and closed its meetings at the end of the Lenten season.

One Days Income

The Board of Missions has sent out an appeal to every member of the Church asking that "one day's income" be given by all toward meeting the deficit of $100,000 with which the Board is confronted.

"We are encouraged"—says the circular letter, by the fact that the laity of the Church have urged some such action. One of them writes:

"I am deeply distressed by the failure of the Church to give the apportionment. In view of present world conditions, is it enough for the Board of Missions to say: 'There ought to be no retreat?' Should it not rather declare 'There must be an immediate and determined advance?' Does the Board ask enough of us Churchmen? Are we not able to provide all that is needed?"

This layman offers not simply to give one day's income, but the income of one day for each of twelve months, in addition to his usual missionary offerings.

Will you enlist in this campaign? If so,

1. Will you join us in prayer that we may have vision and faith, and may learn the joy and blessing of sacrifice? Deeper far than the need for money is the need for devout prayer in the Name of Our Lord.

2. Will you, in addition to your usual missionary offerings, give not later than June 1st, 1915, at least ONE DAY'S INCOME?

3. If this is impracticable will you make an equivalent self-denial offering?

All gifts for the Emergency Fund will count upon the apportionment of your parish and diocese unless you request otherwise.

Will you follow?

Daniel S. Tuttle,
Presiding Bishop
Arthur S. Lloyd,
Pres. Board of Missions
Edwin S. Lines,
Chairman Emergency Com.

Despite the heavy snow storm on Easter even a large number of persons were present to make their communion on Easter morning. The total number who communed was 360.

The music on Easter Day was most beautifully rendered. The Crucifixion was sung on Good Friday evening with deep feeling and expression. The Choir under the direction of the new Choir Master, Mr. Horace Hardy is doing excellent work.

Lawn Party

Starting at 7.30 o'clock on the evening of Friday, April 30th there will be held in the grounds about the Parish House a Lawn Party. The tickets are ten cents apiece and will entitle the holder to admission to the grounds and refreshments. Among the many attractions which will be on the program for the evening is a wrestling match, a sack race, a shoe race, a 3-legged race and a blind boxing event which will cause great amusement. The services of an eminent French palmist have been secured and the visitor can find all the happenings of the next few years revealed for a nominal charge. There will also be two accomplished musicians present who will keep everybody awake. One of these musicians plays the violin, the other the harp. But the crowning attraction of all will be the automobile which will be here, prepared to give all passengers a ride for a remarkably reduced rate. Be sure to come and be sure to bring all your friends. All money realized from the party will be used for the expenses of the baseball teams and the fitting up of the tennis courts. A good cause—help it along.

Dramatic Club Notice

On Friday May 14th there will be given a two-act play in the Parish House. All the dramatic talent in the Parish will unite to make this play worth seeing. Admission by ticket only, will be twenty five cents. Remember the day and get your reserved seat early. Watch the Church Bulletin for further announcement in regard to this.

Parish Baseball News

The Senior Baseball Team will play the first game of the league season on Saturday May 1st, at 3.00 P. M., at "Ten Acre Lot," McCallum and Elliot Streets. Be sure to be there in time for the flag raising. The team expects the support of every baseball fan in the Parish.

Last Mother's Meeting

The Mother's Meeting will bring their sessions to a close on Tuesday, May 4th. There will be some special feature at this meeting and refreshments will be served. All members are requested to be present.

The Easter Offering

The offering on Easter Day amounted to $1614.31. This amount represents for the most part, the generosity of the rank and file of the members of the Parish. In many cases it meant genuine self-sacrifice.

The members of the Mother's Meeting gave over $30.00. The Women's afternoon Bible Class gave $20.00. Both of these amounts were earned by the labors of the members. This same splendid spirit was manifested in many other cases in the Parish.

The Vestry asked for $2600.00. This full amount would have unquestionably been realized if some persons, from whom large gifts were expected, had responded. Perhaps they may yet do so, and perhaps others, who did not give as liberally as they might, will generously increase their offering and send it to the Warden.

The balance of $1000.00 must be realized. Three persons have signified their willingness, since Easter, to give again. Are there not others who will respond, so that the full amount needed will be met? Make the Warden's heart glad by remitting to him.

He will acknowledge your generosity with deep appreciation. His name and address is J. I. Morrison, 635 Westview Ave., Germantown.

Women's Missionary Society

The Women's Missionary Auxiliary will hold their next meeting on Thursday, May 1st, at 10.30 A. M. The programme for the next year's work will be planned at this meeting. All women in the Parish are invited to be present.

Bible Class for Men

The Men's Bible Class has changed its meetings from Sunday morning to Sunday afternoon at 2.30. The topic studied is the wanderings of the Children of Israel, and later, the Life of Joshua. Session of the class is about forty-five minutes. Why not come around and help us grow? Our aim is fifty men and your help is necessary and will be appreciated.

Every Sunday at 2.30 in the Parish House.

Monthly Parish Supper

The next monthly Parish Supper will be held in the Parish House on Thursday evening, May 7th, between 6-7 o'clock. The Committee in charge consists of Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, Mrs. Frank Wells and Mrs. James A. Aull.

These monthly parish suppers have been delightful occasions during the past winter and have been enjoyed by all who have attended. There will be only one more after this one and it is hoped that every person who attends Christ Church will be present at this and the following supper and will bring friends with them. Do not forget the date: Thursday evening, May 7th from 6-7 o'clock. A splendid supper and a pleasant evening—fifty cents.

Boys' Brigade

The Boys' Brigade are proving themselves of value to the parish and church by assuming the responsibility of the ushering and taking of the offering on Sunday nights. Their lieutenant has labored hard and faithfully to make this organization a success and should have the support and interest of the adults of the parish. The Brigade meets every Friday night in the Parish House and visitors are always welcome. Only a few weeks ago a very handsome cup was won by this troop for excellency shown in competitive drill and they are prepared to keep this cup in its present location. The next drill for it will be held in the Parish House the last week in this month. The exact date will appear in the Church Bulletin. Your interest in this organization would be appreciated.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association of the Parish acknowledges with grateful appreciation the generous response in answer to the letters which were sent out asking for subscriptions to sustaining membership. The following gentlemen have evidenced their interest and desire to help by subscribing to this membership. Messrs. H. W. Amerling, James Aull, Edward Bains, Henry R. Baremore, Frederic Brigham, A. R. Cheston, Wm. S. Crowder, John Davidson, W. C. Feist, Wm. J. Hearst, Chas. Jackson, Dr. Wm. N. Johnson, Wm. E. Mikell, Geo. T. Morgan, R. H. Morris, J. J. Morrison, Col. Sheldon Potter, D. Lawrence Simcox, Albert E. Wilcox and J. M. Woodruffe.

This membership costs $2.00 and we would be very glad to have the women of the Parish co-operate in this way as well as the men if they feel so disposed. The Secretary will be glad to talk over the question with any who desire full information as to the finances of the Association, how received and how expended and the amount needed at present. The more that help, the more the activity and the larger the result. Please remember that—Come and see what you can do to help this Association to be entirely successful.

Men's Club Room

The Men's Club Room is beginning to look very comfortable. Members of the Parish have been very considerate and thoughtful in supplying furnishings. The room is open for the men every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7.30 to 10 P. M. The need now is for pictures and a moulding to hang them on. But these will come in time. Many thanks to those who have already contributed.

Ascension Day Services

The services on Ascension Day Holy Communion 7.30 A. M.; Holy Communion and address at 11.00 o'clock. The offering will be for missions.

Junior Brotherhood

The Junior Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Christ Church Chapter, is in a very prosperous condition. Every member is taking new interest in the affairs of the chapter and the past month has witnessed renewed activity in the various branches of chapter work.

We had recently a joint debate with the chapters of Calvary, St. Michael's, and St. Peter's churches and we were ably represented by Messrs. Morrison, Boyd and Cooper. The next debate will be held the night of Tuesday, May 4th, at 8.00 o'clock in the Parish House. To this all members of the Parish are cordially invited. The subject for debate will be: Resolved "That the press is beneficial to the public." Christ and Calvary Church chapters will take the affirmative and St. Peter's and St. Michael's the negative.

We have taken in three new members and admitted four boys as probationers. Also we are rapidly organizing a Brotherhood Baseball Team and will be glad to accept challenges from any team of intermediate age and good standing.

Our Chapter meets the second and fourth Tuesday nights of every month. Come around to the Parish House to one of these meetings and see and hear what we are doing and plan to do.

Indians on Broadway

It takes a good deal to surprise New York, but the sight of 300 Indians, cowboys and cowgirls, in full regalia, marching down Broadway to attend a service at Grace Church made the most casual onlooker open his eyes. They were part of a "Wild West" show at the Madison Square Garden. Most of them were from the Pine Ridge Agency in South Dakota, and members of our mission there. Dr. Slattery had arranged special service for them, at which more than thirty of the Indians received the Sacrament of the Eucharist. In the course of the service "Rock of Ages" was sung by the Indians in the Dakota tongue.

Envelope Subscribers

The number who subscribe through the envelope system now amounts to 235. This is a slight increase over the past year and it is greatly to be desired that the number of subscribers shall be extended until it reaches every attendant at the services of Christ Church. The expenses of the Church go on whether the members are present or not and every self-respecting person will wish to do his or her share. Parents should inculcate in their children the habit of unselfish giving by systematic and regular method. This should be done in the interest of the child's own future happiness as well as for the interest of the Church. Every member of every family in the Parish should have his or her individual envelopes and should give regularly and conscientiously to the work of the Church. "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him. 1 Cor. XVI: 2.

Pledge cards will be found in the racks in the vestibule or may be had by applying to the Verger. Please sign these pledge cards and place them in the Alms Basin at any service. A package of envelopes will then be sent to your address.

Bishop Brent of the Philippine has declined the call which was extended to him by the Diocese of New Jersey to become its Diocesan. He feels bound to remain in the work which he has undertaken in the Philippine Islands. We have reason to be thankful for such leadership as that shown by our missionary episcopate. Decisions like this of Bishop Brent are a high testimony, not only to the individual qualities of the man who makes them, but to the importance of the work in which he is occupied.

The Church Year

On Trinity Sunday culminates the doctrinal half of the Church Year.
The remainder of the year from now to Advent the Church lays great emphasis on the practical side of life.
"Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God: and every one that loveth is born of God," are the opening words of the Epistle for the First Sunday after Trinity.

Hitherto the emphasis from Advent on has been on the "fundamentals of the faith,"—the Incarnation, the Resurrection, the Ascension, the coming of the Holy Spirit. On Trinity Sunday the Church's services mount up to the throne of the Godhead. In the word "Trinity," she simply sums up what is revealed concerning God—that in substance He is one, but in Persons, three.

The reception of truth must be gradual. The Church leads us step by step from Advent to Trinity Sunday.
In Advent is heralded the coming of the Son of God and we are taught to prepare for Him, "to make His ways straight;" at Christmas the heavenly host proclaims from the starry firmament the "good tidings of great joy;"

on Epiphany, the wise men came from afar, and the Christ is manifested to the Gentiles; through Lent we enter into our Saviour's Temptation; in Gethsemane we witness the Agony; on Good Friday we follow our Saviour to the Cross and see the Son of God suffer and die for us; on the glorious Feast of Easter we see Him rise triumphant from the grave; then for forty days after the Resurrection we follow Him as He teaches His disciples "things pertaining to the Kingdom of God;" then on Holy Thursday we are with the Apostles and behold
His glorious Ascension into Heaven, there to sit on the right hand of the Father; while on Whitsunday we are taught that the Comforter, even the Spirit of Truth, has come to guide us into all Truth and to dwell in the Church and in our hearts forever!

Thus does the Church prepare us, step by step, for the glorious culmination of her teaching, enabling us to grasp by faith the mystery of the doctrine of the Blessed Trinity.

Along the Church's central space
The sacred weeks with unfelt pace,
Have borne us on from grace to grace"

The summer months suggest a release from many forms of Christian duty. But to a conscientious Christian and faithful Church member regular attendance at Divine Service is as important in summer as in winter. Wherever he may be, at home or abroad, in summer or in winter, wherever and whenever the opportunity offers to worship God in His Holy Temple, the words of the true Christian heart are the words of the Psalmist, "I was glad when they said unto me, we will go into the house of the Lord."

It is very important that new comers moving into the Parish should bring with them letters demissory. Note the following Canon of the Church: "A communicant moving from one parish to another, shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish, of late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a communicant in good standing."

It often occurs that communicants moving into a Parish, neglect for so long a time, to comply with this Canon, drift about from place to place, or, what is worse, neglect altogether their Church duties, that finally they get into a very dangerous habit of religious indolence and indifference—which soon brings with it hardness and callousness to spiritual influences which result in spiritual death.

There are many good people, who were once earnest and faithful attendants at the services of the Church—even devoted communicants at her altar—whose lives were once "strengthened and refreshed by the Bread of Life"—who are now wanderers from the Fold, prodigals from their Father's House. They have become so, not by any wilful desire, not by disbelief or intentional denial of allegiance to their Christ and His Church; but by the insidious force of habit which almost unconsciously has wrapped itself around them and held them fast—bound like the serpents about Laocoon and his sons.

If these words are read by any who are drifting from place to place, without a Church that they can call their Home—the Rector affectionately urges that they let themselves be known to him that he may call upon them and welcome them to this Parish as their Church Home.

A letter or a card sent to the Rector will receive prompt attention.

In visiting the sick and the afflicted the Rector receives for himself so much strength and inspiration for his work that he often wishes that many others could share with him in these blessings. One of the most saintly women of the Rector's acquaintance, a "shut in" for years in one of the hospitals of our city, composed for her own use the following prayers which have been a source of great help to her in her suffering and her loneliness. At the Rector's request she has copied them and sent them to him and he prints them below that others may receive from them the comfort and strength which have come, at least to one suffering and lonely heart. Here they are. May God bless them on their way!

Daily Prayer

"Almighty and everlasting God, help me to think with more comfort of Thy love. Fill my unhappy heart with a consoling sense of Thy mercy and goodness. Strengthen me with Thy Holy Spirit in the sad loneliness of my life. Let me not dishonor Thee in my unhappiness, but be reconciled to Thy Heavenly will. Give me a sense of Thy Blessed Presence, and enable me to find peace through Jesus, my Saviour. O Blessed Lord Jesus, let me lay all my sorrows and needs at the foot of Thy cross, and fill my heart with a loving hope that Thy goodness will provide for my desires, in grief, bodily weakness, loneliness and bereavements. Teach me how to overcome sin, and give eternal happiness through Thy precious blood. Amen."

"Heavenly Father, help me to think with more comforting sense of Thy mercy and goodness. Strengthen me with Thy Holy Spirit in all my earthly life. Let me not dishonor Thee in unhappiness, but be reconciled to Thy will. Let me find peace and comfort through my Saviour. Enable me to lay all my sins, sorrows and needs at the foot of His cross. Fill my heart with a loving trust that they will be provided for me in the best way, to the end of my earthly life, and that comfort and strength can be sent to Thy children in every trial. May their souls be cleansed through Thy redeeming blood! Wilt Thou "support us through this troubled life, till the shadows lengthen, the evening comes, the busy world is hushed and our work is done. Then, in Thy mercy, grant us a safe lodging, a holy rest, and peace with Thee forever. Amen."

There will be a good time in store for everybody and nobody can afford to miss it. The admission will be only 25 cents for which will be given an abundance of strawberries, delicious ice cream and home-made cake, Lemonade, candies and cakes will also be on sale for the children to enjoy themselves and jolly auto-rides, for 5 cents a spin, will afford fine fun for all. There will be music in the Parish House and later in the evening there will be an opportunity given to the beaux and their lassies to—did we say "trip the light fantastic toe?" Well, come and see! Don't forget the date—Thursday, June 3rd, from four to ten o'clock. No postponement on account of the weather. If the weather is fair the Parish House lawn will be a fine place to enjoy the moon. Vestry Meeting

A stated meeting of the Vestry will be held in the Rector's Study in the Parish House on the first Tuesday in June at eight o'clock.

Poor Childrens Outing Fund

The annual offering for the Poor Childrens' Outing Fund will be taken in Christ Church on the third Sunday morning in June. This is one of the most worthy charities to which the people of Christ Church are privileged to give. For about $2.00 one poor child can be taken from the hot street or alley into the country for a week where it can enjoy pure, fresh air and receive good, wholesome food. It has been the Rector's custom, for several years past, to secure from various organizations for the poor, the names of the most needy and worthy families living in the congested portions of the city—in small dirty courts and narrow streets and alleys. By personal visits to these so-called "homes" the sickly and most needy children are selected and arrangements are made for a week's outing in the country, and in some cases for a longer time. Occasionally a poor, over-worked mother is also sent with her children.

This is one of the most worthy charities to which our people are asked to give and what a wonderful privilege it affords to persons, who are blessed with comfortable homes and can get away for a rest and recuperation during the hot summer months, to remember the less fortunate and more needy who live in crowded courts and narrow streets and alleys.

The following letter received last summer from Comly B. Shoemaker, Esq., President of the Bedford Street Mission, which does splendid work for the poor in one of the most miserable parts of the city, shows how greatly appreciated was the contribution to the poor Children's Outing given last year by the people of this Church:

Germantown, Phila.

Rev. Chas. Henry Arndt.

My dear Mr. Arndt:—

I am this morning in receipt of your very kind letter and wish to than you very kindly and most sincerely, not only for the liberal contribution which your church through your kind interest has sent us, but also for the very kind interest you have taken in visiting among the families of our district. Miss Boyd was recently speaking of your having asked her for additional names and of your having been around in different directions. The manner in which you go into things is most encouraging and I sincerely wish others might be willing to do likewise.

Again thanking you, I beg to remain,

Very sincerely,

Comly B. Shoemaker.

To All Members and Attendants at the Services of Christ Church

It is the desire of the Vestry of Christ Church to extend the use of the envelope system of giving to every member and attendant at the services of Christ Church. By this splendid system of Church support an opportunity is offered to every one—children of this household as well as the adults—to do what they can toward the maintenance of the Parish and the support of its work. The needs of the Parish and its extended usefulness demand that all should do what they can.

All self respecting persons will want to assist in the work to the extent of their ability. "If thou hast much, give plenteously; if thou hast little, do thy diligence gladly to give of that little." "Let every one do according as he is disposed in his heart; not grudgingly or of necessity, for God loveth a cheerful giver."

Less than one half the number of communicants are contributors through the envelope system. This is not just. Everyone should do his or her part. If the pledges through the envelope system should be doubled all the financial needs of the Parish would be met. Will not every one, now, at the beginning of the fiscal year, sign a pledge card for any sum which each may feel disposed to give as a weekly offering. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibules or may be had from the Verger. Place this card, signed, on the alms plate at any service. The subscription is held in strict privacy and being purely voluntary, may be increased, decreased or cancelled at any time upon notice to the Rector. On receipt of the signed card a package of envelopes will be sent to you. If a subscriber is absent from Church on any Sunday or for any length of time, the total amount due for the absent Sundays, should be placed in the envelope at the first service he attends after his return.

By this method the Church finances do not suffer from the enforced absence of the members on account of illness or inclement weather. We feel sure that this system will appeal to all as a practical and business-like method in meeting the Parish expenses.

In signing this card, please do so conscientiously and with the assurance that you are discharging a very plain and obvious duty which, we believe, will also present itself in the light of a privilege.

Everybody should attend the Strawberry Festival at the Parish House, Thursday afternoon and evening, June 3rd, from four to ten o'clock. Cakes, candies, lemonade, and lots of good things to buy. Come and bring your friends.

Admission, twenty-five cents, including strawberries, ice cream and cake.

Parish Support and Missions

The Rector has requested the Accounting Warden to make a statement, through the "Chimes," as to the relative claims on every communicant in the Parish to meet the needs of the Parish support and missions. The following is the Warden's reply:

My dear Mr. Arndt:—

In reply to your inquiry, with reference to the question of division by our parishioners of their offerings between the support of the Church and Missions:

This is, of course, so much a question of personal preference that I hesitate to write of it, because the sum that each gives to the Church support is what one feels to be his share of the Parish expense, whereas the amount given to Missions is what one conscientiously feels they can give for the furtherance of Christianity, with all it means, to others. Church support is what we do for ourselves; missions is what we do for others. However, from a financial standpoint, the requirements are about as follows:

Parochial Expenses	$9,000.00
Less Pew Rents and Plate Collections	3,000.00
Or $15.00 through envelope, per Communicant	$6,000.00
Foreign and Domestic Missions	$2,000.00

To be provided by Envelope Contributions

From the above it will be seen that the division is 75% to Support of the Parish and 25% to Missions.

Yours respectfully,

J. I. Morrison
Accounting Warden.

The closing meeting of the Girls' Friendly Society was held on Tuesday, May 18, after a very successful and helpful season. The subjects we studied this year were varied and instructive. A trained nurse gave us a very helpful talk on home nursing such as tenters into our lives, a good friend lent us some beautiful records for our Victrola and another friend gave us a charming talk on Operas illustrated by these records. The Victrola we bought we used for our dancing lessons which were a great success.

Our Lenten Sewing we did as usual making five layetts. We were very proud of our work when we saw it displayed with all the other work of the G. F. S. at the Annual Service.

At Christmas time we filled twenty-four stockings which were distributed to the poor of the Parish and twelve stockings which were sent to the children at Blockley.

The Girls Friendly Society all over the country raised a large sum for the Red Cross work. We sent five dollars.

As we meet other members and Branches of the Girls Friendly Society we realize what a wonderful organization it is. There are branches of the Society in every civilized country in the world. Our branch at Christ Church should be stronger, there are a good many girls in the Parish who should be members and we do hope that next Fall they will join us.

P. M. M.

The Men's Club

The last meeting of the Men's Club was productive of results. An interesting discussion in which the thirty-two members present joined was held concerning the present form of organization and concerning prospective plans for a larger development of both the membership and activity of the Club. The following committees were appointed by the President to meet and prepare reports for the June meeting, Friday, June 11th:

Finance Committee—Messrs. Rowley, Morrison and Amerling.

Reception Committee—Messrs. Davidson, Courtney and A. E. Wilcox.

Nominating Committee—Messrs. Gureley, Morris, Johnson and Sutcliffe.

The first named in each case were appointed chairmen. It was further decided to have the election of officers for the ensuing year at the coming June meeting instead of at the September meeting.

The nominating committee met the past week and the nominations made will be published in the Bulletin next Sunday. Special plans are being made to have every member of the club out to the June meeting. The prospects for an increase in the interest and activity of the Club are exceedingly bright and every man in the Parish who has at any time been or is now a member is asked to join in and help to realize upon these prospects.

The Athletic Association

The Athletic Association of the Parish reports a decidedly active month of past work and an even more active month ahead. The tennis season has opened up and the courts and grounds about the Parish House have been put in an excellent condition and the use of them is the privilege of every bona fide member of the Parish who is also a member of the Association. All others are respectfully invited not to use the court.

Starting the first of June a nominal fee of twenty-five cents per month will be charged every person using the courts. It costs money to keep them in prime condition and it seems fair to ask those who use them to contribute towards the expense of keeping them in proper repair.

Attention is also called to the new volley ball court. This game was voted the most popular game in the playground associations last year and once a man learns it he never gets tired of playing. The men in the Parish, young or old, are urged to come out in the late afternoons after business and enjoy themselves and get a lot of good exercise beside.

One thing more. The Association is not meeting with the financial support it should have from the adults in the Parish. This is not a complaint. It is a statement of existing fact and it is better to be frank about it. There are about twenty adults who have taken out sustaining memberships and there is room for three times that number. The Association is not in any special need of funds so that is not the purpose of this statement but to some extent approval and interest of an organization in institutional work is evidenced by a willingness to invest funds therein. That sort of interest helps us make an organization and effect a work worthy of the interest shown. The Association has raised since January 1st last, nearly $130.00 and no single person has been taxed over $2.00 at the greatest and only about twenty for that amount. Think what a work we could do were the sustaining membership taken by a fair proportion of the adults of the Parish. Such a membership costs $2.00. But the Association is very grateful for the support it has received and does not wish to enter the slightest complaint. We're not complaining.—We're just telling you!

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club of Christ Church has never before made a public statement of its work, and its Librarian is much pleased to have this opportunity:

Contributions $13.50
Sent to Diocesan Secretary .. 5.00

Balance on hand $ 8.00

This reserve is for the purpose of sending out magazines in bulk, books, etc.

Contributions of regular periodicals 65
Periodicals going out regularly .. 118
Magazines in bulk 259
Cards in bulk 300
Books in bulk 56

The parish contributed its share of books to the library that is collected and sent out each year by the combined efforts of the C. P. C. of the Diocese.

This report is very meagre when one considers the size of the Parish, and it is earnestly hoped that each one will bear in mind the individual responsibility in this work and each time a periodical, a book or a card comes your way to dispose of remember the C. P. C. and that it is the only church organization that is at work all the year.

Don't forget the Strawberry Festival and Cake and Candy Sale Thursday afternoon and evening, June 3rd.

Ice Cream, Strawberries and Cake and a good time. 25 cents.

The Woman's Auxiliary Things Accomplished

The meetings opened with a luncheon and a fine address by Mrs. Ely of St. Mary's School, Shanghai, China. This was in November. Meetings have been held on the first Thursday morning of each month concluding with May. In February we had an address from Deaconess Sabine, on Alaska. In March from Miss Avery on Missionary Study Classes and their work; in April an address on the work at Ichang, China from Deaconess Ridgely and in May Miss Rummey told of St. Barnabas Mission and its work for the colored people of Germantown.

During Lent the Mission Study Class, led by Mrs. Hayes, had an enrollment of eighteen. Also in Lent there was made for the Episcopal Hospital thirty-six garments and fifty smaller articles for use in the hospital. One member who could not attend the sewing meetings sent six pair of knitted bed socks.

The Auxiliary has contributed to the following worthy causes:

To St. Mary's Shanghai	515.30
Bishop Stevens Scholarship
St. Johns University, Shanghai	1.00
Woman's Aid Germantown
Convocation	3.20
To Board of Missions through Diocesan branches:
Domestic	$5.00
Diocesan	5.00
Colored	5.00
Indian Hope	5.00
Foreign	5.00
To St. Barnabas' Mission	5.00
To the Emergency Fund from Mission Study Class	30.00
United Offerings	58.00
Value of garments for Episcopal Hospital	40.00
Presidents Asso. Germantown and Chestnut Hill	3.00

Total $181.00

The attendance has been small but we feel that we have accomplished an amount of work which is very much to our credit.

A. M. M.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary of Christ Church has closed its work for the season, and it is with great pleasure that it announces the following:

25 members enrolled.

15 average attendance.

From November until Lent the following work was completed and forwarded as follows:

Belgian Relief Fund for Babies, 3 flannel petticoats, 11 flannel wrappers, value, $5.00.

Christmas Box consisting of 10 useful article and 10 presents to St. Mary's School at Sherwood, Tenn., value, $5.00.

To Jonestown Church Home, Pa., 15 gifts, 15 cards, 25 postal cards, value $2.00.

To expense account of Junior Auxiliary, $1.00.

To St. Augustine School, N. C., $3.00

This latter counts on the Apportionment.

To help repair piano, $1.00.

Making a total in all of $17.00 all accumulated through our little collections at each meeting.

We hope to reassemble the first Friday in October and renew our work with ever greater effort and of course greater results.

During Lent we had a Mission Study Class on "The Building of the City."

This class opened with 10 members. There is not much to report on this matter but we hope for better interest and results another year.

The Dramatic Club

The Christ Church Dramatic Club which, under the auspices of the C. C. A. A., presented two plays here recently is planning now for an outdoor play to be given the last of July. It will be a somewhat elaborate affair if present plans materialize and will be staged alongside the Parish Building. The Club will meet the second Thursday in June at 8 o'clock, (June 10th), so as to plan more definitely for this. The officers elected at the last meeting were as follows:

President—Mr. Stanley Wilcox
Vice President—Miss Anne Woodruffe
Sec. and Treas.—Mr. Walter Cotterill
Executive Com.—The officers and Mrs. Belfield, Miss Alexander, Mr. Cotton, Mr. Waldman.

THE RECTOR'S OFFICE HOURS } 8.00 to 9.00 A. M. DAILY } AT HOME SATURDAY EVENINGS
6.00 to 8.00 P. M. " }

Our Solemn Responsibility

The various societies of the Parish have resumed their activities and are now in the midst of their winters work.

Never have we taken up our Christian work together under circumstances and conditions more sobering and more serious than at this present moment.

The whole world is "groaning and travailing in pain together." Every one is sobered in thought. Every one realizes the seriousness and the solemnity of the hour.

At such a time as this every heart aches for the untold millions who are suffering. Every soul yearns to be of some help, of some service to mankind.

When we contemplate the sublime heroism the awful sacrifices that are going on day by day on countless battle fields, in millions of Christian homes among all classes of people subordinating, as they are "individual comfort to the one great aim of national achievement, filled with self-surrender, unswerving and undoubting obedience to the inner voice, the same unshakable conviction of fighting for the best that is in them," are not our consciences pricked in self conviction for every idle moment, every selfish act and selfish thought. We are being taught to-day by the terrible sacrifice and suffering that man's dignity and freedom consist in the unconditional surrender to duty and that the aim of society is, not the largest possible gratification of the individual instinct for happiness, but the highest possible expression, in individual activity, of mankind's striving for perfection.

"Without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin." Calvary is God's eulogy upon man. It has been called "God's eternal heartache" made manifest in terms of time.

Who are the heroes in life? Have the world's greatest names been those of men and women who have escaped from care, been exempt from responsibilities and burdens and heartaches?
And how comes it, then, that the one ambition of many is to escape responsibilities, to avoid duty, to hold back from the paths in which God trained the giants and heroes in all the ages.
The great have marched their pathway up the hills of difficulty by scarlet footprints. All the great souls grew strong by burden bearing.

Softness never released an angel from the marble "Chiseled into character" is the literal translation of St. Paul's word about man—building. And Jesus "for the joy that was set before Him endured the Cross."

"Go labor on! spend and be spent!
Thy joy to do the Father's will;
It is the way the Master went;
Should not the servant tread it still?"

Strangers and Occasional Attendants

The Rector is pleased to see the large number of strangers who attend the services of Christ Church. They are always welcome and the ushers are always glad to show them to seats.

It is disappointing, however, to the Rector that these strangers, who come occasionally and some frequently, continue to remain "strangers." He is anxious to meet them and invite them to identify themselves with the Parish. The Parish needs the co-operation and assistance of all and every one needs and should have a "Church Home."

A Pastoral relationship should exist between Rector and people. This cannot be where people fail to let themselves be known or to connect themselves in some way with the Parish. So many good people are "floaters," "ramblers," "homeless." To all such the Rector extends, from the bottom of his heart, a cordial welcome to come to him and he will welcome them Home—to God's House. Every soul needs it. There can be no true happiness apart from God.

Tell the Rector

Frequently the Rector accidentally hears of cases of long-standing illness in the Parish which should have been brought immediately to his attention. As it is impossible for him to know of these circumstances without material communication, the attention of the congregation is called to the rubric at the beginning of the Order for the Visitation of the Sick, which reads, "When any person is sick notice shall be given thereof to the minister of the Parish."

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Need of Workers

The various societies of the Parish are resuming their winters work. What a splendid opportunity is afforded to every earnest man and woman in this Parish to make his life "tell"!

Workers are needed in every department—among the boys, among the young men, among the girls, among the poor. There are so many shirkers, some jerkers, but not enough workers. It is workers that are needed—men and women, willing and anxious to assume responsibilities for God and resolved to give their best to Him.

The Rector cordially invites all persons who desire to engage in an unselfish and devoted service, to confer with him. They will not apply in vain.

Positions Wanted

The Rector can recommend the following:

A young lady of refinement for position as companion or reader to elderly lady or invalid; or for care of children. Can do light sewing.

A man for general housework.

A widow with young children to support, for days' work in household.

A young woman, with dependent aged mother to support, for clerkship in store in Germantown or attendant in physicians' or dentists' office.

Elderly man, gentlemanly, honest and trustworthy, for watchman in store, office or bank.

Man for labor or days' work.

Woman for days' work.

Information concerning above may be had from the Rector.

Shall the Chimes be Continued?

The publication of the Chimes was discontinued during the summer months. The Rector has been considering discontinuing its publication altogether, owing to the labor and expense entailed in getting out regularly a monthly publication. The Chimes has been published for thirteen consecutive years and, like many other good things in life, it had begun to be taken for granted and regularly accepted but not adequately supported by the people. Not only a large part of the work but a large part of the expense has fallen on one individual.

It seems that there is a demand for the continuation of the publication of the Chimes; that it has an important mission to perform in the Parish and its loss will be felt by many.

The Rector, therefore, has consented to issue the paper for two or three months. If, by that time the subscriptions and contributions are sufficient to warrant its publication it will be continued; otherwise it will be dropped. Every family in the Parish should send in at least one subscription. In addition to the amount received from subscriptions about $50.00 will be needed in contributions. If this amount can be guaranteed the Chimes will be continued to be published each month until next summer. It is hoped therefore, that the people in Christ Church will make possible the publication of the Chimes by their substantial support.

The subscription price is fifty cents for one year (ten months). Sixty cts. if sent by mail. Subscriptions and contributions should be sent to the business Editor, Stanley V. Wilcox, 82 West Johnson Street.

Miss Margaret Falkner has kindly agreed to solicit subscriptions and is authorized so to do.

For Free Distribution

It is desired that every one who attends the services of the Church should have a copy of the Chimes each month. There are copies placed in the vestibules of the Church for free distribution to strangers and others who are not subscribers.

Persons in Arrears

A few subscribers through the envelope system have neglected to make up their arrears and the Accounting Warden would greatly appreciate if all persons in arrears will enclose the amounts due as soon as possible.

A large majority have paid in full and the few in arrears will, no doubt, do the same when their attention has been called to it.

Give Through the Envelope System

It is earnestly desired to extend the use of the envelope system to every attendant at the services of Christ Church. By this method everyone is given an opportunity to share in the support of the Parish and its work. Children, as well as adult members of the family, are invited to give through this system, thus inculcating in the young the Christian principle of systematic and conscientious giving. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibules of the church. Everyone is urged to take one of these cards and to sign it for any amount each may feel able to give, on one side as a weekly offering to support the missionary work of the Church and on the other side as an offering to the support of the Parish.

Place this card on the plate on Sunday or send it to the Accounting Warden, Mr. J. I. Morrison, 635 Westview Ave., Gtn. A package of envelopes will then be sent to you.

By this method the Church finances do not suffer from the enforced absence of the members on account of sickness or inclement weather.

This method will appeal to every one as the most practical and business-like in meeting the expenses of a Parish.

It is the method also which will appeal to conscientious people who wish to do their share in the furtherance of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

It is hoped that the system will be extended until every one in the Parish will be a contributor through the envelope system.

The pledge, being wholly voluntary may be withdrawn at any time by notifying the Rector.

The Sunday School

During the summer months the Sunday School held its sessions at the usual hour every Sunday morning, but owing to the absence of many of the teachers, the lesson was taught from the desk. There was an unusually large average summer attendance.

On Sunday, September 26th, the School resumed its regular session with most of the teachers present. A Corporate Communion for the teachers and older scholars was celebrated in the Church at half past seven. We miss some familiar faces and we hope all will soon be back in their accustomed places.

We welcome all young people in this vicinity to join the School. It meets at 9.45 A. M. and there is room for all. The Primary Department for little children is in the room on the first floor. The Bible Classes, Main School and Intermediate Department meet on the second floor. Teachers are needed for several classes and the Rector will be pleased to meet any who will volunteer their services.

On the first Sunday in the month the Sunday School assembles in the Church at 9.45. This monthly Church service familiarizes the young people with the use of the Prayer Book and impresses them with the spirit of reverence and worship. Parents of the children are invited to attend this service at 9.45 on the first Sunday of each month. Parents are cordially invited to visit the Sunday School and to take part in the services.

Friday Afternoon Service

Evening Prayer is said in the Church every Friday afternoon at five o'clock. At this service special intercessions are made for "peace among the nations," for the "Missions of the Church," for the sick and for the spiritual welfare of the Parish.

More ought to attend these Friday afternoon services.

Altar Flowers

The flowers on the altar on Sundays are given by friends in memory of dear ones who rest in Paradise. On the Sunday nearest to the anniversary of the day of birth, or wedding day or other days of holy association it is most fitting that the memories of those "whom we have loved long since and lost awhile," should cluster about the altar and that we should draw near unto God in the Holy Sacrament, "knit together in one Communion and Fellowship, in the mystical Body of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord."

Persons in the Parish who wish to reserve a day in memory of some dear one by furnishing flowers for the altar are invited to give their names to Mrs. Wm. H. Avery, 54 W. Tulpehocken Street or the Rector.

After the services the flowers are sent to the sick.

The memorial flowers on the Altar in October are as follows:

Oct. 3rd—William Scatchard.

Oct. 10th—Mrs. James Eckersley

Oct. 17th—Mrs. Agnes Purcell

Oct. 24th—Mrs. C. M. Watt

Oct. 31st—Mrs. James H. Ritter

Girls Friendly Society

The Girls Friendly Society will begin its winter work the first Tuesday in October and we hope to have a very helpful and pleasant winter together. The G. F. S. is a very old Society, it was started in England about forty years ago and ever since that time has been doing splendid work among girls. It has now grown to be a very large association with about 45,000 members.

Our branch is not very large but we have had some very good times together. This winter we are going to try to have some very interesting people to come to talk to us on various subjects.

There are not many rules in the Girls Friendly but they are very binding and all the G. F. S. girls feel a very great love for the Society which has such high standards.

We meet in the Parish House every Tuesday night at 8.00 P. M. and we would be very much pleased to have any girl in the Parish, over fourteen years of age to join us.

A limited supply of Christ Church Calendars for 1916 has been ordered and may be had after November 1st. At the top of the Calendar is a picture of Christ Church, a list of services, hours, etc.

The Church Seasons appear in their appropriate "colors" and the Saints' Days and Festivals of the Church are similarly marked. On the back are selected lesson for each Sunday and Holy Day in the Church Year.

These Calendars may be purchased from Miss Margaret Falkner, 43 W. Tulpehocken St., or from the Verger. They cost thirty cents, apiece.

The service on All Saints Day, Monday, November 1st, will be Holy Communion, 7.30 A. M. Holy Communion and address 11.00. At the latter service the names of all those who have departed this life during the past year will be read from the chancel.

The offering on that day will be for the Rector's Sick and Poor Fund. Persons are invited to send flowers to be placed on the altar in memory of departed friends.

After the service the flowers will be sent to the sick.

Women's Bible Class

The Women's Bible Class, which meets in the Parish House every Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, has resumed its sessions. An invitation is extended to all women to attend the meetings. The class is taught by Mrs. Henry R. Baremore.

Parish Reception

It has been suggested by a number of ladies that a Parish Reception be given to the Rector and Mrs. Arndt that the parishioners of Christ Church may meet the new members of the Parish.

The suggestion has met with a hearty approval and a committee of ladies will arrange for a Parish Reception to be held the middle of November. The date will be announced in the next issue of the Chimes.

The Woman's Auxiliary

The first meeting of the season of 1915-16 will be held on October 14 at 10.30 A. M. in the Parish House. There will be a nelection of officers, the selection of the different committees will be made after which a light luncheon will be served.

The Auxiliary will have a printed program this year, which will be distributed among the women of the Parish. Each meeting will be devoted to some special subject or branch of Church Missionary Work.

October 14 Election of Officers, Appointment of Committees-Luncheon. Nov. 4—Church Periodical Club.

In the Spring the Auxiliary will give a Missionary Tea, the date of which has not yet been selected.

Don't Believe in Missions

"Convert the heathen at home," is a sound doctrine. But "first convert the heathen at home" is a fallacy and an evasion. The man who puts the emphasis on the word "first" you know will be the last man to give you anything for the heathen of home or abroad. No man waits until the education of his oldest child is complete before beginning the education of his youngest. All grades of God's children, like all grades of ours, must be educated simultaneously. And yet we hear that we must "first convert the heathen at home."

Now, no business man has any right to say that regarding the religion of Jesus Christ, unless he is ready to stand by it as a principle in business. To lay down a principle for some one else that we intend to repudiate for ourselves, comes seriously near to being cant. Does any man conduct his business on the principle of "first convert the heathen at home?" Does any great merchant wait until he has sold his commodity in every household in his city before he attempts to sell it in the rest of the state? Does he wait until everybody in the state is buying from him before he tries to sell his goods in the South? Or does he go where he finds the readiest response and the quickest returns? You are selling the best shirts that are made. Not all the people in your city are buying. Why, then, do you go out West to sell? Why not "first convert the heathen at home?"

If the apostles had remained in Jerusalem until all Jerusalem was converted we would be in heathen darkness now; for all Jerusalem is not converted yet, and never will be. And our own civilization is the result of foreign missions; for our race was "foreign" to the first missionaries. And the least we should do is to do for others what has been done for us.—

Junior Brotherhood

All members of the Parish Brotherhood are requested to note that the first meeting this Fall will be held Tuesday next, October 12th at 8.00 P. M. in the Parish House. The winter's work will be discussed at this meeting. The plans include an active campaign for boys to join the Sunday School and also a system of getting back the Sunday School members of past years.

It is very important that every member of this Chapter be present Tuesday night.

Men's Bible Clsas

The Men's Bible Class held its opening session last Sunday. The study for the coming sessions will be "The Life and Teachings of Christ—a comparative study in the Four Gospels."

The men of the Parish are urged to unite with this class and enable this Parish to have a Men's Bible Class second to none in Germantown.

The class meets in the lower room in the Parish House every Sunday morning at 10.00 A. M. and adjourns at 10.10. Forty minutes of earnest Bible Study—it will do every man good. The men of this Parish will be welcomed here. No time like the present to join.

Senior Brotherhood

One of the most encouraging events in the Parish life of the past month was the meeting held September 15th for the purpose of reviving and re-energising the local Senior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The fifteen men present decided to restore this organization to its former place of vigorous activity in the Parish work and steps were taken to centralize this activity into two departments—the Men's Bible Class and the Campaign for Men for the Church. Members were appointed to be present at the various services of the church to greet strangers. Those who are with us for the first time are urged to make themselves known to some members of this Brotherhood. It is purposed to have every one feel that Christ Church is not merely a place of worship but a church home for all who come to these services. Home implies fellowship, friendship, cheerfulness—a place for the exercise of all that is best in every man's thought, speech and action.

It was the spirit of the recent meeting that the men present should do all in their power to second the Rector's efforts to make Christ Church so present itself to every one attending its services.

The Brotherhood will hold its meetings the third Monday of the month—next meeting being October 18th. Mr. Chas. E. Beury, Secretary of the Philadelphia Local Assembly will be present and speak upon "The Opportunity of the Brotherhood."

This new organization is due for a great work in this Parish.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary will resume its meetings on Friday, October the eighth at three thirty o'clock. We are planning for interesting, helpful and social meetings during the winter—it is hoped there will be a large attendance at the meetings as this is the time of the annual election of officers. Girls of all ages are cordially invited to join the Junior Auxiliary and work for Missions.

Every Friday afternoon in the Parish House at three thirty o'clock.

Special Musical Services

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Hardy, is arranging to give a series of musical services on the last Sunday evening of each month commencing October 31st. These services will be highly attractive—a real treat for you and your friends, and deserve to be well attended.

Our church is fortunate in its wealth of great sacred music, and it will be from the best of this material that the selections for these services will be taken.

The entire musical program for the first service, October 31st will be from the works of Sir John Stainer, probably the most distinguished of modern English composer of church music.

The Rector will make appropriate and interesting addresses at all of the services—the subject for this month's address being suggested by the life of the composer, Dr. Stainer.

Programs will be distributed later in the month, but in the meantime, don't forget the date—the last Sunday of the month. Resolve to come yourself and bring others with you.

The Masquerade Party

There's plenty of action and life in the plans of the various societies for the coming winter but the first large event in which all are invited is to join in the Masquerade Party to be given here by the Athletic Association on the night of Friday before Halloween—Oct. 29th is the exact date. Of course, since the days of King Arthur, there have been Masquerade Parties, but there have never been any just like this Party is going to be. The Association is going into this on a large scale. The Parish House will be thrown open and every available space used for the various kinds of entertainment. The flour barrel and the tub of water and the swinging apple and all these prehistoric amusements will be there, but in addition many that will be absolutely new will be ready for the guests. The Party is planned for old and young alike—none too old and none too young to enjoy themselves there.

Tickets will be sold at fifteen cents apiece and admission will be by ticket only.

All those selling tickets will have them marked with a letter corresponding to one opposite their name on the Association book and ticket sellers will thus be held responsible for those presenting tickets marked with their letter. This precaution is taken to prevent any undesirables from gaining admittance and to ensure entire freedom from any troublesome conduct. The Association believes that there are plenty of people in this Parish to take a real live interest in this party and enable everybody to have a real large time on a very happy occasion.

There will be music by two eminent artists from Sunny Italy (via South Philadelphia) both masters in their line—there will be magic and fortune telling, caricatures and games and plenty of refreshments. Now just read it all over again and then take the calendar and put a circle around Friday the 29th of October and then gather in a handful of tickets and come to the "Realest Partie" imaginable. The General Director of this happy event will be Mr. Charles M. Cotton, who will tell all about it all the time and any time he is requested to do so.

NOTICE

Owing to lack of space report of the Summer work and the financial report of the Church Athletic Association will appear in the November issue of the Chimes. The treasurer's report for the past summer will be gladly shown to anyone interested.

his conscientious duty to dedicate himself to God's service in the Holy Communion on that Sunday. Like St. Andrew, try to bring another to Christ in that Holy Sacrament. Men of Christ! Make it your duty, avail yourself of the privilege, of coming to God's Altar at the early Celebration the first Sunday of the Mission—the First Sunday in Advent. Let there be a great outpouring of men,—earnest, eager, praying men, seeking Christ on this early Sunday morning. God's Holy Spirit will surely bless those who come seeking Him, in the name of and through the Blood of His Blessed Son.

This early Communion will be followed by Morning Service at 11.00 o'clock. The Missioner will preach the first sermon of the Mission.

On this Sunday evening he will preach at St. Michael's Church. The special preacher at Christ Church on this Sunday evening at 7.45 will be the Rev. Philip J. Steinmetz, Jr. The Missioner will be at all the daily services of the Mission held in Christ Church during the following week.

The daily services of the Mission this week—Monday, November 29th to December 5th, inclusive—will be as follows:

7.30 A. M.—Holy Communion.

4.15 P. M.—(except Saturday)—Conference on "History of American Church."

8.00 P. M.—Preaching Service.

The daily afternoon Conference will afford a rare opportunity for all to learn something definite about the history of the American Church. All who desire an intelligent understanding of the facts of history, as they concern the American Church, will want to avail themselves of every one of the afternoon Conferences.

The hour—4.15—has been placed so that the young people from school may also attend. Every woman should arrange her household and social duties so that nothing may interfere with these daily Conferences. It is to be regretted that the Conference could not be at an hour so that persons, who are employed during the day—both men and women—could be present. It would be well worth the effort and sacrifice if every man and woman, employed during the day, could arrange to be excused early from their work and attend these afternoon Conferences. The opportunity is rare. The privilege is great. Every effort, therefore, should be made to take advantage of it. Let every one try!

Every night during the week at 8 o'clock a great Preaching Service will be held in this Church. The service will consist of prayers and hymns. Stirring hymns, familiar to all, will be sung. The music will be furnished by the Choirs of the various parishes in the group—each taking one evening or more. Hearty congregational singing will be a feature of these daily night services. The preacher will be the Missioner. Plain, simple, precious Gospel truths will be the theme. The souls of men are hungry for it. In these distressing times the world needs Jesus Christ. All else has failed! None other can satisfy the human heart! You need Him! Come prayerfully and receive Him!

Be a Missionary! Do not be selfish! Share your privileges! Let others know of this Mission! Invite them to the services. Still better, bring them with you. Be a St. Andrew! It is a glorious work—It is a wonderful privilege—to bring a person to Christ! Do it.

No offering will be taken at the services. There will be no expenses except the incidental expenses for printing, advertising the services and for traveling. To meet the incidental expenses of the Mission, a box at the door will receive offerings from any who wish to give. The Missioner receives no reward, except the reward, the inestimable reward of turning, by God's grace, some soul, to Him. May God grant him this reward. Let every one pray for him and the Mission. May there be many who shall be touched at heart and turned, by the Holy Spirit, from death unto life.

At the final service on Saturday night, December 4th, a thank offering will be received. This offering will be an expression of our thanksgiving to God for the blessings of the Mission and for His infinite mercies to us and to our land. This offering will be devoted to the Missionary work of the Church,—at home and abroad, that is to the preaching of the Gospel, the telling of the Good News, to the spread of Christ's Kingdom upon earth. What a glorious way of showing our gratitude to God by sharing with others the blessings He has given to us! Every one will want to do all he can. Be sure to be at this Sunday evening service. It will also be a preparatory service for the following Sunday.

Sunday, December 5th, a Great Missionary service will be held in Christ Church at eleven o'clock.

We are most fortunate in having as special preacher at this service the Rt. Rev. Arthur L. Lloyd, D. D., of New York, President of the Board of Missions. This will be the first opportunity for the people of Christ Church to hear Bishop Lloyd and no one can afford to miss it.

The Celebration of the Holy Communion will follow.

In the afternoon at three o'clock a service for the combined Sunday Schools of St. Peter's, St. Michael's, Epiphany, St. Barnabas and Christ Church will be held in our Church. The Sunday School from each Parish will march to Christ Church in a body. There will probably be upward of 700 children. It will be an inspiring sight. Members of the Sunday Schools will be seated first. Others are invited but will not be admitted to the Church until after the members of the School are seated. The service is to begin promptly at three o'clock and last one hour.

A Service for Men Only will be held immediately after the Sunday School service at 4.15. "Man's part in the great religious movement of the world" will be the theme. All men will want to attend this service. All are invited, none should stay away. Boys are also welcome. This service will be in charge of the men of the five parishes.

Services on Sunday Night in Christ Church will be held at 7.45. The special preacher will be the Rev. C. E. Betticher, Missionary to Alaska.

I have thus far set forth the hours of the services, their subjects and their purposes. I have omitted to mention the most important thing of all—the power of the Mission. The power consists in the spirit in which we enter it—the Spirit of Prayer. I earnestly ask every member of Christ Church to make the Mission an object of daily prayer. "Prayer"—says our Bishop in his address to the people of this Diocese—"prayer must come first. God's blessing will follow our preaching and our pleading in proportion as we pray. This is quite certain. The Mission is a purely spiritual work. Prayer is therefore its chief instrument. Without prayer we shall not only be inviting failure. We shall be bringing down judgment on ourselves. We shall be taking God's name in vain, that is, without meaning it. Our prayers should cover the whole range and every detail of the Mission. As nothing is too great for God's power, so nothing is too little for his love. We should pray for those outside, that He may bring them in; for those inside, that He may build them up; for the preachers, that they may have power to convict, wisdom to enlighten, love to persuade; for the services and sacraments, that they may be worthily rendered and administered and faithfully received; for all workers and helpers in the Mission, that they may be kept from sin and error, and made true instruments and agents of the Kingdom.

We should pray for people and for objects definitely, and by name; regularly and perseveringly; in groups, with our families, by ourselves; at set times and at odd times; in season, out of season. From now on, to and through the Mission, and while the fruits are being reaped, we should strive, with concentrated and unflagging purpose to lead a life of prayer.

In so far as each one of us comes to the Mission, works in it, lives through it, and gives thanks for it when it is done, in prayer to God for Christ's sake, just in so far shall we do the work to which God sends us, for the greater glory of His name."

I ask, my dear friends, the hearty co-operation of every member of Christ Church in this Mission. Please do not let any thing interfere with your attendance at the services during the first week in Advent. Will not every one work for it,—interest others in it, and bring others to it, and above all pray for it? May God bless our efforts in this work!

Affectionately your friend and Rector,

Charles Henry Arndt.

A PRAYER

For the "Preaching Mission"
For the Blessing of the Work:—

O LORD JESUS CHRIST, the Great Shepherd of the sheep, Who seekest those that are gone astray, bindest up those that are broken, and healest those that are sick; Bless, we beseech Thee, the effort to be made in this Diocese to convert souls unto Thee; open the deaf ears of the wanderers, that they may hear the words which belong unto their salvation; confirm the weak, give more grace to the faithful; and grant that those whom Thou dost raise to newness of life, may persevere unto the end: of Thy mercy, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Spirit, one God, world without end. Amen.

For the Preachers and Other Workers in the Missions:

ALMIGHTY AND EVERLASTING GOD, Who dost govern all things in heaven and earth, we commend to Thy fatherly care all whom Thou shalt call to take part in the work of the Preaching Mission in this Diocese. Watch over them, we beseech Thee, for good; defend them from all dangers both of body and soul; grant unto them the spirit of power, of love and of a sound mind, that by their labors Thy name may be glorified and Thy kingdom enlarged; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Parish:

ALMIGHTY AND EVERLASTING GOD, Who dost govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplications of us Thy servants, and grant unto this parish all things that are needful for its spiritual welfare: (special needs). Strengthen and increase the faithful; visit and relieve the sick; turn and soften the wicked: rouse the careless: recover the fallen: restore the penitent: remove all hindrances to the advancement of Thy truth: bring us all to be of one heart within the fold of Thy Holy Church. to the honor and glory of Thy name. through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Outside the walls of the city of Paris there is a grave which bears the strange inscription: "Born a man: Died a grocer."

This epitaph tells the story of many a man's life today. Immersed in business, or forced by the fierce struggle for daily bread to labor under conditions which allow him but little time for the cultivation of his spiritual life, all the finer qualities of his manhood undergo a slow but certain decay.

Prayer is not the conquering of God's reluctance, but the taking hold of God's willingness.—Phillips Brooks.

The Woman's Auxiliary

Dean Burleson's definition of the Woman's Auxiliary. "It is not a select body of a few women in each parish whose time and tastes lead them to join together to do some missionary work. It is a leaven which leaveneth the whole, an influence reaching to the woman who sits in the pew behind you and the pew in front. It is a body resting not until all are interested and brought into that organization to which they really belong by virtue of their baptism—the great Missionary Society of the Church."

The Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church met on Thursday, November 4th. 18 women came to the Parish House to hear Miss Fisher, the Diocesan Secretary tell of the Church Periodical Club. No other Church has such an organization. Books and magazines are distributed all over the world. Grateful letters are received from Japan and China from the mountains of the South and from far away Alaska telling of the enjoyment received from the literature distributed through the Church Periodical Club. Traveling libraries consisting of six volumes in a case are sent to the most remote places where they are most eagerly read, then sent on to another station. These cases travel on and on for years; the books being replaced by the New York office, as they wear out. Many of them are memorials given by friends and relatives of dear departed ones.

The next meeting on December 2 will be addressed by Mrs. North, Diocesan Treasurer of the United Offering. It is to be hoped that every woman in Christ Church will make an earnest effort to come to this meeting. It is most disappointing and humiliating to the officers of the Auxiliary to invite these ladies to come to our meetings and have only a few people to come to hear them.

Pray for the Preaching Mission!

God Bless Our Preaching Mission!

The Junior Brotherhood will omit their second meeting of November as it falls on Wednesday, November 24th which is the night set for the big Sunday school entertainment. Read all about that in another column. The next Junior Brotherhood meeting, then will be held the 2nd Wednesday night in December when reports of the personal visiting done upon the absent male scholars in the Sunday School will be received. The Juniors are planning to take an active part in the preparation for the coming Preaching Mission.

The students at the Divinity School in West Philadelphia have organized a society, membership in which is open to all candidates for Holy Orders, all postulants and all young men who are seriously considering the ministry as their work in life. Informal receptions will be held the first Wednesday evening of every month at School. All of the older boys in this parish, who may be planning to enter the ministry, are cordially invited. Further information as to these receptions and the purpose of them will be gladly given upon request to Mr. Gurley.

Confirmation

The Rector expects to begin a course of lectures on Confirmation immediately after the holidays. Persons contemplating confirmation are requested to give their names to him as soon as possible. He will be pleased to talk over the subject with any who desire to do so. He may be seen in the Church after any service or by appointment.

After the Chimes has gone to press the reception tendered by the Parish to the Rector and Mrs. Arndt will have been held. This occasion is sure to be a very pleasant one to all concerned, and it is hoped that it may be continued every year.

Triumph for the Emergency Fund

When the Board of Missions gathered for its fall meeting last November 2nd, Mr. King, the treasurer, was able to announce that the Emergency Fund was $128,000. That very morning had brought a letter from one who had given $50,000 to the reserve fund, asking that that gift be credited to the Emergency Fund also. And when the Board assembled for noon-day prayers the Gloria in Excelsis was sung with hearts full of thankfulness that God had moved His people to respond to this appeal in "full measure, pressed down, and running over."

The story of the Emergency Fund can never be adequately written in ink. A story of loving, enthusiastic devotion in averting a grave crisis; a story of loyal co-operation such as the Board had never experienced before; a story of happy denial and sacrifice of which the world can never know; above all, a story of earnest prayer which has been one of the foremost features of the campaign and has done so much towards its success. And who can tell how far and how long will go the story of the inspirational and educational value of the appeal to the ever quickening of the missionary fervor of our people?

Here is a ringing message which has come from the West: "My total income for the year received via hard labor is $170. Thus one day's income would amount to the munificent sum of 47¼ cents. I am ashamed almost to offer such a small amount in the face of a crisis as the Church must now meet. A time which, to me, appears as a great challenge to her very existence! So I will multiply my meagre offering ten-fold and trust that in God's Providence this still small sum may serve as an inspiration to those who have given nothing. Of course, times are hard and no one knows it better than the poor. But there is something else to live for besides mammon. If the people of England can, in the face of their calamity, give more than ever before, surely we Americans cannot with any pride plead the excuse of financial stringency."

The Emergency Committee will shortly issue to those who have shared in this great enterprise a statement of the results of the campaign. The Board, at its meeting, passed a resolution requesting the Bishops to ask the clergy to offer prayers of thanksgiving for the success of the Fund on Thanksgiving Day.

Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary opened some weeks ago with 25 members—some new and some old—and we welcome all. The work began by sewing for little babies. The opening day Mr. Arndt, Mr. Gurley and Mr. Beckett were our guests, the latter gave us a generous donation, also did Mrs. Lippincott, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Ritter, Mrs. Toplif Johnson and Mrs. Johnstone.

We certainly would be delighted to have all the little girls to come Friday afternoons and bring their friends to sew or learn to sew.

Notice

Would all members of the congregation and their friends kindly save and send any old rubber shoes or rubber goods of any description to the Parish House that they may be sold to increase the treasury of the Junior Auxiliary or if more convenient if they will call up Gtn. 3980-W, the rubbers will be called for.

The Accounting Warden's Report

Following is the statement of the offerings, by Sundays, during the month of October, 1915, viz:

	Missions	Church Support	Plate Collections	Total
Oct. 3	$16.40	$55.40	$ 6.28	$ 78.08
Oct. 10	21.55	71.15	22.91	115.61
Oct. 17	16.50	89.10	17.60	123.20
Oct. 24	20.30	81.30	17.71	119.31
Oct. 31	20.60	73.70	22.40	116.70
Total	$95.35	$370.65	$86.90	$552.90

It will be noted that the envelope offerings for the month have been very satisfactory, and this is brought about by the fact that the members who have been away during the summer have very generally paid up amounts that accrued during their summer absence, and very plainly brings out the need of the extension of the envelope system to the entire membership of the Parish, because the small plate collections during the summer months of four or five dollars a Sunday are not made up in like manner by those members who are absent in the summer upon their return in the Fall; and thus, those who do not contribute through the envelope do not bear their fair portion of the running expenses of the Church.

The finances of the Parish are in about the same condition that they were last year, but we will probably receive some interest about the first of January on such of the Jefferies Legacy as has been loaned on property by the Trustees. The Vestry, however, has been compelled to make extensive repairs to the Church property this Fall because of the lamentable condition of the Rectory, as well as the roof and tower of the Church, which will necessitate an expenditure of about $700.00. These reports have been made necessary on account of inability to keep the property up for some years past owing to the financial condition of the Parish, but we are hopeful by utilizing the additional money which we will now receive from the Jefferies Fund, of gradually repairing all the property of the Parish, and this will be done just as soon as the financial returns will warrant it.

Yours very truly,

J. I. Morrison,
Accounting Warden.

Men's Club

The Men's Club opened a season of promising activity by a lecture at its October meeting by the Rev. D. Tope, the Local Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. Dr. Tope presented the story of the battle which this organization is waging against the saloon in a way that held the attention of his audience throughout his address and led every one to the conviction that the days of the saloon are numbered.

What led those present to such a thorough enjoyment of Dr. Tope's address was that it was free from any malicious invective against the enemy. Rather it was a clear cut and convincing presentation of existing facts and there's no getting away from facts. The Men's Club in business session later passed the following resolutions:

Resolved: That the thanks of this club be hereby extended to Rev. Dr. Tope for the very entertaining and instructive lecture he has given us.

At the November meeting of the Club Mr. Walter S. Cowing, Chief Executive of the Boy Scouts in Philadelphia was the speaker of the evening. This meeting will be reported in the next issue of the Chimes.

Plans for a series of speakers on subjects of universal interest have been put into effect and the club guarantees the men of the parish a mighty pleasant evening on the second Friday of each month. The membership costing $1.00 a year is open to all the men in the Parish and if you will listen to our advice you will join in time for the big social at which the club members will be the hosts to the ladies of the parish. That may come in December or it may come in January. We're not telling which, but watch these columns for the official announcement. Meanwhile, if you haven't already done so join the Men's Club.

Prayer Books for Sale

About twenty sets of handsomely bound Prayer Books and Hymnals have recently come into possession of the Rector at less than one-half the usual cost price. These books are suitable for Christmas gifts and persons who wish to purchase them at this low price may procure them from the Verger.

Thanksgiving Day Services

The services on Thanksgiving Day will be as follows: Holy Communion 7.30 A. M. Morning prayer and special Thanksgiving Service, with Sermon at 11.00 o'clock. The offerings on Thanksgiving Day will be, as usual, for the benefit of the Episcopal Hospital. The following is an excerpt from the Bishops' letter. We wish that we could quote the letter entire:

Dear friends and brethren:

"On New Year's Day we began turning them (the sick) away, solely for lack of money wherewith to care for them." This sentence is from the last Report of the Managers of our Hospital, published in February of this year. I wish every member of every congregation in the Diocese would get these words by heart and say them over at least once each day to himself, to his neighbors—and in his prayers. For they concern us all. We who have turned the sick away are really you. The Board has done only what you required them to do. It is your policy which has been put into effect. You should, therefore, carefully consider it and decide whether or not you wish it to continue.

Let me say three things about it:

Its Success

First. It has succeeded. We have saved money. It had to be done and we have done it. The deficit in October, 1914, was, in round numbers, $67,000. In October, 1915, it was only $17,000 for the nine months since January 1st. (Had the legacies this year kept on last year's level the deficit would have been not more than $10,000 but the amount of legacies dropped from $32,000 to $25,000.) This means a reduction of our expenses by $50,000 for the nine months. Our finances, therefore, are in a much sounder condition. Income and expenditure are nearly equal. "On New Year's Day we began turning them away." By so doing, we have saved $50,000. The policy has succeeded.

Its Reproach

Secondly. Our policy, though successful, is none the less a shame and a reproach. It has dishonored the Church and the community. It has cast a shadow over the Hospital and all its work. Those women we have turned away have doubtless been cared for elsewhere, but we have forfeited their blessing. We have drawn upon us our Lord's reproach: "Inasmuch as ye did it not to these My brethren, ye did it not to Me." The work of the Hospital has been kept at the usual high standard of skill and efficiency. No expense and no effort has been spared to reach this standard and it must be retained at all costs. No matter how much the work may be reduced in quantity, the quality of it remains the same. But the empty beds are a very heavy weight to carry. The money which would have filled them with God's poor, has instead been filling our pockets. That is a shame and a reproach not easily forgiven or forgotten. "We have been turning them away."

* * * * Shall we sit still and let this thing go on? It is incredible. It must not be. Let us take up the challenge, and meet our obligations, bravely, loyally and generously:

1. By large and immediate donations, if we have been entrusted with large means.

2. By remembering our Hospital in our wills.

3. By using the opportunity given to each of us on Thanksgiving Day (to be, I hope, soon replaced by the naming of a Sunday for the same purpose when many of our people can be reached) of making an offering in love and thankfulness for the good things God has done for us, and would have us do for others.

Faithfully yours,

Philip M. Rhinelanders.

October 28, 1915.

Much needed repairs on the Rectory have been made during the past month. The exterior woodwork and parts of the interior have also been painted. It has been necessary to slate a portion of the roof of the tower of the Church and the exterior stonework about the upper part of the tower has been firmly cemented and re-pointed. This has entailed a considerable expense.

Class in Art

During the past winter Miss Taylor conducted in the Parish House a very successful class in Art, Manual Training and Nature Study. Miss Taylor has resumed these classes this fall and will continue throughout the winter. The method followed is that of J. Liberty Tadd, Ph. D. Mr. Tadd's work is widely known and taught both here and abroad. He is author of "New Methods in Education," published in several editions in America, England, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia. This work as established in the Public Industrial Art School, under his leadership, has been part of our Public School System for many years. We quote brief excerpts from his own statement of the object of the school: "This method aims at a more general development of the individual. * * * After years of careful work and observation we have fixed on certain things as fundamental to any real system of art and manual training, viz., drawing, designing, clay modeling, wood carving and nature study. * * Rotation of work in all these branches gives a wonderful amount of physical co-ordination and manipulative dexterity. * * It also tends to disclose the natural bent, capacity and inclination. * * * Memory drawing, creative drawing and nature study are important features of the method. * * * All education rest upon nature study. * * We use wood-carving to produce energy of action and strength of character. * * Clay modeling is one of the most perfect means of thought expression, for pupils of all ages."

Information concerning the Germantown classes may be had from Miss Taylor, 131 W. Tulpehocek Street or from the Rector.

The Apostle's precept, "Pray always"—pray evermore, pray without ceasing, men ought always to pray—will not be criticized as a pleonasm, if we call to remembrance that there is no state of mind, no condition of life, in which prayer is not a necessity as well as an obligation. In danger, fear impels to it; in trouble, we have no other resource; in sickness, we have no other refuge; in dejection, no other hope; in death, no other comfort.—More.

Young People's Meeting

The Young People's Meetings started again last Sunday and will be held every Sunday evening during the fall and winter at seven o'clock sharp. This is a brisk, cheerful and brief service of prayer and song. It adjourns in time for the Church evening service. Short talks will be given on the subject of preparation for and activity in the layman's work in the Parish—more particularly in our Sunday School. It is hoped that old and young will interest themselves in these meetings. The term "Young People" simply means that age in this work is judged entirely by the feeling and interest shown by those participating in these services.

The committee in charge of the recent masquerade party report a clear profit of $22.65, and those who came to the party have variously expressed themselves as having had a fine time. But there is lots to look forward to in the coming months as far as parties go. The space here would not permit a story of all the good times planned, but suffice it to say that the recent masquerade was just a beginning that's all, merely a beginning!

The Sunday School is going to have a party on the night of Wednesday, November 24th. A committee of seven is hard at work planning for the best time possible. The committee is the same one that got together the Masquerade Party. That was quite an affair but that is not a circumstance to what this party is going to be. There are going to be races and games and all the fun that can be crowded in two hours and a half. And then last but not least, the refreshments. Is there anything left out? Remember the date—Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. November 24th.

We regret to announce the resignation of Mr. Horace W. Hardy, as organist and choirmaster of Christ Church. Mr. Hardy has accepted a similar position at his home church of St. Simeon's.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. Robert Staton to act as choirmaster. Mr. Cyril Dennison has been engaged as organist.

The Monthly Musical Service

The fine monthly musical service given by the choir last month was a great success in every way. The large congregation appreciates the exquisite rendering of the music of Sir John Stainer. The Rector gave a short sketch of the Composer's life and spoke on the subject of Christian Harmony of life.

Owing to the fact that Preaching Mission Service on the second Sunday, the usual monthly musical service will be omitted on that evening. The next musical service will be held on the First Sunday evening in January. The selections will be announced in the next issue of the Chimes.

Remember the Date—First Sunday evening in January!

The Sunday School

The attendance at the Sunday School is gradually increasing each Sunday. There are more scholars on the roll at present than there have been for several years past. There is also a larger average attendance. There is still a need of faithful teachers. Those who are willing to offer their services are requested to give their names to the Rector.

At the last meeting of the Vestry Mr. U. G. Rowley was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Keith R. Rodney. Mr. Rodney and family have moved from the city and it is with great regret that we lose them. Mr. Rodney was a faithful and loyal vestryman in the Parish and will be greatly missed. Mr. Rowley who will fill out Mr. Rodney's unexpired term, has been a member of the Parish for the past five years and has been active in the Sunday School and the men's societies of the Parish.

An Explanation

Owing to the fact that there has been much misunderstanding and criticism in regard to the starting of a Boy Scout troop in the Parish—these few words may not be out of place. It is hoped that every one will very clearly understand that there is absolutely no desire to hinder or check the work of the present Boys Brigade. Christ Church Parish is large enough for both if both are good for the boys. If not—time and results will show which organization better answers the boy question here. There are as there has always been a number of boys here who have no desire whatever to join the Boys Brigade. Whether the Scout organization will interest them or not remains to be seen. At least this Parish will not stop until everything has been done to encourage the interest and arouse the loyalty of every boy who claims membership in it. This is the reason for planning the Boy Scout organization here. Unprejudiced judgment cannot fail to recognize the practical value of this organization. Full particulars as to the purpose of it will be given upon application to Mr. Gurley. Next Friday night at eight o'clock in the Parish House will be held the second meeting of the Scouts. All boys interested are welcome to come then and learn more about the work. The Scouts meet in the room on the second floor of the Parish House.

R. H. G.

There is one thing that Christians, so far as they are truly Christians, cannot do. They cannot fail. They may appear to fail. In the world's view they may really fail. Usually it is necessary that they should meet with what the world calls failure in order that they may truly succeed. Our Lord so failed. He was left with only a few disciples and at the last even they held at a distance. But He had foreseen all this, including His death, and had foretold His triumph as the consequence. "I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." We must be ready in our societies and in our own lives to fail in order to succeed. If we are ready to fail it is impossible not to succeed. — Sunday School Times.

God Bless Our Preaching Mission!

Partnership with God

One of the greatest principles in the progress of humankind has ever been the principle of co-operation. Man's advance in civilization has always been accompanied by a corresponding advance in his power of combination. We are familiar with the development of this principle in national and social life. We know the marvelous results it has accomplished in the business life of the present-day world, and we can account for the success of most great achievements in the world's history, when we trace out into all its details the perfection of co-operation, of combination, or partnership between man and man, which alone made the result possible and the struggle successful.

But it is not of the partnership of man with man we wish now to write, powerful and victorious as its achievements are, but of a partnership to which much less thought is given; a partnership, nevertheless, infinitely more powerful, the partnership of man with God.

The greatest business in all this world, dwarfing in comparison every other interest ever conceived, is the salvation of the souls of the men about us. We cannot accomplish this, no matter how much we combine together; and God cannot accomplish this, Himself, unaided, because he has ordained that we are "co-workers together with God." And here comes in the necessity for the greatest partnership in all human history, the partnership of man with God.

How then does this holiest of all partnerships work? How is the human and the divine co-operation to be brought into play? How does God want us to help him to save the world? The answer is simple. By bringing the men about us nearer to Christ. By making it easier for them to be Christians. By making it possible for them to be Christians. By making it possible for them, as Saint Andrew did those Greeks so long ago, "to see Jesus." By saying to our brother with the same enthusiasm that Saint Andrew said to his by the Galilean Lake, "Come and see." By bringing, it may be, some boy to the Master, as Saint Andrew brought to the Saviour, the boy with the loaves and fishes.

Yes! God's way of saving men is by means of other men. There are men about you, who if God is going to save, He is going to save by your co-operation. "When God would save a man," as Jeremy Taylor says: "He does it by means of a man." God will always do His part. The only possibility of failure is in your end of the partnership.

Jesus calls us, each one, to be a "worker together with Him," a sharer in this great partnership. Have you realized all that this means? Are you co-operating with God to the fullest extent of your power, and are you striving hard that this sacred partnership, of which you are an absolute and necessary part, may have continual and visible results in the salvation of the souls of those about you, who by your partnership with God should be continually brought "nearer to Christ through His Church?"

Emmanuel

There is but one thought for the joyous heart at Christmas-tide, viz: Emmanuel—God with us. That is the most momentous event in the vast timeless stretch of man's life on earth; that is the most profound truth in all the long annals of history; that is the hope of Eternity demonstrated in time; that is the character of God manifested in man. Emmanuel—God with us.

When that far, far off primitive ancestor of ours looked up from his animal life and felt within him the dim, mysterious stirrings which eventually impelled him to take the first halting step upward in the long ascent of heaven, religion had its birth. At that moment God's hand began the shaping out of rude and crude material of that character which today amidst the brilliant light of our Western civilization prompts to the highest, divinest deeds inspired by the Supreme Model of Character, as revealed in Jesus, the Christ. Then began that divine discontent which ever kept the human possessor striving after something which oftentimes he could not half define.

Here a little and there a little, line upon line, and precept upon precept, with many a stumble, many a blunder, and many a grave mistake, those dim promptings were wrought into ideas, hazy and indistinct, it is true, yet clear enough to be held, and man began to realize the true purpose of life. In the history of all development we find a thoroughly natural order of growth—first the blade, then the ear, and then the full corn in the ear. In many fragments and many ways, by different men, in different nations, at different times, the threads of the tissue of truth were spun—fitfully, yet always beautifully—but it was Jesus only who could gather these various threads together and weave them into a texture with a definite, permanent pattern that would always appeal to men.

That God should at least enter His lot was the thing, the one thing that for ages human hearts had prayed and hoped for; and yet when He came the guise our Emmanuel wore was so unlike that in which all anticipation had clothed Him that men failed to recognize their King. Born to a blood-stained race, born in a time and land of sinful kings, of wild mob's folly, of cruel slavery, of cruel laws, of crueller men—with here and there a fearless prophet; here and there an Anna or a Simeon, and in it all, Emmanuel had His part. A Rahab, a Ruth, a David, had some real share in Him. And up this frail, strained, broken stairway—the “world's strange altar stairs, that slope through darkness up to God,” came the Holy, the Just and the True, the strong Son of God who is immortal love.

Martineau, in one of his essays has said, “Dear, aye, dear to us are all His words; dear, aye, dear to us are His miracles, but dearer than all is surely His cradle; for this is its lesson—that human life, though it begin in a manger and end on a cross, is full of God. Life's pathway may be crossed with dark bands of shadow, life's pillow pierced with cruel, bitter thorns, but in every thorn and shadow, just as truly as in every rose and sunbeam, the love and pity of God are at work for all of us. Tell me, O Christian men and women, is it not this that bends our hearts in a perpetual love for our Emmanuel?”

Let us hold fast by this truth, and all life has newer and fuller meaning. The awful power of sin, in its thousand forms of wretchedness, selfishness and vice, will fill our hearts with determination to work “while it is yet day,” but cannot overpower those hearts with hopelessness or despair. For God is with us, not to save us from our human condition, but to fill that condition with a hope and a promise it never knew before. God is with us. Let us face this new year with firmer faith! These dark days of world-wide suffering, sorrow, require great faith in God. “God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform.” But surely “the Lord of Hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge.” Let our prayers go up to Heaven this Christmas-tide, that God may send His sweet peace into the hearts of the suffering, into the hearts of the rulers and the people of all nations that they may be won by His great love and that the dawn of this new year will bring with it the angels' message: “Emmanuel; God with us,” “Peace on earth among men in which He is well pleased.”

Are we becoming more sensible, more Christian, in our Christmas preparations?

It is difficult to say. Sometime an energetic campaign must be waged against extravagance and the incurring of debt in the name of Christmas. Love is not expensive; friendship cannot be measured in dollars. Why, then, should it be deemed necessary for the Christmas expression of these qualities to be given in articles that bear no suggestion of the day and the purchase of which is an extravagant waste, which the giver cannot afford and the recipient deems a burden to be reciprocated by a gift of similar value? What hypocrisies are many of our Christmas gifts?

Will not Christian people begin to Christianize their gifts? That means first that they shall be true expressions of friendship, and second that they shall involve no burden of debt on the part of the giver nor sense of obligation on that of the recipient. The simple, delicate Christmas card, selected for the suitable expression engraved upon it, is a truer portrayal of the Christmas spirit than, under ordinary circumstances, any gift of great intrinsic value could be. And a sheet of paper, with one's own individual Christmas wishes written to a friend upon it, may be still more fitting.

Let us make war upon incurring debt, upon placing reciprocal burdens, and upon inviting jealousy and covetousness, in the Name of Him who is Himself the true Christmas Gift.

BE ON TIME

A good way to begin the New Year is to begin to be on time, some people are always late;—late to meetings and keep other people waiting; late to Church—and disturb the congregation in the worship; these same people will be late at the mid-night service on New Years' Eve! Always behind time! Always late! A good New Years' Resolution—Be on Time!

Christmas Communion

From the earliest ages of the Christian Church the great service on Christmas Day has always been the Holy Communion on the Holy Eucharist—which means the “Feast of Thanksgiving.” Christmas is the Day of joy and of thanksgiving for that Great Gift of God, His Son Jesus Christ. And it is most fitting that we express our joy and our thanksgiving to Him on that Day by kneeling before Him and worshipping Him and receiving Him into our hearts and lives. For the Lord's Supper is not merely a memorial of His Death. It is also a feast of praise and thanksgiving of His Resurrection and His Life. It is the reception of the Christ with our souls and bodies—that we may be “one body with Him, that He may dwell in us and we in Him.”

On Christmas Day, when the world celebrates the Birth of our Lord—shall not His followers now—as did the wise men of old—seek the Christ Child and opening up the treasures of our hearts, fall down and worship Him.

The shepherds found the holy Child lying in a manger. We shall miss the true meaning of Christmas if in the heart of all the day's gladness and festivity we do not find Christ.

“Thou didst give Jesus Christ, thine only Son, to be born as at this time for us; who, by the operation of the Holy Ghost, was made very man, of the substance of the Virgin Mary, his mother; and that without spot of sin, to make us clean from all sin.” So the Church sums it up, in scientific and devotional phrasing, as we come to the climax of our worship on Christmas Day.

These are tremendous and mysterious statements! Yes, but this, and only this, is Christianity.

This is what the philosophers of Greece and India vaguely dreamed of in their highest musings. This is the celestial harmony, fragments of which are the finest strains of old world epic and tragedy and ode. And this is what has made the simple goodness and the simple gladness of myriads of humble lives in all succeeding ages.

The Epiphany

The Festival of the Epiphany must be deemed of very high importance by a believing and thoughtful Christian. It does not merely commemorate one of the most beautiful incidents of our Lord's infant life, it asserts one of the most fundamental and vital features of Christianity; the great distinction, in fact, between Christianity and Judaism. The Jewish religion was the religion of a race. * * * Was a merely national religion like this a full unveiling of the mind of the common Father of the human family? Was His eye ever to rest in love and favor only on the hills and valleys of Palestine? Was there to be no place in His heart for more races, who lay east and west and north and south of the favored region? Or was the God of Israel like the patron dieties of the heathen world, the God of Israel in such sense that Israel could lastingly monopolize His interest, His protection, His love; that heathendom, lying in darkness and in the shadow of death, would lie in it for ever, without a hope of being really lightened by His countenance or being admitted to share His embrace? It could not be. The Jewish revelation of God contained within itself the secret and the reason of its vanishing by absorption in to the brighter light which should succeed it.—H. P. Liddon.

Church Literature

There will be found on the shelves in the vestibules of the Church a varied assortment of literature of interest to persons who are seeking information on the teachings of the Episcopal Church, its work in the Missionary field, etc. The selection includes articles on “Missions in China,” “Missions among the Indians,” “Why I am a Churchman, lapsed and lapsing Communicants,” “Confirmation—Why I should be confirmed,” “This Do In Remembrance of Me,” etc.

Members of the Congregation are invited to take copies of these leaflets.

Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

The Sunday School Christmas Party

Once more approaches that wonderful season of good will and cheerfulness—that season in which all the children of mischief become as miniature angels—that season when old enmities are laid aside and new enemies made by inappropriate remembrances—that season when all the old, long-since forgotten gifts received last year are dragged out and apportioned to those on our list who "will never know the difference"—that season when father tries to make every dollar do the work of ten and mother and daughter and son yearn for a more elastic currency—that season when our children sit up nights thinking up things they don't need, hitherto never have wanted nice, modest, little things like a new steam yacht or a motor cycle—but which they want now because it is the season of wanting—the season when we begin to speculate on the intelligence and intention of our friends in the way of supplying our dearest expectations and finally the season when we smile and appear eternally grateful for that which in a few days we will have exchanged for something really useful—though with fervent earnestness we have breathed to the donor that greatest and best of all that man ever told—just what I wanted, and yet in all the year and since the day of the first Christmas has there ever been—will there ever be a season like unto this season—will any other times ever put into our hearts and minds such a spirit of gladness, such a spirit of fellowship and good will toward man? For this is the spirit of Christmas and Christmas is for all—not the outward material expression of it, perhaps, but the inward spirit of joy and gladness.

We pause right here to mention to all the good people of Christ Church that we are expecting a visit from Santa Claus—without whom Christmas would be incomplete. He expects to drop off here for a short visit, some time on Wednesday, December 29th. Strange to say that is the same day on which the Sunday School is to give their Xmas party—the primary in the afternoon and the Intermediate and Senior departments at night. Santa Claus is coming, alrighty, don't forget that, and be sure you are here to see him. Did you say somebody told you there wasn't any Santa Claus? Listen to us. The next person tells you that you put them down for one of those smart Alecks that wish they were kids again so they could hang up their stocking, you tell them to come around here and see Santa Claus for themselves.

We are going to have a fine time that night. All kinds of games for the youngsters and all kinds of surprises for the seniors and plenty of good things to eat and plenty of good eaters to eat them and—well, what's the use of telling all to you now? Come and see. Children, little and big, old and young keep that day in mind and be here at the Parish House in plenty of time to enjoy it all.

Wednesday afternoon for the Primary Departments and Wednesday night for the others—December the 29th. We have a place reserved for you.

The Altar Guild

The Altar Guild held its last meeting at the residence of Mrs. Henry R. Baremore and arranged committees to serve during the coming winter. The Guild regrets the resignation of Miss Helen Donlevy and Miss Margaret Hayhurst, both faithful members. The Guild is pleased to welcome the Misses Manser to membership. Mrs. William H. Avery, who is passing the winter at Melrose, Pa., still continues her active membership and has charge of the Memorial Flower list.

It is gratifying to acknowledge contributions to the Guild which some have placed in the box at the West entrance to the Church.

We wish that more people in the congregation would contribute to this purpose and put their offerings in the box marked, "For the Altar Guild." Person who wish to select a Sunday to place flowers on the altar in memory of a dear one in Paradise, are invited to apply to the President of the Guild. Mrs. Henry R. Baremore, Cliveden Avenue and Jefferson Street.

The Preaching Mission

The One Week's Preaching Mission which was held in Christ Church during the first week in Advent under the auspices of the five parishes in this vicinity, St. Peter's, St. Michael's, Epiphany, St. Barnabas and Christ Church was a great spiritual feast to all who were privileged to take part in it. The Holy Communion was celebrated every morning in Christ Church and was well attended. The afternoon Conferences delivered by the Missioner, the Rev. Ralph P. Pomeroy on the History of the American Church were very interesting and instructive and the large assembly room in our Parish was taxed to its fullest capacity at each Conference.

The course of sermons preached in Christ Church each evening of the week was highly appreciated by large congregations, representatives of the five parishes. The sermon dealt with the fundamentals of the Christian faith and the subjects were most ably and eloquently presented. At three o'clock on Sunday afternoon Christ Church was filled to overflowing with the members of the five Sunday Schools, who marched into the church in a body, with their banners and headed by a choir of sixty voices—men and boys from the five Parish choirs. The address at the Sunday School service was made by the Rev. Mr. Pomeroy, who also gave the second of a series of addresses to men at a largely attended service at four thirty.

At the eleven o'clock morning service the people of Christ Church had the privilege of listening to an inspiring sermon on Missions by the Rt. Rev. Arthur L. Lloyd, President of the Board of Missions and in the evening the Rev. A. A. Gilman, missionary to China, gave us a graphic account of his work in that great missionary field.

Thus ended a wonderful week—a week of great privilege. We are most grateful to the Rev. Mr. Pomeroy for all he has done for the people who attended this mission. He spoke God's message plainly, fearlessly, lovingly. God grant that the seed sown by him may spring up in the lives of many to the glory of God and the extension of His Kingdom!

Services on Christmas Day

The services on Christmas Day will be Holy Communion, 6.30 A. M. and 7.30 A. M., Holy Communion and Sermon 11.00 A. M.

The offering at all services on Christmas Day will be for the Aged and Infirm clergy.

On the following Monday (St. John the Evangelist) and on Tuesday (Holy Innocents) there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9.30 A. M.

Sunday School Christmas Service

The Christmas service for the Sunday School will be held on Sunday after Christmas at three thirty in the afternoon. At this service the Christmas Carols will be sung and addresses will be made by special speakers to be announced later.

Parents and friends of the members of the School are cordially invited to be present at this service.

The Sunday School service in the afternoon, on the Sunday after Christmas will take the place of the usual Sunday night service.

The usual evening service will therefore be omitted on the First Sunday evening after Christmas.

Midnight Service on New Year's Eve.

A midnight service will be held in the Church on New Year's Eve, beginning at eleven o'clock. The Church will be open all evening for private prayer and devotion.

Contribution for Christmas Green

The expense of trimming the Church with laurel for the Christmas Season is met by contributions from members of the congregation. Persons who wish to contribute to this purpose are invited to give their contributions to Mr. Richard H. Morris.

A few sets of Prayer Books and Hymnals, suitable for Christmas gifts may be had from the Verger. These Prayer Books and Hymnals are of superior quality and are less than half the regular price. Suitable for gifts.

Christ Church Kalendars for 1916 are now ready. These Kalendars give the lessons for each Sunday and the Holy Days of the Church Year, marked in appropriate colors. They may be purchased from Miss Margaret Falkner, 48 West Tulpehocken Street or may be had from the Verger. The price is thirty cents.

Epiphany

Thursday, January the sixth is the Feast of the Epiphany. There will be a Celebration of the Holy Communion on that day, with short address at 9.30 A. M.

Confirmation

Confirmation Classes are now being formed and persons desirous of being confirmed are requested to give their names to the Rector. He will be pleased to confer with any person on the subject, after any service or by appointment.

The dates of lectures on Confirmation will be announced from the Chancel.

On November 19th, the members of the Parish tendered a reception to the Rector and Mrs. Arndt in the Parish House. The room was beautifully decorated with palms and other plants and there was a large attendance on the part of the parishioners. Refreshments were served in the gymnasium. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all and a cordial appreciation was expressed for the delightful evening given by the Committee in charge.

Clothing Needed

In another article mention has been made of the need of second-hand clothing. In connection with this I should like to say that anything which is sent is well disposed of. A selection of men's clothing is put in the hands of the Rector, and is given to cases, many of which could not be known except by him. In case of need, clothing is given away, otherwise a nominal sum is charged and the proceeds go to charitable objects and to missions.

We can make good use of any kind of clothing you can send us, particularly men's; also bric-a-brac and fancy articles. Please remember us at cleaning up times, and for our sakes may cleaning up times come often.

H. M. F. A.

Envelope Subscribers

The number of persons who subscribe through the envelopes is now 250. This is the largest number of subscribers but there should be at least twice that many.

It is gratifying to report that many parents are inculcating in their children the habit of systematic giving by the use of the envelopes. This custom should be extended until every member of every family in the Parish is included on the list of weekly subscribers; both to the support of the Parish and to Missions. Then will all feel that are sharing in giving what they can to further on the Kingdom of Christ.

Pledge cards may be found in the vestibule of the church.

There are people who will not trust the Lord until they lose everything else.

When you bid your sin goodbye don't shake hands with it.

The best remedy for self conceit is to be well introduced to yourself.

There are too many people in church who can't be religious in cloudy weather.

Christmas Music

On Christmas Day the Choir will render the following program: Te Deum in F by Herman Kotzschman;

Jubilate Deo in E flat by B. Cecil Klein; Communion Service in E flat by Alfred J. Eyre. The anthem will be "Sing O Heavens" by Berthold Tours, ending in the grand finale with the inspiring strains of "O Come All Ye Faithful."

On the Sunday following, the music will be repeated in the morning Prayers the anthem will be "There were Shepherds abiding" by Myles B. Foster.

The Hymns will be: Introit, Hymn 49 Adeste Fideles—Reading office—Hymn 58, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" Redner; Retrocessional—Hymn 51 "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing" Mendelssohn.

Yours very truly,

J. I. Morrison,

Accounting Warden.

The Woman's Auxiliary

A special subject has been assigned to each meeting, and in accordance with this plan the December meeting was given to the United Offering. Mrs. Ralph North, the Diocesan Treasurer gave us a very interesting and enlightening address on this subject.

Next month (January) the topic will be Colored Missions, the programme to be in charge of the Committee which consists of Mrs. Samuel Gerhard, Mrs. Frank Wells and Mrs. Alfred Sands.

There will be a speaker who will be specially qualified to talk on that subject by reason of his actual experience in that field.

The attendance seems to indicate a growing interest in the Woman's Auxiliary, there having been eighteen persons present at the last meeting in spite of the very bad weather.

The next meeting will be held on January sixth. Come and bring some one with you.

Senior Brotherhood

The Senior Chapter Brotherhood of St. Andrew reports a very successful month of activity. At the early service on the 1st Tuesday in Advent eight new members were received into the fellowship of the Chapter. At a previous meeting the officers for the previous year were unanimously reelected for another year and a spirit of interest in the laymen's part of the parish work was evidenced that is distinctly encouraging.

The members of the Brotherhood have had charge of the ushering at the evening service since September last and will continue in this work through the year. Members of the Parish are requested to facilitate their work by giving them the names and addresses of strangers who may come in the members' pews. It is much easier to become acquainted with a stranger and make him feel at home if you sit beside him all during the service than if you merely escort him to a seat.

During the Preaching Mission the members of the Brotherhood rendered valuable aid in many ways at the various services, especially at the Sunday afternoon Children's Service.

The Brotherhood meets again Monday night, December 20th at 8 o'clock.

Mothers' Meeting

The Mothers' Meeting held its first session for the winter of 1915-1916 on Oct. 12, 1915. There were present, 12 members, also Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Rowley, and Mrs. Arndt. It was a great pleasure to us all to have Mrs. Rowley with us again after her enforced absence all last winter. Much to the regret of all Mrs. Morrison announced that she would be unable to continue as Directress of the Meeting. Under Mrs. Morrison the meeting has been conducted with marked success and it is a great disappointment to all that she is unable to continue the work. Her interest has not been lost however, which we fully realize on the first Tuesday of each month when we enjoy the refreshments which she so generously provides.

We began the year with a balance in our treasury of $7.19 and through the sale of second-hand clothing, dish towels, aprons and so forth, we now have $37.16. Will not the women of the parish kindly bear in mind that second-hand clothes are badly needed, and that our stock of carpet rags is remaining low?

We have on sale dish towels, aprons and rag rugs. In replenishing these absolutely necessary articles will not the house-keepers notify us and let us supply their needs? Orders may be sent to the Rectory and will receive prompt attention.

We are looking forward to a pleasant and profitable winter, and to this end we are hoping to have, at different times, talks on subjects of interest. Last month Miss Falkner gave an entertaining talk on the lives of the women of Italy.

One event of interest which we are all looking forward to with much pleasure is our Annual Dinner to be given in the early part of January, when we hope to have a large attendance.

The Church Periodical Club

A few years ago the C. P. C. started as a branch of its regular work, the sending out of "Traveling Libraries" to the isolated districts of our country where public libraries and books are unknown. These libraries consist of 60 or 70 volumes in a substantial oak case, marked with a brass tablet, engraved with the name of the church or the individual sending it. The books need not of necessity be new, if in good condition. Books of good fiction, travel, history, standard works, biography and some poetry make up its shelves.

The Library is placed in one locality for 6 months or one year, under the care of the rector, or some other responsible person, who is asked to keep account of the books, and see that they are returned when borrowed. It then passes on to another locality where it rests until it has provided pleasure and profit to the extent of its 70 books.

A sample book case may be seen in the Girls' Friendly Room, in our Parish House where it is patiently waiting for its shelves to be filled and the money contributed to enable it to go "forward." Will you be good enough to stop and look at it?

This Library will probably be sent out as a memorial. What more fitting remembrance of some dear one, for it is ever bringing pleasure and is never ending in its mission.

These Libraries for Children are much in demand. Can you not interest the children?

The entire cost will not exceed $20. The books of course are donated.

Case including cover box .. $8.50 up
Brass Tablet $1.50 up
Freight according to distance.

L. J. Johnson,

Parish Librarian.

John Wesley said in 1746—"I dare not renounce Communion with the Church of England. As a minister I teach her doctrines; I use her offices; I conform to her Rubrics; I suffer reproach for my attachment to her. As a private member, I hold her doctrines;

I join in her offices, in prayer, in hearing, in communicating." Vol. VIII, p. 444.

Boys' Brigade

A supper will be given by the Brigade of this Church, on December 23, 1915 at 6.30 o'clock. An invitation is extended to everyone to come and enjoy this occasion. Tickets may be had for twenty-five cents from any member of the company.

There will be speeches by men prominent in military lines, law and other professions.

The idea of this supper is not to make money but to bring everyone together and to make them realize the fellowship of this organization.

After the meeting of the Commanding Officers of the Pennsylvania Division U. B. B. A., it was made known that the Companies in Germantown will form what is known as the "Germantown Battalion" with Captain Clarke, now Major, in command.

Company II of Christ Church is now independent of Company 13 of the Advocate Church, which hitherto constituted Company "K" of the last Pennsylvania Infantry U. B. B. A. First Sergeant Howard N. Feist has been promoted to Lieutenant commanding Company II of this Parish.

On the 2nd Sunday of every month, the evening service will be attended by the members of the Company in a body.

The Christ Church Athletic Association

announces that in the second or third week of January it will give a "book party" to all the young people in the Parish and all others who want to come; and as to what that party will be like,—Well—not long ago there was a Masquerade Party—enough said!

In February the present memberships of all kinds expire and the Association will give a banquet in the Parish House to which will be invited all present and all prospective members. This banquet will inaugurate a campaign for new members between two teams of five each. We expect to have a big time every month from now on. It's really a good thing to be a member of this Athletic Association. If you haven't already joined try it and see.

Junior Brotherhood

Last Wednesday night the 8th, the Junior Brotherhood met. Eleven members were present. Reports were brought in as to the visiting of Sunday School absentees and with one exception the absent boy was shown the error of his way and has returned.

The Juniors are taking up a new plan in the conduct of their meetings. A portion of Scripture is selected and read by one member and then general discussion is invited from the rest. In this way it is hoped to help any difficulties a boy may have in reading and understanding the Bible.

The next meeting for the Juniors is Wednesday night December the 22nd. Every member is requested to keep that day in mind.

The Boy Scouts

Ten boys in the Parish have signified their intention to join the Boy Scout Troop being formed here. For the present meetings will be held the second and fourth Wednesday nights in the Parish House and the time will be devoted to a careful study of the Boy Scout Manual so that every boy may know precisely what is expected of him as a Scout and also precisely what he may expect to become as a Scout. The beauty of the work is that there is always something ahead for the ambitious boy to attain to and the whole process is an education, one of recognized value.

There will be no hasty enthusiastic beginning which having no practical foundation would quickly go to pieces. The plan is to get a dozen boys together who can realize the fact that they are to benefit the more as they try the harder to live up to the ideals of the organization. The Scout idea puts it up to the boy to work for and firmly secure a manhood worthy of all respect.

We invite the boys in the Parish to become members. They can do so upon application to the Scout Master, to whom they must give evidence of their fitness for membership, moral and mental. The Boy Scout is aiming for mental.

The organization here is proceeding slowly but surely, for it has come to stay.

Subscribers to the Chimes

The Editors of the Chimes wish to express their appreciation of the support given by persons who have subscribed and given donations. The following list of names contains those who have subscribed. Names marked with a star have also given a contribution. Seventy five more subscriptions are needed to guarantee the publication of the Chimes throughout the year.

It is hoped that all who have not subscribed will do so at once.

Septuagesima

Septuagesima Season—or the three weeks before Lent—commences on Septuagesima Sunday, February 20th. This season is intended to remind us of the near approach of Lent and to prepare our minds for that solemn, holy Fast.

We now turn from the Cradle at Bethlehem to the Wilderness, to Gethsemane and the Cross.

The Lessons, the Epistles, the Gospels read each Sunday foreshadows the coming of our Lord's Fastings. His sufferings, and His Death; all to be ended and triumphed over in His glorious Resurrection.

From now on every Churchman will prepare to observe the coming Holy Season of Lent in more seriousness of life, in genuine fastings, in devout readings, in meditations, in more frequent prayer.

Septuagesima—seventy days before Easter! The Holy Feast draws near! Let every one begin now to prepare to make this coming Lent the most serious, the most heart-searching, the most spiritually helpful, the most spiritually triumphant of our lives! Septuagesima reminds us to prepare.

"When the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed and doeth that which is lawful and right he shall save his soul alive."

Seven Marks of a Good Churchman

1. To be Baptized, and to bring others to Baptism.

2. To be Confirmed and to bring others to Confirmation.

3. To be faithful Communicants, attending the Holy Communion at least once a month. Never, under any circumstances, either sick or well, should a Communicant fail to be prepared to receive the Holy Communion on Christmas, Easter, and Whitsunday. If too ill to come to Church the Rector will come to the sick room and administer the Sacrament.

4. To keep the Church Fasts and Holy Days. There should be a more strict attention among our people to this venerable and pious custom of the Church.

5. To give regularly a definite amount, proportionate to one's income, for the support and spread of Christ's Kingdom.

6. To remember the Church in making of wills.

In cases of sickness to send for the clergy.

Not expect the clergy to learn of cases of sickness in indirect ways.

7. On recovery from sickness to offer thanks in Church, and make a thank-offering.

A Request to the Societies

Confusion of accounts have occurred from time to time owing to a practice by members of some of the Societies in the Parish. This practice should be discontinued. When a member of any Society in the Parish makes a purchase for the Society the account should not be charged to Christ Church but to the person making the purchase. The Rector receives bills for all manner of things—from ice cream to gingham—which members of the various Societies have purchased for the use of the Societies and had charged to "Christ Church." As the Rector's capacity for the former is limited and as he does not use the latter, he can honestly prove an alibi; and yet he is frequently obliged to pay for both, because he has neither the time nor the ability to go out among the six hundred Communicants of Christ Church and single out the special lovers of ice cream or the wearers of gingham.

Will not members of the various societies of the Parish please take pity on the Rector and not charge to "Christ Church" all manner of mysterious things, the bills of which come to the Rector and which he, in sheer desperation for the good name of the "Church," is called upon to pay.

Notice to Communicants

The Rector referred to the practice of some persons at the Holy Communion who habitually leave the church immediately after communicating. After this serious breach of propriety and of decorum, not to speak of reverence, was called to the attention of the congregation, the Rector is glad that most persons discontinue this practice. He is pained to see, however, that a few, from whom he has learned to expect better things, still persist in leaving the Church before the service is ended—to the annoyance of worshippers and to the fearful example to the young.

The Rector affectionately asks that these persons will kindly discontinue this habit, both out of consideration for the interest of others and also in the interest of reverence and their own spiritual needs.

Of course it is needless to say that this admonition does not apply to persons who are physically weak or to those who for other good causes feel that they must leave the church. Each one will act conscientiously and no one will judge another.

The Rector wishes to call attention to a need of improvement in the responses which the congregation are expected to make in the services. A rubric in the morning Prayer says: "the people shall answer, at the end of every prayer, Amen." This should be done by every worshipper "at the end of every prayer." The "Amens" should be said audibly, and as though we meant it. "Amen" means "yes, verily," and every worshipper at the service should so thoroughly and enthusiastically enter into the spirit of every prayer that is said and make it so entirely and personally his own prayer that he will heartily respond, "yea, Lord, Verily, Amen." Or when the "Amen" is sung, as it is sometimes in the service, every one should join in singing the response. This is what the Prayer Book intends the worshipper to do and it should be done. And then in the versicles, which are said or sung, the congregation should all take part—not in a careless, half-hearted way, but with fervor and with whole-heartedness. Our service is called "the Liturgy." The English word Liturgy is derived from two Greek words, meaning "work of the people;" that is to say a service of the people, the entire congregation of worshippers. And unless all the worshippers respond audibly, heartily, it cannot be said to be "the worship of the people." There are parts of the service which the clergy are to take on behalf of the people; there are parts which the choir may take; there are parts which the congregation are to take; there are other parts which the clergy and people are to take together. Each should take their part and do it well, and the "whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love."

It is hoped that there will be a marked improvement in this direction. Let every one take a more personal and hearty interest. Our service will then be a veritable "liturgy," that is to say a worship of people.

In this connection the Rector would urge that the people keep their Prayer Book open before them and carefully follow every word in the service. Keep your eyes on your Prayer Book, that is what the Prayer Book is for—to be used and followed, not to be left in your pew or simply held in your hand. In the singing of the canticles join in the singing, as well as you are able. Do not stand staring at the choir, or looking around at others in the congregation, or gazing up at the rafters in the roof. Keep your eyes on your Prayer Book! That is your part of the service. Take what belongs to you. Follow every word in your Prayer Book. It makes no difference how well you may know it. None of us knows it too well and there is always something more we can learn. And as you follow each clause, each word, concentrate your thought on it.

Try to enter, as fully as possible, into the wonderful depth of the spirituality of the prayers. They are the prayers of the saints which have come down to us through the ages. They are the expressions of the deepest feelings of the human soul reaching out unto God. Try to rise to their spiritual level. As each prayer is said, be so intent in following it, and feeling it, praying it, that it will become your own prayer.

And as we then endeavor to enter, by God's grace, into the spiritual presence in our worship we shall feel, more and more, our nearness to God and His nearness to us; our nearness to one another through our nearness to Him; our nearness to Heaven in our nearness to Him; our nearness, our oneness with God and the blessed Saints in Paradise. "Knit together in One Communion and Fellowship in the mystical Body of Jesus Christ our Lord."

Where Character is Formed

Moody says, "Character is what you are in the dark." The foundation of all good character is laid in prayerful meditation in the closet. The closet is the power house where the storage battery of character is charged. Habits of nature are formed in a persevering struggle through temptation. "Our greatest glory consists not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall." The hour of temptation is the critical hour in man's life, to test the metal he is made of. A man is either stronger or weaker after he has been tempted. If he has met and conquered the temptation he is a stronger man, and will more easily defeat the next temptation. If he has met and been defeated by his temptation, he is a weaker man and more susceptible.

Germantown Convocation

On the third Sunday morning in February an offering will be taken for the Germantown Convocation. The assessment on this parish is $325.00, which must be met annually. This includes our share of the work done in this city and diocese among the Colored people, Italians, Immigrants, Deaf Mutes, Jews and the Seamen's Mission, beside the missionary work in the Kensington District and parts of Bucks County, Pa. It is hoped that any person, who may not be present in Church, on Sunday morning, will remember this very important offering and send their contributions to the Warden, Mr. J. I. Morrison, 635 Westview Ave., Germantown.

To Cancel the Mortgage on the Parish House

The Finance Committee purpose to put into effect, a plan by which they hope eventually to provide for the payment of the entire MORTGAGE debt on the new Parish House. It is evident that some systematic plan of giving must be adopted which will not be burdensome to the giver and yet will accomplish the desired end.

Certain members have already pledged themselves and are now giving a definite sum each month beginning January, 1916, and the plan will be extended so as to reach every contributing member of Christ Church from the time the new envelopes are issued on Easter Day. In the new packages of envelopes, there will be two envelopes for the third Sunday in each month; the regular envelope for current expenses, and an additional one, distinctive in color and bearing a notation that the sum contributed in this envelope will be deposited in a separate bank account to the credit of the Mortgage fund. The Accounting Warden will not use the money so contributed for the current expenses of the Church, nor allow it to be diverted to any other purpose.

Envelopes will also be placed in the vestibule of the Church for the use of those who do not contribute through the Weekly Envelope System, or the Contributor may use an ordinary plain envelope with the notation "For the Mortgage Fund" written thereon.

Any money contributed in this manner will go directly to the Mortgage Fund and will thus differ from money raised by Entertainments, Fairs, Etc. where part of the receipts must, necessarily, go to the expense thereof.

This plan will commend itself to every member as a plain business proposition, and if it is generally carried out, its success is assured.

Credit is due to the members of the Altar Guild for the beautiful Christmas decorations in the Sanctuary. The Chancel and Church were festooned and trimmed by three members of the Brotherhood of S. Andrew, under the direction of Mr. Robert B. Cridland. Their work is highly appreciated.

Confirmation Classes

Instruction on Confirmation and the History of the Church will begin the first week in February and continue each week until the Bishop's Visitation on Maundy Thursday. Instruction for Adults will be held every Friday evening and for minors every Sunday afternoon. The first Instruction for Adults will be held on Friday evening, February 4th and for minors on Sunday afternoon, February 6th, at four o'clock. The classes are now being formed and persons who are contemplating Confirmation are requested to give their names to the Rector. He may be seen after any service or at his office hours at the Rectory or by appointment.

All persons—confirmed and unconfirmed are cordially welcome to attend the weekly Instruction. Remember the dates, beginning Friday evening, February 4th and Sunday afternoon, February 6th.

Church Periodical Club

The winter is slipping along and there are so many persons in the Parish that have not availed themselves of the privileges of the Church Periodical Club—and they are privileges. No other of the Church's Mission work brings donor and recipient into such close touch, and your interest is awakened in spite of yourself. It is doing something that gives you a practical result not only in a short time but a continuous result in passing on from time to time what has been of such absorbing interest to you; and there are others with the self same interest, but without your blessing of being able to pay for it.

The Traveling Library of which the Librarian wrote last month is still standing in the Parish House, replete with splendid books, and impatient to be on its beautiful mission; why does it not go? because the twenty dollars which it costs to complete it has not been forth coming. If you have not already given 50 cts. will you not do so at once that it may be on its way rejoicing?

A Letter from the Bishop

My Dear Brother:

There seems at this time a real and pressing need, felt and expressed in many quarters, of a clear and convincing "declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us."

The responsibility of meeting this need rests, of course, upon each one of us, and, in a particular degree, upon me as Bishop of the Diocese.

I have therefore planned to make the following series of addresses during the weeks immediately before Lent:

1. The Incarnation, Thursday, February 17, 4 P. M., St. Mary's Church, West Philadelphia, Locust St. above Thirty-ninth St.

2. The Church, Thursday, Feb 21, 4 P. M., Calvary Church, Germantown Manheim Street and Pulaski Avenue.

3. The Sacraments, Thursday, Mar. 2, 8.15 P. M., St. Simeon's Church, Philadelphia, Lehigh Ave. and Ninth Street.

4. The Ministry, Monday, March 6, 11.30 A. M., St. James' Church Philadelphia, Walnut and Twenty-second Streets.

The last address will be part of our usual Pre-Lenten Clerical Conference, and the course as a whole is meant especially for the help of the clergy in their ministry of teaching.

I hope you will find it possible to be present yourself, and will extend an earnest invitation to your people.

Although the addresses will be delivered in churches in different sections of the city, they will form a connected series.

Faithfully yours,

Philip M. Rhinelander,
Bishop of Pennsylvania.

The Mothers' Meeting

On Tuesday, Jan. 11th, the Mothers held their annual Christmas dinner. There were twenty-five sat down to the table, inclusive of the children. The room had been decorated with laurel for Christmas, the decorations on the table were red, so altogether there was a real "Christmas" feeling in the air. Through the kindness of our friends a bountiful dinner had been prepared, and after full justice had been done to the good things, we welcomed Mr. John Tower who entertained us most delightfully. The first thing on the program was the game of "Simon says Thumbs Up!" which produced much fun and laughter. Mr. Tower then favored us with some recitations and musical selections. Several Mothers recited or read selections, and all agreed that we had a most enjoyable afternoon. One of the pleasantest features of the occasion was the presentation by the Mothers of two beautiful chocolate sets to the two directresses. The gifts were most highly appreciated and will be used with affectionate thoughts of the givers. Our thanks are due to the ladies of the Parish who so kindly helped to serve the dinner, thereby contributing largely to the success of the afternoon.

We have been fortunate in receiving a number of orders for towels and aprons. To date we have sold 11 doz. and 7 towels, 1/2 doz. roller towels, 2 doz. aprons, and 4 bib aprons, with several orders ahead. We feel that we have done well, but we should like to do better, so if any member of the congregation are in need of dish towels aprons, dust cloths, iron holders, etc., we should be very glad to have the opportunity of supplying their needs.

For the first time in many years, we have been called upon to mourn the loss by death of one of our members.

On January 13, Mrs. Kate Brooks passed to her eternal rest. For forty-one years she had been a faithful member of the meeting and her calm, cheerful disposition had made her beloved by all. We shall miss her helpful presence but we will always feel that it has been a privilege to have had her among us for so long.

H. M. F. A.

Men's Bible Class

The Men's Bible Class has undertaken a campaign for new members and for a new spirit of wakefulness in every way. A discussion has been held upon the best way and means to increase the number of men attending and, while we still have room for more, we have more reason to expect that the room will soon be occupied. The Leader of the class has given up all other activities in or about the Sunday School to devote his time to the class. The studies will be separate to each Sunday and, at the same time, a continuation of the study of the previous Sunday. Starting from Christ's appearance at the Temple, we plan to follow the course of His work until after His resurrection, including in this a study of the condition—religious—political—geographic—climatic and civic—of His time, also a study of the men closely associated with Him in His work and their subsequent history.

The time has passed to urge men to attend the sessions of this class. Now we merely mention the fact that they take place every Sunday morning and any man who feels he would like to spend a pleasant and profitable forty-five minutes will be most welcome to come with us every Sunday at 10.00 A. M. sharp. It is up to you, Mr. Parishioner! As Julius Caesar might have said, "Verbum sat sapientis"—which freely translated, means that if you are wise we will see you next Sunday morning in the Parish House at 10 sharp.

Notice—Junior Auxiliary

Members of the Junior Auxiliary are asked to co-operate with the entire Sunday School in the "Cake and Candy Sales" to be given in the Parish House every Saturday afternoon at 2.30 until further notice.

Junior Auxiliary Lenten work will be resumed Friday, March 10th, 1916, at 3.30.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

This Chapter meets the third Monday evening of each month in the Parish House, at 8 o'clock. Any men who are interested in the spread of Christ's Kingdom among men are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

An Ushers Committee under the direction of Mr. Thos. G. Reed, has been appointed to arrange for a systematic supervision of the ushering at the evening services; see that strangers are welcomed and interested in our Parish and in such ways as are possible build up the attendance at these services.

The Men's Bible Class which meets every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, will also receive the support of the Chapter. The attendance thus far has not been good and many men of the Parish are neglecting an opportunity which would avail them much. It is hoped that this object may be so brought before the men of this neighborhood that a strong class will result.

At the next meeting of the Chapter, February 21st, it is expected that the President of the Philadelphia Local Assembly, Dr. John Wilkinson, Jr., will be with us. He is a strong speaker—a man who says things—and an invitation is extended to the men of the Parish to be present on that evening.

C. H. J.

The Junior Brotherhood has planned a program for its future meetings that will increase the religious interest of its members. It has been felt that the boys have not realized the true purpose of the Brotherhood nor has it had the stimulating effect upon their religious life and ideas that such a fellowship should have. It is purposed in the future to have a member of the chapter read a selection from the Bible which he shall have selected beforehand as of especial interest to him and after a short commentary by the leader, all present will be encouraged to take part either by questions or expressions of opinion. Following this will be the study and application to every day wholesome life some teaching of Christ.

The attention of the older boys of the Parish is called to this new plan. Many have problems and perplexities concerning the Bible and the simple explanations that might here be offered will prove helpful to them. A question box will be maintained as a further effort to carry out the idea of making the Bible a living Book vital and real to every boy. The next meeting of the Junior Chapter will be held Wednesday night, February 9th, at 8.00 P. M.

All boys are invited to join.

Vestment Guild

The Vestment Guild held a meeting in the Parish House on Monday, January the 10th. This was not the regular meeting day but owing to the annual dinner for the Mothers having been set for the second Tuesday and many of the Guild assisting the day was changed this month.

It was found that the choir was in need of collars and cottas, and upon vote it was decided to purchase the material and the Guild would make them.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Sheldon Potter was deputized to make the purchase.

For the information of some new members of the Guild the following is published:

Regular meeting, the second Tuesday in each month.

The members of the Guild serve in the choir room on the following Sundays:

1st Sunday—Mrs. Thacher (who has entire charge of the laundering of the choir vestments.)

2nd Sunday—Miss Chase (who has charge of the vestments.) Mrs. Topliff Johnson.

4th Sunday—Mrs. Lawrence Simcox Mrs. James A. Aull, Jr.

5th Sunday—Mrs. Gerley, Mrs. Morgridge who has charge of the clerical vestments.

A Cake and Candy Sale will be given every Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock for the purpose of raising money to erect a sliding partition in the Sunday School room. These Sales are not gotten up by one or two persons—for we want the help of all who have any interest (not only in Christ Church Sunday School and Church) but we ask the entire neighborhood to come and help us. We will try to make these little affairs sociable. The "over Sunday" cake may be purchased with assurance that it will be good, as we have promises from some very capable cake and candy makers. We will be glad to hear from anyone who cares to make us a cake (or cakes) candy, etc., also be delighted to take orders for same—dates of Sales will be January 22, January 29, February 5, 12, 19, 26, March 4.

The proceeds of these Sales will go toward the worthy and much needed partition which will divide the Main School from the Intermediate department of our Sunday School. All members of both departments know how these interfere with each other; so let us all work hard to make these little affairs a success, above all let us all work together.

Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

Girls' Basket Ball Team

What is the matter with "The Girls' Basket Ball Team? Nothing. Why do not the young and old of Christ Church come to see the most interesting game played in the Parish House," every Thursday night. The admission is only 5c. We have won every game we have played, six in all and we defeated "The St. Simeons Team," by a score of 14 to 1. We want everybody to come.

Church Kalendars for 1916 for Sale

Church Kalendars on which are designated the Seasons and Holy Days of the Church Year with their appropriate colors, lessons, psalms, etc., may be purchased from the Verger at thirty cents a piece. Every home in the Parish should be provided with these Kalendars.

Sunday School

336 present, Sunday, Jan. 9. This is the high water mark for attendance at Christ Church for many a year. The oldest inhabitant has been interviewed and says that anything better than that was before his time—And this is not all of the story. Not only the largest attendance, but a most efficient faithful and earnest body of teachers.

Of course we have some troubles which we shall overcome. The greatest difficulty is that the Intermediate Department under the able management of Mrs. Belfield, the Superintendent, has increased in numbers so fast that it has outgrown its quarters. A partition must be provided at an early date and the Intermediate Department separated from the main school. This means an expenditure of a considerable sum of money but we are assured that there will be no difficulty on this score. Everybody wishes to help along a success.

The teachers at the last meeting decided that 1916 shall be the best year in the history of Christ Church Sunday School.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association has nothing to report at this time since, while the Chimes is being made ready for publication, the Association is getting ready for its long-promised and justly-famous Book Party. The Treasurer of the Association wishes to remind the Associate members that their yearly membership expires upon February 1st, and that unless they will renew their membership for another year, the treasury of the Association is likely also to expire on February 1st. Associate memberships costs $2.00 and are good for one year and also good for a multitude of small troubles which bother the treasurer of this organization. More words upon this subject and upon other more interesting parts of the life of this organization will appear in next month's issue of the Chimes.

Boys Brigade

The Brigade of Christ Church has in the past month been very active in military, athletic and entertainment lines.

On Thursday night, December 23, 1915, the Brigade had a supper, which turned out to be a great success. The speakers of the evening were General Gerhard, Commander of the Pennsylvania Division of the United Boys Brigade of America, Mr. Howard Kirk, a prominent young lawyer, Major Clarke and Mr. Gurley, who needs no introduction, Mr. Baines, a member of the Vestry of Christ Church and Lieutenant Else, former commander of the Company at this church, now in command of Co. "B" Signal Battalion of Second Presbyterian Church, Germantown and Mr. Sutcliffe. The toastmaster on this occasion was our esteemed rector, Rev. Charles Henry Arndt.

The increasing number of the Company as well as the advancement of Sergeant Simpson to First Sergeant, Corporal Whitby to Second Sergeant, has made the necessity of two Corporals. Privates Wells and Belfield were successful enough to pass the examination for this rank.

A medal was offered to the winner of the competitive drill held on the first Friday of each month, and the one winning it the greatest number of times between January and June, shall keep it. The drill on January 7, 1916 was won by Private Manser.

On Tuesday, February 22, 1916, Washington's Birthday, a sham battle will take place in the vicinity of Ardsley, in which this company will participate, and on the following Saturday night, a competitive drill will be held at the church of the Advocate, Queen and Wayne Sts., between the several Companies of Germantown, for the Frischer Cup and Individual Cup. An invitation is extended to everyone to attend this drill especially the parents of the members of the Company.

Since the Brigades of Germantown have formed a Battalion the Companies have been reassigned, and Christ Church Company will be known hereafter as Company "C" Signal Battalion United Boys Brigade of America.

A team from St. John's Church, Philadelphia played and defeated the Brigade basket ball team on Wednesday, January 19, by the score of 38 to 16. On Wednesday night, February 2, a game between Co. "B" of Second Presbyterian Church and our Brigade will be played on our floor.

Boys who wish to join the Brigade are invited to apply Friday night at the Parish House.

Boy Scouts

The new Scout organization has planned a series of trips for Saturdays commencing February 12th. The trips will be taken to places of interest about the city where, under competent guiding, everything about the place will be seen. The schedule, as at present mapped out, will be as follows:

Feb. 12—The Navy Yard.
Feb. 19th—Cramp's Ship Yard.
Feb. 26—Victor Talking Machine Co.
March 4—Ford Auto Co.
March 11—National Biscuit Co.

March 18—Eastern Penitentiary.
March 25—Moyamensing Prison
April 1—Baldwin Locomotive Works.
April 8—Wanamaker and Curtis Pub. Co.
April 15—Eddystone Works.
April 22—Phila. General Hospital.
April 29—Campbell Soup Co.

The general idea of the trips will be to give the boys an idea of what is going on in their city—to acquaint them with the extent of manufacturing enterprises here—in short to develop a broad education along those lines which will make them active and helpful citizens. Further information will be given at the next meeting of the Scouts February 9th, in the Parish House.

Girls Friendly

The Girls Friendly has had a busy winter so far. We sent six beautiful scrim stockings to the little children at Blockley. Of course the stockings were filled to overflowing. Some of the gifts had to be tied on the outside.

We also sent a box of toys, games and books to Mr. Thurber for his boys school at Covington, Va.

Such a nice letter we received from Mr. Thurber thanking us. In it he said that our box would help him so much to make a real Christmas for some of the boys who had never known before what Christmas was.

For the next four or five weeks we shall have a gymnasium class. We have a teacher and we hope to have a successful class. We shall not play basket ball, but use some simple gymnasium apparatus.

We gave two very successful dinners to our members, one in October and one in November. The committees having charge of these dinners deserve much credit.

The Girls Friendly meets every Tuesday night in the Parish House at 8.00 P. M. We would very much like to have all the girls in the church to join.

Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions

The Women's Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 6th in the Parish House at 10.30.

The increased attendance was most encouraging and those who were there were well repaid for coming, by being permitted to hear the splendid talk on the Tuberculosis work in the South. Mr. Robinson, a colored man from North Carolina, made a most wonderful appeal for this work in the State of North Carolina, where the ravages of this dread disease were making most frightful inroads into the ranks of the colored people, and by virtue of their contact with the white people, living in service in their homes. The germs were being spread alarmingly, yet with all this the Government of North Carolina absolutely refused to appropriate one dollar toward the wiping out of this disease; so that the only work of the kind that was active in the State of North Carolina was being done by the colored people themselves.

Next month the speaker will be on some diocesan mission and it is hoped there will be a large number present at the meeting on February 3rd.

Reserve the date Thursday morning, February 3rd at ten o'clock.

All women in the Parish are invited.

Y. W. C. A.—Notice

Fifty years ago, on March 3rd, 1866, the first Young Women's Christian Association in the United States was organized in Boston. The coming month of February will be observed as a nation-wide members' jubilee by all the 979 Association, comprising a membership of over 340,000 in the country to-day. The Germantown Association will hold on March 5th its special birthday service of thanksgiving and re-consecration. There will also be a vesper service every Sunday afternoon in February, at 4.30, to which all are welcome.

Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost. The Divine Spirit dwells within you to give you the power you need, the thoughts that can conquer temptation, the life that in heart and mind ascends with the ascended Lord, and with Him continually dwells in a blessed calm, quiet, communion.

Provide your Own Prayer Books and Hymnals

Prayer Books and Hymnals are provided for strangers who attend the services of Christ Church and may be found at both entrances. Regular attendants at the service should provide themselves with their own Prayer Books. Every member of the church should possess a private set of Prayer Book and Hymnal, which should be brought to the Church and taken home after each service. Cloth covered books may be purchased at any book store for twenty-five cents and these may be left in the members pews.

Some additional names have been added to the list of subscribers through the Envelope System during the past month. This is encouraging and is an indication of the growing interest among the attendants at the services and a recognition of the principal that every one should be a regular, systematic, conscientious supporter of the work of the parish. The Envelope System of giving should be extended until it includes every member, child and adult, of every family in the Parish. St. Paul lays down the rule: "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him." I Cor. 16:2. Pledge cards may be found in the vestibule.

Thank Offerings

Some time ago a woman brought $7.50 for the work of missions, saying, "In former years I have been obliged to pay a doctor's bill of this amount. This year there has been no sickness in my family, which enables me to give so much to the Lord." At another time she brought a donation of $3.00, saying, "I bring you this donation for missions as a thankoffering for recent mercies I have received."

Be a Good Boy; "Good Bye"

How oft in my dreams I go back to the day

When I stood at the old wooden gate,

And started to school in full battle array,

Well armed with a primer and slate.
And as the latch fell I thought myself free,

And gloried, I fear, on the sly,
'Till I heard a kind voice that whispered to me;

"Be a good boy; good-bye."

"Be a good boy; good-bye." It seems They have followed me all these years;

They have given a form to my youthful dreams,

And scattered my foolish fears.
They have stayed my feet on many a brink,

Unseen by a blinded eye;
For just in time I would pause and think:

"Be a good boy; good-bye."

O brother of mine, in the battle of life,
Just starting, or nearing its close,
This motto aloft in the midst of the strife

Will conquer wherever it goes.
Mistakes you will make, for each of us
errs,

But brother, just honestly try
To accomplish your best in whatever occurs,

"Be a good boy; good-bye."

How can they be reached—these cold indifferent men and women, both within and without the Church? Only by the power of the Holy Spirit of God! And here is the favor I would ask. Let every faithful member of this Parish pray daily, during this Lent, that the Holy Spirit may move the hearts of all persons in this Parish and both within and without the Church, that there may be a quickening of conscience and a deepening of religious life and devotion to Christ and His Church. The following prayer will help us. Let us all pray it. Pray it daily; pray it fervently; and as we pray it let us keep in mind some particular person or persons for whom our prayers are especially desired, and mention the name of each person where indicated in this prayer. Let us pray:

O Almighty and merciful God, who doth govern all things in heaven and earth, mercifully hear the supplications of thy servants and grant unto our Parish all things that are needful for its spiritual welfare. Strengthen and confirm the faithful (especially) visit and relieve the sick, (especially) turn and soften the wicked (especially) arouse the careless and indifferent (especially) recover the fallen (especially) restore the penitent (especially) remove all hindrances to the advancement to Thy truth; and bring all to be one heart and mind within the fold of Thy Holy Church, to the honor and glory of Thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our prayers must not be confined to ourselves alone, or to our friends, or to those who are near; but our prayers and our sympathy and our love must go out to all men everywhere, that the light of Christ's Gospel may be shed abroad and that all the nations may be brought into His fold. Therefore let us pray:

Lord of all power and might, who rulest in heaven and in earth, and canst turn the hearts of men after the counsel of Thine own will; we humbly pray Thee to awaken in all the members of our Parish, such a deep sense of their duty to maintain and set forward the work of missions, that by their faith and zeal Thy Holy Name may be glorified, and the bounds of Thy Kingdom enlarged, through Jesus Christ our Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

A Prayer For Missionaries

Almighty and most merciful God, we humbly beseech Thee, for the merits of Thy dear Son, to pour out Thy Holy Spirit upon all our missionaries at home and abroad, and to crown their labors with success in the gathering of souls into Thy Kingdom, to the honor and praise of Thy glorious Name, who art Father, Son and Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

A Mid-Day Prayer

Blessed Saviour, who at this hour didst hang upon the Cross, stretching forth Thy loving arms, grant that all mankind may look unto Thee and be saved, through Thy mercies and merits who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost ever one God, world without end. Amen.

Devotional Reading During Lent

In addition to more frequent reading of the Bible, with deeper reflection and more earnest prayer, the Rector affectionately urges every member of this Parish to select a course of devotional reading, which shall be a part of the every day life during this Season of Lent. Lent calls us to turn our minds to the deeper and to the more serious side of life; to set our hearts on things above not on things on the earth. At least one-half hour each day should be spent in a slow, reflective, serious reading of the Bible—preferably in the early morning or before retiring at night. Begin by reading the shorter Epistles, such as the Epistle to the Ephesians, the Philippians, the Colossians, etc. After these read the longer Epistles. The entire Season of Lent may profitably be spent on the Epistles. Do not read hurriedly, but carefully and thoughtfully, endeavoring to get at the spiritual meaning of each sentence. Mark in your Bibles the passages which specially appeal to you. "Read, mark, learn and inwardly digest them."

And then in addition to Bible Reading a course of "devotional reading" should be pursued during Lent. Instead of spending so much time over the secular papers, with their various earlier and later "editions," a part at least, of this valuable time—say, in the evening with the family at home—might very profitably be devoted to religious and devotional reading.

The list of books below are suitable for daily readings. They may be purchased at the Department Book Stores or at the Church Book Store of George W. Jacobs and Co., 1628 Chestnut St.

The Rector will be pleased to furnish them at cost price to persons who may wish them.

It will also afford the Rector pleasure to loan to parishioners any book from his private library.

Mission literature and leaflets on the subject of Confirmation and Church Teachings will be found in the vestibules of the Church. These are for gratuitous distribution and all are invited to take copies.

The following Devotional reading is recommended:

"The Conquest of Trouble and the Peace of God." By Bishop Brent, price fifty cents.

Rules for Lent

Prayer:—

Intense, earnest—both public and private—expressive of the deepest desire of your heart for a better life.

Meditation:—

In the quiet of your own room and in the house of God, that you may think of your life and its duties; that you may understand the better the lessons the Cross of Christ teaches of sin and holiness, of guilt and forgiveness.

Self-Examination:—

To find out your besetting sin, your sinful habits, your failings, temptations, dangers; to ascertain your actual spiritual condition, that you may strengthen the good and conquer the evil.

Repentance:—

Whereby you forsake sin, that dishonors and offends God, violates His laws and pollutes your soul—a genuine hatred of that which makes your Saviour mourn and drives Him from your breast.

Church Attendance:—

A punctual, regular and systematic attendance upon the special services appointed. Attend as many as possible. Give special importance to every opportunity offered to partake of the Holy Communion.

Good Works:—

That by abundant labors you may serve humanity for the Master's sake, and use your influence to bring others into the fold of Christ.

Alms Giving:—

To relieve distress; to advance the interest of the Church; to create an Easter Offering worthy of your devotion.

Persons who desire to connect themselves with the Parish are requested to hand their names and addresses to the Rector. He will be pleased to call on them and to welcome them to the Parish. Parishioners should notify the Rector when they change their address.

Note the following Canon of the Church: "A Communicant moving from one Parish to another shall procure from the Rector (if any) of the Parish of his late residence, or if there be no Rector, from one of the Wardens, a certificate stating that he or she is a Communicant in good standing." Title II: Canon 12.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the

Consult the List of Services

On another page will be found in full the list of Special services for the Forty Days of Lent. Consult this list carefully. Select certain services from this list and make a firm resolution that, God willing, you will be regular and faithful in your attendance. Be in earnest! Let nothing, but God's will, swerve you from your determination!

Lent is an Invitation:

To give you an insight into the secret of nobler living. Accept the invitation. Make no vain excuses.

Lent is an Opportunity:

Grasp it. Opportunity once neglected never returns.

Lent is a Privilege:

Full of rich experiences, inspiring thoughts, noblest occupations, deep devotion. Prize your privileges and enjoy them.

Lent is a Necessity:

To every honest person, who would take account of his life and learn his actual spiritual condition and see himself as God sees him.

That This May be Your Last Lent on Earth

If that be so, how will you observe it?

The Vestry Letter

The Vestry will soon issue a letter to the members of the Congregation, setting forth the financial condition and the needs of the Parish. It is earnestly desired that not only the customary deficit in the current expenses should be fully met at this coming Easter but that an extraordinary effort be made to greatly reduce the debt on the Parish House. This debt can be very soon wiped entirely out, if our people, one and all, will determine, even at the greatest personal sacrifice, to do it. Surely the same spirit of self-sacrifice which the people of Christ Church have always shown in the past, will not be lacking during this coming Lent and Easter Day! Let every one make a heroic effort to cancel the Parish House debt of $5000.00 on Easter Day.

You may give without loving, but you cannot love without giving.

During the past month there has been held every Saturday afternoon a Cake and Candy Sale by some members of the Sunday School for the purpose of raising funds to erect a sliding partition between the Intermediate Department and the Main School. The Intermediate Department has increased in numbers to such an extent that they seriously interfere with the exercises of the Main School. It is therefore urgent that the partition be provided at once.

The partition will cost about three hundred dollars and the members of the Sunday School cordially welcome from any of their friends financial assistance for this much needed improvement. Through the efforts of some faithful members of the School nearly $100.00 have been realized by Cake and Candy Sales. Who will help make up the differences! Word may be sent to the Rector or to the Superintendent of the School, Mr. George T. Morgan, 506 Manheim St., Germantown.

is what he is for. The Prayer Book in the Communion Office, so states it: "If any of you cannot quiet his own conscience, but requireth further comfort or counsel, let him come to me, or to some other Minister of God's Word, and open his grief; that he may receive such godly counsel and advice, as may tend to the quieting of his conscience, and the removing of all scruple and doubtfulness."

The Rector is most anxious to help any one who may be in doubt, or trouble and will gladly do all within his power for anyone who comes to him.

Bible Study Class

Through the kindness of Mrs. Louise S. Houghton a Bible Study Class has been formed which will meet on Friday mornings at eleven o'clock. The formation of this class is a great privilege and the women of the parish are invited to avail themselves of it. Mrs. Haughton is unusually well fitted for the teaching of such a class, and we feel very grateful that she has so kindly consented to give us the advantage of her fund of biblical knowledge.

Have You Been Baptized? If Not Why Not?

Have You Been Confirmed? If Not, Why Not?

The Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese will visit this Parish (D. V.) on Maundy Thursday evening, April 20th, to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. The Rector affectionately urges all persons who have not been confirmed to give their names to him at once. He will be happy to talk to any one on the subject after any service or by special appointment. Let no one delay. If you have doubts, come frankly to your Rector and talk them over with him. If you are troubled in mind or conscience, come to him and tell him your troubles. He will help you. That A handsome Memorial Altar Book for use on the side altar has been given by a parishioner in memory of Mrs. Victoria Violet Tyler.

Altar Guild

The Altar Guild held its monthly meeting on Monday afternoon, February 14th with eleven members present. Various matters of business were discussed and the condition of the Altar linens and vestments was attended to. The Guild congratulates the members of the Embroidery Class on the completion of a green stole, exquisitely embroidered. It is a present to the Church through Miss Bessie Chase, teacher of the Class.

Arrangements were made for the Annual Supper of the Guild, which will be held in the Parish House, Tuesday evening, March 7th. This is always a most delightful occasion for all the members.

During Lent the members of the Guild will all be busy arranging for the extra week-day services.

The Altar Committees for March are as follows:

March 3rd to 10th—Mrs. Cotton, Misses Quay, N. Manser.

March 10th to 17th—Misses Chase, Alexander, Woodroffe.

March 17th to 24th—Misses Cooley, Gerhardt, E. Manser.

March 24th to 31st—Misses Dean, Faulkner, Smith, H. Faulkner.

Mother's Meeting

The Mother's Meetings have continued during the past month with rather a decrease in attendance owing to the bad weather. However, we have had very pleasant times together and are enjoying the reading aloud of "Anne of Green Gables." On this first Tuesday of the month we had the pleasure of having with us Miss Sara Longstreet, who gave us a very interesting account of life in Japan. She brought with her Japanese dresses, toys, and curios, and gave us a delightful time.

Our work, as usual consists of making aprons, etc., for sale, but beside this we are making sets of baby clothes to be given to the House of St. Michael and All Angels. May we again remind the housekeepers of the congregation that we should be glad to supply their needs in regard to gingham aprons, towels, dusters, etc. We have also on hand some fine rag rugs which can be bought at the usual rates.

The Woman's Auxiliary

At the February meeting we had a talk about Diocesan Missions from

Mrs. Matthew Randall of Wayne, who told us in a very practical and interesting way of the Missionary and Social work being done in our own Diocese. Surely we should know more of the fine things our Church is doing to cheer and uplift mankind here at our own door. How few of us do know of this work or ever help in any way. "As ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

The Lenten sewing this year will be supplies for a Tuberculosis Hospital in North Carolina, built and equipped by Negroes for these unfortunate of their own race who are not admitted to any of the hospitals for whites.

It has been suggested that instead of the usual Mission Study Class this Lent we have a Bible Class led by Mrs. Houghton. We are fortunate indeed in having for a leader a woman of such wide experience, and so well fitted to teach a class in the Study of the Bible.

The meeting on the first Thursday in March will be in charge of the Indian Hope Committee and we can look forward to a very interesting meeting.

Bishop Rhinelander at Christ Church

The people of Christ Church will have again this year the privilege of attending a Preparatory Service for the Easter Communion conducted by the Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese, on Maundy Thursday evening. The Bishop will administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation at 7.45 P. M., and preach. Immediately after this service will be held the Preparatory Service, which all persons are invited to attend.

All who had the opportunity of being present at this service as conducted by Bishop Rhinelander in Christ Church for the past two years know how very helpful and inspiring these meditations have been. It will be a great privilege to have the Bishop here again this year—a privilege which every communicant will want to avail himself.

Confirmation Instruction

Instruction on Confirmation and the Teachings of the Church are being delivered every Friday evening at eight o'clock for adults and every Sunday afternoon at four o'clock for minors in the Parish House.

All persons, confirmed and not confirmed are cordially invited to these Instructions.

The Rector will be pleased to meet after any service or by special appointment any one who wishes to confer with him on the subject of Confirmation. He requests that all who are contemplating confirmation should give their names to him at once.

To the Men of the Parish

This Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will inaugurate a class for the study of the "History of the Early Church" from the time of the Apostles to the Reformation. This is a subject with which very few are conversant and should prove of great interest to the men and older boys. The class will be a continuation of the regular Chapter meeting and will begin promptly at 8.30 on Monday evening, March 20th. At present it will meet only on the third Monday evening of each month but if the attendance warrants other arrangements may be made later. Is it worth anything to you?

Another feature for this meeting will be the presence of the President of the Philadelphia Local Assembly, Dr. John Wilkinson, Jr., who has promised the Director to come from South Philadelphia to speak to the men of this Parish along lines which will be of value to men who have the welfare of the Parish at heart and desire to do their share toward enlarging the work in this neighborhood. Dr. Wilkinson is a strong speaker and is worthy of a large attendance and a hearty welcome.

With these two drawing cards the evening of March 20th, should find a goodly number of the men of the Parish present. Will you do your share toward fulfilling our expectations?

The Men's Club

We note in the columns of the current issue of Southern Churchman, a paper published weekly in Richmond, Va., a statement to the effect that the Men's Club of Christ Church, Germantown, had a banquet, February 15th, last, at which the guest of honor was the Bishop. It seems we are getting famous. This, however, is a time when our fame is well deserved for the banquet spoken of was one of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of the club. Being essentially modest, the club management was not going to say anything about it but as long as they take notice of it in the village of Richmond some few miles away—a word or so about it from us will not seem out of place.

About eighty men were present—amongst whom there were many whose presence we should like to enjoy more often than we have been able to do in the recent past. Also there were quite a few of the faithful who were prevented from coming by reason of another club engagement made previous to the announcement of this happy event.

The toastmaster of the occasion was our genial Sunday School Superintendent and he demonstrated how witty and careful a man may become when he is not being besought for new scholars, new teachers, new books, new badges, etc. His famous speeches—we use the plural because it came in sections—was one of the features of the entertainment. One sentence struck us with peculiar force "We have with us tonight"—As these were the words which Cyrus, the Persian King, used to introduce Xenophon to his courtiers at a banquet held soon after the flood, we wish to pay our respects to antiquity and state our conviction that our friend, the toastmaster, must be a student of ancient history of no mean ability.

The speech by the Bishop on "Loyalty to Truth as the Real Test of Love" will not be forgotten by any man there. It was a forceful appeal to all the better instincts of a man's nature and when the toastmaster, after the Bishop had finished, called upon every man present to openly pledge himself to the fulfillment of these ideals in his life—to a man the company rose and pledged themselves "By God's help we will." It was a scene not often witnessed in these days when in the chaotic rush and turmoil of life the deeper, purer things are often forgotten or given at best, scant attention.

Other speakers at the banquet were the Rector, Dr. Caley and Col. Sheldon Potter. Their talks were in the nature of reminiscences. Somewhere in these three addresses a new story was told but we lost track of it and are therefore sorry not to be able to give credit where credit is due.

The next meeting of the Club will be on Friday night, March 10th, when there will be a special feature in the form of an address by Mr. Matthew Tatsumi. He will speak on "The Japan of Today." Mr. Tatsumi is at present a student for the ministry of this church, having come here last fall from Japan to study at the Philadelphia Divinity School.

We hope all those who saw at the banquet what kind of times we have at these club meetings will be here at the next meeting. Remember the date Friday, March 10th, at 8.00 P. M.

Church Periodical Club

The Church Periodical Club has been reorganized and committees have been appointed to carry on the various branches of its work—such as distribution of books and the placing of magazines in bulk in the best places, to say nothing of the great work that is being done by the Business Manager in placing the magazines that go out regularly either weekly or monthly.

As an instance of what the club can do and is asked to do, Bishop Tucker of Japan wrote to the Diocesan Correspondent in Pennsylvania asking for a list of religious books that he needed very much in his work. This list was read to the Foreign Committee last Monday morning and immediately the money was placed in the hands of the Business Manager, and before this goes to press the much needed books will be on their way to good Bishop Tucker. Then there is the Travelling Library. It has taken a long time to collect the money—the books came very quickly—but with very little more this little case of books will be bringing great pleasure to some isolated men, women and children, and the blessing will be carried in memory of Miss Lucy W. Fell, a devoted lover of missions—one of our departed parishioners who fully realized the price of the command. "Go preach my gospel to all people."

If it were possible to print all the grateful letters from donors there is not one person that would not clamor to send at least one periodical of some kind, and all kinds are asked for—from Blackwoods to the Atlantic, from Woman's Home Companion to the most valued Technical pamphlet printed,—not forgetting all the religious publications and the periodicals for the children—last but by no means least.

The Missionary Spirit

Of one thing I feel sure, nothing could be better for rousing the spiritual life of a congregation, and leading it on to a higher life, than the cultivation of the spirit of missions. The progress of the Kingdom of God in the World is a study well calculated to enlarge the mind and soul, and rescue torpid congregations from their self-satisfied ease. What a power for good would be our home if Christians really alive to their privileges and duty in helping forward the work of God in all lands. —A. M. Mackey, of Uganda.

The Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary will resume their weekly meetings in the Parish House on Friday, March 10th, and will meet every Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Every girl in the Parish is cordially invited to these meetings and it is hoped that this invitation will be accepted by more girls.

Work for some special missionary field will be decided upon at this first meeting and it is proposed to do a great deal during the coming Lent.

Sunday School

The Primary Department had a party on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 26. About seventy accepted the invitation and spent a most enjoyable time. Seventy is a little above the average attendance on Sunday morning but not much, for the Primary Class is flourishing under the able management of Miss Gertrude Feist and the staff of faithful teachers. Perhaps the class will have to be divided and a Beginners' Class instituted.

The Junior and Senior Departments together with the Bible Classes will have a social on Friday evening, Mar. 3. The parents of the scholars have been invited and a good get-together time is expected.

The regular monthly Teacher's meeting will be held on Monday, March 6 and will be preceded by a supper at 6.30.

It is said that a Bishop and his wife will grace this meeting. At this very informal and social meeting the trials and troubles of the teachers can be talked over and the problems of the school discussed. With such a faithful and devoted body of teachers the Lenten Season is anticipated as certain to be productive of much good to all concerned.

A Bible Study Class will be established after Ash Wednesday, Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The teacher is well equipped for the work and the women of the church who can get away at that hour should certainly attend.

G. T. M.

Do You Miss Them?

There are four societies in the Parish not reporting in this issue of the Chimes. They are as follows:

The Junior Brotherhood
The Girls' Friendly
The Boy's Brigade
The Boy Scouts.

We can assure the parishioners that these four are in a lively state of activity but the last day for receipt of copy for the Chimes stole upon them unawares, and so in next month's issue they will be expected to fill up double space.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association of the Parish reports a summer of very prosperous activity. Last spring it was necessary to have a considerable amount of improvement done to the grounds, adjoining the Parish House and this improvement entailed a rather large outlay of funds for an organization of this kind but, feeling that the end would justify the means, the grounds were put into good shape, and, after careful attention, a very good tennis court resulted. Next came the construction of a volley ball court and, as the attendance increased and additional ground was required, another tennis court was constructed on the ground along Washington Lane. The patronage which this has received, especially from the Juniors, has warranted the expense of making it. The Association now has in operation a doubles court and a singles court for tennis and a well constructed court for volley-ball. For these a caretaker was employed all summer long. The grounds presented a very fair appearance. Next summer the upper court will be in as good condition as the lower one (we hope).

But all these things have cost money and perhaps some will wonder from whence it has come and whether enough has come. The Association treasurer reports that there has been spent over seventy-six dollars on the improvement and care of the grounds since June 1st and is pleased to report that every cent of this has been raised by the members of the Association. Tennis fees, guest fees, two cake-and-candy sales and earnest and continued co-operation have succeeded in giving the Treasurer at this date a balance of $1.75 over these expenses with all expenses paid. It has been the policy of the management to give the members full value for their fees—to contract only for such improvements as would be entirely paid for and not to burden the treasurer's books with an unutilized balance. Reports have been rendered as of June 15th, Aug. 1st, Aug. 21st, and Sept. 27th.

Owing to the lack of space none is published here. The Treasurer will be glad to show them to anyone interested.

The Association wishes to urge the young people of the Parish who have not already done so to join and thus help and share in the "doings" for the coming spring and summer. Membership cost 50c. and is good for six months. If anyone feels they would like to give a bit more than this—Sustaining memberships—good for a year and including all fees—cost $2.00.

The Athletic Association is sending out to members of the Parish invitations to subscribe to a sustaining membership in the organization for one year from date of subscription. Last year we had a regular playground in operation, on the grounds next to the Parish House and this year we plan to make it even better, having games which young and old can enjoy. We trust these memberships will be liberally subscribed to at $2.00 each for they will entitle the subscriber, without further expenses to the use of the tennis and volley ball courts and participation in the other games we plan to have here all summer long.

The President of the Association, Mr. Chas. Cotton or its Treasurer will be very glad to explain in detail the plans and purpose of the summer work of the Association at considerably greater length than space in these columns will permit us to do here. We trust you will help us by subscribing to one of these memberships.

Mr. Waldron, a city missionary in Boston, met a prominent business man recently, who said: "Looking over my cash account I saw this entry: Pug terrier, $10; and on the next line, City Missionary Society, $5.00. I have not felt quite easy about the matter ever since, and you may count on me for an additional $5.00." There are many others who would no doubt be made uncomfortable also if they were carefully to scan their lists of expenditures for luxuries and benevolence.

Holy Week

The shadows deepen! Our Saviour is on His way to Calvary! The Cross appears!

During this Holy Week we turn our thoughts away from the world, its vanities, its false ambitions, its low ideals, and contemplate in awe and love the closing scenes in our Lord's earthly life, from His triumphal entrance on Palm Sunday into the city that He loves, until, wearied and exhausted, He slowly wends His way along the Via Sacra, passes through the gates of the city, which has rejected Him, up to the Mount of Calvary.

I am sure, my dear friends, that every Christian heart in this Parish will yearn to be close to Jesus during these holy days of holy week.

That we may follow Him and learn of Him and commune with Him will be the chief end of each day between now and Easter Day.

The services have been so arranged that this last week in Lent may be, indeed, to all a Holy Week. I pray that all our people may share in this blessed privilege.

"Sweet the moments, rich in blessing,
Which before the cross I spend;
Life and health and peace possessing
Through the sinner's dying friend.

Here I kneel in wonder, viewing
Mercy poured in streams of blood;
Precious drops, for pardon suing,
Make and plead my peace with God."

Bishop Rhinelander to Conduct a Communicants' Service on Maundy Thursday Evening

I want to call the attention of all Communicants of the Church to the Preparatory Service for Easter Communion, which will be conducted by Bishop Rhinelander in Christ Church on Maundy Thursday evening.

The Confirmation Service will begin promptly at 7.45 with a sermon by the Bishop.

Immediately following Confirmation will be held the Communicants' Service. All who had the privilege of attending this service, as conducted by Bishop Rhinelander in Christ Church for the past two years, know how very helpful and inspiring these meditations have been. The Bishop would like to have all communicants present.

I, therefore, affectionately ask that every Communicant of Christ Church attend this Service on Maundy Thursday evening.

While this service is especially intended for Communicants, all persons, whether they are communicants of the Episcopal Church or not, are cordially invited.

Oh, press this thought to your innermost soul—that those whom you have "loved long since, and lost a while" love you still, care for you still, with a warmth of affection which kindles into an intenser brilliance as they come nearer to the heart of the Eternal Father, the Source and Sun of Love. And in this love they wait for us.—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

An Interesting Lecture

A very interesting and instructive lecture on France and the work that the McAll mission is doing in that country was delivered to a large audience in our Parish House on Tuesday evening, April 4th by Mrs. Louise Leymoun Houghton. Mrs. Houghton lived in France during the eventful days of the Franco-Prussian War and her description of conditions at that time and of her personal experiences were most graphic and interesting. The lecture was highly appreciated by all who heard it. The proceeds went to work of the McAll Mission.

Easter Communion

It seems almost impertinent for the Rector to suggest the duty of every Communicant to prepare for and to receive the Holy Communion on Easter Day. To every devout Communicant this is a most blessed privilege. The Prayer Book provides a special collect, Gospel and Epistle for both the early and later Celebration of the Holy Communion on this, the greatest Day of the Christian Year. It has been the custom of the Catholic or Universal Church from the earliest ages. It is the custom of ninety per cent. of the Christian people today, extending over the whole earth.

"Christ is Risen from the Dead and become the first fruits of them that slept!" Such is the triumphant anthem which encircles the earth, as the Easter sun wakes up the world.

Ten thousand temples are crowded; ten thousand altars spread; ten thousand times ten thousand voices sing: "Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us, therefore let us keep the feast."

In stately cathedral and humble parish church, on hospital bed and on bloody battle field, heavy hearts will turn to God on this Easter Day and hungry souls will be fed with that Bread that cometh down from heaven.

Though faith and hope awhile be tried,
We ask not, need not aught beside;
How safe, how calm, how satisfied,
The souls that cling to Thee!

They fear not life's rough storms to brave,
Since Thou art near and strong to save
Nor shudder e'en at death's dark wave,
Because they cling to Thee.

If Christ did not rise from the dead we have little to assure us of any life beyond the grave; but if He did rise again and overcome death then is it possible for any human being to partake of His resurrection, and to possess a hope of everlasting life for himself and all his loved ones. Without this hope life is hardly worth the living.

Our Easter Offering

Our Easter Offering on Easter Day should be a true expression of our love and loyalty to Jesus Christ. As He suffered and sacrificed and died for us, and rose again, that we through Him, might have Life Eternal, so should we present on Easter Day such an offering as will mean something in His sight—will mean a real love and devotion, a genuine spirit of self-sacrifice for Him, whom we call our Lord and Saviour.

Far back in Old Testament times, the faithful were commanded to appear before the Lord for sacrificial worship three times a year, and they were not to appear empty. One of these occasions was the "Feast of Unleavened Bread"—which corresponds to our Easter Day. "Three times in a year shall all appear before the Lord thy God in the place which He shall choose; in the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and in the Feast of Weeks, and in the Feast of Tabernacles, and they shall not appear before the Lord empty. Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which He hath given thee." (Deut. 16:16.)

If this was the custom in Old Testament times how more abundantly and gladly should the Christian pour out his heart to God in thanksgiving on Easter Day.

Whilst I am very anxious that the full amount asked for by the Vestry shall be realized this Easter, I am even more anxious that this offering shall come abundantly from all, from every man, woman and child, and that it shall be an expression of deep, true Christian devotion according as God hath blessed each one of us.

As Christ rose he calls upon us to rise from a life of selfishness, strife, envy and greed, which is the natural life of fallen man, and strive to cultivate the higher parts of our nature—the mind and soul—that our lives may be bright, happy and useful; enriched with love and service, delighting in spiritual exercises of devotion, and finding in the prayers and praises of His sanctuary a foretaste of Heaven; even as we are thus prepared for the happiness of that eternal Home.

Lord Rosebury on the Resurrection

The great statesman and diplomat Lord Salisbury, said in regard to the Resurrection:

To me the central point is the Resurrection of Christ, which I believe. Firstly, because it is testified by men who had every opportunity of seeing and knowing, and whose veracity was tested by the most tremendous trials, both of energy and endurance, during long lives. Second, because of the marvellous effect it had upon the world. As a moral phenomenon, the spread and mastery of Christianity is without a parallel. I can no more believe that colossal moral effects can be without a cause, than I can believe that the various motions of the magnet are without a cause, though I cannot wholly explain them. To any one who believes the Resurrection of Christ, the rest presents little difficulty. No one who has belief will doubt that those who were commissioned by Him to speak—Paul, Peter, Mark, John—carried a Divine message. St. Matthew falls into the same category. St. Luke has the warrant of the generation of Christians who saw and heard the others."

"The Church believes today in the Resurrection of Christ because she has always believed in it. If all the documents which tell the story of the first Easter Day should disappear, the Church would still sing her Easter praises, and offer her Easter sacrifice of thanksgiving; for she is older than the oldest of her documents, and from father to son all through the centuries she has passed on the message of the first Easter morning—"The Lord is risen indeed." The Church believes in the Resurrection because she is the product of the Resurrection."

The Vestry's Letter

The Vestry has issued a letter to the members and all who worship in Christ Church, setting forth the needs of the Parish at this Easter. After stating the amount of income and expenditures for the past twelve months the letter states:

"The deficit this year is less than it has been for several years past, and $1200 less than in 1915. May we not therefore confidently hope that the Offering on Easter will reach the entire sum asked for ($1413.01) which will enable us to begin our new fiscal year free from any current indebtedness?"

It is also a great pleasure to be able to announce to you that during the past year the mortgage debt has been reduced by the payment of $1900.00, so that our Mortgage indebtedness is now $1000.

If the plan proposed by the Finance Committee be adopted, (see Page 5, February issue of the "Chimes") and the monthly envelopes for the cancellation of the Mortgage generally used by the Congregation, the extinguishment of that debt will soon be achieved.

Let each member of our Beloved Church aid, as God enables, and by self denial and in the spirit of generosity and love, faithfully do his or her share to make our Easter Offering memorable in the History of our Parish.

Faithfully yours,

The Vestry of Christ Church

Copies of the Vestry's letter may be found in the vestibules of the Church.

The serious problem of our day has been a serious problem in every age, namely: How to create in the human breast an interest for spiritual things, and for a holy life and for a future world, amid the temptations, and business concerns, and pleasures, and the other attractions, which the present world has to offer? And the problem can be met only in the ways that it has always in the past been met, in the Church's regular system of training, and in the special means of grace which the Divine Wisdom has enabled her to provide and the Holy Spirit has blessed for the purpose.

Sunday School Easter Service

The Sunday School Easter Carol Service will be held in the Church on Easter Sunday evening. The school will March into the Church from the Parish House promptly at 7.30 o'clock. The parents and friends of the scholars are cordially invited to be present at this service.

The Church has two sources from which regular income is derived.

1st. Rental of Pews.

2nd. The Envelope System.

All who are able are urgently requested to rent pews or sittings.

Those who are not able to do so, will be cordially welcomed to seats in the Church and are invited to pledge themselves to pay weekly through the Envelope System such sums as they may be able to afford.

All should contribute in one of these ways to support the work of the Church.

The following are forms of bequest to be used in willing money to the Church:

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, two thousand dollars for the endowment of a pew in said Church, to be called the Memorial Pew.

I give and bequeath to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church, Germantown, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania, the sum of dollars for the purpose of the Endowment Fund of said Church.

Note: The Act of April 26th, 1855, requires that a will containing a bequest to Religious or Charitable purposes must be executed at least one month before decease, and be attested by two disinterested witnesses, otherwise the bequest is void.

Bishop Requests to Meet Members of Vestrys and Other Men

Reverend and dear Brother:

With the near approach of Good Friday I am writing to ask you to remind the members of your Vestry and other men of the service which is held for them on the afternoon of that Day. This year it will be at the Church of S. Luke and the Epiphany as in the past but at 4 o'clock. Will you kindly announce this Service in our Church on the two Sundays preceeding, and convey to the men a most cordial invitation from me to be present.

Faithfully yours,

Philip M. Rhinelander,
Bishop of Penna.

Three Hour Service on Good Friday

The Three Hour Meditation on the Seven Words from the Cross will be conducted by the Rev. Robert B. Green, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Norwood, Pa. All who had the privilege of attending the Three Hour Service conducted by Mr. Green in Christ Church three years ago, will recall how helpful these Meditations were.

It is requested that persons shall be in the Church before the noon hour and all, who can, are asked to remain during the three hours of this solemn service. Persons entering or leaving the Church during the service are requested to do so during the singing of the hymns.

The offering at this service is asked for Church work among the Jews. Alms plates will be found at the doors. An excerpt from a letter from the Bishop reads:

"I would remind you of the appropriateness of asking the offerings on Good Friday for the Mission among the Jewish people. Since by the action of the last Convention this work in Philadelphia was put on the Diocesan Budget, any money given to our own committee will apply on the Parish apportionment."

Confirmation

The Apostolic Rite of Confirmation will be administered by Bishop Rhineland in Christ Church, Maundy Thursday evening, April 20th at 7.45 'oclock.

It is not too late for persons to join the Confirmation Class.

The Rector will be glad to meet any who are thinking of Confirmation.

He may be seen after any service or by appointment.

What is Confirmation?

Confirmation follows Baptism when a person reaches the age of discretion. The laying on of hands of the Apostles (Acts viii, xix and Heb. vi) has ever been continued by the Church. as 1st, the renewal of the Baptismal pledge; 2nd, Open confession of Christ; 3rd, The ordinary door to the Holy Communion; 4th, The gift of the Holy Ghost for the final perseverance. It is a rite practiced from the time of the Apostles and endorsed by the fathers of the church.

A. D. 180. Tertullian:—"After Baptism, then the Imposition of Hands."

A. D. 250. Cyprian:—"They who believed in Samaria were baptized—hands were laid on them—which is still the custom among us."

A. D. 420. St. Jerome:—"This is the custom of the Church—the Bishops Laying Hands upon them for the Invocation of the Holy Spirit."

A. D. 494. The Prayer in our Confirmation Service dates from this period. From this time on to the present there can not be any doubt concerning Confirmation or The Laying on of Hands by the Bishop being a Ceremony of the Church.

Can we safely omit that which from the first has been insisted upon?

Methodist Testimony—"I was determined not to be without it, and therefore went and received Confirmation—even since I became a Methodist Preacher."—Dr. Adam Clarke.

Baptist Testimony—"We believe that Laying on of Hands with Prayer, upon Baptized believers as such is an ordinance of Christ, and ought to be substituted unto by all such persons to partake of the Lord's Supper."

Baptist Association, Sept. 25, 1742.

Congregational Testimony.

"The confession of the name of Christ is, after all, very lame, till the discipline which Christ ordained be restored, and the Rite of Confirmation be recovered to its full use and solemnity."—Dr. Coleman, Boston.

Presbyterian Testimony—"The Rite of Confirmation, thus administered to Baptized children, when arrived at competent years—shows clearly that the Primitive Church, in her purest days, exercised the authority of a Mother over her baptized children."—Committee of Gen. Assembly.

"This custom is frequently mentioned by the ancient writers. Such imposition, I highly approve, and wish it were now restored to its primitive use unconnected by superstition."—John Calvin.

A package of envelopes will then be sent to you. For rental of pews or for further information please apply after any service to Mr. Richard H. Morris or to the Accounting Warden, Mr. J. I. Sunday School Easter Carol Service, 7.30 P. M.

Easter Memorial Flowers

The flowers on the altar on Easter Day will be, as usual, memorials to friends in Paradise. Persons who wish to have memorial flowers on the altar on Easter are requested to send flowers or blooming plants to the Parish House early on Saturday morning preceding Easter.

Contributions in money may be sent to the chairman of the Altar Guild, Mrs. Henry R. Baremore 6439 Jefferson Street.

Memorial flowers will be purchased by the Guild and placed on the altar in memory of the friends named.

The Rector requests that cards be attached to each memorial gift as he desires to know the names of the persons in whose memory the flowers are given.

Easter Offering

The offering presented by each worshipper at God's altar on Easter Day should mean real sacrifice. "Ye shall not appear before the Lord empty; every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord, thy God which He hath given thee."

It is the basest sacrifice to call ourselves Christians—followers of Him who sacrificed all for us; who gave Himself for us—and then give to Him grudgingly. "Will I offer unto the Lord my God of that which cost me nothing?"

Easter is the feast of joy—of triumph over the carnal, selfish self; a rising to the unselfish, spiritual plane.

There can be no Christian life without giving! Where love is there is always unselfish giving, sacrifice! One may give without loving but one cannot love without giving! Therefore a "selfish Christian" is a contradiction in terms. A "selfish Christian" is a sham! "Whoso seeth his brother in need and shutteth up his compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?"

It cannot! "God so loved the world that He gave," A Christ—man is a loving man, hence a "giving man."

On Easter Day we show forth our love to God by giving—"Here we offer and present unto thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy and living sacrifice unto Thee."

Let this great Feast of Easter bring to every Christian heart in our Parish a deeper love and joy, such as will be manifested by a fuller consecrated service and sacrifice.

Election of Vestrymen

An election for Vestrymen of this Parish will be held in the Church on Easter Monday, April 24th between the hours of five and six P. M.

The term of the following members of the Vestry expires this year:

J. M. Woodroffe
O. N. Middleton
R. H. Morris
G. T. Morgan
U. G. Rowley

Four (4) Vestrymen are to be elected for a term of three (3) years and one (1) for a term of two (2) years. The latter to serve for the unexpired term of Keith R. Rodney, who resigned on account of removal from the city, and whose place was temporarily filled by the Vestry (in accordance with Article 8 of the Charter of Incorporation) by the election of U. G. Rowley.

The following extract is from the By-Laws of Christ Church. By-Law, Article 1, Section 8:

Any qualified elector of this Parish may nominate for the office of Vestryman one or more duly qualified persons to be voted for at the next succeeding annual election. All such nominations must be made in writing and delivered to the Secretary at least ten days prior to such election, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary to post the names of all such nominees in the Southeast vestibule of the Church at least two Sundays prior to the holding of such election, and no person not so nominated shall be a candidate.

Charter of Incorporation—Article 6

The Vestry of said Church shall consist of twelve men, to be chosen by election from those duly qualified to vote thereat. Said election shall be by ballot and shall be held on Easter Monday in each and every year between such hours and upon such notice as the by-laws of said Church may provide and those only shall be entitled to vote thereat who are communicant members of said church, of lawful age, and who, as shown by the books of the Church, shall have paid respectively for and toward its support and maintenance for the period of at least two years next preceding any such election, annual subscriptions of not less than ten dollars each, or the like sum in annual rental of pew or sitting during the same period. Said Vestrymen shall be elected to serve for the following terms: at the election next to be held after the adoption hereof four thereof shall be elected to serve until Easter Monday of the year 1915, and thereafter until their successors have been elected; four thereof shall be elected to serve until Easter Monday of the year 1916, and thereafter until their successors have been elected; and four thereof shall be elected to serve until Easter Monday of the year 1917, and thereafter until their successors have been elected; and at each annual election thereafter four Vestrymen shall be elected to serve until the third Easter Monday thereafter and until their successors have been elected. The vote of a plurality of the qualified electors voting at any such election shall be requisite for the election of any Vestrymen. The said Vestry shall have power to fill any vacancy occurring therein until the next annual election, when such vacancy shall be filled by the election of a Vestryman to serve for and during the unexpired term.

Francis B. Falkner,
Secretary of the Vestry.

Easter Music

The Choir of Christ Church has prepared an unusually interesting program of music for Easter Day. All of the numbers have been carefully selected, keeping in mind the devotional as well as the joyful spirit of the Feast of Feasts. The list follows:

Christ our Passover Chapple

Introit—Hymn 116—"Angels, Roll the rock away."

Te Deum in B flat Sir John Stainer

Jubilate Deo in B flat

C. Villiers Stanford

Office Hymn 121—"The Strife is o'er the battle done. Alleluia!"

Anthem—"When it was yet Dark"

R. Hutningdon Woodman

The Communion Service will include the Sanctus and Benedictus from St. Cecelia by Charles Gounod and the Gloria in Excelsis by Berthold Tours. Retrocessional Hymn 109—"Welcome Happy Morning"

The Evening Service will be the Sunday School Easter Carol Service, with the anthem—"As it began to Dawn" by Sir George C. Martin.

Robert W. Staton, Choirmaster.

Where Hymns Originated

A Presbyterian contributed an article some time ago to a New York weekly, says the "New Music Review" on the subject of hymns. He states that he had examined a well known hymnal, widely used in Presbyterian churches, for the purpose of tracing the origin of the hymns and classifying the authors. The result of his investigation will interest, and perhaps surprise our readers. We quote:

Presbyterians	25
Congregationalists	38
Unitarians	27
Baptists	27
Methodists	11
Independents	8
Dutch Reformed	3
Universalists	3
Plymouth Brethren	7
Roman Catholics	6
Quakers	3
Moravians	2
Distinctively poets (men)	13
Distinctly poets (women)	13
Episcopalians	105

An After Easter Thought

As a result of our Easter Feast, have we attained a higher and more continuous level of piety? Or, if not that, have we planted what we had, nearer the river, so that its leaf will not again wither? Will those who know us best, take knowledge of us, that we have indeed been with Jesus in His death and resurrection? The fruits of Holy Lent will be a happy Easter; and a happy Easter is that alone which scatters its bloom and breathes its fragrance over the whole Christian Year.

"I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day," says the Apostle. That is what we should all strive to attain—to be raised for at least one day in the week above the grinding toil of our daily work; above the debasing influence of frivolous amusements; above the jangling of business or controversy; raised into the high and holy atmosphere, breathed by pure and peaceful lives, bright and beautiful thoughts, elevating and invigorating worship—Dean Stanley.

Girls' Friendly Society

The G. F. S. has had throughout the winter a most successful Gymnasium class, a good teacher instructed the class and the girls enjoyed the work and felt the great advantage of a class of this description. Now Lent is here we have arranged to again make our Baby's Layettes, which have been so much admired, and of so much help for the Babies, this year the work is for a Hospital at Ivy Depot, Virginia. We are looking forward to the Annual Service which is to be held at Holy Trinity Church early in May. A most inspiring service—the Lenten work of all its branches is there shown. We hope all the members of our G. F. S. will be there. We are most anxious to have more girls join our branch.

P. M.

Teachers' Meeting

was one of the most successful in the history of the school. Nearly every teacher and officer present. It is true that the business meeting was preceded by a very well served supper but of course that was not the reason for the unusual attendance. Bishop Beecher who accepted our invitation spoke of the great opportunities of our school and asked for a true Lenten offering of more earnest devotion to Christ Church Sunday School.

The Carols for Easter have been selected and under the able leadership of Mr. Reed are now being practiced every Sunday and some evening in the week.

News of Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Auxiliary was obliged to discontinue their meetings on Friday afternoons on account of "Cake Sales"—but now has resumed work again and we want to see all the little and big girls—as there is work for all. We will begin sewing for the "Children's Ward" of the Germantown Hospital.

On May tenth a play will be given for the benefit of our Auxiliary assisted by a few young ladies who volunteered to help us. The music will be rendered by the Orchestra of the Charles W. Henry School which has won quite a reputation in Germantown. Tickets will be sold by the children and hope all will join in making this a successful even and a happy evening.

Meeting of Woman's Aid Germantown Convocation

The Woman's Aid to the Convocation of Germantown is to have a fete on May 24th at the residence of Mrs. George Woodward, Chestnut Hill, for the benefit of the Convocation especially St. Georges, Port Richmond and the Country Center Mission.

Every church woman in Chestnut Hill, Germantown, Kensington and Bucks County is asked to help make this fete a success.

There will be a sale of useful and fancy articles, amusements for children, refreshments and supper.

It is hoped to receive contributions from every Parish and Mission. Further information may be received from the chairman, Miss Mary Dale Graham, Chestnut Hill, Pa.

Help Wanted!

There has been an effort made in this parish for the past year to develop an up-to-date Men's Bible Class. It meets in the Parish House every Sunday morning at 10.00 o'clock under the leadership of Mr. Gurley, a very efficient teacher. A framed notice hangs in each vestibule of the Church to call the attention of the men themselves and the parents of older boys, who feel that they are too old for Sunday School. We have also made personal solicitation for members and announcements have been made from the chancel and in the "Chimes." From the results it is evident that the men do not feel the need of such a class. Here is what a prominent Churchman in Chicago has to say about the matter:

"The Men's Bible Class, known to many of us as the cradle of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. I may be dull, but I frankly confess I do not understand how any parish which has been organized for a period of five years can exist without a recognition of this important department of parish life for training men in their duties as Churchmen. What business house would for a single day so jeopardize its future in like manner? Where else are we to look for our future vestrymen, wardens, restors, and bishops unless we continue our present policy of drawing largely from the denominations, reaching out beyond state lines and even international boundaries?"

If the religion of Jesus Christ is worth anything to you it is worth passing on to some one else. If it does not mean much to you it is time you got busy and received some good from it. The Bible Class is the best place for men to get together and talk over the matter and so every man of this neighborhood is asked to meet with us every Sunday and the results will be worth the effort.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew

On March 20th, the Chapter began a very instructive course in the "History of the Early Christian Church" under the direction of Mr. Gurley. Many persons have the idea that the study of history, church history in particular, is dry and uninteresting. If there are any men or older boys in this parish who care to prove this to be the case the members of the Chapter will be glad to meet them at the next meeting, April 17th, when their defeat is assured. They may come in a fighting spirit but by the time Mr. Gurley puts in that half hour of talk and answers to questions, an invitation to go home will be more needed than on to come.

Dr. John Wilkinson, President of the Philadelphia Local Assembly, honored the Chapter with his presence and the only trouble with the evening was in its shortness. Time certainly does fly. That is one reason why we say "come and see." Remember the old adage "make hay while the sun shines." It is going to shine at the meeting on the 17th; so come around and enjoy it.

A Way to Help the Rector

A Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Detroit, agreed among themselves that during the rector's private prayer, just before he mounted the pulpit to preach his sermon, each man in the Chapter would say a silent prayer for him and his sermon, that it might do the good for which it was intended.

Of course it helped the rector and it was retro-active for every man that prayed took a greater interest in the sermon as he had something invested in it.

Why can't the people of Christ Church do this and even more—pray for him every day? Not being a clergyman the writer cannot tell what the effect would be but no doubts are entertained as to the results. Ask the Rector with how much better heart he could work and preach if he knew that one hundred persons in the parish were remembering him in their devotions every day. Perhaps many have not done so because they have never thought of such a thing. One thing such prayer will do and that is it will give you less occasion for finding fault. Try it and see.

Boys Brigade

The Boys' Brigade of Christ Church wishes to thank through the Christ Church "Chimes," Mr. Sutcliffe and those people who so kindly contributed to the work of the Brigade, thus showing their interest in its work and giving the officers in charge as well as the other members some encouragement. It hopes that those who so kindly contributed will come and see how their contribution is being used.

On Saturday night, February 26, 1916, a Competitive Drill between the several Companies of Germantown, was held at the Advocate Church. Although this Company's attendance was excellent, the Company of the Advocate or Company "A" won the cup offered as a prize to the winner of the Company Competitive Drill. The Company at Christ Church rejoices to say that the cup offered as prize to the winner of the Individual Competitive Drill was won by one of its most promising non-commissioned officers, namely Corporal Fred Belfield.

To encourage these drills, a medal has been offered by one interested in the Brigades, to the one winning it the most number of times between January, 1916 to June 1916, and is only open to members of this Company at Christ Church. Three drills have thus far been held and have proved thrilling and exciting.

The winners of the drills, which are held the first Friday of each month, are as follows:

January—won by Private Manser

February—won by Private Carmint

March—won by Sergeant Simpson.

The cup which was won by this Company during camp last summer, held at Neshaminy Falls was presented on the night of Friday, March 3, 1916. This cup was offered as a prize by the Philadelphia Inquirer to the winner of the most number of baseball games during camp. On the same night the cup won by Corporal Fred Belfield at the Battalion Drill was also presented.

Since the last issue of the "Chimes" a change has taken place in the non-commissioned officer staff, namely, Sergeant Simpson has been relieved of the duty as First Sergeant and Battalion Sergeant Robinson has been temporarily appointed to fill this vacancy.

As an extra activity, the boys of the Brigade who have bicycles will take rides on Saturday mornings beginning with April 15, 1916. These rides will be held every other week and will leave the Parish House at 9.00 o'clock sharp. It is expected to visit Valley Forge, The Navy Yard, Willow Grove, etc. Although this is not compulsory, a good many are expected to attend, and an invitation is extended to those who are not in the Brigade, but have wheels, to enjoy the outdoor pleasure.

Another one of the activities is the starting or rather continuing of the Brigade Band, as it has been started and is progressing fine. Any person over 12 years of age who has and can play any instrument is invited to join this Band.

A committee of three men in the church, have been voted to look after the condition and welfare of this organization. The committee consists of the following: Reverend Arndt, chairman, Mr. Baines, Mr. Sutcliffe and the Commanding Officer of the Brigade.

On May 29, 1916 the Brigade of Germantown will hold a field day at the Central High School Athletic Field, 29th Street and Cambria St. It will include many athletic events, such as tug-of-war, relay races, sack races, dashes, Competitive Drills, etc., for which cups and medals are offered as prizes to the winners.

The Basket Ball Team of this Company played Co. "A" of the Advocate Church on their floor and were victorious by the score of 19 to 15. Wagner, Marshall and Fred Belfield figured prominently in this game. But Alas! This team was defeated by Co. "B" of 2nd Presbyterian Church on the latter's floor. Although the Brigade of this church played well, the score at the end of the game stood 10 to 9 in the favor of our opponents. This event brought our basket-ball season to a close, and a baseball team is now being organized to heap more laurels on the numberless others the Brigade has in possession at this time.

On the first Friday of every month an inspection of this Company will take place. To this drill especially, those who are interested are invited to attend and see for themselves the work which the banners of the Boys Brigade of Christ Church stand for.

Altar Guild

The Altar Guild held its annual supper on Tuesday evening March 7th in the Parish House.

Everyone greatly regretted the absence of Mr. Arndt due to illness.

We were very glad to have Bishop Beecher with us. After supper, he gave us a very helpful talk and later showed us a great many pictures and told us of his work in the west.

All enjoyed the occasion and voted it a great success.

G. F. D.

Athletic Association

It will take quite a considerable sum to renovate our grounds and make needed repairs to the fences in order again to put our grounds in first class condition; and to keep them in that condition throughout the season.

It gives the Association great pleasure at this time to thank the persons who have very favorably returned the sustaining membership letters sent out last month. Thanking in advance those who have not yet returned them, and joined our Association, but will do so in the near future.

We anticipate this to be our banner year, and we want every parishioner to become one of our members and active workers. Come, we invite all and will welcome you. If you do not play tennis, we have all other out door games on hand, and there will always be some game playing in which we want you to take part and enjoy yourself.

Memorial Day will be our formal opening day. There will be plenty of "eats," and playing games all day.

This will sure be some day of jollification; Don't miss it.

If this program of Memorial Day proves a success, and is agreeable to all, the committee in charge will arrange a similar program for all Saturday afternoons throughout the summer.

Good times for all of us, coming.
